KIDNAPPING CASE INQUIRY HELD UP

New Developments Expected When Investigation is Renewed.

LOS ANGELES, Calif., July 5.—(Canadian Press).—While several investigations into various angles of the Aimee Semple McPherson case were at a standstill to-day, owing to the observance of independence day, new developments are expected to-morrow when official attention is again focused on the evangelist's story of her abduction and her subsequent escape.

It is known that a full report of the findings of the Douglas, Arizona, police department is in the hands of Chief of Detectives Herman Cline, and it was indicated that with its submission to the county grand jury, at least part of its contents will be made public. The Federal Government's inquiry into the sending of ransom demands through the mails to Mrs. Minnie Kennedy, the evangelist's mother, was not interrupted yesterday by the Sabbath. United States Attorney Samuel W. McNabb returned from the east to assume active charge of the investigation.

Mrs. McPherson preached yesterday at three services at the Angelus Temple.

New and startling information is contained in the official report of the Douglas, Arizona, officials to Police Detective Captain Herman Cline of Los Angeles on the Aimee Semple McPherson at the border city, Cline announced to-day. "I will say this," said Cline, "the information I have is of the kind that you dare not print at this time."

HEART OF NATION SOURCE OF ALL GENUINE REFORM

Coolidge Calls Declaration of Independence Great Spiritual Document.

LAW OF OBSERVANCE.

People Can't Shift Responsibilities To Government, He Says.

PHILADELPHIA, July 5 (Canadian Press).—President Coolidge, in an address at the sesqui-centennial exposition, commemorating the one hundred and fiftieth anniversary of the declaration of Independence here to-day, referred to the Declaration as a great spiritual document, whose principles were the result of the religious teachings of the preceding period The real heart of the Government depended upon the heart of the people and it was from that source that the nation must look for all genuine reform, he said

A passing reference to law observance was made by the President in discussing the responsibility of the people to the government

"Of course, the Governmenth can help to sustain ideals and can create institutions through which they can be better observed, but their source by their very nature is in the people," he said. "The people have to bear their own responsibilities. There is no method by which that burden can be shifted to the Government. It is not enactment, but observance of law, that creates the character of a nation."

LAKEFIELD NEWS

Dominion Day.

The holiday passed quietly in the village as there was no special attraction to keep people in the village or to bring outsiders in. It is five years since a holiday in Lakefield has been marked with any sort of celebration. July 1st, 1921, was celebrated by a regatta, sports programme on land and an evening vaudeville show with local talent. This effort brought hundreds of visitors to the village and was a success in every respect but, unfortunately, it has not been repeated. With an ideal regatta course, a beautifully situated sports field and with the many other natural attractions, Lakefield should stage a "Lakefield Day," which would equal or even surpass any similar effort in a place of its size.

Canon C. W. Hedley of the Church of the Transfiguration, Toronto, will be in charge of the services in St. John's Church on Sunday.

Dance.

A dance was held in the Riverside Pavilion on Tuesday evening, under the auspices of St. Aidan's Church, Young's Point, and was attended by a large number of local people.

School Board Meeting.

A special meeting of the Public School Board of Lakefield was held in Monday evening, June 28th at 8.30.

There were present J. W. Ridpath in the chair and trustees Brown, Spence and Wagar.

Moved by Trustee Wagar, seconded by Trustee Spence, "That Lakefield Public School Board require from the village of Lakefield for estimated current expenditure, for Calendar Year 1926, the sum of 5,700.00: 91 per cent from Lakefield and 9 per cent from Douro."

The Principal's report for the month of June was received. Moved by Trustees Brown and Spence—"That the equipment outlined as required in Miss Duff's report also state blackboard for south side of Form II. room, High School, be ordered and that tenders be called for, for the repairs to the basement, plans and specifications to be provided by the chairman to all tenderers. Tenders to close on Wednesday, July 7th at 6 p.m.

The meeting adjourned till July 7, at 8 p.m.

THE CAT CAME BACK.

PITTSBURGH, July 5 (Canadian Press)—Insistent meows and the sound of frantic scratching on the door of the home of William R. Shoop, former Olympic marathon runner, announced last night that Mummie, a pet Maltese cat given up as lost eight months ago in Florida, had returned home. When the door was opened Mummie walked in, purring softly and rubbing contentedly against "Old Bill's" friendly shins after her 1,200 mile trip. Her feat is believed to set a new record in feline coming-back ability. The family took the cat with them to Florida last November and it disappeared at Hollywood Beach.

Mummie is in poor condition. Her paws are sore, her ears are torn and her fur is clotted with dried blood, indicating that she has been in many heated engagements.

The other item gives the particulars of the judgment rendered in the Supreme Court of Ontario which gave damages to the amount of $2,000 to Miss Susan McQueen of Owen Sound in her suit against the city, the Public Utilities Commission and the Owen Sound Board of Health.

There was an epidemic of typhoid fever in Owen Sound and Miss McQueen, a victim of the disease, sued the city and health authorities and received judgment.

Mr. Justice Logie, who heard the case, remarking that "typhoid in Ontario should be as extinct in these present-day conditions as the dodo," found negligence on the part of all the defendants, the evidence showing that the authorities had failed to arrange for chlorination of the city's water supply even after been warned by the Provincial health authorities.

This case is regarded as a test and will be a warning to all municipalities as to their responsibility in regard to providing a safe water supply.

UNITED STATES FARMERS.

The United States farmers got revenge on the Coolidge Administration when the Senate on Tuesday rejected by a vote of 54 to 26 the Fess-Tincher Bill, the President's substitute for the defeated McNary-Haugen Bill. The distinction between the two bills is that the new one omits all those elements of Government action and Government responsibility which were fundamental in the McNary-Haugen Bill. The essence of the Fess-Tincher Bill is that it gives to the farmers a license to do and a mechanism for doing virtually all the things the McNary-Haugen Bill wanted to do—price fixing, the purchase and sale of crops as a unit and sale abroad at a loss to be made up by increased prices in America. The chief distinction is that the Fess-Tincher Bill says the farmers must do these things themselves, through their own voluntary co-operative associations, without Government responsibility. That these things should be done as a Government function was the basis of the McNary-Haugen Bill.

Eastern Senators joined the agrarians in voting down the Fess Bill because they believed it would raise the prices of foodstuffs. But the farmers with reason contend that they must have higher prices for their products to compensate them for the operation of the tariff in increasing the prices of many things which they must buy. Congress is on the eve of adjournment, and as there is no prospect of relief legislation acceptable to farmers the Administration will go into the November Congressional elections facing a Western Republican revolt. The upshot may be a Democratic House of Representatives and a Senate in which Republican insurgents will have the balance of power. In such circumstances a general attack on the Fordney tariff would be inevitable.—London Advertiser.

PUBLIC HOLIDAYS REMAIN STABLE.

There is some sort of organization or disposition to reform almost every institution, established custom or public usage, we know, save public holidays, says The Brandon Sun. Why should there not be an investigation into the disarrangement of holidays? There is no uniformity now about public holidays—except the time-and-a-half for union workers. If the world would not be better for a consistent settlement of statutory holidays, nations would. These public holidays are higgledy-piggledy. There are Dominion holidays observed and partly unobserved. Provincial holidays are mainly farcical. You find banks and public offices and essential public services off on holidays while stores are open and business is being operated alongside. Many public holidays would never be noticed if the white collar civil offices and banking institutions did not put a ticket on their closed doors. Holidays should either be abolished or so regarded and ordered that they will be full public holidays for all but absolutely essential services.

The Dominion laws should set forth the public holidays that must be observed. The Provinces have no special rights to proclaim a public holiday and would find it difficult to enforce any observation by law. Then the Federal Government has to observe the church laws of Quebec and sets aside a large number of days of religious observances or saints' days as semi-Canadian public holidays. Places bordering on Quebec, and Ottawa itself, are handicapped by these holidays because banks, public office, Parliament and the civil servants loyally observe what are known as "church holidays," in addition to all other general Dominion holidays. All churches do not declare holidays at their festivals. There's a lack of agreement and want of system that handicaps steady trade and is often an obstacle to regular business methods in this method we have drifted into. All Canada does not observe the same days as holidays and they should do so.

The British people get along with the fewest public holidays. Over there Christmas Day and the succeeding one called Boxing Day, Good Friday, Easter Monday, Whitsun Monday and the first Monday in August are constituted public holidays. They do not observe even "Derby day," except unofficially. In Scotland there is no Boxing Day enthusiasm, but New Year's Day is an institution with all true Scots. And, of course, there are worse places than Canada for public cessations of commercial machinery. The Moslem holidays take up 117 days of the year. In mixed Oriental cities that is not all of the eternal holidays which hold work back. Cairo is possibly the most romantic, probably the most evil and certainly the laziest great capital in the world. For evidence, one need only to go to the list of holidays. In the first place, Cairo officially recognizes no fewer than three calendars—Moslem, Christian and Orthodox. In other words, the Moslems have a day off on Friday, the Christians on Sunday, the Orthodox on Saturday. It is absolutely impossible to get any work done from Thursday till Tuesday. But that is not all. Owing to this complexity in calendars, there are two Christmases, two Easters, two Ascension days, three New Year's days, besides an inextricable welter of Moslem religious holidays. In addition, the Moslems have a number of special feast occasions. Which seems to be one of the things the matter with Egypt—a plague of holidays.—St. Catharines Standard.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

Now that there is a temporary lull in the fighting the battle for Cabinet positions will begin.

Looks like as if there will be a lot of politics mixed in with farmers' picnics and fall fairs this year.

And speaking of fairs, the Peterboro Industrial Exhibition is only a little more than two months away.

If there is any Canadian who is sorry that the session is at last at an end, he is not making very much noise about it.

HOW DO YOU SAY IT?

(By C. N. Lurie.)

Common Errors in English and How To Avoid Them.

"THROUGH" AND "FINISHED"

The use of the word "through" in the sense of "finished" or "completed" is condemned by virtually all authorities on English, as vulgarism. One writer on the proper use of words says: "Unless you have fallen through a trap door and have finished your career, do not say, 'I am through,' when you mean, 'I have finished.' The school boys says, 'I am through with that lesson,' when he should say, 'I have finished that lesson.' The farmer asks the man in his employ, 'Are you through with that field?' when he should have asked, 'Have you finished plowing that field?' You ask your friend, 'Are you through with that book?' when you should ask, 'Have you finished reading that book?'"

"I am through," meaning "I have finished eating" or "I have dined" is a vulgarism, according to the Standard Dictionary.

An automobile weighing only 1,500 pounds has been built for racing in England and it is expected to make 175 miles an hour.

MONTREAL GRAIN AND PRODUCE

MONTREAL, July 5 (Canadian Press).—The export business in Canadian grain on the Montreal market Saturday was quiet owing to the fact that there was little demand from foreign buyers for any line on account of the higher prices asked by exporters overnight. The trade in cash grain was also slow but prices were unchanged.

Prices for all grades of spring and winter wheat flour were well maintained under a quiet demand.

A moderate amount of business was worked in millfeed and the undertone was steady. The trade in standard grades of rolled oats was quiet, but prices were unchanged.

The egg market was quiet and the undertone was irregular. The receipts were 2,880 cases.

A weaker feeling prevailed in the butter market last week and prices closed with a net loss of 1-2 cent per pound. The volume of business transacted was small. The receipts Saturday were 8,360 packages.

Extreme dullness marked the cheese trade and prices closed Saturday with a net decline of 1-2c to 5-8c per pound. The receipts were 19,904 boxes.

DR. FRANK CRANE'S DAILY EDITORIAL.

JUST FINISHING.

By DR. FRANK CRANE.

According to the accepted chronology it has been some five thousand years since God put man on the earth and told him to keep it and tend it as a gardener.

It has taken us all this time to carry out this command.

Lieutenant Bird and Amundsen have just followed Perry after an interval of years and had a look at the unexplored regions of the North Pole. An expedition headed by Professor Matthew Sterling of Berkely has just flown over that portion of Dutch New Guiena, where tribes of pigmies are supposed to live and where white men have not yet been.

For some time the desolate regions of the Pole and the savage regions of New Guinea have been practically the only unexplored surfaces of the earth.

Some time ago Roosevelt penetrated into unknown regions in South America and since his day others have been there.

We have now about looked over our possesions. There are practically no more unexplored lands. Since the days when Columbus sailed out into the unknown sea westward and Marco Polo investigated things eastward, there have always been new countries to beckon to the adventurous portion of the race.

Now, as Emerson said, Pilgrims can no longer sail from the old world to the new, but we must sail from righteousness to righteousness.

There is no more new land to welcome the pioneer. Mankind must concentrate on making the known land a better place to live in.

GOOD NIGHT STORIES

By Blanche Silver

A FUNNY LITTLE POCKETFUL.

One bright, beautiful day Goffy Gopher slipped out of his back doorway and ran around trying to find something to eat.

After he had eaten all he needed and his hunger was satisfied Goffy Gopher began poking seeds into his cheeks, until he looked like a fellow with the mumps.

"Good-morning, Goffy Gopher,"—chuckled Chatty Chipmunk. "I see I'm not the only one preparing for a rainy day. Isn't it wonderful to have these lovely pockets in our cheeks, so we can carry our extra food back to our houses?"

"It surely is," replied Goffy Gopher. "You see Mrs. Gopher is staying with our family and if I couldn't carry something home for her dinner, she'd get tired taking care of the youngsters."

"We have a nestful of babies, too," chattered Chatty Chipmunk. "That's why I'm glad I have a pocket to carry home food for the wife. Sometimes I wish—" But he did not finish the sentence: Chatty Chipmunk jumped just in time to keep from getting stepped on. Mr. Goffy Gopher scooted under a stone. When he gathered up courage enough to come out, he found Chatty Chipmunk on the stone talking to a stranger.

She was just about five feet tall and was built a great deal like a great big hare. Her hind legs were so much longer than her front ones that almost the whole leg lay on the ground when she sat down.

"Excuse me," the stranger laughed. "I hope I didn't jump on either of you fellows. I was in such a hurry I didn't look under me."

"No harm done at all," replied Chatty Chipmunk. "Come on out, Goffy Gopher." Then Goffy Gopher joined his friend on the rock and took a good look at the stranger.

"Keep quiet," commanded the queer hare-like creature. Goffy and Chatty looked at each other in such a funny way that the stranger laughed. "I wasn't talking to you fellows, I was speaking to my family."

Chatty Chipmunk and Goffy Gopher looked all around but they couldn't see any family.

"Got the mumps?" asked the stranger noticing their cheeks. This was too much for Goffy and Chatty. They opened their pockets and showed what they had in their cheeks. "Well, of all things?" she laughed. "Who is that for?"

"My wife," replied Goffy Gopher "She has to stay at home and take care of the children. So does Mrs. Chipmunk."

"Too bad," chuckled the stranger. "Now if she had a pocket like mine it would come in very handy." Then she pulled out a loose piece of skin on the under side of her body and up popped about ten little heads. "Kangaroos always carry their families everywhere they go. Come children, we must be on our way." Then, pushing the wee heads back into their hiding place, Mrs. Kangaroo jumped away.

"Fine way for a kangaroo to make use of a pocket," said Goffy Gopher. Chatty Chipmunk laughed and the two friends ran home and told their wives of the funny pocketful they had seen.

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY

"KNOW THYSELF."

For years I have been writing on the characteristics of men—for years discussing the dispositions and cusing the predispositions of men—writing of the proneness of men and the subject is inexhaustible. The temperament, the ways and means of men—the ingrained individuality of men is an endless essay.

There are no two men alike, therefore all men demand different treatment. Personalities differ widely, but principles remain the same the world over. Men die but principles cannot.

Contrary to custom it has been my editorial practice in this Message to write a little of personalities and much of principles.

The scrutiny of one personality is like trying to weigh a big subject on a small scale. The study of principles is like weighing things on a big scale.

Let me reduce my thought to the fewest possible words—to two words:

"Know Thyself"

When a man starts to study himself and begins to know himself he will have little time to consider the mistakes of his companions. When a man takes time to patch up his own principles, this man will be prevented from taking much time for fixing the faults of his friends.

It is not so much what do you find about your neighbor as it is. What does your neighbor find about you.

He will want to know your principles more than your personality.—From The Silent Partner.

The Chinese are smoking two and one half times as much American leaf tobacco and many more cigarettes from this country than a year ago.

"The Home had to be broken up"

THERE was nothing else to be done.

Her husband had been a rising automobile dealer. Doing well, he had worked without stint for his loved ones at home. He had always meant to insure for their benefit but had kept putting our agent off.

He wanted to wait until he could spare the money to take out "a policy worth while" as he put it.

And now he was gone. Spent too was most of the savings. That auctioneer was almost giving her things away! She would have to go back to her mother's until she could decide what to do. If only—That tragic "if only"!

If husbands could only realize the anguish and bewilderment that grips the young widow who must face "her world in ruins" and provide for her children—with no insurance money—there would be vastly less suffering in the world.

To protect his home and those dependent on him is the first duty of every man. A modest deposit made yearly with us would bring a monthly cheque to your dependents that would keep them in comfort.

WOMEN DEMAND RIGHT OF VOTING AT TWENTY-ONE

Resolutions Were Carried at Huge Suffrage Demonstrations in Hyde Park.

FIFTEEN PLATFORMS.

Members of U. S. Women's Party Joined in Demonstration.

LONDON, July 5 (Canadian Press)—Resolutions demanding that the government grant women the right to vote at the age of 21 instead of 30, as at present, and that peeresses in their own right be allowed to sit in the House of Lords, were adopted by Viva Voce vote from fifteen platforms in Hyde Park on Saturday.

The adoption of the resolutions wound up a huge Women's Suffrage demonstration by British women, who want political equality with men.

A group of 30 members of the National Women's Party of the United States lent their moral support to the demonstration by marching through London in a great parade of more than 2,000 women from Victoria Embankment to Hyde Park.

The United States women did not participate in the speechmaking at Hyde Park, but planted their colorful standards alongside the various rostrums and joined in the applause.

The Peeresses bill was not stressed by many speakers. Even Lady Rhondda, who is one of the 20 peeresses personally affected by the defeated measure, dwelt more upon the necessity of general equality for women with men than upon a seat in the House of Lords.

Miss Monica Whately, speaking from the trades unionists forum, said she was one of those who believed that it did not matter much what happened to "the august Upper Chamber of Parliament," as long as the House of Lords existed, however, she said, women should have the right to sit there if for no other reason than to cool the fevered brows of some of the noble Lords, when the hour came for drastic reform in their house.

service and protection to Canada and the Empire during the period of the world's conflagration of 1914-1918.

"There is only one way that you can renew this trust, that is by pledging yourself to become a member of the Canadian Legion, and let me remind you that your joining and appearing together on occasions such as this, will create an example upon our youth of today, who will be our citizens of tomorrow, and to whom we shall leave a heritage.

"Let me remind you that our organization is the most exclusive organization in the world; other societies are constantly supplied with recruits, but the list of Veterans is closed since that memorable date of November 11th, 1918, and this fact alone should more than appeal to those of you who have been indifferent to the sufferings of your comrades. There are thousands of civilians to-day who would be glad to take your places, and assume the honors that you have won; but let me tell you, that is a distainction no man can attain, who did not accept the opportunity of service to his country during its hour of trial.

"Comrades; membership in the Canadian Legion means an unpurchasable record of service to the nation; it is a service given by the blood of thousands of those with whom we served. The Canadian Legion has been brought into being by the sacrifice of 60,000 of the noblest of Canada's manhood, your Comrades, my Comrades. Shall their sacrifice be in vain? Let this appeal go straight to your heart. Consecrate your thoughts anew; do not abandon the ideals that stirred your loyalty and valor; do not break ranks and disperse as if your association meant nothing. Let me appeal to you to join up and take a hand in the game again. There is still work to be done, there are lessons to be learned, old associations to be hallowed by remembrance, and comradeship to be cemented in a union that should ever seek to promote the welfare and happiness of each one that risked his life for Canada; your Canada; my Canada. The opportunity is now before you; embrace it; the future of your country depends upon you, and the spirit the country needs to-day is the old animating spirit of the C.E.F." .....

Rev. Capt. Costello

The true spirit of patriotism is shown by the citizens of Peterborough, said the Rev. Captain Paul Costello, Chaplain C.E.F., in speaking of the fact that enthusiasm shown in the memorial celebrations seemed to grow from year to year. The citizens and veterans demonstrate that they are always ready to show honor to the soldiers who died overseas and to those who have died since their return. Many thousand Canadian boys died that the people of this country might not suffer the thralldom of slavery, he continued, and they paid a great price. The blood of Canada trickled down upon the ground all through the struggle.

"We honor those buried here, but do not forget the multitudes buried in Europe," continued the speaker. "They have died for us." He referred to the great battle in which the Canadian forces took part, Ypres, Vimy Ridge, Passchendaele, the Somme, and finally the great push at Cambrai, of which the Canadians were the spearhead.

The veterans have done themselves honor in coming to decorate the graves, said Father Costello, and he gave credit to the caretakers of the cemeteries for the splendid way in which the veterans' plots are kept. He also spoke of the care taken of the graves in Europe by the British War Office, which sees that the last resting places of the men are decently looked after.

Before the veterans made the round of the graves with their flowers, the traditional music of such services was rendered; the sad strains of the Lament, played by the Caledonian Pipe Band, and the Last Post, played by members of the Peterborough Rangers' Band, being followed by the stirring notes of the Reveille, typical of the resurrection to come. The two bands provided music for the march from the G.W.V.A. Hall to the Cemetery, while the Rangers' Band took an important part in the service, playing "Nearer, My God, to Thee" at the beginning, and the National Anthem at the close.

SETTLE DEBT TO GREAT BRITAIN AND RATIFY ACCORD WITH U. S. URGE FRENCH FINANCIAL CHIEFS

New Lease of Life For Franc Believed To Lie Ahead of Measures Suggested For Stabilization of the Franc—Cuts Recommended in Administrative Expenditure.

READJUSTMENTS OF CUSTOMS NEEDED.

PARIS, July 5 (Canadian Press).—Settlement of France's debt to Great Britain and ratification of the debt accord with the United States at the soonest possible time, "despite opposing considerations," is one of the important recommendations contained in the report of the French financial surgeons who have discussed the country's financial ills. The report has been eagerly awaited, as holding out a new lease of life for France.

As an important step toward stabilization of the franc, the experts suggest the strictest economy in administrative expenditures, an immediate increase in the receipts of the state and a settled plan for retirement of domestic and foreign debts.

Period of Grand Penitence.

"Exact observation of the engagements made by the state and a settlement of the inter-allied debts," the experts find, is the keystone upon which the whole programme for a gradual return to normal conditions must be predicated. The document, made public yesterday, bears out the constantly emphasized declaration of Finance Minister Caillaux that France must face a period of "grand penitence," if her programme is to be realized, with consequent dislocation of industry, unemployment and other ills that invariably follow an inflation period.

"But," the report concludes, "if the necessary measures are faced courageously and unfalteringly, the period of readjustment will be reasonably short, and the return to economic prosperity, real and not chimerical, will become a fact."

Caillaux's Plans Revealed Tuesday.

How far the report will be embraced in M. Caillaux' financial projects to be laid before the Chamber of Deputies Tuesday is not yet of course known, but it is significant that the report follows largely the idea of financial redressment the Finance Minister has already expressed.

It is also commented that the document emphasizes the fact that it is based upon careful study of actual conditions, is composed of many dependent parts and forms a cohesive whole that cannot be greatly altered without damage to the entire foundation.

No More Half Truths.

"The hour for half truths is past," the experts declare. They go on even more bluntly to assert that execution of a programme of financial restoration in the present period of monetary disorganization "requires rapidity of decision and often a discretion which does not fit well with the inevitable delays and uncertainties of parliamentary procedure."

"For defence of the franc," they say, "the executive power, with its agencies of action, is in a position to act with the necessary rapidity." They demand that Parliament approve quickly the plan, if it is to provide entirely the necessary resources, and charge the Government with full responsibility for its execution.

First Step.

The whole programme is built upon the belief that stabilization of the franc is the first step to rehabilitation — not a return to its value before the war, which would be ruinous, but through a value, to be fixed, which would truly represent its value in commerce. Such stabilization, the report declares, would pre-suppose strict equilibrium of the budget and equilibrium of exchange, definite settlement of France's debts abroad, adaptation of the country's general financial system to the new monetary situation, and the existence in the Bank of France of a reserve in gold or foreign currencies to guarantee proper circulation of French currency.

This stabilization would be divided into three periods—transitory, the period of actual stabilization, and the period of legal stabilization.

The report details technical methods of arriving at actual stabilization, in which the Bank of France would control, by the sale and purchase of francs as required,

HINDU-MOSLEM RIOTS RENEWED

MANY CASUALTIES.

LONDON, July 5.— (Canadian Press.)— Pitched battles were fought Saturday in the streets of Allahabad, the "City of God," British India, and even in the Mosques of Patna, in Behar, Bengal, says a despatch to the Sunday Express, from its Indian correspondent. Moslems and Hindus were engaged and there were numerous casualties on both sides.

The outbreaks followed the refusal of the Moslems to allow a procession of 10,000 Hindus to pass a Mosque. Insults were exchanged, the procession was broken up, and knives, sticks and stones were used in hand to hand fights. Many Moslems were pursued inside the Mosque.

Large forces of police in Allahabad had to be drafted before order was restored.

WOMAN'S AUXILIARY CONVENTION REPORT

Messages Delivered By Ministers and Returned Missionaries.

ROSENEATH, July 6.—Mrs. Ern Timlin and Miss Marion Coyle were in Toronto attending the annual convention of the Woman's Auxiliary. Miss Coyle read a very favorable report to the ladies of St. James' W.A., which was as follows; This was the 40th annual meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary, held in Toronto from May 10th to 15th. The first meeting attended was held in the Messiah Parish Hall. The girls gvae a pageant entitled "The open window" consisting of a number of girls from the age of 10 to 12 years. They were dressed in black and white representing our lives and the need of help to Japan, China and other foreign lands. Missionary songs were sung between each act, and the National Anthem at the close. The next meeting held was in St. Anne's Parish Hall. Each delegate wore a badge and was cordially greeted. The Rev. Canon Hartley gave an excellent address on the good work done by the W. A. throughout the whole world. He said God was full of intelligence, love and power and yet there are millions who do not know God, and when they do learn to know Him they find there is work to do for Him. Whatever you ask God and believe in Him you shall receive. Rev. Hartley spoke strongly on prayer and said we should realize God's presence and use more prayer, and when we pray, pray to God, not to the air, to the beds or floor, but to Him who created us and whom we should worship. We consist of three parts, body, soul and mind, and it is God's will that we should develop all three, especially the spiritual mind and soul, paying more attention to our inward lives than to our outward lives. If we would live this life properly we must have strength and health. We have a spiritual body and therefore we must make that body grow. God is the giver of all good gifts. Rev. Hartley then closed with prayer. The delegates had their photograph taken and luncheon was served in the basement of the hall, and consisted of salads, cold meats, rolls, pie, tea and coffee. The meeting after lunch commenced with singing the hymn, "To Thee Our God We Fly." The Minutes were then read and adopted. The report of the little helpers was given. There were 3,314 Junior little helpers out of 88 branches. Mrs. King stated that slowly but surely our people are awakening to the fact that people cannot begin too early to train the children, and that the little helpers are vitally important in the building up of the Sunday Schools and Missionary Work of the Church. The offerings in the mite-boxes from these tiny members this year amounted to 1,438.25. There are five more branches this year, making 84 altogether. Delightful parties had been given by their mothers by many Senior branches, both in and out of town, at which the mite-box offerings were presented.

The Dorcas receipts amounted to $870.76. One collection is to be used for a gramaphone for the hospital in the Mackenzie River district. Certificates and prizes were handed out for mark competitions, then the hospital report was given. There were 4,723 visits made to patients in the hospitals during the year and many flowers had been sent to the sick. $120.65 had been contributed to the fund, all of which had been expended on flowers, fruit and so forth.

It was also mentioned if any in the out-of-town branches were sick the secretary should see that a remembrance of flowers, fruit or something be sent. Miss Cartwright spoke for a time on "Our Home Life." A great deal is done on Sunday which is not necessary, and is not making of Sunday a peace day. We ought to be careful about amusements and other Sunday pastimes which interfere with the attendance at Church. Socially, leaders could set an example in this respect in order to safeguard the youth of the city and country. Strange to say, some people think that their children are going to be taught all they need about God at Church and the public schools. In most cases when you see a Christian young man or woman they have Christian parents. Therefore we should behold the Sabbath as a day of rest and worship. Miss Cartwright strongly impressed the need of training in the home by God-fearing parents. Prayers were then offered for a satisfactory solution of the difficulties in Great Britain. The meeting then adjourned by repeating the W.A. prayer in unison. On Tuesday night there was the reception for missionaries and candidates in training, clergymen and their wives, and out-of-town delegates and their hostesses. Mrs. (Rev.) Sweeney received the guests at the door. A twelve-piece orchestra provided excellent music until the programme commenced. Bishop Sweeney was the first speaker and gave a splendid address. He said the membership of "The Living Message" had increased one hundred and forty-seven this year. The second speaker was Bishop Lucas from Mackenzie River, who was most interesting to listen to. Miss Summerhayes, Mrs. Wood, Mrs. Walton and Mrs. Baldwin were present, the latter two from Japan. The Rev. Robinson, with son and daughter, who left for Japan thirty years ago and returning now had to learn the English language over again. The next speaker was Mr. Millman and then Mrs. Cummings. Bishop Sweeney spoke of Mrs. Cummings as an old friend for they went to school together. She was a D.C.L., and that stood for a decidedly clever lady. It being her birthday, Mrs. Cummings was presented with a basket of flowers, which was a great surprise to her. She said she did not know how she could enjoy herself any better than to be with the W. A. on her birthday. After the addresses the orchestra gave a selection of music and luncheon was served.

On Wednesday there was a separate conference for the presidents, corresponding and recording secretaries, reporters and treasurers, after which the members visited the literature room to see the many interesting curios from the different fields where our missionaries are working.

The ORACLE

This day we fashion Destiny, our web of Fate we spin —Whittier.

Fixed fate, free will, foreknowledge absolute. —Milton.

Abbe.—Although still quite young, you give promise of an excellent type of character as you grow older. You were born with a strong, active nature, logical and daring, but apt at times to forget the rights of others and to domineer a trifle. With this type of disposition, you will not be inclined to do what will be best for you, to associate yourself carefully with others in any enterprise that you may engage in. In union there is strength. Never try to stand alone in important matters, and do not try to control the affairs of others at any time. You have a nature a great deal like the lady who sent in the query with yours. It is affectionate and self-sacrificing, sometimes too self-sacrificing, and inclined to be modest and unassertive. The world has little success for the man who stands back and waits for it to come to him. You are inclined to be restless and nervous, but are well fitted for positions of responsibility and should make a good cashier or book-keeper. You have also ability along artistic lines. Look around very carefully before you marry, and then choose a girl born in September, October or July. You were born on Monday. Your colors are the many shades of flame, from yellow to blue.

E. M. P.—I cannot say whether this will be a lucky year or not for you, as I am not a fortune-teller. You are of the type that is constantly rather nervous and skeptical, and your success in life will lie along the lines of self-forgetfulness, but not too much self-sacrifice, to which you are prone. In helping others, as your manifest destiny points out to be your way of happiness, you must not neglect yourself or your own strength and enjoyment. You are naturally fond of good cheer and good times, but circumstances may not always allow you to follow out your natural tendencies in this regard. Try to be more restful and at peace with your world, as you live in it. Anxiety and restlessness and a peculiar habit of mind of enquiry into many things will not make you too happy or successful. The value of silence and self-poise will do much for you. Never, never give way to a habit of melancholy weeping. If you try to overcome this at once, you will be surprised to see what strength will come to you. You were born on Saturday, which is your lucky day. May and June are your lucky months. Your color is black.

Son.—You should be successful in matters of mental or business achievement. You have a decided bias toward financial affairs of any sort. However, your destiny points to a different type of existence, the sort in which service to others would be your watchword—the service inspired by love. You would make a good wife, as your tendency toward business management would be a decided help to your husband. As for the other questions in your letter, I am not a fortune-teller. If you wish for success, you will have to work for it. There is no royal road to achievement. And you will probably find a "Prince Charming" somewhere. They seem to come along, if you keep wishing for one hard enough. Marry a man born in February, May, August or March, and do not work too hard for him. Try not to worry. The Maker of the world orders most things well.

You were born on Thursday. Your colors are tan and buff.

BRITISH SHIP SINKS BUT CREW IS SAVED

"Queen of Nassau" Foundered 70 Miles South of Miami.

MIAMI, Fla., July 5. — Canadian Press. — Eighteen men of the crew of the British steamship Queen of Nassau, which sank 70 miles south of Miami on Friday night, arrived in Miami late on Friday night on a freight train. All hands were saved.

The Queen of Nassau sank in a little more than one hour from the time a serious leak was first discovered, and rests in 35 fathoms of water, where she cannot endanger navigation. She went down about 7 miles southwest of Loyer Matecumbia Key. The crew left her eight minutes before she plunged to the bottom.

Rusting of the ship's bottom, in the opinion of Captain Peter F. Songdehl had advanced to such a stage that vibration of the ship's engines caused a plate to work loose.

Important Results Followed Unknown Scout's Good Deed

LONDON, July 5 (Canadian Press). — An interesting little ceremony took place in Gilwell Park, Essex, yesterday, when the Prince of Wales, in behalf of the British Boy Scouts, 150 of whom were present, accepted at the hands of the United States Ambassador, Alanson B. Houghton, a bronze statuette of an American Bison, the gift of the Boy Scouts of the United States, as a token of good-will and friendship.

The statuette is dedicated to the "Unknown Scout," who, by doing a good turn to a United States tourist, induced the United States to take up the Scout movement.

Vitamines Production New Method Announced

LEIPSIC, Germany, July 5 (Canadian Press).—The discovery of a method of producing vitamines artificially is reported to have been made by three scientists, whereby it is possible to impregnate various foodstuffs with vitamines.

For the present the names of the scientists have not been made public for the particular reason, it is stated, that in the next few days, Leipsic University will issue important details of the discovery.

Selling lunch cars such as are to be seen on street corners and in vacant lots in many cities, is the business of Mrs. Lee Brown Connor of Boston, and she is believed to be the only woman in the world in her particular line. As some of the larger and more ornate cars cost as much as $10,000 each, her proposition is one that many experienced salesmen would not care to tackle.

FOOD for a Most Strenuous Sport

Grape-Nuts Goes Along on the Canoe Trip For the Energy it Gives

THE canoe trip, with its daily grind of muscle-straining, steady paddling, its long portages carrying canoes and equipment—surely a most strenuous vacation sport. Surely a sport which calls for a properly conditioned body—a properly energized body.

And food must supply energy. Every day the canoeist must renew his energy by the foods he eats. How important then, that he pack into the precious space in his canoe only the most highly nourishing and energizing food.

Grape-Nuts is a power food—a food which gives the body an abundance of the most valuable energy-giving nourishment. The two healthful grains, whole wheat and malted barley, combine in Grape-Nuts to give dextrins, maltose and other carbohydrates for energy; iron for the blood; phosphorus for healthy teeth and bones; protein to build sturdy muscles and body tissues; and the vitally essential Vitamin-B. Grape-Nuts is a crisp food—so delightfully crisp that you want to chew Grape-Nuts, thus giving healthful exercise to your teeth and gums and also aiding digestion.

The kind of food the canoeist needs for his trip! But isn't Grape-Nuts the kind of food you need, too—to carry you successfully through your hard days? Ask for Grape-Nuts at your grocer's today. The great outdoors is callin' an' it spreads a bit o' cheer. The kids 'er gladly fallin', as they do this time of year, fer fun an' plenty of it. Shucks, there's naught they need to fear. The kids' world looks much brighter, when vacation time is here.

AN INTERRUPTED HONEYMOON

Above is shown the honeymoon cottage, about three miles east of Picton, Ont., on the shores of the Bay of Quinte, where Ransom D. Stone (also pictured), aged 27, an [illegible] escaped from Auburn prison and his bride of a few days were located by police last week. Crowded in their short romance was a taxi ride from Syracuse, New York, across the border, a wedding ceremony performed at a town en route, and later the return of Stone into the custody of the law. The bride, formerly Miss Ethel Young of Syracuse, says she will wait for her husband to serve his full sentence and then they will start life over again.

AFTERNOON TEA WAS SUCCESSFUL

LAKEFIELD, July 5.—The ladies of the Missionary Society of the Presbyterian Church held a very successful afternoon tea at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Garbutt on Tuesday afternoon, June 29.

During the early part of the afternoon a thunderstorm threatened but passed over without a drop of rain falling in the village. The attendance at the tea was large and the financial returns exceedingly gratifying. Mrs. J. M. Simpson and Mrs. J. W. Ridpath were convenors of the general committee: Miss Agnes Millar was convenor of the programme committee, and the advertising was in charge of Miss Patterson and Miss Tanner.

Misses Hilda McKibbin, A. Millar, Janet Quinn and Lulu Smith served at the tea tables which were set out on the verandah, each decorated with a bouquet of flowers and on each was a pretty hand-painted menu card, attractively setting forth the dainties which had been prepared by the ladies. Others who assisted in various ways were Mrs. A. Fairbairn, Mrs. R. White, Mrs. Thomson, Mrs. J. C. Smith, Mrs. B. Garbutt, and Misses Preston, McKibbin and A. FitzGerald. Mrs. Robert Garbutt received the guests in her hospitable manner which did much to further the spirit of friendliness and good feeling which prevailed. A large contingent of Peterborough ladies were warmly welcomed and contributed their quota to the programme and to the sociability. Mrs. Hazel Davidson McClelland contributed several readings and also a solo which were greatly appreciated. Miss Daisy Davidson of Peterborough, also sang very sweetly. Mrs. R. W. Davidson played the accompaniments for both. The following programme was rendered by local talent —

Piano Solo—Miss Etta Garbutt.
Solo—Mrs. Osborne.
Piano Solo—Miss Hilda McKibbin.
Solo—Miss Cullen.
Solo—Mrs. Burrows.
Piano duet—Misses Etta Garbutt and Hilda McKibbin.

All the numbers were well rendered and very heartily applauded and greatly enjoyed.

Among those from Peterborough who were present were Mrs. (Rev.) William Allan, Mrs. R. W. Davidson, Misses Daisy and Violet Davidson, Mrs. Hazel Davidson McClelland, Mrs. W. E. Lech, Mrs. John Garbutt, Mrs. Comstock, Mrs. Connall, Mrs. and Miss Cullen and Mrs. Hall.

Men Hired.

During the past week more than a hundred extra men have been taken on by the Canada Cement Co., and work is being rushed. A large gang are at work at the preparation for power development and already there are evidences of the week's work. The end of the summer will see many changes on the water front and the aspect will be greatly improved. Work is plentiful in the village now.

Presentation and Address.

On Monday evening the members of the United (Presbyterian) choir and representatives of the congregation called on Dr. and Mrs. M. P. Kennedy at their home on Regent St., and presented Mrs. Kennedy with a very handsome silver tea service on the occasion of her marriage, accompanied by many expressions of good wishes for her future life. Rev. P. L. Jull read the following address —

To Mrs. M. P. Kennedy,
Lakefield

Dear Mrs. Kennedy—The congregation of the United Presbyterian Church wishes to convey to you their sincere appreciation of your long service as organist and choir leader. Throughout the years you have been faithful at your post under all conditions and often at great cost to yourself. The associations with you, of pastor and choir, have always been harmonious and delightful. Your increasing efficiency at the organ has greatly pleased the congregation and made a very large contribution to the services of praise in the church.

We assure you of our deep sense of loss through your withdrawal, but earnestly hope and pray for your happiness in your new home.

Will you accept this gift as a slight tangible token of our appreciation, esteem and good wishes.

Signed on behalf of the Session,
P. L. Jull, Moderator,
A. J. Young, Clerk.

Lakefield, June 28th, 1926.

The presentation was made by Dr. G. E. Renwick.

Mrs. Kennedy made a graceful reply, thanking her friends for the gift and also for the good wishes expressed.

Presentation From Choir.

On Tuesday evening the members of the choir of the United (Presbyterian) church visited Miss Beatrice A. Johnston at her home on Nelson St. and presented her with a case of silver on the occasion of her marriage to Mr. Roy Windrim, which took place on Wednesday. The following address was read.—

Miss Beatrice Johnston

Dear Beatrice.—The members of the choir learn with regret that their ranks are again to be broken through your marriage and removal from our village.

We assure you that you will be greatly missed, as you were one of our faithful ones. However, the best of friends must part, and changes are our common lot.

We hope and pray for your future happiness and blessings. To help you remember your former associates in the choir we beg you to accept this little gift with all good wishes from the members of the choir.

Signed by the choir of the United (Presbyterian) Church.

Miss Johnston replied gracefully, thanking her friends and assuring them that she was always going to treasure the memory of her association with the choir and in the church.

and maintain the equilibrium of the currency.

Reduce Expenditure.

Passing to the actual condition of the budget, which could be balanced with the francs at 125 to the pound sterling, whereas it is now nearer 180, the report lays stress on the need for drastic reduction of the State's expenses, the cutting down of administrative staffs to a minimum, reduction of the number of departments and immediate augmentation of the treasury's receipts.

Increase in receipts would be accomplished by certain modifications in taxation, notably a small reduction in the income tax and virtual doubling of import duties on articles from abroad. The present import duties, the experts assert, represent only one-half of those existing in 1913, if the depreciation of the franc and increase in prices are considered.

Readjustment, particularly of the Customs, must be realized, the report says, with the briefest delay, certainly before the end of the year. The doubling of the present sugar tax and the imposition of a tax of five centimes for a litre of wine and similar beverages, are also recommended.

Short Term Bonds.

The report finds one of the most serious problems is the retirement of short term bonds. It provides for an amortization agency that would so handle the retirement of national defence bonds and other securities that national confidence would be restored. It is suggested that these bonds could gradually be exchanged — but not by forced procedure—for longer terms securities, which would relieve the state of the embarrassment of providing funds to meet constantly maturing debts, and at the same time conserve to the fullest the interests of the holder.

CONFEDERATION PREMIER

Thirty-five years ago, Sir John A. Macdonald, Canada's Confederation Premier, died at the age of seventy-six. He lies buried in Cataraqui cemetery, a few miles from Kingston, where annually a pilgrimage is made to his graveside. Hon. W. F. Nickle, K.C., Attorney-General for Ontario, and M.P.P. for Kingston, who is also a former M.P. for Kingston, spoke briefly of the Conservative chieftain whose memory belongs not only to one party but to the whole of Canada, at a special memorial service held at the graveside on Sunday. A Fashion Model's Diary

By Grace Thorncliffe

"From the orders we've had lately one would think my smart clients did nothing but lounge," Madame remarked today as she bent over some samples of gay crepe.

She was referring to the numerous orders for lounging pajamas that we've had, mostly from smart actresses.

"While the truth is that the ones who use these most really work awfully hard when they do work," I remarked.

"Which speaks well for them, for they know how to relax when the time comes, which is largely responsible for their keeping their youth and beauty as they do," Madame added.

"I think," put in Pam, who was sitting near-by, "that their plan of looking as attractive as possible while they rest is one reason for their enjoying it enough to make a regular practice of it."

"Who wouldn't look attractive in that new pair of lounging pajamas?" I asked, nodding to the latest pair that had come down from the workrooms.

The pajamas in question had been modeled by Gaby, who did look too attractive in them. They were of cool rose crepe, with a dashing air of sophistication added in the use of quilted black satin for trimming.

Gaby informed us that the lovely brunette movie actress who had seen them was most enthusiastic and had ordered a pair in the original colors and another pair in bright yellow trimmed with purple quilted satin.

Practical Pam remarked: "As long as I haven't time to get the good out of such ornate pajamas, I'm going to adapt the design to practical use and make them of thin batiste, trimmed with solid colors, and use them for everyday sleeping purposes."

We agreed that this was a good idea and planned three pairs for her, one of yellow, trimmed with white, another of pale blue, trimmed with deeper blue, and a third of ecru, trimmed with soft red.

I've kept a sketch of the pajamas in my diary, for I do not think it is such a practical design. I'm planning some for myself of flowered voile trimmed with plain color bands.

A GIRL'S MURDERED FAITH.

I put my hand softly on the arm of Joan Meredith. I had always believed that to have one's pride driven down in the dust and trampled on is much worse than having one's heart broken. I knew this was true when I heard Joan's next words.

"When he said that he had divided the money which I spent on him with such joy with his wife, Judy, my heart just stopped and I hoped it would not begin beating again.

"Everything about our love which to me had been so sacred had just been business to him. Why, that wife of his had introduced me to him just for that. She knew I had money. She knew her husband was fascinating. She either does not love him at all or else she is very sure of him, Judy, too sure for honesty. I believe that Barry loves me as well as he could love anyone. Only one thing she is sure of, she must have money, and for it she is willing to pay almost any price.

"I told Barry that he had murdered my faith in all men.

"He just looked at me.

"'And—and—and, if I don't get that money for you, Barry, what are you going to do?'

"'I have to have it, Joan,' he said. 'And even at the worst you cannot tell your stepfather. I happen to know that you will not be of age until mother's will if least bit of scandal next week. By the terms of your attaches itself to your name before that your stepfather may have charge of all your money as long as he lives and he only has to give you a hundred dollars a month or as much more as he wishes.

"'That is the reason why I wanted to go through a semblance of a marriage. He could find no scandal in that.'

"'How do you know that, Barry?' I asked.

"'Oh, I make it my business to find out these things. I also found out that your dear kind stepfather would like nothing better than to get something on you. For reasons of his own he is not ready quite yet to give an accounting of the money your mother entrusted to him to keep for her children.

"'A pretty kettle of fish, isn't it? But surely you have someone that can take it off the fire for you.

"'Don't you know anyone among your mother's friends who cares for you enough so that you can go and tell them about this.'

"'If I do, Barry, they will arrest you for blackmail.'

"'No, they won't. In the first place you're not going to tell them my name, and in the second place there is always that clause in your mother's will.

"'I don't care how you get it, Joan. But, you've got to get that money and get it before tomorrow night at ten o'clock.'"

BUTTERICK 6863

EARLY Summer blows hot and cold in Paris. One day women are in wool suits and the next in the thinnest of silk crêpe dresses. A warm day brings out the flowered Georgettes and printed crêpes de Chine at tea-time rather than at lunch, for earlier in the day women are busy with their shopping and their fittings. A charming frock worn recently at the Ritz was made of wheat-colored crêpe de Chine printed with poppies, ragged sailors and yellow daisies in their field-flower colors. A jabot of the wheat-colored crêpe began with the necking of the collar and ended with the hem of the straight shirred skirt.

HOME MAKING HELPS

THE HOUSEKEEPER'S TOOL BOX.

Every housekeeper needs a tool box. It is not like the carpenter's box, but is shallow, wide and long enough to accommodate the saw. Inside there are small compartments for nails, screws, tacks, hooks and screw eyes. There is a claw hammer of medium size that is useful in numberless ways.

A business-like hatchet, a pair of pliers, invaluable for small plumbing jobs, a monkey wrench, a good screw driver, a chisel, an awl, ordinary pincers, a small auger, a heavy hammer, a plane, and a good-sized flashlight complete the chest.

There is a tool board which is fastened to the wall and which contains hooks upon which the tools may be hung from the screw eyes in the ends of their handles, but it does not keep the tools in as good condition as placing them in the box. A box of washers, and a few odds and ends that are often needed in home repairing jobs should be added to the box.

Another thing that is handy to have is the small glue pot inset in a larger pot for hot water. This is an invaluable aid in these days of ready-made furniture that suffers from dampness and steam heat. We can remove the parts, melt the glue and with a small brush anoint all cracks and crevices, force the pieces in place firmly, tie them in place with strong soft tape and let stand a couple of days to dry and harden, and the squeak will be gone.

If you use an extension table, the screws in its mechanism need an occasional tightening, and here is where a good screw driver comes in handy. Of course the screw drivers with the revolving screw that works into the handle are good for many jobs, but the regular sort is best for ordinary repair jobs.

Two grades of sand paper and some emery paper should be added to the box, for they are needed quite often. Brushes or brooms develop a case of splinters, or the inside of the chopping bowl gets rough, and there is nothing like good sandpaper to remedy the difficulties.

It makes a woman, especially in the country away from quickly calling help, feel so independent to have good tools and to know how they should be used.

The Woman's Day

Written by a Woman for Women.

Touching brightly on woman's every major interest in life from books and babies to politics and psycho analysis.

(By Allene Sumner)

Great Stuff!

"On either side of Mrs. Kellogg's chair a maid stood, as if she were enclosed in parentheses."

"Conversation was opened neatly, like a tin of sardines."

"Hypatia decided that a bride becomes a part of a strange family too suddenly, like a fresh vegetable tossed into a stew already cooked.

"Naomi was secret as a house without windows. No one knew exactly what was inside."

Wonder If We Dare!

Now we want to steal a whole hunk from this best of all modern novels, for it berates and defines a certain type of woman, as such types have needed doing since Eve first baked an apple and stuffed it with cloves and nutmeg.

"In the first month Hypatia made the decision whether she would be a model housekeeper. Topaz Kellogg was afraid of leisure. When she did not have housework to think about, her mind felt bleak and unprotected. Thoughts of silver, muffins, pears, and jam warmed and covered her mind as a wadded tea cozy comforts a teapot. Flour, sugar, salt and butter were basic words in her Household Creed.

Why!

"Savages created for themselves protecting gods because they were afraid of the dark. Topaz created a god from her house because she was afraid of a dark leisure, afraid of that dumb, empty moment when thought would be a face pressed against a window, or a knock on a door. The fear of Topaz was the great, unconfessed fear of humanity. Millions of dollars humanity spent every year to ward away thought. Movies, radios, automobiles, and golf were weapons of the rich. Coney Island was the shield of the poor."

The Neighbors.

"The neighbors told the story, reverently, of Mrs. Totmarsh. This Mrs. Totmarsh was on her feet from morning 'till night. She was the first to get her house cleaned in the spring and the first in the fall. Once she thought a neighbor was going to finish before her, so she stayed up all night to clean and was through first."

What They Said.

"Caring for a home is the most beautiful, worth-while accomplishment in the world," Molly Pitcher sighed when the story was done. Hypatia waited a moment, then she said: "Caring for a home is the most worth-while thing in the world, but what does it include? It isn't all eating and cleaning. There's so much else—caring for the spirit of the home, for instance. Caring for your mind—

Going On

"I could forgive a woman," Hypatia continued, "if she cleaned her silver because she liked to see it shine. But to clean your silver once a week because your neighbor cleans it is infamous. To dust every day because your mother dusted is a sin. It's a sin to take care of the body of the house and have no strength left for the spirit. It is wicked to be dirty, but it is more wicked to be too clean. It's the unpardonable sin to polish your kettles and have no time to think."

SAVE YOUR TEETH

Prepared by the Oral Hygiene Committee of Canada, with which the Peterborough Dental Society is Collaborating.

THE GATEWAY TO HEALTH.

"Raise the blinds, peep in, lift up the latch and walk in"—thus we sang in the nursery, so the mouth, even in our childish fancies was a gate or door.

Now, the mouth is in a very real sense, the gateway to health.

It is here that the foods are broken up: these foods are the source of the body fuels which are meant to impart to the vital tissues, the maximum of vigor and efficiency that we call health.

It is here, too, that a very large proportion of the body infections gain access, the statement being generally accepted that over eighty percent of the diseases to which the human body is heir, are directly traceable to the mouth and teeth.

It appears from accepted findings that the mouth or oral cavity, is sterile at birth, and for shortly afterwards, but that between the sixth and tenth hours of life, are found several of the various micro-organisms that inhabit the mouth tissues from this time onward throughout the period of life.

So then it would seem that health is not a matter merely of an efficient machine, tuned to the highest pitch, pulsating with energy and obedient to the dictates of the will, but it is one also of resistance to disease, and to the degree that this resistance is permitted to be lowered beyond certain limitations, the body tissues inevitably fall prey to the poisonous influences that are ever assailing its defences.

Health is in a sense an endurance contest in which "the virtue lies in the struggle, not in the prize.' To maintain health, an efficient masticatory organ is unquestionably necessary, while its impairment of function through dental disease, must spell inefficiency of the digestive organs, leading to ultimate disaster to health and even life.

Too, the health index is lowered to the degree that the handicap of mouth infection is raised so that dental neglect with its train of infective processes, must not be tolerated.

Conjointly with these factors, is that of the selection of the most desirable foods for the maintenance of the body tissues in a state of health, as, even the superior type of engine will not run with a maximum efficiency, where an inferior fuel is used, so it is not to be expected where no regard is paid for a wise selection of proper foods, that a state of bodily health can be acquired and maintained.

Lastly, there is to be laid the keystone of prudent health habits, lacking which the structure will fall, even though the foundation stones of masticatory ability and oral health had been well and truly laid.

LOVE LETTERS THAT MADE HISTORY

(By Joseph Kaye.)

ABELARD AND HELOISE.

The most moving romance of ancient times, even equaling the fiction love of Juliet for Romeo, is that of Abelard and Heloise.

Abelard was one of the most brilliant minds of his time, the eleventh century. He was a teacher and philosopher and so great were his fame and influence that he began to think himself the one philosopher in the world. At the height of his triumphs he fell in love with a young girl named Heloise, niece of a Paris canon and one of the most highly cultured women of her age, and directed his efforts to becoming her tutor, which he succeeded in doing. In the freedom he thus obtained in the uncle's house, Abelard made love to the young girl. Heloise returned his love and soon after was forced to fly to the country, where she gave birth to a son.

Abelard offered marriage to the girl but she, knowing that marriage would forever ruin his clerical career, preferred dishonor to his unhappiness. Abelard however prevailed upon her to consent and they were married, with the understanding, shared in by her uncle, that the marriage was to be kept secret. After the marriage Heloise's guardian refused to keep his promise and vindictively made public the spiritual Abelard's earthly bounds. In her eager devotion to Abelard, Heloise branded her uncle's revelation a lie and made the terrible sacrifice of proclaiming herself an unmarried mother. But her efforts in Abelard's behalf did not help him. On the other hand it made her a target for such vile abuse and persecution that the only relief left to her was to escape to a convent and become a nun.

In her plan to take the veil she was aided by the distracted Abelard, and Heloise's uncle, thinking that Abelard had in this way schemed to get his wife out of the way, determined to be avenged and together with several friends, broke into Abelard's bed-chamber in the dead of night and perpetuated upon him a most shocking mutilation.

Now borne down to the deepest abyss of shame and despair, Abelard became a monk and eventually, finding even this sanctuary a harsh one, became a hermit in a desert.

The historic love letters of Heloise and Abelard were written when Heloise was a prioress and Abelard a wanderer, seeking to regain some of his former glory. He died at the age of 63, a broken man. Though buried elsewhere his remains were secretly brought to Heloise and she reburied him in the ground upon which he had lived his hermit life and where Heloise's religious institution was now located.

By a strange coicidence Heloise also died at the age of 63 and was buried near Abelard's grave. The lovers'bones were moved many times but they were marvellously preserved even through all the turmoils of European history and they now find a permanent resting place in the cemetery of Pere-la-Chaise, Paris, where their tomb is a famous lovers' shrine.

The beautiful letter below is one of those written by Heloise to Abelard and shows the passionate love which the veil was made to conceal.

"At thy command I would change not merely my costume but my very soul, so entirely art thou the sole possessor of my body and spirit. I have sought thee and not thy gifts; I have not looked to the marriage bond or dowry; I have not even yearned to satisfy my own will and pleasure but thine, as thou well knowest.

"The name of wife may be holier and more approved, but the name friend—nay, mistress or concubine, if thou wilt suffer it—has always been the sweeter to me. For in thus humbling myself for thee I should win greater favor from thee, and do less injury to thy greatness.... God is my witness that if Augustus, the emperor of the whole world, were to honor me with the offer of wedlock and yield me the empire of the universe, I should deem it more precious and more honorable to be thy mistress than to be Queen of a Caesar."

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

(By Mildred Marshall.)

Facts about your name, its history; its meaning; whence it was derived; its significance; your lucky day, and lucky jewel.

MAUDE.

MAUDE, signifying "mighty battle maid,' was interchanged in former times with Mathilda, the first instance of its double use being the daughter of Henry I who was known by both names. But this is not its etymological origin, since Maude was primarily a man's name. But Mald, Maald, and Mauld appear early as feminine names, also Mahald, and Mahalt. The 12th century reveals a woman named Mahald vel Mathilda, about whom little is known.

Mathilda was the wife of Emperor Henry the Fowler, who afterward became the sainted abbess of Quedlingburg; another Mechtild was canonized after being abbess of Adilstetten and her name became very popular among French maidens. It was Countess Mathilda, a friend of Gregory VII in Italy whose bequest was one of the Pope's first steps to the temporal power and who is introduced by Dante in the flowery fields of Paradise.

Mahault, so called by the Flemish, was the wife of William the Conqueror, who brought the name to England, where the Normans called it Molde and the Scottish-Saxon Eadgyth was made to assume it, whereupon it became the reigning royal name. Maude was the Norman contraction and the most fashionable today, though Mathilda, used by Spenser for one of the maidens in his "Faerie Queen", is really the correct name. Tilly, Tilda, Mechtild, and Melchel are some of the derivatives.

Many poets have felt inspiration at the name. "Maud Muller" is known to everyone; likewise this excerpt from the musical lyric "Maud."

"Maud with her exquisite face,
And wild voice pealing up to sunny sky,
And feet like sunny gems on an English green,
Maud in the light of her youth and her grace,
Singing of Death and of Honor that can not die.
Till I well could weep for a time so sordid and mean,
And myself so languid and base."

Maude's talismanic jewel is malachite, which is said to warn its wearer of approaching danger by breaking. To be specially lucky it should be engraved with an image of the sun, which by its dazzling light drives out all evil spirits that work in darkness. Wednesday is her lucky day and 6 her lucky number. Old superstition has it that a bit of malachite tied to a child's cradle will drive away evil and insure sound and peaceful sleep for the occupant.

WEDDING BELLS.

KENDRICK—WHATMOUGH

STRATFORD, July 4—St. James' Anglican Church was the scene of one of the season's most charming events yesterday, when the rector, Rev. Canon W. T. THE INVISIBLE DONKEY.

When men make up their minds to do anything out of the ordinary did you ever notice how really ordinary they succeed in being?

Here we have a movie scene which shows an auto race, and the machines finally fall over a cliff. Well, it had to be an impressive cliff, so the biggest cliff on earth was faked, and the autos fell over it, but the whole thing was ruined for the average movie fan by the addition of a scene from the Grand Canyon of Arizona: the contrast made man's work look sick.

Well, you will say, the Grand Canyon is an unfair comparison, for everyone knows how imposing it is. Yes, maybe that is unfair, for it is somewhere like twelve or more miles from one edge of the canyon to the other: the thing looks just like a huge gash in the surface of the world. Well again, if you don't like that, let's make a more simple comparison.

Pick out any nature faking stunt you know of, and compare it with this story.

Over in California there is a bewitched hill! This hill is in Hollywood, which fact makes a fellow skeptical at once.

Now, this bewitched hill is not called by that name always, nor by any other regular name. The folks there like to keep up the mystery (and it is a true one, too) and so, when I arrived on the scene, they did not say, "Come, and we will show you a queer hill," that would have been too tame: they said, "Do you want to see your auto run up hill backwards without any power?"

I heard one man with an auto full of children asking someone where he could show them the invisible donkey that pulls cars up a steep hill.

This invisible donkey is something inside a hill, and near the top. It is thought to be some sort of a magnet under ground. At any rate you drive up the hill, which is rather long and steep, then turn around and coast down without any power on. Now, when your auto passes the half way down mark, some mysterious power holds you back, and, with your car slanting down hill, you slowly come to a stop near the bottom and this strange magic power pulls you, auto and all, back up the hill and at a good speed too. You can see what the invisible donkey does, but nobody has ever seen him. He outfakes the wildest nature fakers.

YOUR HEALTH

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M.D.,
Former Commissioner of Health, New York City.

At a recent meeting of the American Health Congress Dr. Livingston Farrand, president of Cornell University, presented ten facts which he declared the educated person should know about health.

Dr. Farrand is an unusual college president. He has all the scholarship we expect presidents of universities to possess, but in addition to the usual possession he has had a wonderful training in all matters having to do with health and the prevention of disease.

For a long time Dr. Farrand was associated with the Anti-Tuberculosis Association. He was in that work when it was new and when the public needed to be instructed in how to live in order that tuberculosis might be prevented. I rejoice that in his present work Dr. Farrand has not forgotten those early days. I hope he may have strength given him to impress upon educational institutions the importance of how to live.

As you know, I frequently complain that many schools teach everything except how to live. They overlook the fundamental importance of a sound body. No brain can be a sound brain and a properly functioning brain unless it is housed in a sound and properly functioning body. I am sure it is this that Dr. Farrand has in mind in outlining ten health facts which he thinks everybody should possess. He emphasizes sleep, diet, mental aberrations, the sex instinct, infection, the causes of degenerative diseases, sanitation and systematic physical examinations. These eight of the ten facts have to do with individual health.

After these Dr. Farrand suggests that there should be a knowledge of community health problems. He believes that everybody should take an interest in the public health and the prevention of conditions which adversely affect a community.

I am much interested in his suggestion that there should be better appreciation of the standards of medical practice.

It is a pity that the modern efforts to elevate the standards of medicine have had to originate with the medical profession. Undoubtedly this is perfectly natural, because doctors are thinking in terms of medicine, while it is only in case of necessity that the average citizen thinks of the doctor or of the practice of medicine.

There is no doubt, however, that every citizen is interested in the laws relating to the practice of medicine. These laws must be sensible, of course, but they must create high standards to make certain that society is protected against the charlatan and imperfectly trained physician.

Did you ever think how helpless you are if you are in a strange community and need a doctor? Perhaps you have just moved to the city. You don't know anything about the doctors whose signs you see in the windows. They may be good doctors or they may be poor doctors. You have no way to determine. The lesson of this is that society should demand of every doctor that he possess a thorough knowledge of medicine and also that he be a man of character and personal integrity.

This is the thought Dr. Frarand has in mind, no doubt, when he says everybody should have an appreciation of the standards of medical practitioners.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK?

By Edson R. Waite, Secretary, Shawnee, Okla., Board of Commerce.

THAT if you want your home city to keep moving ahead in the March of Progress, you should have its name engraved in your heart.

THAT if you want prosperity to stay with it, you should pep up and keep pepped up.

THAT you should be proud of it.

THAT you should swear by it.

THAT you should work for it.

THAT you should spend your time and money for it.

THAT you and every other citizen should work hand in hand for its advancement.

THAT when you all do this there is no limit as to what you can do to make it a better place in which to live and prosper.

THAT it will then be a place in the world that will attract the attention of investors, new industries and home-seekers in such numbers that will bring prosperity to the whole city.

I am not talking to the other fellow. I am talking to you!

Daily Short Story

"Say It With Fireworks"

H. LOUIS RAYBOLD.

"They do things on such a large scale out in the West," said one of the card players on the Cincinnati express. "Their irrigation systems, their ranches, their hospitality——"

"And their love making," chuckled his companion. "Ever hear how Dan Franklin courted his girl? No? Well, it's enough of a story to pass the time of day.

"It seems Dan landed out in Peck's Gulch without a red cent; but he had a way with him and got Ma Cranshaw, the best cook for miles around, to stake him to a week's free board until he landed a job. Which he did and made good.

"Now right from the start Ma Cranshaw's Dixie, a youngster then of somewheres around sixteen, fell head over heels in love with him. Dan wasn't a ladies' man and anyway thought of her as just a kid and didn't place any special value on her affections. Let her fetch and carry for him and once in awhile gave a pat on the head as a reward. Guess Ma worried some about it but didn't see what she could do and anyway she was satisfied that Dan didn't care and so Dixie'd outgrow it in time. Seems also there was a boy Dixie'd grown up with, a son of an old friend back in Carolina and she'd kinder hoped the two would hit it off.

"Well, after some time Dan began buying a tenth interest here and eighth inerest there in some of those Peck Gulch silver mines that weren't paying for a spell and first thing they began to pick up and it was rumored Dan was making his pile.

"Meanwhile Dixie was growing up into as pretty a little Southern peach as you'd want to see—slender and dark, with a lovely soft color in her cheeks and the sweetest little ways. And here was where the queer part began. Dan woke up to the kid's beauty and saw what a chance he'd thrown away, for as he began to care Dixie seemed to lose all interest.

"Now naturally her attitude just made Dan all the crazier about her. Got so he sort of neglected everything to think of ways to be nice to her. Pleaded with her to let him give her a saddle horse and a baby grand.

"When that didn't work he went out and bought a whole mountain and got gangs of men to level it into terraces and sunken gardens and then he put up a mansion, all Spanish architecture.

"He run into Dixie one day in front of the post office, when there wasn't anyone around but one man inside.

"'Dixie,' he said, 'why won't you marry me?'

"She looked at him straight and square. "Because everybody'd say you bought me,' she said and went right on past him.

"She looked so sort of teasing-like that Dan ran right up to her and took her in his arms in spite of her. 'You little queen!' he cried, 'I'll tell the world I love you and you love me. Because it's true. And then you'll have to marry me!'

"Dixie hadn't the slightest idea what was really in his mind any more than I had. (I was the man in the post office.) But next day Dan whent East and when he came back he was followed by a whole carload of the queerest stuff Marked inflammable, too. Lots of people heard about it and supposed it had something to do with blasting in the mines. Then when it was carted up the mountain by mules to his home there was all sorts of speculation.

"Now every Fourth of July Dan had invited Dixie to go somewheres. To the band concert at the Crossroads or even over to Jepson City to the carnival. But the last two times he'd asked her to go anywhere she'd refused. And quite likely, as girls will, hoped for a chance to refuse him again. But this year, although Dan called on Ma Cranshaw and talked awhile with her alone, he never said a word to Dixie.

"Next night was the Fourth and after supper Ma complained of not feeling good—guessed she'd stay on the verandah instead of going to the concert. Dixie could do as she liked, but of course Dixie stayed.

"They sat facing Dan's home which wasn't so very far away. Fact, daytimes, you could see him walking up and down the patio.

"All of a sudden there was a great flash and report. Dan said afterwards that first bomb was to attract attention. Which it did.

"Then came a huge heart, all ablaze. And then—and this was what Dan had had in mind from the start—one by one letters begun to flame out spelling, so the whole world could read, 'Dixie Cranshaw loves Dan Franklin.' For a second it was all lighted at once Then followed, 'Dan loves Dixie.' By this time the whole township was staring and exclaiming., And even as they watched the rockets and gold rain and pinwheels and what not that came after, they didn't forget, nor ever would, what came before. All in all it was the greatest pyrotechnical show Peck Gulch ever saw!

"I heard Dan came around to see Dixie right after and at first she cried and said she hated him and that nobody'd ever marry her now. And Dan said he guessed that was true, so she'd better take him. He thought all she wanted was a good reason for marrying him, and he'd given her one! And do you know, Dixie saw it that way finally, too!"

"You seem to have got your facts at first hand," remarked the other curiously.

"Yes, I did," sighed the narrator. "From Mrs. Cranshaw. I was the boy Dixie grew up with, but side of Dan Franklin I never had a show!"

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE

"Proper Food and Exercise," by ARTHUR A. McGOVERN Former physical director, Cornell Medical College.

Health and beauty walk hand in hand

EFFORT ALONE BRINGS GRACE AND CHARM

BEAUTY at its best is an expression of glorious good health. There can be no real claim to beauty without the buoyant freshness of a sound body.

More and more women are beginning to realize the great importance of keeping in good physical condition.

A woman invariably has a harder life to live than a man; she has heavier burdens to bear; therefore, she needs strength to enable her to carry them. Even in business life a woman is under greater strain than a man because she is more sensitive, more nervous, more alive, more delicate and high strung, and for these reasons she needs more strength and stability than the average man.

Just as a violin has to be kept in good tune—just as the motor for a car must be properly oiled and adjusted—the body needs to be kept in good health for the work expected of it.

You cannot expect nerve, strength and buoyancy in a body choked by sluggish circulation and waste. You cannot expect poise, ease, charm and beauty in a body burdened with excess flesh or made graceless by flabby muscles. You cannot expect a sound organic condition in a body that has been neglected and allowed to deteriorate.

Keep your body well tuned and enjoy radiant health. A few minutes a day will do it, if those few minutes are used wisely. Devote them to the following exercises and I assure you results that will amaze you. Each movement is devised to benefit some part of the body, and the whole series is prepared with an understanding of woman's special needs. It will give just the correct degree of invigoration without inducing fatigue.

Exercise No. 1

Lying flat on the floor, hands at the sides, swing the right leg up straight in the air and bring it down, touching the floor on the outside of the left leg. Return to starting position. Repeat ten times. Count each time you return to starting position.

Exercise No. 2.

Repeat Exercise No. 1, but with the left leg, ten times. Count each time left leg returns to starting position.

Exercise No. 3

Lying flat on the floor, arms at the sides, raise both knees up over the chest, kicking alternately downward as in running or bicycling, without touching the floor. Repeat 25 times, counting each time the right knee comes up.

Exercise No. 4

From a flat position, turn slightly to the left, drawing the knees up. Place both hands on the lower right side of your abdomen just at the hip. Rub upward toward the right lower rib, then across the left lower rib, then descend to the left hip and across to the starting point, making a circular movement, rubbing slowly but firmly. Repeat 50 times, counting each time the circular movement is completed.

Exercise No. 5

This is what is called a rocking exercise. It is especially good as a reducing exercise. It takes in the back, legs, arms, hips and abdomen. Sitting on the floor, draw up the feet, spreading the knees, and grasp the toes with the hands, keeping the arms and elbows between the knees. Throw your body backward on the floor, extending your feet out straight beyond the head, trying to touch the floor with your toes, but do not release your grasp of the toes. Return to the starting position by spreading the knees slightly and taking your feet in toward the body. Repeat the exercise 25 times. Count each time you return to the starting position.

An Excellent Diet for Reducing

MORNING MEAL: Grapefruit or one peach without sugar or a sour apple. Fine wheat bread. One soft boiled egg. Coffee substitute.

LUNCHEON: A cup of tea (no cream, sugar or milk). A very thin small sandwich of white bread and meat may be taken, but no crackers.

DINNER: Clear soup. Roasted or broiled beef. Plain rice pudding or junket. Drink at least six glasses of water between meals.

Lyrics Of Life

(By Douglas Malloch.)

MEN ARE FAIR.

I never have been in no co[illegible] of law,
Exceptin' to listen to lawyers scrap.
I guess I am maybe a lucky chap,
But never a fellah yet I saw
If you give him a chance, but would treat you square,
I've had some questions with other men,
But I put it up to the fellah then,
"Well, do whatever you think is fair."

When we disagreed, then I didn't say,
"I'll see my lawyer, I'll make you smart."
For there never yet was a human heart
That was made much better that sort of way.
I put it up to him then and here—
No to do the thing that the law compels,
But to do the thing that his conscience tells,
To do whatever he thought was fair.

I may lose some money, and folks may laff,
But I've made a profit in peace of mind,
And so I'm ahead, and not behind—
And I'll bet, at that, that I got my haff.
For I really think that a crook is rare,
And men as honest as me and you.
If you give 'em a chance the right to do,
They will try to do what they think is fair.

Tomorrow's HOROSCOPE

By Genevieve Kemble.

TUESDAY JULY 6.

Interesting and lively events are heralded from the prevailing sidereal operations. This may manifest more in the realm of social, domestic, romantic and artistic activities, although there is a figure presaging a change, removal or a journey, which may affect business relations. Those in the employment of others are under a slightly menacing sway and should not take any chances in calling down rebuke or dismissal. The proclivity to quick rejoinder or irritatability should be suppressed.

Those whose birthday it is may anticipate a year of change or travel, possibly accompanied by great social, artistic, or affectional activity. If in employment, precaution is enjoined. Guard the tongue and temper. A child born on this day may be ready with its tongue and inclined to rashness, but should have a kindly and lovable nature, leaning to art in some of its finer forms.

PETHERICK'S CORNERS

PETHERICK'S CORNERS, July [illegible] — Dominion Day was a gala occasion at Crow River Bridge, when five congregations and Sabbath schools met for annual picnics, and with the addition of several other picnic parties a huge crowd was assembled. The entire Rawdon circuit, Bethel, Mount Pleasant and Wellman's Corners, was present and mingled with crowds from Burnbrae and Stanwood. After a most enjoyable lunch the gentlemen adjourned to the ball grounds and picked teams engaged in strenuous games of soft ball, adding much to the pleasure of the outing.

During the afternoon a team of boys from St. Andrew's, Campbellford, met Mr. Everett Fairman's S.S. No. 2 boys in a game of softball and won by a decisive margin of 13 runs.

The annual Sunday School lawn social of the Zion church was held at Mr. Fred Barnum's on the evening of July 1st. A splendid crowd was on hand and enjoyed the soft ball games as well as the other forms of entertainment. With an admission charge of only 15 cents for adults and children free, over $55 was realized for the work of the school.

JUBILEE TENNIS CONTESTS END WITH WINS FOR BRITISH PLAYERS

Mrs. L. A. Godfree Defeats Spanish Senorita For Women's Title.

FRENCHMAN SHINES.

Brilliant Wins Over Richards and Kinsey in Men's Doubles.

WIMBLEDON, Eng., July 5 (Canadian Press) — Wimbledon's Jubilee Tennis Tournament, which opened a fortnight ago, with royal ceremonies in which the King and Queen were the chief figures, took on a decidedly British tone as it drew to a close Saturday evening.

The final day saw the women's championship won by the London born Kitty McKane, now Mrs. L. A. Godfree, in a brilliant victory over the Spanish aspirant, Senorita de Alvarez, 6-2, 4-6, 6-3, while Mrs. Godfree, and her husband captured the mixed doubles title from the United States pair, Howard Kinsey and Miss Mary K. Browne, 6-3, 6-4, in the match which ended the tournament.

It was not altogether a British holiday, however, for the French had something effective to say about the outcome of one of the three championships decided today. Henri Cochet and Jacques Brugnon by able generalship on the court and hard stroking, won a brilliant victory over Vincent Richards and Howard Kinsey, of the United States. The score was 7-5, 4-6, 6-3, 6-2.

The matches were played before packed stands, brilliant with the bright hued coloring of feminine summer attire and numerous representatives of the nobility, who occupied the boxes, although royalty was not represented.

Mlle. Lenglen appeared in the picture as a spectator and saw the defeat of her colorful Spanish rival by England's ranking woman player, whom Suzanne herself has frequently downed.

Steady Game

Mrs. Godfree played a steady and careful game, and in addition the Spanish girl lost numerous points by driving many fairly easy balls beyond the base line. Senorita de Alzarez was somewhat disconcerted by Mrs. Godfree's soft returns, which considerably slowed the Spanish star's game. Her defeat in the first set caused her to change her baseline tactics and go to the net at the opening of the second set. In that way she took three straight games.

Mrs. Godfree came up to the net for the first time during the fourth game in this set and made several volley placements which seemed to worry the Senorita into taking more chances. This gave the English player many points for almost every time the Spaniard left the court uncovered Mrs. Godfree drove placements, scoring several on deep drives to the Senorita's blind corner, within a few inches of the baseline.

French men Win Doubles

Where Richards and Kinsey had hoped to get in points in the doubles with their effective network, it was the Frenchmen who really did this by beating them to the net and refusing to give ground, even in the face of Kinsey's drop shots, which now and then went through safely, or Richards cross-court drives.

Mrs Godfree fresh from her triumph over Senorita De Alvarez earlier in the day proved the star also in the mixed doubles event. Time and again she met Kinsey's chop drops at the net to volley a placement return

Miss Browne got in several pretty lobs that fell neatly a few inches inside the baseline, but failed to drive the Godfrees away from the net, which they played close, following the lead of the Frenchmen in the men's doubles.

TORONTO SPLITS DOUBLE HEADER

Loses First Game By 6-5 To Rochester—Wins Second 11-2.

HURLERS' DUELS.

NEW YORK, July 5 (Canadian Press). — Toronto and Rochester broke even in a double header at Rochester yesterday, the Leafs winning the second game 11 to 2, after losing the first by 6 to 5.

Jersey City and Baltimore split a holiday bill yesterday at Baltimore, the Orioles taking the first, 9 to 2, and the second, the Skeeters won 4 to 3. Brame was no puzzle to the Birds in the first session, but Manners let them down with but three hits in the closing fray. One of the three was a home run by Pinch Hitter McKee in the last inning. It was his second circuit clout of the day.

At Syracuse, the home team battered four Buffalo pitchers for 17 solid slams, and took the first game of the series by 15 to 9.

Charlie High hit home runs on successive turns at bat in the third and fifth innings and on his next trip missed a third only by inches.

Ed. Tomlin bested Andy Chambers in a hurlers' duel at Reading; Newark made a clean sweep of the series, 3 to 2. Wright hit a homer over the left field fence.

Diamond Disputes Decided by BILLY EVANS

How must a runner who has reached first base in safety turn in retracing his steps to that bag?

There are no limitations as to how a runner must turn after reaching first in order to be exempt from being put out. He can turn to right or left, in fair or foul territory, without endangering his safety.

The only restriction placed on such a runner that will remove his exemption from being put out is that he make no effort to advance in the direction of second base.

The moment a runner makes such a move, he renders himself liable to being retired and must properly protect himself against that possibility.

...WEIGHT BOXING CROWN ...PASSES TO SHEIK OF ROCKFORD

... Title Holder, Rocky Kansas, Outpointed and Outfalled By Youthful Opponent — Loser and His Manager Disappointed By Verdict.

FIRST LEGALIZED BOUT IN CHICAGO.

CHICAGO, July 5 (Canadian Press)—In a downpour of rain and with 15,000 spectators in attendance, Youthful Sammy Mendell, the sheik of Rockford, Ills., won the world's lightweight championship Saturday. He was awarded a referee's decision over the grizzled Rocky Kansas, of Buffalo, the titleholder, after a ten round contest in an open air arena signalizing the opening of legalized boxing in Chicago.

Mandell, in the opinion of the experts at the ringside, on from six to eight of the rounds, by outboxing and out-generaling the veteran title holder. When ... ranged at the finish of th... Phil Collins ...

As the fight progressed Kansas evidently realized that he was running second and made a desperate attempt in the ninth and tenth rounds to land a finishing blow. The elusive Mendell however, maintained his lead and kept shooting his left into Kansas' reddened face always keeping him off balance and never letting him get set.

Disappointed at Decision

The felt padding and its canvas covering were rain-soaked, making the footing heavy and slippery. Kansas and his manager, Dan Rogers, were bitterly disappointed at the decision, the first under the new Illinois fight law. The worst they could have received, they said, was a draw, because of the conditions under which the contest was decided, and the fact that Kansas carried the fight to his opponent.

Eddie Kane, Mandell's manager, promised that the new title-holder would be a fighting champion, meeting any logical contender after the Rockford sheik returns from a honeymoon next week. Mandell will be wedded to a boyhood sweetheart.

Winning the championship, it was found today, resulted in a personal cost of approximately $14,000 to Mandell and his manager, Eddie Kane. STORM CLOSES GAME IN SIXTH Contest Between New York and Washington Ends 4 All.

DETROIT BEATEN.

NEW YORK, July 5 (Canadian Press).—Chicago and St. Louis won their games in the American League on Sunday, while the contest between New York and Washington at the Capital was halted at the end of the sixth by a storm. The score was tied, 4 all. Only three games were scheduled.

Glard had a trifle the better of a southpaw's pitching battle with Shaute, and St. Louis defeated Cleveland, 2 to 1. Cleveland's only run was scored in the first inning on a pass to Speaker and Burn's 35th two-base hit of the season. Shaute, a puzzle for five inning, weakened slightly in the sixth and eighth, allowing enough runs to lose.

At Detroit, Wells, the big gun of the Tigers pitching staff, celebrated the 4th of July, by blowing up in the first inning and Chicago took a commanding lead which Detroit never threatened. The score was 7 to 2.

Faber kept twelve Detroit hits scattered, while the White Sox bunched theirs in the first and seventh innings for six of their runs.

RICKARD SOUNDS CALL TO TUNNEY

Advises Him To Get Into Training For Bout With Dempsey.

Another step toward the consummation of the Dempsey-Tunney meeting for the heavyweight championship was taken Saturday by Tex Rickard when he wired Gene Tunney, the challenger, at Hollywood, Cal., instructing him to begin training for Dempsey and to be in New York not later than July 15. At the same time it became known that Dempsey, who has been travelling in Nevada, Utah and Colorado, will be in New York around the first of August.

No information was forthcoming as to where Dempsey is going to train. In this regard, however, it was mentioned that Dempsey having no license to box in this State cannot train here and charge an admission fee—intimating that Dempsey will not train in New York.

The possibility of several good bouts in the near future was discussed as a result of two happenings at the Garden. The first was the rumor that Jimmy Slattery, Buffalo youngster, would meet Bob Sage in a star ten-round bout at the Garden next Saturday. The other happening was the appearance of Harry Persson, the Swedish heavyweight, at the Garden.

Persson met Rickard, chatted with him, was photographed with him and then decided he would fight for him. It is expected that the big Swede, he stands about 6 feet 3 inches and weighs 195, will be seen in action in about six weeks. Persson will probably be matched with Monte Munn, Napoleon Dorval, Jack De Mave or some other likely opponent.

7 INNINGS GAME WON BY BETHANY

Heavy Hitting By Winners and Errors By Millbrook Decided Issue.

BETHANY, July 5.—One of the outstanding games of the season took place in Bethany on Friday, July 2. The Bethany Seniors defeated Millbrook 18 to 2. The game went seven innings. It was featured by heavy hitting by Bethany and errors on the part of the losers. Millbrook used three pitchers and Bethany two. After losing the first game in Millbrook that team decided to break in a new outfit. Accordingly they appeared with four new men.

Ross Edmonds started for Millbrook and Bethany hammered out seven runs off him in the first inning. That decided the game. Ed. Hutchinson was rushed into the box and he got by nicely for one inning but Ray Staples started the next by slamming out the largest hit of the game, a three bagger, into the southwest corner of the field, after the bases had been fully occupied Bruce Ryley drove in Staples with a nice double to centre. Edmonds retired in favor of Waliy Sayles.

Sayles finished the game and was always in trouble. The Millbrook fielders did not support their pitchers as well as usual.

Ryley on the slab for Bethany turned in a masterly game and went five innings, allowing one hit. In one inning he struck out three men. At the end of the fifth he retired to save his arm which was not in the best of condition. R. Staples finished the game, allowing one more run. Neither of the runs were earned. The best catch of the game was made by C. Sisson, a running catch back of second.

Umpires for the game.—C. Commisky on strikes, and A. McCorry on the bases. Both gave satisfaction. Line-ups:

Bethany.—W. Reynolds, c; B. Ryley, p; R. Dawe, 1b; R. Staples, p, 2b; C. Sisson, ss; A. Armstrong, 3b; T. Staples, W. Price and H. Johnson, fielders.

ESTABLISHED LEAD IN FOURTH INNING

Exhibition Game Ended in Favor of Belleville Senior Team.

MARMORA, July 5—In an exhibition game with Belleville senior team on Thursday, Deloro suffered defeat by 10-5. Jack Shea pitched throughout for the Smelters and gave of his best. A series of errors in the Deloro in field with superior hitting by Belleville decided the game in the senior team's favour. Belleville used Oulette, Goyer and Gibson as pitchers and established a lead at the fourth innings which was not seriously threatened afterwards. Score by innings:

Deloro	300	000	002—	5	5	5
Belleville	001	300	420—	10	12	1

Umpires — Kerr of Deloro on bases; Collins of Belleville on plate.

TO FIGHT HARD FOR THIRD GAME

Raybestos and Crescents Meet Again at Exhibition Park To-morrow Night.

Raybestos and Crescents go at it again at Exhibition Park to-morrow evening in the third game of the City Intermediate series. The two contests played in which the teams broke even, indicated keen rivalry, and they will be fighting hard to get the edge on the series. Wood will likely be sent back against the Crescents and Masterson will hurl against Raybestos.

The fans are being treated to some high-class twirling and good fielding in this series and the attendance promises to reach a high mark to-morrow night.

Moviegraphs

Hollywood — Technical apparatus, adapted to theatrical purposes, has finally caught up sufficiently with the outstripping imagination of Jules Verne to depict his fantastic "Mysterious Island," written many decades ago, and his "Twenty Thousand Leagues Under the Sea," which are to be combined in a grand romantic spectacle.

The production, estimated to cost $600,000, will be a Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer special under Maurice Tourneur's direction, in collaboration with J. E. Williamson; whose submarine filming device will be used.

Elaborate precautions are being taken to safeguard the actors who will descend many fathoms into the sea, where color photography will record a submarine wreck, a battle with an octopus and other dramatic climaxes. Honolulu and the Bahamas are selected as locale because of translucent seas at these places.

Divers Ready.

Professional divers are to be assigned to members of the cast, stationed just outside the camera range, to assist players if water pressure or panic should indicate peril. Only diving head pieces, without air lines or life lines are to be used—a new type which will entirely cut off the immersed actor from surface contact.

Prospective players are being given rigid compressed air tests. It will take strong physique as well as steady nerve to descend 50 feet under the ocean and there enact a play which will demand at least an appearance of self-confidence.

Lionel Barrymore will portray "Captain Nemo," inventor of the subsea craft by which Jules Verne mentally anticipated by many years the first practical submarine. Others already selected are Warner Oland, Karl Dane and Chester Conklin.

Finding a Woman.

At this writing no woman has been found who had both the courage and the romantic attributes necessary for the heroine. Verne was extremely chary of romance, and this element had to be interlarded with the adventurous exploits which it is hoped can be more or less faithfully represented.

The "Mysterious Island," as it now is, ready for filming after a year of preparation, presents a magnificent, fantastic adventure, and undertakes a subsea photoplay entirely beyond anything hitherto attempted in this medium. Tourneur's production of "Twenty Thousand Leagues Under the Sea," 12 years ago, and his more recent "Isle of Lost Ships," both of which had submarine sequences, were by way of preparation for his present task.

THEATRE

AT THE REGENT

LIFE OF THEATRE WORLD REVEALED.

Drama of the Private Life of Three Show Girls Theme of New Photoplay.

What sort of girls are show girls? The mask they are presenting from back of the footlights show bewitching eyes, alluring smiles and captivating mouths. But that is the mask of the show girl.

They have generally been assembled into one group of glittering artificial beauty by the observer who never looks back stage.

Edmund Goulding, in bringing "Sally, Irene and Mary" to the screen for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, gives a glimpse of what is back of the mask. This picture is now playing at the Regent Theatre.

The three girls in the story are each of a distinct personality, each leading widely different sort of lives when away from the theatre.

Sally is played by Constance Bennett.

Irene is enacted by Joan Crawford.

Mary is portrayed by Sally O'Neil.

The story is adapted and scenarized by Edmund Goulding from Edward Dowling's popular stage play.

Edmund Goulding's selection for directing the film was a happy one as he is thoroughly acquainted with back-stage life through his many years' association with the theatre both as an actor and an author, being the collaborator on last season's New York success, "Dancing

HELPFUL HINTS GOLFING STARS

BY SPECIAL ARRANGEMENT WITH GOLFERS MAGAZINE, CHICAGO

GEORGE DUNCAN—IMPORTANCE OF WAGGLE.

The waggle is a very important part of the golf stroke and it is a firm belief of mine that as you waggle, so you swing.

To begin with, the wrist-work should be free and easy and the grip firm. When you address the ball—I assume the overlapping grip—the pad at the base of your right thumb should be pressed firmly against your left thumb which is down the shaft. There it ought to stay throughout the swing. If you keep your hands well together in the waggle, it will make it much easier for you to do so in the swing. Many golfers have the habit of partially opening the right hand without being conscious of it.

There is another point that needs watching. In the course of the swing the golfer's body should take up no more than the space it occupied at the time of the address. The same thing applies to the waggle. Perhaps no one attains this ideal, but there should be no superfluous body movement.

SECRETS of STARS in INSIDE BASEBALL

as told to BILLY EVANS

BY GROVER ALEXANDER.

Control can be acquired. No matter how wild a pitcher may be he can correct the fault if he goes about it in the proper way.

Few pitchers warm up properly. With most of them it is merely playing catch. The main thought with them is to simply limber up the muscles. No effort is made to concentrate on their pitching.

When I warm up prior to starting a ball game I pay as much attention to my pitching as I do in actual competition. I try to put some thought back of every ball pitched.

As I work out with my catcher I draw on my imagination and figure such and such a player is up with a couple of runners on the bases. How will I pitch to him? I recall that he doesn't like a low curve ball and has a tendency to hug the plate.

The first ball I pitch to him is a fast one on the inside, shoulder or chin high. This pitch has plenty of speed on it and is designed to drive the batter away.

Then I go back to the low curve, figuring the fast one on the inside has driven the batsman back a trifle, making it harder than ever for him to hit a curve ball.

I throw perhaps a half dozen curves in succession and make an effort to get them all at the same spot, the batter's weakness.

As a matter of fact, I go down the batting order of the opposing club as I know it and make an effort to pitch to the weakness of every player who will probably face me during the afternoon.

This is the only way to acquire control, the only proper way to warm up. The pitcher should have a definite objective on each ball pitched.

BILLY EVANS Says

Another Mistake.

Once upon a time a certain manager tried to make an infielder out of the great Christy Mathewson, one of the most remarkable pitchers in the history of the game.

That is merely told as preface to the story of Fred Lucas, pitching sensation of the Cincinnati Reds.

Two years ago, while looking over the Boston Braves in spring training, I observed a young man by the name of Lucas cavorting around second base.

I was told that Lucas was a reformed pitcher who could hit and he was being converted into a second baseman with the best of results.

It didn't seem at the time if Lucas was destined to rival Eddie Collins as a fielder.

Does a Comeback.

When the season opened Lucas highly touted as a second sacker in the spring, was not in the lineup. Evidently his pitching didn't impress, because he was soon shipped to Seattle in the Pacific Coast League.

At Seattle he pitched with success and because of his ability to hit was used as emergency outfielder. He finished the season with a batting average close to .400.

This spring we find Lucas back in the big show as a member of the Cincinnati Reds.

Of the first 13 games won by Cincinnati, he captured four of his first five starts and, used as a pinch-hitter, really had another to his credit by coming through with a timely swat.

And still they once tried to make a second baseman out of Pitcher Lucas. That also goes for Christy Mathewson.

Mack Explains.

Proper temperament, as well as unusual managerial ability, explains the remarkable success that has been the portion of Connie Mack.

Connie is an optimist. He can always see a silver lining to the darkest situation.

Picked to be a pennant-contender from the start, the first month was a most disappointing one for the Mackmen and found them resting in the second division.

Meeting the club for the first time with an average around .500, I made inquiries as to the failure of the team to show against the eastern opposition.

"Haven't a single kick to register about the play of the team," remarked Connie.

"The pitching was uniformly good; the team played smart baseball; the fighting spirit was always there, but we just couldn't win for the lack of a timely base hit.

"Really we should have won the first seven games we lost. In every game there were from one to three chances where a base hit would have turned defeat into victory.

"That is why I am not worrying, still positive my club will be a strong pennant-contender."

McGraw's Record.

Noted the other day where John McGraw has signed a new three-year contract to manage the Giants.

That will set to rest all rumors that McGraw intended to retire. The supposition was that he was grooming Hughey Jennings for the job. It is possible that the serious illness of Hughey caused McGraw to change his plans.

This is McGraw's twenty-fourth year as manager of the New York Giants. During that time he has won 10 pennants. In this respect Connie Mack, with six wins for Philadelphia, is his closest rival. He is also the only manager to have won four pennants in either the National or American.

The best compliment I ever heard McGraw paid is the estimate rival managers in the National League have on his value to his club as bench manager. Just 25 per cent more efficient is the way they rate the Giants

Diamond Disputes Decided

by BILLY EVANS

Would it be possible for a runner to advance more than one base on a pitched ball that struck the grandstand which is less than 90 feet from the home plate?

The rule on this play is now very specific. It entitles the baserunner to advance one base.

Certain leagues, aside from granting the runner the one base to which he was entitled, used to permit the runner or runners to advance further at their own peril.

The new ruling on this play is very definite, as it makes the play dead the moment it comes into contact with a fence or building that is less than 90 feet from the home plate.

Now a baserunner can get one base on such a happening but no more. This was a good change, since play is suspended the moment the ball comes into contact with the stand, the catcher realizing that he no longer need give any thought as to the runners.

UNIONS DEMAND THAT SECRETARY RESIGN OFFICE

Six Great Branches of Railwaymen Attack J. H. Thomas.

ANNUAL MEETING.

President Dobbie Describes Premier as a Dangerous Hypocrite.

WEYMOUTH, Eng., July 5. — (United Press.) — Representatives of the National Union of Railwaymen, one of the best organized trade unions in the world, met here today in an annual meeting which may develop into the most important in the organization's history.

J. H. Thomas, secretary of the Union, was to defend himself from attacks arising from the terms the railwaymen were compelled to accept at the conclusion of the recent general strike.

Six branches of the union, including the large Glasgow, Manchester and Paddington branches, have already demanded Thomas' resignation but Thomas is expected to come out of the battle retaining his job.

President Dobbie, in his annual address, described Premier Baldwin as a "dangerous hyocrite." Since the last meeting," Dobbie said, "we have passed through the most critical year in the history of the trade union movement, The general strike has come and gone and my prophecy of a year ago that the employers were preparing to attack the workers in general and the railwaymen in particular, has been proved true."

London Follows Queen Wears Big Picture Hats

LONDON, July 5 (United News) —Queen Mary, abandoning the coal bucket type of hat to which she had been faithful for years, started a rush for wide brimmed hats when she appeared at the Ascot race meeting in a series of smart picture hats.

The shops are overwhelmed and overjoyed by the demand. Few of the recently fashionable small hats are seen among society women. But with the shingle still prevalent it is unlikely that the vogue will outlast the summer season.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., July 5.—((Canadian Press). — Indianapolis street railway employees, who are members of the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employees, went on strike here to-day for higher wages. COAL IN ONTARIO.

Wide Seams of Bituminous Coal Found Near James Bay.

LONDON, Ont., July 5 (Canadian Press).—The existence of a coal area at least 50 miles in extent, containing wide seams of a better grade soft coal similar to Alberta bituminous with which this province is already familiar, has just ben established fifty miles north of the transcontinental line of the C.N.R. on the James Bay slope, according to information brought here to-day by Professor J. W. Russell, well known authority, who has just returned from the north to the summer school at the University of Western Ontario.

IN POLICE COURT.

A week-end visitor from Toronto, and an unwilling one, judging from his story, graced the dock in court this morning on a charge of being intoxicated in a public place. The accused pleaded guilty, but claimed that he could remember nothing from the time he took a couple of drinks in the west end of Toronto until he woke up in a cell at the Peterborough police station with a couple of guardian policemen keeping watch over him. Chief of Police Newhall asked the accused if he knew anything about a coupe bearing a Toronto license number 1-650 which was found on Weller Street yesterday, shortly before his arrest, but the accused maintained that he knew nothing about the car and stated that he could not drive that particular make. He did not remember sleeping on the grounds of a church with his feet out over the sidewalk despite the fact that the constable who made the arrest said he found him there.

He was fined $40 and costs.

An erstwhile resident of the city, but now residing in Toronto, pleaded guilty to three charges of obtaining money by false pretences from three local merchants. The accused had been in the employ of a bank while here but had since been discharged. He was remanded until to-night that he might make good his promise to make full restitution to his victims.

Here are the three bosses of the St. Louis Cardinals, or, if you prefer, Manager Hornsby and his two assistants, Otto Williams and Bill Killefer.

Hornsby entered the managerial ranks last summer, turning the Cards into a winning combination. With several months' experience behind him, Rog has high hopes of getting his club into an even loftier position this year.

Williams was one of Ty Cobb's right-hand men with Detroit in 1925. Killefer, you'll remember as former catcher for the Phillies and Cubs and more recently manager of the latter team.

OTTAWA REPORT.

OTTAWA, July 5 (Canadian Press).—There is a report here that the appointment to the Senate of Dr. Wilfrid L. McDougald, former chairman of the Board of Harbor Commissioners in Montreal, will be questioned. According to this report, Dr. McDougald was appointed by the Right Hon. The question which has arisen is whether Mr. Lapointe had authority to sign the certificate and commission the appointment.

ADDRESSES ROTARY.

W. S. CAMPBELL,
Of Toronto, formerly of Peterborough, who spoke to-day on Transportation and Commerce.

TRANSPORTATION IS SUBJECT OF ROTARY ADDRESS

W. S. Campbell Speaks on Developments Made in Past Century.

CARNIVAL PLANS.

Men To Take Charge on Various Nights Are Chosen.

At the Rotary luncheon to-day the plans for the carnival were discussed. To-night at seven o'clock the carnival is to be opened by a big parade, which will start from the Central Park, headed by a band. To-morrow afternoon is for the children—all children will be let in free.

Harry Lottbridge, the manager of the shows, was present, and introduced to the Rotarians.

A big crowd is expected for each performance and the members of the club have each been allotted an afternoon and evening to see that everything comes off all right.

Development of Transportation and Commerce was the subject of W. S. Campbell, manager of the Transportation and Customs Department of the Canadian General Electric, in addressing the club.

Mr. Campbell was introduced by R. M. Glover, who told how Mr. Campbell, who formerly was a resident of Peterboro, started the young men's guild at St. Andrew's Church, which was really the first Rotary Club of this city, as its motto was the same.

It is one of the common failures that in most countries the average citizen takes very little interest in politics, said Mr. Campbell, but he was glad to know that it was part of the Rotary and other clubs' mottoes, to get the average citizen to take more interest in the political life of his country. This is a rich country so is it not demanded of each citizen to take a deeper interest in developing these riches?

Learn from Elders.

"We to-day learn most from older people," he said. The same is true of nations. They learn from older nations, and as the United States is the oldest country on this continent it is to this country we look, so we may benefit from her failures. It happens that at the present time the United States is celebrating a century of transportation for it is about 100 years since any real effort was made in that country along the lines of transportation, for in 1830, the first American steam locomotive was built. This locomotive would haul only a few cars. To-day engines are being built which will haul 500 box cars on the level.

"This huge improvement is due to the free intercourse with other nations and peoples and transportation has been the cause of it. It develops the unbeaten paths, for it is only 39 years since the first all-Canadian transcontinental train reached Vancouver. The engine burned wood, and the date was the 23rd of May, 1887," said Mr. Campbell.

Progress in Canada.

"Learning from the experience of other nations, it is only natural that Canada should make much greater progress than other nations," said the speaker. "We have good engineers at present, and have had, and it would not be fitting if I did not refer to Lord Mount Stephen and Sir William Van Horne, two men who were foremost in developing Canada's transportation There are three things which a country needs for development: railroads, live industries and natural resources, which includes agriculture.

"Since 1900," he continued, "Western Canada has passed through a wonderful development; then there were 3,716 miles of track; to-day there are 16,000 miles. Cities, industries and everything that makes up a country have developed likewise. This cannot all be attributed to the railways, for behind them has to be the citizens.

"There never was a time," said the speaker, "when the railways of the country were managed as economically. As for industries, at the present time their business has increased with a decreased capital because the railroads move the raw and manufactured material much more quickly now than a few years ago.

'The gross earnings of the railway is the value of that railway to this country to-day, so to-day engines are being made which will be operated more cheaply," said the speaker. "This form of locomotive burns crude oil, which develops power to run a generator which drives small motors on the axles. One of these locomotives went 837 miles and the fuel cost of operating this 60 ton locomotive was $12.40. A 100 ton locomotive hauled 5 box cars, one passenger car and one caboose, which made a total train weight of 377 tons, 537 miles, without taking on fuel or water, at a cost of $26.15.

"It has been figured out that in the case of the railways in the United States the gross earnings of 70 days in the year goes for the purchase of material and supplies, 27 days for fuel, 24 days for operating expenses, 21 days for taxes, 41 days for interest and rentals, 19 days to the shareholders in dividends and 6 days for the betterment of the line. This brings to the minds of people the status of the railway with commerce and one cannot help seeing that the two must work together and that if every citizen will play his part it will be by the service which the railways render that the progress of our country will be measured."

The former opened unchanged and then closed at six for a net gain of 1 cent per share. The latter continued its strength of the past fortnight and after opening unchanged, advanced 3 1-2 points to close at 63. Gains were also made by Barry Holly, up 1-4 at 47 3-4, and Kirkland Lake, up 2 cents per share at 1.03.

Three of the Silvers showed strength. Beaver was the most active, 3 1-2 higher at 80 1-2. Canadian Lorrain gained 1 point at 92, and Lakeside Lorrain the same at 4 cents per share. Amulet was 1 higher at 1.30, Noranda 5 cents at 15.25, and the Petrol Oil 1-2 at 9 1-2.

ST. LUKE'S JUBILEE.

The celebrations of the golden jubilee anniversary of St. Luke's Anglican Church ended yesterday with large congregations at both morning and evening services, when inspirational and interesting sermons were preached by Rev. Canon Sawers of Toronto, speaking at the morning service, and Rev. T. J. O'Conor-Fenton, Rural Dean, of Norwood, in the evening. Archdeacon Davidson of Toronto and Rev. R. C. Blagrave, D.D., of St. John's Church, were also present in the evening.

ST. PETER'S CATHEDRAL

Yesterday morning saw inauguration of the annual change to Low Mass at half past ten o'clock at St. Peter's Cathedral, the change having effect in the months of July and August. His Lordship, Bishop O'Brien also announced the commencement this morning of the annaual retreat for the priests of the diocese, at St. Augustine's Seminary, Toronto.

His Lordship spoke on the feeding of the multitude in the wilderness, emphasizing the miracle of Christ in this regard as a pre-figuration of the feeding of Christian souls by the Blessed Eucharist, the great central dogma of the Catholic church.

"Our church would no longer be the home of God if the Blessed Eucharist were taken away. The precious fruits of the redemption of souls by Christ on Calvary's heights would be lost without the Sacrifice of the Mass. The martyrs of the early church found their inspiration nowhere else than in the Blessed Eucharist, for, "He that eateth Me, the same shall live by Me, and such an one I will raise up on the last day." That the Church has the power of consecration we believe from the words of our Divine Lord: "Do this in commemoration of Me," and the same Saviour who commands us to do this, tells us that if we receive Him, we shall also live by Him. There then is the promise of final perseverance and the guarantee of future happiness for those who adore Christ in the Blessed Sacrament."

His Lordship went on to speak of the inspiring ceremonies of the recent Eucharistic Congress, with its marvellous professions of public faith in the Real Presence. At one of the services of adoration, he said, "There were no special preachers and no special music or prayers. These people met in silence and in prayer, to watch with Our Lord, as He asked his disciples to do on the night before He died."

"There is a reason why the deliberations of men often come to naught and why Peace Conferences have no lasting fruits. It is because they are not ruled by God. There is no room for injustice and selfishness in God's law. The supremacy of God is being challenged everywhere to-day, just as parental authority is being challenged by the growing youth of the nation. We cannot challenge God's law ruthlessly, without paying the price, either now or in eternity."

ADAMSON—In loving memory of Mrs. John Adamson who passed away July 5th, 1925.
One precious to our hearts has gone,
The voice we loved is stilled,
The place made vacant in the home

Our Father in His wisdom called
The boon His love has given
And though in earth the body lies
Her soul is safe in heaven.

The new bathing house at Inverlea Park has been completed and is now being taxed to capacity by the frequenters of the popular bathing beach.

The whole structure is a decided addition to the park and presents a combination of the artistic and sturdiness that reflects much credit on the contractor, Fred Dummitt, who supervised its construction.

CAILLAUX SAYS FRANCE MUST PAY HER DEBTS

Tells Chamber of Deputies Franc Must Be Stabilized.

CREDITS NEEDED.

Further Inflation Inevitable If This Is Not Done, He Says.

PARIS, July 6.— (Canadian Press.)—Finance Minister Caillaux to-day demanded of the Chamber of Deputies full powers for the government to issue decrees to solve the financial situation.

The deputies were told that they would have to renounce for the time being the discussion of measures for renovating the country's finances and turn the task over to ministry.

Caillaux categorically declared that the Government must be authorized to proceed by decree to effect economies, apply restrictions in consumption, and arrange the details of a scheme for stabilizing the franc.

This must be done secretly, he asserted, in order to succeed.

The finance minister, outlining the financial situation in France in his first appearance before the Chamber of Deputies since the creation of the tenth Briand ministry, was extremely discreet with reference to the question of French debts.

Further inflation was inevitable, Finance Minister Caillaux told the Chamber, unless the financial situation were altered. To this end he declared, the stabilization of the Franc was absolutely necessary. He asserted that this would mean the necessity of obtaining credits abroad and to secure these credits France must settle her foreign debts.

LARKIN CELEBRATES INDEPENDENCE DAY

Dr. Butler Says Declaration Was Expression of English Ideals.

LONDON, July 6 (Canadian Press) — P. C. Larkin, Canadian High Commissioner, was among the guests at a dinner given in celebration of the 150th anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence by the American Society of London last night.

Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia University, responding to the toast, "The Day We Celebrate," said that the declaration of independence was important not only to the United States but also to the British Commonwealth of nations, and the whole world. "No loyal Englishman of this day and generation," he declared, "need look upon the declaration with anything but satisfaction, for it records in stately fashion a great accomplishment of English tradition, English conviction and English ideals."

Dominions' Office Places List of Suggested Nominees Before Premier, Is Statement Made Yesterday By Evening Standard.

NOT BOUND TO ACCEPT ANYONE FULL LIBERTY OF SELECTION

Lord Willingdon, Says Report, Was Independent Choice of Rt. Hon. W. L. MacKenzie King, and Name Was Not First Brought Forward By Home Government.

LONDON, July 6 (Canadian Press).—The Evening Standard in an editorial yesterday makes the point that governors-general of Canada are in effect selected by the Dominion, which agrees with the statements of The Times in commenting on the Canadian political developments The Dominion's office submits names to the Dominion Premier, although the latter is not even bound to accept one of these names, The Standard continues.

Viscount Willingdon, The Standard says, was not on the list submitted by the Dominions' secretary, but was brought from outside by Rt. Hon. Mackenzie King.

The Standard adds: 'There is, we hope, no truth in the suggestion that Hon. L. C. Amery, secretary for the Dominions, influenced Lord Byng's decision on dissolution. This suggestion was certainly circulating here over the week-end, although not the slightest tangible foundation for the same has transpired.'

MECHANIC HURT FLIGHT HELD UP

England To Australia Round Trip Delayed By Accident.

AT BASRA.

BASRA, Iraq, July 6 (United Press).—Allan Cobham, British aviator, arrived here to-day after a 100 miles race for the life of his mechanic, A. B. Elliott, who was severely injured when a gasoline feed pipe burst while the plane was flying low above the swamps between Bagdad and Bushire. The sun's heat is believed to have caused the pipe to burst.

Cobham had brought his plane near the ground to avoid a sandstorm which was swirling through the higher air.

The two airmen were en route on a round trip flight from Rochester, England, to Melbourne, Australia, a distance as they had routed it of about 26,000 miles. They left England on June 30th in the De Haviland 385 horse-power plane in which they had recently completed the Cairo-to-Capetown flight.

Elliott was place in a hospital here.

In Sandstorm

LONDON (United Press).—Allan Cobham today cabled The Evening News the story of the accident in which his mechanic, A. B. Elliott, was injured.

"We were flying low in a terrific sandstorm where there was a loud explosion from the cabin," Cobham cabled.

"I shut off the engine and shouted

U. S. Expedition Discovers Traces Of Pigmy Peoples

BERKELEY, Cal., July 6. — (Canadian Press). — A Smithsonian Institution expedition, which is making airplane flights over the remote sections of New Guinea, to trace a race of pygmies, has discovered camp fires, villa clearings and other evidence of the existence of the diminutive people.

The first airplane over the territory under exploration discovered many small clearings, apparently village sites, and the smoke of many small fires was observed rising from the thick undergrowth which covers the country.

GERMAN FLOODS BECOME WORSE

Large Parts of Berlin Are Inundated—Crops Destroyed.

TRAINS ARE STOPPED.

BERLIN, July 6.— (Associated Press.) — Violent thunder storms, cloudbursts and accompanying floods continue throughout the country. The western periphery of Berlin was inundated yesterday afternoon, and fire brigades were kept busy aiding refugees and pumping out the cellars of apartments and houses located on the lower level.

The principal thoroughfares of Berlin's eastern suburbs are entirely under water and traffic is completely suspended. For hours the electric power station at Spandrau was without current. A large area in the Lebus district, Province of Brandenburg, is flooded and about 1,500 acres of harvest has been destroyed. The railway line between Leipsic and Madgeburg was interrupted for hours because of the undermining of a railway embankment.

Man Has Narrow Escape When Boat Catches Fire

BROCKVILLE, Ont., July 6 (Canadian Press):—W. C. Simpson had a narrow escape from serious injury or possible death when a motor boat which he was driving caught fire between Hillcrest and Lilybay, as the result of the engine back-firing. Simpson was able to paddle the burning boat, which was making its first trip of the season, to a neighboring island, and escaped with only slight burns about the arms. The boat, which was totally consumed, is valued at $2,000, and was the property of Antoine Windling.

ALDERMAN PHELAN APPOINTED ACTING MAYOR BY CITY COUNCIL DURING DR. HOLLOWAY'S ILLNESS

Alderman J. M. Greene Becomes Chirman Pro-tem of Finance Committee.

ROUTINE BUSINESS.

Request For Change in Date of Civic Holiday Referred To Finance Committee.

With Alderman Nagle E. Phelan acting as mayor, due to the absence of His Worship, Mayor W. T. Holloway from illness, the City Council at its June session transacted a great deal of routine work. With the appointment of Alderman Phelan to act as Mayor, it became necessary to appoint Alderman J. M. Greene temporary chairman of the finance committee in place of Alderman Phelan, so that there might be three signatures on any checks issued.

The business of the fire department was the cause of more discussion than any other division of municipal activities. The matter of the Abramson-Gimblett dispute was referred to the Fire, Water and Light committee, which will hear the cases of both parties, with any witnesses they wish to bring. Morris Abramson attended last night's meeting and said that he had asked the chief if anything could be done to bring his little son out of the smoke filled apartments. He had been repulsed, he said, with improper language and pushed backwards. Losing his balance he gripped the chief's coat and tore it in an endeavour to keep from falling. He said that he wanted an apology and to see that such treatment was not accorded others.

The case of Assistant Fire Chief James Ward was also referred to the committee after a letter from Mr. Ward had been read. The former assistant chief set forth his long service with the department and his diesire to continue therein. He said that his resignation had been desired and worked for and drew a parallel between the despotism existing in France in the reign of Louis XIV and that which he said exists in the local fire department. In conclusion he appealed for the square deal to which he was entitled under British fair play.

The report of Fire Chief Gimblett referred to his resignation and said that a new fireman had been engaged but made no mention of any promotion.

JURY MEETS TO-DAY.

LOS ANGELES, Calif., July 6 (Canadian Press).—A mass of evidence awaited the county grand jury as it met to-day to resume its investigation of the Aimee Semple McPherson case.

Effect of Dissolution Identical With Results That Would Have Taken Place Had Mackenzie King's Request Been Granted By Byng, Maintains Meighen's Lieutenant.

QUOTES LETTERS FROM HIGH OFFICIALS APPOINTED BY LATE ADMINISTRATION

Clerk of Privy Council Gives Opinion That It Is Not Customary For Ministers Without Portfolio To Be Sworn When Temporarily Heading a Department.

OTTAWA, July 5 (Canadian Press).—"As respects the complaint by the Right Hon. Mr. Mackenzie King about the manner of dissolution of Parliament, it may be stated that the forms and procedure used followed precisely the same as those prepared and proposed by Mr. King himself just four days previously, when he himself sought dissolution of parliament."

This declaration is made in a statement issued late yesterday by Hon. Hugh Guthrie, acting Minister of Justice.

"The effect of the dissolution on pending legislation and supplies was precisely the same as would have been the effect had Mr. King secured a dissolution on the previous Monday," continues Mr. Guthrie.

"All the steps taken by the Right Hon. Mr. Meighen after he had been summoned by His Excellency the Governor-General were in strict accord with the established precedents and forms in the office of the Privy Council of Canada," states Mr Guthrie. "There was not the slightest variation in the established custom in this respect. The appointment of acting ministers followed the plan adopted by the Right Hon. Mr. King's government, when it appointed acting ministers, without the slightest variation."

Mr. Guthrie quotes letter by E. J. Lemaire, clerk of the Privy Council and W. Stuart Edwards, Deputy Minister of Justice, giving their opinions on certain points.

"While the Government has no intention of entering into a controversy with the Right Honorable Mr. Mackenzie King upon the legal or constitutional questions which he seeks to raise with regard to the formation of the present government, or in regard to the dissolution of parliament on Friday last, it has been thought well to make a brief statement of the facts which transpired in order that the public may realize the exact situation.

No Variation

"All the steps taken by the Right Honorable Mr. Meighen after he had been summoned by His Excellency the Governor-General were in strict accordance with the established precedents and forms in the office of the Privy Council of Canada. There was not the slightest variation in the established custom in this respect.

Cases Cited

"Mr. Ernest Lemaire, Clerk of the Privy Council, conducted all formal proceedings and prepared all orders-in-council necessary to constitute the new administration in the precise manner which had been adopted in the Privy Council when the government of the Right Honorable Mr. King was formed in 1921, and when the government of the late Right Honorable Sir Wilfrid Laurier was formed in 1896. The appointment of acting ministers followed the plan adopted by the Right Honorable Mr. King's government when it appointed acting ministers without the slightest variation. Mr. Lemaire, the clerk of the Privy Council, on the 1st of July, gave the Right Honorable Mr. Meighen a letter setting forth the matter of procedure, which was read in the House of Commons on the same day; the letter is as follows:

Text of Letter

"Dear Mr. Meighen.—Replying to your inquiry on the subject of oaths taken by ministers and acting ministers, I beg to inform you that upon a member of the Privy Council being called to take a portfolio and preside over a certain department, he is required in all cases to take the oath of office. The wording of this oath, a copy of which is attached, is not prescribed by any statute, in so far as I have been able to discovered, but would seem rather to be dependent upon custom and usage.

"Regarding the appointment of acting ministers, this is generally done by order-in-council, but it has not been customary for an acting minister to subscribe to any oath and no acting minister in the past twenty-five years has been asked to do so.

"Ministers without portfolios have in several instances been called upon to temporarily preside over departments as acting ministers, but in no case, in at least the period of time mentioned above, was an oath administered to them.

"Such was the opinion which I gave you two days ago, after consulting with Mr. Kezar, the assistant clerk of the Privy Council, who has an experience of over thirty-five years in this office.

Ministers Without Portfolio.

"During the last administration three ministers without portfolio were at different times appointed as acting ministers, namely, the Honorable K. N. Macdonald, acting minister of national defence, appointed 28th April, 92; the Honorable R. Dandurand, appointed acting minister of justice, 27th of August, 1923; no oath was administered. The Honorable H. B. McGiverin, appointed acting secretary of state, 26th November, 1924. No oath was administered save that of a privy councillor. Mr. Macdonald was appointed minister of national defence on the 17th August, 1923, and was sworn in as such on the 18th of the same month, but was never sworn in as acting minister; nor was either Senator Dandurand or Mr. McGiverin. In the case of Mr. Macdonald, he was appointed as acting minister of national defence when that position was vacant, the firmer minister, the Honorable George P. Graham, having resigned as such and was appointed minister of railways and canals.

"I may also inform you that there have been other cases in the past of ministers without portfolio being appointed as acting ministers after the resignation of the regular ministers, or the post was otherwise vacant.

Yours very sincerely,
E. J. LEMAIRE.
Clerk of the Privy Council."

Deputy Minister of Justice

"Upon the second question raised by Mr. King that the ministry formed by Mr. Meighen had no authority to pass orders-in-council, the opinion of Mr. W. Stuart Edwards, deputy minister of justice, should be conclusive. Mr. Edwards' opinion is as follows:

"The Honorable Guthrie,
"Acting Minister of Justice,
"House of Commons.
July 1st, 1926.

"By Section 11 of the British North America Act it is provided that:

"There shall be a council to aid and advise in the government of Canada, to be styled the King's Privy Council for Canada; and the persons who are to be members of that council shall be from time to time chosen and summoned by the Governor-General and sworn in as Privy Councillors, and members thereof may be from time to time removed by the Governor-General.'

The Privy Council

"I understand that the Prime Minister and all the members of the present acting ministry have been at one time or another chosen and summoned by the Governor-General and sworn in as Privy Councillors and have never ceased to be members of the Privy Council. In these circumstances I am of opinion that upon their being summoned to attend meetings of the Privy Council, no oath other than that already taken is required of them.

"With regard to the question whether a meeting of members of the Privy Council, summoned upon the advice of the Prime Minister, has power to appoint acting ministers of department, I am of opinion that this question should be answered in the affirmative. It is well known principle of constitutional government in Canada that the Governor-General may act upon the advice or with the advice and consent of or in conjunction with the Privy Council of Canada or any members thereof. I know of no provision which creates any limitation upon the exercise of this power in connection with the appointment of acting ministers, and I am of the opinion that the orders-in-council appointing acting ministers of departments were validly passed and are as effective as if made upon the recommendation of any committee of council.

"W. STUART EDWARDS.
"Deputy Minister of Justice."

SPEAKING TOUR WILL BE MADE ACROSS CANADA

Mr. Meighen Expected To Open His Campaign at Ottawa.

SUPPLY BY WARRANT.

Precedent For Obtaining Money For Civil Service and Public Works.

OTTAWA, July 6. — (Canadian Press.)— Premier Arthur Meighen may fire the first gun of his campaign in Ottawa.

While the Premier's speaking itinerary has not yet been arranged, his tour, it is understood, will probably carry him from coast to coast. A number of meetings will be addressed by Mr. Meighen in the Province of Quebec, it is definitely stated.

The question of providing sufficient supply for carrying on the business of the country is, it is understood, under consideration of the Cabinet, which met this morning.

Authority to grant supply by way of a Governor-General's warrant is given under the Audit Act. Under this act, the Governor-General by way of a warrant, may when Parliament is not in session, grant supply for the civic administration and for public works.

Two precedents exist for such an action.

At the itme of the election in 1896 only a limited supply was available and a warrant was issued making the necessary provision for expenditures. Again, in 1911, this course was followed.

HISTORY MADE BY LORD BYNG SAYS GUARDIAN

Manchester Paper Says It Is Constitutional History For Empire.

NO CONSULTATION.

Governor General Had No Advice From Amery, Says Paper.

LONDON, July 6 (Canadian Press).—"I can say on the highest authority that the Hon. L. C. Amery, Secretary for the Dominions, was not consulted by Lord Byng and had nothing to do with the matter. I can say further on the highest and fullest authority that Lord Byng acted entirely on his own responsibility, and I am satisfied that the Rt. Hon. Mackenzie King, of all people, is fully aware of that fact." These statements are made by the London correspondent of The Manchester Guardian, anent a suggestion made by a London evening paper that the Dominions' Secretary influenced the Canadian Governor-General's decision regarding granting dissolution.

The Guardian adds that it cannot be denied that Lord Byng has made constitutional history. Lord Byng has made constitutional history not only for Canada, Australia and South Africa, but also for Britain, The Guardian continues.

STRUCK BY TRAIN.

House of Refuge Inmate Killed By Westbound Train.

STRATHROY, Ont., July 6.— Sam Atkinson, of the House of Refuge at Strathroy, was killed yesterday while walking on the C.N.R. right-of-way a mile and a half east of the town. He was struck by a west-bound passenger train, when he did not hear the warning sounded by the engine crew.

THE WEATHER.

The weather during the past few days has been fairly warm with much humidity, or, as the man on the farm would say, "good growing weather." Saturday was the warmest day we have had this season, the temperature going up to 87 degrees; Sunday's high point was 81, as was Monday's also. The nights still keep remarkably cool. Yesterday morning gave 45 as the lowest during the night, while this morning showed 47 degrees as the lowest. As one man remarked to me recently: "It is good sleeping weather!"—W. P.

WEDDING BELLS.

HARRIS—DAVIS.

A very quiet but pretty wedding took place in St. John's Anglican Church on Wednesday, June 16, at 2 p.m., when Elizabeth Pearl, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Davis, Ennismore, was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Grattan A. Harris of Peterboro.

The bride, who entered the church on the arm of her brother, Mr. Albert Davis, looked lovely in a gown of white silk crepe de chine, beautifully embroidered and hemstitched, and a silk bridal veil with wreath of orange blossoms caught at each side with lily of the valley. She wore white shoes and stockings and carried a bouquet of Columbia roses and lily of the valley. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Ezetta Davis, who wore a gown of pink georgette with gold trimmings, white picture hat and white shoes and stockings, and bouquet of pink carnations and maiden hair fern. The bridegroom was supported by his cousin, Mr. Crayton Freeburn, of Bobcaygeon. Messrs. W. Farris and E. Dibben acted as ushers.

After the wedding ceremony a buffet luncheon was served to the immediate friends at the home of Mrs. Pearson, Lafayette Avenue, the dining-room being beautifully decorated for the occasion in mauve and white, with huge bouquets of mauve lilacs and tulips.

The groom's gift to the bride was a handsome diamond and sapphire bracelet; to the bridesmaid, a rope of pearls, and to the best man, gold cuff links.

The young couple left on the 3.40 train for Toronto, Hamilton and Niagara Falls, the bride travelling in a poudre blue georgette dress, sand hat and coat and blonde satin shoes and stockings.

LA FLECHE—ALLEN.

St. Anthony's Church, Edmonton, beautifully decorated for the occasion with snap-dragons and carnations, was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Wednesday, June 16, at 9 a.m., when Rev. Father Carleton solemnized the marriage of Mae E. Allen, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Allen, formerly of Douro, and Mr. Louis F. La Fleche, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. La Fleche.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, entered the church to the strains of the wedding march, played by Miss Mary Wankel. The bride was charming in a gown of sand georgette over figured crepe and a leghorn picture hat. She wore an amber fox fur, the gift of the bridegroom, and carried a bouquet of Ophelia roses and lilies-of-the-valley.

Miss Anne Allen, sister of the bride, who acted as bridesmaid, was attractively gowned in navy georgette and taffeta, embroidered in gold and silver, with a rose du bois Gainsborough hat to match. She carried roses and sweet peas.

Mr. Edward La Fleche of Calgary was best man and the ushers were Mr. Charles Wankel and Mr. Joseph La Fleche.

Mrs. J. J. Allen, mother of the bride, wore a gown of black silk crepe and gold lace and an orchid picture hat. Her corsage was of orchids and sweet peas.

Mrs. J. A. La Fleche, mother of the bridegroom, was gowned in orchid georgette over lavender with picture hat to match. Her corsage was pink roses.

Throughout the Mass soft music was played and during the offertory Miss Helen Loughlin sang sweetly "Ave Maria," by Schubert.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, where the rooms were artistically decorated with wild roses, potted plants and pink and white carnations. The table was centred with the wedding cake and attached to white streamers were bud vases of carnations. Mrs. W. Keating and Mrs. William Chisholm poured tea and Mrs. Donald Fraser cut the ices. Assisting were the Misses Myrtle Allen, Mae Bedard, Marion Flood, Celia Tuffy, Ruth McLennan, Helene La Fleche, Alice Beauchamp, Bernardine O'Connell, Anne Donnelly. Assisting in other capacities were Mrs. Michael Flood and Mrs. Campbell. Miss Helen Loughlin sang "I Love You Truly" and Miss Clara Tangney sang "All Joy Be Thine."

The bridegroom's gift to the bridesmaid was an amethyst ring, to the organist a pearl bracelet, to the soloists silver compacts, to the groomsman white gold cuff links and to the ushers leather key cases.

Mr. and Mrs. La Fleche left amid showers of confetti, on the noon train, on an extended trip for Vancouver, Victoria, Seattle and California, where the honeymoon will be spent. The bride travelled in a smartly tailored navy suit with hat to match and shoes and leather handbag in blonde shade.

SHANNON—O'REILLY.

At St. Basil's church, Toronto, on Tuesday, June 29, the marriage took place of Mae, daughter of the late Mr. Thomas O'Reilly and Mrs. O'Reilly, Ennismore, Ont., to Mr. Richard Shannon, son of the late Mr. Patrick Shannon and Mrs. Shannon, Pembroke, the Rev. Father M. Kelly officiating. The bride, who was given away by her brother-in-law, Mr. William Thomas, was very smart in a frock of white crepe romaine, with long sleeves, the full skirt having a scalloped edge. She wore a large mohair hat on which was a huge pink rose, and carried a bouquet of lily of the valley and sweetheart roses. The groom's gift, a rope of pearls, was worn. The matron of honor, Mrs. William Thomas, was in rose georgette, with hat to match, and her bouquet was of butterfly roses. Following the wedding a reception and breakfast was held at the King Edward Hotel, the bride's table being decorated with pink roses. The guests included Miss Hanrahan, Mrs. Herbert J. Mackie of Pembroke, Mrs. John Coltman of Ottawa, and Mrs. Fergus O'Connor, of Detroit. Mr. and Mrs. Shannon left on a trip up the Great Lakes, the bride wearing an ensemble of beige and blue silk bengaline, and a beige hat. On their return to Toronto they will live in St. Clair Avenue.

MACKENZIE—GIBSON.

LAKEFIELD, July 7. — A very pretty wedding took place a 4 o'clock on Saturday afternoon at St. Peter's church, Stoney Lake, when Dorothy Livingstone, daughter of Mr. D. S. Gibson, of Brantford, was united in marriage to Kenneth Alexander, only son of Rev. and Mrs. A. W. MacKenzie, of "The Grove," Lakefield, and grandson of the late Archdeacon and Mrs. MacKenzie of Grace Church, Brantford. The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a graceful white georgette gown, with crystal trimmings and a large white hat to match, and carried a bouquet of full blown pink roses. Miss Margaret Livingstone of Welland, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor, and wore a pink georgette gown, with hat to match. The bridesmaids were Miss Mary MacKenzie, sister of the groom, and Miss Florence Gibson, sister of the bride. Both wore pale green georgette with sashes of a deeper green tied in front, and green georgette bandeaux. Miss Betty Lamplan, niece of the groom, was flower girl, wearing pale pink georgette, and carrying a basket of flowers which she strewed in the path of the bride. The groom was attended by Mr. Donald Cameron of Peterboro. The wedding music was played by Mrs. A. E. Dawson of Lakefield. The wedding ceremony was performed by Rev.Canon Hedley of Toronto, uncle of the groom, assisted by Rev. A. W. MacKenzie, father of the groom. The ushers were Mr. John Livingstone of Welland, Mr. J. A. Creasor of Lakefield, Mr. Keith Tate of Lakefield, and Mr Lorimer Massie of Cobourg. The church was decorated with pink and white daisies and evergreens, and was filled by a large crowd of guests, friends of the contracting parties.

The happy couple left for an extended trip to Vancouver, Victoria and Seattle, where they will visit friends. The bride travelled in a blue knitted coat with fur collar and trimmings, a dress to match and white silk hat. On their return from their honeymoon they will reside at "The Grove," Lakfield. They received many beautiful gifts as a testimony of the esteem of a large circle of friends.

MAGIC BAKING POWDER

YOUR HEALTH

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M.D., Former Commissioner of Health, New York City.

What sacrifices must be made for health! In many instances recovery from disease is possible only in the face of constant sacrifice.

I had dinner yesterday in the dining car with a friend whom I never happened to meet at a meal before. He avoided the starches and sugar. I soon realized that he was following a diet.

It may not be true in his case, but it is usually the case that excesses in eating and drinking are responsible for many diseases. Had moderation been practiced through a lifetime there would be no need of the sacrifice which has become necessary to restore health.

What we come to consider as sacrifice would not be so considered had we resisted the danger of habit formation before the habit was actually formed. There was a temptation to overindulge or take things which are not good for us. We form a bad habit by becoming inordinately fond of something which will do us harm.

It is very difficult to be sensible in our food habits. Indeed, it is difficult to be sensible in all our habits. We like to do some things and we hate to do others. I suppose each of us would be a saint if in every instance we did exactly the thing we should do. A saintly character would resist all temptations and never yield to impulses leading in the wrong direction. Saints are rare.

In the matter of health I can think of nothing more important than an education for every individual in the knowledge of good and bad habits in eating, exercise and all the other things which have to do with the physical welfare.

Of course, it is not enough to have knowledge. In addition there must be character so well founded as to make it possible to live up to the standards which are accepted as the proper ones. Long practice of the moral and physical precepts will result in the development of habits we call "good." When these habits are once established we are not making sacrifices when we practice them. We are eating the food we have learned to like. We are leaving the foods alone which would harm us. If we exercise every day it becomes second nature to exercise. It is a "good habit," and, instead of hating the habit and making a sacrifice when we practice it, we are making a sacrifice only when we fail to exercise.

All this may be more or less involved, but the thing I want to bring out is that if from earliest life a child is taught to do certain things and to eat certain foods, when he grows up he continues to follow these early teachings. It is unnecessary for him to make sacrifices, because he is living in so proper a way that sacrifices are unnecessary.

When you must diet or force yourself to do something you don't like to do, almost always it is because you have been overindulgent in the past and your sacrifices now are the punishment for your failure to form the proper habits.

Don't Let corns Spoil Your Holiday

How can you keep up with a jolly summer crowd if you must favour an aching corn? How are you going to whip a trout stream, hike the hills, enjoy tennis and dancing, with your feet tormented with stabbing pains every time you move about?

Get rid of those corns now—before you go on vacation—give your feet "that Kruschen feeling"—by taking a few Radox foot-baths which make the most obstinate corn so soft that you can lift it out, root and all.

When you put your feet into a foot-bath containing Radox, the salts soften the hard outer layers of the corn, and the oxgen which Radox liberates enters the pores, opens them, and penetrates further and further, carrying the corn-softening salts right to the root of the corn, which is thus loosened so that it may be lifted out bodily. The life-giving oxygen leaves the foot clean and healthy.

THE HUM O' THE MOWER.

The hum of the mower is filling the air. There's grass to be cut o'er the land. The wheels of the mower are off on a tear. The man of the house is on hand.

A whizzing along on the wide spread of green till light of the daytime is dim. The sharpened up blades quickly cheer up the scene, and put all the landscape in trim.

First this way, and that way; then back to the start, a-layin' the taller growth bare. The click of the mower cuts grass blades apart and whisks them haphazard in air.

The great out-of-doors, when it's all said and done, looks fine, when it's carefully dressed, and each little lawnmower that's properly run helps nature to dress in her best.

LABOR MEMBER DENIES ALLIANCE

Supported Liberals Usually Because Legislation Was Approved.

FOR AUTONOMY.

OTTAWA, July 6 (Canadian Press).—"Candidates who will be responsible directly to labor, and under no obligation to any other political party," should be nominated throughout the Dominion before the general election, says J. S. Woodsworth, Labor member for Winnipeg North-Centre, in a statement issued here last night. Mr. Woodsworth adds that he has sent out a call urging labor men to call nominating conventions with this end in view.

He denies that the two Labor men in the last House were in direct alliance with the Liberal Government.

"I desire to make it absolutely clear that there is and has not been any alliance between the Labor party and the Liberal party," said Mr. Woodsworth. "On most occasions during the past year, we supported the Liberal party because it advanced legislation that Labor had long advocated.

"I was elected on a platform that demanded complete legal and constitutional autonomy for Canada. Again and again we have found ourselves blocked by the provisions of an antiquated British North America Act by the vote of an irresponsible Senate, and lastly, this fiasco of a dissolution which scraps the work of six months. Canadian citizens should enjoy equal civil rights with British subject who have continued to reside in Great Britain.

GOOD NIGHT STORIES

By Blanche Silver

BETTY CHANGES HER MIND.

"Oh, dear," Betty grumbled when her Mama called her into the house to set the table. "I just hate to set the table and wash the dishes."

"I'm sorry," sighed a tiny voice, and Betty turned to see a smiling elfin standing on the bottom step of the porch. "But that shouldn't worry you. There is one place I know of that little girls never have to wash dishes," and before Betty could ask where this land was, she was whisked through the air beside the elfin.

"Gocomeback, you're a dear," Betty laughed, squeezing the travel elfin's tiny hand in her own. "You know where all these wonderful places are, don't you? I'd just like to see if folks can get along without dishes. Why, it seems to me our table is always full and I have great pans of dishes to wash every meal."

By this time they had reached a strange, hot land and Betty was so warm she had to take off her bonnet and fan herself. They stopped in front of a mud hut with a roof like a haystack.

"Goodness, Gocomeback," whispered Betty when she saw the half-dressed brown people, "where in the world are we?"

"This is an African village," replied Gocomeback, "and I do believe we are just in time for dinner. Shall we stay?"

"Of course, if they ask us," replied Betty. She followed the elfin up to the opening in a mud hut. A little brown girl greeted them and invited them into the queer little one-room house. Her Mother was busy over a hole in the floor, which Gocomeback told Betty was the cook stove.

"Gocomeback, you're a dear!"

Betty thought everything so very funny that she kept the little brown girl and her Mama laughing at her questions.

"Dinner is ready, my dear," said the little brown girl's Mama as she took a big pot from the hole in the floor and placed it on some leaves spread on the floor on the other side of the room. The little brown girl sat down crosslegged on the floor and Betty and Gocomeback followed suit. Betty was given a great gig green leaf and when the little brown girl's Daddy came in he cut the mush in the big pot into portions so that each one would have the same share. Betty's share was laid on the green leaf in front of her. There wasn't a knife, fork or spoon in sight, only the one the little girl's Daddy had, so Betty finally gathered her mush up in her fingers like she saw the little brown girl do and began to eat. But the whole thing struck Betty as so very funny that she laughed, and like a puff of smoke everything vanished and Betty stood alone on her own back steps.

"Gracious! I'll take dishes every time," Betty laughed, and without a word she ran into the house to set the table for her Mama. That was the last time she ever complained about setting the table or washing dishes.

Some time when you don't want to do the things Mother wishes you to do, just take a trip with Gocomeback and I'm sure you'll change your mind like Betty did.

BETHEL PERSONALS

BETHEL, July 6.—What might have proved a very serious accident happened on John Elmhirst's hill on the 2nd line on Sunday morning when a car driven by W. Nickelson stalled near the top of the hill and as the brakes would not hold the car ran back down the hill, turning completely over, smashing the top and windshield and throwing the occupants into the ditch. Miss Ettie Nickelson was badly shaken up and was not able to return home until Monday evening. The others escaped unhurt.

Epworth League Meeting.

The members of the Bethel Epworth League and their friends met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Reid on Wednesday evening for a social time, and to bid farewell to Rev. and Mrs. McLaughlin, who left on July 1 for their new field of labor at Grafton, Ont.

Music was supplied by the Fletcher Bros., from Keene, assisted by Miss Minnie Edwards of Keene. There were games and contests also, after which a bountiful supper was served.

Quarter Million Shares Turned Over On Exchange

TORONTO, July 6 (Canadian Press).—Trading spurted up this morning on the Standard Mining Exchange and for the mid-summer session the brokers were unusually active. Castle Trethewey Silver, regarding which there have been rumors of decreasing reserves, was the centre of interest, about 45,000 shares changing hands. The price dropped back a point from 1.46. Among penny stocks Algonquin was in the limelight. Price advanced a half cent to 6 1-2 from the opening, under a turnover of 67,000 shares. Demand continued strong for Gold Hill, which gained two points to 64. The whole market showed a tendency to stiffen with Kirkland Lake, Consolidated, West Dome Lake, Barry Holly, Vipond, Teck Hughes and Crown Reserve in active demand at advancing quotations. Turnover for the morning session was a quarter of a million shares.

Lively Buying On Market Stimulates Wheat Price

CHICAGO, July 6.— (Canadian Press.) — Much higher prices on wheat formed the rule to-day in the early dealings. Heat and lack of rain in the Northwest, together with rising quotations at Liverpool, tended to stimulate lively buying. Starting unchanged to 3-4c. up wheat scored decided gains all around, averaging more than 2c. a bushel. Corn and oats advance also, corn opening unchanged to 1-4c. off, but showing a material upturn. Provisions tended downward.

Surprising absence of selling pressure in view of big receipts southwest was shown at times by the wheat market here. This was attributed more or less to flood damage reports from Europe. High temperatures in the spring wheat belt both north and south of the Canadian boundary were also receiving special attention.

General Motors Establish New High Record Price

NEW YORK, July 6 (Canadian Press).—The establishment of a new high record for all time by the present no-par common stock of the General Motors Corporation at 151¼ or four points above last Friday's close, featured the resumption of trading to-day after the three-day stock market holiday. A strong undertone was apparent throughout the list with the steel, motor, chemical and public utility shares giving the best demonstrations of group strength. Trading was not so brisk, however, as in the closing days of last week.

Nickel Up Two Points Unlisted Section Strong

TORONTO, July 6 (Canadian Press). — Trading was brisk and prices were firm on the Toronto Stock Exchange today. The feature of the market was the strength exhibited in the unlisted section where mining stocks showed considerable activity.

International Nickel with a two-point gain at 38, led the way. Davies "A" was also prominent, closing at 31 for a net gain of 3-4. Brazilian ranged up 1-4 to 1-2 at 98 1-4 to 98 1-2. Smelters was strong, 1 1-2 higher at 215 7-8. Dominion Stores advanced one point to 62. Canada Bread registered a three point advance to 78. Gold Hill continued strong and showed a five cent gain to 65. Teck Hughes was also up three cents at 3.73. Pioneer was up one at 67. Steel of Canada was 1 1-2 higher at 105 1-2. Lake Shore gained 10 cents to 11.35.

Hughes Finds Mussolini A Most Interesting Man

ROME, July 6 (United News) Charles Evans Hughes, who called on Premier Benito Mussolini to-day, left the premier's room at the Chigi Palace convinced that he had talked to the most interesting man in all Europe.

"Mussolini is the most interesting man and Fascism is the most interesting political manifestation that I see in Europe at the present time," the former American Secretary of State told newspaper men.

USE THE PROTECTED AREAS.

With the advent of seasonable weather, the bathing season, several weeks late, is beginning in earnest.

The children are feeling the lure of the water and swimming is the major sport with most youngsters.

In this connection it cannot be too strongly urged upon parents that they make sure their children bathe in protected areas whenever possible.

The city authorities have provided facilities for bathers at Inverlea Park and at Little Lake with supervisors in charge, and children especially and adults who are not expert swimmers should bathe only at these points where supervision is provided and where safety appliances are available if needed.

There is no more fascinating recreation than bathing, and youngsters should be encouraged to indulge in swimming, but for safety's sake, at supervised beaches.

The majority of drowning accidents among children take place at points where there are few people around, where no appliances are available and where conditions generally make it unsafe for any but the most expert swimmers to go into the water.

"It may be doubtful if there is any outing more thoroughly satisfying to every sense than an old-fashioned basket picnic on the banks of the St. Lawrence, or, better still, upon one of the numerous islands which rest upon its expanse. The person who has never shared such an experience has yet to realize the utmost in contentment and that greatest of all pleasures which springs from participation in simple things. A smoking fire built of driftwood or dead branches, a kettle supported by two granite rocks, potatoes frying in a pan, a snow-white tablecloth spread upon the grass under ample foliage, the scent of the pine, the odor of water, the cushion of moss and pine-needles, and the well-wooded banks of the distant shore—these are some of the things that go to make up a Thousand Islands picnic and these are the things that revive drooping spirits, restore exhausted energies, regain lost appetites, give renewed hope, faith and praise of the Almighty for His blessings."—Brockville Recorder and Times.

The Recorder and Times had the St. Lawrence River in mind when it printed the article from which the above is quoted, but its remarks are applicable to this district as consistently as to that noble water route.

It is just a question whether we in Peterboro get half the pleasure out of the lakes and rivers at our door as we should be getting.

Why leave them to our friends from across the line?

Why not try the style of picnic described in the opening paragraph of this article?

Stoney Lake can furnish everything that the St. Lawrence offers—and it is only one of the many beauty spots within our reach.

How many Peterboro people have had a picnic there; how many indeed know that every week day during the summer months a round trip of Stoney Lake, affording a call at twenty or twenty-five places, is possible, affording one of the most enjoyable one-day water journeys to be found in this country?

Let us see something of our own district this summer.

NICE WORDS, BUT—

"Machinery is being placed in motion for a new election. If the people of Canada want a sane and stable government they will get rid of wreckers and time-servers, petty politicians and trivial janglers. They will have no more obstructionists and ward heelers to pass upon constructive national measures. They will leave the class-conscious people and sectionalists at home. They will select a higher type of representative than they did for the Parliament which has been wasting time and money for six months. And, above all, they will send to Ottawa a Government with a sufficient majority to be able to assume and acknowledge responsibility for its acts."—Toronto Globe.

All of which sounds fine! Putting it into practice is quite another matter. The 245 members of the last Parliament were as good, and no better, than those of its predecessors. And The Border Cities Star has no hesitation in saying that the composition of the next Parliament will contain an equal amount of good and bad timber as was found in all Parliaments previous to July 2, 1926. The phrase, "sending to Ottawa a Government with a sufficient majority to be able to assume and acknowledge responsibility for its acts," is a mighty high-sounding one. Mr. King will tell you that if he is given a sufficient working majority all will be lovely; Mr. Meighen will be just as sincere when he tells the electors that a vote for him and his candidates means the salvation of the country. When all the candidates begin their spieling, one side shouting for Mr. Meighen and the other for Mr. King, how in the world is the poor voter going to decide which would be the better for the country—a Conservative or a Liberal Government?

During the coming election it will mean just this: That Tories will be Tories and Grits will be Grits. Those of the old line parties will be just as true to form as they ever were. As for the Independents, some of them will prefer Mr. King, while others will vote for Mr. Meighen's standard-bearers. After the ballots are counted on election day it may be found that the Grits have 120 members in Parliament and the Tories an equal number. The Border Cities Star just as sincerely as The Toronto Globe hopes that this will not be the case, and that one or the other of the two parties will have a good majority of high-class representatives. But if this result should occur, do not blame the poor voter and do not think the country is going to the eternal bow-wows. It will merely be one of the natural consequences of our democratic form of government.—Border Cities Star.

CANADA'S TRADE.

The trade summary for Canada for the twelve months ended May last reveals a gratifying increase in respect of both imports and exports. The principal factor in the improved export figures is the item of agricultural and vegetable products, which shows an increase of $162,154,980, as compared with the preceding year, the figures being—for the twelve months ended last May, 601,983,440; for the year ended May, 1925, $439,828,460. It is seen, by a reference to the imports table, however, that Canada received more than thirty-two and a half million dollars' worth of agricultural and vegetable products from abroad during the year just closed in excess of the quantity imported the year before, the United States supplying over half the amount. It is interesting to study the export statistics relating to these particular commodities. The United Kingdom took $354,359,102, considerably more than half the total; whereas the United States took only $64,173,529, little better than one-tenth the total. Britain buys the bulk of our exported agricultural and vegetable products, while we buy the bulk of the exported American products.

There was an increase in the exports of wood and paper of well over $25,000,000 in the year just closed as compared with the preceding twelve-month, the total being $279,752,310. Canada also bought $3,800,356 more than in the year ended May, 1925. Our exports of wood and paper went almost entirely to the United States. The total of unmanufactured wood exported in the year is stated to be $114,695,984, and the total of manufactured, $62,812,146, of which all, except $398,115 for furniture, consisted of pulp, chemical and mechanical. Of other commodities on the list, there was a decrease in the year of over a million dollars in the value of the exports of fibres and textiles; but iron and its products and non-ferrous metals and non-metallic minerals exhibit increases of several millions. The total export figures for the year, for all commodities, amount to $1,324,363,923, and the total imports to $946,257,055, of which approximately $596,000,000 were dutiable goods.

The Dominion Bureau of Statistics also issues a bulletin on the general business situation in the Dominion during the month of May, stating that activity in that month was at a higher level than in previous months of the present year. "The brightest spot in the current Canadian economic situation," it is remarked, "is the activity of the construction industry, the contracts awarded during May being a record for all time." The value of these contracts, according to Maclean Building Reports, was $57,139,700. The report proceeds: "As the cost of building materials has appreciably declined, being in May at the lowest level since the end of the war, it will be realized that the volume of building has attained very large proportions." There is an increase of three million dollars in the value of building permits for May as compared with the corresponding month of the previous year, in the sixty cities covered by the report.—Hamilton Spectator.

A MAJOR PROBLEM.

That Canada's key problem is the creation of an unanimous and vigilant public demand for a comprehensive and constructive national immigration policy is the opinion of a Western publisher, as stated in a letter to The Examiner.

Industrial centres such as Peterboro view the immigration question with something akin to suspicion, inspired by the fear that the dumping into Canada of a large number of new citizens means over-population in factory towns, a glut of labour, and consequently unemployment for many workers and lower wages for those lucky enough to find work.

A wider view is furnished by The Examiner's correspondent, who with accurate knowledge of agricultural conditions is able to deal with a phase of immigration about which we in industrial centres are all too ignorant.

Those who travel the agricultural portions of Canada, for instance, are often puzzled to explain the presence of large areas of unoccupied lands around most of our old-settled communities.

The Federal Immigration Department regards the colonization of these scattered areas as its major problem, and so it is. Such lands are generally well served with transportation, educational and other facilities. Their settlement would materially ease the burden of those already in occupation in various ways and could give rise to no new public liability for the extension of services. "Careful study might well be devoted to the settlement of these areas in the interest primarily of the communities tributary to them," suggests The Examiner's correspondent.

An examination of these lands would at once reveal the fact that nine-tenths of them are below par in quality.

They are heavily treed, are low lying, stony or have thin soil or exhibit other undesirable features.

They are, in fact, culls or what is generally termed "submarginal."

Most of them are submarginal only until reclaimed by hard pioneering effort when they will graduate into the class of more or less productive lands. But their reclamation involves clearing, digging out of stones, drainage or similar uninviting and time consuming labour, unproductive for the time being.

The ownership of such lands has generally passed from the crown and is in the hands of all sorts of companies, individuals and municipalities.

Here is an opportunity for community effort and the various Provincial Governments might well take the lead in a movement towards a general "stock-taking" of these undeveloped resources, by promoting the formation of "Land Settlement Committees" in the smaller towns with the special object of colonizing these lands, and making them productive.

They would generally be available at a very low price and on long terms of payment.

Such lands, in small areas, would appeal with special force to the farm labour class of limited means and to the European peasantry.

Their development would be slow and labourious, but the new settler and his family would be available for work on the farms in the neighbourhood during the busy seasons and could thus add to his income and incidentally help to solve the agricultural labour problem which has always been acute in Canada.

Until we promote the colonization of agricultural labour in our settled districts our progress is going to be severely curtailed.

An organized movement such as this would be helpful all around.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

It is to be hoped Mr. Meighen will not be as long in announcing the election date as Mr. Ferguson has been.

All roads lead to the Exhibition Grounds this week. The Rotary Carnival in aid of Rotary's fine activities, promises to be one of the most popular events of the summer.

DR. FRANK CRANE'S DAILY EDITORIAL.

THE ONLY PRACTICAL PLAN.

By Dr. Frank Crane.

The only practical plan under which human beings can expect to live together in peace is the Golden Rule.

We must love one another and do as we would be done by.

This is not an ideal Sunday School precept, but it is a rule that has teeth and claws in it. Unless we obey it we shall suffer. And not one party, but all parties suffer.

War has been demonstrated to be about as disastrous to the victor as to the vanquished. The successful allies in the recent great World War, such as Great Britain, Italy and France, are now almost as bad off as the unsuccessful group, consisting of Germany, Austria and so forth.

War is not only cruel and ineffectual, but it does not pay.

It pays human beings in the long run to co-operate and not to contend. As General Grant said, it is doubtful if any war was ever fought about an issue that could not have been better settled in some other way.

The great war makers are egotism, stubbornness, hate and fear. Jesus told us long ago that the only method of getting along together was by love and trust. We have not yet learned that His precept was based upon common sense and was not an impractical command.

Germany at this writing is reverting toward a reactionary government, as is Italy. England is in the throes of labor unrest. The ministry in France is maintaining itself with difficulty, and the franc is falling. Belgium is upset, and there is a revolution in Poland.

Wherever hate and fear and contention rule there is upheaval and disaster. These things cannot be permanently cured by an increase in force on any side, but only by an increase of charity and the spirit of compromise.

It takes a long while for humans beings to learn how to get on with each other. It is much easier to revolt and stand for our rights than patiently to seek a status quo.

The main thing for a people to learn is that there can be no abiding peace that is not founded upon justice.

The prophecy said in ancient times that righteousness and peace shall kiss each other. Until this is done there is no abiding harmony or progress.

EGG MARKETS

OTTAWA, July 6 (Canadian Press)—A further weakness is evident in Eastern and Prairie egg markets; Vancouver, however, continues to gain strength A carload of Westerns have arrived in Montreal costing extras 3, firsts 32, seconds 27, delivered.

Toronto. — Country shippers are paying extras 28, firsts 26, seconds 20 and selling, extras 32, firsts 31, seconds 24 f.o.b. in used cases. Prices to retailers, extras 36, firsts 33, seconds 28 to 29.

Winnipeg.—Receipts are decreasing. Country shippers selling extras 27, firsts 25, seconds 18. Prices to retailers, extras 34, firsts 30, seconds 26.

MONTREAL MARKETS

MONTREAL, July 6 (Canadian Press). — Owing to the advance in prices on the Winnipeg market today, the export trade in Canadian grain on the Montreal market was extremely dull. The majority of bids received from foreign buyers were below local exporters' views. In the local cash grain market prices for car lots of oats were advanced 1-2 cent per bushel.

A fair business was transacted with foreign buyers in spring wheat grades of flour, but the local market was quiet. Prices, however, were steady. The winter wheat situation was moderately active and firm.

Prices for all grades of millfeed were well maintained under a good demand from the United States. The local trade was inactive. There was little business done in standard grades of rolled oats but the undertone was steady.

The feature of the egg market was the weaker feeling that developed and prices were reduced one cent per dozen. This was attributed to the increased offerings and the small demand. The receipts were 2,311 cases.

The weakness that characterized the butter trade last week prevailed again yesterday and prices scored a further decline of 3-4c to 1c per pound. The receipts were 2,294 packages.

A moderate amount of business was worked in cheese with foreign buyers, and prices were steady to a shade stronger. Western grades were offered 18 cents per pound, which was an advance of 1-8 to 1-4c per pound, as compared with the prices quoted at the close of last week. The receipts were 10,549 boxes.

The tone of the market for potatoes was firm at the recent advances noted, but the trade volume was small.

Business in beans was quiet, but the tone of the market was firm on account of the small offerings, and prices were unchanged. Car lots of choice white hand-picked were quoted at $2.25 per bushel, and smaller quantities at $2.35 to $2.45 per bushel.

SCHOOL PICNIC.

Successful Outing Held By Pupils of S. S. No. 9, Douro.

On the afternoon of Friday, June 25, a very successful school picnic was held at S.S. No. 9, Douro. The sports for the afternoon opened with a ball game between the pupils from the east and pupils from the west of the school. The game, which was umpired by Jas. Hall, was a close one, but ended slightly in favor of the pupils from the west. After this came the following sports:

Boys, under 10 — 1 Francis O'Leary; 2 Joseph Garvey; 3 Clement Garvey.

Boys, over 10—1 Fergus Ross; 2 Michael O'Leary; 3 Frank Doherty.

At the close of the sports an address was read by Stella Heffernan to the teacher, Miss Lynch, who has given up her position in the section. During the reading of the address, Michael O'Leary presented Miss Lynch with a gold fountain pen. Miss Lynch then thanked the pupils for their gift, and expressed her gratitude to the section for their kindness to her during her term tthere.

After this the pupils and their friends assembled in the school, where refreshments were served to all.

ORANGEMEN VISIT MARMORA CHURCH

Inspiring Sermon is Preached By Rev. Bro. F. J. Horwood.

MARMORA, July 6.—Officers and brethren of L.O.L. No. 319 paraded to the United Church on Sunday afternoon for Divine service, L.T.B. No. 177 also joining in the procession. The service, which was of a most appropriate character, was taken by Bro. Rev. F. J. Horwood, Mus. Bac., and commenced with the hymn, "Lord of the lands, beneath the bending skies." The Scripture reading was taken from parts of Joshua 3 and 4. The second hymn, "Faith of our fathers," having been sung, the Rev. Horwood gave a striking discourse on the text, "What mean ye by these stones?" After welcoming the Order, the preacher continued by remarking that the Orange Order ritual was based on Scripture from end to end. Those who compiled it took the things most significant and picturesque from the Bible stories in so doing. In order to get to the Promised Land from Egypt, the children of Israel had to meet with certain barriers almost unsurpassable. They had to cross the Red Sea and the Jordan when they were at their highest water mark. Reviewing their march, the preacher led up to the point where Joshua foretold of the generations to come, asking of the twelve stones taken out of the Jordan with the twelve rolled together in the Jordan. "What mean ye by these stones?"

Proceeding, he enquired as to the modern application of the meaning of these twelve stones. Every building must have a decent foundation stone to rest upon. The first monument to Orangeism is the Lodge itself, which is founded to uphold the Protestant faith at all costs without the exercise of intolerance. All lodges have an inward meaning to members and an outward meaning to the world.

Another monument is the Orange constitution. What is meant by that? It is one of the finest one can conceive of, carrying with it a very high ideal. Then there is the regalia of the Order. What is meant by that, other than it is an outward sign of an inward and moral ideal? The Crusaders in olden time wore the symbol of the Cross on the arm and said, "By this sign we conquer." The Orange regalia should signify that its wearer is a man who is true and believes in no surrender.

After service the members paraded back to the Orange Hall, where various short addresses were given. Sisters and brethren from Havelock were present as at the service.

HOW DO YOU SAY IT?

(By C. N. Lurie.)

Common Errors in English and How To Avoid Them.

"OFF OF."

The use of the phrase which heads this article leads often to errors that are seen to be ludicrous, when analyzed. For example, one will hear the question, "Where did you buy that steak?" The answer comes: "I got it off of the butcher around the corner." To get a steak "off of" the butcher might suit a cannibal very well, but the very idea should shock anyone else. In proper usage omit the "off"; say, "I got it of (or from) the butcher around the corner."

There are cases of the misuse of the phrase "off of" that are not ludicrous, as in the instance already cited, but in which the "of" is not needed and should be omitted. "He jumped off of the car." say "He jumped off the car." A man who expects to open a store says: "Will you buy something off of me?" He should say, "Will you buy something from me?"

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY

CHAOS.

Chaos is the "natural" state of the universe. Cosmos is the rare and temporary exception. Of all the million spheres this is apparently the only one habitable, and of this only a small part—the reader may draw the boundaries to suit himself—can be called civilized. Anarchy is the natural state of the human race. It prevailed exclusively all over the world up to some five thousand years ago, since which a few peoples have for a time succeeded in establishing a certain degree of peace and order. This however can be maintained only by strenuous and persistent efforts, for society tends naturally to sink into the chaos out of which it has arisen.—Edwin E. Slosson in his admirable book, "Creative Chemistry."

LAVOIE'S BIG CLEARANCE!

A Whirlwind Sale

All Stocks Must GO!

YES, FOLKS

the price barriers are down from now on, practically any price goes—and I don't mean maybe, either! Lots are growing smaller and many lines are completely sold out. At the same time I'm continually finding reserve stocks that had been overlooked, so your best bet is to drop in every day—just in case, you know!

It's a mighty hard job, with such limited space available, to display everything I'd like to, and, naturally, there are scores of lines I've not yet had a chance to put out for you to see, so don't be bashful about asking for anything—and don't forget—if it is not already marked down, I'll give you a real action price!

Honestly, though, folks, have you EVER had a chance to get such honest-to-goodness bargains in all your born days? If Lavoie had brought in a bunch of "Ringers" (inferior goods made especially for so-called "Sales," you know), I could understand it. But as I've said before, and as you can plainly see, everything offered is absolutely REGULAR STOCK.

And now—come on! At the prices you'll be wise to buy not only for now but for the FUTURE. Regular selling prices—shucks! I'm no more interested in what you SHOULD pay than a cat would be in a second tail! When I tell you that some lines are being offered to you at considerably LESS than the big city stores must pay for them in QUANTITY LOTS, you're listening to the truth!

TRIAL POSTPONED.

U. S. Citizen Charged With Desertion From French Foreign Legion.

BEIRUT, Syria, July 6 (Canadian Press) — The trial of Bennett J. Doty, of Memphis, Tenn., imprisoned here for deserting the Foreign Legion, has been postponed indefinitely. The date of the trial had originally been fixed for July 7.

It is announced in authoritative quarters that Doty's case is less grave than at first believed. A new version of his story has been given out that he was taken prisoner by the Druse tribesmen while absent without leave.

The arrest by the French military authorities of Bennett J. Doty, who enlisted in the French Foreign Legion as Gilbert Clare, created much concern early in June among the U. S. authorities, as it was reported that he was in danger of facing a firing squad for desertion.

POPE PROTESTS MEXICO'S ACTS AGAINST CHURCH

Calls on All Roman Catholics To Unite in Prayer on August 1.

CIRCULAR LETTER.

Characterizes Measures as Illegal, Unjust and Inhuman.

ROME, July 6 (Canadian Press) —Pope Pius, through the Papal Secretary of State, Cardinal Gasparri, sent a circular letter yesterday to the Holy See's representatives throughout the world, urging all Roman Catholics to unite in special prayers on August 1 for the cessation of the Mexican government's persecution of Catholics and for divine pardon of those guilty of ordering and carrying out measures, which are characterized as illegal, unjust and inhuman.

"Now, however," the letter goes on, "since the afflictions of our Mexican brothers continue, it is necessary to increase the prayers for them; wherefore the Pontiff desires the faithful to be invited to join him in prayer on August 1."

The letter concludes, after pointing out the special significance of the coincidence of the date with St. Peter's Festival and St. Francis' tenenary: "All these circumstances will undoubtedly have influence, in that the prayers of the faithful for the cessation of the persecution and the pardon of the guilty, will be more fervid and will be accepted by God. The Pontiff provided that these intentions be added to the others in the Bull, which extends the Holy Year to the whole world."

"NO KELLOGGS."

Thinks Nation Must Be Thankful No Acts Existed To Bar George Washington.

LONDON, July 3 (Canadian Press).—Shapurji Saklatvala, the Indian Communist member of parliament, who recently was barred from the United States by the state department, had addressed the following message to President Coolidge:

"Congratulations on 150 years of national freedom and social progress. Your nation must feel thankful that no Kelloggs, with emigration acts, were then in existence to ban George Washington and other revolutionary spirits from entering the country."

Saklatvala was barred from entering the United States to attend the inter-parliamentary union conference last year. Frank S. Kellogg, Secretary of State, denied him admission on the grounds that he was a revolutionist. He appealed to President Coolidge without avail. Saklatvala only recently was released from prison in England after serving two months imprisonment for making a 'seditious speech in Hyde Park during the recent general strike in Great Britain.

LENNOX CALLED TO SEE MEIGHEN

Member For North York May Be Offered Place in Cabinet.

TORONTO, July 6.—In answer to a request by telegram from the Conservative chieftain, Colonel T. Herbert Lennox, M.P. for North York, returned to Ottawa on Tuesday evening to meet Premier Meighen. The summons was one which, although it gave no indication of the purport for which it had been sent, aroused considerable interest in political circles, because of the task of forming an administration upon which Premier Meighen is engaged. Associates of Mr. Lennox state that he is not ambitious for a place in the Federal Cabinet, notwithstanding that he has become a political figure of some interest by reason of his notable defeat of former Premier King in the last general election.

GIFTS PRESENTED AT PARTING SOCIAL

Rev. P. L. Jull Says Farewell To Lakefield Congregation.

LAKEFIELD, July 5.—A congregational social was held in the school room of the United (Presbyterian) church on Tuesday evening last to bid farewell to Rev. and Mrs. P. L. Jull who have been nine years in the village. Besides the members of the congregation there was a delegation from Wesley church also. The school room was filled almost to capacity when Mr. A. J. Kidd called the meeting to order and announced the singing of a hymn, "All hail the power of Jesus' name", after which Rev. P. L. Jull led in prayer.

Mr. Kidd spoke briefly on the object of the gathering together which was of a two fold character, to enjoy a social evening together and to say good bye to Mr. Jull, who for nine years had been their pastor, and it was a testimony of his worth that they loved him better than when he came and they hope and trust that he will return to the village.

The choir sang an anthem which was well received, after which W. H. Casement made a few remarks expressing his regret at Mr. Jull's departure but saying that everyone knew that they could not expect to have him much longer. Socially as a minister Mr. Jull had been a great success and his memory will remain green at the curling club where he had been an enthusiastic, expert and popular member of the club, acting as skip for several seasons. Personally and in the name of the congregation he felt they had benefited by the nine years of Mr. Jull's ministry. Mr. Casement closed by wishing Mr. Jull and his family every success.

Mr. A. J. Young read the following address to Mr. Jull and Mr. E. W. Bailey presented Mr. and Mrs. Jull with a beautiful Limoges china dinner set.

The Address to Mr. Jull.

Rev. P. L. Jull:

Dear Pastor,—We, the members and friends of this church, have assembled tonight in order to bid you farewell, and to express our very best wishes for success and happiness in your new field of labor.

It seems but a short time since we welcomed you to our village and to our homes, and still nine years have silently slipped away since that occasion and our acquaintance has quietly deepened with these years.

Great changes have come during these cycles of time, and through many of the deeper experiences we have passed together, but we have always felt that in the hour of greatest trial we had more than a good preacher for the pulpit. As a pastor you came into our homes with a cheerful heart and with a kindly spirit, and your prayer and counsel was a real benediction to the suffering. Through the cloud and the shadow you pointed us forward to the sunshine of a hopeful day in the future, and many a tear of suffering and despair was termed into a note of praise and a peaceful confidence in God.

We regret very much that this blessed relationship is to be severed and that you are going away, but we can assure you that the picture of these occasions will ever surround the happiest events of our lives, and that you will live in the hearts of the people of Lakefield as long as memory holds her throne. As a slight token of our love and respect we ask you to accept this souvenir, believing that it will ever remind you of the many friends that you have left behind that will always be ready to welcome you back to the village again.

We are sure that you will find plenty of friends wherever you go, and we join once more in the hope that you and your family may always be favored with the richest blessings of heaven, and that, when the crimson of life's setting sun shall adorn the hills with its glory, you may be surrounded with the souls of men and women whom you have encouraged in life, and have won for the Kingdom of God.

Signed on behalf of your many friends—A. J. Young, Clerk; F. J. Burgess, secretary-treasurer; J. A. Porter, chairman Board of Management. Lakefield, June 29th, 1926.

Mr. Bailey said a few words expressing on behalf of the congregations of Lakefield and Wesley good wishes to Mr. and Mrs. Jull for continued success.

Mr. Jull replied in his accustomed graceful manner saying that there are times when a man feels more humble than others and this is one of the times. It is a time when one is at a loss to express one's feelings and there is the risk of spoiling an occasion of this sort by a speech. The past years of ministry has been a period of blessing. It has always been our way to strive to go and to stay where duty lay and now it seems to point toward a change. We are parting but only a few miles divide us and we are just as deeply interested in Lakefield and Wesley as ever and we are heart and soul with you all, and although we are going through the gate to another field of labor, there is no fear that we will forget.

In thanking the congregation for the kind words expressed in the address and by the speakers, Mr. Jull urged that they would some times say some encouraging words to his successor. Lakefield does not usually wear its heart on its sleeve and sometimes a man grows hungry for a few kind words of appreciation. When a man has prepared a sermon, which is not the work of just an hour or two, he is glad of a few words of encouragement and some sign as to whether the seed has fallen on good ground. One thing in the address was especially pleasing, the part which referred to bringing courage and hope into the homes. There is nothing in life so much needed today as a real faith in God.

The speaker closed by saying that he was an optimist, though not an easy going one, as it was out of the deep waters and the shadows that he came to the pulpit. He trusted in the invisible God and tried to preach the truth as he knew it and also tried to play the game of life to the best of his ability.

Mr. Kidd, in commenting on Mr. Jull's remarks, said that in his opinion the days of shadow were good for us all, they tended toward our improvement.

Mr. Harrison of Wesley church expressed the good wishes of Wesley congregation to Mr. Jull and his family and while the association had not been as long as for Lakefield and covered a few months they appreciated Mr. Jull's services and will always be glad to welcome him back again.

The ladies of the congregation had a part to play also in the programme and Mrs. Burgess read the following address:

Address to Mrs. Jull.

Dear Mrs. Jull:

It is by working with people that we learn to appreciate their sterling qualities and only where we are about to lose a friend that we realize her true worth. So it was with feelings of deep regret that we learnt of your approaching departure to a new field of labor.

Each person has a work to do in the church and you have succeeded exceptionally well in yours, because in the first place, the church and missionary work are fundamental interests in your life, which will fill your whole heart and soul; in the second place, because you possess those qualities whose initial letters spell "Success": Strength, Uprightness, Courage, Calmness, Enthusiasm, Sacrifice and Self.

There is no clearer proof of the ultimate success of your leadership in missionary work, into which you have put so much loyal and untiring labor, than the enormous increase in missionary givings. Your office on the executive committee of the Presbyterial shows that it is not only we who are cognizant of your merit.

We often fail in our every day life to show our appreciation by a word of praise to those who serve us, and it is only on an occasion like this, one realizes that. What one feels cannot be expressed in a few mere words, but it is rather, something precious which lies deep within our hearts which we treasure, but find it difficult to give utterance to.

To convey to you something of our appreciation of your work among us, and of our love and esteem, we would ask you to accept this watch and silverware. Though distance divides us, the tick of the watch will keep telling you of loving thoughts from each of us. Our parting wish is that God's blessing and favor may guide you in your new field of labor.

Signed on behalf of the ladies of the United (Presbyterian) church of Lakefield—Mrs. F. J. Burgess, Mrs. T. Braden, Mrs. James Walton, Mrs. W. J. Charlton.

Mrs. Walton presented the wrist watch and Mrs. Braden a cabinet of silverware.

Mrs. Jull in replying said the address was more flattering than she deserved. In the nine years of residence she had learned to love them all from the children up, perhaps the children even more. The relations has been very happy both in the Missionary Society and the Ladies' Guild, personally her work had been greater in the Missionary Society. She had tried to do her duty faithfully, not only as the minister's wife but as the servant of Jesus Christ. The people of the congregation co-operated well and the work was a pleasure and one feels it will go on advancing in the efficient hands of the officers. We hope that the women of Wesley church will be linked up in the W.M.S. work before very long. Mrs. Jull thanked her friends for the kind remembrances which will always be treasured.

Rev. S. A. Kemp of the Regent street United church gave a short address just before the refreshments were served.

Mr. Kemp feels deeply the loss of Mr. Jull and greatly appreciated the opportunity to be present. Naturally it is harder to understand the layman's point of view than the pastor's but I feel tears in my soul to see the ties broken between pastor and people. There is no flattery in saying that Mr. Jull was a man among men, superior to most and it is gratifying to see such a large number here to express appreciation of his services. The affectionate regard gathers momentum all through the years and the ties are not really broken as there is always deep and keen interest. In the speaker's personal ministry he has only stayed three or four years in a place but finds that one congregation does not displace others and he retains green memories of noble men and women who stood firmly behind him. Mr. Jull was deeply interested in community life and an all round man like that is hard to follow. One cannot help sympathizing with the man who is coming but don't expect too much and greet him with the same interest and love as Mr. Jull.

Personally and on behalf of the Regent street church that no man will fill the Regent street church in the same sense as Mr. Jull and the latch string is always out and there is always a welcome for him who has proved to be a jolly good fellow.

The ladies of the congregation served generous refreshments after the hymn, "Blest be the tie that binds", was sung and the gathering broke up after singing "God be with us till we meet again" and three hearty cheers and a tiger for Mr. and Mrs. Jull.

Reports of Golden Wedding.

The accompanying items will be of interest to many old friends in Lakefield and the vicinity:

The following was taken from a California paper and refers to Mr. and Mrs. Moncrief (nee Finnie) who were well known in this community. The late Mrs. Thomas Webster and the late Mrs. William Hamilton were sisters of Mrs. Moncrief and Miss Hamilton, Miss Webster, Mrs. William Clysdale, Mrs. Beavis and Messrs. R. J. Webster, D. H. Webster, Lorne Webster and George and Andrew Hamilton are nieces and nephews.

"A letter just received by Mrs. C. C. Crowe of Sequoia, near Boulder Creek, from her mother, Mrs. David Moncrief, who, with her husband, is in Honolulu, gives particulars of the golden wedding anniversary celebrated April 19th by Mr. and Mrs. Moncrief.

"Leaving San Francisco the early part of April during the storm, they had a rough trip, with rain and high winds, but they proved good sailors and thoroughly enjoyed the trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Moncrief were met off port by their two sons, James and Melville and grandson David (son of Melville Moncrief) and all were decorated with loads of leis.

On the day of the anniversary the couple received all kinds of flowers, presents and messages. A tasty dinner was served in the tea gardens of the Louidor Hotel on Beach Walk, managed by Mr. and Mrs. James Moncrief. The decorations were all in gold, golden flowers being used in profusion and this color carried out in the food served as far as possible.

After the dinner it was decided to adjourn to Melville Moncrief's home to spend the evening and enjoy the flowers and, upon arriving they found the house full of people among whom were Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Fette and the Thomas McGratts, former well known Santa Cruzans. Each one in the surprise party had a handful of rice and the honored couple were soon in a shower of rice as on the day fifty years before.

Refreshments were served during the evening, which was pleasantly spent in chatting, singing of old songs, etc., till about 11 o'clock when the honored ones were given a big send off, with horns, whistles and other noise-making implements.

Mr. and Mrs. Moncrief were unaware that anything had been planned in their honor except the dinner and the evening's festivities came as a complete and most enjoyable surprise.

Mr. and Mrs. Moncrief, in company with their sons, have been visiting the many interesting places about the islands, and say the weather in Honolulu has been perfectly wonderful."

Mr. and Mrs. Moncrief, who reside on a ranch at Sequoia above Boulder Creek, left early in April to spend two months with their sons, James and D. Melville, the latter's son David, and Mr. and Mrs. James Moncrief. A daughter, Mrs. C. C. Crowe, formerly of Honolulu now resides at Boulder Creek.

The dinner given in their honor by Mr. and Mrs. James Moncrief at Louidor Hotel, was for the family and close friends. The table was set in a bower of tropical verdure on the lanai, and contrasting with the green of the ferns were quantities of California poppies and gorgeous golden chrysanthemums. The centre piece on the table was a large wedding cake, made and sent by Mrs. Moncrief of San Francisco, a distant relative, and was surrounded by a wreath of poppies and ferns."

Mr. and Mrs. David Moncrief were married in Norwood, Ontario, on April 19, 1876, and came to California soon after. For forty years or more they have made their home above Boulder Creek, and there the children were reared. Mr. Moncrief for some time served as a trustee of the Sesquoia school district and Mrs. Moncrief is an active member of the W.C.T.U. The couple have many friends in this country."

School Examinations.

The departmental examinations, Entrance, Lower and Middle school conclude this week and for some weeks there will be a great deal of anxiety in the minds of the dozens of boys and girls who have written. The outside attendance at the Entrance was not as large as usual this year owing to the increased number of smaller centres for writing.

Personals.

Mrs. Charles Hawkes, B.A., of Chandos, was in the village last week and for a few days this week with a contingent from S.S. No. 8, Chandos, who were trying the Lower school examinations. This is the first occasion on which pupils from this locality were fitted in their school for this examination and it is a very creditable achievement. The pupils are Hazel Campbell (Mrs. Hawke's niece) Josie Tanner and Ernest Tanner.

Mrs. Hawkes (nee Miss Campbell) renewed old acquaintances in the village where she was formerly well known, teaching in the school on Pattrick's hill or Ray's school, as it was then known, previous to going to Queen's University, Kingston, where she graduated.

KEENE PASTOR SAYS FAREWELL

Rev. A. McLaughlin Goes To Grafton United Church Circuit.

SOCIAL EVENING.

KEENE, July 6.—A large crowd attended the farewell social evening last week in the former Methodist Church for Rev. A. McLauchlin, Mrs. McLauchlin and their family, who left for Grafton on Thursday, where Mr. McLauchlin will have charge of the circuit.

Mr. McLauchlin had been pastor of the former Methodist Church for the past four years, and was well liked by his congregation.

The evening was spent in music and speeches, after which the ladies served a dainty lunch.

The following is the address read to Mr. McLauchlin:

"Dear Mr. McLauchlin:

"We, the members of the former Methodist Church of Keene, would like to take this opportunity of expressing ourselves at the event of your departure from amongst us. We have come to the parting of the ways. For four years we have been fellow travellers along the path of life, and our fellowship has been pleasant.

"We have shared the same joys, the same disappointments, we have met the same difficulties and similar victories, but now the road branches off. You must take one, while we follow the other. You will be called upon to make new friends, to face new situations, to tear yourself apart from familiar surroundings and adjust yourself to the new, but we hope that through it all you may prosper in both material and spiritual things. Your calling is a lofty one, and if called to sacrifice, great will be the reward.

"In looking back over these years we find them to be years of activity. The church has demanded more and more the consecrated efforts of its pastor and people. The transition through which the church has gone has required the same of its members.

"In bringing about Church Union, we would like to express our appreciation for the way you were willing to sacrifice time, energy and position. The fact that you resigned from your position in order that the cause of Union might be advanced makes it possible for us to honor you in our hearts.

"We hope that in the field to which you are called to labor you may have the loyal co-operation of the people in order that the church as an organization may be prosperous and its people edified.

"And it is our wish that Mrs. McLauchlin and yourself may be able to give many years of useful service to others, as you have given to us.

IN POLICE COURT.

Charged with being intoxicated in a public place, a local man pleaded guilty in Police Court this morning. The accused blamed some home brew beer he had in his home and which he drank.

He was fined $10 and costs, and almost before he had time to recover from the effect he was facing another charge of assault.

The accused promised to make restitution for the damage he had caused, and on receiving his assurance that he would behave himself in future, Magistrate Langley let him go with a severe lecture and another $10 fine.

ALDERMAN PHELAN

was another item of discussion. Alderman MacDonald objected to a special committee report recommending that protection be given to those residents outside the city who would sign a bond to cover the expense at a rate of $100.00 for the first hour and $50.00 for every subsequent hour. He charged hat it was showing favoritism but was assured by members of the committee that the procedure now in force, that of appealing to the mayor and reeve, would still apply to those who wouldn't or couldn't sign a bond.

Alderman MacDonald asked why the city should be making such an offer anyway, as he thought that the move should come from the townships. A letter from the township of North Monaghan saying that the proposed rates were excessive was characterized by Alderman Greene as an attempt to dictate to the city and he said that these people who wanted protection should become citizens. Finally the report was adopted.

Tax Collections

It was reported by City Treasurer Frank Adams that $9,002.95 of the taxes for 1925 had not been paid by the end of June, while at that date over a hundred thousand dollars of the 1926 taxes had been paid. The first instalment amounts to $238,165.90, and it was decided, in order to accommodate factory workmen to give two days of grace before adding the percentage extra for overdue accounts.

A request for a change in the date of Civic Holiday was referred to the Finance comittee. It was said that it was too late to make the change from the second Monday in August this year, but that something might be done next year.

The petition of certain bicycle store owners for an early closing by-law was referred to the Finance committee.

The question of restaurants selling cigarettes on Sundays without serving a meal to the customer was brought up in a protest signed by a number of tobacconists and was referred to the police commission.

Permission was granted J. J. Duffus to erect his electric sign at a new location at the end of his building, the work to be supervised by the City Engineer. It was decided to grant a license for an eating house to a tenant for R. J. Wolstenholme's building, although Alderman Greene said that the sooner such practice was discontinued the sooner would the old buildings be taken off and replaced.

Letters commending a suggestion to resurface George street south of Charlotte street were received from White and Ackword and the Maple Leaf Mililng Company, while the Kennel club wrote protesting against the methods of the dog catcher. Bishop O'Brien wrote to thank the council for the reception given the Apostolic Delegate on his recent visit to the city.

Several members of the council will take advantage of the invitation of the Amiesite company to visit Montreal and see the company's product on the streets of that city. They will go on Friday night, accompanied by City Engineer R. H. Parsons and Street Commissioner Harry Evans.

Entry Arch

The suggestion of an arch across the Provincial Highway at the entrance to the city was brought up by Alderman Greene who spoke of the large number of American cars coming and the large sums left in the district. He also suggested that the streets be marked out and moved that Aldermen Phelan and Denne be added to the committee in place of the Mayor and Alderman Fife. These members will meet with the Chief of Police and the City Engineer to consider the matter.

The bad condition of the devil strips along the street car lines on Charlotte and Park streets will be called to the attention of the Hydro Electric Power Commission, with a request for repairs.

Approval was expressed of the new lavatories for men installed at the Exhibition grounds, where they will be convenient for tourists using the camping facilities, and a check for the city's share of the cost will be issued.

Flowers and letters of condolence will be sent to Mayor and Mrs. Holloway and Alderman and Mrs. J. O. Fife, the two members of the council being ill.

WEDDING BELLS.

MONK—STEER.

BETHANY, July 6.—On Wednesday, June 30, at high noon, a very pretty outdoor wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Ezra Steer, Manvers, when their eldest daughter, Hazel Alma, became the bride of Mr. Bertrand Alred Monk, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Monk, Bethany. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Alfred Poulter, pastor of the United Church, Bethany, of which the young couple are active members, in the presence of about twenty-five of their immediate friends, under an arch of evergreens and orange blossoms on the terrace. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, looked dainty and sweet in a frock of powder blue silk crepe de chine, trimmed in gold. She wore blonde shoes and stockings, orange blossoms were twined in her hair, and she carried a sheaf of Ophelia roses. Miss Gladys Marshal of Lindsay, a cousin of the bride, played the Wedding March. During the signing of the register, which was witnessed by Miss Violet Jackson and Mr. Norman Steer of Peterboro, Mrs. Poulter sang. After the bride and groom had received the congratulation of the friends present, they led the way to the dining-room, which was a bower of bloom, and where the wedding luncheon was laid, the bride's cake occupying the centre of the table.

In the early afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Monk left for a short motor trip amid a shower of confetti and rice and the good wishes of their friends. Upon their return they will take up residence in the village of Bethany.

About fifty young people of the village gathered on Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Monk to welcome home Mr. and Mrs. Bertrand Monk. Games on the lawn and music over the radio were enjoyed for a time. Then dainty refreshments of ice cream and cake were served, each one present having a piece of the bride's cake. A sing-song followed the lunch and about midnight the group broke up with Auld Lang Syne and For He's a Jolly Good Fellow.

Mr. and Mrs. Monk received many beautiful and useful gifts. The groom's gift to the bride was a Williams' piano.

Miss Catherine English, Rochester, is also a guest of Miss Keegan.

Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Staples were in Bailieboro recently.

SCHOOL PICNIC.

S. S. 13, Percy, Holds Annual Outing To Hermiston Lake.

CAMPBELLFORD, July 6.—The annual picnic of Percy School Section No. 13 was held at Hermiston Lake on Thursday, July 1st, and was a decided success. The day was all that could be desired, and the picnic ground by the side of the lake was an ideal spot for a day's outing. Swings were erected for the children, and every accommodation that helps to make a picnic a success was there. Ice cream and soft drinks were abundant for all present.

After an excellent dinner, the races and games were placed, and the following were the prize-winners:

Girls' race, 6 years and under—1 Mary Herriot; 2 Flora Yule; 3 Eleanor Oliver.

Needle race—1 Mabel Dunk; 2 Reta Wynn.

In the softball games the married men were successful in winning against the single men, 18-12, and the single ladies were easy victors over the married ladies, 12-4.

The ladies prepared tea at five o'clock, to which everyone present did ample justice. After tea, every one prepared for the homeward trip, and all present voted an excellent day.

Several Campbellford people were present: Mr. Harold Dunk, who is teacher of the school there; Mr. and Mrs. James Hicks, at whose old farm the picnic was held; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fox, Mrs. Wynn, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fairman, and Mr. and Mrs. Salem Hoard.

Intelligent women who boast that they "got out of" jury service, then sit a bridge tables and criticize every verdict rendered are the target of a recent bulletin issued by the Judges and Jurors' Association of Ohio.

GUTHRIE SAYS PRIME MINISTER

"In regard to the last question raised by the Right Honorable Mr. King to the regularity of the dissolution of Parliament, it is only necessary to state that all matters of procedure were prepared by the Clerk of the Privy Council with the approval of Mr. Mulvey, under secretary of state, and were all in accordance with the established practice in the office of the Privy Council.

"As respects the complaint by the Right Honorable Mr. Mackenzie King about the manenr of dissolution of parliament, it may be stated that the forms and procedure used followed precisely the same as those prepared and proposed by Mr. King himself just four days previously, when he himself sought dissolution of parliament. The effect of the dissolution on pending legislation and supplies was precisely the same as would have been the effect had Mr. King secured a dissolution on the previous Monday.

"In connection with the above it is to be noted that the clerk of the Privy Council and the deputy minister of justice are not political appointees of the present government, but were both appointed to their present high offices by the government of the Right Honorable Mackenzie King."

Don't hide yours any longer. Accept this remarkable dental test that restores "off-color" teeth to whiteness, and firms gums.

A new method in clearing up cloudy teeth, in giving "off-color" teeth an almost dazzling whiteness has been found.

It works by removing a dingy film that forms on your teeth, and dulls them by absorbing discolorations from food, smoking, etc. A slippery film you can feel with your tongue; and that invites germ growth, decayed teeth and gum troubles.

Old-type dentifrices failed to remove it successfully. That's why brushing fails you.

Beneath it are the teeth you envy in others. One's whole appearance changes as clear, white teeth come.

The name is Pepsodent. Thousands now employ it. The makers will send you a tube to try. Or . . . obtain large tube for a few cents at your druggist.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK?

THAT the best merchandise won't sell well unless it is well advertised.

THAT the sooner occasional advertisers start continuous advertising the sooner they will have a better paying business.

THAT quality is what makes a big appeal to the public. No use advertising any other kind.

THAT continuous advertising is proof that the advertisers will keep faith with their customers.

THAT the Nation's leading business concerns are building good will by continuous advertising of quality.

THAT advertising creates a worth while reputation for any business because it gives the buyer a real guarantee of quality and service.

THAT continuously advertised products are popular because they have all the qualities claimed for them.

The buyers who set up a loud wail about getting substitutes for quality are the ones who never read the advertisements before they buy.

It is just as easy to buy well advertised lines and be satisfied as it is to buy non-advertised lines and have grief and trouble.

(Copyright, 1926.)

A drop of her blood beneath a rosebush was formerly supposed to bring a girl beauty.

There's a Loon on a placid Lake;
There's a Thrush on a Pine, and he's trying to hide,
But I see through his honest fake.

On your vacation and nothing to do, eh?

All dressed up and nowhere to go, eh?

Here we are, out in the country, and it is full of nothing but trees and skies and emptiness? And no fun ner nothin', eh?

Well now listen!

When you run up against a vacation full of emptiness, don't let it get your goat. If you have nursed yourself into being entertained every minute of the day while in town, maybe a few days rest will not be unwelcome, but don't make the wornout mistake of fretting all day long because nobody cares a hang whether you are happy or sad. Use your eyes and ears. It is just possible that a couple of things in this world may have been overlooked in the seeing and hearing line by your over eagerness to be entertained.

All the visions are not in the movie houses, and all the noises, good and bad, are not in the radio trying to get painfully out. Maybe some visions and sounds worth looking at and hearing are in the country. To be sure, I have seen a sound and have heard a picture, all at the same time in the open country.

The whirr or drum roll of the wings of a partridge are things that may be heard and seen at the same time, although I must admit that these are more often heard at a distance. This drumming sounds just as though some sap couldn't get his motor boat to go for more than a few explosions or rapid put-puts. He tinkers a bit and she put-puts again, then dies out again.

Maybe, if you are lucky, you may both see and hear the northern lights, for sometimes they swish in the air and may be heard, and even pink shades, or blues and greens may be seen in them. I also recommend the voice of the Sweet Canada bird, or that of the Hermit Thrush. Go then and seek these; try to find and see the song coming from their throats; and complain again if you can.

HEART TROUBLE DROWNING CAUSE

Milton Girl Goes Swimming Too Soon After Eating Dinner.

WAS GOOD SWIMMER.

MILTON, Ont., July 6. — Nora Sargeant, aged 16 years, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Sargeant, was drowned yesterday afternoon in Martin's Lake here. Miss Sargeant had been berry picking all morning and after returning home ate a hearty dinner.

After resting a while she went in bathing in the lake. She swam for several minutes and finally took a dive. She remained under water for an unusual length of time and when she came to the top it was seen that she was drowning. When brought to shore Miss Sargeant was breathing but expired almost immediately.

It is believed that Miss Sargeant's heart was affected from being overheated and going in bathing too soon after eating her dinner as she was a good swimmer.

Lyrics Of Life

(By Douglas Malloch.)

THE SAXAPHONE CURE.

He said, "I'd like to have a sax,"
I answered, gentle as an ax,
"Why, son, I wouldn't think of it!"
And yet I did, and quite a bit,
And then one day I took the son
Downtown, of course, and bought him one.

And thereby hangs the strangest tale
You ever heard. If you should fail
To take my word, then ask my wife,
She'll tell you how a fellow's life
Was saved by that same saxaphone,
The queerest thing I've ever known.

When once the saxaphone he had,
Began to practice night and day.
Now, right next door a fellow lay
Upon his bed, an invalid,
Who had to listen to that kid.

Well, good fresh air and exercise
Are things that doctors all advise,
To make men want to be alone,
There's nothing like a saxaphone.
There's nothing like its shrieks and roars
To make men love the great outdoors.

Tomorrow: EXERCISE.

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

(By Mildred Marshall.)

Facts about your name, its history; its meaning; whence it was derived; its significance; your lucky day, and lucky jewel.

SYLVIA.

Perhaps the most poetic of all feminine names is Sylvia. Its origin dates back to mythological times when there was a deity called Sylvanus, a name derived from sylva, meaning wood or forest. Sylvanus was the protector of husbandmen and their crops. He was generally portrayed as an old man with a cypress tree in his hand. Just before the Christian era, Sylvanus became a Roman proper name and indirectly from it, is derived the masculine Silvius, through the old legend of the son of Aeneas and Lavinia, born in a wood, and hence called Aeneas Silvius.

Silvius was the name given to a member of the Piccolonnini family, who afterward became Pope. Sylvius and Sylvia became the favorite masculine and feminine names of the era and were specially applied to shepherds and shepherdesses, Sylvia's translation being "living in the wood." From its popularity in the time of pastoral romance, Sylvia became a poetical name for a country maid and has been much used in England as a village Christian name. Some believe it to have bestowed by a fanciful Lady Bountiful and its use thus given vogue.

Certainly the poets loved to write odes and sonnets and roundelays to Sylvias whose simple virtues and rustic beauty they exalted in lyrical extravagance. Indeed, Sylvia became the class name for rustic maidens, just as "Jane" has been slangily adopted as a synonym for any woman today. The best known of the poems to Sylvia is the charming lyric "Who is Sylvia?" of Shakespeare in his "Two Gentlemen of Verona:"

"Who is Sylvia? what is she,
That all the swains adore her?
Holy, fair, and wise is she:
The heavens such grace did lend her
That she might adored be.

Is she kind, or is she fair?
For beauty lives with kindness.
Love does to her eyes repair
To help him of his blindness—
And being helped, inhabits there."

Sylvia, simplest of rustic maidens, has for her talismanic stone, the simplest of gems, the turquoise. Set in gold, it will protect its wearer either riding or walking, so the legend goes. It is the Persians national stone and they believe that to see the new moon reflected in its blue gleaming surface, is sign of good fortune. Holly is Sylvia's flower: Saturday her lucky day, and 2 her tlaismanic number.

TO WIN SOMEONE MUST LOSE

"Where are we going to get fifty thousand dollars?" she asked, as though I who had not had more than two hundred and fifty dollars at one time in my life could go out and pick it up from the sidewalk in front of the door.

"But, Joan, you wouldn't give that scoundrel fifty thousand dollars even if you knew where you could get it, would you?" I asked.

"If he doesn't get it it will ruin me for life," she explained.

As I looked at her, an idea so fantastic came into my brain that I thought I must be going insane. However, it would not be dislodged, and I kept thinking that it might possibly be worked out.

I wasn't going to tell Joan about it, for she apparently knew nothing of her stepfather's personal affairs. If the plan was put through it would have to be put through by poor little me. If anything happened to make things go wrong, I would probably be arrested and sent to prison instead of Barry Cornwall.

"What shall I do, Judy? What shall I do?" Joan moaned, and I realized that I had been silent for a long time.

"Well, if I were you I would go for a little ride and take Judy Dean home. Then I would come back and go to bed. You have until tomorrow night, you know."

"Only until tomorrow, Judy—" Joan whispered. "I realize now how a murderer feels who is facing execution a few hours hence."

"You mustn't feel that way, Joan. Why don't you know that whole battles have been won in much less time than you have between now and tomorrow night."

"Yes, dear, but they have also been lost. We always talk about the winners in the battle, but there must be always the vanquished as well, you know."

"Don't feel that way, dear. It will all come out right. I am sure it will."

Joan turned to me almost with anger.

"Please don't talk to me if you must preach that Pollyanna stuff. I don't think I can bear it just now.

"It is horrible business, Judy, this trading on human trust by the hypocritical simulation of human love. Everyone in this city who knows Joan Meredith probably thinks she is the most to be envied girl in the world. Anyone of them when my name is mentioned knows that I am the richest girl in the city, and yet tonight you have seen that none is as poor as I.

"Judy, I can see no way out of this, but to die."

UNCLE WIGGILY Today's Bedtime Story

By Howard R. Garis

UNCLE WIGGILY'S CITY VISIT.

Copyright, 1926, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

(By Howard R. Garis.)

Uncle Wiggily was reading a letter in his hollow stump bungalow one day. As he read, the rabbit gentleman twinkled his pink nose very fast and seemed so excited that his wife asked:

"Has anything happened?"

"No, but something is going to happen," answered Mr. Longears. "We are going on a visit to the big city—you and I!"

"Oh!" gasped Mrs. Longears, and she was so excited that she had to sit down in a chair, which wasn't so good, because, a moment before, Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy had put a dish of eggs in that chair. But, as she was wearing a white and yellow dress just the color of eggs, it didn't matter so much as if she had been wearing a red dress.

"Oh! Go to the big city!" exclaimed Mrs. Longears, while Nurse Jane scraped off as much of the egg batter as she could, for she was going to make a cake and did not want to be wasteful.

"Yes," said Uncle Wiggily, trying not to laugh, "this letter is from my cousin, Mr. Hare, in the city. He wants us to visit him, and he is coming to get us in his automobile this afternoon. Hurray, my dear! We'll have a good time on our city visit!"

Mr. Longears danced up and down around the room.

"Oh! I can't possibly go, Wig," said his wife, sadly.

"Why not?"

"I can't leave the children—Jingle and Jangle, Namby and Pamby, Scrimble and Scramble, and——"

"Nonsense!" laughed Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy, the muskrat lady housekeeper. "You hop right along to the city, Mrs. Longears. I looked after this bungalow before Uncle Wiggily married you, and I can do it again, and the forty 'leven children, too!"

"All right," sighed the rabbit lady, for she had long wanted to go to the big city. And, that afternoon she and Uncle Wiggily journeyed there in Mr. Hare's big, stylish auto.

It did not take long to go from Woodland, near the Orange Ice Mountains, where Uncle Wiggily lived, to the big city. Soon the green country was left behind and they began traveling through a cloud that was black and gray.

"Oh, we are going to have a thunderstorm!" exclaimed Mrs. Longears. "You had better hurry, Cousin Hare, or we'll be caught in it."

"Ha! Ha!" laughed the city rabbit. "That's no thunder cloud. It is just dust and smoke. We always have it that way in this town!"

"Oh!" said Uncle Wiggily and his wife said the same thing, only louder. "OH!" The auto traveled on, until, all of a sudden a Police Dog held up his paw, Mr Hare jammed on the brakes, the car stopped, and the city rabbit shouted:

"Well, what's the big idea?"

"You're arrested for speeding!" barked the Police Dog.

"Applesauce!" said Mr. Hare, sneering like.

"Tell that to the judge!" laughed the Police Dog hoarsely. "Here is your ticket," and he handed Mr. Hare a red card.

"Has anything happened?" asked Mrs. Longears timidly.

"Oh, I was just arrested for going a bit too fast," said Mr. Hare as he drove on, but more slowly. "I should worry! I know a friend who has a friend who knows the judge. He'll fix it for me."

"You're arrested for speeding!"

"Can't you go as fast as you like in your own auto?" asked Uncle Wiggily.

"Not in the city you can't," answered his cousin. "But you will be sure to like it here. And this is my burrow." He stopped the car in front of a house, in a row with forty sixteen other houses just like it and Uncle Wiggily and his wife went in.

"Dear me!" whispered the rabbit lady to her husband, "isn't it close and stuffy in here, Not like our bungalow!"

"Hush!" whispered Uncle Wiggily. "Remember this is the big, wonderful city, and we shall see strange sights!"

And, just then, a most tremendous noise was heard. It seemed to shake the very ground, and Uncle Wiggily and his wife trembled.

"Oh, it's an earthquake! I know it is!" screamed Mrs. Longears. "The house is going to fall down!" She tried to rush out, but Mr. Hare caught hold of her. And what happened next you shall hear tomorrow night when the story will be about Uncle Wiggily and the big bang—that is, if the corkscrew doesn't pull a tooth out of the rubber comb, to play golf with it.

Tomorrow's HOROSCOPE

By Genevieve Kemble

WEDNESDAY JULY 7.

According to lunar transits ruling this day many lively and interesting developments may be expected. Under the pleasant stimulus of Mars, assisted by the alert Mercury, there should be a spirit of initiative and resourcefulness which may prompt to quick turnovers in speculation as well as in mercantile transactions. Publishings and correspondence are also said to be under favorable rule and also short journeys and employment.

Those whose birthday it is are under the prospect of a year of lively developments in which quick turns should prosper. This, either in speculation, business, writing or short contracts. Those in the employment of others should avail themselves of favoring planetary conditions.

A child born on this day may be versatile, quick and clever, with initiative leading into projects of a bold and adventurous nature. They may incline to gambling and speculation.

Nothing is so different but maybe won by industry.—Terence.

Oh, give us the man that sings at his work.—Carlyle.

LOVE LETTERS THAT MADE HISTORY

(By Joseph Kaye.)

BOBBIE BURNS TO MRS. McLEHOSE

Bobbie Burns, the national poet of Scotland, had his own ethics where love was concerned. He applied the same principles to the cup of good cheer. The following letter is therefore surprising in its note of naive passion. It is the restless expressions of a youth who has looked into a pair of coquettish blue eyes with thrilling fear and trembled at the rosy blush on a fair cheek.

This letter is marked by a total absence of the Scotch idiom, which has made his poetry to beloved.

"I am a discontented ghost—a perturbed spirit. Clarinda, if you ever forget Sulvander may you be happy, but he will be miserable.

"Oh, what a fool I am in love! What an extraordinary prodigal affection! Why are your sex called the tender sex when I have never met one who can repay me in passion? They are all either not so rich in love as I am or they are niggards where I am lavish.

"Oh, Thou, whose I am, and whose are all my ways, Thou seest me here the hapless wreck of tides and tempests in my own bosom: do Thou direct to Thyself that ardent love for which I have so often sought a return, in vain, from my fellow creatures! If Thy goodness has yet such a gift in store for me as an equal return of affection from her, who, Thou knowest, is dearer to me than life, do Thou bless and hallow our bond of love and friendship: watch over us in all our outgoings and incomings for good: and may the tie that unites our hearts be strong and indissoluble as the thread of man's immortal life.

Sylvander."

YOUR JEWEL COLOR FLOWER

By Mildred Marshall

The lapis-lazuli is both the talismanic and natal stones for today. Among the ancient Egyptians it was regarded as a stone for sirens, and Cleopatra and other famous women frequently wore it as an ornament. It is also believed to be a cure for the unhappiness arising from disappointment in love. It is also endowed with the power to cure various forms of favor, but those who wish to benefit by it must wear it close to the flesh.

White should be worn today. Sacred to the moon goddess, it is symbolic of purity, and is fortunate for young girls.

The lily-of-the-valley is today's flower. Significant of purity and the beauty of youth, it is especially designated for weddings.

YOUTH DROWNED WHILE SWIMMING

RICHWOOD, Ont., July 6. — A drowning accident occurred here when Edward Richardson, 16, met death by drowning while bathing with a number of companions in the River Nith.

The lad is said to have ventured into deep water at a point that has been considered dangerous in years gone by, and not being a good swimmer he was unable to reach the bank. Efforts at rescue were made but owing to lack of grappling appliances and difficulty in locating the body, it was nearly two hours before the recovery of the victim was effected. Attempts were made to induce respiration without avail.

LIBERAL LEADER IN ALBERTA LOSES

Capt. J. T. Shaw Defeated By B. S. Plummer, U.F.A. Candidate.

CALGARY, Alta., July 6. — Announcement of the second count of votes in the Bow Valley constituency gives the seat to B. S. Plumber, the U.F.A. candidate, defeating Captain J. T. Shaw, Liberal leader in the Province, who contested the seat in the Provincial elections June 28.

The result of the second count was: Captain Shaw, 1039; Plumber, 1039. The Act provides that in case of a tie the candidate getting the larger number of first choices will automatically be elected. On the first count Plumber had 23 votes more than Shaw. The supporters of Captain Shaw may insist upon a recount.

HE HAD ONLY ONE CHILD, A DAUGHTER, AND HE FORESAW THAT SHE MUST BE PROVIDED WITH A HUSBAND WHO WOULD BE FIT TO BE KING AFTER HIM. WHERE TO FIND ONE RICH ENOUGH AND CLEVER ENOUGH TO BE A SUITABLE MATCH FOR THE PRINCESS WAS WHAT TROUBLED HIM MOST.

AT LAST HE DEVISED A PLAN. HE MADE A PROCLAMATION OVER HIS AND THE NEIGHBORING KINGDOMS THAT WHOEVER BROUGHT HIM A DOZEN OF THE FINEST PEARLS AND COULD PERFORM CERTAIN TASKS THAT WOULD BE SET HIM SHOULD HAVE THE PRINCESS IN MARRIAGE AND IN DUE TIME SUCCEED TO THE THRONE.

THE PEARLS HE THOUGHT COULD ONLY BE BROUGHT BY A WEALTHY MAN AND THE TASKS WOULD REQUIRE UNUSUAL TALENTS. RICH MEN AND FOREIGN PRINCES TRIED AND FAILED, FOR, THOUGH THEY COULD ALL PRODUCE MAGNIFICENT PEARLS, NOT ONE COULD PERFORM EVEN THE SIMPLEST OF THE TASKS.

TOURING CRICKETERS EXHIBIT SPLENDID PLAY AGAINST NOTTS

Strong Hitting Features Game That Attracted 16,000 Spectators.

WOODFUL SHINES.

English Club Faced Prospect of Defeat By Entire Innings.

NOTTINGHAM, England, July 6 (Canadian Press Cable).—The second day's play in the scheduled encounter between the touring Australian cricketers and Nottinghamshire, staged at Trent Bridge, found Nottingham in desperate straits, and with apparently no hope whatever of averting a defeat by an entire innings plus some runs. Even with another day to go, their downfall can be taken for granted, the only question being by what margin. It was the resolute batting of W. M. Woodful, who displayed a fine return to his previous form, which settled Nottingham's case. His 102 yesterday, accumulated in quick time, coupled with the 91 by T. J. E. Andrews, and further reinforced by Warren Bardsley's 87 and C. G. Macartney's 81, put Notts in a hopeless position.

Five Bowlers

Nottingham tried five bowlers, Larwood, the young Test match player; T. L. Richmond, who saw service against the Australians in Test matches in 1921; S. J. Staples, Flint and Barratt. Not one of them could solve the Australians' defence, however. Added to that, Nottingham uncovered a slight weakness behind the wicket, as indicated by the extras conceded to the tourists.

When the game was resumed yesterday forenoon, the statistics from the previous day's play gave Nottingham all out for 193, compiled for the most part by Barratt and Flint, while the Australian score stood at 202 with the wickets of Richardson (1) and Macartney (81) down. Bardsley with 87 and Andrews with 25 were not out, and yesterday these players carried on where the game left off on Saturday.

Bardsley Stumped

The first sensation of the day occurred in the opening over when, after Mr. Bardsley had got firmly set, Larwood sent up a ball that crashed his leg stump. The 16,000 enthusiasts smiled at the obvious astonishment of the Australian vice-captain. J. M. Taylor was sent in to partner Andrews, but his sojourn at bat was brief, Staples catching him off Larwood at 6. William H. Ponsford was no more fortunate, for when he had added eight runs to the total Barratt dismissed him.

The situation at this juncture did not look to bad for the home country, but the advent of W. M. Woodful put an entirely different complexion on the game. He settled down with Andrews to some steady playing, and, having mastered all the arts of the Nottingham bowlers, he gave a fine demonstration of powerful driving. The pair made the score mount steadily and the third century was hung up with these two still going strong. Some over-confidence on the part of Andrews broke the partnership, however. He began to treat the Nots bowlers with too much disdain, with the result that at 306 he was snapped up by Barratt off Flint.

Strong Hitting.

W. M. Oldfield, Australia's wicket-keeper, joined Woodful and against some strong hitting was exhibited. This ended when Oldfield was caught out by Larwood off Flint. Clarence Grimmett and A. A. Mailey followed, with Grimmett falling at 16 and Mailey at 8. A last wicket raly by J. N. Gregory furnished one of the brightest spots of a perfect innings when Gregory notched up 21 before Richmond took his wicket.

Facing a deficit of 275 in the first innings alone, Notts took the bat for a second time and play was slow. Whysall opened with Walker and with such caution did the batsmen play that only 17 runs had been scored in 30 minutes. It was at this figure that Whysall returned the simplest sort of catch to Mailey, who got him easily. Walker was joined by Ben Willey, the Notts wicket-keeper, and just to keep things in their proper balance, Lilley was stumped by Oldfield at 8. A. W. Carr, the captain, had a brief innings, falling to Woodfull off Mailey at 2, while Walker was also dismissed, thus paving the way for the brighest spot on Notts escutcheon, the stand of Payton. He and Turner were paired for a time with Payton doing the honors in the way of acquiring runs, but Turner went the way of his confreres and Flint came on the scene. Half of Nottingham's side was out of the half century. Payton made a gallant effort to stir up something, and in one over he drove Mailey for three fours, but at 71 for six wickets he lost Flint, and Staples joined him. The two played out time with the score standing 94 for six.

COMING BATTLES.

In keeping with the schedule drawn up by the Peterborough Association, Royals and Seals and Maple Leafs and Kiwanis will play off games in the Bantam section on Saturday at King Edward School Grounds. On Wednesday evening at 5 o'clock, at the Rotary Carnival, Lindsay Rotary Junior will play the local Kiwanis Juveniles. More than fifty cars will convey fans from Lindsay to the game, and a stirring contest is anticipated.

O.B.A.A. BULLETIN

A bulletin from the Ontario Baseball Amateur Association says:

Now that baseball activities are well under way in all sections, league secretaries should caution their various clubs as to the importance of the following sections of the by-laws and constitution:

"July 15 is the last date for signing certificates. As the Executive cannot make any exceptions to this rule, a strict observance of the clause will eliminate the necessity of requests for special permission to use various players who are not signed in time.

"Three-game rule. This clause is very clear, and states that a player must have taken part in at least three league games in order to be eligible to play in the Ontario championships."

No player should be allowed to play in any league games before his certificate has been filed with the league secretary.

Failure to observe the above rules has resulted in numerous appeals to the Executive Committee.

Haldimand County Junior League, A. L. Kohler, Secretary, Cayuga, Ont., and North York Junior League, Jack Legood, Secretary, Newmarket, Ont., are two new affiliations. Please add these to the list of affiliations on page 36 of the 1926 booklet of constitution and bylaws.

Applications for affiliations from the following new leagues have been received, and will be referred to the Executive Committee:

Lindsay Town League (intermediate), N. Mark, Secretary, Lindsay.

Soo City Junior League, W. J. Edwards, Secretary, Sault Ste. Marie.

Trent Valley Intermediate League, H. F. McNichol, Secretary, Havelock.

Attention is again directed to dates when league winners must be ready to take part in the play-offs:

Bantam, midget, juvenile and junior—August 14.

Intermediate—August 21.

Senior—August 28.

The bylaws allow additional time when more than one league is operated.

League officers are requested to arrange for all postponed games to conform with above dates. Last year several leagues were refused extension of time with the result that teams were obliged to play four and five days in succession.

LEAGUE CHAMPS WIN BOTH ENDS

Cleveland and Chicago Make an Equal Divide—Win One Each.

SENATORS' TWO.

NEW YORK, July 6 (Canadian Press).—At the exposition town the Athletics took both games of the holiday bill with the league-leading Yankees, winning the morning contest 2 to 1, and the afternoon game 6 to 3. Grove fanned 12 and allowed but four hits in the morning affair and went to the rescue in the 7th inning of the second game, to hold the Yanks in check.

Cleveland and Chicago divided the day, the Indians winning the morning game, 4 to 2, by bunching hits off Ted Lyons, while Thomas held the visitors to six hits and shut them out, 8 to 0. The White Sox won the game by driving Buckeye off the mound in the first inning, and continuing the attack on Benge.

Johnson and Marberry pitched Washington to a double victory over the Red Sox, the Senators winning the first game of an afternoon double header 7 to 4, and the second 3 to 2.

The veteran hurler held the Red Sox to 7 hits in the opener, while Marberry, whose usual role is relief pitcher, yielded the same number, only one for extra bases, in the second. It was the first time this season he had started a game.

Vangilder and Zachary mastered Detroit batters yesterday and St. Louis took both games on the double bill. The Browns had a four to three margin in the first game, clipping a belated rally that threatened to tie the score in the ninth. They won the second game, 6 to 3, by falling hard on Whitehill in the sixth, scoring six runs.

PHILLIES SCORE DOUBLE VICTORY OVER NEW YORK

GOOD PITCHING.

NEW YORK, July 6 (Canadian Press).—The Phillies celebrated the holiday with a double victory over the Giants yesterday by scores of 6 to 3, and 5 to 4. Carlson pitched a steady game in the opener, keeping eight hits well scattered. Bunched hits in the second and third innings of the final struggle gave the visitors all their runs. Excellent relief pitching by Mitchell featured.

Pittsburgh and Chicago divided a double bill yesterday at Pittsburgh, the Pirates capturing the morning game 4 to 1, and Chicago the afternoon set-to-, 10 to 7.

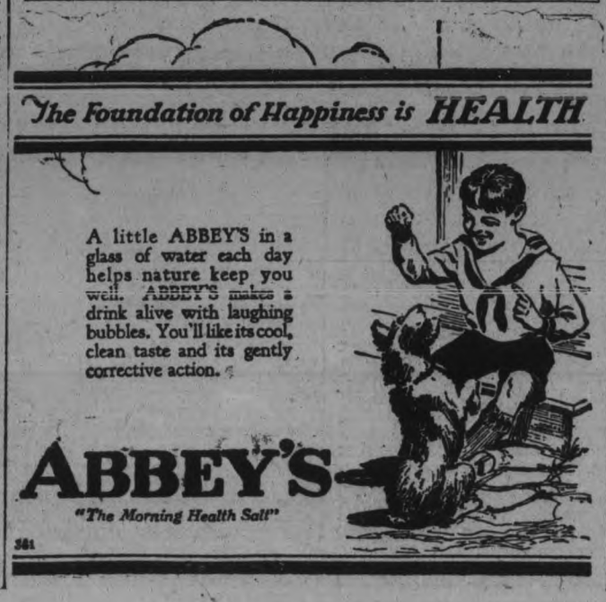
The afternoon game was a slugfest, the champions using five pitchers who gave the Cubs 14 hits. Chicago scored eight runs in the first two innings, Adams leading the attack for the visitors with five hits.

The Braves split a double header with Brooklyn at Boston yesterday, winning the initial combat by 5 to 4, and dropping the second engagement by 14 to 5. The Robins fell on five opposing hurlers for 17 hits in the closing battle. Herman counting for a double, triple and a pair of singles.

Cincinnati and St. Louis divided a double header here yesterday, the league leaders shutting out the Cardinals 4 to 0 in the first and the locals taking the second game, 7 to 5.

Southworth broke up the second contest by knocking out a home run in the eighth inning, scoring a man ahead of him. Donohue held St. Louis to six scattered hits in the opener.

A woman who died in London some months ago is said to have left the longest will on record. It consisted of more than 1,000 sheets of ninety words each.



TRIPLE LINKS BEAT BARACAS

Winners Have Chance Of Place in Post Season Series.

Last night the Triple Link defeated the Baracas in Central Park 12 to 3. Both teams hit the ball, but the winners were able to get safe hits. The Baracas pulled off some costly errors, especially in the infield. The Triple Link did all their scoring in four innings and the Baracas were shut out in all but the third and fifth. Only one man was walked and this was by Montgomery, who was pitching his first game of the season. Cheu made a fine running catch in which he ran over to the foul line to take one of Butcher's line drives. This win for the Triple Link gives them a chance of a place in the post-season series to declare a winner to go into the Ontario play-offs.

to Seymour Township at $10 a day for a month, if required that long, was granted by the Council in response to a request by Reeve Grills and Dr. G. A. Hay, clerk of the township. The town's crew will be used and will be paid by the township, which also supplies the fuel, and will pay half the cost of any breakages.

Walter Fowlds of Hastings, a member of the executive of the recently organized Eastern Ontario Chamber of Commerce, wrote the Council asking for any suggestions from Campbellford for the executive meeting in Belleville to-day.

Mayor Kingston said that one of the questtions inroduced at the initial meeting was the improvement of the C.N.R. service between Peterboro and Belleville, and suggested that a resolution be drafted and forwarded to Mr. Fowlds for presentation to the committee.

The drawing of the resolution was left to the Mayor, Deputy-Reeve Palliser and Town Clerk McGregor.

Seymour Pays Share.

Of the $13,228.27 aggregate payments passed by Seymour Township Council Monday afternoon, $1,000 was the township's contribution to the fund for the payment of the soldiers' memorial monument recently unveiled in Campbellford.

Much of the time of the meeting was taken up with the discussion of road work in the township. Many of the roads suffered so badly during the spring that this summer's work will be largely confined to patching.

Mr. Diamond Home.

T. L. Diamond, driver of the car in the wreck near Peterboro on June 24, in which Mrs. W. I. Stillman lost her life, returned to Campbellford yesterday afternoon. He motored from the Nicholls Hospital, Peterboro, with Reeve Davidson, and was greeted by many of his friends who learned of his home-coming. Mrs. Diamond is still confined to bed in the hospital, and is reported improving.

Mrs. Glenn Vanderwater, of Toronto, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Diamond, who has been in Peterboro since her parents were injured, visited relatives and friends here yesterday.

R. S. Southworth began Monday work on his property at Bridge and Rear Streets, on which he has announced his intention to build an automobile service station.

Rev. A. Buchanan Carey of Edinburgh, Scotland, conducted both services at St. Andrew's Church Sunday, and may be heard again next Sunday. Rev. Mr. Carey has been in Canada but three weeks and has a call to Guelph. Both his sermons Sunday were intently received by large congregations.

Rev. C. J. Phelan left yesterday to attend the diocesan retreat at St. Augustine's seminary until Friday.

New Dance Hall

The dance pavilion, known as the Campbellford Community Hall, newly built by John L. Hay, was opened last night with a large attendance of young people from the town and district. Leonard's Orchestra of seven pieces provided a snappy programme of the newest dance music, and J. R. Battisby spoke briefly for the management, declaring the intention to maintain the community hall on a high social plane and appealing to the public and patrons for their co-operation. The hall is 80 by 40 feet, well lighted, and with a retiring room for ladies. The seven piece orchestra has been engaged for Monday, Wednesday and Saturday evenings.

To make sure of his license for the new dance hall, J. L. Hay made a forced trip to Toronto and back by train in 12 hours yesterday. He left by Havelock at 4.20 a.m., reaching Toronto at 7.20 and returned by C. N. R. via Port Hope, leaving Toronto at 9 a.m., and arriving home at 1.33 p.m.

Injuries Fatal.

At the age of 42, the death occurred at the Nicholls Hospital, Peterboro on Sunday of Albert Nicholson. Deceased was injured at the rock quary at Preneveau last Thursday, when the pry he was using to dislodge a large stone on the side of an embankment, broke, and he fell down on the rocks below, a distance of 16 feet, sustaining injuries about the head which proved fatal. The late Mr. Nicholson is survived by his wife and five children, Mrs. William Cochrane, Windsor, Sidney of Toronto; Goldie, Eva and Helen at home, also two brothers and four sisters, Wm., of Havelock, and Frederick of Trenton; Mrs. H. Wood and Mrs. Daniel Yeomans of Havelock, Miss Blanche of Brighton and Miss Mary of St. Catharines.

The funeral takes place to-day from his late residence to Campbellford United Church, where service will be held at 2 p.m. The remains will be laid to rest in Rockdale cemetery, Belleville.

HELPFUL HINTS BY GOLFING STARS

BY SPECIAL ARRANGEMENT WITH GOLFERS MAGAZINE, CHICAGO.

JIM BARNES—START WITH THE MASHIE.

The best results will be obtained by the beginner if he will start with a mashie, playing short chip shots first, and maybe doing a little practice with the putter. Lessons along this line ought to be kept up two or three times a week for at least two months.

My belief is that in this way the player acquires a better sense of distance and hence better control. Also he is more likely to acquire a smooth swing than he would if he starts trying to play full shots from the first.

I have noticed that players who begin by trying to play full shots may acquire some skill in hitting the ball with wooden clubs but they are invariably bad when it comes to anything like control, and this applies both as to distance and direction.

There is another angle. In spite of the important part the short game plays, the average golfer takes a much keener pride in his long game, and if he neglects the shorter shots in starting, he will find it harder and harder to concentrate on the shorter shots. The ball may often run up to the hole very prettily—and stop outside.

SECRETS of STARS on INSIDE BASEBALL

as told to BILLY EVANS

BY GROVER ALEXANDER.

Proper temperament is an ideal asset for every pitcher

No player on the ball field is subjected to as many unpleasand situations as the pitcher.

If he is prone to worry over the breaks of the game he will have plenty to fuss about. When a player cusses the breaks it generally affects his work.

No player has more tense situations put up to him than the pitcher. In every game there are at least a half dozen spots where the outcome hangs on a single pitch.

There are many occasions when some fluke hit, that possibly should have been caught, beats the pitcher out of a tough ball game. Such a happening doesn't tend to make the twirler smile but that is the time he should, even if it is forced.

When he gets such a break he should make it a point to recall some game where a sensational play by some of his teammates cut off what seemed certain to be a base hit and defeat.

On the whole, I find the breaks about even up during the season and it is folly to take the adverse ones to heart. It is best to figure you had them coming to make up for some of the good breaks.

One point I want to stress, it is that a pitcher will never get very far if he has a habit of criticizing his teammates when they err.

When a player makes an error, particularly a costly one, nobody in the ball park feels tougher than he does about it. To publicly denounce a player for such a slip breaks down the morale of the individual and club and kills the fighting spirit that every successful team must have.

Sales increased 3 times —by using Long Distance

If it pays this merchant to spend an average of $165. a month on Long Distance calls, by allowing customers to reverse charges on orders, it isn't necessarily because his goods are perishable. Our records show this policy is being adopted in many lines. Try it

FORMER CHAMPION WINS QUEEN'S PRIZE

Has Total of 178 For Four Practices—Canadians High.

BISLEY CAMP, England, July 6 (Canadian Press).—C. H. Church, army champion two years ago, had the highest ascertained score in the Queen Mary's prize competition finished at Bisley to-day. He had 178 for four practices.

The leading Canadians' scores were: Lieut. Desmond Burke, Ottawa, 165; Sergeant K. M. McGregor, Ottawa, 150; Private J. Houlden, Hamilton, 148.

If the third out of an inning is caused by a player batting improperly what batter starts the next inning?

I will explain this situation by offering a concrete example of such a happening.

We will assume that Jones is the third batsman in the lineup and Smith the fourth. Through a mistake Smith bats improperly and it is discovered that Jones should have been the proper batsman. An appeal is made to the umpire.

This calls for the proper batsman, Jones to be called out. Smith, who batted improperly and follows Jones in the regular batting order, should start the next inning.

In other words, when a man bats improperly and the mistake is discovered, the proper batsman being called out to end the inning, the first batter in the next inning should always be the man who follows the proper batsman.

POSTIES WIN.

Defeat Brintons 9-8 in Fast Game of Softball.

Last night at Nicholls Oval the Post Office defeated the Brintons, 9 to 8, in a very close game of softball. The winners scored four runs in the second and three in the third, but at the end of the eighth the game was tied. The Brintons got the most hits and they did not make as many errors, but their hits were more scattered. The teams:

Post Office — Nichols, Dobson, Baker, Graham, Collins, Ross, Cook, Bell, and Smith.

Score by innings:

Brintons	0	1	2	0	1	2	0	2	0	0—8 12 4

Umpires—Kay and Coursey.

Delightful Reader-Entertainer Coming

"The Girl From the West," they call Jane Goude, popular reader-entertainer, who will appear here at the coming Dominion Chautauqua, and in her sobriquet is found very definitely the certain something that differentiates Miss Goude from other readers. There is a freedom and vigor about her work, a broadness to her vision and a fresh, wholesome spirit and zest to her personality that conjure up the great American West from which she comes.

She has a keen understanding of what people really enjoy, has Jane

JANE GOUDE

Goude, and her programs are designed, first of all, to please her audiences. Humorous and serious readings and impersonations ranging from Riley to Shakespeare are included in her repertoire. Delightful bits of pure comedy sparkle among emotional and dramatic numbers. A distinctly original feature of her work consists of the exemplification, in artistic pose, of classic stories.

All Miss Goude's selections are interpreted with a sincerity and ability that have made her a favorite wherever she has appeared.

PARADE FORBIDDEN.

Cabinet Council Forbids Demonstration Against Washington Debt Settlement.

PARIS, July 6 (Canadian Press).—The Cabinet Council this morning decided to forbid the demonstration by former soldiers against the Washington debt settlement, set for next Sunday, as discourteous to the United States and inimical to public order. The Cabinet regarded the demonstration as purely a political move, inspired by the Communists.

Moviegraphs

New York.—A Russian lad, whose father had been in the diplomatic service of the czar as minister to Lithuania, found refuge in Paris, as have so many other of his brothers in ex-nobility.

He had been brought up in the tradition of royalty. For a century his family had been titled court personages. His were the manners of the young noble.

Transplanted today into the screen representations of society, Amil Lebedeff fit like a glove. It is no secret in the Paramount Long Island studios that this young man is being groomed for stardom. It is no secret that David Wark Griffith considers him an outstanding "find" of the year. In a short time he is expected to be quite as popular as John Gilbert and to play similar roles.

Lebedeff is now playing the "devil's secretary" in the Griffith production of "The Sorrows of Satan," in which Adolphe Menjou is starred.

He had been considered for the leading part, but Menjou became available and the drawing power of Menjou was given due consideration.

A romantic tale is related by Lebedeff concerning how he came to the American film camps.

His family rent by the revolution, some of his kin imprisoned and some dead, he found himself in Paris, disconsolate and about penniless. He took work in a French film studio.

One day he happened to attend a movie house where Griffith's "Isn't Life Wonderful?" was being shown.

"I saw there a picture of great suffering. I had just passed through a long period of suffering and there was a kinship between the film story and mine," he relates.

There and then he determined that he would work for Griffith and made his way to America with that purpose.

MORE IMMIGRATION.

Figures Show Large Increase Over First Part of 1925.

OTTAWA, July 6 (Canadian Press).—A compilation of immigration to Canada for the first four months of the calendar year 1926 shows an increase over the same four months in 1925. The actual figures are 39,442 in four months of this year, compared with 31,776 in the same period a year ago. There has been in increase in every month of the year ranging from 16 per cent. in January to 132 per cent. in March. For the four months in question British immigration increased 9,319 to 13,925; immigration from the United States increased from 4,778 to 5,797, and from other countries increased from 7,679 to 19,722.

PILSUDSKI RULES POLISH MEMBERS

WARSAW, Poland, July 6.—(Associated Press.) — The Polish diet opened yesterday with the debate on the Government's proposal to amend the constitution, aiming at increasing the executive's power. Opposition was offered by the Socialists, a section of the Radical peasants and all the Radical minorities.

A Socialist motion to reject the amendment will be voted upon today, but its passage is generally considered hopeless as the majority of the diet are still under the influence of Marshal Pilsudski and are therefore expected to agree to the Government's proposal.

WILL NOT RETIRE.

Progressive Leader To Contest Brandon Seat in Next Election.

WINNIPEG, Man., July 6.—"If the people of Brandon want me I am ready to take off my coat and start in," said Robert Forke, leader of the Progressive party during the last session of the House of Commons and Federal member for Brandon. Mr. Forke denied emphatically rumors which have been in circulation here to the effect that he would retire from politics, and not contest the Brandon seat at the forthcoming elections.

NIAGARA FALLS, N.Y., July 6.—(Associated Press.) — Niagara Gorge Railway employes late yesterday recovered from the lower river, near the outlet of the Whirlpool, the body of a boy believed to be Donald Ritzhaupt, nine-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Ritzhaupt, of Cleveland Avenue, Niagara Falls.

The boy was drowned in April when he fell into the Whirlpool rapids while playing with other boys on the river bank.

THE BIG ROTARY CARNIVAL OFF TO FINE START

FUN FOR EVERYONE.

Dancing One of the Popular Features of Opening Night.

Opening with a street parade, headed by three dashing lady riders, and including the Salvation Army Boys' Band, a number of decorated floats, several clowns, and an array of automobiles, the Rotary Carnival got away to a flying start last night. Weather conditions were perfect and the Harry Lottridge Carnival Shows opened to a huge crowd, which packed the midway and gave itself over completely to the enjoyment of the occasion.

The Lottridge Shows, an all-Canadian organization, provided a carnival that will give Peterboro a lot of fun this week. They have a huge Ferris wheel, a superior merry-go-round, the ever-popular Whip, and a number of shows, including a dancing show, that should do plenty of business. The concessionaires with the carnival have attractive lay-outs, with an unusually worth while list of prizes for the lucky, and each of them seemed to be well patronized with the Bingo game as much in favor as ever.

One of the most popular attractions at the Carnival last night was the dance platform of the Rotary Annes, which throughout the evening was surrounded by a four-deep fringe of humanity, while there was never any dearth of dancers. The Rotary Annes will conduct another dance on Thursday night, and judging by last night's patronage, are justified in looking forward to a very successful event.

The proceeds, which the Rotary Club receive from the Carnival are to be diverted to crippled children's work, boys' camps and other social service activities, and in view of that fact the big attendance at the exhibition grounds last night is particularly gratifying.

The Rotarians were much in evidence last night, many of them being on duty along the Midway, and the fine start to the week's carnival was appreciated by every member of the club.

The popular amusement spot this week will be the Exhibition grounds, where the bright lights, the flash of the concessionaires' prizes, the appealing vocal efforts of the various spielers, and all the other features of a modern carnival combine to form an irresistible lure.

And the best of it, a splendid cause is being helped in the midst of all this fun.

Are We Becoming Drones?

"The history of the end of the Roman Empire is being repeated among us."

A party of educated and experienced English tourists were wrecked one morning on an uninhabited island. The steamer sank slowly in a calm sea, and the passengers had time to put some useful bits of hand-luggage and stores into the ship's boats: but before this particular boat reached this particular Island it went through some roughish, damp and exhausting oceanic adventures, in which the only two sailors on board were drowned.

However, the morning was fine and warm, the scenery lovely, and the streams fresh: and there was no sign of cannibals or ravening beasts. When they had beached and emptied the boat a middle-aged millionaire, who had assumed command, said that the first thing to do was to light a fire, and he called on the girls for this task. All the girls said that they didn't know how to light a fire and never had lighted a fire.

"How do you manage at home?"

They replied that they just turned on a switch or put a match to the gas-stove. So they were instructed to rub two dry sticks together, as the matches were soaked with sea-water, while a man with a gun went forth to shoot something. The man soon returned with a dead kid over his shoulder. But nobody knew how to dress the animal, and nobody knew how to cook it. The girls said that they lived in service-flats and that when they felt hungry they rang a bell and food came: also drink.

There was a small cask of flour, but nobody had the least idea how bread was made: in their London homes bread appeared at the door in the mornings before anybody was awake. Nor could they milk a goat which the millionaire himself caught with a looped luggage-strap. They all had a notion that milk grew in sealed bottles, which usually arrived with the bread. Two girls knew how to mix a cocktail, and that was the limit of the party's culinary knowledge.

So that even after a fire had been lighted by means of a camera lens turned into a burning glass the party was not much better off. Still, the kid was cleaned somehow and cooked somehow, and after the girls had dabbed powder and rouge on their faces the kid was torn into morsels and eaten: and several persons had headaches later and took aspirin, of which there was a large supply.

Some clothes needed washing, but nobody knew how to wash, for at home dirty linen was shoved into a motor-van and always came back in a few days, more or less clean. One lady had the poor remains of a packet of Lux, which she thought she might as well employ to wash a pair of gloves.

The first day was rather trying, and it ended badly because nobody knew how to make a bed, and quite a few knew not how to undress themselves.

If the first day was trying, the succeeding days were still more so. Boredom as well as hunger afflicted them. To cut short a long and horrible story, the entire party died, for the simple reason that none of them knew how to live.

The above tale is quite untrue, but it might easily be true, and that is why I have told it.

Drones Increasing.

The fact is that a certain section of society, and not an inconsiderable nor a diminishing one, is becoming the slave of its slaves. And though of course I am not using the word "slave" in its strict meaning (but somewhat as it is used in the phrase "slave of habit"), nevertheless, the history of the end of the Roman Empire is being to some extent repeated among us. The last Imperial Romans could not carry on existence without the help of slaves. And similarly a very large number of Imperial Britons would be utterly helpless without a menial or industrial class of workers.

By all this I am not predicting the fall of the British Empire. And I am not suggesting that we ought to organize our national existence with a view to the possibility of our being wrecked on an uninhabited island. I am only indicating, perhaps too picturesquely, a tendency of modern "progress" which might escape adequate notice.

The number of people who depend absolutely on others for the maintenance of their existence is beyond question increasing and will continue to increase. It must do so because the age of individualism is passing away, and an age of collectivism is taking its place.

Everybody a Specialist.

Collectivism involves a specialization. It is said that a hundred people are needed to make a pin. In the same way a million or ten million people will soon be needed to make the existence of one person tolerable. And that one person will only be able to do one thing—and one little thing—for himself. There will scarcely be a man among us who would not be doomed to death if he was marooned on a desert island. Everybody will be a specialist. The all-round man will disappear.

Naturally everything will be done better than it is done today. The comforts and even the luxuries of life will multiply enormously, and more and more people will share those comforts and luxuries. Life will be easier, more convenient, more expeditious, and fuller for everybody.

A splendid prospect! Yes. But the reverse of the medal will be the sad fact that the ill-will of a small number of people can throw the whole of society out of gear. We talk of key-industries. In the future every industry will be a key-industry. All will be at the mercy of all. Even today the Government finds itself forced to take precautions lest the dissatisfaction of two per cent of the citizens who want half a crown a week more than they are getting should reduce the entire weal to starvation.

Here lies the grave disadvantage of collectivism. Already the danger is great. Soon it will be the supreme danger—not merely of this nation but of all nations of the whole civilized world. Machinery for the upkeep of goodwill and the spirit of reasonableness will have to be created if the danger is to be successfully met. Until that machinery is put together, ill-will and unreasonableness will increase, as they are notoriously increasing at the present moment.

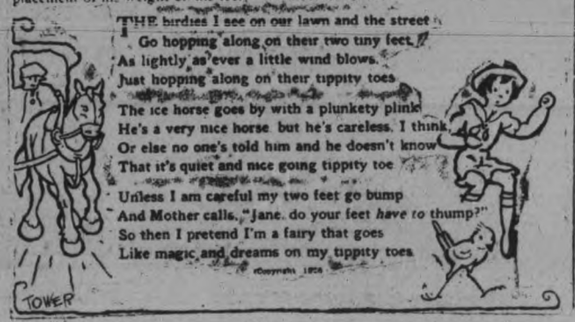
back to Elliott. He replied that he was injured, so I passed him a parcel and paper and opened the throttle. Elliott handed me a feebly-written note saying the petrol pipe had burst and that he was wounded and losing lots of blood. I handed a handkerchief through the window and Elliott sank out of sight. It was impossible to land as we were over a desolate swamp, so I decided to race to Basra. It seemed ages before I beached the machine and found Elliott conscious but covered with blood. At the hospital, a piece of metal was found to have pierced his arm and lodged in his side."

BASRA, Iraq, July 6 (Canadian Press). — Announcement is made that it was an Arab bullet that halted the flight of Allan Cobham from London to Australia. The bullet penetrated the fuselage, ricocheted off the copper feed pipe and penetrated the arm and chest of Elliott, the mechanic. Cobham brought the plane down to the river near the city and carried his wounded companion ashore.

Tippity Toes

By SHIRLEY RODMAN WILLIAMS

AS A child it seemed to me that having grown-ups dictate when and what I should eat how and when I should sleep and which and what I should wear was just about all the interference one could bear but being directed how to walk seemed altogether too much. I rather felt there was a good deal of time being wasted when there was so much fun waiting to be had. Of course I couldn't have known then how important it is that one's posture be right. The proper foot movement in walking is to place the weight first on the ball of the foot then let it be distributed to the rest of the foot. If a child's shoes are run over on the side or heel he is not walking correctly and needs help. The trouble may be either in the placement of his weight on his feet, or in incorrect shoes.



THE birdies I see on our lawn and the street
Go hopping along on their two tiny feet.
As lightly as ever a little wind blows.
Just hopping along on their tippity toes.

The ice horse goes by with a plunkety plink
He's a very nice horse but he's careless, I think.
Or else no one's told him and he doesn't know
That it's quiet and nice going tippity toe.

Unless I am careful my two feet go bump
And Mother calls, "Jane, do your feet have to thump?"
So then I pretend I'm a fairy that goes
Like magic and dreams on my tippity toes.

THEATRE

AT THE REGENT

DIRECTORIAL GEM OF THEATRE LIFE IS GOULDING FILM.

Producer Exhibits Shrewd Knowledge of Human and Entertainment Values.

Stories of theatrical life always register well pictorially. There never has been a more vivid stage story screened than that of "Sally, Irene and Mary," which opened at the Regent Theatre last night.

Much credit for the success of this Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture must go to Edmund Goulding, the director, who also wrote the adaptation.

He must have had a clear understanding of what he was directing for he presents a series of characters that breathe the breath of life.

Joan Crawford, a newcomer to the screen, plays the part of Irene, putting great thought back of her work. Some of the most poignantly dramatic scenes in the picture fall to her. What girl has not suffered the torment of caring for someone who does not give her his affection in return?

Mary is a most appealing character. Genuine and sincere, with a great sense of humor, Sally O'Neil plays the part as no one else could for she actually is Mary.

TEACHER GIVEN CANDLE STICKS

Miss Barry is Leaving Asphodel School No. 6.

PICNIC H ELD.

On Thursday afternoon, June 24, the pupils of S.S. No. 6, Asphodel, held a gathering in the form of a picnic on the bank of the Ouse river.

One of the events of the afternoon was the presentation of a beautiful silver comport and a pair of silver candlesticks to Miss Mary Barry, who has completed her sixth year as teacher in their school.

Norwood, Ontario,
June 24, 1926.

Dear Miss Barry.—It is with deep regret that we, your pupils, learn of your final removal from our midst and we feel that we could not let you part from us without showing you some mark of our love and esteem.

The number of years you have been our teacher has greatly endeared you to us, and we feel we are now losing a friend, who has formed a real link in our lives.

You have ever been kind and patient with us and have always tried to do what was best for our advancement, and we now offer you this little gift as a slight token of appreciation.

We hope your future life will be filled with happiness and that you will always remember your friends and pupils of No. 6 as your memory will be always treasured by us.

Signed on behalf of the pupils of S. S. No. 6.

The picnic was attended by many of the pupils' mothers and by most of Miss Barry's graduates.

The afternoon was spent in games and races and a splendid picnic supper was served by the older girls of the school.

THOMAS RECEIVES CONFIDENCE VOTE

Railwaymen's Union Turns Down Resolution For Dismissal.

WEYMOUTH, Eng., July 6 Canadian Press. — The National Union of Railwaymen to-day gave an overwhelming vote of confidence to J. H. Thomas, the general secretary of the union, on his conduct during the recent general strike.

Only six delegates voted for his dismissal from office as demanded by the Nine Elms and Manchester branches.

He was faced with several resolutions asking his removal from office in the union because of his opposition to the recent general strike.

Although to-day's session of the national unions was private it was there Mr. Thomas made his defence before his colleagues.

Town Must Pay Cost Of Armistice Jubilation

PARIS, July 6.— (United News.)—A bill for $80,000 incurred when the little town of Elbeuf, in Normandy, celebrated the 1918 armistice with fireworks, is just now being paid off. Fireworks were hard to find in those days of November, 1918, so the Mayor of Elbeuf borrowed some Verey lights, used to light up "No man's land."

When the lights were shot up into the air they floated down slowly, doing damage estimated at $80,000. Recently a court decided the cost of the conflagration must be shared by the town and the nation. So Elbeuf has floated a loan of $42,000, which represents is share of the celebration expense.

KING AGAIN ATTACKS GOVERNMENT'S STATUS

Continuance of Ministry in Power After Being Voted Out of Existence Endangers Constitutional Government

Ex-Premier Replies To Announcement Issued By Hon. Hugh Guthrie and Denies That Procedure Adopted Last Week Was the Same As He Had Prepared When He Sought Dissolution.

UNTRUE, HE SAYS, AND EVEN IF TRUE WOULD BE NO EXCUSE FOR MEIGHEN'S ACTIONS

Quotes Voluminous References of Legal and Constitutional Authorities, and Maintains That Responsible Administration Can Be Carried On Only By Ministers Duly Sworn To Office.

OTTAWA, July 7 (Canadian Press).—In a statement issued yesterday, Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King again takes issue with Premier Arthur Meighen on the constitutional status of the present Government. The recent statement of what he describes as the "temporary government" that the procedure followed at dissolution of Parliament last week was exactly the same as that prepared and proposed by Mr. King himself when he sought dissolution four days earlier, is not true, says Mr. King.

His statement reads:

"The 'temporary government' through one of its 'acting ministers,' has published a lengthy statement defending itself against the charge that dissolution without prorogation of Parliament, as affected upon the advice of the Prime Minister, was contrary to British and Canadian constitutional law and practice, and that as a consequence the validity of the whole proceedings are now open to question.

"The Government rests its case not upon constitutional law or practice as established and set forth by all leading recognized authorities on Parliamentary government in Great Britain and in the Dominions, but on what it alleges its predecessors in office intended to follow.

"The Government's position is set forth in the following paragraph in the statement of the Hon. Hughe Guthrie, acting Minister of Justice, issued last night, and which appears in the press of to-day:

"As respects the complaint by the Right Hon. Mr. Mackenzie King about the manner of dissolution of Parliament, it may be stated the forms and procedure used followed precisely the same as those prepared and proposed by Mr. King himself just four days previously when he himself sought dissolution of Parliament."

Meighen's Responsibility.

"First of all, may I point out that if the above statement were true, it would be no answer to, or excuse for, the illegal and unconstitutional course adopted by the present Prime Minister. From the moment Mr. Meighen assumed office his responsibility in tendering advice to His Excellency, the Governor-General, became his own; my responsibility ceased the moment my resignation was accepted. If in any particular the advice tendered His Excellency by myself was unconstitutional or illegal, it became the duty of Mr. Meighen, the moment he acepted office, so to advise, and thereby save His Excellency, as the representative of the Crown from adopting a course with respect to the dissolution of Parliament that could be open to any question.

Denies Statement

"But the statement that 'the forms and procedure used followed precisely the same as those prepared and proposed by Mr. King himself just four days previously when he himself sought dissolution of Parliament' is not true: it is untrue. How, may I ask, is Mr. Guthrie to say what 'forms and procedure' I 'prepared and proposed.' These were known only to my colleagues in the Cabinet and myself at the time of my several interviews with His Excellency the Governor-General. The legal and constitutional aspects of the procedure to be followed were carefully considered by the Cabinet and in particular by Hon. Ernest Lapointe, the then Minister of Justice, who advised very fully in the matter. When the draft order-in-council relating to dissolution was prepared it was accompanied by draft orders relative to prorogation, to the issue of writs of election, and to summoning of Parliament to meet at a later date. In all particulars, save the insertion of dates (for which blanks were left to be filled in in the event of dissolution being granted) the draft orders were complete. Obviously, until it had been decided whether or not a dissolution would be granted by His Excellency it was not possible to present to His Excellency the orders pertaining to prorogation, the issue of writs of election and the summoning of Parliament to meet at a later date.

Ordinary Procedure

"It was never contemplated that in event of dissolution being granted it would not be proceeded by prorogation in the regular manner by His Excellency meeting both Houses in person, the Speech from the Throne to make mention of the dissolution and the reasons therefor.

"Mr. Guthrie's statement continues:

"The effect of the dissolution on pending legislation and supplies was practically the same as would have been the effect had Mr. King secured a dissolution on the previous Monday.'

"Here again the Government is entirely wrong in the assertion made by its acting Minister of Justice. As proof of this I would draw attention to a statement I made in the House of Commons on Thursday, July 1st, which statement was made in the hearing of my former colleagues and of the members of the 'temporary' government present in the House, and, was never called to question. This statement appears on Page 5455 of Hansard (unrevised edition), and is as follows:

Quotation from Hansard

"'When I was counselling a dissolution, I never contemplated that the business of this session would end there. After discussing dissolution and obtaining a decision favorable to dissolution, my next step would have been to consider the time at which dissolution should be taken. I would have advised His Excellency to arrange immediately for the prorogation, and in the Speech from the Throne to announce the dissolution. That is the manner in which it should be properly done. That is the only way in which dissolution at the moment should be thought of by any party concerned.'

"It may be observed that this public statement of my position and of the consttiutional course of procedure was before both the Government and the country at the time Mr. Meighen advised and obtained dissolution without having it preceded by prorogation.

The Real Question

"Thus much said, the real question with respect to dissolution remains. Was the course pursued by the Prime Minister in not permitting His Excellency to meet both houses and prorogue Parliament prior to dissolution, at a time when both houses were is session, not wholly contrary to constitutional usage and law?

"Bourinot, the recognized authority on parliamentary procedure and practice in Canada, says: (fourth edition, Page 102): 'The Governor General will always be guided by British constitutional practice with respect to prorogation and dissolution of Parliament.'

"On Page 103): 'Parliament is dissolved under the great seal after

Elliott, one of the two England-to-Australia flyers, has begun, the government official wireless announced today. THOMAS SCORES TWO SUCCESSES OVER TRADE UNION EXTREMISTS AT RAILWAYMEN'S CONFERENCE

MINES 8 HOUR BILL.

Third Reading Postponed Because of Unfair Attitude of Owners.

LONDON, July 7 (Canadian Press).—It is no novelty for J. H. Thomas, one of Labor's Parliamentary leaders and secretary of the National Union of Railwaymen, to find himself in conflict with certain sections, either of his trade union or of the Labor party. The malcontents, owing to Mr. Thomas' connection with the late Labor Government and his extreme popularity with all classes, from royalty down, charge him with keeping a foot in each camp.

His attitude towards the general strike involved him in further difficulties with the extremists, and ever since the collapse of the general strike, charges and counter-charges have been made over the reasons for calling off that strike. This has caused much heart burning, and the matter came before the annual conference of the National Union of Railwaymen at Weymouth yesterday. The attacks were chiefly directed against Mr. Thomas, but there were some charges also against other leaders.

Speech of Defence.

Mr. Thomas defended himself in a speech lasting an hour, and after an acrimonious debate he finally emerged triumphant, with an overwhelming vote of confidence.

He also succeeded in inducing the conference to withdraw its restrictions against the press, and the newspaper representatives have been invited to return to the conference without any discrimination.

Mines Bill Passed.

The House of Lords yesterday passed the second reading of the Eight Hours Mines Bill, which, however, will not become law as early as was expected. The Government had intended urging the Lords to push the measure through with the greatest expedition, but yesterday it became known that the Government was dissatisfied with the attitude of some of the mine owners in Yorkshire and elsewhere. These sought to impose such wage terms under the eight hours basis as the Government considered unjustifiable and at variance with the Government's promises to the miners. For this reason, Lord Cecil announced in the Upper House that the third reading would not be taken until Thursday

May Await Mine Owners.

It is understood that this unexpected delay is to give the miners an opportunity to make satisfactory offers. It is not so stated, but it is believed that the Government may

SCHOOL BOARD BUYS SUPPLIES

DENTAL REPORT.

Committee reports made up the bulk of the business at the July session of the Board of Education last night. The resignations of some teachers were reported, accepted and other teachers hired, the contract for fuel has been let to the Robert Hicks Co., for painting and kalsomining to Coleman Bros., and for text books and supplies to R. J. Soden. Miss Olga Johnston was granted leave of absence for a year to pursue further studies.

A somewhat higher attendance record was made in June, most of the schools averaging 95 per cent. This rating was reached by the Collegiate Institute, the Prince of Wales, King Edwards, Queen Mary and Queen Alexandra Schools, while the Central and King George Schools had a record of 94 per cent.

Dr. J. C. Green reported on dental work in the schools. The survey during the 1923-24 term showed 90 per cent. of the pupils needing attention, the 1924-25 examination showed 69 per cent., and this year's examination showed 57 per cent. Dr. MacPherson reported a number of operations for the removal of tonsils, and a number tested with the Schick test.

The matter of securing the use of the Armories for use during the winter for physical drill in connection with cadet training will be taken up with the Department of National Defence.

Temple To Be Dynamited and U. S. Attorney Slain, Say Messages

LOS ANGELES, July 7. — Following conferences between District Attorney Asa Keyes, his assistant, Joseph Ryan, and Captain of Detectives Herman Cline, the three men appeared before the country Grand Judy yesterday and asked that body to make a sweeping and immediate investigation of the disappearance of Aimee Semple McPherson, evangelist, who says she was kidnapped. Stenographers were immediately set at work preparing subpoenaes for Mrs. McPherson, her mother, Mrs. Minnie Kennedy, and virtually every man and woman who has had any connection whatever with the case.

It is stated that the investigation is being undertaken on the theory that Mrs. McPherson's story of the kidnapping is true and that the jury will be asked to go into every possible angle of the startling mystery. Invitations will be sent by wire to the Mexican authorities at Agua Prieta to be present and testify. Jury will open its investigation on Thursday.

A letter threatennig to blow up Angelus Temple, where Mrs. McPherson preaches, was received by a local newspaper yesterday afternoon. It asserts that the temple will be dynamited within two weeks.

MATRON GIVEN HOLIDAY LEAVE

Mrs. D. Rogers Wished To Resign But Agrees To Remain at Shelter.

TO GET SUBSTITUTE.

A special meeting of the Board of Management of the Children's Aid Society was called yesterday afternoon in the Chamber of Commerce board rooms, to deal with the question of supplying the Shelter with a matron during the absence of the matron, Mrs. D. Rogers, in the summer months. Those present were the president, Mr. B. F. Ackerman, in the chair, Messrs. J. Edgar, F. H. Dobbin, J. Abraham, W. Stocker, Mrs. W. H. Gibbs, Mrs. F. A. Hodgson, Mrs. S. Newhall and Mrs. J. Welsh.

Prior to the conduct of regular business, Mr. J. Edgar read a resolution of sympathy addressed to Mrs. Hodgson, a Board member, on the death of her mother, the late Mrs. M. Briegel.

Mr. Edgar reported a satisfactory response to the request of the Society through the press for summer homes for the wards. He also read a letter of resignation from the matron of the Shelter, Mrs. D. Rogers, who has been sunering from rheumatism for some time past. Mr. Rogers, who has been acting as caretaker of the Shelter, also tendered a letter of resignation, but Mr. Edgar reported that Mr. Rogers had later reconsidered his action and would stay on.

A general chorus of regret was expressed at the threatened resignation of the matron, Mrs. D. Rogers, whose efficiency and excellence in taking care of her little charges have been lauded on many occasions by the Board. Mr. Edgar said that, in conversation with Mrs. Rogers, he had gathered that she might consider returning after a vacation, which she had not taken for some years past. It was then decided to give her two months' vacation with salary, on condition that she returns in September to take up her duties. Mr. Edgar was empowered to advertise for a suitable substitute during the summer months, the final selection of a temporary matron to be left in the hands of Mr. Edgar and two lady members of the Board.

Girl Pleads For Brother Condemned As Murderer

LINCOLN, Nebraska, July 7 (United Press).—Leta Ringer, 16, appeared before the State Pardon Board here to plead for the life of her brother, Donald, who is sentenced to be executed on Friday for a murder which he committed at the age of 19.

Experienced attorneys have given up Donald's case as futile but Leta told the Pardon Board that it would be a sin to electrocute him because of his youth, and the board took her plea under advisement. Leta was in tears when she asked that her brother's sentence be commuted to life imprisonment.

FIRE DESTROYS ANOTHER CHURCH IN KALAMAZOO

FIREBUG SOUGHT.

Police of City and State Are Looking For Incendiary.

KALAMAZOO, Mich., July 7. — (Canadian Press). — State police joined local officers to-day in a firebug hunt, following the destruction by fire of the fourth Kalamazoo church in seven months—the First Presbyterian—which burned early to-day. It was the third downtown church destroyed by fire since December 29 last. The fourth, the East Avenue Methodist Church, was partially burned on December 17.

The loss in to-day's fire is estimated at $150,000.

Man Slain For Slurring Knicker Clad Women

NEW YORK, July 7 (Associated Press).—An alleged slur on women who wear knickerbockers resulted in a fatal shooting in the Bronx, New York.

Floyd Jordan, 21, who came to New York recently from Tennessee, took exception to the slurring remarks made by Joseph Reusch, 23, whom he had never seen before, and fired five shots, four of which took effect, the police said.

"My sister wears knickers and she is a good, innocent girl," Jordan is alleged to have said as he opened fire after Reusch made his remarks. After the shooting, Jordan fled but was caught by two chauffeurs. He confessed, police said.

Jetty Thompson Says Trent Highway Should Be on the Map.

LINK COUNTIES.

Improved Road Needed For Local and District Traffic.

(Examiner Staff Correspondence).

STIRLING, July 7. — With cooperation from Peterboro, Hastings, Havelock and Campbellford for a highway from Foxboro to Peterboro, local sentiment is confident of a favorable response from the Ontario Department of Highways when the need and merit of the project has been demonstrated. It might not be of the provincial type of highway, but it should be adequate for not only the present traffic but also for the future traffic that would naturally follow the course of the Trent through one of the richest sections of Eastern Ontario.

"We want a place on the road maps" is the Stirling claim as expressed by Councillor Jetty Thompson to The Examiner yesterday, who advocated this road at the inaugural meeting of the Eastern Ontario Chamber of Commerce. "Our local traffic warrants such a highway. I believe there are more cars in Rawdon Township than in any other township in Ontario. Just about every farmer has a car, and when a count was made of the traffic at Foxboro it was found that nine out of every ten cars were going northwest and not south. The bulk of the traffic was toward Stirling.

"Then there are the tourists. The Ontario and Federal Governments, the railways and other agencies are advertising the Kawartha and Trent water resorts, and the road up from Belleville practically

PREMIERS WILL DISCUSS ACTION

Byng's Refusal To Grant Dissolution Coming Up at Conference.

DELICATE ISSUE.

LONDON, July 7 (Canadian Press).—The Daily News' political correspondent states that Lord Byng's action in refusing dissolution to former Premier W. L. Mackenzie King will be brought up for discussion by one of the Dominion Premiers at the Imperial Conference in October. A delicate constitutional issue will then arise, the correspondent states, and the position and powers of Governors-General will be discussed with freedom for the first time by Dominion representatives themselves.

MEN FIRED AT NEAR LONDON

Two Men Have Narrow Escapes From Unknown Shooter.

POLICE BAFFLED.

LONDON, Ont., July 7 — Two men mysteriously shot at within the space of a few hours, for no apparent reason, has created a pall of mystery about the farming community of Byron, that is without precedent in the annals of Middlesex County. Police, informed of the shooting in a round-about way, are completely baffled. Joseph Bowering, aged 25, living on the base line road, had a bullet graze his shoulder, while plowing on the farm of George Ellson. Horace Smith, while on his way home, had a bullet whizz by him. Dropping to the ground for protection, another went whistling over his head.

MEIGHEN TO FIRE FIRST ELECTION GUN

Premier Will Speak Following Ottawa Nomination Convention on July 16.

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

OTTAWA, July 7.—Following a Conservative nominating convention to be held the same day, Premier Arthur Meighen is booked to address a mass meeting in the Auditorium here on July 16, it was announced last night by the Ottawa Conservative Association. This will be probably the first public address to be made by the new Premier before the election, and it is stated that the date of the election will be announced by him at this meeting.

CAMP FIRE GOSSIP.

The first camp-fire of the year was held on Saturday night at the Y.M.C.A.-Rotary boys' camp, on Clear Lake. A number of camp-fire selections were sung, led by Mr. McNeely, the camp director.

The programme started off with the camp yell.

Wow, wow—Skinny, wow, wow;
Poor Skinny, wow, wow.
Rickety, rickety, shanty town,
Who can keep "Rot-y" camp down?
Nobody, nobody.
Hy-ya, hy-ya-ya-ya-ya
"Rot-y", "Rot-y", rah, rah, rah.

This was followed by a number of song selection choruses, some of which included:

Smile Awhile; Roll Over song; Where Here For Fun; Nobody's Darling; King Tut's Lament; Long, Long Trail; When the Organ Peeled Bananas; Let the Rest of the World Go By; Just a Song at Twilight; Hail, Hail the Gang's All Here; I Ain't Gonna Study War No More; Abie My Boy.

After the song selections the camp director read a camp - fire story, "The Yellow Streak", dealing chiefly with the experience of a boy's life in a camp such as theirs, who yielded to the temptation of theft, how his conscience worried him and how he finally repented and made good.

After this a marshmallow roast took place followed by cake and candy. Mr. McNeely expressed his thanks to Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Weddell of Peterboro for their generosity in providing these gifts for the boys.

Ball Game.

The last game of the baseball league was played on Friday when the Dirty Dozen defeated Roughnecks to the tune of 9 to 7. Exceptionally good plays were made on the part of Jopling and Gillespie. The lineups were as follows:

Score by innings :

Dirty Dozen ..... 3 3 2 1 0—9
Roughnecks ..... 2 1 0 0 1—4

Sparring Match.

As a sort of novelty in Friday night's programme, Mr. McNeely arranged a sparring bout between One Punch (John) McClure and Battling (Jack) Oke. Karl Dorrington acted as second for One Punch and Gordon Smith for Battling Oke.

At 6.30 sharp contestants were called from their corners, and on account of the differences in weight Mr. McNeely suggested that they should be blindfolded.

The gong rang, One Punch made a wild swing at Battling but his blow fell short. He collided with Battling and they both fell on to the floor. The same performance of wild swings and vicious uppercuts which always found their mark in the air was kept up for five one-minute rounds. One Punch and Battling hitting everything and everybody but each other during their work out. At the end of the fifth the gong rang and Battling Oke was given the decision on points.

Altogether it has been a very enjoyable week for the youngsters at the camp, spent in swimming, hiking, boating and all sorts of outdoor sports. Mr. McNeely and Mr. Miller have done splendid work as directors of the camp and great credit is given them for assuming the responsibility.

ASK DISMISSAL OF PORT OFFICER

Canton Government Says He Threatened To Close Port.

AN INVESTIGATION.

CANTON, July 6 (Canadian Press). — The Canton Government has demanded the dismissal of the British senior naval officer here, because he is alleged to have threatened to close the port of Wuchow on the Sikiang River, west of here, against Chinese shipping, if pilots are not permitted to take British warships up the river to investigate the death recently of J. H. Phillips, a British subject.

Phillips, the British manager of the Asiatic Petroleum Company, was slain by bandits after being kidnapped.

ASK FOR POWER FROM GATINEAU

Eastern Ontario Not Fairly Treated Says Chamber of Commerce.

RESOLUTION PASSED.

BELLEVILLE, July 7 (Canadian Press).—That Eastern Ontario is not being treated fairly in the matter of power development in the Province and that the attention of the Ontario Government should be called to the situation existing in this part of the Province were opinions voiced at an executive meeting of the recently organized Eastern Ontario Chamber of Commerce held here to-day.

It was stated at the meeting that this section is being unfairly dealt with in the proposed Gatineau power project and that it would be all in favor of Toronto and Western Ontario. It was also stated that the excessive cost of water - developed electric energy was driving manufacturers in Eastern Ontario back to steam generated power.

A resolution was passed that the Government of Ontario be asked to see that "all power in this division, or procured by lease from the Gatineau River or other surrounding sources be developed at 60 cycle freqeuncy, and transmitted at 44,000 voltage."

REPRISAL THREAT IS HAVING EFFECT

High Tariff Supporters Advocate Counter Action if Necessary.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 7.—(Canadian Press.)—Threats of farm organization leaders and farmers to make reprisals on the high rates of the present tariff law, because of the failure of farm relief legislation, are already having their effect.

The high tariff proponents are arguing that the farmers are helped and not hurt by the tariff and that to lower the tariff rates would pull down the temples of prosperity. They assert that if the farmers adopt a policy of attack on high tariff rates they would tend to delay and block the granting of farm relief legislation.

TORONTO, July 7 (Canadian Press).—Representatives of the New York State Power Commission today were in conference with representatives of Ontario at the Parliament Buildings here on the question of developing power on the St. Lawrence River, and it is announced that definite progress was made in the negotiations. The conference will be renewed here on Friday, and in the meantime the New York State Commission will visit Niagara Falls to look into the question of power development on the lower Niagara Gorge. Premier Ferguson and the chairman of the Ontario Hydro Power Commission were among those who met the New York State delegates to-day.

The New York State representatives came to Toronto mainly to obtain the views of the Ontario authorities in regard to the granting of licenses to private American corporations to develop power on the St. Lawrence. Several applications from private corporations are now before the New York State Commission. The schemes under consideration call for the development of 2,400,000 H.P., half of which would come to Ontario.

"We are desirous of developing the St. Lawrence to the greatest advantage to both parties. Discussions here have demonstrated a determination on the part of both State and Province to reach common ground as to the method of development. It has been arranged that the State engineers and our engineers confer and become fairly conversant with each other's views and later we will have a further conference."

New York State Engineer Roy G. Finch said: "We feel that the deliberations of the two bodies are bound to lead to an agreement by which the development of the St. Lawrence River will be carried out to the benefit of both Province and State."

RAISED SUBMARINE WILL DOCK TO-DAY

NEW YORK, July 7.—The submarine S-51, lifted to the surface on Monday after lying nearly two months on the bottom of the Atlantic Ocean, is expected to arrive at the navy yard in Brooklyn to-day. Entombed within her are the bodies of probably twenty-four of her crew of thirty-three officers and men who went down when the submarine was smashed by the steamer City of Rome on the night of September 25 last.

Throughout yesterday and last night the submarine crept slowly toward New York, at a speed of three knots, accompanied by several tugs on board of which were the men of the navy who had lifted her after a long and arduous fight.

Yesterday the Navy Department issued warnings to all craft in Long Island Sound and East River to keep clear of the funeral procession. When the battered submarine reaches the navy yard it will be dry-docked and opened.

VACATION BIBLE SCHOOL PLANNED

Plan Successful Elsewhere To Be Tried Here Next Summer.

FOR CHILDREN.

(Contributed).

"An angel paused in his onward flight,
With a seed of love and truth and light,
And cried, 'Oh! where shall this seed be sown,
That it bear most fruit when fully grown?'
The Savior heard, and said as He smiled,
'Place it for Me in the heart of a child'."

There is much public discussion of the youth of to-day, followed by the conclusion that all is not well with the lad, or with the lassie.

Irving Bacheller refers to them as the "unspanked generation." It would seem that there is still some faith in spanking as a method in training to right living, as a judge this week ordered that punishment for lads guilty of petty thieving, but the judge saw that without religious education there is no real hope for the lads, and so he ordered their attendance at the church school every Sunday for a year.

There can be no more exalted or consecrated work than the religious culture of the little sons and daughters of the Heavenly Father, and their development into men and women, morally and spiritually strong, fit for service in the redemption of their generation. This should be the work of the home, supplemented by the school.

In the endeavor of the schools to accomplish this good work with only one short hour a week, the idea of Bible vacation schools sprung into life. Fifteen hundred of these schools are reported for last year, forty-four held in Ontario.

The aim of these schools is to promote health and happiness, to provide fruitful knowledge affecting daily life, to create right attitudes and interests and the formation of good habits. The daily programme provides for the following periods:

Worship — Instruction, including Bible memory work and stories. Physical exercises, song period, hand work period, closing period, patriotic service, pledges of allegiance to British flag and Christian flag, singing of patriotic songs.

Recreation—A picnic every Friday afternoon.

The elementary graded union of this city is planning to hold a vacation Bible school in Peterborough next summer, and the teachers of children from cradle roll to junior, inclusive, are being requested to keep this in mind and be ready to get to work in September to secure necessary funds.

While much of the service is voluntary, the supervisor and assistant receive remuneration.

The following from a Toronto daily shows the work being undertaken in that city:

"Although the doors of the public schools of the city have closed for the long holiday, a host of boys and girls yesterday found their way to the Daily Vacation Bible schools, opened in every quarter of Toronto. Children from four to fourteen years discovered classes in which they fitted readily, and where they will master vocational as well as biblical and nature knowledge. Thanks to the small army of volunteer leaders and helpers, the boys and girls compelled to remain in the city, too many with only the dusty, traffic crowded streets for a playground, will find in the vacation classes interest and occupation that will aid in the building of finer characters."

ASYLUM PATIENT KILLED BY TRAIN

LONDON, Ont., July 7—Albert Leonard Smilie, 33, a patient in the Ontario Hospital, was killed by Canadian Pacific express No. 19 last night a few moments after escaping from the guards at the institution.

The guards and the engineer of the train differ as to the manner in which Smilie met his death. According to Engineer E. Fitzpatrick's statement, he was struck by the train while he was hanging from the overhead bridge which crosses the tracks at the asylum side road. Hospital attendants say the man was on the tracks when struck. Smilie's body was found in the ditch at the side of the track.

CACTI.

(By Jeanette.)

"I know a garden, a little Dutch garden, where useful and pretty things grow. Pinks and potatoes, heartsease and tomatoes, onions and parsley and rue."

The foregoing verse would be perfectly appropriate if it had anything at all to do with the subject. But we aren't going to write about a garden, especially a Dutch one, and there are no pinks and potatoes and all the other things in it, anyway. It's a little greenhouse on Weller Street that forms the subject of this article, the greenhouse where Mr. J. H. Callander has his cacti plants, the weird things that seem so out of place in a land where lush grass grows green between quiet houses, and the sun's rays seldom turn the earths vegetation to such queer shapes.

Here are interesting creatures, if you consider them by their names; "Cleopatra,' the Egyptian beauty, hop-nobbing with the "Dutch Kaiserin," and the curious-sounding "Pfau," "Adonis," the handsome hero, sidling up to the plain "Miranda," and "Aida" of musical memory, trembling on the brink of "Erebus." They are all cacti, and form only a very few of the many that have their home here, in big and little pots, and large and small sizes. Tall and spreading, with flat, escalloped edges, like "Erebus," large and round, like the famous "Water Barrel" of the desert, or small and funny, like the wee "Devil's Pincushion," they all live and increase here, far from their native habitat, those desert lands where the sun is like an eternal curse and water is an unknown element on the surface of the parched earth.

There is a noticeable difference in the color of these cacti plants. Some are fairly green, while others are shot through with red fibres, but the plants from the Arizona deserts are a dead dusty grey. And they all abound in spines and thorns and prickly fingers that catch the unwary palm and cling to it with uneasy strength. Little needlepoint hooks extend from the hard surface, to pierce a curious hand.

Oddly enough, these hard spiny things are soft and pliable inside, and may be eaten like a melon, it is said. But it would be a strong blade that would pierce their thorny surfaces. From the head of the "old man" cacti, or "Hoppenstedti," cacti grow wigs exactly like coarse grey hair, and the tall variety of the same type has a pendant beard of silver fibre. From several of them sprout out-of-place flowers, something like water-lilies, in reddish purple shades, and the "pin-cushion" bursts occasionally into tiny little excrescences that resemble a red pepper.

"Euph Havanensis" is exactly like the picture of the dreary cactus one sees in movie reproductions of desert scenes, and the "rat tail" is just like its name, as is the round "pin-cushion' and the "starfish.' Cousins of these queer things live here too, the night-blooming cereus, with its tall, fleshy stem, the bitter aloe, with its twisting arms that remind one of the depilfish pictures in "Toilers of the Sea," and the "Agave,' 'or century plant, the convenient bloomer, whose return can quite well be recommended to the purchaser if it fails to flower within the specified time.

Outside the door of the greenhouse are two rockeries, one set with cacti and hardy plants, the other with hardy greens, red cedar and juniper and "Seedum," a tiny, earth-bound plant of grayish-green.

Rub Campana's Italian Balm on your face and arms each day. It won't prevent you getting sunburned; in fact, it assists the sun in giving the skin a clear, healthy, bronsed texture, instead of a coarse redness, but it will prevent the roughness and soreness and irritation that comes from sunburn, or excessive perspiration.

COMPANIONS VISIT PORT HOPE CIRCLE

About 25 Members of Local A.O.F. Branch Take Trip.

About twenty-five companions of Queen Alexandra Circle, Ancient Order of Foresters, motored to Port Hope last evening to attend the first anniversary of Queen Mary Circle in that town.

Companions from Bowmanville Circle were present, also High Chief Companion Miss Mabelle Burke and High Court Secretary Brother Archie Martin.

After a splendid banquet served by the Companions of Queen Mary Circle, a beautiful bouquet of roses was presented to the High Chief Companion, Miss Burke, from Queen Mary Circle. Miss Burke expressed her thanks in a nice speech, and gave a very interesting talk on Forestry. She also expressed her sorrow on the absence of the Past District Deputy Companion, Mrs. William Stevens of Peterborough, through illness.

Brother Martin gave an address, as also did District Deputy Companion Mrs. Mitchell, of Bowmanville.

Speeches were also made by the Chief Companions from Peterborough, Port Hope and Bowmanville.

A most pleasant evening was spent, and after a nice motor trip home the party arrived back in Peterborough at an early hour.

TEACHER RECEIVES GIFT FROM SCHOOL

On June 23, the pupils of S. S. No. 3, North Monaghan, gave their teacher, Helen T. Sanderson, a very delightful surprise, when they presented her with a Parker's Eversharp pencil, accompanied with the following address:

Dear Teacher,— We have heard that you are not going to be with us next school year, and before you leave us, we wanted you to know how much we appreciated all you have done for us since you became our teacher.

We know that we have not always made things as easy for you as we might have done, nor have we always been as good as we might have been, but in spite of that, you have made school life pleasant and easy for us.

We want to wish you a very enjoyable holiday, and when you start work in your new school next year, we wish you every success there.

As a little token of our love and good wishes for you, we ask you to accept this gift.

RIFFS ATTACK SPANISH FORCE

Nine Men Slain in Outbreak —Supply Train Looted.

FEZ, Morocco, July 7 (United Press).—The first serious outbreak of Riffian tribesmen since the capture of Abd-El-Krim, former Riffian leader, by the French and Spanish forces, is reported here by a courier who just arrived from the Spanish zone.

The courier stated that Riffians who previously had submitted to the Franco-Spanish forces had attacked a Spanish detachment at Zoukelt, killing nine and wounding forty-eight. He said that a Spanish convoy had been looted by the same tribesmen.

NOBODY DROWNED AT ROTARY CAMP

Camp Directors Deny Rumour of Drowning Accident During Week.

The report went about this city last week that there was a drowning at the Rotary - Y.M.C.A. camp on the Dummer side of Clear Lake. The officials of the camp wish to deny this report, and also desire to state that the boys are never allowed in the water unless one of the leaders of the camp, all of whom are expert swimmers, is along with them, so there is nothing to be feared.

FASCISTI SUSPEND MUNICIPAL VOTES

Believed They Intend To Introduce "Podesta" System in Communes.

ROME, July 7.— (Canadian Press.) —The Fascist Government, in an effort to ward off internal political strike, has decided to suspend indefinitely all provincial, communal and municipal elections.

In well-informed circles, it is believed that this decision is a forerunner of considerable extension of the "podesta" system which already has been installed in four-fifths of the nation's communes. By this system, communal administrations have been abolished and have been replaced by an individual public official directly responsible to Rome.

BOY MEETS DEATH PLAYING IN WATER

Brother Makes Heroic Effort To Save Him, But Fails.

HAMILTON, Ont., July 7. — Walter Gray, 115 Gertrude Street, aged six years, was drowned in the bay last night. An elder brother made heroic attempts to save him, but failed. He brought the body to shore and it was removed to the morgue by the police. Coroner Dr. Rennie was notified but it has not yet been decided whether or not an inquest will be held.

The boy was playing in water of inlet at the foot of Ottawa Street when he went out over his depth. He cried for help and his older brother immediately started to him. This is the second drowning fatality in Hamilton Bay in six days.

W.M.S. RALLY AT ST. JAMES'

Eastern Section Members of Lindsay Presbyterial Head Address.

FIRST MEETING.

The first "sectional" rally of the Lindsay Presbyterial of the United Church of Canada was held in St. James' Church on Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. (Rev.) Coon, vice-president of the Presbyterial, ably presided, and an interesting and carefully planned programme was carried out.

The devotional opening was conducted by Mrs. J. K. Moore, hon. president, and Mrs. McKenzie.

An inspiring address by Miss Dunoon, president of the Lindsay Presbyterial, gave a resume of the first work organized and carried on by women for the propogation of the Gospel. "These women," she said, "blazed the trail which we are now following. Our objective is not new but we have met here to consider new methods with which to meet the old objective."

Miss Dunoon strongly advocated "systematic giving," by the use of weekly envelope offerings, and urged that every woman in the United Church should become a member and a supporter of the W.M.S.

Splendid reports from the branch meeting, held in Trenton, early in June, were given by Mrs. S. R. Armstrong and Mrs. J. John, who were delegates from the Presbyterial.

Miss Marion Coon, missionary on furlough from China, in her address gave the most intimate glimpse into Chinese life, the Chinese home, the childhood and girlhood of the Chinese women, that it had ever been the privilege of the local W.M.S. to hear, a glimpse to make any Canadian woman or girl realize and appreciate the blessings and the advantages of a Christian home, as she had never done before.

The beautiful and appropriate solo contributed by Miss Alma Blanchard was greatly enjoyed.

Mrs. A. Bookhout, vice-president, was in charge of the roll call, to which a large representation responded from the seventeen auxiliaries comprising the eastern section.

The meeting was closed with prayer by Mrs. (Rev.) Brown, and Rev. J. D. Richardson, pastor of the church, pronounced the benediction.

Tea was served at the close by the ladies of St. James' Auxiliary, the Mission Circle girls assisting, and a pleasant social hour was enjoyed.

NEW GOVERNMENT FACING DIFFICULTY

Japanese Navy Asks For Large Sum—Economy Is Needed.

TOKYO, July 7. Canadian Press. —The Japanese government, reconstructed last month, is facing a difficult problem of reconciling the insistent demands of the navy for appropriations of approximately $150,000,000 for a four year construction programme, and the pressing need for national economy.

Seiji Haymi, the new Minister of Finance, who must bear the brunt of the navy's pressure, said in an interview that the naval replacement problem "seems to be the most important and difficult" one of the government.

The navy's programme, it is understood, calls for the building within four years of four cruisers within the Washington Treaty 10,000 ton limit, 16 destroyers, five submarines, three gunboats and other subsidiary craft, bringing the total to 33 vessels.

"Fate's Playthings"

To live with wife and little ones unprotected by Life Insurance is gambling with their future.

To leave a widow and children unprovided for as a result of such gambling makes them "Playthings of Fate."

The wise, loving and thoughtful husband and father does not take these chances. He takes insurance and is sure. When he selects The London Life he secures this protection at lowest net cost.

For example:—

Suppose you are 35 years of age and secure a London Life Jubilee Policy for $10,000 and take advantage of your right, 5 years later, to change it to a Twenty Payment Life Policy. Your average actual cost for the 20 years—entirely apart from dividends—will be only $2.79 per thousand dollars of insurance per year.

Secure the benefit of the experience and suggestions of The London Life representative. Delay may make you uninsurable.

WEDNESDAY, JULY 7, 1926.

WHERE IS YOUR BOY SWIMMING?

"He could not swim very well and was bathing at a place considered dangerous to all but expert swimmers."

Such in effect was the story of an Ontario drowning this week.

It is a story that is repeated over and over again each summer, and it emphasizes the advice given by The Examiner in regard to the necessity of children bathing at supervised beaches.

There are points along the river that have long been popular with the youngsters, and unfortunately some of these places are far from safe.

Where is your boy swimming?

If you don't know that he is visiting one of the city's bathing places where there is supervision and where safety appliances are at hand, you should lose no time in warning him against the danger that exists at other points.

It should be everybody's business to make this a safety summer, and one of the most helpful contributions is offered by a general compliance with the advice, "Swim only at protected beaches."

ADVERTISING PETERBORO.

Ald. Greene's suggestion of an arch across the Provincial highway at the entrance to the city is one that deserves support.

A similar arch has been erected at Gravenhurst calling attention to the fact that that town is the gateway to the Muskoka Lakes district, and a similar claim could be made on behalf of Peterboro in connection with the Kawarthas.

Only this week a former Peterboro resident who motored here from across the border to visit his old home remarked to The Examiner that as he drove through Eastern Ontario he had been struck by the almost total absence of signs showing Peterboro as the logical point at which to enter the lake district.

His idea was that this city should not be so modest in this respect.

Half of America is awheel these days—and the district that puts its claims for attention where they cannot readily be passed by unnoticed is the one that is going to get the lion's share of visitors.

An ornamental archway at the city's entrance would be a very important link in a more extensive scheme of road signs than has hitherto been considered necessary.

THEY WELCOME THE CHANCE.

The rival politicians are filling the air with their ideas of constitutional law, and their theories of what His Excellency the Governor-General should have done or should not have done.

So loud is their clamour that they are unable to hear the sigh of satisfaction from the bulk of the people at the chance that is to be given them to vote a way out of a situation that has become intolerable.

If there ever was a time in which the majority of the electors were disgusted with party politics, tired of the struggle of one bunch to stay in office and another bunch to get there, that time is now.

The main thing with most of them is, not how Parliament was dissolved, but rather that it is dissolved.

They know that a period of turmoil, of political speeches in which heat will be substituted for reasoning, of recrimation and abuse, and personalities will have to be gone through before order can possibly be obtained out of chaos, but they are unusually willing to accept such conditions, fortified by the hope that the coming election will put an end to group government and set up a situation that will find an administration in power with sufficient strength in its own ranks to be independent of any alliances or working arrangements with other groups.

ARE WE GETTING OUR SHARE?

Does it pay to cultivate the tourist industry?

The six leading resort and tourist States—California, Florida, Minnesota, Michigan, Wisconsin and Colorado—report a gross volume of $2,500,000,000.

While it is a conservative estimate that the other States show an equal volume, in addition it is the belief that citizens of the United States spend $1,500,000,000 more in other countries.

This industry, measured in dollars and cents, stands head and shoulders above nearly every other business in the United States today.

It is five times as great as the annual wheat crop and twice that of the United States corn crop.

It is five times the value of all the lumber and timber products in the Republic and three times that of the coal mined.

It is two and one-half times the value of all the steel produced and nearly double the value of the annual output of automobiles.

In short, the tourist business has assumed such enormous proportions that all communities that have anything to offer visitors are justified in exerting every effort to secure their share of this industry.

We have been doing somethings to bring tourists to the Peterboro district; are we doing enough in the light of the possibilities that offer themselves?

We need not be afraid to encourage them to come, for in the Kawarthas and the Trent Waterway we have a chain of lakes and rivers that will stand comparison with anything on the Continent.

An American visitor to Stoney Lake was overheard on the deck of a steamer the other evening exclaiming in rapture over the scenery that unfolded before his eyes as the trim craft steamed her way among the beautiful islands.

"This is miles ahead of Florida," he enthusiastically declared, as he explained that he had visited Florida on many occasions. "There is nothing like this down there."

The trouble is that living so close to such gems of scenery we don't begin to appreciate the richness of our heritage.

There are hundreds of thousands of people wanting somewhere to go and with millions to spend when they get there.

Peterboro should get an even larger proportion of that industry.

THE GROWTH OF POPULAR SAVINGS.

It was disclosed by the answer to a question asked in Parliament the other day that there were on deposit in the Post Office Savings Banks, on 1st January last, $23,569,330. There are also the Dominion Government Savings Banks, and, while they did not come within the scope of the question, it might be observed that they held deposits in January last to the amount of $8,572,584.

There has been a marked change in the attitude of the people toward these Government savings banks. At one time they were peculiarly popular. In 1908, for example, they were the custodians of $62,581,155. In that year, on the other hand, other savings banks held an aggregate of but $28,927,248. Since then there has been a steady shrinking of the deposits in the Government institutions and a considerable swelling of the deposits in other savings banks. At the end of 1924 the latter stood at $64,194,326. This would show that the Government savings banks and the general savings banks of the country have practically changed places during the past eighteen years as respects the volume of deposits in each.

There is a reason for what has occurred. For the most part, the Government savings banks are used by people making relatively small deposits. With such people the consideration of safety takes precedence over everything else. There was a decided tendency during the war years, for example, to make a larger use of the Post Office Savings Banks. The deposits following 1914, went up several millions. With the ending of that period of crisis and uncertainty, however, the swing away from the Government banks and toward the private institutions began. The Post Office Sayings Banks has lost about $19,000,000, and the Dominion Government Savings Banks about $5,000,000, since 1917, while other savings banks have made a gain of over $25,000,000.

A further reason is the entrance of the Ontario Government into the banking field as a competitor with the Dominion Government. The Provincial savings banks have deposits of something over $20,000,000, although they have been operating for less than ten years. Their success, as respects volume of business, was due in considerable measure to the fact that they paid a higher rate of interest than did the Dominion Government banks.

It must be understood, of course, that when Governments set up a savings bank system they are merely adopting a form of indirect borrowing. They take care of the deposits of the people at a lower rate of interest than that at which money could be had in the open market. During the war, for example, the Province of Ontario was paying 6½ per cent. on bonds put out and allowing 4 per cent. on deposits in the savings banks. While those conditions prevailed the savings banks were profitable; but, with money now available at less than five per cent., the situation has ceased to be favorable. In the case of Ontario it could scarcely be said that the establishment of savings banks was as defensible as in the case of the Dominion Government. In remote and out of the way places the Post Office Savings Banks gave a genuine and necessary service.

There has also been a growing tendency to use the chartered banks, which all have savings departments. The money thus received appears in the bank statement as "notice deposits," although the rule in that regard is given a good deal of elasticity. At the present time $1,260,000,000 is held by the chartered banks as notice deposits, which represent in large measures actual savings of the people. In a sense it is idle capital, although not wholly so, since the banks use the money for loan purposes. They allow interest at three per cent., and put out the principal at from five to seven per cent., which accounts for their eagerness to have savings accounts.

The accumulation of savings on a rising scale has been one of the significant features of our growth in national wealth. No longer ago than 1900, which is like the day before yesterday in history, all classes of deposits in the chartered banks of Canada had a total of over $2,150,000,000. We are very clearly much richer than we were twenty-five years ago, although not in the precise measure which increased bank deposits would suggest, since deposits, on current account in particular, are almost invariably counterbalanced by loans. The cheering fact is indisputable, however, that popular savings have grown enormously. They would mean more, as representing capital available for productive enterprises, if taxation were not taking such huge slices out of them every year.—Ottawa Journal.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

The full horror of the political situation is beginning to be appreciated. All the leaders are announcing speaking tours.

If Mr. Meighen's new radio, presented to him by his followers is not working very well he can blame the static produced in the Liberal camp.

The man-on-the-street doesn't seem able to get so excited over the dissolution of Parliament as are the politicians. He is satisfied to know that it is dissolved and to feel that an election may put an end to the unseemly quibbling and party manoeuvring.

Sometimes, as Canadians look back over the political history of the last few months, they can see that Mussolini's methods have their good points.

It looks as if some of the Progressive members will have a lot of explaining to do when they begin their campaign.

Mr. Forke's hat is still in the political ring. Brandon can have him if it wants him, explains the former Progressive chieftain.

If he reads the newspapers His Excellency the Governor-General must imagine the war has broken out again. At that the hero of Vimy is no stranger to heavy gun-fire.

The new Government had better be careful about what date in September it chooses for the election. It might run foul of the Peterboro Industrial Exhibition.

Cleveland firemen are going to be forced to wash their bed clothes themselves. Sounds like a clean-up in the fire department.

No, gentle reader, excursion rates over the Hudson Bay Railway have not been advertised.

DR. FRANK CRANE'S DAILY EDITORIAL.

THE FREEDOM OF A WRITER.

By Dr. Frank Crane.

Mr. Sinclair Lewis has refused the Pulitzer prize, claiming that to accept it would place him under embarrassing obligations.

Notwithstanding the sneers of some that this is a mere publicity stunt, there is a good deal to be said for Mr. Lewis's position.

Entire freedom on the part of a writer is an ignis fatuus. It is a will-of-the wisp, which if he follows will bring him to the ditch.

There are two kinds of masters he may have.

One kind is the public at large. Its means of expressing this mastery is the buying of his books.

The other form of control of him consists in the giving of prizes, the bestowing of awards, the election to membership of various bodies, and things of this kind.

It is the public that is the safest and best master. It is the much-abused awge system that is the best form of rule by which the public governs.

If the people like a thing they will buy it; if they do not like it they will not buy it.

Like Wilson—that's all.

There are many who in their contempt for the public and in despising the common run of men insist upon writing what they please. The public has a sure way of dealing with these people. It simply does not buy his writings.

This may seem a sordid and an unworthy method to coutrolling the writing man, but in the long run it is the most just.

Shakespeare is not in his pre-eminence because of the verdict of any society, the award of any prizes, or the approval of any elect body, but simply because the public likes him.

That public has passed favorably upon the merits of Goethe, Dante and Victor Hugo. They have been elected to their posts as leaders of the world's literature by the world's choice.

Nomatter what an elected clique may decide and Wo matter what those in charge of an endowment fund may think, the man who is permanently approved by his fellows, that is by the people who read him, is selected for his pedestal.

CHICAGO GRAINS

CHICAGO, July 7 (Canadian Press)—Despite record-breaking receipts yesterday in the southwest wheat prices here made rapid gains. Adverse conditions for the spring wheat crop northwest were largely responsible. Closing quotations on wheat were firm, 2 1-8 to 2 7-8 net higher, with corn 5-8 to 1 3-8 up; oats showing 1-8 to 1-2 advance and provisions unchanged to 25c down.

Brisk buying of wheat was frequently stimulated by reports of hot weather and lack of rain both north and south of the Canadian boundary.

In addition, estimates were at hand that probable yields in the Dakotas would be much less than last year. North Dakota not raising more than 85,000,000 bushels and South Dakoto hardly 10,000,000. The fact that the Liverpool market displayed more strength than had been looked for tended further to lift values here. In this connection, it was pointed out that trans-Atlantic stocks are dangerously small and that the indicated 1926 production of European importing countries is 96,000,000 bushels under the 1925 total.

Although selling to realize profits led to some late reaction in the wheat market, the general tone was strong throughout the day. An increase of 1,350,000 bushels in the United States visible supply figures was discounted owing to inclusion of 655,000 bushels at Fort Worth heretofore omitted. Beside export business since Friday was estimated at 1,000,000 to 1,500,000 bushels.

Corn and oats sympathized with strength. Reports were current that corn is firing in Oklahoma, and that Illinois corn is late. The corn visible supply showed 2,308,800 bushels for the week.

EGG MARKETS

OTTAWA, July 7 (Canadian Press).—A sale is reported of Ontario firsts at 29 delivered Toronto, cases returned. Ontario extras are selling at 33 delivered at Montreal but are reported to be moving slowly.

Toronto — Country shippers are paying producers extras 28, firsts 26, seconds 20, Toronto dealers are offering for ungraded eggs extras 32, firsts 28 to 29, seconds 23 to 24. Prices to retailers, extras 36, firsts 33, seconds 28 to 29.

Montreal—Market continues weak, dealers are paying delivered extras 32 to 33, firsts 28 to 30, seconds 22 to 26. Prices to retailers, extras 37 to 38, firsts 33, seconds 27 to 30.

Winnipeg—Country shippers selling extras 27, firsts 25, seconds 18, prices to retailers, extras 34, firsts 32, seconds 26.

MONTREAL GRAIN AND PRODUCE

MONTREAL, July 7 (Canadian Press).—The demand from English importers for all lines of grain on the Montreal market showed a marked improvement yesterday, but exporters stated that the volume of business in Manitoba wheat was checked to some extent by the advance in prices in the Winnipeg market. On the other hand the prices bid for oats and barley were in line and quite a few of the orders received were accepted. There was also an active demand from Canadian and United States exporters for ocean freight room from this port for July loading and it was reported that engagements for about 1,000,000 bushels of grain were made.

The enquiry from local exporters for grain was good and a fairly active business was done, including sales of some round lots of No. 3 Canadian Western barley at 10 1-2 cents per bushel over the Winnipeg July option, and tough No. 1 feed oats at 3 cents per bushel over the same option, c.i.f. Montreal, and in addition to the latter fair sized lots of other grades of oats changed hands. The tone of the spot market for car lots of oats was stronger at another advance of 1-2 cent per bushel.

The export trade in spring wheat flour was decidedly more active than it has been of late but the local situation was quiet and steady. The tone of the winter wheat flour market was steady with a small trade passing.

A fair amount of business was transacted in all lines of millfeed and the undertone was firm. The trade in standard grades of rolled oats was inactive, but prices were unchanged.

Prices for all grades of eggs were well maintained under a good demand. The receipts were 1,730 cases.

Extreme dullness marked the butter trade, but prices were steady at the recent declines noted. The receipts were 3,364 packages.

There were no developments in the cheese market, business being quiet and prices firm. The receipts were 17,870 boxes.

The trade in beans was quiet, but the undertone to the market was firm with car lots of choice handpicked white quoted at $2.25 per bushel, and broken lots at $2.35 to $2.45 per bushel.

BUTTER AND CHEESE CURB MARKETS

MONTREAL, July 7 (Canadian Press).—In the local curb market yesterday there were 1,500 packages creamery butter and 3,800 boxes of cheese offered. The butter was settled for at 32 1-8c per pound for No. 1 pasteurized, at 31 1-8c per pound for No. 1 unpasteurized, and at 30 1-8c per pound for No. 2 grades, and the cheese at 16 3-4c per pound delivered here.

STERLING EXCHANGE

MONTREAL, July 7 (Canadian Press). — Sterling exchange rates were quoted here yesterday as follows:

Sterling demand $4.85 1-2.

Sterling cables $4.86.

It was recently announced that as a result of 9,325 interviews given to applicants for position as telephone operators in the British Post Office service, only 1,551 girls were found suitable. Among the principal causes for applicants being turned down were defective or slovenly speech, undesirable accent and bad spelling.

CHEMONG ROAD

To the Editor o fthe Examiner,

Dear Sir,—With reference to the condition of Chemong Road to the Park. There is nobody deplores the inability to improve codntions readily more than the Commission but Chemong Road is 5 miles out of upwards of 160 miles of County and Sub-Area Roads.

You will remember the Commissions County and Sub-Area, set out through the Examiner to check or regulate the heavy truck traffic during the period that the frost was coming out or about 2 weeks, when some Association appealed to the Highway Department with regard to the same. The result was that the Department through the Chief Engineer called the Commissions off.

In less than a week the Highway was practically made impassable and County roads similar. The gentlemen that resort at the Chemong Park or some of them are members of the Association referred to namely: the branch of the Ontario Motor League that are now complaining of the condition of the said road. It is well to know that the sum of $10,000, will be used to resurface the places that were ploughed and ruined by the heavy trucks at the period that such traffic should have been stopped.

Not only the money but the time that is now being taken up as a result of such unrestricted traffic detracts attention from the other parts of the roads for the present but the same attention as has been given in the past will be repeated to all roads as far as funds will allow but the $10,000 is gone.

The Commission are doing all in their power to keep the Chemong road in as good a condition as possible but they cannot overlook the fact that save two months when the city people live at Chemong Park that the Lakefield or Norwood roads carry much more traffic, particularly truck traffic and tourist traffic. The Warsaw road and the Keene road carry a heavy quota of such traffic, and must receive a proportionate amount of attention

The Chemong road is straight and of good width generally speaking whereas the Norwood and Warsaw roads are winding and narrow in many places and considering the danger consequent upon such conditions the Commissions are endeavoring to meet the same not forgetting other roads.

The gravel is a problem to wrestle with in so far as the south two miles of the Chemong Road is concerned but the Commission are endeavoring to secure trap rock screenings from Cordova if the funds will accomplish the same.

The speeding that is practised on the Chemong Road would require a Provincial Treasury to keep the same in prime condition and the speed artists are those who use the road in question and at the same time complain of the condition of the road.

If all would be considerate the Roads will get the best attention possible consistent with funds available and being optimistic we do not anticipate another spring when heaving will be the same, and in the meantime heavy trucks debarred for short time each year.

Respectfully yours,
ED. M. ELLIOTT,
Clerk of Commission

A LETTER ON THE CANAL

To the Editor of the Examiner.

Sir,—The spirit displayed by our local chamber of commerce in repudiating the stand taken by the King government and its supporters regarding the T.V.C. is worthy of the highest commendation. But while Mr. King and his supporter, Mr. Gordon, have been delivering such a deadly blow at the development of the whole valley of the Trent Canal, where were the advocates of the canal at a time when of all times they were so badly needed. In the past whoever was M.P. for West Peterboro be he Grit or Tory, friend of the government in power or foe he could always be relied upon to fight off the multitude of enemies of the T. V. C. who wanted the money for their own constituencies but this time the T.V.C. was, so to speak, trampled in the mud, even called a menace and a humbug and yet there was not so much as one word said in its favour or a dollar voted for its completion. It will take years to put the canal back where it was before in public estimation if indeed it can be done at all because the refusal of the government to give the canal right-of-way as an important undertaking and the absence of its advocates will be pointed to by its enemies in the House in the future as a warrant for disregarding it. It is a serious matter. The Quaker Oats would not have come here but for the cheap route from the west for its supplies afforded by a canal open to the western trade. It may safely be said that no other "grinder" of either flour or oatmeal will look to Peterboro or the Trent district in the future under these depressing circumstances.

It is to be hoped that the Chamber of Commerce will in conjunction with the T. V. Waterway Association begin an agitation for recognition of the necessity of the immediate completion of this canal from end to end. As it is the canal is useless as a trade route. It is difficult to estimate the injury this blow has dealt us. The eastern part of Ontario has lacked pep and steam if not talent in a way that has kept it back and low down in the estimation of Canada generally and yet it is doubtful if in the whole of Canada there is a district with greater potentialities. We are lacking somewhere.

HOW DO YOU SAY IT?

(By C. N. Lurie.)

Common Errors in English and How To Avoid Them.

When you use the word "one", referring to one person, one object, etc., be careful to use with it the verb in the singular number, since one is singular, and not plural.

An example of the error that is commonly made in the use of this word "one", was noted not long ago in a report of a lawn tennis match. It read:

"She was always on the move, darting from side to side, anticipating with that keen tennis sense that only one out of a thousand players have," etc. This should have read, "that only one out of a thousand tennis players has." The subject of the verb is "one", not "players", although the word is placed nearer to the verb than is the former. You would not say "one player have that keen tennis sense"; you would say "one player has that keen tennis sense."

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY

HAVE YOU READ THE BOOK?

Without wireless, the telegraph, the telephone—without radio, the rural free delivery, the airplane service—without all these modern advantages for collaboration through communication, the Scriptures of God stand as the sublime philosophy and the everlasting truth. And the strange part of it all is that the Book was compiled by men of several ages, living in various parts of the world but all agreeing on its truths.

I will admit that there are thoughts in the Bible which I cannot interpret—that there are thoughts so simple that a child can wade through it safely and other thoughts that are so deep that a man-made ocean lines will not scrape its keel.

In my younger years I would often read the Bible to criticize certain paragraphs like this: "It is easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle...." Later I learned the ancient meaning of that little word "needle." The Bible was right and I was wrong.

Some read the Bible once and then agree to disagree with the Book. They remind me of the man who stood before a garret window where unmolested spiders had spun their webs for years and then the man tried to see the beautiful landscape down in the vafley.

In the Bible one can find more eloquence, more important history, and much more solace than in the complete works of all the authors, including Shakespeare, Milton, Carlyle, Cato and Plato.

Have you ever read the Book?

Runic Inscription On Spokane Boulder Tells Of Battle in 1010 Be tween Norsemen and Indians

SPOKANE, Wash., July 7.—Prof. Oluf Opsjon has translated Runic inscriptions on a great lava rock on the outskirts of this city and declares they tell the story of a battle fought between Noresmen and Indians in 1010, nearly 500 years before Columbus discovered America. The rock, he says, marks the burial mound of twelve Norsemen killed in the battle.

A band of Norse vikings, consisting of 24 men and seven women, was following an old trail while travelling from east to west in 1010, Mr. Opsjon explained.

'Exhausted and thirsty they came to the spring beside the trail and camped," he said. "The spring was not a large one and the water was drained from it. A party of Indians came along and found the spring empty. They immediately attacked the Norse party in an effort to drive it away.

"The record left tells that the men of the party put the seven women and the baby on top of the boulder where they could not be reached by Indians, and then men stood about the base, fighting the Indians.

"Twelve of the Norsemen were killed and the others escaped after two men had been captured. Six of the women were taken prisoners, while the woman with the baby in her arms was thrown from the top of the boulder and killed.

"Later six of the survivors returned to the spring and the scene of the battle. There they dug a grave near the rock and buried their dead, who had been stripped of everything they possessed. As to the burial mound, it is plainly visible."

Cubs Are Reared In Nursery Farm in South California Lioness Earns Two Thousand Dollars Acting For Movies

LOS ANGELES, July 7.—A lion farm, believed to be the only one of its kind in existence, has been established near El Monte, in Southern California. The farm consists of a stockade two acres in extent, bounding a series of enclosures and containing at present seventy-four lions and lionesses which are raised for profit. The animals range in price from $250 for a baby to $50,000 for a male lion weighing 600 lbs.

Lions and lionesses are mated twice a year, and the cubs are born in litters of three or four. One lioness on the farm has the distinction of being the mother of thirty cubs.

A baby lion, which is allowed to romp about an enclosure fenced with chicken wire, is fed every four hours from a bottle of milk mixed with a teaspoonful of lime water. The cubs' diet after six weeks is changed to red meat. The lion farm consumes an entire horse daily.

The second day of the week is always Blue Monday for the lions. They fast on that day for the benefit of their digestions, receiving only water.

One of six lionesses in a special enclosure on the farm has already earned $2,000 by acting for the films.

INDIAN PEOPLE WISH TO REMAIN WITHIN EMPIRE

Legislative Assembly Member Says Self Government Wanted.

DOMINION STATUS.

Gandhi Still the Most Respected Man in Hindustan.

MONTREAL, Que., July 7.—(Canadian Press.)—"There may be a handful of people who want separation, but what he educated people of India want is a responsible self-government along the same lines as prevailing in Canada, and other countries of the British Empire," stated S. Sadio Hasan member of the Legislative Assembly, India, in an interview here yesterday.

Mr. Hasan continued:

"The people of India want to remain in the British Empire. If it ever comes that this view is changed it will be due to the blunder of the English, just like the trouble in Ireland developed because of the blunder of Britain. Separation will only come by refusal to grant responsible government to India, thereby alienating the sympathies of the educated of India.

"Gandhi is still the most respected man in India, although he has not so much political influence as he once had. Some people think his non-violence, non-co-operation movement has failed. That is not my view. Big movements started by great people need not be successful in their lifetime; they may be successful after their death, many years later."

LABOR PARTY LOSES IN VOTE ON PREFERENCE

Motion Made To Delete Stabilization Clause From Finance Bill.

CHURCHILL'S VIEW.

Dominions Justified in Developing Their Forms of Production.

LONDON, July 7.— (Canadian Press Cable.)—The Labor m otion for deletion of that clause of the Finance Bill providing for stabilization of the imperial preference for a period of 10 years was defeated on division by a vote of 227 to 114 when the House of Commons was considering the Bill in report atage yesterday afternoon.

Winston Churchill, chancellor of the exchequer, opposing the motion, said the House could not bind future parliaments nor was there anything in the government's policy which would prevent any takes subject to the imperial preference being repealed. All they said was that as far as they had the power to direct affairs the will of the present Parliament was that there should be continuity and stability.

He was of the opinion that any House of Commons with any sense of respnosibility would be very chary of being in a hurry to reverse a declaration like this made by a previous parliament. Therefore the dominions would be justified in taking the fullest advantage of the preferences and doing their utmost to develop the different forms of production they covered.

EMBURY AGAIN A CANDIDATE

Norwood Conservative Expects Bigger Majority in New Riding.

PARTY IS UNITED.

(Examiner Staff Correspondent.)

NORWOOD, July 7. — The prospective Federal elections are apparently not worrying local Conservatives. They expect the return of Dr. Embury of Bancroft to Ottawa, with an increased majority . Not even a speck of a cloud appears to them in the political sky of the Peterboro-Hastings constituency.

An acclamation for the Bancroft doctor is contemplated at the present preliminary stage of the developing campaign, said a prominent Conservative to the Examiner yesterdap. "We feel confident our man will go back with a bigger majority than last fall. He is much better known in the Peterboro section of the riding, and is more popular. He was a stranger to many of the people hereabouts on his first visit and the two parts of the riding were not as united in a compact whole as they are to-day. I don't think there will be an election at all down here. I don't know who the oposition will be or whom they could get to stand."

If there be any prophecy in this opinion the Peterboro - Hastings front may be marked as a quiet sector on the maps of the Conservative strategists. Dr. Embury's opponent in the October elections was Mr. G. A. Brethen, who carried on the fight virtually single handed. His defeat was a Progressiv loss and there have been no stirrings of animation in the party since that blow, while the Liberals have met several times, but merely by way of organization and appraisal of their political resources. Conservatives therefore claim party unity and preparedness, and are inclined to regard their opponents as scattered and unimportant.

Many people are forced to sacrifice articles for sale for various reasons. Look for these bargains among the want ads.

SUMMER HOTEL ON THE TRENT

McKenzie Island Reported Sold To Cleveland Interests For Resort.

IDEAL LOCATION.

(Staff Correspondence).

CAMPBELLFORD, July 7.—McKenzie Island in the Trent River between Healey Falls and Trent Bridge is reported to have been sold to a Cleveland syndicate as a site for a summer hotel. It was learned yesterday on good authority that the purchase had been made, but it is not known definitely whether the construction of the hotel will be undertaken this year or not. The island is a rather large one, and is regarded as an ideal location for a summer resort. Many Americans have been coming to the Trent year after year in increasing numbers, and the cottage colonies at Trent Brdge and Healey Falls have been steadily enlarging. Canadians from Toronto and other cities and also from Campbellford and the district generally have summer homes at these resorts, and the proposed hotel on McKenzie Island will be a big addition to the increasing accommodation.

St. Andrew's Picnic.

The picnic at Crow River Bridge under the auspices of the Young People's Society of St. Andrew's Church was so successful that the members decided to make it an annual event. The trip to the bridge was made in automobiles, and the first feature was a softball game between teams captained by Morley Peeling and Kenneth Grills. The stars on both teams were ladies, and the score at the end of ten innings was a tie. The social committee, with Misses Hazel Atkinson, Margaret Storie, Alice Finney and Mary Watson in charge, provided a sumptuous supper on tables kindly loaned by Mr. Dalgleish. Among the sixty members present were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Clark (nee Jennie Nancarrow) of Flint, Mich., former members, who were warmly welcomed.

WORKMAN HURT BY FALLING BEAM

Slipping Jack Cause of Accident at Barn Raising.

MILLBROOK, July 6. — An accident occurred at the barn raising at Mr. James Might's farm last Wednesday, when a jack slipped, letting a beam fall. Mr. Bert Armstrong receiving a sidelong blow on the head and chest. He was unconscious for a few moments and was brought to in Dr. Turner's office where he was taken for medical attention. The skin was not broken and fortunately no serious internal injury h resulted. Two or three of the other workers had minor mishaps as a result of the falling beam.

Mr. Might is himself ill at Dr. H. A. Turner's private hospital. Work on the new barn was begun before Mr. Might's illness developed and removal to the hospital became imperative; he is making satisfactory progress towards recovery, though the latter is necessarily somewhat slow.

The Literary Society of the Millbrook Continuation School, on behalf of the pupils of Forms I, II and III, presented Miss Kathleen Sutton, who has been assistant principal for the past three years, with a handsome solid leather hand-bag in envelope style, and a sterling silver chain for her Eversharp pencil.

Miss Sutton has resigned her position locally, intending to take a post graduate course at the University of Toronto next term, and before the pupils finally dispersed for the holiday season the presentation took place.

Misses Margaret Howard, President of the Literary Society, Helen Larmer, vice-president, and Elsie Spence, treasurer, gave Miss Sutton the gifts, the secreta Miss Eliabeth Russell, reading the following address:

Miss Kathleen Sutton, Millbrook:

Dear Miss Sutton: The Literary Society of the Millbrook Continuation School felt that we could not have you leave us without some expression of our affection for you, and our appreciation of the help you have been to us, especially in our Literary organization, and as founder and director of the Glee club.

We have felt that you were not only a competent instructor in school hours, but also a real sport when it comes to tennis or hockey, and in true sympathy with the various phases of our young lives.

We do sincerely regret your resignation, but rejoice in the larger opportunities which await you in college experiences, and the broader life which will naturally result therefrom.

We hope that these gifts will remind you that our best wishes are with you always.

Signed on behalf of the Literary Society of the M.C.S.

Elsie Spence,
Helen Larmar,
Margaret Howard.

Miss Sutton made a suitable reply thanking the pupils for their kindly remembrances, and expressing her personal pleasure in the associations as teacher and scholars during the years she has been connected with the Continuation School.

A further surprise was given Miss Sutton one evening last week when the members of the Glee Club, Kenneth Skitch, Jack Byam, Piercy Pitt, Robert Larmer, Lawrence Rowland, and Walter Sayles, called at her home and gave her a fountain pen in appreciation of her initiative in beginning the club, and the time and patience she has bestowed upon its training.

Next term the Continuation school will have but two teachers, instead of three, Miss S. Muir continuing as principal, and Mr. Howard Jordan being assistant principal.

The Quarterly executive of the United Church Sunday school was held last week, the superintendent, W. Fred Fallis, being in the chair.

Among the important items of business which received attention was the annual Sunday school picnic, the decision being to hold this event at Wallace's Point on Thursday, July 22nd.

The usual good programme of sports will be arranged for, the committee including Rev. F. H. Howard, Mr. C. C. Garside, Mrs. O. Williamson and Miss Burnham.

Cars will be provided to convey all who want to go to the picnic grounds.

AUTO OVERTURNS FALLS INTO DITCH

Accident Followed Crowding of Car to Side of Road.

OMEMEE, July 7.—While Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Williamson and son Rennie, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. J. Williams were returning from a short motor trip on Thursday night in the former's car, they met a car opposite the cemetery, the driver of which crowded them to the side of the road with the result that a quantity of loose gravel was struck and Mr. Williamson's car turned completely over in the ditch. Fortunately apart from shock, no one was hurt, but the car was badly damaged.

W.M.S. Meeting.

The Women's Missionary of Trinity United church held their regular meeting on Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. D. Weir, with twenty members and visit present. The president, Mrs. Rowland, presided and conducted the opening exercises which were followed by prayer by Mrs. D. R. Clare of Welcome. In the absence of the secretary, Miss A. Neill was appointed to fill the vacancy. The treasurer reported a number of members who had paid their fees.

A short business session followed during which Mrs. R. Wilson was appointed to take charge of the missionary topic in the Sunday school, the first Sunday in August.

Mrs. Rowland kindly invited the Society to the parsonage for the August meeting which will be held on the lawn in the form of a picnic.

The holding of the Sectional convention in Omemee during July was brought before the meeting for discussion and it was decided to hold the convention here if it could be held over until September but if July was preferred it would have to be held elsewhere.

Miss A. Neil read a leaflet on suggestions for the mite-box department after which Misses Myrtle and Katy Weir rendered a pretty duet entitled "Whispering Hope."

Messages of the Watch Tower were given by the following heralds: Mesdames Overholt, Pogue, Laidley, Wilson, Haygarth and Morcombe. followed by the devotional leaflet entitled "Conditions in Prayer Life" by Cara Bell Platt.

Mrs. Rowand, who attended the Presbyterial executive meeting in Lindsay last week, gave an outline of the changes made in the constitution since Union. The offering was received and the meeting closed with prayer by the president.

Sale of Household Effects.

On Friday afternoon last, a sale of household effects, real estate, etc., the property of the late Thomas Magee was held at his late home. Mr. W. Howden acted as auctioneer and satisfactory prices were realized for the large quantity of articles disposed of. A building lot on King street was disposed of to Mr. Will Fee for the sum of $105.

Ops School Picnic.

RICE LAKE ROAD WORK IS BEGUN

Mile and Half To Be Improved West of Harwood.

TO GORE'S LANDING.

(Examiner Staff Correspondence.)

HARWOOD, July 7. — Improvement of the Rice Lake Road between Harwood and Gore's Landing has been begun under supervision of County Road Superintendent Greer. Negotiations with property owners for the widening of the road in some places were satisfactorily effected, and the actual work has been under way several days. Mr. Greer has laid out about a mile and one-half for this summer at a cost of four or five thousand dollars, and the rest will be left for next year's programme. This work was authorized by the counties council at the June session at the request of a deputation from Harwood and Hamilton township.

Blue-jay will enable you to wear the loveliest, most extreme shoe styles without fear of corns

Prominent foot specialist says:

"Don't pare your own corns"

"When Mr. Average Man uses a razor to tamper with a corn, he is flirting with infection," says Dr. Aubrey R. Keirsey, a well-known Philadelphia foot specialist.

"Amateur corn-paring is extremely dangerous. When corn-paring is needed—go to a chiropodist."

But there is another way a safe home way—to remove a corn. Use a Blue-jay plaster.

The cool and soft pad fits over the corn, stopping pressure and pain at once. In 48 hours, the corn usually goes. But even the most stubborn corn seldom needs more than a second plaster. Standard for 26 years. Such signal success tells its own story. At all drug stores.

OBITUARY.

MRS. A. TOWNS.

ROSENEATH, July 7.—Mrs. Amos Towns of Oak Heights died at her home on Monday evening. Mr. Milton McMillan, undertaker, has charge of the funeral.

JAMES P. HAOG.

BURNBRAE, July 7.—The funeral of the late James P. Haog, whose sudden and entirely unexpected death shocked the whole community, was held on Sunday afternoon at 2.30, interment in the family plot at Burnbrae Cemetery. Service was conducted at the residence, 2nd Concession of Seymour, by Rev. C. Daniel, pastor of the Hoard's congregation, the family being members of this church, with a short service at the grave-side.

The deceased, who was 56 years of age, was a man of sterling character, with a wide circle of friends and acquaintances the large attendance at the funeral service testifying in a measure at least to the esteem in which he was held in this community.

The late Mr. Haog always took a keen interest in sports. A splendid baseball player himself in his younger days, he kept interest in the game all through life, and this spring had been one of the most interested spectators at most of the local games.

Besides the sorrowing widow, one daughter, Annie ,at home, and one son, Karl, a student at Queen's, remain to mourn the loss of a loving husband and father. Dr. Andrew Haog of Campbellford is a brother and Mrs. Geo. Hoard of Hoard's Station and Mrs. T. Rannie of Toronto are sisters of the deceased.

The pallbearers were Messrs. A. Hume, T. Williams, Wm. Gunning, Alex. Milne, John Thompson, Dr. A. Hoag.

W.M.S. PICNIC HELD AT POINT

Mrs. Moore Gives Splendid Address on Conference Meeting.

MILLBROOK NEWS.

MILLBROOK, July 7. — Speaking at the W.M.S. picnic at Wallaces' Point—

Mrs. Moore gave a most comprehensive report of the first W.M.S. Branch meeting for this conference since the Union, held recently in the King street, and Grace churches, of Trenton; Rev. Dr. Laker and Rev. W. P. Woodger being the respective pastors.

The allocation for the 72 Auxiliaries, with the Circles and Bands, for this conference was a matter of interest, $92,000 being the amount, Mrs. Moore stated. Miss Allen, of Japan, and Miss McHarry, of India, were the missionaries who addressed the branch meeting. Miss Allen recently took a Sunday's services in Millbrook, Miss McHarry has been 16 years in medical work in India, her chief desire now being to build a Home that will accommodate 1,500 children. She has already mothered fifty of these needy little ones, and her description of one child who was given a Teddy bear which he named "John Knox," was most amusing. Miss McHarry has adopted a boy in India who is being trained as a medical missionary.

Mrs. Field was given a standing salute when she rose to speak, greeting the gathering in a few gracefully-worded sentences, and going on to state that she is quite new to the whole task connected with her new position, having come into the United Church from the former Congregational church. Desiring to become personally acquainted with the 22 Auxiliaries under her charge, she had gladly accepted the invitation to attend the picnic and urged an interest in the prayers of the membership that, under the new regime, progress may be made in the work of the Kingdom.

The allocation for the Auxiliaries in the Cobourg Presbytery is $21,000, and the speaker pointed out that there must be no going back, but rather an increase in givings to meet the objective.

A discussion on the change in the bounds of the Presbyteries, taking some Auxiliaries from the district with which they had always been associated and putting them in with an entirely new set of officers, and workers, brought the information that there may possibly be some change in this respect once things are well under way, those speaking to the question being Mrs. W. Seymour (Fairmount), Mrs. (Rev.) H. W. Foley (Frazerville), Mrs. (Dr.) Rea, Miss S. Hetherington and Mrs. Howard.

Mrs. Cardwell, as the mother of the missionary who has been taken for the subject of special prayer by the local Auxiliary, was given a warm greeting when introduced to the meeting by Mrs. Howard, the latter adding the thought, "the mother is often the one who makes the greatest sacrifice as she gives her greatest treasure to the extension of God's work."

Mrs. Cardwell told in a most interesting manner something of her daughter's work, and also read a letter describing a lecture tour to country points when, by actual demonstration, the Korean mothers were shown how to properly bathe, dress, and care for their babies. A native nurse accompanied Miss Cardwell on these trips.

Miss Cardwell was the youngest missionary sent out under the mission board of the former Presbyterian church; she has now been nearly three years in Korea and has made wonderful progress in learning the language, which is a difficult one to acquire a knowledge of. St. Giles' church, in Toronto, is sending Miss Cardwell a doll baby, practically life size, and jointed, which will greatly assist her in the very helpful demonstration work she is doing for the Korean mothers.

Overwork is apparently taking its toll, and Miss Cardwell's many friends will be sorry to learn that she is having rather serious trouble with her eyesight, the result of nerve strain from too many duties undertaken as the claims of the work press on all sides, and her strength is hardly equal to the multitude of tasks imposed.

A brief report of the recent Durham County temperance convention held at Orono was given by Mrs. Rea, the responsibility of the women, who control 54% of the total vote, being emphasized. "Shirking the use of the franchise will not hold what we have gained in temperance legislation, and God, Himself, will call us to account for the privilege He has entrusted to us."

Tea was served under the trees, the ground at the Point, drying up rapidly, even after the heaviest rain storm. A most enjoyable social time was spent about the well-laden tables, and it was some time afterwards before the car-loads left for their respective homes.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. J. E. Bingham.

The late Eunice E. Porteous, beloved wife of James E. Bingham, whose death, following an extended period of ill health, occurred on the evening of Saturday, June 26, was born at Rosedale, Ontario, in 1883.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. Porteous, later moved to Cartwright Township, and afterward to Nestleton, where the death of Mrs. Porteous took place when her daughter was just entering her 'teen years.

It was while living at Nestleton that the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Bingham took place, and after a year's residence at Blackstock, they removed to Millbrook about sixteen years ago, living here continuously ever since, with the exception of the winter months, which, during recent years were spent in Peterborough.

Mr. Bingham was successfully engaged in the harness business for a number of years, and later added a garage to his property, purchasing and completely remodelling the store and residence on the east side of King street, which he afterward sold to Mr. F. W. Smith. Five years ago, owing to his wife's ill-health, he disposed of his interests here, deciding to try residence in Florida with the hope that the change might prove beneficial to Mrs. Bingham. The latter, however, was not sufficiently strong to undertake the long journey; a very serious illness at that time making it necessary for her husband to return and resume business interests in Canada.

Deceased was a member of, and an active worker in, the former Methodist church at Nestleton, until her marriage, when she joined her husband in membership with the Presbyterian church here. A member of the choir, and actively interested in various other church organizations, the late Mrs. Bingham rendered much willing and helpful service until the development of the heart trouble which was the final cause of her decease prevented further work along these lines.

The immediate surviving relatives, besides the bereaved husband, include one son, Percy, her father, Mr. William Porteous, and one brother, Mr. Harold Porteous, of Nestleton.

The funeral, under the auspices of Golden Sheaf Rebekah Lodge, No. 176, of which deceased was a charter member, took place from the family residence, Anne street, on Monday, June 28, at 1.30 p.m. Her pastor, Rev. John Riddle, had charge of the service in the house, the casket being then removed to the lawn where the Rebekah Lodge carried out its impressive ritual for a departed sister.

Sister Martha Watt, of Peterborough, Past President of the Rebekah Assembly of Ontario, had charge, assisted by Sister Thomas, of Kawartha Lodge, Lindsay, Grand Marshall of the Rebekah Assembly, and Sister Ethel Vance, who took the chaplain's part, an office which she holds in Golden Sheaf Lodge. A number of sisters from Peterborough and Lindsay joined with the local Lodge for the service, during which Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Johnston sang an appropriate duet.

The pall-bearers were Messrs. J. McMillan (Cobourg), A. J. Fallis, M.P.P., J. N. McGill, H. A. Fallis, H. W. Johnston, and P. I. Bentley.

Among the many beautiful floral tributes laid in loving memory upon the casket were a pillow from the husband and son: a "broken circle" from the father, brother and family: a "gates ajar" from Golden Sheaf Lodge and Millbrook Lodge I.O.O.F., and a large number of wreaths and sprays from relatives and friends. The eight men who bore the flowers to the waiting cars were Messrs. R. I. Fallis, G. E. Burnham, C. Thorndyke, J. Pitt, Cecil Sutton, Lavergne Fallis, H. J. Armstrong, and H. Tate.

Interment was at Pine Grove cemetery, Prince Albert, a number of the local Rebekahs and Oddfellows going with the funeral cortege for the final service at the graveside.

Among those from a distance who attended the funeral were Mrs. W. Sanderson and two children from St. Catharines: Mr. and Mrs. Harold Porteous, Nestleton: Mrs. Gilroy, Hamilton: Miss Nettie Fallis, Toronto: Mr. and Mrs. Thomas, Lindsay: Mr. and Miss Thorne, Reaboro: Mr. C. Ackerman, Mrs. Wilson, Dr. and Mrs. Waite, Mrs. Norman Berry, Peterborough. Some of the members of the Rebekah Lodges of Lindsay and Peterborough who were present included Mrs. W. Brown, Mrs. Davidson, Mrs. Williams, Mrs. Thomas, of Kawartha Lodge: Mrs. B. Watt, Mrs. Hartley, Mr. Fuller, Mrs. Murdoth, Mrs. Martin, Mrs. Warboy and Mrs. R. N. Jones, of Golden Sheaf Lodge.

Brandon—Hunter.

The marriage took place at the Flagler Memorial Church, St. Augustine, Florida, on June 19, of Grace Victoria, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Hunter, to Eldridge H. Brandon, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brandon, of Dresden, Ont.

The bride wore a pretty frock of white taffeta, with corsage of roses and lily-of-the-valley, and white picture hat. The attendants were Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Hunter.

Illustrated Lecture.

A series of slides on "The Pulp and Paper Industry in Canada" was shown at the Young People's Society this week, the meeting being under the auspices of the Wide Awakes group of Canadian Girls in Training.

Much interesting information was gained from the lecture accompanying the slides, the progress of the industry being traced from the initial stage in the forest where the bushman fells the trees, until the final stage when great rolls of paper are turned off the machines at the rate of 600 to 1,000 feet a minute.

The paper producing provinces are British Columbia, Ontario, Quebec, Nova Scotia and New Brunswick, Canada holding the premier place as the paper producing country of the world: yet as late as 1890 the total export was just $120.00: thirty years later it was $104,635,000, and the total value of the pulp and paper produced in 1920 was $236,419,000. The growth of the industry has kept pace with the development of hydro-electric energy derived from water power, located near the source of supply of logs for the paper and pulp mills.

Centuries ago the Chinese and Japanese had discovered the way to make paper but, with true Asiatic conservatism, made practically no improvement on the original process until, through the invasion of the Arabs and Moors, the latter carried the art to Spain and from there it spread over Europe.

There are now upwards of 100 mills in Canada, 46 being in Quebec and 37 in Ontario: the very first paper mill in this land was built at St. Andrews, Quebec, in 1803, and the first in Upper Canada (Ontario) was at Crooke's Hollow, in 1825, the owner, Mr. Mr. Crooke, receiving the government bounty of 100 pounds for the first sheet of paper manufactured in this province.

Spruce makes the best pulp, and it takes a tree approximately 100 years to arrive at maturity: other trees used are balsam, hemlock, jack pine, poplar, tamarack, beech and birch. One ton of paper is produced from 1 and 1-2 cords of wood, and the latter averages 5 cords to the acre. The loss from forest fires, annually, is estimated to be greater than the total amount of wood cut for use in all the pulp and paper factories put together, hence the urgent need of reforestation.

Canada's export of pulp and paper ranks next in value to that of her agricultural products, ninety per cent. of the annual production being exported. The United States is our best customer, Great Britain, Japan, New Zealand, and Australia being other purchasers.

The president, Jean Burnham, was in the chair for the meeting. Hazel McMahon reading the Scripture lesson. Fees from subscribers to the Forward Movement for missions were received by Mrs. G. W. Sayles, and Mary Burnham contributed a piano solo. Mr. G. W. Hetherington operated the lantern.

The Young People's Society will not hold any further meetings until after the holiday season, the group having the least number of points to furnish the entertainment at the re-opening meeting in September.

SURPRISE PARTY.

Mr. and Mrs. James Roddy Are Unexpectedly Entertained.

MILLBROOK, July 7.—A genuine, and very pleasant, surprise was planned for Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Roddy, on Wednesday evening, June 23, when about eighty of their friends gathered at their home to celebrate with them the tenth anniversary of their wedding-day.

One of the friends arrived early upon the scene to make sure that the "bride and groom" would be at home for the evening, the very real nature of the surprise adding much to the enjoyment of the occasion. Mr. Roddy, who was wearing his work-a-day clothes, donned a necktie in honor of the first guest's arrival. But when car after car drove in his yard his usual jovial manner became somewhat suppressed until he finally slipped away and appeared again presently, more at ease in manner, no one enjoying the joke more than the host himself, when he felt he was more fittingly dressed for the "party."

When all had gathered, Mr. I. W. Larmer, acting as chairman, tendered Mr. and Mrs. Roddy hearty congratulations on behalf of the large gathering. Mr. Bert Cunningham then read the following address, the unusual nature of its composition being a decided departure from the stereotyped form, and in keeping with the spirit of good-will which was one of the outstanding characteristics of the evening. Mr. Roddy's mother, whose home is with her son, had a special part in the address and in the presentation which followed —

"A lady, in her boudoir cap,
Sat with a baby in her lap:
She tickled and pulled his toes,
Thought how fast he grows:
I want you to be a fine man:
Like your Dad, as good as you can:

Be as jolly as jolly can be;
Get a good wife, too, surely;
You'll have little children, my son,
Just life yourself, will be full of fun;
The love you give away is the love
you keep,
Lot's of friends then that will like you a heap.
When I grow older, and my hair
turns gray,
In your home I'll spend my last day."

The boy grew up on the dear old farm,
For there is where Nature hath the most charm:
Through child, boy, and manhood estate,
Which hold memories that we can relate,
There comes a time lots of girls to spark
For a good-looking man must have a lark:
Someone has to break away, and take the lead,
Spur the rest on else they'll go to seed.
He learned how to be light on the floor,
All through, the dance was to him no chore:
He'll stand in the middle of the room, or hall,
Above all the din, and music, you'd hear his favorite call:
"Ladies, cross your lily-white hands,
Gents, cross your black and tans,
Ladies, bow low: gents, bow down:
Form the basket, go round and round."
'Twas at a social hop he met his choice,
She became fascinated with his musical voice,
He says he ran into the best of luck,
Everyone tells they got lamp struck:
She says, 'You're the best looking fellow I ever had:
Dance best, jolliest, caller-off not too bad."
He says, "You know, and I'll say you're right,
But that is also true of Miss Fanny White."
So they got up, formed the basket, went round and round,
Finished up by dancing the 'breakdown,'
Of Old Dan Tucker, went to supper,
Then Jim, to her home, he 'tuck her.'
'Twas not long till they were made one,
Now for a pair to make lots of fun:
He says, "My Fanny is the very best cook,
Don't I prove it well, then just look:
You can travel around, go to and fro,
'Tain't everyone can show such a bay window."
I'll say she is some cook and smart,
But the best of all is, the lemon tart.
Once a year he wears his stove-pipe hat,
Dons the colors and on his white horse sat
Like "King Billy" did in sixteen ninety,
On the Twelfth of July to express liberty.
Raisins,' bees, socials of every kind,
At them you'll always him find:
He always has a story, you'd laugh until you're sick.
For he can beat the man himself as a mimic.
He keeps up to the times on the present age,
Of jazz, bobbed hair, and other rage
If the cattle in the field look sad, or forlorn,
Gets around and sees that they are dehorned.
She says, "Jim, I don't want you to lose your voice.
Keep up with your call—follow your choice."
He mounts a stand, or grocery box,
With his foot, and hammer, O how he talks;
Just like a tune from a band-stand—
Puts you in mind of Alexander's Rag Time Band.
"Gather in now, it's no time to stammer,
Everything must go at the drop of the hammer,
Under ten dollars will be strictly cash:
Over that, six per cent, and a year's dash:
Who'll start me? That's it: let's go—
A half, a quarter, I'll knock it down with a blow:
That's it—we're off again in the race—
'Tis not such a bad case—
Hurry up, you better shoot."
Down went the hammer and boot—
"Sold again, and got the money too:
Another man made happy, someone is blue."
This is the story of a pioneer,
James Roddy, a famed auctioneer.

Mr. and Mrs. Roddy, and Mother o' Mine,
You have brought us very much sunshine:
True ten years of wedded bliss
Have not brought you little blessings to kiss:
There is lots of time yet to hear them shout,
And, Godmother, to see them run about:
In future years you'll have something to come,
Until then, please accept this Wear-Ever aluminum,
To this good, old lady, who has planned to-day,
Allow us to present you with this bouquet."

Signed by the "Cavan Blazers."

A white waggon, beautifully trimmed, and well filled, with a variety of Wear-Ever aluminum utensils, was drawn into the living-room by two little boys, Jimmie Dawson and Gordon Larmer, while little Miss Lois Dawson was the driver, flourishing a small white whip, with long ribbon streamers. Following these came little Nellie Parks, carrying a handsome bouquet of roses and carnations, which she presented to Mrs. Roddy, senior. The latter, although over eighty years of age, replied on her own behalf, gracefully thanking her many friends for their kind thoughtfulness.

Mr. Roddy, though taken completely by surprise, made suitable reply on behalf of his wife and himself, and the chairman proceeded with the other items on the programme. Miss Ruby Cunningham, and Miss Bessie Dawson, contributed several recitations which were much enjoyed: Mr. and Mrs. Park sang two or more solos to the pleasure of the listeners, and Dr. W. Mitchell added a Dutch recitation: a brief speech by Mr. A. Birchard brought the formal programme to a close.

Music, dancing, and social intercourse provided agreeable entertainment for the guests until midnight when a dainty lunch was served, the self-invited guests having brought well-laden baskets with them for this important part of the evening's enjoyment. Following the old custom, the "bride" inserted the knife in the handsome wedding-cake before it was cut and served to the guests.

It was long past the midnight hour before the last car was on its homeward way, reiterated wishes for continued happiness and prosperity being added to the final good-nights as the guests left the hospitable homestead.

SCHOLARS GIVE TEACHER PURSE

Miss Sara Leonard Is Remembered By S. S. 8, Percy.

ADDRESS READ.

An interesting event took place on Friday afternoon, when the pupils of S.S. No. 8, Percy, presented their teacher, Miss Sara Leonard, with a purse. The address was read by Lila McGee, and the presentation made by little Marguerite Faux.

Dear Miss Leonard. — We, the residents of S. S. No. 8, Percy, take this opportunity of expressing our appreciation of your services. Your interest in our progress, educationally and in every way that would be in our benefit for unselfish and loving service.

We regret very much that you are about to sever your connection with use, but be assured that you carry with you the love and trust of your pupils and the respect and confidence of the parents.

As a tangible expression of our appreciation we ask you to accept this purse of money as a slight token of remembrance.

May the coming year bring you increasing influence and continual happiness in your sphere of life wherever your lot may be cast, is the best wishes of all your friends in S.S. No. 8, Percy.

Signed on behalf of the school.

Lela McGee, Marguerite Faux and Mary Pickens.

delay the passage of the bill until the mine owners put forward what can be considered fair terms.

There were also rumors, which could not be verified, that the Government was even contemplating withdrawal of the bill altogether.

No General Return to Work.

There is no sign yet of any real drift of miners back to work under the eight-hour basis, and although it would be quite easy for the Government with its big majority to push the measure through, the bill is regarded by the whole Liberal and Labor movement as thoroughly reactionary, and unless it succeeds in bringing peace to the mining industry will render the Government extremely unpopular with the entire working class and trade union community.

Last night, the Government's attitude was somewhat of a mystification in the Parliamentary lobbies. It is expected that a Cabinet Council will be held to-day to decide the fate of the bill.

having been prorogued to a certain day.'

"(On Page 104) 'It is the rule in Canada, as in Great Britain that when Parliament is to be dissolved, to issue a proclamation for dissolution immediately or very soon after that of prorogation.'

British Practice

"The British practice with respect to dissolution being necessarily preceded by prorogation, when both House of Parliament are in session, is established beyond all question. The following sentences from law position of the constitution, will suffice to summarize the position with respect to British constitutional practice as recognized and affirmed by all the leading constitutional authorities:

"(Page 72): 'The dissolution of Parliament may be effected either by the exercise of the royal prerogative or by the efflux of time When the King exercises his prerogative he may do so in person, if Parliament is sitting, or if not in person by royal commission.

"The usual practice, if Parliament is sitting, is for the King to prorogue it first and then issue a proclamation.'

"(Page 71): 'Prorogation is affected at the end of a session either by the King in person or by royal commission. In the former case the King's commands are announced in his presence in both Houses by the Speaker of the House of Lords. In the latter, a like annoucment is made by the commissioners. The prorogations is to a specified date, but it may be necessary either to postpone or accelerate the meeting of Parliament.'

"So much for the constitutional position with respect to dissolution and prorogation.

Legal Position

"A word now as to the legal position. The legal position, according to British practice, is summarized as follows in Anson's 'Law and Custom of the Constitution' (Page 76):

"'Common law governs all that relates to the prerogative of the Crown. Its right to summon parliament and to summon it in form of proclamation; to open, prorogue and dissolve it, and to do so either in person or by commission.'

"As to the right of the Crown to 'open, prorogue and dissolve it' (referring to Parliament), and 'to do so either in person or by commission' is governed by common law, it follows that if unconstitutional or illegal methods are adopted with respect to prorogation, that, in the language of Anson, such unconstitutional methods may affect the validity of any Parliamentary proceedings, or touch any public or private right.'

"Mr. Guthrie is correct when he intimates that there are two distinct legal and constitutional questions raised by the action of the present Prime Minister; one with regard to the formation of the present Government and the other in regard to the dissolution of Parliament on Friday last. The major portion of Mr. Guthrie's statement is concerned with the former question, and is comprised in a recital of communications from two members of the Civil Service of Canada, each of which communications and acting ministers in certain circumstances, but neither of which communications pretends to deal with the fundamental question of the appointment of ministers of the Crown for the purpose of carrying on government and administering public departments in accordance with recognized constitutional practice and law.

Unworthy of Consideration

'The theory that responsible government can be carried on in Canada, or for that matter in any part of the British Empire, except by ministers of the crown duly sworn to office, is so repugnant to the whole conception of British parliamentary institutions as to be unworthy even of consideration, and yet that is the theory of government under which Canada is being governed to-day and has been governed (if the use of that word in such circumstances is permissible) ever since the late administration resigned office on Monday, June 28th.

Beside the Mark

"The communications from the Clerk of the Privy Council and the Deputy Minister of Justice, quoted by Mr. Guthrie are wholly beside the mark. They were read in the House of Commons, and were before the members of the House of Commons when the House, on Thursday, July 1st, passed the following resolution.

The Resolution

"That the actions in this House of the Hon. Members who have acted as ministers of the crown since the 29th of June, 1926, namely the Hon. Members of West York, Fort William, Vancouver Centre, Argenteuil, Wellington South, and the Hon. Senior Member for Halifax, are a violation and an infringment of the privileges of this House for the following reasons:

1. That the said Hon. Gentlemen have no right to sit in this House, and should have vacated their seats therein, if they legally hold office as administrators of the various departments assigned to them by orders-in-council.

2. That if they do not hold such offices legally they have no right to control the business of Government in this House and to ask for supply for the departments of which they state they are acting ministers.'

Two Features

"By the adoption by the House of Commons of this resolution, the Government of Mr. Meighen was defeated in Parliament. There are two very significant and pertinent features of this defeat. It was the first defeat any government had sustained in Parliament since Confederation, and it was a formal declaration by Parliament that the Government as constituted was illegal, invalid, and had no right to exist.

"The presumption of the Prime Minister thereafter to continue to advise His Excellency, and above all under such circumstances to advise and obtain dissolution, which three days previously had been refused by His Excellency to a government regularly constituted which had been in office over four and a half years and in that time was never once defeated, constitutes a more flagrant violation of constitutional right and law than can be found in British history

"The continuance in office to-day of the Government thus defeated, and voted out of existence by the House of Commons, and its presumption to enlarge its numbers and its powers and to continue to act as the Government of Canada is an even more unwarranted violation of constitutional right, practice and low, and which, if permitted to continue, cannot fail to undermine the whole fabric of constitutional government in Canada and the fundamental principles of self-government under British institutions in whatever quarter of the globe they may be held in honor to-day."

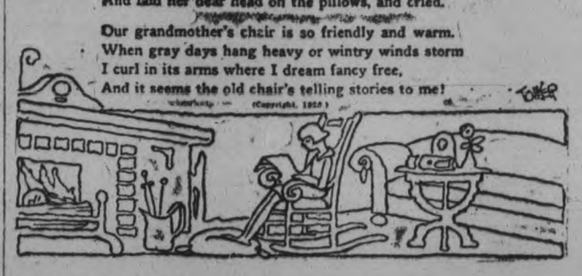
Grandmother's Chair

By SHIRLEY RODMAN WILLIAMS.

FURNITURE and possessions we have had for some time, and associate with events and feelings, often acquire a positive personality. The reaction we experience is akin to the feeling a little girl had about her first dolly when we wanted to discard and replace it. "But," she cried, "You can't buy a new Sally!" Why, Sally was a loved possession, and one can not buy associations. As children we named the furniture, and to this day I think of certain dear old pieces almost as though they had been folks. Often a newly decorated house lacks hominess and warmth. This is because it has not yet had time to take on personality. It is the feeling for things as well as folks which brings the homesick pangs when we are away.

OUR grandmother's chair's kind o' old and some worn
There's a place on one arm where it's raggly and torn.
The chairs mother's bought look so prim and so new,
But grandmother's chair holds its arms out to you.
Since grandmother's left us and gone far away
We've left it right there where she rocked every day.
Once mother sat still in its deep arms so wide
And laid her dear head on the pillows, and cried.
Our grandmother's chair is so friendly and warm.
When gray days hang heavy or wintry winds storm
I curl in its arms where I dream fancy free,
And it seems the old chair's telling stories to me!



The State of Massachusetts receives reports from all over Canada and the United States, telling about queer things birds do and other useful information about them.

A man in Winnipeg, Manitoba, says that he saw a flock of wild geese in April, numbering two hundred thousand. They were held up by the late season, and piled up on flock in the one place, just as a procession jams up when leading ranks hit an obstruction. When he reported to his friends in town that he had seen two hundred thousand wild geese, they laughed at him and supposed he had "been seeing things",h ut they were so curious to find out "how he got that way", that they went back onto the open prairie with him to see these few geese and count them, thinking that perhaps there were a few dozen.

These doubting and curious friends motored out, took one look at the vast sea of wild geese, honking and waiting for Spring to open up the northern lakes, and then they did just the most natural thing in the world, they raced back to town at fifty miles an hour in their Fords, and told the world that 'There are two million."

How to get the truth is a question, when it comes to how many birds are in a flock.

Another observer, in Ontario this time, reported that he had a feeding shelf outside a window, and that a robin came to the place for a drink of water. Now, this was a very grateful bird indeed, for it took the drink, then flew down onto the lawn and laid a nice fresh egg! Can you beat it? And the State of Massachusetts very naturally is tempted to suggest that this man might invite the chickens from the surrounding henyard to "Come and do likewise." It would be a paying business to be sure.

Another chap reports that a robin took a bath in the garden, then reclined upon its side in the sun, allowing the sun to dry it off. Surely that town must have no cats, or a robin would not dare to risk lying on its side.

A RECKLESS PLAN.

I took Joan Meredith in my arms and held her tightly. With a moan she nestled against me and half whispered "What shall I do?"

When she again asked me that question, again that fantastic idea came into my head.

"I don't know, my dear, what to say to you. But I do know that God is not going to let you be sacrificed in this way to the greed of men. I think if I were you I wouldn't give up. You know nothing is lost until it is lost."

"You give me a lot of courage, my dear Judy. But are you sure you understand that I must have fifty thousand dollars before tomorrow night?"

"Yes." I said slowly. "I understand perfectly."

Then, because I wanted to comfort her a little, I said

"If you think of nothing better, I have a foolish plan whereby you may get it."

I never saw a face so transfigured as was that of Joan Meredith's.

"Have you, Judy?" she asked with eagerness.

She seemed perfectly sure that I would take care of it. She was so used to being protected and cared for, she didn't even ask me how I was going to do it, for which I was very glad.

"I think, dear," I said, "that I will go now and see what I can do for you It won't do us any good to stay here. thinking about it. If you don't want to come with me, perhaps you had better find an exciting novel and try to read yourself to sleep."

I wanted to laugh as I said that. I know if anyone had said that to me under the same circumstances I would have felt as though that person had given me a piece of gum to chew on when I was starving.

She, however, took it all in good faith and called up the car.

I was really glad when I saw that Joan was sending me home with the same formality with which she brought me out. The same two men were on the front seat of the town car. They were great big fellows and I felt that I was safe in their hands. Yet I was glad when Joan decided at the last moment to ride into town with me.

"I am too nervous to sleep, dear. The ride will do me good," she said, as she stepped into the car without hat or wrap.

Neither of us said very much during the ride.

UNCLE WIGGILY Today's Bedtime Story

By Howard R. Garis

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE BIG BAND.

Copyright, 1926, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.
(By Howard R. Garis.)

Mr. Hare, Uncle Wiggily's cousin who had invited the country rabbit gentleman and his wife to visit the big city, stood laughing at Mr. and Mrs. Longears. Soon after arriving at the city house, as I told you last night, the hollow stump bungalow rabbits were frightened by a most tremendous noise.

"Isn't it an earthquake?" asked Mrs. Longears.

"No, my dear cousin!" chuckled Mr. Hare, "it is only a trolley car rumbling down the street in front." The rabbit lady looked out the window and saw the electric machine trundling along, driven by a bulldog motorman. A number of timid little mouse ladies were riding on the car.

"Doesn't that noise keep you awake?" asked Uncle Wiggily.

"We don't even hear it," said his cousin, Mr. Hare, "we are so used to it. Oh, you'll like it here! It's so lively—not at all like your dull, country bungalow."

Uncle Wiggily thought his bungalow home was lively enough, especially when the Fox, Wolf or Bob Cat took a notion to chase him, but Mr. Longears said nothing and soon he and his wife had met Mrs. Hare, and were sitting down to the evening meal.

But, out in the street were all sorts of noises—autos honking, trolley cars clanging their bells and rumbling, now and then a steam-roller whistling so it wouldn't run over some little dog or cat boy, and all things like that. For this was a city of animals, not a city of people, and dogs, cats, cows, horses, sheep, pigs and goats lived in it, but they had everything just as you have it in your city or town.

Uncle Wiggily and his wife did not sleep very well that night. In the evening they had gone to a moving picture show, which was quite exciting, for it was a story of a Hunter Man being chased by an elephant in the jungle. Mrs. Longears was thinking of her bunny children, left behind in the hollow stump bungalow in care of Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy.

And, though Uncle Wiggily said Nurse Jane would take good care of them, their mother couldn't help worrying. Then, too, there were many noises throughout the night. Railroad trains whistled, much louder than the owls hooted around the bunny's bungalow. And, toward morning, when Mr. and Mrs. Longears fell asleep, all of a sudden there was a sound as if all the dishes in the city house were broken.

"Oh, what was that?" cried Mrs. Longears.

"Oh! what was that?" cried Mrs. Longears, falling out of bed in her haste to get up.

"Nothing at all, my dear cousin! Nothing at all!" answered Mrs. Hare from the next room. "It was just the Milk Cat falling down the front steps and breaking some of his bottles. He does it once or twice a week. It's really very amusing."

"Oh," said Mrs. Longears, and Uncle Wiggily said the same thing, only a bit louder "OH!" And after a while he and his wife fell asleep, but, luckily, that kind of a fall harms no one.

It seemed that Uncle Wiggily had hardly closed his eyes when he heard a loud pounding on his bedroom door. "What's the matter?" he shouted. "Is the house on fire or has the Fuzzy Fox come after me?"

"Neither one!" laughed Mr. Hare, the city cousin rabbit. "But I have to get up early to go before the judge. You know I was held up by that Traffic Police Dog when I was bringing you here yesterday. I want you to come to court with me and tell the Judge I was only doing ten miles an hour. Sorry to get you up so early, but in the city they hold court at such silly hours!"

"I'll be right with you," said Uncle Wiggily, getting up. "But why don't you wait until morning?"

"It's morning now," laughed Mr. Hare. "It looks dark, I know, but that's only because of the coal smoke. You'll like it when you get used to it. There's no glare of the sun on the eyes, you see."

"Yes—I see," said Uncle Wiggily. "I'll be back after a while," he told his wife. He was just going down stairs to go to court with Mr. Hare when, all of a quickness, there was a terrible big bang that made the windows rattle.

"Oh, there must be a Hunter Man trying to shoot us with his gun!" screamed Mrs. Longears. "Let's hide, Wiggy!" But, Mr. Hare only laughed and said "Don't worry!" But, there came another big bang and what it was we shall discover tomorrow night. The story, then, will be about Uncle Wiggily's city hunt—that is if the jitney bus doesn't try to run on one wheel when it's racing with the taxicab.

Lyrics Of Life

(By Douglas Malloch.)

EXERCISE.

I get a little out of wind,
When we play ball, the boy and I.
My waist has thickened, hair has thinned,
And yesterday he told me why.
He said, the way that youngsters do
When men grow old and boys grow wise,
"Say, Dad, the trouble is that you Don't get enough of exercise."

No, all we do is go on trips,
And run for trains, and such affairs,
And carry sixty pounds of grips,
And tramp the streets, and climb the stairs,
We carry satchels through the sun,
And stand around an hour or two,
We walk ten miles, we tote a ton,
Each day before the day is through.

So sonny, do not worry that
We do not get enough of these.
We may be out of wind, and fat,
But that's not due to too much ease
We may not play as much of ball,
As much of golf as some advise,
But don't you worry, not at all,
That dads don't get their exercise.

Tomorrow's HOROSCOPE

By Genevieve Kemble.

THURSDAY, JULY 8.

A contradictory direction of the important planets threatens to make this an interesting but perplexing day. Although the major benefic is in its most friendly attitude for success and prosperity, yet there are many angles of other powerful orbs that justify the injunction to be particularly prudent and discreet in the management of the affairs. Tumultuous and precipitate conduct might jeopardize good auguries. A sudden change or upheaval calls for manipulation. Sign papers with precaution. Spectacular events are imminent.

Those whose birthday it is may look for a lively and possibly spectacular year with little of the settled or humdrum. But success may be wrung from these unusual predicaments by sound judgment and temperate behavior, in business as well as socially. A child born on the day may have many excellent traits which should be encouraged.

YOUR JEWEL COLOR FLOWER

By Mildred Marshall

The possessor of an emerald is especially fortunate today, since this lovely stone is its talismanic gem. It has the power to protect from deception—particularly the deception of a business acquaintance and give keen insight into financial relations with others. A friendship made today will be sincere and lasting.

The beryl is today's natal stone, and is said to bring success in all legal encounters, with the exception of divorce cases, to those whose birthstone it is.

Light red is the hue prescribed for wear today.

The red geranium is today's flower: symbolic of thoughtfulness, the geranium is said to bring good judgment to those who wear it.

LOVE LETTERS THAT MADE HISTORY

(By Joseph Kaye.)

PRINCE-CONSORT ALBERT AND QUEEN VICTORIA.

Every normal man and woman on the street had wondered at some time how kings and queens make love. The throne of royalty appears so aloof and majestic that kissing and hugging seems a sacriligious thought. Albert and Victoria of Britain could serve as one answer to these speculations. Theirs was a love match. More, Victoria married Albert at the age of twenty-one and she confessed that she loved him "more than I can say," and that "his beauty is most striking and he is so amiable and unaffected—in short, very fascinating." Albert, in return, could write a letter like the following "My own darling.—

We got over our journey thus far rapidly and well, but the tide has been so unmannerly as to be an hour later than the calculated time so that I cannot sail until three. Nevertheless, Smithett promises to deposit me at Ostend by half-past seven. I have been about an hour and regret the lost time I might have spent with you. Poor child, you will, while I write, be getting ready for luncheon and will find a place vacant where I sat yesterday. In your heart, however, I hope my place will not be vacant. I, at least, have you on board with me in spirit.

"I reiterate my entreaty, 'bear up,' and do not give way to low spirits. You are now over half a day nearer to seeing me again: by the time you get this letter it will be a whole day: thirteen more and I am again within your arms

. . . . . ALBERT."

This union of royalty was an ideal one. Albert was a generous and cultured gentleman, and while handicapped by the delicate position of being husband to a queen, he so endeared himself to his wife's nation that he earned the title of "Albert the Good."

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

(By Mildred Marshall.)

Facts about your name, its history; its meaning; whence it was derived; its significance; your lucky day, and lucky jewel.

EDITH.

EDITH has a charming augury. Her name means happiness in the Anglo-Saxon, as it is believed to be derived from the word "ead." Withal, it is a perplexing name to follow in its various interpretations. It has the same root as Edward, Edwin, and Edgar and curiously enough, Editha appears early in its history as the contraction of Eadgitha, which means to have been the earliest authentic name.

If we accept Eadgitha as being the forerunner of Edith, then its interpretation is somewhat different, as the emphasis is placed upon the "githa," which is thought to be a phonetic variation of gifa or gifu, meaning gift. In that case, Edith means rich gift.

Gyda was a popular feminine name among the Norse, and Gytha was the daughter of Swend, King of Denmark. Gydia was a Norse goddess and became the old Norse exalted conception of womanhood.

The first Eadgyth was the daughter of Earl Godwin of whom Ingulf said "Sicut spina rosam, genuit Godwinus Egitham." But in the roll of her lands in "Donesday," she is called Eddeva. Eddid and Edeva were much used by the Normans, but the queen of Henry I., who bore the name, was not permitted anything so Saxon, and she became Edith.

The Pope's mother was one illustrious Edith: it was also the name of Southey's wife. Scott gave it to the Maid of Lorn and made it likewise the name of the heroine of Old Mortality. It is now a reigning favorite in England and America.

The jewel assigned to Edith is the agate, which promises popularity and persuasiveness for its wearer. Its prophecy is best revealed in some very ancient poet's rhyme to the wearer of the agate

"Adorned with this, thou woman's heart shall gain,
And by persuasion they desire attain:
And if of men thou aught demand, shall come
With all they wish fulfilled, rejoicing home."

This obliging stone further promises courage and a bold heart in times of danger: to dream of it signifies a journey. Edith's flower is the wild rose. Her lucky day is Friday and 4 is said to be her talismanic number.

Although women have less hair in these days than formerly, much more time and money are spent in keeping it in order, and hairdressing establishments for women are tremendously on the increase both in America and Europe.

SUZANNE LENGLEN EXPLAINS FAILURE TO PLAY TO SCHEDULE

False Conclusions Drawn and Unkind Things Said, Which Were Undeserved, is French Star's Complaint.

"I AM JUST A SENSITIVE GIRL"

LONDON, July 7.—(Canadian Press).—Suzanne Lenglen is "just a sensitive girl," who might have been spared recent unpleasant incidents at Wimbledon if the Tennis Committee had been made up of students of the psychology of young ladies, the French star yesterday said just before leaving for Paris.

Discussing the events of June 23, when she failed to play her scheduled matches and the Queen of England and a large crowd waited in the stands, Mlle. Lenglen explained her point of view. She said that at first she was willing to play in her doubles match, but that after being scolded for not appearing for a singles match, of which she knew nothing, she was too excited and upset to play at all.

"If only the committee were students of the psychology of young ladies," she said, "they would have told me to play my doubles and then scolded me when play was over, provided they did not take the course which—treating me as an ordinary competitor—they might correctly have taken, that is of scratching my name.

False Conclusions.

"People came to such false conclusions about my notions and some very unkind things were said about me which were utterly undeserved. For, after all, I am just a sensitive girl, who tried to do my best in very difficult circumstances."

Mlle. Lenglen, who was forced out of the Wimbledon tournament because of illness, said that she was undecided as to her future movements. She expects to go to Pourville to visit her father and to rest for a time.

HELPFUL HINTS by GOLFING STARS

BY SPECIAL ARRANGEMENT WITH GOLFERS MAGAZINE, CHICAGO.

FRANCIS OUIMET—DO NOT PRESS

It is difficult to convince golfers in the first year or so of play that they should not press. No one likes to be invariably short off the tee. The sole remedy seems to be to slug. And slug we do. The cost is frightful in slices, hooks, lost balls, topped ones and dubs. But this is not to be reckoned with if the player occasionally lands on one and gets that delightful thrill which only comes when we see our tee shot, brassie or iron eat up space. We immediately have it bred in us that such a shot represents our game, that it is always to be striven for.

How much better for us if we studied results at the start. Take a round of golf so played and let us keep our card. Then let us play another round, striving not for distance but for accuracy and sureness. I think anyone will find that the latter results in much lower medals and far better matches.

After all, the result is what we strive for on the links. And this result must be based on the entire round, not upon our good fortune in occasionally sending a screaming shot down the fairway.

SECRETS of STARS on INSIDE BASEBALL

as told to BILLY EVANS

HORNSBY

By Rogers Hornsby Champion Batsman—National League

There are few great made-to-order batsmen.

And, while it is generally conceded that batting is largely a gift of nature, still the selection of the proper bat enters prominently into the success attained by every player.

I am of the opinion that most players make the mistake of using a bat that is too heavy. They work on the theory that additional weight gives more punch and power to their drive.

In nine cases out of ten this is a mistake, since the heavy bat has a tendency to handicap the natural swing. No batter gets results unless he meets the ball properly.

A too heavy bat positively interferes with the swing, particularly if the batter, fooled by a change of pace, tries to shift his style and stance.

The grip of the bat is just as important as having the proper weight. Since the size of the hands of every player differ, special attention must be paid to this feature.

Never use a bat with so large a grip that it is difficult to get your hands around it and feel at ease. A firm grip means much in getting distance and power to your drives.

Major league players are fortunate in that they can have bats made to suit their fancy. To the amateur player I suggest that he try out the bats made for the various big leaguers, get one that suits his grip and weight and then stick to it.

I would advise that you get the bat a few ounces too light rather than too heavy.

DETROIT LOSES FIFTH STRAIGHT

Drop Third in a Row to St. Louis by Five to Two Score.

INDIANS SHUT OUT

NEW YORK, July 7.—(Canadian Press).—Detroit at home today lost its fifth straight game and the third in a row with St. Louis, 5 to 2. Detroit's only scores were home run hits by Fothergill and Heilmann. Sisler also got a home run when his hot grounder bounded off O'Rourke's shoe into deep centre.

Chicago made it two out of three from Cleveland by shutting out the Indians, 8 to 0, in the final game of the series, and the last appearance of Speaker's club at Chicago this season. Chicago won the game by bunching hits. Blankenship, although hit freely, bore down in the pinches.

CHAMPION RESIGNS

Kid Kaplan Withdraws From Featherweight Division—Seeks Lightweight Belt.

MERIDEN, Conn., July 7.—(Canadian Press).—Louis (Kid) Kaplan yesterday relinquished his world's featherweight championship effective immediately. Inability to make the class limit of 126 pounds was given by Kaplan as the reason for his action.

The crown will be returned to the New York Boxing Commission which sponsored the elimination tournament which resulted in Kaplan fighting his way to the top.

The announcement follows Kaplan's victory over Bobby Garcia in a title bout at Hartford, Conn., a little more than a week ago.

Manager Denny McMahon said last night that Kaplan would seek championship laurels in the lightweight division.

CRESCENTS WIN AND TAKE LEAD

Masterson Holds Raybestos to Four Hits and Scores Shutout.

THIRD GAME 8-0

Raybestos were shut out and Crescents scored eight counters in the third game of the city Intermediate series at Exhibition Park last evening. The victory gave Crescents two out of the three games played, and placed the brakeliners in a hole out of which they can only emerge by waking up to the fact that there's a real battle in progress. Right now Crescents have a nifty ball club with good pitching and plenty of pep on the attack; they are dangerous on the runways, and carry a batting punch that gets runs.

Casey Masterson breezed through easily last night, allowing only four hits, while Crescents nicked Wood for nine honest swats off of which hurt. They became particularly gay in the fifth, and singled cleanly, four in a row, Masterson sending in two of the three runs gained. Lefty Maudsley finished the last frame and got through nicely.

Centrefielder Jones won some attention by his fine work in handling hard fly chances, and his theft of second base in the second, when he beat Delahaye's speedy and accurate peg by a pretty slide, was one of the bright spots of the contest.

Crescents scored three in the first, when Jones walked, advanced on a wild throw and scored on Rishea's double to right. Rishea stole third and after Scully had fahned, went home on Ranger's single. Marchen was thrown out by Wood. Masterson zipped one through the box to score Ranger. LeBarr walked and Nicholls threw out McDonough.

A pass to Jones, his steal, Rishea's infield out and Scully's wicked smash down third scored Jones with another run in the second.

In the fifth, with one gone, Ranger singled to right, Marchen to left and Masterson between short and second, the latter scoring two runners. LeBarr singled into middle, McDonough fanned and a pass to Hall put three on. Jones drawing his third pass of the game forced in Masterson.

The eight run cames in the sixth when Ranger slashed one at LeBarr and stole second. Marchen flew out. Masterson's grounder went through Moore to score Ranger.

A double play stopped Raybestos in their first. Cameron hit and took second on a passed ball, going to third when LeBarr was retired at first. Rishea dropped the third strike on Rogers but got him at first and the return peg from Ranger caught Cameron going into the plate.

Only one more chance did Raybestos get and they passed it by. With one gone in the third, McIntyre and Wood singled in turn through the infield, and Cameron was passed. With the bags loaded, LeBarr sent up a foul to Ranger and the pitcher threw out Ranger. After that they had only two men left stranded.

AUSSIES SCORE SIXTH VICTORY

First Half of Visit Closes With Decisive Win Over Notts.

HIGH SCORING

NOTTINGHAM, England, July 7.—(Canadian Press Cable).—The touring Australian cricketers yesterday wound up the first half of their visit to England by registering a decisive victory over Nottingham, the margin in their favor being one innings and 136 runs. This was arrived at after the Notts side, in two innings had batted only 352 runs, made up of 193 in the first innings and 139 in the second. This was in response to 460 compiled by the Australians.

Yesterday's fixture marked the sixth victory for the Antipodeans.

BURNS INJURED

Broken Rib Will Keep Him Out for Several Days.

CHICAGO, July 7.—(Canadian Press).—George Burns, first baseman of the Cleveland Indians left here last night for Cleveland with a broken rib which will keep him out of the line up for several days. Burns was hit by a pitched ball in the eighth inning of the first game of Monday's double header, and attempted to play in the second game. Ted Lyons was pitching for the White Sox when Burns was hit.

SOUTH AFRICA WANT SERIES OF MATCHES

Attempt Being Made to Induce Representative English Team to Travel.

DURBAN, South Africa, July 7.—(Canadian Press Cable via Reuters).—Every effort is being made by the board of control of the South African Cricket Association to secure a thoroughly representative English team to tour South Africa during the coming season. It is expected that A. E. R. Gilligan will captain the English eleven and that it will include A. P. F. Chapman, H. J. E. Enthoven and Tate of Sussex. It is proposed that the team play 17 matches and five tests, four days being alloted to each test.

LEAFS RETURN ANOTHER WIN AGAINST TRIBE

Bagby's Fine Pitching Nullified by Errors in Second Inning.

STARS SCINTILLATE

Three in a Row Over Bisons — Stryker Stricken.

NEW YORK, July 7.—(Canadian Press).—Toronto won from Rochester at its home town yesterday by the score of 5 to 4, to win the series, three games to two. Jim Bagby pitched a fine game but two Rochester errors in the second inning gave the Leafs two runs to knot the count. Rothrock hit a home run in the seventh with none on.

Playing at Syracuse, the home team made it three in a row over the Bisons, yesterday, decisively outplaying them and knocking Sterling Stryker out of the box. The score was 11 to 5.

Martin, the Stars' second baseman, hit two home runs and Roettger, returning to the locals' lineup after a week's absence, drove in three runs with a double and triple.

Jersey City broke the Bears' winning streak that extended to ten straight by a 2-0 setback in the third game of the series. Guy Cantrell was in unbeatable form and held Newark to three scattered safeties, Gaudette the offensive for the Skeeters, doubling twice and scoring both runs.

Baltimore took both ends of a double header from Reading by scores of 6 to 2, and 5 to 1. Boley, Oriole shortstop, turned in the fielding gem when he speared Corn's vicious liner in the fifth inning of the first game, whipped to Scheer for a force out at second and watched the latter throw to Monahan to catch Ellis off first for the only triple play at the Oriole Park so far this season.

BEAT BRINTONS AND REACH FINAL

Firemen Won First Place in B Group—Play For Cup Next Week.

The Firemen won first place in "B" group of the Mens Soft Ball League by defeating the Brintons last night at Central Park. The Firemen will meet the winners of "A" Section at James Stevenson park next week to play off for the city Cup. The score last night was 6-3 but this score by no means indicates the closeness of the game. The Brintons had the best of the game up to the third innings but the next three innings were the Firemen's. In the seventh Piercy took the place of Bishop as the hurler for the Brintons, and in three innings he had four strikeouts and allowed one player to reach first base. Bishop was a little wild at times and walked four men. Dunkerley pitched a good game keepnig the hits well scattered and in the pinches he was there with the stuff. Dunkerley made the four bases on an error of Mahood.

PETERBORO-FOXBORO ROAD AN ADVANTAGE

parallels the Trent all the way to Peterboro. It is a natural route for tourists coming from the east, and a lot of them are coming from that direction these days. A good highway to Peterboro would attract motorists through this district, and every town along the route would benefit. This applies equally to Stirling, Campbellford, Hastings, Havelock and Peterboro."

If this project is to be relegated as a local affair from the counsels of the Eastern Ontario Chamber of Commerce at Belleville, then the Trent towns should get together and promote it themselves, Mr. Thompson remarked. The construction of other trunk roads in the east is being completed, thereby favoring the prospects of the Foxboro-Peterboro project.

Mr. Thompson specially stressed the claims of the hinterland in Eastern Ontario for improved traffic facilities. A lakeshore highway was a first and obvious necessity, but in the branch roads to the north there was a strong natural right and claim for Peterboro - Hastings (county) lines of communication. Laying that claim before the Department of Highways should not be delayed, Mr. Thompson emphasized, and he hoped that Stirling's neighboring towns and cities, including Belleville and Peterboro, would take a lead in petitioning the Legislature for the development of the Peterboro-Belleville road.

CAVAN CENTRE NEWS.

CAVAN CENTRE, July 6.—On Friday evening the young people of S.S. 7, Cavan Centre, held a social evening at the home of Mrs. F. M. Staples in honor of Miss Electa Preston. Miss Preston has for the last three years been a popular and successful teacher in that section and her resignation has been accepted with great regret.

During the evening the pupils of her school presented her with a slight remembrance from them, Lazelle Lang reading the address and Melville Perrin giving the present.

The time was spent in games both in an out of doors. Lunch was provided by the girls.

Personals.

Miss Olive Perrin spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Perrin.

Miss Muriel and Mr. Archie Matchett spent a few days with Mr. Archie Wilson recently.

A few from around here attended the Sunday school convention at Centreville on Friday afternoon and evening.

Mr. Gerald Staples, Lifford, is spending the holidays with Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Staples.

Quite a number from around here attended the farmers' picnic at Wallace's Point on Thursday.

Mr. Elton Sutton, Colborne, is spending the holidays at the home of his grandmother, Mrs. Robert Sutton.

Mrs. Fred Staples has returned from spending a few days with friends in Toronto.

Miss Helen Syer, Otonabee, is spending the holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Syer.

Agricultural.

Due to the peculiar weather which we are having the crops are coming along very fast. The heat and then the showers combined are attempting to make up for the time lost in the spring.

Early peas are in bloom. Occasionally a field containing rye is seen with the heads shot out. Hay, such as alfalfa and sweet clover, is ready for cutting.

Roots are very backward this year. Many report poor catches of field corn. Some farmers have just finished planting their late potatoes. Anyone who had the luck to use a hot bed will have a great advantage over other gardens this year particularly tomatoes. Other than those started in a hotbed or greenhouse will be kept busy if they mature before frosts come.

There is a very heavy crop of nearly every kind of fruit excepting currants. Plums, apples, cherries and berries will be plentiful. Strawberries are ripening already.

Mr. Herbert Biglowe recently received a shipment of trout to put in his millpond. The pond had at the time a large number of game fighters in it. Mr. Harold Russell of the Eighth Line, Manvers, was over to help Mr. Biglowe to empty the fish. These fish are given by the government to anyone who wishes to restock a good stream which will contain enough food for the number of fish given.

As far as we know the first fish to be put into these streams were secured by Mr. S. S. Staples, the Progressive member for Durham. The fish which were put in at that time are now large enough to put up a good fight and a delicious dinner.

What worries us most is the fact that the best fishing grounds are not open to the public.

Fishing is extra good this year as no farmers have the time for fishing this year that they enjoy in ordinary seasons.

Road Work Finished.

Road work is finished around here this year. Last year the method for statute labor has been changed. Now instead of doing a fixed number of days work according to the size of the farm, each man goes on till all the work required is done. It may take a short time or a long time. When the work is done each man takes his money instead of letting it go on his taxes.

TRENT RIVER NEWS.

Diamond Disputes Decided

By BILLY EVANS

Does the position of a player's feet who is fielding a ground or fly ball in any way determine whether the ball is fair or foul?

* * *

A ball is judged fair or foul by the umpire according to the position of the ball rather than the feet of the player.

For example, a left fielder in trying to make a play on a fly ball might have both feet in fair territory while his arms extended into foul territory as the ball struck his hands.

In such a play the ball would be foul, since the ball itself was in foul territory when the player with both feet in fair territory tried to catch it.

If the position of the player determined a fair or foul ball, it would be possible for a player to make a fair ball foul that was hit down the line by merely stepping into foul territory as he fielded it.

HOLLYWOOD. — A despondent woman and her little girl, discouraged in retreat from the casting office of a large New York studio, stepped in to say goodby to a friendly little fellow—a humble and unknown title illustrator. His past encouragement and counsel pulled their aching feet into his small workshop for one last word.

The title illustrator sensed desperation in this visit. He handed 10 of his own few dollars to the mother and told her to return the next day. Then he stepped into the office of the "cold" boss and at the risk of his own job told a story, painted as only an artist could paint it. The next day the mother was given a "bit" in a picture.

Now He's Boss.

Renaud Hoffman was the title illustrator. Today he is the boss and sits behind a mahogany desk in the president's office of his own producing company. But it's as a director—not a producer—that Hoffman will rise to the pinnacle of fame.

Humanness—that is the foundation of Hoffman's success. Elaborate settings have no place in his pictures. It is human emotion that makes them appeal to the public. He is a "father" to his cast. His players love him and give their hearts to his work.

I saw Hoffman break into a flood of tears during the filming of a sad scene in "The Unknown Soldier." News had just arrived that "Fred Phillips" had been killed at the front. It was a dramatic bit that required tears to put it over.

So intense was the feeling, stirred by his personality, that before the camera ceased clicking even the prop boy was crying. Hardly another director in Hollywood could have made this scene so real and so human.

Making Tears Real.

Hoffman has one peculiarity which deserves mention. When talking business, he sits at his desk and draws all sorts of figures—squares, circles, triangles and what not. It is his way of illustrating his conversation. He will use a ream of paper during an afternoon's conference.

His inborn kindness that kept the mother and her daughter from starvation have made his pictures what they are—not record breakers but stories full of heart interest.

BELLEVILLE TEAM HERE SATURDAY

Petes Playing Good Ball and Deserve a Crowd.

Peterborough fans will have a chance on Saturday of seeing the Petes in action again with Belleville providing the opposition. The good form shown by Manager Johnston's crew in the holiday game against Kingston has created new interest among local enthusiasts and the probabilities are that the biggest crowd of the season will see Saturday's game. The Petes and Belleville have been having a hammer and tongs fight for second place and Saturday's game should be one of the best of the year. Last time Belleville were here the Petes nearly threw the game away after having a safe lead and they had to stage a last inning rally to turn the trick.

The game will be called at 3 o'clock sharp.

STEAMER ASHORE WANTS ASSISTANCE

Radio Message Says Steamer Is Rapidly Filling With Water.

HALIFAX, N.S., July 7 (Canadian Press).—A radio message to C. H. Harvey, the local agent of the Marine and Fisheries Department, stated that the steamer Ballenas was ashore on the north tip of Seal Island, near Race Point, and badly in need of assistance. The steamer grounded at 6.05, eastern standard time, this morning. The message said the steamer was rapidly filling.

The Government steamer Dollard was standing by at Yarmouth.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK?

By Edson R. Waite Secretary Shawnee Okla. Board of Commerce.

THAT it is said that merchandise well advertised is half sold.

THAT it has been proven everywhere that anything worth having, properly advertised, creates a desire on the part of many to possess.

THAT it is a well-known fact that there is an ever increasing demand for well advertised products, because they have proven themselves to be of superior quality.

THAT of all forms of advertising, the printed page is best. It is dependable and shows the public that the advertisers are in a position to serve them best.

THAT now is the time for progressive business concerns to use still more aggressive methods to increase business.

THAT competition is keen and the only way to succeed in securing profitable business is by well-planned advertising.

Business concerns who do not plan right now for continuous advertising and put those plans into execution, will find it increasingly difficult to secure enough business to show a profit.

SOFTBALL LEAGUE IS NEARING FINALS

Firemen Have Won Their Group—Important Games To-night.

The play-off games for the Taylor Cup will take place next Monday and Wednesday evenings in James Stevenson Park at 6.30 and if a third game is necessary it will be played on Saturday. The Taylor Cup is the emblem of the city softball championship and has been won by the Belmonts for the past two years.

The Firemen were declared winners of "B" group last night after the game in Central Park, when they defeated the Brintons 6 to 3. They have had a very successful season as they have dropped only two games in the ten starts and these were to the Triple Link.

The winner of "A" group has not been decided yet, as at present there is a three-corner tie between the Belmonts, Quakers, and C.G.E. One of these teams will have to drop out to-night as the Belmonts play the Quakers at Central Park at 6.30. This game promises to be a royal old fight between two rival teams. It is expected that Harrison will do the hurling for the Belmonts and Carruthers for the Quakers. To-morrow night at Central Park the C.G.E. meet the Knights and if the C.G.E. come out the winners they will have to play off with to-night's winners so as to establish a group winner.

BASE INQUIRY

Chief U. S. Attorney A. K. Lucas was threatened with death in a mysterious telephone message from a man who told him to have the entire investigation stopped on penalty of death.

It is reported Mrs. McPherson and Mrs. Kennedy are planning another trip to Douglas in an effort to locate the kidnappers' shack in which the evangelist asserts she was held captive.

Mrs. Kennedy in a brief statement asserted she entertains grave fears for the life of Mrs. McPherson, and says that a guard has been placed about the evangelist to protect her.

Nick Harris, famous private detective and solver of a dozen nationally important criminal cases, has been engaged by Mrs. Kennedy to conduct an investigation in behalf of the temple.

LOS ANGELES, July 7 (Canadian Press))—The claim of C. A. Pape, of Tucson, Arizona, that he saw Aimee Semple McPherson, pastor of Angelus Temple, at Agua Prieta, Mexico, five days before she publicly appeared there, commanded the attention of investigators here today.

It was indicated by Joe Ryan, who has been representing the District Attorney's office in the inquiry into the evangelist's alleged abduction by two men and a woman, that an effort would be made to obtain Pape as a witness before the county grand jury, which yesterday took the first step in a sweeping investigation of the pastor's strange case. Pape is understood to be enroute to San Francisco.

GOOD NIGHT STORIES

By Blanche Silver

DICKY MEETS A WONDERFUL LITTLE WORKER.

One morning Dicky growled and grumbled because his mama called him to bring in some wood from the barn. When he reached the wood pile he was astonished to find Happy Giggles, the wee elfin from Make Believe Land, sitting there waiting for him.

"My goodness, Dicky," he laughed, "what would you do if you had to go out and cut all this wood down? I have a little friend not one-tenth as tall as you who has to cut down big trees."

"Oh, go on, Happy Giggles!" laughed Dicky. "What's this you're trying to tell me? Someone not one-tenth as tall as I am chopping down trees. What's the joke, anyway?"

"It's no joke to him," replied the elfin, "and if you doubt my word come along and I'll show you."

Of course Dicky was always ready to see anything new so he caught hold of Happy Giggle's hand and they hurried away to the woods.

Here Dicky saw several little furry animals all busy at work. When they heard Dicky and the elfin coming they started to run. Then they spied Happy Giggles, and the largest fellow came up and shook the elfin's hand.

"Well, Billy Beaver, how's the dam coming on?" he asked, after introducing Dicky.

"We've just about finished it," replied Billy Beaver. "It was some job cutting down those trees. That was my part, you know."

"Well Billy How's the Dam?"

"What? You cut down trees!" exclaimed Dicky. "What did you do it with?"

"With these front teeth, of course," replied the little worker. "We had several beavers cutting, while several others shifted the trees down stream to the proper place."

"But I should think the current would wash them away before you could get a chance to anchor them," laughed Dicky.

"No," replied Billy Beaver. "The fellows stationed there pile dirt and stones on them right away, so they can't float out of place." Then he took Dicky and the elfin over to the new dam. "This dam is just about 12 feet thick at the bottom of the stream," he told them proudly.

"And you fellows did it all yourselves?" questioned Dicky.

"Cut every stick of wood and pushed them down stream, too," replied Billy Beaver. "You see, we all pitch in and give a hand, and it doesn't take long. Now when the dry weather comes our pond will always be full of water. Then we each get busy and build our own wigwams. Of course, we lived here on this stream last year, so all I have to do is to reinforce my house. My oldest children are building new homes this season, so I'll help them."

"Do you have one beaver to boss the crowd?" asked Dicky.

"Goodness, no," replied Billy Beaver. "Everyone just pitches in and helps. We all know how dams should be built and we get to work and do it. You'll have to excuse me now," and flipping his great broad tail, Billy Beaver ran back to his work.

Dicky thanked the elfin and hurried back home to carry the wood in for his mama. He never complained after that.

Daily Short Story

CINDERS

By Clarissa Mackie.

It was the day after the fire, and Peggy Latimer sat forlornly on the one chair which was not scorched, charred or burned to charred fragments—of course it was a kitchen chair!

"Well, Peggy, it's a merciful thing that you escaped with your life," said old Mrs. Benton, as she leaned over the fence that divided her small home from what had been for years known as "the Latimer place." There had been a house, where Latimers had lived for years, generation after generation—and now the house which had been a home for so many years was nothing except a heap of smoking cinders, and nearby sat Peggy, the last of the line. After her mother's death, she had kept on teaching school, living in the old house alone except for old Penelope Beers who made her home there.

"I know it seems wonderful not to lose my life, Mrs. Benton," said Peggy in reply to the old lady's remark, "but you know that I cannot find an insurance policy, though I was sure the house was insured with Ben Hawkes, for five years—that was three years ago, and Ben declares that it was for only three years and has expired."

"Humph!" ejaculated Mrs. Benton, "if you hadn't given Ben Hawkes the mitten last winter, Peggy, he'd have a better memory, I'm thinking!"

"We will believe the best of Ben," said Peggy firmly, and just then there was the sound of a small car which stopped before the Latimer gate and out of which emerged a tall, slim, dapper young man carrying a brief case.

"Is it Ben Hawkes?" whispered Mrs. Benton shrilly.

"I don't know who it is—a stranger."

The dapper young man advanced and bowed politely.

"I am selling fire insurance," he said briskly.

"Why didn't you come last week," inquired Peggy.

"I did come, then!" was the amazing answer.

"I don't remember," the girl said, puzzled.

"I remember distinctly," said the man. "Were you insured, madam?" he asked Peggy.

She told him about the insurance policy which, if it really existed, had been destroyed."

"Hum," he said thoughtfully, "I remember someone opened the door when I knocked, and you answered through a crack of the door, 'No, sir, we don't want any fire insurance, life insurance, vacuum cleaners, washing machines, brooms, brushes, horseradish, painkiller, silver polish, magazine subscriptions, nor nothing!' and the way you brought that out, ma'am, scared me off for sure, and," he added with an artless smile, "I haven't stopped running since then!"

"But I never said any such thing to you or anyone else," denied Peggy indignantly. "It must have been Penelope!"

"Here comes Ben Hawkes, now," said Mrs. Benton excitedly. "You ask him about the policy once more, Peggy!"

Ben Hawkes came, lifting his straw hat from a very rich shock of auburn hair, and smiling broadly, "Good afternoon, Peggy, still surveying the ruins?"

"Yes," said Peggy.

"Excuse me, Mr. Hawkes—your name's Hawkes, isn't it?" asked the strange young man. "My name's Buttons, Theodore Buttons—I'm inquiring about the Latimer place—as I understand it, you're disputing the payment of the fire insurance."

"Disputing nothing," denied Ben, growing darkly red. "I'm not paying insurance when policies have run out and not been renewed. No, sir, I don't do business that way!"

"I take exception to that," said the other. "You see, Mr. Hawkes, I happen to be vice-president of the BLX Fire Insurance Company of Philadelphia, of which you were formerly the agent."

"Formerly—what do you mean?" blustered Ben.

"Until ten minutes ago you were—I have cancelled your agency—don't like the way you conduct business, sir! You sent in a report three years ago, showing that Mrs. Latimer took out a five years' policy for two thousand dollars covering her house and barn here—premiums are all paid to date, and house burned last night—policy has two years to run—get me? Understand why you are no longer useful as our agent?"

Days passed, the insurance was paid, and a new house lifted its walls on the Latimer lot. Mr. Button found occasion to make frequent calls there, to view the house and its progress, and to see Peggy, who grew more blooming every day as her liking flowered into love. The day she accepted Teddy Buttons, they decided to keep the Latimer place as a little country home and live in the city.

"Now, we will have this Penelope girl who chased me away the first time," said Teddy in his masterful way. "Surely it is fair to Penelope to give her a home and place as housekeeper in return for being the one who really blew the flame of love out of the cinders of this old house!"

"But the house had not burned then," laughed Peggy.

He waved her airily aside. "My love, facts have nothing to do with the creating of a beautiful romance like ours."

"Excepting——" breathed Peggy. "Excepting one fact——"

"Our true love," said Teddy soberly.

THEATRE

AT THE REGENT

VON STERNBERG'S NEW PRODUCTION ROUSES INTEREST

Josef von Sternberg's "The Exquisite Sinner," which is this young director's first production for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, will be shown at the Regent Theatre, beginning today.

Ever since Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer announced the signing of Josef von Sternberg millions of motion picture fans have awaited the result with great interest.

Von Sternberg, an unknown, sprang into the limelight when he produced and directed "The Salvation Hunters" on the insignificant sum of $4,500. This picture drew more favorable and unfavorable criticism than any film of the last decade.

Charles Chaplin, Mary Pickford and Douglas Fairbanks declared it the best motion picture ever made. They heralded it far and wide as the opening gun of a cinema revolution, and to show their good faith purchased it for a large sum and released it with their own bookings.

Given Free Hand

Officials of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, on the lookout for new directorial material, lost no time in signing the director to a long term contract and offering him every facility to display his genius on the screen.

Director von Sternberg was permitted to pick his own story and select his own cast. To the great surprise of the motion picture world he selected as his vehicle Alden Brooks' novel "Escape," the screen adaptation of which has been christened "The Exquisite Sinner." The director collaborated with Alice D. G. Miller in preparing the story for the screen, and was allowed to use his own judgment in every way throughout the "shooting" of the film.

According to Harry Rapf, one of the associate executives of the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios, von Sterberg has not only come up to the full expectations of the producing organization but has surpassed them. He declares "The Exquisite Sinner" one of the best pictures of the year from practically every standpoint.

U.S. TOURISTS DRIVEN AWAY

Cottagers Order Them Away and Disturb Them While Fishing.

LEAVE DISTRICT.

A party of American tourists from Ohio was fishing one day last week on Rice Lake near Keene. The party was not very far out from shore and the cottagers, in front of whose residence they were fishing, ordered them away. The tourists left, but met R. W. Carson, the fish and game inspector, who asked them to show him their license, which they did, and then they complained to him of the manner in which they had just lately been treated. The inspector told them that they were within their right when they were fishing there, and as a result of this they went back again. This time the cottagers came out in the launches and circled around them again and again. The tourists soon became discouraged and left this section of the province.

Mr. Carson stated to The Examiner that it is the duty of citizens to use these tourists right, as they spend a lot of money in this section, and that the Fish and Game Department requires of them that they do not catch too many fish, and that they have a license for angling. The American tourists in the Rice Lake district are highly indignant at the way their fellow citizens were treated.

An instance of these reports is the statement of the London editor of the Yorkshire Post, who says that besides a discussion of overseas settlement, "it is recognized that before Lord Willingdon goes to Rideau Hall some one should 'test the atmosphere' in Canada, particularly as regards the Imperial Conference and other such questions." WEDDING BELLS.

PAKENHAM—ROBB.

On June 30th, at seven o'clock in the evening, a very pretty wedding was solemnized at "Uplands," the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Robb, Norwood, Ontario, when their daughter, Reta Ellen, was united in marriage to Francis Roderick Pakenham, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Pakenham, Norwood. The ceremony was conducted by Rev. T. M. Wesley, assisted by Rev. R. F. Stillman. The house was attractively decorated with summer flowers in shades of orchid and pink.

The bride, who was given away by her father, looked lovely in an imported frock of white georgette, heavily embroidered, wearing the customary veil and coronet of orange blossoms, and carrying her bouquet of sunset roses, lilies of the valley and maidenhair fern. She wore the groom's gift, a white gold bar pin with platinum front and diamond setting.

Little Misses Ruth Thomson of Guelph and Ruth Pakenham of Norwood, nieces of the bride and groom, made charming flower girls. They wore crisp frocks of organdie in blue and pink, and carried baskets of flowers.

Mrs. J. M. Thomson of Guelph, sister of the bride, played the wedding music.

The bride's mother was attired in a gown of navy georgette, beautifully embroidered, and wore a corsage bouquet of Columbia roses. The groom's mother wore a gown of grey silk, with corsage bouquet of mauve sweet peas.

After the wedding luncheon was served, the happy couple left for a trip through the eastern states. The bride travelled in a costume of powder blue and French coat of grey, trimmed with cut steel, hat, shoes, gloves and bag to match.

On their return they will spend a short time at Stoney Lake before going to Toronto, where they will reside.

BUSINESS CONDITIONS BETTER LOCAL MANUFACTURERS BUSY

William Hamilton Co. Has Big Contracts—Brinton Co. Extends Plant.

LARGE NEW BUILDINGS.

Many Large Machines To Be Constructed For New Ontario.

That business conditions are improving in the city is indicated by the amount of construction of new buildings for several plants in the city, and also that at least one local firm has received a large contract for machinery.

The William Hamilton Company, Limited, has been awarded a large contract for hydraulic turbines for the Spanish River Paper Mills, Limited, for installation at their Sault Ste. Marie Mills.

The first unit will be delivered shortly and after that eleven more will be supplied to operate under a 16 foot head. The total installation will drive 24 pulp grinders.

The company has also received an order from Coaticook, Quebec, for two water turbines, and another order for three Marcy open-end rod mills for the Hillinger Gold Mines Consolidated. Four of these mills were built two years ago, and have been so satisfactory that Hollinger management decided on additional mills of the same type.

Marcy rod mills and ball mills are manufactured in Canada by the William Hamilton Company, Limited, under license from the Mine and Smelter Supply Company of Denver, Colorado.

It is understood that these contracts will involve more than a quarter of a million dollars.

P. P. Westbye, president of the company, stated that the outlook is most encouraging and that he expected to close more orders in the near future.

Brinton Carpet

The Brinton Carpet Company Limited is adding an additional building to its plant. When completed the building will house the finishing departments which at present are operated in the basement of the main building.

The new building which measures 75 feet by 145 feet presents the latest ideas in modern factory construction. A maximum amount of natural light is ensured as the upper half of the outside wall consists of windows. The roof will be felt and gravel, the walls constructed of brick on a concrete foundation, resulting in an absolutely fireproof building.

Drought and Black Rust Reported In North Dakota

CHICAGO, July 7 (Canadian Press). — With persistent drought and hot weather reported as increasing crop damage northwest, the wheat market to-day scored an early fresh upturn. Advices of black rust spreading tended also to bring about aggressive buying and to lift values. Opening unchanged to 1 1-4 cents higher, wheat soon scored decided gains all around. Corn, oats and provisions were likewise firmer, corn starting 1-8 cent to 1-2 cent up and subsequently going higher.

Every feild within a hundred mile drive around Cass County, North Dakota, is reported as showing black rust in the second cycle of infection. This is declared by experts to mean serious damage if weather to develop rust ensues.

Keeley Silver Up Six Teck Hughes Stronger

TORONTO, July 7 (Canadian Press) — Keeley Silver and Teck Hughes gold were the bright spots in the trading on the Standard Mining Exchange today, the former closing six cents higher at 1.48 after touching high of 1.49 and the latter closing four cents higher at 3.74. The other stocks exhibited a decidedly weaker tendency.

McIntyre, Lake Shore and Hollinger were off 15 cents, eight cents and 25 cents per share respectively. McIntyre closed at 24.85, Lake Shore at 11.32 and Hollinger at 19.15. Gold Hill, strong for several weeks, declined 1 1-2 to 62 while Dome dropped 35 cents to 12.15. Algonquin and Barry Holly were each 1-2 lower at 6 1-4 and 47 1-2 respectively. Beaver was 1-2 higher at 47 1-2.

Trading Featureless On Quiet Exchange

TORONTO, July 7 (Canadian Press)—The trading was quiet and featureless on the Toronto Stock Exchange today. Prices generally remained firm with yesterday's close.

Brazilian Traction, Davies "A", and Porto Rico Railway Common were the leaders in turnover. Brazilian closed 1-4 higher at 98 3-8, while Davies "A" and Porto Rico were unchanged at 30 3-4 and 43 1-2 respectively. Industrial Alcohol was up 3-8 at 19 5-8 but Smelters was off 1 1-2 to 1 3-4 at 214 to 213 1-2. Bank of Montreal advanced two points to 270. The sales in the unlisted sections were weak and also in the mining stocks.

Upward Trend Continues With Increase In Volume

NEW YORK, July 7 (Canadian Press) — Upward movement of prices was resumed in today's stock market but profit taking sales and short selling increased in volume as the session progressed, carrying price of many issues down a point or more below their morning highs. Trading showed a moderate increase in volume, but this was attributed more to pool activity based on the prospect of easier money rates, than expanding public participation.

The revival of activity and strength in "nickel plate" merger shares coincided with the appointment of a committee by the directors of the Pere Marquette to consider the proposed consolidation plans, all three classes of that stock mounting to new high levels for the year.

United States Steel Common was freely offered around its recent high level and sagged a point or more under the weight of selling.

LIBERAL PLANS ARE ANNOUNCED

Will Contest Election on Constitutional Issue—Two Proposals.

STATEMENT ISSUED.

OTTAWA, July 7. Canadian Press —The Liberals are preparing to press their campaign on the constitutional issue. If returned they have, it is understood, two proposals in view:

A fall session of Parliament for the voting of supply. The appointment of commissioners to examine the constitutionality of the acts of the Meighen administration.

The constitutional question, it is intimated, will be the keynote of the Liberal campaign.

The Liberal headquarters issued a statement this afternoon declaring that Premier Meighen "constitutes now all that can be designated as the government of Canada. He is the entire Cabinet, the sole executive, the sole administrator of all departments of state. In a few days he will attempt to carry on the business of the country not with money appropriated by parliament for public services, but by Governor-General's warrants, which he will demand from the representative of the Crown."

AROUND THE CITY.

The fire department to-day at noon received a call to a chimney fire at 383 Mark Street Chemicals were used and no damage was caused.

McGHEE. — In sad and loving memory of our dear Mother, who departed this life one year ago today, July 7th, 1925.
Oh Mother dear we saw you suffer and heard you sigh
Could do nothing but sit and cry.
We saw you sinking hour by hour;
We did all within our power.
Oh Mother dear, each day we miss you more
Since you have gone to that heavenly shore.

IN MEMORIAM

McGHEE—In ever loving memory of my dear mother, Mrs. Ella McGhee, who departed this life on July 7th, 1925.
Oh, dear mother, how I miss you,
In the year that has gone by,
You have left me sad and lonely
For a home up in the sky.
Heaven now contains my treasure,
Earth the lonely casket keeps;
But oft I linger midst tears and flowers,
Where my darling mother sleeps.
—Ever remembered by her son and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Roland McClelland.

McGHEE — In loving memory of my dear grandmother, Mrs. Ella McGhee, who departed this life, July 7th, 1925.
Peacefully sleeping; resting at last,
The world's weary troubles and trials are past.
In silence she suffered and in patience she bore,
Till God called her home to suffer no more.
—Inserted by her loving grandchild, Bert McClelland.

MANITOBA NEWSPAPER SAYS FORKE TALKED WITH LIBERALS TO AVOID 3 CORNERED CONTESTS

Suggestion That Grits Do Not Fight Seats of Progressives

TWO PROPOSALS.

King's Supporters To Be Free To Attack Tory Constituencies.

WINNIPEG, July 8 (Canadian Press).—The Manitoba Free Press-Evening Bulletin carried the following news page story yesterday:

"Tentative suggestions regarding a possible Liberal-Progressive arrangement to avoid three-cornered contests at the forthcoming Federal election were subject of discussion between Robert Forke, late leader of the Progressive party at Ottawa, and F. G. Hamilton, president of the Maniotba Liberal Association, Tuesday night, it became known to-day.

"While neither principal would comment on the nature of the proposals mooted at the meeting, it developed this morning that two lines of attack was suggested. Under the first, the Liberals would waive the right to contest any seat won by a Progressive at last election; the Progressives in turn waiving claim to contest certain seats which returned Conservatives last October. It is understood that Liberal claims were made to oppose Premier Meighen in Portage La Prairie.

"No definite agreement was entered into, it was stated authoritively, but the proposals set forth were discussed with a view to possible action and agreement at a later date."

City Officials Asked To Rid Town Of Grackles

MOUNT VERNON, N.Y., July 8.—(United Press.)—Officials here have been called upon to protect the city against the annual invasion of Grackles, noisy birds which eat most anything and awaken the community with their noisy song at unusual hours. In past years fire crackers, shotguns and Roman candles have failed to disturb the annual visitors.

Foundry Blaze Occurs At Opportune Moment

What might have been a serious fire broke out yesterday at the G. Walter Green foundry at 4.47 in the afternoon. The fire department happened to have received a call a few moments before to put out a pole fire which had started from a spark from the smoke stack of the foundry, and while they were there some of the hot metal was spilled out of the cupola. This metal when falling on the floor caused a slight explosion when it fell into some water and the flames shot up to the ceiling. The fire department immediately ran a line of hose into the building and the fire was put out with but slight damage.

BRITISH LABOR OPPOSES BUYING OF FOREIGN COAL

Lively Debate Follows Consideration of Bill To Pay For Fuel.

APPEAL TO WOMEN.

Yorkshire Mine Owners Fall in Line With Other Employers.

LONDON, July 8 (Canadian Press).—Lively scenes were enacted in the House of Commons yesterday during consideration of the vote on an appropriation of £3,000,000 to pay coal bills abroad for fuel purchased by the Government since the miners' dispute began.

The Labor members vigorously opposed buying more coal abroad; some of them did not mince words about it, but nevertheless, the vote carried 245 to 116.

John Wheatley, who was Minister of Health in the Labor Cabinet, objected particularly to the Government buying coal in Germany to beat the British miners, who responded to the call to defeat the Germans in 1914.

Eight Hours Bill.

The tilt in the Commons came upon the heels of an announcement in the House of Lords that the Yorkshire mine owners had consented to offer the same rates of wages and profits as other districts thus removing a stumbling block and making it possible that the final stages of the eight hour Mines bill may be reached to-day.

It is expected that the royal assent to the eight hour bill will be given in a day or two and that this will be followed by the official posting of the new terms under which the miners will have the option of returning to work. By early next week the extent of the response will be known. It is understood that in some cases the mine owners will not only post the terms at the pithead, but will circulate them among the miners' homes, believing that the conditions for resumption when studied by the miners' wives will make a more effective appeal.

In connection with the nation's foreign coal bill since the stoppage of the mines began, it is estimated that the present daily reduction in the national wealth due to the dispute is between £8,000,000 and £10,000,000, and that approximately £500,000,000 has been lost to the country's industries, railways and trade generally.

TWO PORTRAITS ARE REMOVED

Pictures of Lloyd George and Churchill Displease Liberals.

ACTION OF CLUB.

LONDON, July 8 (Canadian Press). — Portraits of David Lloyd George, who is not very popular among the "die-hards" of the Liberal party, and Winston Churchill, who went over to the Conservatives, have disappeared from the walls of the National Liberal Club in London.

No suggestion of theft has been anticipated, and the portraits are said to repose now in the storage cellar of the club. Only oblong blotches on the walls mark the places where they used to hang.

The two pictures watched over the smoking room and dining room of the club for years, but apparently some members could not enjoy their food or tobacco upder the gaze of their erstwhile political allies. Only recently Lloyd George successfully defended his position as Parliamentary leader of the Liberal party, despite the efforts of the Liberal party leader, the Earl of Oxford and Asquith, and the "shadow cabinet" to oust him.

RUDYARD KIPLING RECEIVES MEDAL FOR LITERATURE

Appearance at Society Banquet Was First Since Recent Illness.

ORIGIN OF FICTION.

Deals With Efforts of Authors To Depict Real Life.

LONDON, July 8 (Canadian Press).—The Royal Society's gold medal for literature was presented at the centenary banquet of the society last night to Rudyard Kipling, who made his first public appearance since his recent illness, and took a little fling at the critics.

"Fiction," he said, "began when some man invented a story about another man; it developed when another man told tales about a woman. This strenuous epoch began the first school of destructive criticism as well as the first critic, who spent his short but vivid life in trying to explain that a man need not be a hen to judge the merits of an omelette. He died, but the question he raised is still at issue."

Appreciates Honor

The famous English author, who received the medal from the hands of the Earl of Balfour, expressed proud appreciation at the honor, saying: "The fiction that I am worthy of that honor be upon your heads."

Speaking of the search by authors in all ages for material and methods of expression which would fruly express life, Kipling called attention to the few who had really reached the highest pinnacle.

"All men," he said, are interested in reflections on themselves and their surroundings, whether in the pure heart of a crystal or in a muddy pool, and nearly every writer who supplies a reflection secretly desires a share of immortality for the pains he has been at in holding up the mirror, which also reflect himself.

Authors' Immortality

"He may get his desire. Quite a dozen writers have achieved immortality in the past 2,500 years. From the bookmakers—a real bookmaker's— point of view the odds are not attractive. But fiction is built on fiction. There is where it differs from other arts. Most of the arts admit the truth that it is not expedient to tell everyone everything."

"Fiction recognizes no such bar; there is no canon of reserve or pit that need be respected in fiction. Why should there be? The man, after all, is not telling the truth, he is only writing fiction. While he writes it, his world will extract from it just so much of truth or pleasure as it requires for the moment.

"In time a little more or much less of the residue may be carried forward to the general account and there perhaps devoted to ends of which the writer never dreamed.

"In every age some men gain temporary favor because they have met the temporary need of their age. Yet, as regards their future, they stand on a perfect equality with their fellow craftsmen. The utmost a writer may hope for is that there may survive of his work a fraction good enough to be drawn upon later to uphold or embellish some ancient truth restated, or some old delight reborn."

CHANGED SIDES.

WINSTON CHURCHILL

former Liberal and now a Conservative Minister, who shares with Lloyd George the "distinction" of having his portrait removed from the Liberal Club.

BONDS ARE SOLD TO H. R. BAIN CO.

Collecting Committee Takes More Time Than Transacting Business.

PRICE IS 100.21.

H. R. Bain and Co. made the best offer for $48,500 City of Peterboro debentures, tendering at the rate of $100.21, three cents a hundred better than Wood, Gundy and Co., the next tenderers. The Bain tender was therefore accepted by the Finance Committee of the City Council at a meeting held last night.

The acting chairman, Ald. J. M. Greene, took longer to gather together six aldermen as a quorum than the committee did to transact the business. The meeting was called in a hurry, and apparently each of the absentees thought there would be enough present without him. Ald. Cotton was first on the scene, quickly followed by Ald. Denne. The chairman was next in sight, right on time, and a few minutes later acting Mayor Phelan came along. Calls at the homes of several Aldermen brought no response, but Ald. Ackerman was located and agreed to come down, although due at a previously arranged meeting. He and Ald. MacDonald arrived at about three minutes to eight, and the meeting started. Ten minutes later all the fifteen tenders had been opened, the contract awarded, and the meeting adjourned.

Thrilling Night Fight With Birds and Fish Is Won By Sailor Who Fell Overboard In Dark Tropical Sea

BOSTON, Mass., July 8. — (Canadian Press).—The thrilling story of a two-hour fight for life against sharks and birds of prey in the pitchy blackness of a tropical sea at midnight was told here to-day by officers of the British steamer Ripley Castle.

The big freighter was just south of the Equator, bound from Philadelphia to Cape Town, when Tony Madison, a 26-year-old seaman, who had come to the deck for air, lost his balance and fell into the water.

He was not missed until an hour later. The ship put about and slowly retraced its course. Near 2 o'clock in the morning faint cries were heard. Two buoys with flares were tossed overboard, and Madison was seen struggling in the water. When the seaman was pulled aboard both legs were bleeding from shark bites, and his face was torn and pecked by the great birds which had swarmed down on him.

British Government Attaches Great Emphasis of Principle Of Equal Status of Dominions

Kept In For Breakfast Cell Lodger Hangs Himself

WEST NEW YORK, N.J., July 8 (United News).—Paul Betham, middle aged, asked for a place to sleep at the police station, and was led to a cell. In the morning he shouted to be released so he might go to work. The jailer refused to let him out until after breakfast and other prisoners jeered.

At 8 o'clock it was found he had hanged himself with his belt.

He was married and left two children.

BYNG DECISION IS EFFECTIVE IN ALL DOMINIONS

Has Relegated Canada To Colonial Status, Says Scholar.

IRELAND THE SAME.

Free State Constitution Is Based on Canada, By Irish Treaty.

LONDON, July 8 (Canadian Press).—"Lord Byng, in refusing the dissolution of parliament advised by the Rt. Hon. Mackenzie King, has challenged effectively the doctrine of equality in the status of the Dominions and the United Kingdom, and has relegated Canada decisively to the colonial status which we believed she had outgrown."

This statement is made by Professor Berrisdale Keith, noted scholar and author of many volumes on imperial relations, in an article in The Manchester Guardian to-day.

"Lord Byng's action affects not only Canada," Professor Keith continues, "for Canada is by constitutional law solemnly asserted in the Irish Treaty to be the model for the Irish Free State. Therefore, despite the provisions of the Irish constitution, the Free State Governor General is now legally empowered and constitutionally capable of disregarding the advice of his ministers The matter then is one far transcending Canadian politics."

TWELVE MILE LIMIT NOT FOR U. S. SHIPS

Must Recognize Laws of the Country When on High Seas.

NEW YORK, July 8 (Canadian Press).—There is no "twelve mile limit" preventing seizure beyond that point for United States ships, according to a decision of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals, made public to-day in reversing a finding in the United States District Court of the district of Connecticut.

"An American ship on the high seas retains her allegiance to the United States," the decision of the Circuit Court of Appeals recorded. "It is quite well recognized that every nation has a right to bind its own subjects to its own laws in every place."

Lord Parmoor Asked Information Concerning Obligations Imposed By Treaties Contracted By London and Refers To Recent Developments in Canada and South Africa.

CLARENDON SAYS USE OF TROOPS IN WAR IN MATTER FOR GOVERNMENTS CONCERNED

Strength of Empire, He Declares, Is Not Dependent on Constitution, But Belief of the People in Righteousness of the Cause It May Choose To Uphold.

LONDON, July 8 (Canadian Press Cable).—The issue of dominions and treaties was raised in the House of Lords yesterday when Lord Parmoor, asking for information on the nature of obligations which treaties contracted by Great Britain impose on the Dominions, called attention to the inconsistency arising from the fact that the Dominions were subject to dangers and obligations if Great Britain declared war to enforce treaties, whereas the Dominions had been told after the war that they had won, and were now claiming, the positions of equal partners who have achieved full status. He referred to the importance of the subject in Canada and South Africa, especially mentioning the recent debate in the House of Commons at Ottawa.

Dominions to Decide.

Lord Clarendon, Under-Secretary of State for Dominions Affairs, replying for the Government, said the importance of the issues raised were realized and they would be discussed at the Imperial Conference. He was unable to venture to answer the question regarding employment of Dominions troops in the event of war because the Government considered this a domestic question which the Governments of the Dominions should decide for themselves. He had only recently received a report of the debate at Ottawa and had not yet found time to digest it, but explained former Premier Mackenzie King's objects without offering comment.

The Under-Secretary said the Government was most anxious to assert fully and strongly the importance they attached to the principle of equal status and said it was his opinion that the strength of the Empire did not depend on the form of constitutional principles as much as the belief of the people in the righteousness of the cause they upheld.

CANADA TOPS ALL COUNTRIES IN FAVORABLE TRADE BALANCE

OPPOSES BILL.

JOHN WHEATLY

Minister of Health in the former Labor Ministry, who attacked the Government's Mines Bill yesterday in the House of Commons at London.

Margin on Right Side of $401,134,405 For Fiscal Year 1926.

BEATS 1925.

OTTAWA, July 8.—Canada now has the largest favorable trade balance per capita of any country in the world.

For the fiscal year 1926 Canada's favorable trade balance amounted to $401,134,405, an increase over the previous year of $116,705,299. Only on one occasion was the Dominion's favorable balance as large as in 1926, viz.; The war year 1918, when it amounted to $662,637,214.

At the end of March, 1926, the favorable trade balance was almost entirely with the British Empire, the amount for the empire being $392,631,842, and for foreign countries only $8,502,563. The unfavorable balance of trade with the United States, amounting to $123,970,454, was approximately compensated for by a favorable balance with other foreign countries.

The remarkable increase in the favorable balance during the past two or three years says the Bureau of Statistics, has contributed largely to the improvement in Canadian exchange.

KIWANIS CLUB MARKS STREETS

Always Be Careful Sign Put at Entrance To Police Station.

AT EVERY CORNER.

The members of the Peterborough Kiwanis Club, whose interest in the cause of the underprivileged child is well known, have inaugurated a safety campaign in an effort to bring about better conditions for both motorists and pedestrians.

The first move seems to have taken place last night for when the early rising citizens wended their way down town this morning they were confronted with the Kiwanis emblem and the warning "Always be careful" painted in white on the sidewalk. These signs have been placed on every corner, and not satisfied with that, some of the Kiwanians, either from past experience or from a righteous desire to keep the public straight, painted one of the signs directly in front of the entrance to the police station.

Alimony Bureau Will Collect Overdue Payments For Chicago Ex-Husb ands Who Neglect To Pay Up

CHICAGO, Ill., July 8 (United Press).—Erring husbands in Chicago to-day were faced with the necessity of "paying up" their back alimony or going to jail. An alimony bureau which is to serve as a clearing house for Chicago annual alimony payments of $5,000,000 has been authorized by the County Board and will be ready to operate at once.

The alimony bureau is the idea of Judge Joseph Sabath, Chicago's most noted divorce judge, and has the approval of other divorce judges Its duty will be to collect back alimony from husbands who are careless in meeting the payments specified by the court —or see to it that the husbands go to jail. It has the official support of the States Attorney office.

Judge Sabath explained that the new bureau would make it possible for wives to collect their alimony free of charge, and with no necessity of hiring lawyers. It will be conducted chiefly for the benefit of wives who have children dependent upon them.

ORANGE LODGES ATTEND SERVICE

Havelock Members of Order Hear Inspiring Sermon.

AT UNITED CHURCH

HAVELOCK, July 8.—The McGill L.O.B.A. No. 471 and Havelock L.O.L. No. 326, accompanied by members from Norwood, Hastings, Marmora and Polmont attended divine service at the United church on Sunday evening. The pastor, Rev. W. R. Archer, took as his subject, "The Altar and the Throne", basing his sermon on Joshua 3, verses 3-4-5, and laying special stress on the portion "Sanctify yourselves; for tomorrow the Lord will do wonders among you." In opening his discourse Mr. Archer paid a tribute to the Orangemen who fell in the great war and recited "In Flanders' Fields". It is a privilege and duty he said to pause and think of the men who have made the supreme sacrifice to keep the home fires burning and to stand in imagination for a few moments amid the poppies that grow in Flanders Fields. The state is indebted to the patriots who have purchased liberty, and history honors no selfish heroes.

The speaker then gave an outline of the principles of the Order and said "It is a very splendid enterprise you are embarked upon, a fine constitution, aim and work, that of maintaining the law of the country, giving assistance to members in need, and upholding Christian liberty. As I go around the country and witness the work you have done as an Order I think you are endeavoring to live up to, and carry out the constitution. I would like, he continued, to point out the altar spots. The most sacred possession of the Christian religion is, and has always been, the altar. There has never been a time when we have lost the altar. It was the sanctuary of the children of Israel in the wilderness and Joshua enjoined the people to keep their eye fixed upon the ark as they crossed the River Jordan and passed into a new country. The obligations of the Order can only be kept by keeping the emblems and mottos ever before you, not on flags, but in your hearts.

'There is a power in this world that contends for righteousness and I plead with you to link up with it. Religion is the cable which links up with that power. It is a silent power, a silent influence which will lift us up though we be embedded in sin. I pray for worship, that the power which the Order has won by religious liberty may be utilized by every member. The warriors were not on dress parade. The Order was to fight the good fight of faith and Orangemen are not on dress parade. There is a fight to be won. The requirements of each man and woman of the Order should be that of an intelligence officer. They must above and translate them to the lan-above an translate them to the language of the heart.

"The reason we have the altar is to hold communion with God. Thank God for an Order that has for an emblem the altar. God said to Joshua, 'Teach them ordinance and law, the law of love.' No word is written so large on the present generation as the word brotherhood. Some men are not willing to make of themselves bridges to carry others over. The brotherhood spirit is a great thing. The Orange walk on the 12th of July is not the only walk the Orangemen make. They are walking day by day and the world is witnessing the way they are walking."

In closing, Mr. Archer said, "We do not know whether we shall all live through the fiscal year that starts to-night and I would repeat the Redemption story. We live because He died. Will your anchor hold? All will be well if you are anchored to the Red Line which runs through the Scriptures, the blood of Christ shed for the redemption of mankind."

Two anthems were rendered by the choir under the leadership of Mr. R. Bonny, namely: "Thou visitest the earth and blessest it" and "Thou crownest the year with thy goodness." The hymns were "All Hail the Power of Jesus Name", "God Send Us Men" and "Will Your Anchor Hold."

CLARENDON VISIT IS NOT POLITICAL

He and MacNaghten Coming in Regard To Land Settlement.

LONDON, July 8.— (Canadian Press Cable.)—Owing to recent political developments at Ottawa, rumors were circulating that the visit to Canada of Lord Clarendon, Under-Secretary for the Dominions, was a mission of political importance.

The Canadian Press yesterday was informed officially that Lord Clarendon will take up with the Canadian authorities only questions of land settlement. He sails on Saturday in company with T. C. Macnaghten, vice-chairman of the Overseas Settlement Board. They will travel across Canada but will not make any public addresses. Their visit was arranged months ago, it is stated.

Daily Short Story

FOR IDENTIFICATION.

By Jane Osborn.

"Oh, hello Ida. Didn't expect to see you here. This is Jolly. That's so, mother did say she'd asked you. Big dance tonight. That's why you're here. Over at the country club. Well, so long, Ida. I'd stick around only I've got a date with a girl. See you tonight at the club. Don't forget to save me a dance. I'm coming a shade late, so hold off the mob till I get there."

Those were the words that Ned Roland spoke when, one Saturday afternoon in spring, he came home early from the office and, whistling his carefree way into the family living-room, came upon Ida Martin—a sort of a cousin of his, as he always introduced her, though the actual connection was extremely remote.

"I'm coming a shade late, so hold the mob off until I get there," he had just said to Ida, and eighteen-year-old Ida, with cheeks rapidly turning very pink, shot a rather resentful look from her pleasant brown eyes.

"Hold off the mob," she scorned. "You know perfectly well that there won't be any mob, and I wouldn't have come to this old dance only your mother—Cousin Nellie—wrote and begged me to. Said you'd want to take me. Not that I care one teeny bit about going with you. Only you know well enough that I don't know any of the boys at the club and with all those girls—so smart and snippy—and everything, why I'd like to know how you can expect I'd have a good time, unless holding up one of the walls, and keeping down a chair is having a good time!"

"Oh, I say," said Ned, coming over to Ida and trying to take her warm little hands in his. "I didn't know mother said I'd take you. I never thought about you when I told Alice Clay I'd take her. Say, that's a shame. Maybe I could take you both——"

"I hate that Alice Clay," announced Ida. "She's snippy and she wears freak clothes and her language is terrible. I heard her saying 'Hon' to a man she'd just been introduced to. Imagine taking two girls at once! I'll go by myself and I won't know anyone and no one will notice me and I'll have a miserable time. Men don't know how it is if they don't dance people think it is because they don't want to: if girls don't dance—everyone knows it's because they haven't been asked. I'm not popular—and there's no use pretending I am——"

"I don't call not having a lot of dance partners,not beingpopular," Ned tried to console. "Anyway, lots of girl that aren't as pretty as you have mobs of partners. A girl needs some sort of identification mark—something to make the men notice her. They ask for dances out of curiosity."

"So you mean—I'd have loads of partners—like Alice Clay—if I'd wear a ring in my nose or bells on my toes, or something like that," said Ida, trying to hide the unsteadiness of her voice. "I can't say, Ned, that I care so much for your advice——"

That afternoon Ida excused herself to her hostess and fairly sneaked away on a bus to the nearest shopping center. She carried home with her several parcels a few minutes before the dinner hour and asked permission of her hostess to eat in her day clothes—and dress for the dance later. So it really did take Ned's breath away for a brief second or so when he saw Ida at the dance, arriving a shade late himself with the "smart and snippy" Alice Clay. The fact was that he only caught glimpses of Ida. The group of young men about her made anything else impossible. There was Ida—her hair parted and brushed straight back on one side where an enormous loop earring dangled almost to her shoulder—and on the other side, drawn well down over the ear. Then there was a monstrous spreading Spanish comb thrust rakishly in her hair at that side. Ned might also have noticed that there was a small black court-plaster crescent on one side of her face and that her little black satin slippers had bright red heels.

When Ned made his way to Ida she told him with a laugh that she hadn't been able to keep away the mob. "I'm sorry," she said. "But you'd asked only for one dance, so I knew it couldn't make much difference."

"I'm going to go home with Alice," Ned managed to tell Ida toward the close of the dance. "But I want to have a word or two with you when I get home. I'll expect to find you waiting when I come in."

So when Ned reached his house he found Ida, who had only just been brought home by one of her many devoted admirers. "See here, Ida," said Ned, not daring now to touch her, "you ruined the evening for me. You had no right to treat me that way, when you were a guest at my mother's house. And those cads that you had hanging around you! There were two or three of them I wanted to shoot. It's all right for a girl to have a good time and plenty of partners, but you might have a little consideration. You know you're—you're beautiful, Ida," and Ned almost stammered with embarrassment. A pause and then he added, "Excuse me, dear, but I've been almost mad with jealousy this evening—but you don't understand."

Ida smiled to herself. "I was only taking your advice," said Ida, as she laid two small hands on Ned's arms. "I'm sorry if I made you unhappy—but I didn't think you cared."

LAKEFIELD NEWS

LAKEFIELD, July 6.—American motor cars showing license plates of several states, principally New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Illinois and Michigan, are seen frequently in the village, testifying to the fact that the rush has begun to our great summer playgrounds. This season Ohio and Pennsylvania have apparently (judging from the license plates) lead the American tourists in this section. The "put put" of the motor boats in the river is quite an ordinary thing and as for canoes, skiffs and light craft, they are constantly to be seen. Lakefield is especially favored in regard to summer attraction at our door and while they are probably not as much appreciated as they might be are certainly enjoyed. The tourist camp in the park is again open and will no doubt be even more popular than last season.

CONFLICT LOOMS IN LABOR RANKS

Leaders Differ About Sending a Commission To Study Soviet.

PROTEST MADE.

WASHINGTON July 8.— Leaders of organized Labor appear to be on the verge of a division owing to the apparent determination of some of their number to despatch a commission to Russia to make economic and sociological studies, with a view to ascertaining whether conditions there warrant recognition of the Soviet by the Government of the United States.

The plan to send a Labor Commission to Russia was formulated by Albert Coyle of Cleveland, a Labor editor, with close affiliations with one of the railway brotherhoods, and has not been abandoned despite the protest against the project voiced at a meeting of the Executive Council of the American Federation of Labor, held in Cincinnati last week.

Mission Band Activities.

The meeting was conducted by Miss Evelyn Turner. Mildred Blodgett read the scripture lesson, Psalms, 95th chapter. Mrs. (Rev.) Lovelace led in prayer and all repeated the Lord's prayer in unison.

Mary Mouncey acted as secretary in the absence of Bessie Turner. The minutes of June meeting were read and adopted. Herald reading on Japan was given by Cora Linton. Miss Johnston read a story about a picnic in Toyohashi, Japan. The meeting was then closed with singing, "Hear the pennies dropping" and the Mizpah benediction.

Then the picnic was held out in the open air and consisted of games, etc. The best part of the picnic was the lunch that was served by the older girls of the circle, each doing justice to all the good things.

It was decided that all members and their friends hold a picnic in Brown's grove on Friday afternoon, July 9. Everybody welcome to come and bring a basket. SUBWAY STRIKE IS BREAKING UP

Men Are Gradually Going Back and Service Improves.

NO NEW RECRUITS.

NEW YORK, July 8.—The interborough strike yesterday began to show definite signs of crumpling. Instead of crippling the "L" lines of the company, as their leaders had promised on Tuesday night, the strikers lost subway motormen and switchmen who went back to work, the appeal to powerhouse and signal men fell upon deaf ears and the subway which on Tuesday was operated at 30 per cent. of normal, was being operated at 48 per cent. of normal, according to transit commission reports.

With the defections from the ranks of the strikers which brought the number of old employees working trains up to 146, and 738 experienced men taken on from the 1,081 tentatively taken on before the hiring of men was suspended, the company had a force 20 per cent. in excess of normal.

FLOOD INVADES CITY OF SHRINE

Guadaloupe, Scene of Mexican Pilgrimages, Partially Flooded.

LITTLE DAMAGE.

MEXICO CITY, July 8.—(Canadian Press.)— Flood waters, which have been menacing Mexico City and suburbs, have invaded the streets of Guadalupe, the little Mexican town where is located the famous shrine of Our Lady of Guadalupe. The noted shrine, which is the scene of picturesque annual pilgrimages, has not been damaged, although most of the streets of the town, as well as other suburbs of Mexico, have been covered with water varying from a few inches to several feet in depth. All the prisoners have been released from the jail in order to assist in fighting the floods.

OBITUARY.

REV. S. J. SHOREY.

PICTON, July 8.—The death took place here after an illness extending over two years of Rev. S. J. Shorey, D.D., one of the best-known and most popular ministers of the Bay of Quinte Conference.

He was a former President, and held all the important positions at different times in the gift of the Conference. He had been pastor at Lindsay, Napanee and Peterboro for two terms; also at Port Hope, Cobourg, Picton, Oshawa and other places,among which was Sherbourne Street Church, Toronto. He retired from the active ministry at the close of his last four years at Napanee, and moved to Picton, where he had resided for the last few years. Dr. Shorey married Miss McMullen, daughter of the late Rev. Daniel McMullen.

Dr. Shorey had a stroke two years ago, from which he did not recover. Besides his wife he leaves two sons, Percy M. Shorey, Principal of Sydenham High School, and S. B. Shorey, Cobourg, and one daughter, Miss Gussie Shorey, teacher of domestic science in Toronto schools.

The funeral took place here today, and a service was held in Picton United Church, with many ministers of the Quinte Conference in attendance. Interment was at Glenwood Cemetery, Picton.

YOUR HEALTH

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M.D., Former Commissioner of Health, New York City.

A few days ago I read the statements made by two Canadian physicians. I am in hearty accord with what they say.

These doctors were in attendance upon the American Health Congress at Atlantic City. One of them, Dr. I. N. Harris of Toronto, said "Solicitous shielding of children's skins against the sun is a crime against nature."

The other, Dr. F. Tisdall, said this "The sooner mothers learn to expose their babies to the sun until they are 'tanned as brown as bears,' the better it will be for the youngsters. The majority of people in the United States and Canada suffer during the Winter and Spring from lack of sunlight and that accounts for the high mortality of these months."

Both doctors pointed out the importance of the ultra-violet rays in the sunlight. They stated that these rays add to the phosphorus content of the blood and the calcium in the bones. By this they mean that when the sunlight streams upon the body it imparts some power to the blood by which it more readily carries these necessary minerals to the tissues of the body.

These peculiar qualities of the sunlight appear to have some effect in increasing the red blood cells. At the same time they increase the power of the blood to kill bacteria and to cleanse the body.

"We must persuade all mothers," these doctors said, "to put their babies in the sun. Careful experiments have shown that it will not hurt the babies' eyes, as has been supposed."

We have long known that rickets—one of the diseases babies have, particularly virulent during the Winter and Spring, can be cured by sunlight. There is something about the sun's rays which has the same effect upon the body of an infant that cod liver oil has when it is given in regular doses.

I wish the message of these doctors could be carried to every mother in the world. It is a great pity that so many infants are kept from the sunlight. They are guarded against the energizing and health-giving power which is beyond all words to describe.

During the Summer I hope all the babies who are brought under the influence of anything I may say will be given lots of sunlight. Spread a sheet on the grass and let the child kick and creep and sprawl all he likes in the bright rays of the sun. There is no doubt about the good which will be done by this sensible treatment.

Now, dear mother, don't overdo this to begin with. The skin of a baby is very delicate and until he gets used to the sunlight he may suffer from sunburn just as you would. In a baby this is much more serious than in an adult. But give the baby a few minutes in the sunlight every day, increasing the time until the baby does become tanned and brown.

GOOD WORK.

People who are accustomed to condemn school dental work and school medical inspection as fads because in their day at school there were none of those things should find some interesting food for thought in the report of Dr. J. C. Green, School Dentist, as presented to the Board of Education.

The improvement that has been effected in a few years of dental work in the schools is strikingly demonstrated by Dr. Green's figures.

While it was found that in 1923-24 90 per cent. of the pupils of the Public Schools required dental attention, the percentage had been decreased to 69 per cent. in 1924-25, and during the present school year this attention was necessary in the case of only 57 per cent. of the pupils.

What that means can be appreciated by those who realize how much the early care of the teeth affects the health of the child in after life.

That Peterboro's school children are not being allowed to neglect this all-important health precaution is a matter for general congratulation, and the progress that has been made since the inauguration of the school dental service vindicates the judgment of the Board of Education in establishing such a service.

SHOULD BE HELPED.

There does not seem to be a shadow of a doubt that the advocates of an improved Foxboro-Peterboro road can present a very strong claim upon the consideration of the Provincial authorities, and the efforts that are being suggested by Hastings County people should receive hearty support from Peterboro.

Apart from the Kingston road, the eastern portion of Ontario has not fared very generously at the hands of the Provincial Government, and there is a strong feeling that much more might be done for the hinterland in the matter of improved roads.

From a purely selfish standpoint, Peterboro has nothing to lose in throwing its weight behind any movement that means better roads radiating into this city, and in this particular case the suggested improvement should materially benefit Peterboro.

The fact that the Eastern Ontario Chamber of Commerce at its Belleville meeting regarded the Foxboro-Peterboro road movement as a local matter, should not be allowed to interfere with the presentation of a strong demand upon the Ontario Government for consideration.

We will never get all that is coming to us down this way in the way of better roads until we show the authorities we are in earnest in demanding them.

LUCK AND WORK.

"Work, not luck, counts," is the heading of an article in one of the Ontario newspapers. Hamilton has just had a race meeting at the Jockey Club and large sums of money were wagered on the horses. Some won money, of course, but more was lost. The feeling which prompts a person to risk his cash on a horse in the hope that he will gain, though the probabilities are against his doing so, is the instinct to take a chance, which is common to all people. There are certain individuals who habitually take risks and that accounts to a large extent for the many disappintments and failures of life.

Luck does not really "count," comments the writer of an editorial in The Hamilton Spectator and intended for young people. It is an absolutely unreliable factor upon which to depend, and yet very many are apt to trust to luck alone when they could make certain of results by taking a little trouble. Work alone will achieve ambition. "To depend on luck is to play blind man's buff among the laws of nature and of man," as the article before referred to well puts it. There may be a remote possibility of the "breaks" being favorable, but it is so remote as to be negligible. Nothing worth while is won by a throw of the dice; effort, study, perseverance, the old-fashioned virtues, these are the weapons with which to carve a way to achievement. Nothing can take the place of good, honest work. Ask the disillusioned people who have tried quicker but more reckless methods, and they will tell you that gambling with fate does not pay. Steady effort is not spectacular, but it is sure.—St. Thomas Times-Journal.

CURBING RECKLESS DRIVING.

The Quebec authorities are apparently going about their campaign to check reckless driving in their Province in no half-hearted way.

Already, it is announced, that several hundred motorists have had their driving licenses cancelled.

The method adopted in Quebec will strike most people as most sensible.

The easiest way to make driving conditions safe is to take away from the individual who has shown himself unfit to retain his privilegeof handling a car.

In every section of the country there are drivers whose reputation for recklessness is well known; they have by the careless way in which they operate their automobiles brought themselves into a position which leaves them with no consistent claim upon the right to drive.

Watch the traffic at any main corner in Peterboro and you will see motorists who show little regard for the safety of others.

Within five minutes the other night the corner of Charlotte and George streets was the scene of two incidents that illustrate the point The Examiner is making.

A child was within an ace of being run down by a car which turned into Charlotte street off George street without any sound of the horn or any warning signal, and almost immediately afterward some reckless driver raced past another car at the intersection and shot across George street at more than twenty miles an hour.

That kind of driving is just inviting disaster, and that kind of driving ought to earn for the offender an invitation to get away from the wheel.

NOT A PRIVATE PRESERVE.

Complaints have reached The Examiner that certain cottagers on Rice Lake have been annoying visitors to the lake by attempting to prevent them from fishing in the waters near property owned by the cottagers.

The fact that they are utterly outside the law in so doing does not seem to have prevented them from ordering visitors away.

The ownership of land on the shore of the lake gives them no sovereignity over the water, and anglers cannot be prevented from fishing in any part of the lake.

The disturbing feature about the thing is that the fishermen who were ordered off were a party of tourists from Akron, Ohio, and the effect upon tourist traffic if this condition of affairs is allowed to continue and tourists go home telling stories of treatment of this nature can well be imagined.

Rice Lake is nobody's private fishery preserve; it is everybody's privilege to fish in any part of the lake, and people who try to claim jurisdiction over the water are not only making themselves ridiculous but they are injuring the whole district by giving visitors a false impression of local conditions.

The Province and the municipalities are spending large sums of money to attract tourists into Ontario, and the effect of their campaign cannot be spoiled by the action of a few people who apparently believe that they own Rice Lake.

PROBLEMS OF EDUCATION.

School closing functions, especially those associated with the larger academic institutions, brought out the usual annual flood of comment and prophecy. This should not occasion surprise. Education holds a high place among the forces of civilization, and has always had its problems. The magnitude and nature of those problems, however, is largely a matter of point of view. What one observer sees is often excluded from the vision of another. That is true of all aspects of life. We see them from different angles, and find them full of puzzles.

In the closing exercises of Cornell University, President Livingston Farrand laid emphasis on the menace to democracy which world conditions have created. In particular, he pointed to the European situation—the dictatorships or autocracies in Italy, Spain, Portugal, Poland and Russia—and predicted that sooner or later America would be in contact with this movement. Therefore he said to the students before him:

> "You are going out to face a problem, the solution of which has proved impossible to my generation. What is the lack in present civilization which seems to have warranted the skepticism toward democracy? It is due to ignorance, to widespread lack of fundamental knowledge, of knowledge of history. There is no lack of ideals.
> "Yours is the obligation to be informed, to know that you shall not be content with the technical personal training you have received here. Look broadly over the world and recognize and discharge the responsibilities your present achievement entails. This can't be done unless you have intelligence, and intelligence can't come unless you are informed."

Perhaps the most helpful advice President Farrand gave to his graduates was to "keep on with the process of education." It would seem to be necessary to stress the need for such a purpose. Schools and colleges play an unreckonable part in equipping young men and women to fill a useful place in the broad scheme of life; but they do not complete the process of education. They could not. Unless the acquirement of knowledge and capacity to think soundly and comprehensively goes on after school days, the contribution of colleges will not count for much. It is elemental in that regard, and unavoidably so.

President Henry S. Pritchett, President of the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching, delivered the commencement address at Lehigh University, and laid down the postulate that "the primary purpose of a college is to serve as an intellectual agency. The reason for its existence is to train the habits and powers of the mind. Whether in our American colleges," he went on to observe, "that purpose has become obscured is a question each college needs to answer for itself." He did not, however, leave any doubt as to what was in his own mind. With complete frankness he said:

> "I am one of those who believe that athletic sports for college students are a true means of cultivation, both for character and for intelligence. What I am disposed to doubt is whether our present commercial organization of athletics serves the purpose for which such sports are intended. Paid professional coaches, enormous gate receipts, the expensive and luxurious maintenance of the members of the principal teams and the wholesale seeking of athletes among high school pupils have gone far to destroy any sound perspective of which part sports ought to play in an institution whose primary purpose is intellectual."

This is a grave warning; and it comes from a man who is in a position to speak with some degree of authority. That it applies to American colleges with considerable force cannot be doubted. The danger is there. It has been mounting for years. And we are concerned on this side of the line. A somewhat similar situation has developed in Canada. It has not become as acute as in the United States; but we shall inevitably have to face the question before long as to whether or not college athletics are being overaccentuated. No one could for a moment doubt the desirability of giving full place to sports in connection with college life. They have great value. Indeed, they are vital. But they can be carried to such a point as to imperil the fundamental purpose of the college itself. That point will have been reached when they warp the sense of proportion as between the intellectual and physical purpose of academic training.—Ottawa Journal.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

The manner in which the politicians are belabouring each other through newspaper statements indicates that the coming campaign will not be entirely devoid of liveliness.

It already looks as if the rival tactics will consist of banging Byng and biffing Boivin.

One thing the politicians of all parties have to learn is that the people are not half as interested in their party fighting as they are. Most of us would be satisfied with a little stable Government for a change.

To the ordinary summer duties can be added the operation of mending party fences.

The old story of the prisoner whose lawyer told him, "Man, they can't put you in jail for that," and who replied, "Well, I am here, ain't I?" is recalled by the present political situation.

QUALIFICATIONS.

By Dr. Frank Crane.

Will Rogers, the comedian, says he gets all his humor from reading about what the Congressmen do in Washington.

Another equally prolific source of humor is found in the qualifications offered to show that men are fitted for high honors or important positions.

Out in the West impassioned oratory was used to let the people know the superlative fitness of a candidate for the principalship of a new million-dollar high school.

He was advocated as best qualified for the place because he was "a real he-man who never had a golf stick in his hands nor wore a fancy tie in his life."

No one questions these virtues, but how they demonstrate that he possesses all the qualifications for the place is vague.

Up until 1905 in China the basis for appointment to public office was an examination in Confucian scriptures!

Occidentals laughed at this topsy-turvy reasoning. But it is no more basurd than the kind of qualities cited as proof that men in Canada are qualified to fill offices requiring both skill and special training.

In the Middle West a few years ago a man was elected to a state office requiring business experience upon the platform that "he had laid the first stones in the foundation of the state house and had built the foundation well."

How being a good mason fitted him for an important place requiring knowledge entirely outside this realm is one of the many mysteries lost in the Sargasso of the mob mind.

In France, of late, a series of gentlemen and ladies have been suggested as qualified for the high honor of the Legion of Honor decoration upon various grounds.

A young lady who has developed an appreciative and trained series of taste buds, so that he can tell the many kinds and dates of wines with his eyes closed: a man who has established a series of gambling casinos. All have been suggested, and in two cases accepted, as qualified for the high honor.

Half of the many brands of qualifications given for high elective offices and select honors are on a level with saying that a certain make of automobile is best for the reason that the old black hen laid two eggs last week.

MONTREAL GRAIN AND PRODUCE

MONTREAL, July 8 (Canadian Press).—The foreign demand for Canadian grain on the Montreal market yesterday was of a very limited character owing to the fact that buyers were not disposed to pay the higher prices asked overnight and in consequence business was quiet, there being little demand from either exporters or local buyers, but the feeling in oats was stronger and prices were advanced another 1-2 cent per bushel.

There was a considerable improvement in the local and export trade in spring wheat flour and a fair volume of business was transacted in both cases. The tone of the market was steady.

Prices for all lines of millfeed were well maintained with a fair trade passing. The trade in standard grades of rolled oats was slow and prices were unchanged.

The undertone to the egg market was firm and the volume of business done was fair. The receipts were 1,522 cases.

There were no new developments in the potato market, business being rather quiet owing to buyers giving their attention to new crop offerings, but as supplies of old are small, prices ruled firm.

The market for beans was quiet, but as the offerings were small the undertone was steady and prices were unchanged. Car lots of choice white hand-picked were quoted at $2.25 per bushel and at $2.35 to $2.45 per bushel in smaller quantities.

Extreme dullness marked the butter trade, but prices were steady. The receipts were 1,506 packages.

The feature of the cheese trade was the stronger feeling that developed and prices were advanced 3-8c per pound. This was attributed to the better demand from foreign buyers. The receipts were 7,864 boxes.

EGG MARKETS

OTTAWA, July 8 (Canadian Press).—Stocks of eggs in cold storage in Ontario on July 1st were 106,700 cases as compared with 105,640 cases on July 1st last year. C. from the Prairie Provinces this year.

Toronto—The market is easy and unchanged. Toronto dealers are offering for ungraded eggs, extras 32, firsts 28 to 29, seconds 23 to 24. Prices to retailers extras 36, firsts 33, seconds 28 to 29.

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY

INDIVIDUAL INDEPENDENCE

One awful thing that the Book of the Past makes plain is that with our animal heritage we are singularly oblivious to the large concerns of life. We are keenly sensitive to little discomforts, minor irritations, wounded vanity, and various danger signals; but our comprehension is inherently vague and listless when it comes to grasping intricate situations and establishing anything like a fair perspective in life's problems and possbilities. Our imagination is restrained by our own timidity, constantly reinforced by the warnings of our fellows, who are always urging us to be safe and sane, by which they mean convenient for them, predictable in our conduct and graciously amenable to the prevailing standards.

—James Harvey Robinson in his arresting book on the relation of intelligence to social reform, 'The Mind in the Making."

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE.

Letters to be printed in the Voice of the People column must be received at The Examiner office on the day before it is desired to have them published.

MR. BYNG AND LORD KING.

Editor of Examiner:

Sir:

Said Mister King to Lord Byng: you are a Meighen old thing. We have in Canada at the present time three of the greatest men on earth. Lord Byng, Mr. King and Mr. Meighen. They rank with Julius Caesar, Napoleon Bonaparte, Mr. Gladstone, Sir John MacDonald and George Washington. The reason that they rank with all these preeminently great men is that they have all blundered. All great men blunder at times, and the greater the man the greater the blunder. Lord Byng has blundered, Mr. King has blundered, Mr. Meighen has blundered. Then seeing that they all have blundered why not consider it a tie, call off the dogs of war, stop howling about it, have our general election in September, and start over again. But I am afraid they will not take my valuable advice. Mr. Meighen will slam Mr. King, Mr. King will slam Mr. Meighen, Mr. Forke will slam them both, and Miss McPhail will tell them all where they get off at.

If I had the power, which I have not, I think I would discharge Lord Byng, Mr. King, Mr. Meighen, Mr. Forke and Miss McPhail; in fact I would fire the whole outfit, as O. Cromwell did once upon a time. Then I would appoint our own G. Howard Ferguson to be Governor-General, Prime Minister, Chancellor of the Exchequer, and Commander-in-Chief of the army and navy. Then I think we would have a better national government than we have had for a long time past. Mr. Ferguson is a bit of a dictator, but not too much so. The way he handled the liquor question was a masterpiece. He simply, firmly, and politely told both the pros and the antis that he was running things at that time and if they did not like it they would have a brilliant opportunity to tell him so at the time of the next election. And now I don't have to talk about booze with every other man I meet' for which I am very thankful.

I notice that the Daughters of Canada and the Daughter of the Empire are liable to have a hair-pulling match. Well, go to it daughters, I am only too pleased as a mere man to know that you are taking an interest in things. I suggest Aggie McPhail as referee. But not wishing the lady any harm, I also suggest that she be placed in an iron cage, guarded by four strong policemen, of great tact and ability. J. S.

HOW DO YOU SAY IT?

(By C. N. Lurie.)

Common Errors in English and How To Avoid Them.

"BALANCE" and "REMAINDER."

Although grammarians writing in recent years say that the use of "balance" in the sense of "rest" or "remainder" is now used so frequently that it may be said to have become a part of the language, they agree in asserting that a distinction should be made between "balance" and "remainder." In this, as in many other cases, everyone must co-operate if the purity of the English language is to be preserved.

A "balance" is the amount that must be added to or subtracted from one side of an account to make the two sides agree: the word should not be employed to indicate the amount or the number left after a part is taken away. When it is necessary to express the latter meaning say "remainder" or "rest." For example, do not say, "I ate half of the apple this morning, and expect to eat the balance this afternoon." Use "remainder" or "rest."

STERLING EXCHANGE.

Sterling cables $4.86.

A cooling drink to serve at dinner

THERE Is something about "Canada Dry" that cools and refreshes and invigorates as no other drink can possibly do.

Try it some evening when the heat oppresses and appetite seems far away and there is no lure in dinner-time.

You will really be surprised to find how much zest and enjoyment it adds to the meal—how it tones up your stomach—how fresh and keen and cool it makes you feel.

The reason is simply that "Canada Dry" is a real ginger ale, made from real Jamaica ginger, and is so pure and wholesome that it is served in leading hospitals and prescribed by physicians.

You will find, too, that "Canada Dry" mixes most delightfully with other drinks.

It is neither too tart nor too sweet and it adds its own delicate flavor to the drink without submerging the flavor of good Rye or Scotch.

Here's a recipe worth adding to your collection:

"Canada Dry" Martini

3 drops Angostura bitters, 1 wineglass Gin, ½ wineglass Italian Vermouth, ¼ wineglass Sherry. Shake well in ice, pour into tumbler, fill glass with "Canada Dry."

MAGAZINE FOUND VERY INTERESTING

"Ararat" Is Published By Boys at Armenian Farm Home.

MILLBROOK, July 8.—The monthly magazine, "Ararat," edited and published by the Armenian boys at the Georgetown Farm Home, near Hamilton, Ontario, is a publication reflecting credit on its youthful editors.

Copies recently received locally are of interest to a number who have given practical aid to this worthy scheme by which 100 Armenian boys, orphaned by the war, were brought to Canada and settled on a farm at Georgetown and are being thoroughly trained as Canadian farmers. Among others, the Wide Awakes group of Canadian Girls in Training has sent an annual contribution to the Georgetown Farm Home and the members have taken a real interest in the progress being made.

As soon as some of the boys are old enough and experienced enough to take positions on other farms a fresh quota is brought out from the Near East, and thus the original number of 100 is practically always complete.

The names of the editors and contributors to "Ararat" sound unfamiliar to Canadian ears, but the magazine is on the way to being self-supporting and claims readers in every Province in Canada, in the United States, England, Egypt, Greece, India, China, Abyssinia, Bulgaria and other countries, thus making it an international paper.

The Armenian legends make interesting reading, as do also the articles on various phases of life on "Our Farm," such as the poultry, the rink, the improved fencing, etc.

Letters received by Rev. Ira D. Pierce General Secretary of the Armenian Relief Association, show that the boys placed on Canadian farms are making good. Concerts given by a number of the boys in various places have been found both entertaining and instructive.

CAPTAINS HAVE PAPERS RETURNED

Action Follows Investigation of Collision in Lake Superior—Favorable Sign.

MIDLAND, Ont., July 8 (Canadian Press).—The circumstances surrounding the collision of the steamers Glenross and Glenledi, about 26 miles from Whitefish Point, in Lake Superior on June 17, were investigated here by the Wreck Commissioners for Canada, who returned their certificates to Captain Hudson of the Glenross and Captain Taylor of the Glenledi. The former is owned by the C.S.L. and the latter by English interests. The investigation occupied two days, and the return of the captains' papers to those officers is accepted as an indication that the official report will hold them blameless for the collision which occurred in a dense fog when the bows of the Glenledi were smashed.

VOLCANO ACTIVE.

AMSTERDAM, July 8 (Canadian Press). — Earthquakes, which have caused considerable damage in Central Sumatra during the past few days, are continuing according to special dispatches here. The dispatches say that the volcano Merapi, 50 miles from Pedang, has become active. Slight shocks also have been experienced daily in Central Java.

Constant earth tremors and underground rumblings are felt, while the slopes of Merapi have been flattened somewhat by the shocks. The western summit of the volcano has broken down. Merapi is emitting a thick yellowish smoke and streaks of fire, causing the natives to flee from the nearby districts. The rivers which rise in the Merapi watershed are becoming turbid from the showers of ashes omitted by the volcano.

Queen Wilhemina has contributed 30,000 florins for the relief of the sufferers.

Newspaper articles, written lately which were regarded as anti-French, also served as a basis for the complaints.

LONDON TO HAVE 'LEFT' CANDIDATE

LONDON, Ont., July 8. — There will be a chance for the left wing of the electorate in London to express its political opinion in the coming Federal elections. If organized labor does not run a candidate the Communists will. L. R. Menzies, secretary of the local Communist party, states that the party will run a man if organized labor decides to keep out of the field. On the other hand, the party will not fight a straight Labor man, and if one is placed in the field will not set up a candidate of their own.

Men's weaknesses are often necessary to the purposes of life.
—Maeterlinck.

All Swedes Must Swim The Government Decrees

STOCKHOLM, July 8 (A.P.) —Every Swede must learn how to swim. The Government, taking note of so many drownings every year, has started a drastic campaign to force every one to master the art.

Hereafter non-swimming school teachers will not be employed, and boys who cannot pass swimming tests will not be passed in their other examinations. Non-swimmers will not be named to official positions.

For years the Swedish Sports Organization has not permitted athletes to participate in any contests unless they have certificates of swimming ability.

The average number of deaths annually from drowning in Sweden is about 340, and the authorities are determined to bring this down.

WORLD SHIPPING IMPROVES

Although world shipping still is not in a satisfactory condition, according to maritime men, the idle tonnage is steadily being decreased. On January 1, 1923, the idle tonnage of all the ten chief maritime nations of Europe was 3,400,000 whereas on January 1, 1926, it was 1,360,000 or a reduction of 60 per cent. Still better results are expected to be shown by the first of the coming year, and possibly before then.

CANADA—what of the Future?

THE Bank of Toronto, closing its seventieth year of banking service to the Canadian people, finds itself compelled to express satisfaction, even amazement, over the achievements and progress of the Dominion in the first quarter of the new century.

Canada's trade has grown in this period not by the million but by the hundreds of millions. We are doing business with the world in a measure beyond any expectation of 25 years ago. There was never a period in Dominion history when, despite the war-born burdens we have been compelled to carry, the certain greatness of this country loomed so large upon world horizons.

What of the future?—the new quarter century?

Canada with millions of acres of virgin soil as yet unsettled and untilled, much of it adjacent to railway facilities is the future home of millions of selected immigrants.

Canada has scarcely touched her enormous coal resources. Canada today imports more than $150,000,000 of manufactured metals, largely because our own base metals thus far have been developed only in a small way. Precious metal production will soon bring us into second place in world gold production, and our vast precambrian mineral-bearing rock formation in the North has been prospected over a mere fraction of its surface.

Our water power resources have been described as the greatest pawn in deciding the industrial future of this continent. Our forest resources, not only as great storehouses of timber, but as producers of newsprint and pulpwood, have shown the way to Canada in the possibilities for the development of new industry.

And these are but a few of our great major industries and resources, the future developments of which will be equalled in other minor divisions of industry.

Seventy years ago today (July 8, 1856) the founders of the Bank of Toronto opened the doors of the bank. On this anniversary we have sought to express some augury of the future greatness of Canada. Our history has been closely allied with the history of the Dominion; our faith in Canada never has flagged; our development has gone arm-in-arm with the forward-looking spirit that sees the greatest era of progress just ahead.

On this day, we pay homage to the founders of this institution and subscribe to the sound enterprise and the spirit of public service to which the efforts of our staff, past and present, have been dedicated.

"Onward to Canada's Greatest Half Century" may well be the watchword of a united, sanguine and determined people.

NEW FIRE ENGINE'S BAPTISM OF FIRE

Lately Purchased Apparatus Used for First Time Last Tuesday.

OMEMEE, July 8.—The fire engine, recently purchased by the Town Council, was called out for the first time on Tuesday morning, when a chimney fire was raging at the home of Walter Mitchell. The dense smoke which issued from between the bricks in the chimney hindered the fire fighters to a great extent, but no serious damage resulted.

Mr. Bamforth was stationed on the Omemee circuit when a young man and made many warm friends who are always glad to welcome him back to Omemee. He delivered two very powerful and inspiring messages on Sunday which should linger long in the memory of those present.

Church, Smith's Falls, when Alice De Lima, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Fortner, was united in marriage to Mr. Harold Cunningham, recently of Omemee, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. James Cunningham of Omemee, the Rev. Father Farrell officiating.

The bride was attired in a shell pink flat crepe gown, wearing a large pink Milan hat with grey trimmings. Miss Irene Fortner, sister of the bride, wore a gown of peach flat crepe, with hat to match. The groom was supported by Mr. Ernest Bisonette of Smith's Falls.

Following the wedding ceremony, a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents, only the immediate relatives being present, after which Mr. and Mrs. Cunningham left on a motor trip to points along the St. Lawrence, the bride wearing a smart tweed costume with small hat. On their return they will reside in Smith's Falls.

Easy to Gain With Yeast and Iron

New Combination of Yeast with Vegetable Iron Quick Way to Build Up Weight

This new combination of yeast vitamines with vegetable iron, renews the action of sluggish blood cells, drives out dangerous body poisons, increases energy and endurance and supplies the system with vitamines that build up weight.

For years yeast has been known as a rich vitamine food but not until we perfected "ironed yeast"—which comes in concentrated tablet form was it possible to take yeast and iron in the right proportions to build up weight.

Vegetable "Iron" when combined with yeast is quite easy to digest, therefore better for the system. And "yeast" when ironized, becomes just twice as beneficial as ordinary fresh or cake yeast.

Ironized Yeast Tablets are composed of concentrated food elements, therefore, they are pleasant to take and free from drug-like effects. If you are under weight, do not enjoy good health, lacking in energy and force, "ironized yeast" tablets will pick you right up, and if they fail, you get your money back.

Sold by druggists at $1.00 for a large 60-tablet package or sent direct from laboratory on receipt of price. Ironized Yeast Co., Fort Erie, Ontario, Canada.

LAKEFIELD I.O.O.F. DECORATION DAY

Large Attendance of Brethren and Citizens at Two Cemeteries.

LAKEFIELD, July 8.—Sunday was Decoration Day and as usual was greeted with Queen's weather, an ideal summer day. At two o'clock the members of the I.O.O.F., Lakefield Lodge I.O.O.F. No. 358, to the number of about forty left the lodge room headed by the Lakefield Citizen's Band who were resplendent in new uniforms of navy blue, the coats piped with red and trimmed with gold braid. The procession proceeded up Queen street to the Hillside cemetery attended by dozens of motor cars and crowds of people on foot. This annual parade attracts a large crowd each year who by their quiet and reverent demeanor respect the day and what it symbolizes. At Hillside cemetery the ceremony was performed and the grave of the late Brother Milton Nelson was decorated. After the religious service the band played softly, "Sun of My Soul", then the procession reformed and marched to the Town Hall whence they were driven to the Lakefield cemetery where the greater crowd was assembled. Here the graves of the late brothers William Cuny, Frederick Anderson, Gordon Roseborough, Melville Pammett, William Hamilton, James Jory and George McWilliams were decorated.

Following this the Rev. Brother W. Spencer gave an address stressing the fact that the tribute of flowers laid on the grave did not mean that the brethren thought their deceased brothers were there. Not so, this is a mere symbol, the placing of the flowers on the last earthly resting place is simply a token of perpetual rememberance. When the last dues are paid and the funeral service concluded is not the end for the members of the I.O.O.F. and year by year, the ceremony of decoration day is observed to show that those who have gone on to a higher and wider sphere are not overlooked when the roll is called in the earthly lodge. Service and sacrifice are the watchwords of the Odd Fellows and in these two words is expresed a great deal and a great deal is required.

One accident marred the occasion, the cars of Mr. N. A. Moore of Lakefield and Mr. Wilson of Young's Point collided with disastrous results for both cars. With the exception of the shock the occupants were uninjured but the cars were in bad shape.

Lakefield Cemetery.

The annual Decoration Day of the I.O.O.F. attracts hundreds of people to the Lakefield cemetery where there are a number of graves decorated. Sunday was no exception to the rule and scores of motor cars lined the roads on both sides of the entrance and men, women and children of all ages thronged the cemetery. It is a beautiful spot, actuated as it is on high ground with a commanding positon and surrounded by beautiful maples. In the centre near the caretaker's office a beautiful clump of trees affords shade and a quiet place for rest and reflection. The cemetery was first laid out in 1862 and is five acres in extent and in every way the officers and Board of Directors have made it as picturesque as possible providing for its care, not only for the present, but for the future so that the Lakefield cemetry will always be cared for as God's acre should be and that it may never present the lamentable spectacle of neglect which is the fate of some of the cemeteries where many pioneers are buried.

This God's acre is filling up and in the near future it will have to be extended and for this purpose funds will have to be provided. Some kindly disposed persons have left bequests to the cemetery and this has appealed to many now living as a place where a bequest would be well placed.

In the south west corner a half acre is owned by the county and in this plot are buried the inmates of the County House of Refuge where they succumb to the last great enemy of man. These graves are all marked with neat granite markers.

The caretaker is W. J. Hurl who has faithfully and efficiently attended to his duties here for the past thirteen years. During that time there have been five hundred interments made.

T. T. Milburn of Smith is president of the Board, succeeding the late H. C. Garbutt who held the position for many years. The last resting place of the earthly tabernacles of the spirits of departed loved ones presents a gripping appeal to every individual in the municipality and also in the adjacent village of Lakefield and surely no one will disregard the requirements of the present or the demands of the future, but will at an early date offer generous recognition of their sacred duty in helping the upkeep of this peaceful spot. To this end, would it not be well, in addition to donations, bequests should be made through the medium of wills, thus acknowledging an undoubted duty to the dead as well as to the living, an insuring in time of an adequate endowment for the care in perpetuity for the "silent city of the the dead."

CHICAGO GRAINS

CHICAGO, July 8 (Canadian Press).—Fresh upturns in the value of wheat yesterday went hand in hand with reports of increasing crop damage northwest. Besides the effect of persistent drought and excessive heat, black rust developments attracted special attention. Closing quotations on wheat were unsettled 1-2 to 1 1-8 net higher, with corn 5-8 to 1 7-8 up; oats at 3/4 to 1 cent advance, and provisions varying from 10 cents decline to a rise of 5.

As much as 2 cents a bushel new gain in the price of wheat was shown yesterday at times. Selling to realize profits took place on the bulges but enlarged buying followed whenever the market sagged. This buying was in the face of predictions of rain northwest within the next 24 hours. Among the reports which the buying was based was one saying that wheat had been badly burned for a distance of 90 miles north of the Canadian Pacific main line between Caron and Swift Current. Another despatch told of wheat in northeastern South Dakota that gave promise of a fair crop ten days ago and that now is too poor to harvest.

Black rust in the second cycle of infection was reported as having penetrated every field examined on a hundred mile drive from Cass County, North Dakota. Meanwhile northwestern mills were purchasing wheat freely in the southwest, and there were indications that exporters were doing likewise. Premiums for new wheat at the Gulf of Mexico went sharply higher. The world's available supply total showed 8,043,000 bushels decrease for the week, and is 7,101,000 bushels less than a year ago.

Corn displayed independent strength owing to adverse official crop reports from Kansas and more due to lack of rain. Oats in the northwest were said to be heading short.

Provisions derived firmness from the upward trend of cotton oil and of grain.

CAMP FIRE GOSSIP.

At the beginning of each week new captains for the baseball teams at the Y.M.C.A.-Rotary Camp are chosen. The captains in turn choose their teams for the week. The captains for this week's league are Sloane, Al. Dorrington, Welsh and Breckenridge. The names of the four teams are Lucky Tens, Bare Backs, Beavers and Zig Zags. The first two games were played Monday evening and the teams seem to be evenly matched.

Among those who visited the Rotary-Y.M.C.A. Camp at Clear Lake on Sunday were: Dr. and Mrs. Wood, Mr. and Mrs. Herrick, Mr. Fraser, Mr. Bruce Fraser, Mr. and Mrs. Jopling, Mr. and Mrs. Ingram, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Saxby Jr., Mr. Wm. Saxby, Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Best, Mr. and Mrs. Chowan, Mr. and Mrs. Roper, Mr. and Miss Galley, Mr. and Mrs. Herrick and Mr. and Mrs. McGee. All the visitors inspected the camp and were impressed not only with the camp site, but with the spirit of fellowship that prevails at the camp.

The Bogie Man

By SHIRLEY RODMAN WILLIAMS.

VERY early children hear of fictitious characters in stories around which have been spun the web of fear—Ogres, Dwarfs, Ghouls. One can't keep them away, they exist and must be met. One can recolor and reshape them, however. When Joan was three, playmates told her about the Bogie Man. She was petrified with fright. The only remedy seemed to be to replace this horror with a helpful friendly Bogie Man. While playing "Pretend" we found him one day as we lay on an old wooden foot-bridge close over a little stream. Joan will never be afraid of him again!

I SAW the Bogie Man
Down by the brook,
Under the low willow tree.
He was little and brown
With a great purple nose:
That's how I knew it was he.

Some folks are afraid
Of the Bogie Man chap,
But the fairies all love him I know:
Cause he milks all their cows,
And sprinkles the dew,
And coaxes the gardens to grow.

HE tends to the flowers
That come in the spring,
And gathers the leaves in the fall—
So if anyone tells you
The Bogie Man's bad,
Just don't you believe him at all!

CUT GLASS VASE GIVEN TEACHER

Miss M. Green is Leaving S. S. 8, Harvey, After Four Years.

ADDRESS READ

HARVEY, July 7.—One of the most interesting events in this locality took place on Friday, June 25th, at S. S. No. 8 Harvey, when the parents gathered, just as school was being dismissed for the day, and after spending a few hours with the teacher and their children, who were making the presentation of a beautiful cut-glass vase to their teacher, provided them with a bounteous repast, which was spread on the school grounds.

The teacher, Miss M. Green, wholly taken by surprise, and the sincerity and thoughtfulness of the donors, which had so much contributed to her successful service in this section. The following address was read by Miss Jean Hunt; the presentation being made by little Elsie Weisse.

Miss M. Green,
R. R. No. 1,
Peterborough, Ont.

Dear Teacher.—It is with the deepest feelings of regret, that we have learned you are about to sever your connection with our school, after perhaps the longest service in the history of our section.

During the four years you have been with us, you have brought us from the primary grades, gradually preparing us to pass successfully out of our Public School life into the world's vast sphere of usefulness, which cannot but be increased by the incentive and example you have ever placed before us.

We know we have not always appreciated your earnest efforts and were often seemingly careless and indifferent, while you were painstaking and patient. The influence you leave behind must bear fruit and as the years pass, with the remembrance of you, so shall we always feel you are taking the keenest interest in our welfare.

You are at the opening of your vacation; and our best wishes go with you, but we could not let you depart from our midst without trying to convey to you in a small measure the respect we feel for you, and trust this vase may always remind you of the time you spent with the children of S.S. No. 8, Harvey.

Signed by Marjory Hunt, Albert Chase, Howard Smith, Margaret Weisse.

FALLING BEAM INJURES MAN

David Drain Cut and Bruised at Barn Raising.

WARSAW NEWS

WARSAW, July 7—Jerry McMurray raised a straw-barn, measuring forty feet by forty-four. Some twenty men were there on Monday morning and fifty in the afternoon. Thomas McMurray from Peterboro was the builder.

When the men were placing one of the sleepers, David Drain, Jerry Mahony and a young man by the name of Kennedy, held one end by a rope. By some means the piece of lumber slipped, and in a second of time was down, striking Mr. Drain on the head. Mr. Kennedy had his leg slightly skinned, but nothing to amount to anything. Mr. Mahony was able to jump and wholly avoided it. Mr. Drain had no bones broken but is very badly bruised and his forehead is cut. He was holding the rope some way that it caught on his legs. Those who saw it wondered how any of the three escaped with their lives. The doctor does not think Mr. Drain's injuries at all serious; he sat up most of the afternoon.

There was no service in the Presbyterian Church on Sunday, except the Sunday school. As the Sunday School lessons are to be on the life of Moses and the wanderings of the children of Israel, Rev. H. B. Herrington's address on Sunday night was on that subject and he said a good deal that threw light on the life of the Hebrews.

Next Sunday there will be no service in any of the United Church appointments. In the evening the Orangemen will parade to the Anglican Church.

EVEN MAMIE SUSPECTS.

As we drew up in front of Mamie's the whole house was dark, and I wondered if she had gone out. I didn't want to talk even with Mamie yet, although I might ask her help later.

I let myself in quietly and went directly to my room, where, before I slept I had made a reckless plan to help Joan out.

"Well, I don't know whether it is criminal blackmail or not," I said to myself, "but I am going to get that money from Mr. Robinson for his daughter. It would be hers in a week or two anyway."

I sometimes wonder if that is not the way many people argue with themselves when they do things that they know are not exactly right. If they put it over they know the result will be all right. It is the methods they pursue, which might mean disgrace and punishment if they are not successful.

The next morning fate was with me.

Before I was up, Mamie brought me in the morning paper. There was a more or less sensational account of the death of Miss Cleaver at the Morton Department Store. The paper said she was dead before she arrived at the hospital.

Although suicide was not even hinted at, I was sure that I could read between the lines and I knew that if the fatal bottle had been found there would have been a great scandal. As yet there had been no post mortem.

Mamie looked rather disapproving as she pointed to the story.

"Judy," she said, "isn't this the woman whose name gossip has linked with that of Mr. Robinson's for years?"

"I believe so, Mamie," I answered composedly, "although I really knew nothing about it until yesterday when one of the girls told me something to the effect that Robinson had grown tired of her and was trying to break up the affair."

Mamie looked rather horrified.

"Is it possible, Judy, that you went out with him after you knew that? Everyone will think that he has become infatuated with you. Oh, I hope your name will not come into it."

"I don't think it will, Mamie. And besides I didn't go out with Mr. Robinson."

Mamie looked at me very sternly. "Were you not in the Robinson car when you called to me?"

"Yes, but I was alone, Mamie," I said, reproachfully. "I don't believe I would suspect you even if things spoke more eloquently against you even than did a Rolls-Royce car with a Robinson monogram on the door panel."

Lyrics Of Life

(By Douglas Malloch.)

I'M GLAD OF THAT.

I'm glad I did not fare so fast
I never knew the men I passed,
And never knew the joy of knowing.
I might have hurried on ahead,
And nothing done, and nothing said
To others who were upward going.
But many a merry night I had,
And many a day, and I am glad.

I'm glad I did not win so much,
Of wealth I lost the common touch,
The love of other men who labor.
A finer house I might have built,
With crystal glass and shining gilt,
Ah, yes, and never had a neighbor.
But folks in denim often sat
About my board, I'm glad of that.

I'm glad I did not win a fame
That gave a glamour to my name
That lifted me above my brothers.
I'd rather have a friendly hand
Than all the honors in this land,
Yes, have the comradeship of others.
I'm glad I did not fare so fast
That all life's other joys I passed.

Tomorrow: COME RIGHT OUT.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK?

By Edson R. Waite Secretary Shawnee Okla. Board of Commerce.

THAT every citizen should line up with the home city boosters and do their best to advance its interests.

THAT every effort should be made to make her commerce grow rapidly.

THAT some people live and learn, some live and never learn, some live faster than others, some learn faster than others, while some stand still. The stand still crowd should put their "think tanks" to work and join the live citizens in boosting the home city.

THAT the man who is not sold on his home city is usually the man who has a poor vision. Men with a forward vision see a bright future.

THAT any city worth living in is worth working for.

THAT your city is an extra good city in which to live and prosper. Its growth has been such that your citizens have a right to be enthusiastic about its future.

Now is the time to get busy and stay busy doing your whole share in the upbuilding of your city.

Above is shown a frock of cream flannel, cross-barred in black. With it is worn a cream flannel sleeveless jacket and the dress trimmings match the jacket.

The same costume may be worked out in delightful color combinations, such as yellow flannel, striped in dark red or pale pink flannel, trimmed with blue.

YOUR JEWEL COLOR FLOWER

By Mildred Marshall

The topaz rules over mortal destiny today. It is a talisman against financial losses, but it is also the emblem of secrecy and should be worn with care. According to an old legend, a topaz worn today will bring about a startling revelation which will not give complete happiness.

The ruby is today's natal stone. It has the power of bringing to all whose birth anniversary this is a position of responsibility and command. Victory in legal controversaries, assured the wearer of the ruby and a journey by land or sea with a business objective will be very fortunate.

Dark brown or black should be worn on this day; the Orientals believed that the quieter hues aided them in escaping the notice of the evil spirits which rule this day. Today's flower is the purple violet. It protects from evil the home which it adorns.

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

(By Mildred Marshall.)

Facts about your name, its history; its meaning; whence it was derived; its significance; your lucky day, and lucky jewel.

AURORA.

A very unusual name and yet an extremely prevalent one in European countries, whence it has penetrated America, is Aurora. It signifies "the dawn," since Aurora was the mythological personification of the break o' day. Her name comes from aurum (gold) because of the golden light she sheds before her. Aurora as the goddess of the dawn appears in all legends, and was attached by the Greeks to their Eos, whose rosy fingers unbarred the gates of day.

When the Cinque-cento made classic lore the fashion, Aurora came into favor with the fair dames of France and has ever since continued in vogue there. Occasionally, it passed into Germany as Aurora, where the first famous woman of that name was Aurora von Kielmanseek, mother of Marshal Saxe. In Ilyria, both the dawn and the proper name were called Zora and, as a mark of endearment, Zorana.

Aurora has persisted in spite of the canon prohibiting the giving of the names of heathen gods in baptism. Like most mythological characters, she is a Latin divinity, since Latin names were used throughout Europe and only comparatively modern criticism has endeavored to distinguish between the distinct myths of the Greek and Latin races. Most mythological names, including Aurora, have their vogue in France and England, which are most under the dominance of fancy with regard to names.

While no verses of note have been addressed direct to Aurora, she is a favorite subject with the poets who find her personification much more fanciful and romantic than the mere word "dawn." She is poetically represented as rising out of the ocean in a chariot with rosy fingers dripping dew. Keats was specially fond of referring to Aurora, and our own beloved Longfellow made frequent mention of her.

Aurora's jewel is the chrysolite—"the chrysolite of sunrise," wrote Shelley. To exert its power, the amber gem should be set in gold. It is said to have the power of dispelling evil spirits if worn on the left arm. When dreamed of, it signifies "caution necessary." Aurora's lucky day is Monday, and 5 is her mystic number.

Tomorrow's HOROSCOPE

By Genevieve Kemble

FRIDAY JULY 9.

The lunar transits for this day make for certain hazards which may affect affairs generally. The financial interests are under a weak figure, and all manner of speculative enterprises and untried projects had better be deferred until more auspicious conditions in the heavens. Shun litigation and protect the physical safety. Domestic and affectional matters should prosper.

Those whose birthday it is are under the promise of a fluctuating year, with financial interests risky, especially through new or speculative alliances. Shun litigation and quarrels and also beware physical injury. In personal relations better auspices may prevail. A child born on this day may be clever, accomplished and well liked, despite a nature inclining to sharp words and abrupt actions. It should be trained to be on guard against personal injury.

SAVE YOUR TEETH

Prepared by the Oral Hygiene Committee of Canada, with which the Peterborough Dental Society is Collaborating.

TOOTH IMPORTANCE.

You have ten fingers where, perhaps, nine would serve almost as well. Yet you would not lightly place one of them in jeopardy of loss.

But do you so much as lift your little finger to save the tooth that is in peril of the dentist's forceps?

Then, why not?

A tooth is, in fact, a fundamental part of the human body, just as is any other member and from the standpoint of health, the teeth and oral cavity play an important role in the well-being of the individual. Nor is the tooth of relative insignificance in the matter of appearance, which, hand in hand with health, plays such a momentous part in the life of the individual.

But perhaps no greater plea can be made for the preservation of the tooth in health than that relative to the grave consequences from neglect, as affecting not only the usefulness of the tooth, but the fitness of the individual himself.

And what of the person robbed of his full dental organ through disease?

You cannot take a man or woman, remove the teeth and have the same type of person left. The appearance is changed, the health is different, and in fact, no part of the oral cavity can be disturbed without affecting the other organs of the body.

While it is true that through man's inventiveness, artificial substitutes can replace (and be made to serve efficiently), the lost masticatory organs: yet when you consider that in a normal mouth, where all the teeth are present, a maximum force of two hundred and fifty pounds can be exerted in crushing stress and that only about thirty pounds is available where dentures are worn, the inferences to be drawn are startling to say the least.

It has been humorously said that we are born into the world without teeth and generally speaking, we leave it without them. Unfortunately, to a large degree, this is true of the past and to a lesser degree perhaps is one of the present as well. But with the increasing enlightenment of the public in matters of oral health, it should not be so told of the rising generation and of those that are to follow.

LOVE LETTERS THAT MADE HISTORY

(By Joseph Kaye.)

BEAU BRUMMEL AND ONE OF HIS CONQUESTS.

Who has not heard of Beau Brummel? Beau Brummel, the fop, the dandy, the ladies' man. Most of us have heard of him so often and have heard his name applied to so many purposes that we have come to accept him as a legend. But Beau Brummel is no legend, but one of the most interesting characters in history. His real name was George Bryan Brummel, and he was really all the rage in the London of his time.

He was born in England's capital, the son of the secretary to a Lord. He was sent to Eaton and Oxford, where his instinctive taste for good dressing and quick wit at repartee made him very popular even before he was sixteen. At that age he left Oxford, and when he was presented to the Prince of Wales (later George IV.), the latter was attracted by his vivacity and gave him a commission in his own regiment.

Brummel paid so little attention to his military duties that it is said his men didn't know him. He soon inherited some money and set up a fashionable bachelor apartment. He was constantly in the Prince's company and their adventures were many and gay.

Brummel's exquisite taste in dress spread his fame in society and he became the acknowledged of leader men's fashion. In addition, his wit and charming personality gave him access to every door. But Brummel lived too well. His arrogant cleverness alienated his royal patron: he gradually squandered his fortune, and the man who was the favorite of England, went through the humiliation of a debtor's prison, and he ended his days in a charitable institution, no longer a dandy, but a miserable and disreputable pauper.

In the heyday of his vogue Beau Brummel was a fashionable lover and the letter below is one remaining to attest to the existence of an unusual personality.

"Yesterday morning I was reduced almost to insanity, but your note in the evening restored me to peace and equanimity and, as if I had been redeemed from earthly pursuits, would have placed me in heaven.

Thank you, dearest of beings: how can I retribute all this benevolent openheartedness, the delicious proof and avowal of my not being indifferent to you? I cannot by inanimate words represent the excess of my feelings towards you: take them with undue admission, and forbearance, the simple boon and sacred pledges of my heart's deepest affection for you: they are rooted in my very soul and exist: they will never deviate: they will never die away.

. . . . Ever most affectionately yours,
GEORGE BRUMMEL."

Picnic Held at Home of Mrs. Evans—Address Read To Mrs. Mackintosh.

The W.M.S. of St. Andrew's held its monthly meeting in picnic style on the beautiful lawn at the home of Mrs. George Evans, Engleburn avenue, on Tuesday afternoon and the outing was quite well attended.

The meeting, which was in charge of the 'Watch Tower,' was presided over by Mrs. J. W. Gordon. The usual devotional exercises opened the meeting. Miss Craw read a very fine paper on 'Worship.'

After the reports were given an address was read by Mrs. E. R. Shirley to Mrs. J. Mackintosh, a much valued member of the W.M.S., who leaves shortly to reside in Toronto. Many of the members personally expressed their regret at losing one who has always taken such an interest in all branches of the church, all feeling that she will be greatly missed. Mrs. Mackintosh also received a beautiful basket of roses.

Dainty refreshments were served and a most enjoyable time spent.

At the close of the meeting Mrs. George Laing moved a hearty vote of thanks to Mrs. Evans for her generous hospitality.

About nine months ago there were only five woman members of the London Chamber of Commerce, and there are now fifty. One of the most prominent of these is the Viscountess Rhondda, who is a director of more than forty great corporations.

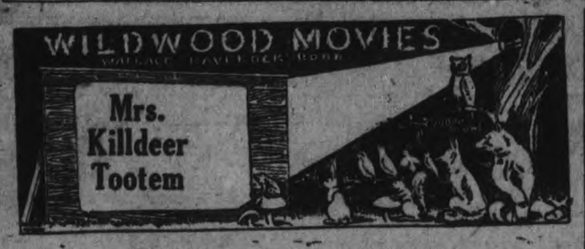
SOLUTION OF YESTERDAY'S CROSSWORD PUZZLE



(Mrs. Killdeer Foolem.

Now, Mrs. Killdeer Foolem
Has a pretty set of eggs,
But you needn't try to find 'em,
For she'll trot you off your legs.

She settles in some hollow,
Just as tho' it were the place,
But you'll find, if you should follow,
That she'll laugh right in your face.

She knows that you are watching,
And she leads you far and near,
Anywhere but where she's nesting,
Then she laughs and cries, "Killdeer."

A few days ago I was being entertained by a Killdeer plover on the meadow, and I wondered just how funny it would be to see us in the movies. I very much fear that the audience would decide that Mrs. Killdeer had all the brains of our stunt, for she made a monkey out of me.

We were not rie'' to begin with, and we parted bad company, and it all happened like this: I was picking buttercups when she ran almost int the boquet in my hands. Naturally I sa' up an! took notice.

This Mrs. Killdeer had a nest somewhere near, or some young ones, you never can tell which, and I forgot about that, so I foolishly decided that she must have a nest nearby. I began to follow her, and to watch her, and to look for that nest.

Well, a guy might just as well follow or try to follow a dragon fly looking for mosquitos in a swamp as try to find out the secrets of Mrs. Killdeer. She would run over to a nice and very likely looking hollow, and there she would squat and ruffle up her feathers, and settle. "Aha! so that is your nest is it?"

But always it was just an empty, cold hollow, nothing more, and I finally got wise to the fact that she was kidding me, just showing me fake nests. And she flew away, finally, crying, "Killdeer' and satisfied that I was a fool, and I guess I was.

UNCLE WIGGILY

Today's Bedtime Story

By Howard R. Garis

UNCLE WIGGILY'S CITY HUNT.

Copyright, 1926, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.
(By Howard R. Garis.)

Uncle Wiggily, with his paw on his pocketbook, and his wife, with her paw clasping the brown, acorn necklace her husband had given her one Christmas, stood in the hall of the house of their city cousin, Mr. Hare. Uncle Wiggily was going to help Mr. Hare not to get arrested for speeding his auto, and Mrs. Longears was just getting out of bed, when they heard a big bang, as I told you in story last night.

"Somebody is trying to shoot us!" cried Mr. Longears.

"Nothing of the sort!" laughed the city rabbit, who was having his country cousins on for a visit. "That is just some Italian greyhound dogs digging a sewer in the next street. They put in gunpowder to blow up, or blast, the hard rocks. That noise is what you heard."

"Oh," sighed Mrs. Longears, and Uncle Wiggily, after twinkling his pink nose, asked:

"Do you hear it often—that big, blasting explosion noise?"

"Yes, every morning," said the city rabbit gentleman. "It's really very nice, when you get used to it. We don't need an alarm clock to wake us up!"

"No, I should not say," spoke Mrs. Longears sarcastic like, as she went back to her room to dress, having put on a bath robe to run out when she heard that big bang.

"Ten dollars!" barked out the Bulldog judge.

"Everything is all right," said Mr. Hare. "Wig and I will be back as soon as I tell that Police Dog he can't arrest me for speeding."

The visit of Uncle Wiggily and Mr. Hare to the traffic court was not as jolly as it might have been.

* * *

"This big rabbit gent was doin' fifty miles an hou' on th' main street, yer honor," said the Police Dog, an Irish setter, who had given Mr. Hare a summons the day before.

"I was only doing about ten!" said Mr. Hare, "and Uncle Wiggily is here to prove it."

"Ten dollars!" barked out the Bulldog judge, and Mr. Hare had to pay, not liking it very much, though.

"Well, Wig," said the city rabbit as they came out of the traffic court, "I've got to go to the office now, and that won't be much fun for you. But I'll come home early this afternoon and take you and the wife to a ball game. How's that?"

"Fine!" answered Mr. Longears. "I need a rest, anyhow."

Mr. Hare took him back to the city brick house in his auto, being careful not to speed, and when the city rabbit had gone on to his office, Uncle Wiggily hopped in to see how his wife liked their visit to the city. Mrs. Longears didn't like it, but she was too polite to say so.

"Your cousin's wife, Mrs. Hare, is having a lot of trouble," said Mrs. Longears as the bunny gentleman came back.

"How is that?" asked the rabbit uncle.

"All the milk has turned sour, on account of the ice man not leaving any cold chunks, and she doesn't know what to do," said Mrs. Longears.

"I'll hop out and get her some fresh milk," said Uncle Wiggily, and when he offered to do this Mrs. Hare was very grateful, for she wanted her cook to make a cake, and milk was needed. So the rabbit gentleman started down the city street, being a bit nervous because of so many automobiles, trolleys, jitneys and taxicabs.

However he hopped bravely along, looking on this side and that, until finally, a Police Dog saw him and asked:

"What are you hunting for, a garage or a place to park?"

"I am hunting for a cow to get Mrs. Hare some milk," answered Uncle Wiggily. "Will you please tell me where I can find a lady cow who will give me some milk?"

"Ha! Ha! Ho! Ho!" laughed the Police Dog. "You will have a long hunt to find a cow in this city. It's against the law to keep a cow here. You must be from the country?"

"I am, but how did you know it?" asked Uncle Wiggily. "But no matter—tell me where I can get some milk?"

"In that delicatessen store across the street," barked the Police Dog. "It come in bottles, city milk does. And don't drop it!"

"Thank you, I'll try not to," said the bunny. And then, his hunt for a cow having ended, he bought a bottle of milk and started back with it for the home of his city cousin. And if the ice-cream cone doesn't get a chill when it rolls under the ice-box to play tag with the steam radiator, I'll tell you ex about Uncle Wiggily popping up.

THE FOOD VALUE OF ORANGES IN THE DIETARY.

Oranges have many beneficial qualities. The fruit is now recognized as the greatest aid for underweight children Vitamine C and water soluble vitamine B in the fruit promotes growth and improves the general health in every way. Although known as an acid fruit, it has an alkaline reaction upon the system after digestion. Therefore the acid fruit offsets the acidity due to other foods. A pound of orange juice contains 240 calories of food energy units.

One or two oranges taken at night and one in the morning will stimulate the normal activity of the digestive organs.

Orange Shortcake.

Peel eight large juicy oranges, slice with a sharp knife, remove all seeds and sprinkle with two cupfuls of sugar. Make a shortcake of biscuit dough; when baked, split, butter generously, fill with the orange, put on the top crust, butter, heap with the orange and pour over all the rich juice. Serve at once.

Jellied Orange Quarters.

Cut as many oranges as are needed in basket shape, or cut off a top circle of the skin, scoop out the pulp and throw the skins into cold water. Take the pulp and add to it the juice of three lemons, two cupfuls of sugar and a cupful and a half of boiling water, cook gently for ten minutes; dissolve a tablespoonful of gelatine in a quarter cupful of hot water and add it to the orange, cook two minutes then strain into a bowl. Fill the baskets or the whole oranges as soon as the liquid is cool. In serving the whole oranges, cut with a sharp knife in quarters and serve heaped with shipped cream.

Orange Cream Custard.

Dissolve six teblespoonfuls of sugar in the strained juice of two large oranges. Add grated rind of half an orange, the well beaten yolks of two eggs and a cupful of cream. Put in double boiler and stir constantly until thickened. Turn into glass or china cups. Have ready a meringue made of the two egg whites and six teaspoonfuls of sifted powdered sugar; heap on top of the cups and set in the oven just long enough to brown lightly.

Orange Ice.

Put a pint of cold water and a cupful and a half of sugar into a saucepan. Squeeze enough oranges to make a large cupful of juice. Throw one of the squeezed oranges into the saucepan and cook gently five minutes. Cool. When cold, add the orange juice and a quarter cupful of lemon juice. Strain into the freezer and freeze hard.

KIDDIES SPEND PLEASANT DAYS AT PLAYGROUNDS

BASEBALL LEAGUE.

Capable Supervisors, Headed By James Abraham, Look After Children.

The Queen Alexandra, King Edward and the Central School playgrounds which opened on Monday last are justifying their existence, judging from the number of children who are utilizing them. Over 450 children, from tiny tots up, are using the playgrounds daily.

Every conceivable game dear to the heart of childhood was in evidence: teeters, horse shoes, volleyball, basketball, tennis, putting the shot, softball. There are swings for the boys and for the girls, with special ones for the tiny tots.

The girls are taught fancy sewing and raffia work by the supervisors, the completed specimens of the work already finished indicating that many of the girls are making rapid strides in the art.

Twice a week, on Tuesdays and Fridays, from 3 to 5, organized swimming parades are taken to the Inverlea and Lake Street bathing beaches. Here the children, under the instruction of a capable swimmer, are taught the rudiments of swimming. This feature of the playgrounds' activity promises to be even more popular than ever this season, probably on account of the parents realizing that it presents a safe opportunity for their children to learn the art with a minimum amount of risk.

Excitement is already at a feverish pitch in the different grounds owing to the fact that the different players who are to represent their softball teams in the Playgrounds League are trying out for their positions. There is one league for the boys and another for the girls, the boys' league being divided into two sections, junior and senior. The schedule is slated to commence next week.

Every contingency is provided for apparently, as even in the event of a rainy day the children have access to a large room in each school, where checkers and numerous indoor games are provided.

All the grounds are open from 9.30 a.m. to 12 noon and from 2 p.m. to 5 p.m. daily except Saturday, when they close at noon.

James Abraham, the chief supervisor, has matters so arranged that there are always two supervisors on duty at each playground during the hours that they are open.

The following is the schedule of the Playgrounds' League:

THREE-MINUTE JOURNEYS

By Temple Manning

WHERE A GIRL FIRST MEETS HER FIANCE ON HER WEDDING DAY.

How would you like to have to marry a girl or boy whom you have never met? That sounds barely possible to us, but to the people living in the New Hebrides Islands, in the Pacific Ocean, the idea of marrying a friend or acquaintance would be extremely distasteful.

Very often almost from birth the tiny couple are betrothed by their parents, but both are kept ignorant of the fact until they are grown. Indeed, some of the girls are unaware that they are to be married until almost the day of the wedding. However, when the youth is of an age when he begins to go around his parents warn him that he is not to go near a certain house. This is the home of his bride-to-be, and from that time on he avoids the neighborhood as if it were the plague.

When the time comes for the wedding the youth often shows great reluctance to marry the girl his parents chose for him, but his hesitation is of no avail, for marry her he must.

As is usually the case, the marriage is the signal for great rejoicings and ceremony. The friends all assemble and much feasting takes place. The bridegroom sets a stake into the ground and stacks around it gifts of fruit, nuts and pigs. Then the father of the bride or some friend of the family makes a speech, in which he exhorts the bridegroom to be kind to his wife and to "feed her properly." Then, with much ceremony, he "gives away" the bride, who is gayly attired in her new petticoat, the sign of maturity. Now the feasting and rejoicing begins and the bridegroom publicly thanks his father-in-law, not with a speech, but by gently stroking the old gentleman.

Then follows a sham battle: on one side is ranged the family of the bride: on the other the family and friends of the groom. When the bride's family considers that they have made enough show of resistance (to prove how dearly fond of her they are and how very loath they are to part with her) they allow her to be taken away. Whereupon the female friends of the bride drag her off, while she struggles to get away, for it would never do to show her anxiety to get married.

The Bridegroom Sets a Stake.

GOOD NIGHT STORIES

By Blanche Silver

IT NEVER PYAS TO JUDGE TOO QUICKLY.

"Well, good morning, Miss Cricket," buzzed Miss Bee. "I'm going down to the pond. You had better come down, too. I'll fly ahead."

"Sure, I've nothing else to do, I'll go with you," chirped Miss Cricket, and the two friends hurried toward the pond.

Tilly Turtle, from her perch on a log, saw them coming, and she waved her foot to them.

"Always glad to see our meadow friends," she called gayly. Then, crawling off the log, she swam over to the bank to greet Miss Cricket and Miss Bee. "What's on for the day?" she asked.

"That's just it," replied Miss Cricket. "We have nothing to do." Then she cried, "Goodness me! Miss Bee, take a look at that horrid creature down on the bottom of the pond. Did you ever see anyone quite so ugly? Does she live down there with you, Miss Turtle?"

"Certainly she does," chuckled Miss Turtle. "She may be ugly, but she does a lot of good in this world. That little stranger eats mosquitoes from morning until night."

"Always eating," mused Miss Bee. "She looks like a glutton. Goodness, but she's ugly!" and the vain Miss Bee gazed from the ugly bug under the water to her own reflection in the pond. "I'd hate to be as ugly as she is."

Just then the queer little lady under the water crawled up the stem of a water plant near the trio, and she heard their hateful remarks about her looks. She crawled up to the highest end of the weed and sat there quietly a long time, pretending she didn't hear them making fun of her.

"We Have Nothing to Do."

Soon she grew warm. Then her skin became dry and cracked right down her back before the astonished bee, cricket and turtle, and she crawled out of her old skin, a sickly, wet looking creature.

"She had better have stayed where she was," sneered Miss Bee. But the queer creature was soon dried by the warm sun and her watchers almost fell off their perches when she spread out two pairs of lovely wings. Her eyes, that had been before been dull, were now filled with all the light of a fire and looked like jewels in her head. She had six legs, which she stretched one after the other. Then up she sailed into the air.

"Goodness!" snapped Miss Turtle, "it's a dragon-fly, I do declare. What a wonderful creature."

"Beautiful!" cried Miss Cricket and Miss Bee together.

"I'm glad you like my looks better now," laughed the gay-colored dragon-fly. "I can fly backwards, sideways and forward," and she tried all the different ways of flying. "Can you do that, Miss Bee?"

Miss Bee hung her head. She was sorry to say she couldn't, and she was ashamed to think she had spoken so ill of the beautiful creature.

"Never mind, I don't," laughed Miss Dragon-fly. "But after this, never judge a person too quickly." Then away she darted in the sunlight.

CHURCH ANNIVERSARY.

Rev. G. I. Craw's Present Charge Celebrates 20th Anniversary.

The Presbyterian Church in Victoria Harbor, which has for its minister the Rev. George I. Craw, who for 11 years was pastor of Springville and Lakevale, held its 20th anniversary last Sunday. The Rev. J. S. Shortt of St. Andrew's Church, Barrie, preached acceptably morning and evening, and the choir of Bonar Presbyterian Church, Port McNicoll, had charge of the service of praise. The minister had formerly asked for the sum of four hundred dollars to be given as a thank-offering on this special occasion. The congregation expressed gratitude to a divine Providence by placing the sum of $695 on the offering plates.

A Flower Show in Itself Is the Small Gardener's Outfit

VERY useful for digging up seeds to see if they have started, pulling up flowers by the roots, bagging worms for bait and bringing home starfish and fireflies, is the complete gardener's outfit of hat, pinafore and hand-bag. It's quaint and adorable and saves the dress on the beach or in the garden. Paris sends these little suits to Deauville and the Lido made in small-flowered chintz or cretonne or printed sateen. Plain colored chambray is sweet for the bag and pinafore with the hat and bindings of checked gingham. Chambray bound with bias-fold tape in a contrasting color is embroidered on the bag and pockets.

The Examiner does not sell these patterns.

Syracuse Takes Entire Series From Bisons

WORCESTER MAKES GOOD START AGAINST TOURING CRICKETERS

Root, Playing For Home County, Works Havoc With the Visiting Batsmen, Who Are All Dismissed For 197 in First Innings.

McCARTNEY SHINES FOR ANTIPODEANS.

WORCESTER, England, July 8.—(Canadian Press Cable. — In the first innings of their two day match against Worcester here yesterday, the Australians again struck a low mark, their total running under two centuries—the fourth time that this has happened in 21 games. The other occasions on which they failed to reach the 200 mark was at Maidenhead in their opening match against the minor counties, at Brantford in their first encounter with Yorkshire, and at Birmingham against the north of England.

From F. S. Jewell and electance it is necessary to keep the Birmingham game in mind, for in each case the same factor operated to keep down the Australian score—and that factor was Root, the Worcestershire bowler.

Carr's Strategy.

Thanks to the strategy of A. W. Carr, England's captain, the Australians were not permitted to familiarize themselves with Root's deliveries in the North of England game, Mr. Carr withdrawing Root from the bowling end in the second innings. The advantages of this were most yesterday when Root trundling for his own county, played havoc with the Australian batsmen.

Warren Bardsley won the toss and to bat first. He continued Richardson's advancement in the batting order, taking the South Australian to partner him. The issue was no more successful than it had been against Nottingham where the experiment was first tried, for no sooner had the game begun than Richardson's wicket was crashed by Wilson at three. C. G. Macartney was sent in and faced Root. The Worcester bowler got him with the first ball, Macartney playing straight into the hands of Wilson. The score was nine runs with two wickets down.

Andrews Stumped.

T. J. E. Andrews was the next man up, and for a while the situation took on a brighter hue for the visitors, but when Andrews' score stood at 14 he attempted to turn a ball to the square leg and sent the leather flying in the direction of Tarbox. The latter took it on the run and Andrews was out.

The score-board registered 29 runs when the third wicket fell. J. H. Taylor paired with Bardsley and made a brief stand until the lunch hour. Immediately the game was resumed after the refresher, however, Taylor returned an easy one to Root and he withdrew at 56 for 4.

The way was paved for W. H. Ponsford, and following some minutes of cautious play, Ponsford and Bardsley settled down to slow but steady run-getting. He lasted for 35 minutes and in that time drove out five runs, but in attempting a hook he was beautifully caught at mid-on by Jewell, and at 104 the fifth wicket fell. Bardsley had been playing carefully all this time, and when J. H. Gregory went into partnership with him the five thousand spectators felt that Australia had tided over the worst of the game. The illusion was short lived, for in the next over Bardsley's leg-stump was sent spinning by Bowles, and at 109 the sixth wicket yielded.

Perilous Situation.

Australia's situation was perilous, for, following Gregory were the tail-enders, W. A. Oldfield, J. H. Ellis, Clarence Grimmett and Arthur Mailey, peerless at every department of the game, except batting. Oldfield rose splendidly to the occasion, however, and was a fitting companion for the dashing and robust Gregory. In five minutes under the half hour, Gregory drove out five fours, but when his score stood at 30, he misjudged a delivery from Wilson, and down went his wicket. Ellis, under-study to Oldfield in the wicket keeping department, was sent into pair with his senior, and he lasted only one over, Tarbox tunneling his stumps when Ellis had broken his duck-egg. Grimmett partnered Oldfield and together these players put up an excellent fight.

Oldfield twice got through Root's leg-fieldsman to the boundary, but when the score registered 181, the Australian was thoroughly baffled by a break from Root, and he retired to the club house.

The Australians' scoring practically ended there. Mailey had advanced as far as four runs only, when Grimmett's session at bat concluded with a catch by G. Ashton, the old Cambridge blue, of Bowles's delivery. The first innings score totalled 197, including 9 extras.

Worcesters' Bad Start.

Worcestershire's beginning was astounding. Jewell and Wright opened the batting, and it was plainly seen that they were uneasy against the rugged bowling of Macartney. They played back to it with the object solely of keeping up their wickets instead of going out to meet it, as was done later by Fox and Foster. The result of this over-cautiousness was that Macartney had them beaten—Jewell at 4, Wright and Tarbox at 1; 7 for 2 and 8 for 3.

There was a lapse of three-quarters of an hour before the next wicket went down, and then Foster's arrival was the signal of a vigorous onslaught opened on Macartney. He and Fox played sturdily with Foster getting the runs and Fox keeping up his end.

They played out time with Fox standing at 9 and Foster at 28. The game will be concluded to-day.

NERVOUS QUAKERS' ERRORS IN INFIELD

Both Pitchers Gave Good Display—Belmonts Hit Hard.

The Quakers lost their chance for a try at the Taylor cup when they were defeated by the Belmonts last night at Central Park. The final score was 10 to 2 but this score does not indicate the closeness of the play. The Quakers made some very costly errors which allowed men to get on the runway, and then the hard-hitting Belmonts saw that they were soon advanced. Both pitchers pitched good ball, with Carruthers having the best of the deal with four strike-outs, three of these being in the second inning, after two runs had been scored, walking one and allowing thirteen hits. Harrison, for the Belmonts, struck two out, walked two, and allowed fourteen hits. The Quakers were nervous and thus they made errors, especially in the infield, and when they did get the ball they were very slow on making the proper plays. Lowe for the Belmonts was the outstanding man of the game, getting four hits in five times to bat and took twelve chances with one error. Morphet, for the Quakers, in five times up got on four times, with three hits and an error. The Quakers still have a chance to get into the post season series as there is sure to be a tie for second place in 'A' group. To-night the C. G. E. plays the Knights at King Edward school grounds. The C.G.E. must win if they desire to hold first place with the Belmonts.

DELORO WINNERS AFTER 11 INNINGS

Green Couples Good Batting Average With Fine Fielding.

MARMORA, July 8—It took eleven innings of fluctuating ball at Point Anne on Monday ere the game was won by the visiting Deloro team by the score of 5-4. Bennett pitched surprisingly well for Point Anne and had able backing by his team mates. Having only three strike outs he nevertheless managed to keep the hits well scattered. Sunny Green was seen in his best, coupling a first class batting average with a fine fielding performance. Leal again took the mound for Manager Elliott's lads and had seven strike outs to his credit. He was replaced by Shea in the eleventh innings. The winning run was made by "Hec" Boudreau who doubled, reached third on Bond's bunt and scored when Bradshaw made a bad heave to the plate.

Game Postponed

The Frankford - Deloro game, scheduled to be played at Deloro on July 14th, by mutual consent is postponed to July 16th, to permit a visit of the Belleville Senior team on the earlier date to Deloro. Deloro fans see in this game a good chance for their team to get even with the Railroaders for their defeat at Belleville a week ago.

GAME TONIGHT.

To-night at 6 p.m. Rotary and Kiwanis play at Riverside Park. A good game is expected as a win for Kiwanis will give them a chance in the play off. Both teams are playing good ball and a good crowd should be out to help the boys along.

HELPFUL HINTS TO GOLFING STARS

BY SPECIAL ARRANGEMENT WITH GOLFERS MAGAZINE, CHICAGO

CECIL LEITCH—THE FOLLOW-THROUGH.

To my mind, the follow-through, which, as the name implies, is the continuation of the downward swing after the club-head has met the ball, is the result of a good shot and cannot be forced. There are many good players who have a very curtailed follow-through.

Many of the photographs that we see depicting famous players at the finish of a full shot are poses, in which an actual shot has not been played. They are very different from those taken in actual play.

I must not, however, allow my readers to get the idea that it is not necessary to follow-through or that the club-head must be stopped as soon as the ball is struck. Far from this being the case, I always try to impress upon a player the importance of allowing the club-head to follow on along an imaginary line, pointing in the direction of the hole.

If the swing has been accurate, the club-head will be obliged to travel on after the ball has been hit, because of the speed worked up on the downward swing so it is almost a case of "swing smoothly, apply the 'hit' at the right time, and the follow-through will look after itself."

SECRETS OF STARS ON INSIDE BASEBALL

as told to BILLY EVANS

BY ROGER PECKINPAUGH.

Most Valuable Player 1925—American League.

A knowledge of the strength and weakness of the batsman is invaluable in the proper play of shortstop.

On the batter who is fast, especially a left-handed hitter, you must play closer to the plate. Otherwise it might be difficult to throw him out on a slow-hit ball.

On the slow runner, play just as deep as possible. This gives you more time to get directly in front of a batted ball. It is always better to play a grounder in that manner, if possible, than handling the ball to either side.

Batters differ widely as to the field to which they are most inclined to hit. Some are notorious right field hitters, others partial to left. Certain batters hit either to right or left, depending to some extent on the style ball pitched.

Having taken a position on a batsman and knowing a slow ball or curve is to be pitched, you should be ready to start in the direction where such balls are usually hit. If a fast ball, in the opposite direction.

While there is no definite set rule, because conditions often determine who shall cover second on a hit-and-run play, here is the procedure that is usually followed

The shortstop as a rule covers with a left-handed hitter up, when a curve or slow ball is signaled for by the catcher. The second baseman covers on a fast or waste ball. With a right-handed batter up, just the opposite holds true.

But, most important of all, perhaps, is never to take your eye off the ball.

CURVE LAKE CAN DO MUCH HARM

Will Force Keene Into Play-off By Winning Here To-morrow Evening.

COGS ANXIOUS, TOO.

Curve Lake Indians may tie up all three teams in the county series of the East Peterborough League when they play Keene here tomorrow evening at Exhibition Park. With the first half still in doubt, because of a postponed game between Curve Lake and Cogs, Keene will make a big effort to land Friday's game as a win will give them the second half. If Curve Lake wins, the three teams will be tied.

Keene and Cognawagas are tied for first half honors. Cogs must play a postponed game in Curve Lake and a win will give them a place in the finals, but if Keene wins tomorrow evening, a loss at Curve Lake will put the clubmen out of business for the season.

Ranger Leads Hitters.

Biffer Ranger who has played three full games for Crescents is the leading swatsmith of the team with a mark of .444. The Crescents' first baseman has accepted twenty-three chances without making an error. Masterson and Scully are batting .400 and Masterson has a clean fielding sheet in twelve chances. Oscar Nicholls working in left field for Raybestos is leading the team at bat with a mark of .375.

TY'S MERRY MEN LOSE TO LEAFS

5,000 See Hubbell Hold Detroit To Four Hits.

SCORE WAS 5-4.

MAPLE LEAF STADIUM, July 8 — Hubbell again distinguished himself yesterday afternoon when he duplicated his success over Washington at the expense of the Detroit club of the same league. The southpaw held the Tigers to four hits, two of which were somewhat tainted and but for a little wildness would have won further off. The final score was 5 to 4. The Leafs hit both Smith and Stoner hard, although the latter was more effective than the former Leaf. Smith was inclined to be erratic and when he did find the plate the locals did the rest. Gibson pitched the final innings and Satterfield came through with a triple. The attendance was in the neighborhood of 5,000.

OLD TIME STARS PLAY PRELUDE

Three Inning Celebration Game Precedes New York-Washington Encounter.

GIANTS WIN 8-6.

NEW YORK, July 8.—(Canadian Press).—Yesterday was "Matty Day" and famous diamond figures of yesteryear returned to the Polo grounds to play a prelude to a Giants-Senators exhibition game which was won by the former, 8-6. The celebration for Christy Mathewson took the form of a three-inning game wherin Fred Clark, friendly enemy of the famous "Big Six" in the old days, lost two flies; Rube Marquard stole second, and Roger Bresnahan snared them behind the plate with his barehand. The seven thousand fans who contributed through the gate about $20,000 towards a memorial for Christy were pleased to see 'Matty's" team win the contest 4-3.

The Giants defeated Washington only after Walter Johnson had left the mound. Walter worked two innings and fanned four before he went to the showers. A home run by Goose Goslin with two on gave Washington a lead in the seventh but in the Giants' half of the same Meusel and Lindstrom smashed for the circuit and enough runs to win.

Score by innings:
Washington .... 010002300—6 7 1
New York ..... 00210230x—8 13 1

EXAMINER LEAGUE

The Senators' battery, Harold (Mouse) Dormer and Max Swanston proved too good for George Johnson's Athletics last night at the Oval, and with excellent infield support won out by 21 to 4. For the losers, Scates was responsible for three of the four runs. The fielding feature was a running catch by Vic. Johnson of a foul fly; while at bat Walter Barringer was an exponent of foul "clicks"—you're out.

Boston Braves' Finances Suspicion Of Tampering

BOSTON, Mass., July 8 (Canadian Press). — Secrecy last night still surrounded the investigation of the Boston Braves finances. The only concrete fact was Manager Dave Bancroft's announced suspicion that the turnstile count at Braves Field had been manipulated for some one's financial benefit.

Judge Emil Fucha, president of the National League baseball club, was due to return from New York to-day and no announcements previous to his arrival were expected.

Clark Hits His Sixteenth Homer in Fourth Inning.

ORIOLES' TWO.

Home Runs Give Baltimore Wins in Both Ends of Double Header.

NEW YORK, July 8.—(Canadian Press).—Syracuse at Buffalo took the entire series yesterday and made it five wins in a row when Harold Haid outpitched Aleck Ferguson and got a 3 to 2 decision over the former National. Dan Clark hit his 16th homer of the year in the fourth inning and Max Flack's four bagger in the eighth returned the locals winners.

Reading forced the Orioles two innings overtime in both games of a doubleheader yesterday but home runs gave the Birds the edge in each contest. McKee's homer in the eleventh won the first game, 9 to 8, and Archdeacon's circuit smash in the ninth of the scheduled seven inning nightcap brought home a 6 to 5 victory.

The Newark Bears concluded their home stay yesterday by beating Jersey City 8 to 6, in a free hitting contest. Cy Twombly, former Lehigh College star featured with his relief pitching.

RED SOX BREAK PHILADELPHIA'S WINNING STREAK

Defeat Athletics After Losing First Game of Double Header.

SIMMONS' 2 BAGGERS.

Rommel Driven From Box in First Game Redeems Himself in Second.

NEW YORK, July 8.—(Canadian Press).—The Athletics' winning streak of six straight games was halted yesterday when the Boston Red Sox at Philadelphia won the second game of a doubleheader, 4 to 2, after dropping the first game by a 6 to 5 margin in 12 innings.

Simmons hit three two baggers in the first game but Zahniser was a complete puzzle in the closing game, allowing but two singles until the ninth inning.

Rommel, who was driven from the box in the first game, replaced Quinn in the eighth inning of the second game and prevented any scoring.

Regan, Boston second baseman drove the ball into the left field bleachers for a homer in the sixth inning of the second game.

TWO FOR BROOKLYN.

NEW YORK, July 8.—(Canadian Press).—Luque was batted out in the fifth inning yesterday at St. Louis and the Cardinals defeated the league leading Cincinnati Reds, 11 to 2, in the final game of the series. The Cardinals bunched six singles with a walk and a Red error in the fifth and brought in 6 runs. Douthit and Torpercer each got three hits. Reinhart was unsteady in the early innings but settled down and gained his first victory of the season.

Pittsburgh playing at home won the first game of the series from Philadelphia 8 to 7, Grantham's double and triple driving in five runs. Dean was wild and retired in the fifth while Aldridge was hit freely, giving way to Kremer in the ninth. Williams led the Phillies attack with a triple and two doubles.

Brooklyn went to Boston yesterday and captured both ends of a double header 6 to 2 and 5 to 1. Grimes edged Goldsmith in the initial struggle while Vance came out on top in a pitching duel with Wertz in the final. Vance fanned nine batters and the victory gave the Robins three out of four in the series.

A native magistrate in the Chinese province of Chihli, who is a Christian follower of Marshal Feng, has set about to abolish the centuries-old custom of foot-binding among women. His decree orders that the older women shall unbind partially and the younger ones wholly. It is further provided that the women's feet shall be subject to an official inspection every ten days, and heavy fines are to be imposed on those who have disobeyed the order.

OULETTE LOSES.

BELLEVILLE, July 8. — The Kingston Ponies won from the Canadian Nationals by a 12-8 score in a ten-inning battle here yesterday, after one of the weirdest games seen in the Central League in some time. Belleville looked like winners going into the ninth, but the visitors tied up the game with a couple of hits and a brace of errors. They staged a regular "Donnybrook" in the tenth by pasting the pill for four runs, and continued their winning streak in the C.O.B.L.. Ouelette pitched the full game for Belleville, and kept the situation well in hand with the exception of the tenth.

GOYER TO PITCH.

Nationals Expect Him To Make His Record Three Wins Over Petes.

The tough luck loss sustained by the Belleville team at the hands of the Kingston Ponies on Wednesday leaves them half a game behind the Petes and makes it necessary for Walter Gerow's men to win here on Saturday to pull up again. On the other hand, the Petes need a victory to tighten their hold on second place, especially as they stack up against Kingston in two games next week.

Gilly Goyer, with two victories over the Petes to his cerdit will be sent in against Manager Johnston's team on Saturday and Belleville expect him to make the record three wins. The Petes, however, feel that they have hit their stride at last and they are confident of beating the Nationals, Goyer notwithstanding.

Manager Johnston has made no announcement of his pitching selection, but it would not occasion much surprise if he called on Al. Heckman to take the Gerow men in charge. The game is slated for 3 o'clock and the biggest crowd of the year will see the battle, which will be in charge of Alex Kay and Edgar Lebarr.

PRISONER ESCAPES.

HAMILTON, July 8 (Canadian Press).—A report from Cayuga this morning states that Ernest Norton, held in jail there on a charge of stealing narcotic drugs, had mysteriously escaped during the night. There are no marks about the cell to indicate how he got out and the police are puzzled over the matter.

NEW YORK SUMMARY.

Irregularity has developed in the market and is likely to be more pronounced to-day. Some stocks appear rather tired. It would therefore not be surprising to see a technical reaction take place. Such a reaction would benefit the market greatly. Stocks are a buy on such a setback. General Asphalt has had the power to climb into new high ground and is headed for much higher prices. In some quarters it is declared Asphalt could sell well above $100 a share. The company's oil royalties are enormous and are growing each year. New York stock exchange will issue brokers loan figures for June as of June 30 at 3 p.m. Standard Oil of New Jersey has reduced export gasoline in case 1 1-2c. a gal. to 28.90 cts. Export kerosene has been reduced 1 1-2 ct., making new price of water white 20.15 in cases and Standard white 18.90 in cases.

Demand Sterling $4.85 15-16. Lire $3.31. Francs $2.59 1-2.

Brazilian Traction Leads Market Firmer At Toronto

TORONTO, July 8 (Canadian Press).—Brazilian Traction crossed parity for the first time since 1913 on the local market. Opening 5-8 higher at 100 1-2 the stock increased in strength to close at 101 for a net gain of 1 1-8. The remainder of the list was comparatively dull. but a decidedly firmer tendency was exhibited.

International Nickel, unchanged to 1-2 off at 37 was the next in turnover, with Brantford Cordage preferred also active, 3-8 higher at 25 3-4. Davies "A" closed 1-4 higher at 31 and Dominion Stores Common was up the same amount at 66 1-4, Smelters flutcuated between 1-2 up at 213 1-2 to unchanged at 213. Canners preferred touched a high of 66 1-2, 3 1-2 higher, and a low of 63 1-2, 1-2 higher. Dome was up 20 cents at 12.25, and Keely 4 cents at 1.54. Teck Hughes was 8 cents higher at 3.83. Montreal and Toronto Bank stocks advanced 1 point to 271 and 220.

Warm Weather In West Decreases Value Of Wheat

CHICAGO, July 8.— (Canadian Press.) — Wheat prices underwent an early setback to-day, influenced by the reports that the dry, hot wave in Canada had been broken. On the other hand, crop reports from the Northwest States continued extremely adverse. Opening 3-8 to 1 1-8 off, the wheat market showed some further loss before beginning to rally. Corn and oats developed comparative strength, corn starting 1-8 to 3-4 down, but later scoring gains. Provisions were weak.

According to the current reports, there is no doubt at present that the wheat crop in Southern Dakota will be one of the poorest in the State's history. North Dakota is also reported as likely to show considerable decrease from last year. With favorable conditions, hereafter, Montana and Minnesota may yet produce wheat crop slightly above the average.

NEW OFFICERS NOW IN CHARGE

Adjutant and Mrs. Ham Conduct Services at Army Temple.

WARM WELCOME.

Intensely interesting meetings were conducted last Sunday in the Salvation Army Temple by the new commanding officers, Adjutant and Mrs. Frank Ham, who have recently come to Peterborough to take charge of the entire work of the Army in the City of Peterborough and its outlying towns and villages.

Adjutant Ham has just completed a three year term at the Toronto Temple and it was with great reluctance the Salvationists there released him to take up his new command in this city. The Adjutant has had a long career as a Salvation Army Officer and has had command of the work of the Army, amongst other towns, Yarmouth, N.S., St. John, N.B., Moncton, N.B., London, Ont., Windsor, Ont., and in each has had good success.

Adjutant Ham has been accorded the warmest welcomes both from the weatherman and the Salvationists of Peterborough and has already met the local officers in charge of the various branches of Army work in the city.

Commandant and Mrs. Arthur Smith, of Toronto, former officers, will take a prominent part in the Sunday meetings at the Temple. Citizens in general will be glad to see them once more.

SUNDAY DANCING CAN'T BE STOPPED

Legitimate as Long as No Fee is Charged, Says Nickle.

TORONTO, July 8 (Canadian Press)—Strictly speaking, if no fee is charged, public dancing on Sundays in restaurants and other places cannot be stopped, Hon. W. F. Nickle, Attorney General of Ontario, stated today when questioned as to the legality of dancing on the Sabbath day.

Hon. Mr. Nickle expressed himself as being quite out of sympathy with the practice, having in mind especially the complaints from the Niagara Falls, Ontario, city council. He stated that one way for municipalities to stop Sunday dancing would be to refuse restaurant licenses to offenders. The Attorney General added that dancing on Sundays, just like playing the piano, was perfectly legitimate and could not be interpreted as a nuisance.

THEATRE

AT THE REGENT

VON STERNBERG FILM A SUCCESS.

"The Exquisite Sinner" is proof of Director's Supreme Talent.

Hats off to Director Josef von Sternberg!

Ever since von Sternberg produced and directed "The Salvation Hunters" he has been figuratively speaking "a marked man."

Charles Chaplin, Mary Pickford and Douglas Fairbanks have hailed him as the greatest of directorial geniuses. Film critics were divided in their opinions and von Sternberg's ability became the leading topic of conversation in motion picture circles.

Harry Rapf, associate executive of the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios, made haste to sign the young director, supply him with production facilities and stories and turn him loose to display his ability.

This ability has been displayed in a marked manner by the production of "The Exquisite Sinner," now being shown at the Regent Theatre.

No picture in many years has shown the remarkable technique of this film. Von Sternberg has "shot" it in fast tempo and filled it with color and dramatic treatment—a subtle satire on human psychology.

New Treatment.

It proves his mastery of scenario writing as well as direction, and it shows a new theme treatment absolutely different from anything hitherto to be seen on the screen.

"The Exquisite Sinner" is a film adaptation of Alden Brooks' "Escape,' a delightfully humorous novel about a soul sick hero who sought romance and went wandering with a gypsy while a frantic and aristocratic fiancee sought the fugitive pair.

The best work of Conrad Nagel's screen career is recognized in this picture. It shows the united genius of Nagel as an actor, and von Sternberg as a director. The same thing might be said of Renee Adoree, the charming French actress, who interprets the role of the gypsy girl. The cast also includes Mathew Betz, Paulette Duval, Helena D'Algy George K. Arthur, Frank Currier and Claire DuBrey.

DRAWN GAME LIKELY.

WORCESTER, England, July 8 (Canadian Press).— A drawn game seemed inevitable in the cricket match between Australia and the County of Worcestershire. At the tea adjournment this afternoon Australia had scored 182 for four wickets in their second innings. The Antipodeans' first innings total was 197 against the county's 120.

Little Tot Sleeps Unharmed In Centre Of Track While Huge Locomotive and Train Pass Over Her

PARKHILL, Ont., July 8.—To fall asleep between the rails on the C.N.R. right of way, near her home, and to have a fast passenger train run completely over her body, was the strange experience of the two-year-old daughter of Ralph Robinson, East Williams. To the fact that the child was asleep and that she chose for her outdoor bed the exact middle between the rails is her life due. The occurrence is considered one of the strangest that has ever happened in the district, and perhaps, in Western Ontario.

The tot had wandered away from her home, and, evidently exhausted, stretched out on the warm cinders. It is believed that soon after she had fallen asleep the locomotive and its string of cars passed above her body, leaving her unharmed. The noise of the train wakened the sleeping girl, but her confused mind was instrumental in preventing her from moving during the dangerous moment in which the cars were passing over her. Had she raised her head or moved sideways, her life would have been snuffed out in an instant.

She was found soon after her strange experience and returned to her home.

IN POLICE COURT.

A local man pleaded guilty to a charge of keeping liquor for sale. He was fined $200 and costs and in default of payment three months' imprisonment, and in addition one month's imprisonment.

The rail birds in the police court this morning probably got the biggest thrill of their lives when one woman charged another with using grossly insulting language to her. The charge rose out of a dispute that occurred last Sunday, when one of the women, so the other said, gave the police information that was the means of having her son arrested.

W. F. Huycke appeared for the complainant. The defendant was not represented at the commencement of the case but matters reached such a high pitch of excitement betwe the two parties that Joseph Wearing, who happened to be in the court when the storm was at its worst took compassion on the defendant, and saved the situation for Magistrate O. A. Langley, and by strenuous efforts succeeded in maintaining the dignity of the police court.

The complainant in giving her evidence, outlined at some length several of the opprobions epithets that she alleged were hurled at her by the defendant; the mildest of whihh was "that if she got her out on the street she would knock her face in and pull out every hair in her head."

Mr. Langley asked the defendant if she wished to cross examine the witness. Immediately the defendant, with the fire flashing from he. eyes, stepped up to the witness box, in fact stepped up so close that His Worship advised, "Don't get too close, you might fight.'

The following dialogue, in which Magistrate, lawyer and defendant all participated, ensued:

Defendant: to witness: Why don't you mind your own business?

Witness: I do.

The defendant immediately broke into a regular torrent of explanation and abuse that led Mr. Huycke, the counsel for the complainant, to appeal to the Magistrate. He could not make himself heard on account of the noise that the defendant was making, and asked her to keep quiet for a moment. Like a flash came back the answer: "Im not talking to you; I'm talking to Mrs. ——.'

Mr. Langley: Just a minute please, you must understand that you are talking under my super ion.

Calm was once more restored and the dialogue recommenced.

Defendant to witness: Didn't you call me a "dirty ... cow?"

Witness: "No; I didn't.

Defendant: You're telling lies, it's false.

Another outbreak was imminent at this juncture the court room being inundated with words that flowed freely from the mouth of the defendant. Joseph Wearing stepped forward and after a few moments succeeded in making peace. He announced to His Worship that he would help out the defendant, and could probably shorten the case considerably. His first act was to change the plea from "not ..ilty' to "guilty."

His action saved the day and the case closed automatically.

Mr. Wearing in his appeal to the Magistrate said that the defendant was a very old lady, being the mother of 14 children. There had, he said, been considerable friction between the two parties. The defendant h. l never been in court before and had on this occasion "simply lost her head." A woman's tongue, he said, will sometimes run away with her. Even high officials, he declared, give vent to similar language in times of stress.

His Worship in summing up said that in a case of this kind the fine should not ordinarily be nominal but in view of the age of the lady and the heavy costs he would make the fine one dollar and $8.75 costs.

It was a tame ending to a neighborly scrap that at times threatened to involve the entire court.

Methods of Late Government Aided Stealing of U. S. Cars Stevens Tells Conservatives

Failure of Bureau To Appreciate the Responsibilities of Office Began Corruption That Spread Through Lower Grades and Throughout the Whole Preventive Force, Says Acting Minister.

ANNNUAL LOSS TO PUBLIC TREASURIES IS ESTIMATED AT THIRTY MILLION DOLLARS

New Administration, He Claims, Will Tolerate No Looseness and Will Not Allow the Department to Become a Medium For Shipping of Bootleg Liquor to the United States.

TORONTO, Ont., July 9—Declaration that Jacques Bureau had "debauched the customs department" while he was minister of customs, and emphatic promise of war to the knife on the Canadian liquor smuggler if he were to be minister of customs, featured the speech of Hon. H. H. Stevens of Vancouver before the Conservative Business Men's Club of Toronto at the King Edward hotel at luncheon today.

The Meighen minister of customs made it clear beyond question that he proposed to wipe out the smuggling of liquor into the United States if he remained at the head of that department. He frankly told his audience that Canada could not ignore the laws of business any more than the moral code, and if the country looked lightly on liquor smuggling, as he accused Jacques Bureau of doing, then the country must expect that there would be looseness in all lines of commercial ife. It was looseness on liquor that had broken the morale of the customs department, he claimed.

He proposed to treat liquor just the same as any other line of goods and business in it must be on a bona fide basis. There must be no bogus clearance papers for shipments to the States.

Almost all of the Tory members for Toronto and York ridings were at the head table.

Want Good Government

About 500 Tories of Toronto and surrounding points were present. The crowd had finished its lunch by the time the president and the guest of honor arrived. Premier Ferguson and Mr. Stevens were on either side of President H. S. Gooderham, who, in opening declared that the country owed much to the man who brought on the customs probe.

President Gooderham asked the gues to carry to Mr. Meighen the assurance of the loyalty of the Toronto Tories, and their fealty to the party.

Mr. Stevens was given an ovation on rising and the singing of "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow."

"I deem it not only a privilege but a duty to accept your invitation to speak to you today," said Mr. Stevens, "and I will be glad to carry to my leader, Mr. Meighen, the assurance of your loyalty.

"I have been asked what is the issue in this campaign. It is not a constitutional issue—that I can say. (Applause). Every move made by Mr. Meighen and his associates was in accordance with precedent. We acted in all points on the advice of the law officers. Every move was constitutional. The very wording of the dissolution notice was the wording that had been offered by Mr. Mackenzie King to the governor-general—and which was refused to his discomfiture.

"Where in all the constitutional history of the British empire can Mr. King produce precedents where a government three times defeated on motions involving its honor and integrity has been able to ask for dissolution? Any high school boy knows that no government is entitled to a dissolution under such circumstances.

"The wishes or the whims of Mackenzie King do not make the issue. The people of Canada want a stable government — a clean government and a good national fiscal policy."

Praises Business Men

Dealing with the customs investigation, Mr. Stevens said he might be forgiven if he were to say the subject was a little stale. But he did realize that it had been an important factor inb ringing about the dissolution of parliament and the overthrow of the King government. "But I add this without hesitancy that I cannot conceive it would have been possible for Mr. King to have carried on even though the customs scandal had not arisen to bring about his final overthrow."

The uncertain and unstable conditions during the last year, even the last five years, had been such that the interests of the country as a whole had suffered merely for the convenience of Mr. King being retained in office, Mr. Stevens declared.

He paid a tribute to the business men of Toronto, Montreal, Winnipeg, Hamilton, Vancouver and other large centres for having "in default of proper administration" organized themselves into a corporate body and put up their own money and conducted an investigation into the administration of the customs department, which had resulted in the appointment of the committee.

"I say, without hesitancy, that to Mr. Sparks much more than to myself or my colleagues is due the splendid results achieved."

"A word about the losses. It is impossible for me or anyone else to say what the direct losses to the public

MASONS' PICNIC WAS SUCCESS

Five Hundred Members and Friends at Nicholls' Oval.

BALL TOURNAMENT

The second annual Masonic outing of the Peterborough and District A. F. and A.M. took place at the Nicholls Oval yesterday afternoon. The outing was a magnificent success, over five hundred members and their families from various surrounding towns being present. A softball tournament among the different lodges present resulted in Havelock and Peterborough Lodge meeting in the finals. The Peterborough team won the district championship shield by a score of 18-3. The Salvation Army band rendered suitable music throughout the evening and contributed in no small way towards the general success of the gathering.

Keene Lodge won the prize donated by W. R. Morris for the largest attendance present, the method of reckoning being on a per centage of the total members on the roll of the lodge.

The committees in charge of the picnic were:

W. R. Morris, Chairman.
General— F. Roy, R. L. Dobbin, G. W. Haley.
Finance—C. A. Sollitt, R. S. Cotton, G. W. Fitzgerald.
Sports—C. G. Graham, D. A. Loomis, N. Staples.
Grounds— R. C. Heiderman, M. Sloane, V. Hamilton.
Reception—T. P. Lancaster and R. W. Brethen.
Master of Ceremonies— B. Buchanan.

Among the lodges represented were:

Golden Rule, Campbellford; J. B. Hall, Millbrook; Percy. Warkworth; Havelock; Norwood; Clement, Lakefield; Royal Arthur, Corinthian and Peterborough, Peterborough; Keene and Hastings.

THE WEATHER.

Yesterday the thermometer reached 89 degrees in the shade, the highest point this season. Last night's lowest was 65 degrees, indicating a very warm night. The highest temperatures last summer were Aug. 17, 18 and 19, with 92 degrees on the 19th, as the warmest day of the summer. Little rain has fallen for some weeks, and some good showers would be welcome.—W. P.

"No Silly Reform In My Term," Says Woman Mayor In Announcing Her Plans For City Administration

RICHMOND, Calif, July 9 (United Press).—Mrs. Mattie Chandler to-day came out of her kitchen to tell what she, as Mayor, had in mind for Richmond.

Fifty-three years old, light of step, smiling and ruddy of countenance, Mrs. Chandler, whose voice is merry, said to the United Press:

"I'm going to let them live their own lives in reason."

Richmond's City administration for the greater part of the coming year will be conducted from a charming flower-inclosed, seven-room cottage. The City Building is a bit crowded.

"Most of the time," laughed Mrs. Chadler, "You'll find me here. I have my housework, too."

This city of 40,000 inhabitants, at its last election placed Mrs. Chandler on the City Council for a six-year term. Tuesday night she ascended to the Mayoralty, on the unanimous selection of her council associates.

"There will be no 'silly reforms,' while I am Mayor," she said. "'The town is good—my predecessors made it good. My hopes are centered on bringing new industries, factories and people to Richmond."

KIWANIANS HEAR FINE TALK ON BIRD LIFE OF DOMINION

Kiwanian Max Fulton, of Lindsay, Is To-day's Speaker.

TELLS OF VALUE.

Disappearance of Human Life Would Follow Extinction of Birds.

The local Kiwanis Club held its weekly luncheon in the Empress Hotel at noon today. Kiwanian Max Fulton of the Lindsay Club was the speaker and was responsible for a most interesting talk on birds.

Harry Boyle was the booster and the prize winners were Herb McCannon, Isaac McNabb and Frank Dawson.

Several visitors from the United States were present among whom were G. H. Culver of Detroit, A. O. Sawyer, Alex. Vaughan, Jr., both from Miami, Florida; J. E. Burnham of St. Petersburg, Florida; T. P. Chaffey of Toronto and Kiwanian A. M. Fulton of Lindsay.

Secretary J. R. Heron read a letter, from Sergeant Major R. C. Braund expressing the thanks of the Salvation Army for the recent outing put on by the club for the benefit of the Army children.

Mr. Fulton, the speaker for the occaison expressed his pleasure at being invited to address the club and stated that he was much impressed with the pep shown by the organization. At the outset, he said, he wished to impress the fact that if bird life would become extinct there would not be a living man upon the earth, as all vegetation would be eaten up.

Birds, he said, could be considered from three aspects—the scientific, sentimental and economic.

Considering the scientific points, he said, birds are between the mammal and the insects. They breathe faster, they have a higher temperature and have no teeth. They are the only living creatures that hatch their eggs.

From the sentimental point of view, he said, the joy of seeing birds

TINY WORMS CAUSE DAMAGE TO TREES

Necessary To Sprinkle Calcium Arsenate in Wisconsin Forests.

STURGEON BAY, Wis., July 9.—Canadian Press. — Enemies of the forest, size of inch-long hairs, millions of worms, are attacking the the trees in the Peninsula State park near here. So deadly to giant vegetation are these tiny worms that an aeroplane loaded with calcium arsenate powder will fly over the trees and scatter its cargo among the topmost branches.

Women Gather At Vassar To Study Family Relationships Great Grandmother Sits In Same Class With June Brides

POUGHKEEPSIE, N.Y., July 9 (Canadian Press).—For the purpose of making housekeeping less laborious and marriage more endurable, an institute for the study of family relations was opened to-day at Vassar College in Poughkeepsie.

During the next month there will be a series of lectures, quizzes and demonstrations at Vassar, designed to give the modern married pair the latest scientific information about the preparation of food, the training of children, and what goes on inside the mind of husband or wife.

A great grandmother wanting to know "If anyone has any light on family problems that I haven't got," three husbands, present but unregistered, a nationally known club woman, a June graduate back with her mother as room mate, and forty-five other women and twenty-four youngsters raising their voice informally upstairs gave different reasons for their attendance at the courses.

"The purpose of the school is to bring together in the study of adjustment the woman who has had experience of life, and the research worker in ways of living," Miss Annie Louis Maclean, the director, told the students yesterday.

Seventy-five years' experience of life was later admitted by the oldest student, Mrs. Katherin Pierce of Summit, N.J., who has four great grand-children, and still "wants to know." She told reporters that in her opinion the greatest causes of divorce to-day were "the premature marriages of immature people" and "lack of birth control among the toiling masses"

'YOU ARE A LIAR' SAYS LABORITE TO LADY ASTOR

Required To Withdraw, Jones Uses Phrase, "Terminological Inexactitude."

OTHER CHARGES.

Lansbury Says She Is Not Ignorant Woman in the House.

LONDON, July 9 (Associated Press Cable).—Lady Astor was called a liar in the House of Commons yesterday.

Jack Jones, fiery Laborite, applied the term to the titled member during a debate regarding West Ham Borough, which has been in hot water in connection with alleged spendthrift administration under Labor auspices.

Lady Astor, interrupting George Lansbury, Laborite, on a point of order, said: "As this is a matter of municipal corruption (loud Labor cries of 'No, no!') is it in order for the honorable member to compare the dockyard member with the Board of Guardians which has been proved corrupt?"

Jones leaped to his feet, shouting: "You are a liar." Taking another breath, he shouted into the quick silence which had fallen on the House: "You are a liar."

There was a buzz of talk, and then cries of "Withdraw!"

The Chairman called upon Jones to withdraw his statement, and after some minutes' coagitation the member said: "I apologize to the lady and withdraw, substituting the phrase 'terminological inexactitude'."

There was a ripple of laughter, but Lady Astor did not laugh.

Mr. Lansbury resumed his speech and asserted that Lady Astor was the most ignorant woman in the House with regard to social questions. He added that for a wealthy woman to interfere with the discussion of matters connected with conditions of the poor was 'disgusting.'

LADY TO GO

LONDON, July 9 (United Press). —It is understood that in view of the prospective admission of Germany into the League of Nations in September, Premier Stanley Baldwin is planning to attend the League session in Geneva. He probably will be accompanied by Sir Austen Chamberlain, British Foreign Secretary, and the Duchess of Atholl, who is Parliamentary secretary of the Board of Education. If the Duchess is unable to attend, the Hon. Maude Laurence or Lady Frances Balfour may be invited to take her place.

The Government has not yet announced the name of the woman delegate who will represent Great Britain at this League session.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 9.—If successful the test case which is to be made against the Canadian schooner Sunnie, seized recently off the Massa hu etts coast, is expected to mean another big step forward in the fight on the rum fleet. FIVE DISSENTIENTS Declaration That Constitutional Issue is Merely Smoke Screen.

WINNIPEG, Man., July 9.—(Canadian Press.)—The right of E. J. Garland (Bow River) or Robert Forke (Brandon) to speak for the Progresive group as a whole was made in a signed statement yesterday by M. T. Lucas, Progressive, Camrose, Alta.

The statement reads: "I have read with interest the statements issued by E. J. Garland and Robert Forke. I take the position that neither of these gentlemen has any authority to speak for the Progressive group as a whole, and the statements referred to are simply expressions of members based upon certain interpretations of what took place during the last few days at Ottawa.

"These statements I feel confident, do not express the views of at least five members of the Progressive group. Mr. Garland and Mr. Forke both deny that the Progressive members gave any assurance that they would support Mr. Meighen to speed up the work of the session and pass the legislation which had already reached the Senate and which was of such importance to the west.

"If no such promise was given why, it may be asked, did Mr. Forke visit the Governor-General at all? Why was the memorandum prepared, why was it passed unanimously by the Progressive group in conference? Furthermore, why did the members of the group sustain the Meighen administration on at least two divisions prior to the vote on the constitutional question?

Smoke Screen.

"I may be mistaken, but it would seem to me that the constitutional question is simply a smoke screen created by the Liberal party and first defenders to becloud the real issue. The issue before the people

Special Committee Considers Doubling Cardinals' Meagre Stipends.

ROME, July 9 (Canadian Press). —The salaries of the entire personnel of the Vatican, from the lowliest employees to the members of the Sacred College, are to be considerably increased, the newspapers say, in order to meet the higher cost of living.

The special committee which has been studying the question is understood to be considering doubling cardinals' yearly salaries, which are now 24,000 lire ($828 at the present exchange rates).

TEACHER RECEIVES GIFT FROM PUPILS

Miss N. Doherty Is Leaving S. S 2, Ennismore, After Five Years.

On Friday afternoon the pupils, parents and friends of S.S. No. 2, Ennismore, held a very successful picnic at Pigeon Lake shore. The weather was very favorable, and a large crowd was present. The afternoon was spent in games and races, which afforded a great deal of enjoyment for both old and young. refreshments were served by the senior pupils of the school. The picnic was brought to a close by the presentation of a French ivory set to Miss Nellie Doherty, who intends leaving the school.

The following address was read:

Dear Miss Doherty, — It is with deep regret that we assemble here to-day to assure you of our sincere sorrow at your departure from us, and also to convey to you in a few insufficient words our very great appreciation of your many kindnesses. We only wish that there was something more full of meaning than words, but since there is not, please, Miss Doherty, at least consider the many sentiments which we cannot make known in writing.

You have been with us for five short years, and to us your arrival seems as if it were only yesterday. During that time your generosity alone has been a model for any of us to follow for the remainder of our lives. Nothing was too much trouble or you, and to-day, as we look back, we only hope that we may be able to practice the wonderful virtues which you have instilled in us by your example. Your kindness also has left a mark on us. You have seen us at our best and at our worst, and whether we were good or bad you took a deep interest in us, and your kindness and consideration won us over many and many a time. You were kind and considerate, not only to us but to our parents also, and at any time whatever they felt they could call on you. As a result we had that ideal harmony between teacher and pupil and teacher and parents. This is a harmony sometimes difficult to obtain, and if you had not been keenly interested in our welfare and had not that generous disposition we would never have had such results.

As a slight recognition of your many favors bestowed on us we ask you to accept this little gift. We wish it to carry heaps of good wishes from St. Anne's Separate School children, yes, many more wishes than we could ever hope to express in words. We wish you always to think of us as you do now, and you can be assured that you will always remain to us not only a former teacher but a friend—a friend of ours and of our parents. We shall expect to see you often and we feel you will always be the same kind and sympathetic teacher and friend you have been in the past. Before closing we wish again to assure you of our very great appreciation of your perseverance in our behalf. For that we hope that God will bless you bountifully wherever you are, and you can always be assured of the good wishes of your former pupils in Ennismore.

Signed on behalf of the Pupils of St. Anne's School.

Miss Doherty thanked her pupils for their gift, and assured them that she would always have kind remembrances of the term spent in their midst.

Rev. Father Killen and Rev. Father McCarney, who honored the occasion with their presence, spoke briefly, after which everybody joined in singing "For She's a Jolly Good Fellow."

STRAWBERRY FESTIVAL.

Good Programme Follows Splendid Supper at Springville Church.

The annual strawberry festival of the Springville United Church was held last evening on the church lawn. Tea was served from six to eight, after which followed a programme of solos, duets and readings.

There was a large crowd present, and everyone was delighted with the social, especially the eats, which were there in abundance, for the tables were piled up with cake, pies, tarts and salads. Strawberries and cream were also served, and it was no small helping of strawberries that was dealt out, and the cream was the best that the farmers' dairy could supply.

A team from the Kiwanis Club went out and played a picked team from the Springville congregation a game of softball in which the local boys won 14 to 8. The game was very exciting, and a lady acted as umpire.

Those taking part in the program were: Misses Daisy Murray, Alma Blanchard and Marion Clark, Messrs Bruce Herron, John Marsh, Smith and Hendry, J. John and Francis Fairen.

KIWANIANS HEAR FINE TALK ON

and hearing their songs was a revelation. The cat bird, although it was not generally thought to be the case was really the best singer.

There were 13,000 different species of birds in the world, he said, and in the province of Ontario there were 325 alone. There were several different kinds of swallows and swifts. These swallows live entirely upon insects. A bird each day will eat its own weight in insects. The chimney swift lives chiefly upon mosquitoes.

The speaker outlined several different species of birds that live mainly upon insects and in so doing render an immense amount of good and earn the right to be protected.

He agreed with Jack Miner that crows did a great deal of harm, also blackbirds, and stated that they deserved no mercy and should be driven away and shot.

In conclusion he said, "I feel convinced that if everyone would make up his mind to know every bird they see—get a bird book—you will become interested and will find it a great source of pleasure and will eventually take an interest in protecting them."

The speaker was introduced by Joe Wearing, the vote of thanks being given by Lloyd Hamilton.

HIGH COST OF HYDRO POWER HITS EASTERN ONTARIO INDUSTRIES

Smith's Falls, Renfrew and Kemptville Factories Use Steam Power.

RATES INCREASED.

Chief Question at Meeting of the Chamber of Commerce.

HASTINGS, July 9.—The following is a full report of the meeting of the Eastern Ontario Chamber of Commerce held in Belleville on Tuesday, as supplied to The Examiner by Walter Fowlds of this town, who is a member of the executive:

High Cost of Power

That excessive cost of water-developed electric energy is driving manufacturers in Eastern Ontario back to steam generated power, was one of the significant facts brought out at a meeting of the executive of the newly formed Eastern Ontario Chamber of Commerce held here Tuesday.

The meeting which was held at the rooms of the Belleville Chamber of Commerce, was emphatic and unanimous in its demand that the Government of Ontario and the Hydro-Electric Power Commission should look more particularly to this long-neglected field and provide adequate power at reasonable cost.

Those present at the meeting were ex-Mayor F. L. Mason of Oshawa, general manager of the Pedlar Manufacturing Company, member of the executive representing the County of Ontario; Walter Fowlds, Hastings, ex-Warden of the County of Durham and Northumberland; E. C. Metcalfe, president of the Metcalfe Canning Company., and Reeve of Deseronto, representative for Hastings County; J. W. Robinson, ex-Mayor, president of Robinson's Department Store, Napanee, representative for Lennox and Addington; Thomas G. Bishop, Kingston, representative for Frontenac; Dr. J. A. Anderson, Mayor of Smith's Falls, representative for Lanark; A. H. Acres, M.P.P., Ottawa, representative for Carleton, and J. O. Herity, Belleville, secretary-treasurer for the Eastern Ontario Chamber of Commerce.

Mayor Holloway of Peterboro, president of the new organization, was unfortunately detained at home by a serious illness. His place as chairman, was taken by Mr. Metcalfe, one of the vice-presidents.

Messages of regret at inability to attend were read from J. L. Murray, Mayor of Renfrew, W. B. Reynolds, Mayor of Brockville, and W. G. Graham, president of the Board of Trade, Lindsay.

Practically the entire day was taken up by consideration and discussion of the power question in its various phases, as affecting eastern Ontario. It was felt by all that this division of the province, which should have been at the forefront in industrial development, has been enormously handicapped by lack of power and the excessive cost of powers that had been developed.

Industries Affected.

Dr. Anderson, mayor of Smith's Falls, told of the highly unsatisfactory position of his town in regard to power; Smith's Falls, Perth, Carleton Place and Kemptville had been induced to enter into joint arrangement to take power from the Hydro-Electric Power Commission from a development at High Falls on the Mississippi river. The power costs, which at first were reasonable enough had gradually been advanced, until in June they received notice that the charge would be $50 per horse-power per annum. The neighboring town of Carleton Place was even worse of, for their power was advanced in price in the last five years 1919 Carleton Place was procuring from .33 per h.p. to .55. Up to power at $20 per h.p. from private interests. The effect on industry was almost disastrous. The Frost and Wood Co., of Smith's Falls, as a matter of self-preservation, sought relief by going back to steam power, and later acquired a power plant of its own. The Hawthorne Mills at Carleton Place went back to steam. Other important users are being forced out, and the result is higher prices for those who remain. In In other towns, not dependent on Hydro-Electric, in the near neighborhood, power was being sold at $15 to $25. "How can we compete in the attraction of new industries when the odds are so great?" asked Dr. Anderson.

A long discussion of the Gatineau development took place. From various semi-official announcements in the press the impression has been gained that the Gatineau lease has been arranged primarily in the interests of Toronto and western Ontario and the east will be handed another lemon.

Western Ontario has all its current developed under the obsolete 25-cycle frequency. In eastern Ontario the 60-cycle frequency is universal. This is the modern system, and it is used everywhere in the United Stated and elsewhere in Canada.

It is anticipated that the intention is to develop and transmit the Gatineau power on the 25-cycle basis. This would mean a costly charge of "frequency' if Eastern Ontario were to use the power, and raise it from 25 cycle to 60 cycle.

Higher Voltage

It is further believed that the trunk transmission line will pass in a direct route from Ottawa to Toronto and will carry 220,000 volts or four times the voltage used on the Trent System.

If users in Eastern Ontario desire any of this Gatineau power it will, therefore, be probably necessary to "step up" the frequency, "step down" the voltage and build branch transmission lines to the trunk line from the centres of population The changes of frequency and of voltage will mean a loss of 15 to 20 per cent and, therefore, represent an increase in cost of electricity of $4 to $5 per h.p.

Resolution Adopted

In view of the foregoing facts and opinions, the following resolution was unanimously carried:

Whereas the industrial and commercial development of Eastern Ontario has been greatly retarded in the past because of expensive and inadequate hydro-electric power.

And whereas recent advances in the charges made by the Hydro-Electric Power Commission have, at various places, imposed an intolerable burden upon manufacturing enterprise causing a number of the largest industrial corporations to seek relief from other sources or by removal to other centres where cheaper power was available.

Therefore, be it resolved that the Government of Ontario be urged to take immediate and drastic action, to develop, foster and maintain the interests of the eastern division of the Province by securing for this section a cheap and adequate supply of power, either from public or private interests, as may be found presently feasible and permanently advantageous, so that industry may be encouraged and natural resources developed.

And further, be it resolved that all power in this division or procured by lease from the Gatineau river or other surrounding sources be developed at 60-cycle frequency and transmitted at 44,000 voltage.

And further be it resolved that the government be requested to place the main transmitting lines so as to serve most economically the 700,000 people resident in this division.

Copies of this resolution will be be forwarded to Premier Ferguson, Hon. C. A. Magrath, chairman of the Hydro-Electric Power Commission, and to all the members of the Legislature resident in Eastern Ontario.

A number of other important topics were set down on the agenda for discussion, but owing to lack of time these were held over to a later meeting.

The mountains at a distance appear airy masses and smooth, but seen near at hand, they are rough.

—Diogenes.

CAR SMASHED ON ROADSIDE

Speedometer of Big Touring Car Still Registers 55.

HITS STONE PILE.

(Examiner Staff Correspondence)

CAMPBELLFORD, July 9—With its speedometer stopped at the 55 mile an hour mark, a big touring was still lying crumpled up by the roadside two miles west of this town yesterday where it had overturned Wednesday evening with a Peterboro party bound for Trent Bridge. Its occupants, Orrin Currie, Gerald Purley and William Lundy, were unhurt except Furley who suffered a few bruises about the head. Currie was at the wheel.

The car's trail showed that it left a loose gravel stretch of road, ran along in the grass for a short distance until it smashed into a nest of big boulders which quickly stopped its flight. The right front wheel was demolished, the top crushed and various other damage resulted.

Picnic at Crow River

The Women's Institute of West Seymour held a picnic at Crow River bridge Thursday afternoon. Many of the members were accompanied by their husband and sons, forming a big happy family. BOY DROWNED IN DETROIT RIVER Falls Off Raft While Playing Near Beach—Brother Is Saved.

HEAT KILLS MAN.

WINDSOR, Ont., July 9. — Joseph Power, aged 7, was drowned at the Sandwich bathing beach yesterday when he fell from a raft into 16 feet of water. The boy and his brother Albert, aged 9, constructed the raft, and pushed it beyond the bathing limits into deep water. Albert went to his brother's rescue when the boy fell from the raft, but the other had got underneath it, and he was unable to get him out. Albert was going down for the third time when the life guard reached him. The body of Joseph was later taken from beneath the raft. Dr. Mills of Sandwich, coroner, decided that an inquest would not be held.

NAVY ESTIMATES HIGHER THIS YEAR

Japanese Navy Will Require More Money For 1927.

TOKIO, July 9. — (Canadian Press.) — It was learned at the Navy Department this afternoon that a conference of high naval officials to-day, at which the minister of the navy presided, tentatively fixed the naval estimates for the fiscal year of 1927 at 320,000,000 yen, (about $160,000,000), which is an increase of 50,000,000 yen over the present fiscal year.

These figures are understood to include an unstated sum for the construction of auxiliary vessels for replacement. An estimate will soon be presented to the Finance Department for its approval.

A Soap that Lasts Longer,

WHY is it that a single cake of Peerless Erasmic outlasts two or three cakes of ordinary soap?

To make soap, the ingredients are boiled in water—then the resulting cream is pressed by machine in order to drive the water out. The less water left in the cake, the finer and smoother will be the texture and the longer the soap will last.

Most soaps are milled four to ten times. By special process Peerless Erasmic is milled from twenty to forty times.

This more thorough milling gives Peerless Erasmic a rare smoothness and an extraordinary fineness and firmness of texture.

Just as it is truly a food and tonic for the skin—a soap which brings the fresh bloom of youth to the complexion, and restores the clear firm texture of the skin, Peerless Erasmic is also a truly economical soap.

It is such a luxurious soap to use, too, because of its exquisitely alluring fragrance of English violets.

At all druggists—20c a cake. Try it.

FRIDAY, JULY 9, 1926.

SITTING ON TOP OF THE WORLD.

If we can take our eyes off the political situation long enough to size up Canada's trade returns, we will find some very comforting and optimistic figures there that may help to drown out the ballyhoo of the embattled politicians.

Canada in this respect just now is sitting on top of the world.

She has the largest favourable trade balance per capita of any country on this terrestial footstool.

As a matter of cold statistics Canada's favourable trade balance jumped to $401,134,405 for the fiscal year 1926, which is an increase of $116,707,299. This healthy figure has only once been surpassed in the history of Canada, and that was in the war year 1918.

The returns are most gratifying in the evidence they offer of Canada's greatly improved position.

The improvement in Canadian exchange is undoubtedly due to this remarkable increase in the favourable balance, and the whole situation gives the people of this country every reason to rejoice.

NO FORTUNE IN POLITICS.

Although Hon. Ernest Lapointe has announced that he would refuse to accept a fund of $100,000, which it was proposed to raise through Liberal subscriptions as an appreciation of his services to the party, the very fact that such a fund has been mooted will serve a very useful purpose.

There is among Canadians too great a tendency to say that men enter public life for what they get out of it, quite regardless of the fact that the majority of the leading politicians would be much better off financially if they were using their talent and ability in their own private business instead of placing them at the service of the state.

Most of the big men in Canada's public life have been poor men, and their years of service on behalf of the public gave them no chance to be otherwise.

It will be recalled that such leaders as Sir John Macdonald, Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Hon. W. S. Fielding received similar gifts from friends as a recognition of their self-sacrificing efforts, and there is no reason why Mr. Lapointe should hesitate to accept the fund that has been proposed.

It will at least serve to call attention to the fact there is no fortune in politics, and that the man who gives his life to serving his fellow-citizens is doing so at the sacrifice of his chance to acquire wealth in the realm of private business.

MUST LEARN TO SWIM.

A demonstration of a real safety first campaign is being given by the Swedish Government, which has determined that every Swede must learn to swim.

It has been decided that no school teacher who cannot swim will be employed, and no boy will be passed in his examinations who cannot satisfactorily pass a swimming test. Similarly, no non-swimmer can be selected for any official position.

This drastic policy is the result of agitation over the annual death toll from drowning, which averages around 340 each year.

Here in Ontario the loss of life from drowning accidents each year does not differ greatly from the Swedish average—in fact, the official figures show that 307 people were drowned in this Province in 1925.

The working out of the Swedish plan should, therefore, be followed with interest in Ontario, which because of its wealth of rivers and lakes is a particularly fertile field for drowning fatalities, and which is in peculiar need for a more general knowledge of the art of swimming.

There seems no doubt that greater proficiency along this line would materially reduce the number of deaths not only in Sweden but in Ontario.

CUT DOWN THE TOLL.

The warning, "Always Be Careful," which confronts people at many of the principal corners in Peterboro these days is the first step in a safety first campaign being conducted by the local Kiwanis Club.

These signs are designated particularly to remind pedestrians to be careful as they cross the streets, but they have a general application as well that is to be followed up by the Kiwanians by the launching of a safe drivers' club, and by other features that are expected to have a material effect in inducing the public to think along safety first lines.

That there is need of such thinking the appalling list of accidents in the newspapers offers tragic proof.

The simple truth is, that three-quarters at least of all such accidents are the result of carelessness on somebody's part and could be prevented by the exercise of a little common sense.

Drivers must learn to obey the traffic rules, pedestrians must learn to be careful, children must be taught not to play on the streets, and because of these things the campaign of the Kiwanis Club should be heartily welcomed and supported by the public.

Three hundred and seven people were drowned in Ontario last year, 298 were slain in motor car accidents.

Of these 605 victims it is most probable that at elast 400 would be alive today were it not for carelessness on their own part or by somebody else.

The cutting down of this enormous toll should be everybody's duty, and the Kiwanis Club deserves thanks for pointing the way locally.

WANTS EARLY ELECTION.

(Border Cities Star.)

For the sake of the nation's business, for the sake of securing some solution of the dilemma as soon as possible, the general election should be held at the earliest possible moment. There should be not one day's unnecessary delay. The public is thoroughly in touch with the whole situation. No good purpose could be served by a long drawn out campaign. The people, sick of the eternal see-saw that has been raging at Ottawa ever since the present session began, will be glad of an opportunity to attempt to straighten it out, to bring some semblance of order out of the existing chaos.

THE ST. LAWRENCE POWER PROJECT.

The State Engineer of New York, Roy G. Finch, has submitted a report on St. Lawrence River power development which confirms the Canadian estimates of the potentialities of the great waterway. He says the harnessing of the river in the way proposed by the Frontier Corporation, the American Super-Power Corporation and allied interests would yield 2,400,000 horse-power, or four times the amount possible at Muscle Shoals, and nearly twice that produced at Niagara Falls. Colonel Cooper, a noted engineer, says the undertaking would be bigger than the building of the Panama Canal. It would require four and a half years to complete the work, and the plant would cover a 300-mile radius.

Opinion is divided in the State as to the method of development. Governor Smith has led the campaign for public ownership, but a Republican Legislature is hostile, and the decision may long be postponed. Owen D. Young, Chairman of the Directorate of the American General Electric Company, which is identified with the Frontier Corporation, says that either public or private ownership is progressive, that neither is revolutionary. It is a large concession for a capitalist with a financial interest at stake.

It is no concern of this country whether New York State copies the Ontario system or the proposal of the power corporation across the line to develop and market hydro-electric energy under the direction and at prices fixed by a public commission. We in this Province have made our choice and we are getting Niagara power at a much lower rate than our New York neighbors are paying for it. There will have to be co-operation, however, between the two countries in any power undertaking on the St. Lawrence. Navigation can be protected only by joint action, and there can be no large power development on either side without the consent of the other. The question of deepening the St. Lawrence is involved, and powerful influences in Canada and the United States are arrayed against the Great Lakes-to-the-Sea project. It is well that this Province has gone to the Gatineau to increase its supply of hydro-electric energy instead of risking an acute shortage by waiting for an international agreement on the St. Lawrence plan. In the meantime, the friendly discussions between the public representatives of New York State and of Ontario are encouraging. They had a most satisfactory conference at Toronto yesterday, and the outcome should impress the Federal authorities on both sides of the line.—London Advertiser.

RESTRICTING WILD MOTORISTS.

That five per cent. of motorists only cause the most trouble on the streets and highways is the view of The Montreal Gazette. This newspaper places part of the onus for law observance on the law-abiding motorist. The Gazette states: "Competent observers are agreed that 95 per cent. of all motorists may be trusted to observe the recognized rules of safety. It is, therefore, upon the remaining five per cent. that restrictive measures should be concentrated. At once a difficulty arises. Police officers cannot be everywhere. They cannot be on watch out in the rural districts, except at a few points. But law-abiding motorists are always on the highways, and know what is safe driving and what is not. When self-interest and sense of duty have overcome the natural disinclination to become an informer, every operator of a car will be an officer of the law, and will be disposed to bring a checking influence to bear on those other drivers who carry danger with them. In other words, until the 95 per cent. of sane drivers are banded together to deal with the five per cent. of insane drivers, and are willing to put themselves to the inconvenience of doing so, mere legal enactments will continue to be ineffective."

Great Britain has taken a firm hand of the motor situation and under the new Criminal Justice Act, which inaugurates a scale of punishment for the reckless, the drunken motor-jazzer gets a minimum term of four months or a fifty pound fine or both.

The Gazette goes on: "The toll of life and limb has become appalling; and in a high proportion of instances intoxication has been the apparent cause of recklessness. It is a misnomer to speak of fatalities under such circumstances as 'accidents'. The man who undertakes to drive a motor car while under the influence of liquor has no defence.

"The conviction is growing that neither fines nor imprisonment are likely to reach the root of this matter. The aim of the law should be to discover the tendency to recklessness and then deal with it along the lines of prohibition. That is to say, there can never be safety, either relative or absolute, until the drunken driver and the habitually reckless driver are eliminated from the public highways. Neither a fine nor imprisonment does that. They may restrain, or they may not. The only remedy that is complete is to make it impossible for the dangerous driver to operate a car at all; and that means the cancellation of his license, and if necessary, the confiscation of his car."

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

While we're waiting for Mr. Meighen, couldn't Mr. Ferguson oblige by saying something about the Provincial by-elections?

Mr. Forke denies that he is going to run as a Liberal candidate. So long as he votes as one probably Mr. King won't mind.

"Truth," the well-known English paper, referring to Canadian political developments, remarks that "the passions and manoeuvres of politicians seem much more to blame for the unpleasant controversy than anything the Governor-General has done or has not done." And a lot of Canadians are thinking the very same thing.

The Globe says those seven Ontario vacancies are liable to be forgotten for a while. But haven't they been?

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY

HOSPITALITY.

...To have been Belshazzer, King of Babylon; and to have been Belshazzer, not haughtily but courteously, therein certainly must have been some touch of mundane grandeur. But he who in the rightly regal and intelligent spirit presides over his own private dinner table of invited guests, that man's unchallenged power and dominion of individual influence for the time; that man's royalty of state transcends Belshazzer's, for Belshazzer was not the greatest. Who has but once dined his friends, has tasted what it is to be Caesar. It is a witchery of social czarship which there is no withstanding. —Herman Melville in "Moby Dick."

Common Errors in English and How To Avoid Them.

AN EDUCATED PERSON.

What is "an educated person?" Is it one who has much learning, derived from books, or one who has seen much, observed much, thought much? Alfred Ayres, in "The Verbalist," says:

"Education is one of the most misused of words. A man may be well acquainted with the contents of text books, and yet be a person of little education; on the other hand, a man may be a person of good education, and yet know little of the contents of text books. Abraham Lincoln and Edwin Forrest knew comparatively little of what is generally learned in schools; still they were men of culture, men of education. A man may have ever so much book knowledge and still be a boor; but a man cannot be a person of good education and not be—so far as manner is concerned—a gentleman. Education, then, as a whole of which instruction and breeding are the parts."

EGG MARKETS

OTTAWA, July 9 (Canadian Press).—Conditions and prices on Canadian egg markets were generally unchanged yesterday.

Toronto—The market is easy and unchanged. Toronto dealers are offering for ungraded eggs, extras 32, firsts 28 to 29, seconds 23 to 24. Prices to retailers, extras 34, firsts 35, seconds 22 to 29.

Montreal.— A better consumptive demand is reported. Dealers are paying, delivered, extras 32 to 33, firsts 23 to 30, seconds 22 to 26. Prices to retailers, extras 37 to 38, firsts 33, seconds 27 to 30.

Winnipeg—Country shippers selling extras 27, firsts 25, seconds 18. Prices to retailers extras 34, firsts 32, seconds 26.

MONTREAL GRAIN AND PRODUCE

MONTREAL, July 9 (Canadian Press).—The inquiry from foreign buyers for Canadian grain on the Montreal market yesterday was fair, but as the prices bid were generally out of line with those ruling in the Winnipeg market, little business was done. Exporters were bidding 15 cents per bushel over the Winnipeg July option for No. 1 Northern wheat, 9 1-2 cents per bushel over for No. 2, and 4 1-2 cents per bushel over for No. 3, and 9 cents over for No. 3 barley, with sellers asking 1-2c to 1 cent per bushel more.

In sympathy with the easier feeling in the Winnipeg market for oats yesterday, prices on spot for car lots here were reduced 1-2 cent per bushel. Even at the lower level buyers showed no disposition to operate.

Prices for all grades of spring wheat flour were well maintained under a fair export and local trade. The feature of the trade in winter wheat flour was the demand from the British West Indies and considerable business was transacted. The local business was fair and prices were steady.

The millfeed market was decidedly more active than it has been of late under a good demand from local and country buyers. Prices ruled steady. The demand for standard grades of rolled oats was limited and prices were unchanged.

The egg trade was small but the undertone was steady. The receipts were 1,948 cases.

Owing to a better consumption of new crop potatoes, the demand for old stock was limited, but prices were steady.

Extreme dullness again marked the butter trade. There was some demand from speculators here yesterday for No. 1 pasteurized creamery at 33c to 33 1-4c per pound, which prices holders would not accept. The receipts were 4,898 packages.

The export trade in cheese was quiet owing to the majority of the foreign bids being out of line with exporters' views. The local trade was unchanged and sellers of Western No. 1 white and colored were asking 18 1-4 to 18 3-8c per pound, and Eastern grades were quoted at 17 3-4 cents per pound. The receipts were 10,978 boxes.

The trade in beans was limited and the market was quiet. Car lots of choice white hand-picked beans were quoted at $2.25 per bushel, and smaller quantities at $2.35 to $2.45 per bushel.

STERLING EXCHANGE

MONTREAL, July 9 (Canadian Press). — Sterling exchange rates were quoted here yesterday as follows:

Sterling demand $4.85 1-4.

Sterling cables $4.85 3-4.

CHICAGO GRAINS.

CHICAGO, July 9.—(Canadian Press).—Some measure of relief from parching weather conditions northwest tended to ease down wheat values yesterday. Crop reports, however, about spring wheat remained distinctly adverse. The wheat market here closed unsettled 5-8 to 1 1-8 net lower. Corn finished 1-2 down to 3-4 up. Oats unchanged to 1-2 off, and provisions at losses ranging from 5 to 42 cents.

Cooler temperatures northwest as well as heavy Canadian rains did much to bring about profit-taking sales on the part of previous buyers of wheat. The fact, though, that moisture over the spring crop states appeared to consist principally of showers was given special attention on account of the persistence of damage reports. One authority in particular said there is no doubt at present that the wheat crop of South Dakota will be one of the poorest in the state's history.

Despite liberal arrivals of new wheat at domestic primary points, nevertheless, quotations on some grades available for immediate delivery were higher here, with Minneapolis and Kansas City cast prices relatively unchanged to one cent up. Minneapolis reported that mills were good buyers of wheat there on declines. Export business on wheat today was moderate.

Corn was responsive to a better shiping demand. Messages from the Seaboard told of corn having been worked for export at the best premiums this season. Oats followed wheat.

Provisions went lower, in line with hog values.

is undoubtedly that of the customs scandal. When the real facts are known this scandal will be disclosed as one of the worst that has ever besmirched the public life of the country. Indeed, the details are too horrible to permit of d isc ussion from the public platform, but some means must be found to convey to the electors the truth with respect to the conditions as they existed prior to the action taken by the Hon. H. H. Stevens.

Admires Kennedy.

"I have nothing but the most profound admiration for Mr. Kennedy, of Peace River, the Progressive representative on the committee of enquiry. Mr. Kennedy, knowing the facts, voted for the censure of the Government against the majority of his own group, although they had previously decided at caucus to support him against the King government. Just why they changed their minds is something that Mr. Forke and Mr. Garland have yet to explain."

Little Things

By SHIRLEY RODMAN WILLIAMS.

WHEN I see a child deliberately stepping on the little crawling things I think, "Oh, dear, there's a ruthless impulse in you that somebody should help you overcome!" It isn't the destruction of the worm so much as the fact that the child is deliberately being cruel, that he is absolutely disregarding a little living thing which ought to inspire a protective impulse rather than a destructive one. Some crawling things are not helpful; some like the earth worms and toads are, but the number of harmful wormy things one little child destroys would never pay for letting him develop ruthless impulses. Rather teach him to care for all little things, not forgetting the birds which, if fostered, will take care of their natural enemies, the worms, by feeding themselves.

RIDING FOR A FALL.

She says that the term is well understood by all hunting men, and she applies it to many cases in domestic life.

There is no doubt that there are many people persisting in a course of conduct which anyone with common sense can see must end in disaster. Everybody sees this except the persons concerned.

The nagging wife ought to know that her actions are constantly alienating the affections of her husband and in time will destroy them. Strange that she goes on creating her own calamity!

The boy who is drinking knows that he is undermining his health, ruining his business prospects, and bringing grief to his parents. The fall is inevitable, and he rides gaily towards it. No advice nor guidance seems to help him.

The girl who persists in imprudent conduct is ruining her own chances of happiness. For the sake, however, of some contrary idea about her own independence, she goes headstrong forward.

There is many a husband who treats his family in a way that eventually will destroy their respect for him and alienate them from him. Nothing, however, prevents him from continuing his course of conduct.

It would seem that there is no remedy for these determined miscreants except the golden ax.

There is a certain cumulative momentum in wrong headedness that drives people forward ro their destruction, and how to stop this is a serious question.

Health Of Lord Oxford Is Steadily Improving

LONDON, July 9. Canadian Press. — The health of the Earl of Oxford and Asquith, the Liberal party leader, who was taken ill a month ago, is steadily improving.

In a letter to the secretary of the Liberal summer school, to be held at Oxford this month, he expresses disappointment at his inability to attend, but says:

"My health, which gave me so much trouble a month ago, is, I am glad to say, steadily improving, and I see no reason to doubt that in a very short time I shall be able to resume my duties."

LABOR M.P.'S ANGRILY PROTEST AS GOVERNMENT'S 8-HOUR BILL PASSES CONCLUDING STAGES

Four Hours for You, Eight for the Miners, Shout Laborites.

DISORDERLY SCENES

Demonstrations Continue as Royal Assent is Given to Measure.

LONDON, July 9 (Canadian Press). — The final stages of the eight hour mines bill were characterized by amazing scenes in both Houses of Parliament last night and demonstrations of a very unusual nature in the House of Lords.

The debate on the third reading in the Lords, which had been delayed by the Government to bring pressure on the Yorkshire mine owners, had proceeded quietly in the afternoon. There are only four Laborite peers, and they had strongly criticized the bill, arguing that the behavior of these Yorkshire owners proved that the Government was putting a formidable weapon into the mine owners' hands, and that from this viewpoint the bill ought to be amended.

Owing to these protests and the debate prolonged far beyond the hour when the leisurely Upper House is accustomed to adjourn, and the members displayed great impatience. Finally the Marquis of Salisbury, Lord Privy Seal and leader of the House, declaring that prolongation of the debate was an abuse of privilege, moved closure.

Labor Protests.

This brought renewed protests from the opponents of the bill, while a crowd of Laborite Commoners, listening to the debate from the bar of the House, shouted: "Four hours for you; eight for the miners."

The Lord High Chancellor, Viscount Cave, presiding, supported the closure measure and ordered that the Laborites at the bar should be removed, which was done by attendants.

The closure motion was then put amid further loud protests, and carried 44 to 4, and the third reading of the bill was carried without division. This is probably the first time closure was ever applied to debate in the House of Lords.

House Nearly Empty.

The House had been almost empty for some time previously, while Lord Parmoor was angrily protesting against the bill and banging his desk in indignation. The official known as the "Black Rod" proceeded to the House of Commons to summon the members to hear Royal assent given to the bill in the Lords.

According to ancient custom, the Black Rod, approaching the Commons, had the doors slammed in his face, but re-opened in response to three knocks. Tom Wlliams, Laborite, thereupon moved that "the Black Rod be not entertained here, this evening," which was greeted with loud Laborite cheers.

Speaker Ignores Motion.

The Speaker of the Commons ignored the motion, and the Black Rod continued his advance up the floor of the House amid continuous Laborite shouts of "No."

The Black Rod's message to the Speaker was inaudible in the uproar, but the Speaker joined him in the customary procession of the Commoners to the Lords, though many Labor members remained in their seats.

In the Lords, the reading of the Royal assent was accomplished amid more protests from the numerous Labor members gathered at the bar for this formality. They hurled all kinds of epithets, such as "Shame," "It is a murder bill," "Contemptibly mean."

Jack Jones and George Buchanan were prominent in these demonstrations, which continued when the members of the Commons returned to their own House and the Speaker read the usual formula intimating Royal assent to the bill, which thus becomes law.

Even after the Speaker had left the chair and the House had resolved itself into a committee to discuss other subjects, the Laborites still sought to make trouble because the Speaker had ignored the motion refusing to admit the Black Rod, but the chairman declined to be drawn into an argument. Reports were current that on the return of the Commoners from the House of Lords a scuffle had occurred and some blows had been exchanged.

DEATH PENALTY REVIVED IN CUBA AFTER 20 YEARS

Extreme Punishment Inflicted on Man Who Killed Aunt.

WAS GARROTED.

Executioner Becomes Hysterical After Performing Grim Undertaking.

SAN-TIAGO DE CUBA, July 9. —The death penalty in Cuba was revived after a larpse of twenty years when early yesterday morning Salvador Aguilera was garroted for the murder of his aunt, Caridad Suarez, in Sagua de Taname.

Aguilera became hysterical and was given restoratives; he then walked unassisted from the death cell to the garrote, accompanied by guards and his spirtual adviser, Father Egido.

The condemned man sat down on a bench opposite the garrote and smoked a cigar which had been given to him by a fellow prisoner. His arms and legs were tied by the official executioner, Paula Romero, and his assistant, Frank Davis, a Savannah, Ga., negro, veteran of the battle of San Juan Hill in 1898, serving a two years' sentence for robbery.

Aguilera yesterday expressed disapproval of Davis' action in volunteering to act as assistant executioner, the two having been confined in the same jail for over a year.

Proclaims Innocence?

As the garrote was placed about his neck, Aguilera said: "He who goes to death at this moment is not a criminal; he is a citizen, Salvador Aguilera, innocent of the crime for which he has been condemned."

Paula Noma signalled to the official witnesses and the condemned man's spiritual adviser, the only persons who actually saw the execution, that all preparations had been made. The executioner then leaned over Aguilera's shoulder and asked: "Dost you pardon me?"

The condemned man, with a slight smile on his lips, replied in a low, clear voice, "I pardon thee, and may God also pardon thee."

The executioner pressed the lever of the garrote, and shortly the attending physicians pronounced life extinct.

Executioner Hysterical.

Paula Romero was on the verge of hysterics immediately after the execution, but Davis was unaffected. The executioner was taken to a cell where a physician attended him. Both Davis and Romero will have their prison sentences shortened as a reward.

The body of Aguillera was left in the garrote for the customary four hours and buried this afternoon by his father and mother.

The garrote has been ordered held in the Santiaga jail, where several other prisoners are under death sentence.

King and Queen Invited To Visit Wesley's Chapel

LONDON, July 9. — "Why should it not come to pass that the King and Queen should feel quite at home worshipping occasionally at the City Temple of Wesley's Chapel," suggested the Rev. F. W. Mr. Newland said a great stride towards religious equality and co-operation was made by the queen a few months ago when he appointed a Wesleyan minister to be one of his chaplains.

MEIGHEN'S CHOICE OF CABINET AND DATE OF GENERAL ELECTION EXPECTED TODAY OR TOMORROW

Premiers of Nova Scotia and New Brunswick May be Asked.

OTHER GUESSES

Sir Henry Drayton May Change to Railways—Patenaude's Chances.

OTTAWA, July 9 (Canadian Press).—With Premier Meighen in Montreal and several other members of the acting Ministry out of town, dead calm prevails on Parliament Hill. To-day or to-morrow will come the announcement of the new Cabinet and perhaps the date of the electon. Meantime most of the offices where ordinarily political activity is registered are deserted. Others have nothing to report.

The Premires of New Brunswick and Nova Scotia are in Montreal, but it is not known yet whether or not they will be of the new Ministry. It is freely stated that they have been offered the refusal of portfolios, but they may prefer to remain a little longer in the Provincial Premierships, to which both are comparatively new.

Predictions regarding the personnel of the new Cabinet are not much changed from those of a week ago. It is now believed that George Nicholson, of East Algoma, will be in the running, either as Minister of Railways and Canals or without portfolio. Sir Henry Drayton may prefer to take, instead of the Department of Finance, the lighter portfolio of Railways.

Uncertain Provinces.

Quebec and Saskatchewan are the most uncertain provinces as regards Cabinet representation. It is likely that the new Premier will have to put off choosing a Saskatchewan Minister until after the elections. From Quebec it is rumored Hon. E. L. Patenaude may again contest a Federal seat, and if so, it is pretty sure that he will run as a Cabinet Minister. There is also a rumor that F. A. Labelle of Hull, Que., has been invited to contest that seat as Postmaster-General in the Meighen administration.

King May Try Two Seats.

The possibility that ex-Premier Mackenzie King may contest both North York and Prince Albert in the coming elections was rumored here last night.

Mr. King was defeated in North York last October, and afterwards elected in Prince Albert. He has been offered nomination by the Liberals of both constituencies. Mr. King at present is at his country home, and confirmation or denial of the rumor cannot be obtained.

Meantime it is known that Mr. Meighen has pretty definitely decided on the personnel of his Cabinet. It is said that those who will be given portfolios have been notified of their inclusion in the Cabinet, but that they will not know until to-day what particular portfolios they will get. Senator G. D. Robertson is certain, however, to take up his old portfolio of Labor. This was the most definite information available last night.

DEPUTIES TALK; FRANC DECLINES

French Unit of Currency Falls to Two and a Half Cents While Debate Continues.

MAY FINISH TODAY

PARIS, July 9 (Canadian Press). —The franc went down to the value of just about 2½ cents yesterday afternoon while the Chamber of Deputies was discussing the respective merits of the experts' financial plan and the Socialists' proposal for a capital levy. The franc went as low as 39.80 to the dollar after the close of the Bourse.

The weakness of the franc at the opening Thursday morning was attributed to the impression made by the speech of the Socialist leader, M. Blum, Thursday. In his remarks, M. Blum had declared that M. Caillaux's plan "conceals germs of inflation," and that stabilization of the currency would entail an increase in prices in commodities in general, thus increasing the cost of living. He advocated a capital levy.

The Finance Minister replied with seemingly good effect yesterday, but the franc continued to go down. M. Caillaux reminded the Chamber that the solution of the problem was largely a question of confidence. When the people at home were reassured, then it would be possible to obtain support abroad, which was essential to stabilization.

Rejects Capital Levy.

The Minister rejected absolutely the idea of a capital levy, and contended that it would bring about more disastrous inflation than would be risked by any other scheme.

The Chamber's objection to foreign loans to aid in stabilization of the currency, said M. Caillaux, was about as reasonable as would be the refusal to allow merchants to borrow money to carry on their business.

The continued decline of the franc seemed to have as much influence on the Chamber as the Finance Minister's arguments. The prospect of forty to fifty francs to the dollar was discussed in the lobbies, where a good deal of impatience was shown with the deputies who still insist on treating the financial question as a political issue.

The debate, which went over to two o'clock this afternoon, will likely be concluded this evening.

What's Best for a Bad Stomach?

Nine-tenths of all stomach trouble—indigestion, sourness, gas, pain, heartburn, etc., are caused by an excess of acid in the stomach.

Artificial digestents, such as pepsin, are not needed in such cases and may do real harm. Try laying aside all digestive aids, and instead neutralize the acid that has upset your stomach with a spoonful or two tablets of pure Bisurated Magnesia, taken with a little water. This instantly sweetens the stomach and stops the pain and discomfort and your food digests as nature intended. For quick, positive relief from Acid Stomach

REV. MACKINNON PREACHES AT PERTH

Former Knox Pastor is Welcomed To His New Charge.

Last Sunday Rev. M. C. MacKinnon, recently of Peterborough, occupied the pulpit of St. Paul's church for the first time, at the morning and evening services, since his induction as associate pastor last week. Rev. Arthur Wilkinson, also associate pastor, expressed his personal pleasure and that of the congregation in having Rev. MacKinnon come to St. Paul's church and stated that the congregation were very fortunate in securing him. Mr. MacKinnon based his morning discourse on "The Life of Christ after His Resurrection." At the morning service the choir rendered the anthem, "I am Alpha and Omega" and Mr. J. G. Paterson sang a solo, "God's Bright Morning." At the evening service, Rev. D. J. Scott, of Rideau Ferry, had a place on the pulpit platform. Mr. MacKinnon's sermon was based on the "Friendship of Jesus." The choir's anthem was 'Light of the Lonely Pilgrim's Heart," and Miss Edith McTavish sang for a solo, "Consider and Hear Me." Large congregations were present and were very favorably impressed with the thoughtful and powerful sermons delivered by Rev. MacKinnon, who will also preach at both services next Sunday.—Perth Courier.

LORD BYNG'S ACTION REGARDED AS RIGHT

LONDON, July 9 (Canadian Press).—The Weekly Outlook in a review of the present constitutional question in Canada, says that Lord Byng's action in refusing dissolution to former Premier W. L. Mackenzie King, appears to have been natural and proper.

"It is rather surprising," the Outlook continues, "that he should have been attacked with vitriolic fury as an autocrat and military despot who had degraded Canada, her position as a Crown colony and so on The explanation appears to be very simple. Mackenzie King demanded dissolution to escape a vote of censure and a charge of corruption. His tactics are comprehensible, but not justifiable. To escape a personal charge he has chosen to raise a constitutional issue. His idea of defending himself in other words is to attack the Crown. Commonsense Canadian electors will probably see through so transparent a device, but meanwhile the attention is uncomfortable for everyone concerned."

POSTPONE HEARING OF KIDNAPPING CASE

Mrs. McPherson To Be Called Again Next Week—Much Interest Shown.

LOS ANGELES, Calif., July 9.—(Canadian Press).—With other further examination of witnesses by the county grand jury postponed until next Tuesday, investigation into the alleged abduction of Aimee Semple McPherson marked time today.

The evangelist, the founder of the Angelus Temple of "Four Square" Gosnel fame, left the witness stand in the jury chamber late yesterday after having been subjected to an exhaustive cross-examination. As the first witness to be questioned, she testified for nearly seven hours. At the end of the examination it was understood that she probably would be called again next week.

Keen interest was shown in the hearing yesterday, more than twenty persons reporting to the police that they paid a man in clerical garb $2 each for tickets purporting to entitle the holders to seats at the grand jury session.

Reports from Arizona and Mexican officials indicated they are continuing their investigations of the evangelist's appearance there, before coming here to testify.

KING ASKED SON TO RESIGN PLACE

Moral Delinquencies Made Ferdinand Ask Carrol To Renounce Throne.

NOT FIT TO RULE.

BUCHAREST, July 9 (Canadian Press).—The real reason that Prince Carol renounced his claim to the throne of Roumania was because of his "repeated moral delinquencies" showing that he was not fit ever to become the ruler of his people, according to his father, King Ferdinand.

In a talk with a correspondent for the Canadian Press, the King revealed that he, himself, had asked Prince Carol to renounce the throne. Although he asked to be excused from discussing in detail the circumstances of the renunciation. King Ferdinand said: "It is a long and a painful story. But I can tell you this, that there were no political motives behind it. It was my own act, provoked by my son's extraordinary conduct. No political leader forced a decision upon me.

"Although my action gave deep anguish and pain to the Queen and myself, it had to be done in the interests of my country, the people, the Government and the Crown. Carol proved by his repeated moral delinquencies that he was entirely unfitted to assume the duties of Sovereign."

ALFONSO OF SPAIN LIKES POLO GAME

Played Well in Ranks of Lancers Against Hussars—Scored Twice.

LONDON, July 9. Canadian Press—King Alphonso of Spain, who is known as the world's all round monarch sportsman, played a daring and picturesque part on the polo team of the Lancers at Tinworth yesterday, when the Lancers defeated the Hussars five to four.

The King went into the hottest part of the game time and again, and hit two goals himself. He played a safe game at back. The king is what is known as a five point player, having formerly played number 2. He now prefers back as he has become an adept in this position. He was on his bodyguard team which won the regimental tournament last winter at Madrid.

Daily Short Story

HAROLD AND HIS THEORY.

By H. IRVING KING.

"There is," said Harold Barclay, "no such thing as love at first sight." When Harold Barclay stated a thing he stated it with finality which is one of the most engaging features in the conversation of young men. Older men may have opinions and very decided ones too, to which they give expression in a decided manner but the most opinionated man of say, fifty, is never able to give such quiet finality to his utterances as a young man of, say, twenty odd.

"A fellow may be mightily attracted to a girl upon first seeing her," dogmatized Harold, "but it is only after he has known her for some time that love really comes—not in that first glance." Being of the ripe age of twenty-four he spoke not only from the depth of wisdom inherent in one of his age but from a vast experience. Bert Mansfield disagreed with him; but then, Bert was twenty-six and could not be expected to know as much as a man two years his junior.

Then Harold chanced to meet Florence Barstow—and his dogmatism received a blow in the solar plexus which "knocked him for the count." It was bewildering; he who had always been right in everything since he could remember was forced to realize that in his no love at first sight theory he had been, as Homer would put it, "away off." He met Florence at a dinner-party and the very first minute he set eye upon her he felt his previous convictions regarding love leaving him "like needles shaken from out the gusty pine." He was in love—and at first sight!

Not only was he surprised at the condition in which he suddenly found himself but a little more surprised, if anything, to find that he didn't care a hang if his pet theory had gone to smash What were theories and dogmas compared with the engulfing and halcyon thought that he was in love with the fairest flower that ever bloomed in all enchanted gardens?

Bert Mansfield was present upon the occasion of the debacle of Harold's adolescent omniscience and comprehended the situation with a malicious and unholy glee. Moreover he had one of those "pesky" dispositions which cause their possessors to delight in rubbing it in when they "have one" on a friend. "Well, old top," began Bert when he met Harold next morning on the street, "from what I saw last night I imagine that your no love at first sight theory has gone glimmering. Now, perhaps, you'll believe what I have been telling you all along."

"Bert," replied Harold, justifiably nettled, "are you going to Palm Beach this winter as usual?" Harold knew that Bert was jut aching for a season at Palm Beach but had not money enough to make it; while he, Harold, went there every winter. It was a nasty jab at Bert's poverty—no well-bred man would have made it, but a well-bred boy—well, boys are different. But Bert only laughed and said: "I was intending to take a run down but find I have to go to Iceland to play the Reikjarvick tennis champion. So long old man."

The courtship of Harold and Florence went on apace and at a rather rapid pace. Their parents were agreeable to the match Florence was as much in love with Harold as he was with her and in three months they were engaged and plans begun for the wedding. One night, as they walked beneath the moon-lit, shimmering Florida palms, Harold became reminiscent and began going over that long and eventful twenty-four hours of his Anyone not in love with the young man would have been excessively bored; but Florence was in love with him and the recital was of absorbing interest to her.

Among other exciting statements he related how he remembered that once, when he was about eight years old, he had spent a month with a great-aunt at Eastport, Maine.

"Why, that is singular," said Florence; "we used to live in Eastport. We moved away when I was about six. I don't remember much about it, of course, but I have heard father and mother talk about the place and of a lawsuit father had with an old Miss Olifant who lived next door to us."

"Miss Olifant?" cried Harold, "why that was my great-aunt's name! Can it be possible that you are the little girl I had the fight with over a go-cart?"

"I shouldn't wonder a bit," replied Florence. "So we have known each other all these years. Isn't it wonderful?"

"It is fate; it is destiny; it is love," answered Harold grandiloquently. "I remember you scratched my face frightfully. Florence, we were made for each other—nothing could have kept us asunder."

On his return to New York Harold ran across Bert Mansfield. "Well, well," cried Bert, "glad to see you back, old top. See that your engagement to the fair Florence has been announced. What's become of that theory of yours that there was no such thing as love at first sight? What do you think about it now—hey?"

"Just what I always thought," replied Harold gravely. "You are evidently laboring under a false impression. Miss Marstow and I first met sixteen years ago; and at our first meeting we were—er—inimical to each other."

"Sixteen years ago!" cried Bert; "why you are only ——"

But Harold walke I majestically away, leaving Bert doing little sums in mental arithmetic.

SMOKING MOTHERS WEAKEN CHILDREN

Affect Not Only Physique of Youth, But Morals Also.

PHILADELPHIA, July 9 (Canadian Press).—The United States will become a nation of nervous anaemics unless the girls and women of the country cease smoking cigarettes in ever increasing quantities, Prof. L. A. Higley, Wheaton College, Illinois, told the first world conference on narcotic education here yesterday.

Children born of mothers who smoked, he asserted, not only suffered physical handicaps in early youth, but their moral perspective was also harmed.

SUNDAY SCHOOL PICNIC IS HELD

Scholars and Friends From St. George's Go Down the River.

PLEASANT OUTING.

(Contributed).

The annual picnic in connection with St. George's Sunday School was held on Tuesday, July 6. The day being the anniversary of King George's wedding day, we were favored with "King's weather"; the early morning sky threatened to fulfill locally the weather forecast for the day, "showers in many places," but the day yielded nothing but ideal weather throughout. After taking the third and last contingent on board at Lock Street Wharf, the S.S. "Stoney Lake" moved away at 8.40 a.m. and made a splendid run to Harwood, where she moored at the dock at 11.05 a.m. Without let or hindrance from the proprietors of the hotel, the majority of the party sought out the pleasant shady places in the adjacent grounds and partook of luncheon; others of the party preferred to remain on board and have luncheon on the upper deck. To the proprietors of the Harwood Hotel, and also to the proprietors of the grounds at Wallace's Point, the privileges accorded are gratefully acknowledged with many thanks. Leaving Harwood at 12.45 p.m., we crossed the lake, receiving the benefit of a glorious breeze. Wallace's Point was reached about 2.30 p.m., and here for three and a quarter hours the company enjoyed themselves to the fullest extent in various ways. Under the supervision of the sports committee, the Rev. J. L. Hughes and Mr. E. Tucker, the following programme was carried out; the names of the winning contestants are also given:

Races confined to members of the school classes:

Boys, 1—Alfred Field and James Kitchin.

Girls, 1—Sadie Shaw and Thelma Duffin.

Boys, 2—G. Robinson and Roy Suddards.

Girls, 2—Nellie Shaw and Irene Sturgeon.

Boys, 3—Bert Stevens and James Shaw.

Primary—(a) Douglas Self, Mary Shaw, Lawrence Johnson. (b) Gwennie Farr, Mary Johnson. (c) Alfred Johnson, Stanley McBride, Stanley McCormick.

Races open to all:

Girls, under 16 years — Nellie Shaw and Nellie Butler.

Boys, under 16—James Shaw and George Robinson.

Girls (three-legged race), 16 and under—Grace Field, Marjory Self.

Youths, 16 and under 21 — J. Collins, R. Wells.

Maidens, 16 and under 21—Mabel Allen, Hilda Evans.

Ladies, 21 and over—Mrs. Barnes, Mrs. White.

Men, 21 and over—Mr. Suddards.

Stout ladies' race—Mrs. Roberts.

Married men—Mr. Suddards.

Married women—Mrs. Farr.

After a pleasant sail up the river from Wallace's Point, Lock Street Wharf was reached at 6.30 p.m., and a half hour later saw the S.S. "Stoney Lake" mooring at her home wharf, George Street.

During the day the booth on board had many patrons, all being efficiently attended to by Misses M Huxley, M. Scott and I. Parkes, assisted in many ways by Mr. E. Tucker. "Steer's Orchestra," consisting of W. Steer, J. Collins and R. Wells, provided the music for dancing, and it was plain to be seen that the young people on board made the most of their opportunity.

LOWER NIAGARA POWER SOUGHT

Company Presents Plans For Plant at Foot of Gorge.

TO BUILD TUNNELS.

NIAGARA FALLS, N.Y., July (Canadian Press)—The New York State Waterpower Commission is here today looking into the proposal of the lower Niagara River Power and Water Company to develop 200,000 electric horsepower on the lower river.

After inspecting the location of the proposed development the cost of which is estimated at $40,000,000, the commission held a hearing at which the company's proposal was presented. It calls for the construction of two gigantic tunnels from a point about 10,000 feet south of the Michigan Central railroad bridge under the New York Central tracks, to the foot of the rapids, a distance of approximately 15,000 feet with a power plant in the gorge at the foot of the tunnels.

The tunnels would be vastly larger than the present power tunnels here. The commission was told they would be so vast that a three storey building could be set up within them.

RAILWAYS AND PARKS.

The Railways and Parks Committee reported as follows —

We recommend that the appointment of John Gillespie as caretaker of the motor camp grounds, at Fifteen Dollars (15.00) a week, be approved and that he be paid on the certificate of the Chairman of this Committee.

Your Committee received a letter from the Canadian General Electric Ladies' Softball Team asking a refund of part of the amount they paid for the James Stevenson Park for a match, and that better accommodation be provided. We recommend that a reply be sent that, considering the expense of the upkeep of the grounds and the rules applicable to all, the Committee cannot see its way to recommend a change in the terms for the use of the grounds, and that while it may not be practicable to do so this year the Committee desires to provide the necessary accommodation for the ladies' teams and has it in mind as it is their desire to have the park properly furnished for the athletic associations.

We recommend that plans and specifications, prepared by the City Engineer, for a memorial gate at the Jackson Park, be approved and that the Chairman of this Committee procure prices for its construction.

We recommend that the Clerk write the Hydro-Electric Power Commission and ask them, if they are not going to take away the old street railway trailers which are near Jackson Park, whether they will give them to the City if the City will remove them as they are unsightly at the entrance to the park.

COMMITTEE OF THE WHOLE.

The Committee of the Whole Council reported and recommended as follows

That plans submitted to this Committee for an addition to the Court House building for the Registry Office and offices for the Clerk of the Court and County Crown Attorney be approved.

That this Council cannot recommend to the people the purchase of the street railway.

That, with reference to the operation of busses within the city other than those operated in connection with the street railway, this Committee recommend that the Council reply to the Hydro-Electric Power Commission that the Council, acting on the legal advice it has received, is doubtful whether it has the power to prevent such busses from operating, and in view of this doubt does not wish to take any action that will involve the City in litigation.

BOARD OF WORKS.

The Board of Works reported and recommended as follows —

That the Chairman of this Board be authorized to complete the purchase of Lot 3, south of Hazlitt street, Plan 1A, owned by Fred Dobbin.

That the Chairman and City Engineer be authorized to purchase a car of coal.

That a letter from Ernest L. Ainslee for permission to tap the sewer for Lot No. 5, King George street, be received.

That a letter from the Peterborough Humane Society, asking that lanes be made one way thoroughfares be received.

That a petition asking that holes on Lafayette avenue be filled and the street oiled be left with the City Engineer.

That the City Engineer be instructed to prepare an estimate of the cost of the work of filling in a ditch in front of the DeLaval property.

That the Chairman of this Board be authorized to get a price on the Russell lot on Rogers street.

FIRE WATER AND LIGHT.

The Fire, Water and Light Committee reported and recommended as follows —

That a letter from the City Council of Brantford, asking that all coke fuel held for retail purposes be stored in water proof storage be received.

That the matter of representation at the annual convention of the Dominion Association of Fire Chiefs at Windsor on August 24-27 be left with the Chairman of this Committee.

That the Peterborough Utilities Commission be requested to place a hydrant on McFarlane Avenue and that this Committee be authorized to deal with the Utilities Commission to make satisfactory arrangements in regard to financing the cost of the work.

That the Peterborough Utilities Commission be requested to place a hydrant at Driscoll Terrace and Cricket Place at a point to be determined by the Chief of the Fire Department.

That the Chairman of this Committee take up the matter of replacing the horse-drawn fire equipment by motor driven apparatus.

The Special Committee appointed with respect to the Fire Department answering calls outside of the City reported and recommended as follows

That the fire apparatus of the City of Peterborough be permitted to answer calls for assistance from ratepayers adjoining the boundaries of the City of Peterborough, when the parties calling have previously filed a request and deposited a bond for the sum of 300.00 with the City Treasurer, guaranteeing payment of the charges for the services of the department and that the fee to be charged in such cases where the apparatus responds shall be 100.00 for the first hour and 50.00 for each subsequent hour or fraction thereof, such request and bond to be approved of by the Chairman of the Fire, Water and Light Committee and the Mayor of the City.

Railroad Shares Lead Upward Movement To-day

NEW YORK, July 9.—(Canadian Press.)— A sustained demand for railroad shares, particularly Eastern Coalers, featured the resumption of the upward movement in to-day's stock market. Some irregularity took place during the morning when the usual week-end realizing sales and sporadic bear attacks against supposedly vulnerable issues forced moderate recessions in some of the industrials and specialties, but offerings generally were well absorbed and the whole market was headed up again in the early afternoon. Trading showed further expansion in volume, total sales crossing 1,100,000 shares before the end of the third hour. Excellent earnings reports and dividend and merger rumors continued to provide a basis for the advance in railroad shares. Reading touched par for the first time since 1920.

Dominating Stocks Show Attitude Of Active Market

TORONTO, July 9. Canadian Press. — British Columbia Fishing and Brazilian were domintaing features of this morning's active session of the Toronto Stock Exchange. Contrasting the moderate recessiona and the fair advance shown in these two issues was a sample of the market as a whole. Brazilian opened slightly lower at 101¼ and went down to 100 3-4, closing at that mark at noon, a loss of 7-8. British Columbia Fishing, after touching 76 closed at 75 3-4 for a gain of 1 1-4 The trading in each issue almost reached the thousand share market.

The firmer stocks were Canada Bread Common, up 5-8 at 75 5-8, Canners preferred 7-8 higher at 65¼ and Steel fo Canada up one at 104. On the weaker side Dominion Stores lost one at 65½; Smelters 3-4 at 212 1-2 and Nickel a quarter at 37 1-4.

Wheat Price Takes Drop As Spring Crops Improve

CHICAGO, July 9 (Canadian Press) — With rainy weather and cooler temperatures over the spring crop belt, the wheat prices averaged lower here today in the first part of the board of trade session. The unexpected upturns shown by the quotations at Liverpool failed to act as an offset. Opening at 1-4c off to 3-8c up the Chicago wheat market underwent a moderate general set back but then rallied.

Corn, oats and provisions were easy, corn starting unchanged to 3-8c lower, and declining all around, only to work upward again later.

Firm Tone On Market With Very Few Changes

TORONTO, July 9. — Canadian Press. — A firm tone persisted throughout the trading on the Standard mining exchange to-day with slight advances general all along the line. Activity was displayed in stocks that have been rather inactive of late.

Keely Silver continued strong, gaining 5c to 1.63; the Nipissing turnover was small but the stock ranged from 8 to 15c higher at 5.68 to 5.75. Beaver and Capitol were up one point each at 81 and 37 respectively, McKinley Darragh was ½ higher at 15. Dome Gold advanced 9c to 12.19. Baldwin was active 1-2 higher at 3 1-4. Premier made a gain of 4 points at 2.12. Noranda was up 5c to 15.25, while Hollinger was off 5 at 19.20. Lake Shore advanced 3 to 11.38; Gold Hill at 59 1-2 and Teck Hughes at 38.5 were unchanged.

SAYS GOVERNMENT BEING INFLUENCED

Lloyd George Speaks at Meeting of Welsh Liberals.

RHYL, Wales, July 9 (Canadian Press). — David Lloyd George, speaking to-day before the Welsh National Liberal Federation, of which he was elected president for the 28th time, condemned the Government for its handling of the coal situation and declared it was influenced by powerful Tory interests.

At another point he said: "You may starve and beat the miners but that won't bring a solution. The only safety of the community is that impartial, stern justice is meted out to all classes alike in this land."

Discussing the political position of the Liberals in North Wales, the former Premier remarked that he was "getting a little fed up with lectures from on high." His audience interpreted this as referring to his troubles with Lord Oxford and Asquith, the Liberal chief, and his followers.

YOUR JEWEL COLOR FLOWER

By Mildred Marshall

Today's talismanic gem is the turquoise. When this gem is worn as an amulet no injury or accident can befall. Travel by sea is rendered safe when this stone is present.

Today's natal stone is the pearl. Those who possess one are marked by the gods for admiration, according to an ancient belief. The pearl is considered the most precious and potent of all gems and one which every fair woman should wear if she wished to enhance her charm and beauty.

Green is today's color. The symbolic of joy and hope, it was believed by the ancients to be destructive to friendship.

The white chrysanthemum is the significant flower for today. It is said to bring realization of social ambitions and to attract influent friends.

Tomorrow's HOROSCOPE

By Genevieve Kemble

SATURDAY, JULY 10.

Most propitious stars rule this day. It is a time for pushing all matters toward the goal of the ambitions, and many unexpected opportunities should present to this end. Something of a radical nature may arise, calling for a change in business or environment, but all that pertains to industry and labor should be assured to fitting reward and recognition. These fresh propositions should be steadily pursued with definite augury for substantial gain. Alliances with vested and corporate interests are encouraged.

Those whose birthday it is are assured a period of substantial prosperity, with fitting return for industry and steadfastness. Many fresh opportunities may offer, coming from large corporations or old establishments.

A child born on this day may be steady and responsible, although inclined to be free and independent and to affiliate with important institutions or unusual ventures.

HER OWN WAY by a Girl of Today

MONEY NEVER BUYS PEACE.

"Forgive me, Judy," said Mamie Riley. "You have a right to reproach me. You have believed in me when things looked more suspicious than that. I might have known if you were in the Robinson car even with Mr. Robinson you would have some good reason for it."

I sighed.

"What is it, Judy?" she asked. "What is it all about?"

"Well, my dear, things are pretty bad at this time. I am just wondering if the thing I am thinking of doing is not quite as bad in its way as what you suspected."

"What do you mean, Judy?"

Mamie came over to where I was sitting before my dressing table and looked over my shoulder into the glas. Our eyes met in the mirror, clashed and melted together.

I turned, rose, and putting both hands on her shoulder I gently forced her into the chair in which I had been sitting and drew up another in front of her.

"Mamie," I said, "when you saw me in the Robinson car last night, I was going out to the Robinson house to dine with his stepdaughter, Joan Meredith."

"Is she that pretty girl I have seen him bring into the Beaux Arts occasionally?"

"Yes, and she is in great trouble."

"What great trouble could a girl like that have? She has everything in the world." Even Mamie, who was usually so sweet, had a bitter tone in her voice.

"That is just what Joan told me last night. She said that everyone in town would think that her troubles were trivial. Mamie, she has everything that money can buy but happiness. Money isn't able to buy that for her. And now today when it might buy her peace of mind, she is not able to put her hands on enough of her own money to do it.

"Joan Meredith must have fifty thousand dollars before ten o'clock tonight or her whole future will be ruined."

"Great heavens, Judy! What is she going to do?"

"That is just what she asked me. The most tragic thing about the whole thing is that it would be perfectly easy for her to get fifty thousand dollars for some piece of jewelry that means nothing to her, but to get it for something that literally means more than life or death looks practically impossible."

Lyrics Of Life

(By Douglas Malloch.)

COME RIGHT OUT.

We hesitate to come right out
And say the things we really feel.
We let the hearts that love us doubt
Because our hearts our love conceal.
How many a wife would happier be,
How many a husband happier, too,
If we would come right out, if we
As kindly spoke as strangers do.

The earth would be a better earth,
Would be the world of God's intent,
If lips would praise the man of worth,
And give the weak encouragement.
More hearts would sing, less hearts would grieve,
Our faith would better stand the test,
If we, who in the church believe,
Would come right out and tell the rest.

And in the disputes, in the strife,
In dark suspicions, thoughts unkind,
This life would be a sweeter life
If hearts would seek the truth to find.
Yes, many a hurt would take to flight,
And vanish many a foolish doubt—
A lot of things would come right out
If we would only come right out.

ADVICE TO GIRLS

By Annie Laurie

Dear Annie Laurie,—I am a girl of fifteen with dark hair and eyes, and am of the dark complexion. I dress well and in style, still none of the opposite sex seem to take up with me. I have never been out with a boy friend yet. How can I attract them? I am with other girls and their friends but I am always too shy to talk much, and stand back. How can I overcome this?

If you wish to introduce a friend with you and another one that you meet which should be introduced first? Which is proper to say, "Pleased to meet you" or "How do you do." LASSIE.

LASSIE: I know this is a rapid age, but still, for a girl of fifteen to be worrying because she hasn't been out with a boy friend yet, seems just a little previous. If you were ten years older, you might worry with better grace. However, as you have certain faults to overcome, it is well start weeding them out now. Possibly the main difficulty lies in this shy manner of yours. The only way to correct it is to try hard—all the time. When you are out with friends, talk, even if you don't wish to. Memorize some funny stories, or gather some harmless neighborhood gossip, or read up on the latest styles in dress, or bobbed hair. Then tell others about them. These things interest most people, men as well as women. Even if you don't have a very appreciative audience at first, keep it up. One good rule in conversing with others is always forget yourself. If you are thinking about yourself, you will surely be self-conscious and shy, but if you forget yourself entirely, and become absorbed in what the other person is saying, then you will soon overcome your shyness. Of course, you may be one of those people who is critical of others, but, if you wish to be popular, you will have to get over that. It is astonishing how interesting most people are if you only think so. When you are listening to another person talk, you need not necessarily keep your attention on their words if they happen to be holding forth tiresomely on the weather or the political situation. You can simply focus your attention on the speaker's face, assume an expression of polite interest, and speculate on what they would look like if they wore their hair parted differently, or had a squint, or something like that. The main thing is to appear interested and to forget yourself.

The younger person should always be introduced to the older one, as "Mrs. Smith, this is Miss Brown." Of course, a man should always be introduced to a lady, unless you happened to be presenting a woman to the Prime Minister, for example, when you would have to say, "Mr. Forke," or whoever it happened to be, "this is Mrs. Jones." In responding to an introduction, you may use either "I am pleased to meet you," which is a little more formal, or "How do you do." Neither of these remarks ever has an answer vouchsafed to it, anyway.

Today's Fashion By Vera Winston

Smart Hats Range from Dress Types to Strictly Sports Models.

The large hat has always received some notice in fashion circles, but it has not for many seasons been so definitely established as it is at present.

The big hat above is a delightful affair of brown and beige. The brown Milan brim is topped by a crown of brown grosgrain ribbon, while beige grosgrain ribbon marked by a monogram of brilliants forms the trimmings.

One of the carelessly rippled lightweight felts is shown below the larger hat. This one is in the wine red shade which is receiving much favor, with the band in an odd shade of deep pink.

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

(By Mildred Marshall.)

Facts about your name, its history; its meaning; whence it was derived; its significance; your lucky day, and lucky jewel.

FLORENCE.

Florence, signifying flourishing, can scarcely be separated from its quaint diminutive Flora, meaning flowers. Flora in mythological legend was the goddess of the flowers and the festivals of Flora or Floralia were celebrated in the first burst of spring. In later times, the name of Florus was formed from that of the goddess and is memorable as that of the procurator whose harshness drove the Jews to their last rebellion. It is believed that the feminine Flora came from this.

There is a church at Florence to Saints Fiore and Lucilla, but otherwise the first instance of the name is in Roman-Gothic Spain where the unhappy daughter of Count Julian was called by the Spanish diminutive Florinda, and thus caused the name to be so much detested that while Spanish ballads call her La Cava, the wicked, her christian name was only bestowed on dogs.

A Spanish maiden martyred by the Moors brought Flora into better repute. It became Flore in France, where it was adopted as a romantic epithet, and from there, it found its way into Scotland. In the Gaelic it is spelled Florie, as the island heroine of the '45 wrote herself. Florentia was a natural product and named a feminine saint martyred in Diocletian's reign in Gaul.

The prevalence of the name Florence in England seems to have been due to so many English girls being born in the Italian city of that name. Deeper and dearer honor has been given to it by Florence Nightingale. Many fictional heroines have borne the name and its derivatives, Blanchefleur, meaning white flower, is one of its forms and was bestowed on Sir Trystan's mother. Versions particularly romantic are found with Ariotto's two heroines Fiordespina (thorn flower) and Fiordilizi (fleur de lys).

Florence or Flora, used by the Irish peasantry, becomes Fingham or Fincen. Florrie and Flossie and perhaps even Lora, are purely American diminatives.

The Carnelian is Florence's talismanic gem. Its warm bright color is said to dispel timidity and give courage, vitality and animation. It likewise brings good luck to the bearer of the name. To dream of it, however, signifies impending misfortune. Florence's lucky day is Saturday and 1 is considered her lucky number.

SAVE YOUR TEETH

Prepared by the Oral Hygiene Committee of Canada, with which the Peterborough Dental Society is Collaborating.

PREVENTIVE DENTISTRY.

In the last analysis The old adage, "an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure," suggests the only reasonable hope of successfully combating dental ills.

To-day, dental diseases are still common and widespread: their ravages seemingly go unchecked: their cures yet lie hidden.

Dentures are made, crowns fashioned and bridges are constructed that never would have been required did individuals, at large, pause to give heed to the gospel of dental prevention.

Preventive measures are what, then? The dietary factor first. By choosing the harder foods and those high in tooth building elements and discarding largely the soft pastry and highly sweetened foods, unquestionable progress would be made towards the goal o immunity from dental ills.

Oral hygiene is undoubtedly playing a large part today as a preventive measure, but how much more effectual a factor it could be were the habit of daily mouth toilet more widely established. In this connection, the training of the young child to early form this habit should be stressed.

Too, there must be an early recognition of dental disorders, together with prompt treatment. To this end, periodical examinations should be the rule with each individual then the onus of blame for any extensive dental ills would be with the dentist who would be asked not to make the teeth and mouth fit, but to keep them fit.

Finally, there must be a full realization of the disasters that must undoubtedly follow where dental neglect is permitted to go unchecked.

LOVE LETTERS THAT MADE HISTORY

(By Joseph Kaye.)

GEORGE WASHINGTON AND MRS. CUSTES.

Washington, like Lincoln, was stricken thrice by love. At fourteen he became infatuated with his "Lowland Beauty," less romantically known as Mary Boland; the second lady was Sallie Carey. He was so smitten by Miss Carey that he used her name as a pass-word in camp but Sally would have none of the young soldier and refused him flatly. Her refusal was fortunate for the future president for had she accepted him his life might not have been so ideally happy as it was with Mrs. Custes, his third love.

Mrs. Custes was the young and pretty widow of Daniel Park Custes. Col. Washington met her while he was travelling with despatches and was introduced to her at a priest's house. It was a soldierly wooing. The engagement was announced in twenty-four hours and a few months later they were married.

The following letter is claimed to be the only one that Washington wrote to his beloved before their marriage.

"Ft. Cumberland, July 20, 1758.

"We have begun our march to the Ohio. A courier is starting for Williamsburg and I embrace the opportunity to send a few words to one whose life is now inseparable from mine. Since that happier hour when we made our pledges to each other my thoughts have been continually going to you as to another self. That all powerful providence may keep us both in safety is the prayer of your faithful and ever affectionate friend,

G. Washington."

For forty years the first president and first lady lived in serene happiness and for forty years Washington constantly wore on his breast a miniature of his wife.

YOUR HEALTH

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M.D., Former Commissioner of Health, New York City.

ABUNDANT RICH BLOOD STOPS BALDNESS.

A circular about a new method of preserving the hair has just come to me by mail. I assume from the reading material that some form of light ray is used to stimulate the scalp.

Baldness is an embarrassing affliction. It is bad enough when it takes its usual form, but if the hair falls out in spots or patches it is worse yet.

For many years I have been interested in observing the efforts made by barbers and others to stimulate the growth of hair. You can hardly talk to a person without finding him obsessed with some idea explaining the cause of baldness.

Let us see if we can consider the matter sufficiently to understand why baldness attacks some persons and does not strike others.

The scalp is supplied with blood vessels just as is every other part of the body. All these vessels come from below and radiate over the sides and top of the head. There can be no growth or preservation of the hair without an unfailing supply of blood.

You know how a garden on the side of the hill thrives. If it is a wet season the low part of the garden is drowned out. If it is a dry season there will be enough moisture in the low ground to cause the plants to thrive, but on the high ground, from which all moisture drains away, the vegetables wither and die.

The ideal garden is one which is irrigated and drained in such a way as to supply a uniform quantity of water to every part of the garden. Under these conditions the proud possessor of the garden has abundant crops.

In a sense the scalp is like a garden. Unless it is thoroughly irrigated by a free supply of blood the hair must wither and die. There may be a patch of scalp where for some reason the blood vessels are few in number and small in size. This spot will be the first to get the effect of falling hair.

With this explanation of the anatomy of the scalp you can see that the prosperity of the hair depends upon a constant supply of rich red blood. Anything which interferes with that abundance of blood, or anything which interferes with the quality of the blood, must have its effect upon the nourishment of the hair.

To have good hair there must be a good, strong-acting heart. It must drive the blood to the very top of the head and supply it in great quantities. The blood must be pure and rich, made so by good eating and the breathing of pure air. Vigorous health is the first essential to strong and permanent hair.

ONCE UPON A TIME — JESPER WHO HERDED THE HARES—VI — by W.J. ENRIGHT.

ONCE UPON A TIME — JESPER WHO HERDED THE HARES—VII — by W.J. ENRIGHT.

The Red-Shouldered Hawk is among our feathered friends. This is something which we are beginning to find out.

Not long ago, a farmer sent in a report to the State of Massachusetts, telling about a red-shouldered hawk which had been living near his place. This hawk is about a foot and a half long, and it is very often called Henhawk in error, for, though it sometimes takes a sick chicken, it has a mighty fine record as a ratter, a mouser, and an insect destroyer. It has a reddish-brown wing shoulder spot.

Well, lest we spin too long a space on what use it is, we had better prove it while there is space.

This farmer had chickens and pheasants and such like, but the hawk never bothered these things. It did, however, make a great number of meals on mice and rats about the place, so much so that the man became highly gratified by its helpful presence. Mr. Farmer finally became so interested in the feathered ratter, that he thought of doing some experimenting. He wanted to find out just how good eyesight this red-shouldered fellow has for farm enemies, so he decided to do some ratting himself.

A few traps and culbs and artillery finally landed a dead rat. The farmer killed a rat himself!

Well, the dead rat was taken up in the barn and its head was poked through a knothole in the side of the building. Nothing but the head, mind you, and I'll bet a soggy sinker that it would take a keen-eyed Indian to see it at a few paces back.

That dead rat had not much time to make up his mind about how he liked the view out of that hole, whether he could think or not. He had no time to grow stale, for the hawk, in passing on his rounds over the farm, spotted him first crack out of the box.

There was a speeding shadow on the ground, warning the farmer to look and be quick about it, and just as he looked up, he saw the hawk swooping down and inwards towards the barn. Those talons struck that rat head, and dead Mr. Rat made his exit through that hole and into space faster than he had ever gone through any hole while alive. That is efficiency for you.

UNCLE WIGGILY

Today's Bedtime Story

By Howard R. Garis

UNCLE WIGGILY POPS UP.

Copyright, 1926, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

(By Howard R. Garis.)

After Uncle Wiggily and his wife had been visiting Mr. Hare, their city cousin, a few days, and had become become somewhat used to the noises and strange sights, so different from their quiet country bungalow, Mrs. Hare said to the rabbit lady one day:

"Don't you and Uncle Wiggily want to go downtown and do some shopping in the big stores?"

"Why, yes, it would be nice," Mrs. Longears answered. "I need a new dress and I would like to buy it in the city."

"We have pretty big stores back in Woodland," said Uncle Wiggily, who didn't want his city cousin to think he didn't know beans from carrots. "We've got a three and four cent store that's a wonder! You can buy all the parts of a Ford auto there and put it together yourself."

Mrs. Hare laughed and said

"Yes, your stores are large, no doubt, but you will find some wonderful bargains here, my dear," and at the mention of bargains Mrs. Longears opened her eyes wide, while Uncle Wiggily took out his pocketbook to see how much money he had left, if any.

"Well, come along, my dear," he said to his wife, after a while, "we shall go shopping and get you a new dress."

Mrs. Longears, or Mrs. Uncle Wiggily, as she was sometimes called, wanted to shout "Oh! hoy," but she thought that might make it seem as if she didn't have a new dress very often (which was the truth), so she just said:

"Oh! very well."

Then Uncle Wiggily and his wife hopped down-town in the big city, to go to the ten and eleven dollar store to get the rabbit lady a new dress. Trolley cars seemed to chase them, taxicabs appeared to want to play tag with them. And Uncle Wiggily was sure a jitney bus was eager to get up a game of hide and go seek with him. But finally the two rabbits reached the big store.

They went in through the doors that turned about like a top, only Uncle Wiggily had a little trouble. He got in, but he couldn't get out again, not knowing how, and he was pushed around and around by a fat pig lady-shopper who had three chins, one below the other.

"Step right in," the poodle barked.

At last Uncle Wiggily's wife reached in the revolving door, as her husband whizzed around, and she pulled him out.

"Whyever did you do that, Wiggy?" she asked him. "That isn't a merry-go-'round!"

"I am well aware that it isn't," answered the bunny gentleman, sort of sad like and undignified. "I was caught and couldn't get out. They push you around so in these places."

However, no great harm was done and then Mrs. Longears saw a black, poodle dog standing near a bright, shiny door as if inviting her to go in. So she asked "Ladies' dresses?" questioning like, and the poodle barked "Step right in," which the rabbit lady and Uncle Wiggily did, and then the door slid shut and up popped Mr. Longears.

Right up in the air he felt himself pop, and his wife went with him, and Uncle Wiggily cried:

"Whoa! I don't want a balloon ride! Let me out!"

"This isn't a balloon!" barked the black poodle dog with a laugh. "Keep still! I am taking you up!"

"Up where? Up to the sky!" asked Uncle Wiggily, for he could still feel himself popping upward and it gave him a funny feeling right under his vest, while his wife was holding tightly to him and closing her eyes.

"You are in the elevator, going up to the thirty-fifth floor to look at ladies' dresses," said the poodle, and Uncle Wiggily just said "Oh," in a very faint and far-away voice.

Up he went popping in the elevator and, all of a sudden the cage, for that is what it looked like came to a quick stop and Uncle Wiggily cried "Ouch!"

"I'll let you out in just a minute. Don't be in such a rush!" barked the black poodle dog who ran the elevator.

"I didn't say 'out,' I said 'ouch!' because I bit my tongue when you stopped with such a jerk," answered Uncle Wiggily. And the elevator black poodle dog growled: "I guess you must be from the country, aren't you?"

"I am and I'm proud of it," answered Mr. Longears, as he walked out of the cage to help his wife buy a sky blue pink dress with yellow roses on it. Her husband wanted to walk down the thirty-five flights of stairs, but Mrs. Longears would not allow that, saying it was not stylish, so they got in the elevator again. And if the gold fish doesn't hang up a piece of swiss cheese instead of a lace curtain, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily mailing a letter.

Paris Continues to Cut Skirts Short and Bodies Long

ABBREVIATION remains the short cut to French chic. Women who are young enough, slim enough and neither over-tall nor under-short wear their frocks almost to the knee. If the legs are very long such brevity is startling, while in the opposite case the short frock has a too childish air. The fact remains that, for those who can wear it, the short skirt is extremely smart. It is no longer measured in inches, but every woman decides how far she can follow the mode. Circular skirts, like the one illustrated, can be quite short for they don't ride up when one walks or sits down. It is wise to try them both ways before binding off the lower edge.

The Examiner does not sell these patterns.

SOVIETS CLAIM PLOT UNEARTHED

Arrest 15 Men Charged With Stirring Up Mutiny in Ukraine.

MOSCOW, July 9 (Canadian Press).—Ukrainian G.P.U., successor to the Cheka, claims to have discovered a big counter-revolutionary organization secretly connected with an alliance of mutinous units functioning in Rumania under the leadership of General Gerau, who allegedly represents the Grand Duke Nicholas Nicholatevitch.

M. Ureniuk, said the be the secret emissary of General Gerau, and who later took up the work of organizing the mutinous peasant bands in Ukrania and the Crimea, was arrested, with fourteen white Russian officers, while crossing the Rumanian-Soviet frontier. The prisoners will be tried shortly at Kharkov.

FIGHT OVER DOG HAS SERIOUS END

One Man in Hamilton Hospital—Two Others in Jail.

NO CHARGE LAID.

HAMILTON, July 9.—An alleged brawl which had its genesis in a dog occurred about dusk last night in the colony of "squatters" who live on the fringe of the Dundas Marsh at the foot of Burlington Heights. William Tyler, Hamilton's dog-catcher, lies in the General Hospital in a serious condition. John J. Reid, 57 years old, and his 20-year-old son, William, are held by the police. No charge has been laid against them yet.

Tyler and the Reids all live in the colony of shacks by the marsh. There has been enmity between them for several weeks, it is stated. They did not speak. Reid's dog is said to have caused the rancor.

What Detective Learned.

From what Detective Buckett was able to learn, Tyler was passing near Reid's place when Reid spoke to some one else. Tyler, it is said, believed that the remarks were addressed to him. He is alleged to have turned to Reid and said:

"Come and finish the argument," striking a belligerent attitude as he did so.

Reid, a powerful man of lithe physique, accepted Tyler's challenge it is said. The latter was no physical match for the elder Reid. Reid advanced and struck Tyler a staggering blow on the jaw and Tyler was felled. Reid, it is alleged, then kicked Tyler ferociously about the body until the latter was unconscious. Reid's son, William, and another young man named Seth Pook, 112 Breadalbane Street, pulled the enraged father from the prone Tyler, and the police were called.

FINANCE LEADERS GATHER IN FRANCE

British and American Bankers at Antibes—Others Expected.

ANTIBES, France, July 9. — Everything points to an international financial meeting of great importance here.

Montagu Norman, head of the Bank of England, and Benjamin Strong, head of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, are both here, while S. Parker Gilbert, Agent-General for Reparation Collections, is expected here late to-day.

Reports also have been in circulation that a representative of the Bank of France will arrive within a few days.

Although neither Mr. Strong nor Mr. Norman will discuss his presence here, investigation at their hotels shows that both men have been following he French parliamentary discussions at Paris closely with indications that Emile Moreau, the newly appointed Governor of the Bank of France, has been communicating with them at great length.

Rumors have even been in circulation that German financiers, possibly including Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, the president of the German Reichsbank, are expected, but these could not be confirmed.

BIBLE CLASS OUTING.

W. F. B. C. of St. John's Church, Takes Trip To Cobourg.

(Contributed.)

The annual outing of St. John's Women's Friendly Bible Class took place yesterday when the majority of the members accompanied by the juveniles of their families, motored to Cobourg in a Hydro bus.

The waters of Lake Ontario served as an attraction for the younger set, while a number of "snap-shotters" kept the crowd busy posing on the beach.

The lake breezes seemed to whet the appetites so that the heavily-laden table which was prepared by the refreshment committee was soon emptied.

The shops were then visited and many souvenirs purchased.

The boat at the wharf did not escape but was invaded by a horde of youthful maidens who were entertained by an old "salt", who was a native of the "Isle of Man, where the tailless cats come from." The tales he told them were longer than cats' tails.

When the time for departure arrived no one could figure out how so many had ever ridden in one bus, and it took a deal of squeezing to get all back in again.

Of course the numerous boxes and baskets were empty and could be packed in a smaller space!

The lights of Peterboro were a welcome sight when the day was over, but already we could hear plans for "next year" being discussed. It was deeply regretted that several of our most valued members were prevented by illness from joining us, among them being the secretary (Mrs. Hake.)

Facts are stubborn things.

AUSTRALIANS' SEVENTH VICTORY FOLLOWS WORCESTER COLLAPSE

English County Failed Badly in the Second Innings.

DEADLY BOWLING

Mailey and Grimmett Wrought Havoc With Wickets of Opposing Batsmen.

WORCESTER, England, July 9 (Canadian Press)—The Australians' seventh victory of the tour was secured yesterday afternoon when the two day match against Worcester ended in the complete collapse of the county team in the second innings. The statistics were:

The Australians: 197 and 182 for four wickets;

Worcestershire, 120 and 83.

The high scorer of the match was M. K. Foster who in Worcester's first innings made 62 runs — more than half of his team's total. This was followed by 55 by W. Bardsley and 51 by J. Richardson, compiled in the Australians' second innings.

Batting Indifferent

Worcester's batting was indifferent. In the first turn, Wright, Tarbox and Rogers were dismissed for one run each, while Hopkins, Bowles and Wilson did not get even that far. In their second innings Anston, Wilson and Major F. S. Jewell (absent, Hurt) stood at zero, while Wright, and Fox had one run. Only Hopkins, Root and Rogers got into double figures in the second innings.

The bowling of Arthur Mailey and Clarence Grimmett was too deadly for the home county. Mailey had four wickets for 20 runs and Grimmet four for 31.

The next Australian fixture is the third test match, to begin at Leeds on Saturday next.

LADY UMPIRES SOFTBALL GAME

Kiwanis Defeated by Springville Aggregation at Strawberry Festival.

A batting rally in the third, led by Mr. Johnston, defeated Kiwanis Club and swept the Springville team to victory last night in a three-innings softball game at the annual garden party at Springville church. The score was 14 to 8.

A unique feature of the game was the lady umpire, whose decisions were never questioned.

S. Staples did the heaving for Springville, giving a good of himself throughout the game. Ernie Smith started for Kiwanis, but was replaced by Walter Kidd in the third when twelve of the fourteen runs had been made. His support, especially at first base and behind the plate, was not encouraging, and the game was lost when Ivan Lillico refused to look in the long grass for the ball and allowed Staples to clear the bases.

The teams:

Springville— Sweeter, Hazeman, Tully, Gibson, Johnston, Staples, Louis, Cathcart, Swain and Herron.

Kiwanis—Kidd, Smith, Craig, Reynolds, Saunders, Lillico, Herron, Adams and Gillespie.

LEAGUE LEADERS MAKE GOOD FINISH

Score 12 Runs in Seventh and Eighth To Win Game.

CAMPBELLFORD, July 9.—The Millionaires, with Weston pitching, gave the Clerks a great battle for six innings in their association softball game at the Agricultural Grounds last night, but the shop boys pulled out some lusty wallops in the seventh, mixed with a couple of errors, for seven runs, and continued the assault against Reindeau for five more in the eighth to win 15 to 2. After the first two innings the Clerks played snappy ball behind Thomas, and a pair of Texas Leaguers were the only balls to get out of the infield, the Clerk outfield not having a chance all through the game.

Weston had the Clerks at his mercy for four innings, Denike's two singles being the only safe hits, and the League leaders were visibly worried, but they got to him for a pair in the fifth for a run and another two for a run in the sixth to take the lead for the first time in the game.

The line-up:

Millionaires—Calver, rf; Dunk, 3b; Reindeau, 2b and p; Weston, p and 2b; Mitchell, c; Osborne, ss; Ferris, 1b; Williams, cf; Wiggings, lf.

BAILIEBORO WINS

Comes From Behind in Last Inning to Beat Bensfort.

BAILIEBORO, July 9—On Tuesday evening the Bensfort boys motored to Bailieboro and played a very close game of soft ball. Bensfort got away to a good start, but failed to hold the Bailieboro boys in the last innings. Several of the villagers turned out to see the game, and there was plenty of cheering and argument. A return game will be played soon.

The lineup was:

For Bensfort—M. Wood, c; W. Wood, p; A. McConnachie, 1b; G. Morrison, 2b; E. Reid, 3b; M. Nurse, ss; Joe oWod and G. Dean, fielders.

TWO HOME RUNS HELP LEAFS WIN FROM KEYS 9-2

Owen Carrol Records His Thirteenth Victory of the Season.

NEW RECRUIT

Tillie Walker, Lately of Baltimore, Shines for Toronto.

TORONTO, Ont., July 9.—(Canadian Press).—Toronto defeated Reading 9 to 2 yesterday in the first game of a four-game series to open a long stay at home. The Leafs hit Ellis timely in two innings, while Owen Carroll did not have to use up much energy holding the Keys in check. It was his thirteenth victory of the season. O'Neill and Capes helped with home runs. Tillie Walker, former big league star and more recently with Baltimore, joined the Leafs and in his first game had two hits and stole two bases.

The score:

Reading ..... 000000011—2 10 3
Toronto ..... 00152001x—9 12 0

Bears Lose.

NEWARK, July 9.—(Canadian Press).—Newark took an 11 to 5 pummelling from the Syracuse Stars. The Bears trotted out five twirlers in an effort to halt Syracuse, but none proved effective. Frankhouse was never in danger after the first inning when Newark counted twice.

In the other games, Thormahlen held Baltimore to eight hits and the league leaders were forced to succumb to Rochester by a 9 to 4 count. Jersey City nosed out the Buffalo Bisons, 8 to 7, in a fairly heavy hitting battle, in which each team used three slabmen.

Chicago Pro Breaks Course Record at Scioto With 68.

COLUMBUS, O., July 9. — (C.P.) Bill Mehlhorn of Chicago set a fast pace for the first round of the United States open golf championship with the record score of 68 for the Scioto Country Club links. He had a marvellous 33 to establish the record for the first nine, but was not quite so fast on the homeward trip.

CRICKET NEWS

The Peterboro C. C. has arranged a practice match to-morrow afternoon between teams captained by F. Dyer and D. Hammond, at the exhibition grounds at 2.15 sharp. All members of the team, and any others that would like to get into the game are asked to turn out. Practice to-night at 8 o'clock, when the teams for to-morrow's game will be chosen as far as possible.

BILL MEHLHORN SETS STILL PACE IN OPEN TOURNEY

Makes Score of 68 in First 18 at Scioto County Club.

JUNIOR CHALLENGES

New Player in National Gives Fine Initial Performance.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, July 9. — (Canadian Press).—Ignoring the severe penalties of the links and belying predictions of high scores, Bill Mehlhorn of Chicago yesterday played so well that he set a record of 33 for the first time and of 68 for the 6,736-yard course of the Scioto County Club in the first round of the national open golf championship.

Even with this performance, he got the lead of the 151 starters by only two strokes, for Bobby Jones of Atlanta, United States amateur and British open title-holder, tallied two splendid 35's for a 70 or one under par on each half. His golf was a mixture of brilliancy and human frailty, as he went over par on three holes only to make good the deficiency and even gain two strokes with three birdies and an eagle three on the 480-yard eighth.

Just as every one had decided that Mehlhorn and Jones stood alone with 70 or better and twilight was falling over the links, word was wafted to the scorers that John H. Junor of Portland, Ore., was coming with a birdie four for another 70. He was in the last pair to finish, but despite the fading twilight and the knowledge that he had to score four on a dogleg hole of 480 yards, the westerner slammed his shots home and got a pair of 35's just like the British open champion.

Dark Horse.

No one had counted on Junor, as he had never played in a national meet before, although he is 33 years old and came to America 20 years ago from Aberdeen, Scotland. Junor recently won the Northwestern open title with a 291 at Spokane, and before that had finished second in the Oregon open.

A score of other golfers shot 75 or better. Al. Espinosa of Chicago and Joe Turnesa of New York lacked only one putt each of halving Jones' total, each going out in 35 and coming home in par thirty-six.

Leading a quartette who scored par 72, was Willie MacFarlane of New York, defending champion, who took one off perfect figures on the out nine, but was one worse coming in. His par score was tied by Dan Williams, Pat Doyle and Leo Diegel of New York. Doyle came within a stroke of Mehlhorn's record 33 for the first half, but took 38 on the second. Williams and Diegel equalled perfect figures on both halves.

Hagen Ties for Ninth Place.

Walter Hagen kept even with par through many holes by balancing rare slips with birdies, but he finally had to chip dead out of a bunker for a birdie four on the home hole to get 37 for the nine, totalling 73 to tie for ninth place with Tom Harmon of New York.

From this point the scores ranged up through from sixty players to eighty, and there were a goodly number who went far beyond that barrier of good golf in an open championship. A few even got the 90's, although only a couple admitted it by turning in their cards. Among the withdrawals was Peter O'Hara of Australia, who could not get going on the tricky course.

It was a glorious day for golf, except for an excess of heat. The sun shone brightly and there was just enough breeze.

GORDON CUP GAME ON SATURDAY

Masseys Versus Quakers in First Round—Kick-Off at Three.

The 1926 series of the G. N. Gordon Soccer Cup opens on Saturday afternoon between the Quaker Oats and Masseys at Nicholls Oval. Kick off is scheduled for three o'clock prompt. Referee is Alex McKinley.

It is only two weeks ago since these two elevens met in the Phelan Cup final when the Masseys gained the trophy after a three-three contest, but scored four extra corners in the extra time played.

The Quakers will be out in full force so as to eliminate their previous conquerors, while then opponents intend repeating the previous performance.

A very large crowd witnessed the last game and the fans will see a real ninety minute match tomorrow.

METHODS OF LATE GOVERNMENT

treasury have been in regard to this matter, but I think a moderate estimate of those losses would be $30,000,000 annually."

Over a year ago Mr. Sparks had told the premier, that customs loss was equal annually, the deficit of the C.N.R.

"This thing should have been stopped, not only because of the losses to the public exchequer," said Mr. Stevens, "but because of the high loss to the business men of Canada, due to unfair competition. It was utterly unfair when business men, trying to carry on and observing the law, were outbid and outdone by others operating in open and flagrant violation of the laws. The loss to business men in Canada alone has been estimated at from $100,000,000 to $200,000,000 yearly. I think that is a conservative estimate because in isolated cases there were losses shown of hundreds of thousands and even millions of dollars. Mr. King himself admitted some time ago that the loss would be $100,000,00.

"For 18 months or more Mr. King and his ministry knew of this condition and did practically nothing to remedy them. He notified the boards of trades of Toronto, Montreal, and other cities that these conditions would be remedied. The only action the King government took was to dismiss the notorious Bisaillon in Montreal, after we had asked for an investigation. And Bisaillon has openly stated that after the probe was over he would be returned to his position.

"The failure of the customs department was not from the bottom up but from the top down," declared Mr. Stevens. "The failure of the minister to appreciate his responsibility, was what began this corruption. It gradually percolated down to the underofficers and throughout the whole preventive force.

"I say advisedly that Mr. Bureau, minister of customs, debauched that department, and it was largely through this that the collapse came." Other causes were the government failure to remedy things, the Volstead act in the States, autos and good roads.

Morale Broken

"The Voistead act made it possible for some men to make easy money," he said. Business men could not wink at business looseness and hope that eventually it would not affect them. It would be bound to affect the whole commercial life of the country.

"You cannot look lightly on the smuggling of liquor or the breaking of liquor laws and not expect to see the customs regulations broken by the smuggling into Canada of silk and radio sets and all sorts of things. You can't break the laws of commerce any more than the moral law without feeling the effect of it and paying for it some time.

"I want to say that Hon. Jacques Bureau, while he was minister of customs, looked lightly on liquor smuggling and that attitude broke the morale of the customs department on other lines and that led to the breaking down and disintegration of the customs work."

It was a natural principle of commerce that carriers of goods should have a load both going and coming. "I am not preaching free trade," he said, "I am not to be accused of talking heresy." (Laughter).

It was natural that those men smuggling liquor into the United States wanted to bring loads back into Canada. Then followed robberies of warehouses in Chicago and New York, and the smuggling into Canada of silks, radio sets and all sorts of things. He told of an overall man whose business had been ruined by such competition, but now, since the probe, had been able to start up again, and was getting large orders.

Flood of Stolen Cars

Canada, continued Mr. Stevens, had been flooded with automobiles, stolen from the United States, and as had been proven before the committee the most encouraging element of the theft was the dominion government. "Absolutely and without any reserve I make that statement. They facilitated by their method of administration and by their regulations the bringing into Canada of stolen automobiles from the United States and put the greatest obstacles in the way of their recovery by the legitimate owner. We have already reversed that. We have put into operation, and within a few days will put other regulations into operation which I think will effectively stop that traffic." Those automobiles had been dumped into Canada by the hundreds—by the thousands might be said—and placed in competition not only with second hand but with new machines. Mr. Stevens declared the method had been for the automobile thief to deliberately set out to steal an automobile from the United States, take it to a Canadian customs officer, surrender it as a smuggled automobile and then buy it back for a few hundred dollars (although worth $2,000 or $3,000) and furthermore Mr. King and his government had every detail of that set before then eighteen months ago."

Touching on the sales tax, he said that a very considerable number of merchants treated the sales tax as of minor importance. Many brokers were failing to report the sales tax on imported goods, with the result that while the Canadian manufacturer was paying his sales tax honestly and was compelled to do so because he kept proper records, the importer in many cases was not reporting the sales tax by declaring the goods were going to a licensed dealer, when in fact they were going to unlicensed dealers.

Mr. Stevens declared frankly that if he were continued as customs minister, neither Grit nor Tory would be allowed to evade the sales tax. (Applause). "I have before me the results of an audited statement showing two firms—I won't say who they are or where—because they will be dealt with very shortly—where in one case $9,000 and in the other $7,500 of sales tax has been evaded. Since the probe started they have fairly well observed the customs law because they thought we were after them." There were hundreds of such cases, not all so large. The unfairness came in because the honest manufacturer could be undersold on the market by his evading competitor. "That is a condition that cannot be allowed to continue. It is our intention that this law be administered fairly to the Canadian people."

Promises Action

"You can't enforce a law without hurting someone—particularly those who have avoided the law," declared Mr. Stevens. "But I intend to see that the law is respected and obeyed while I am in charge of the customs department.

"With regard to the export of liquor to the United States, there are some who say "What business is that of yours, as minister of customs?" With those I agree that it is none of our business. There are others who say that we ought to get as much money as possible for liquor that is made in Canada, and I am bound to say that I agree with them too.

"But what I have to declare is that as long as I have anything to do with the administration of the department of customs, I will never allow the department to be used as a medium of bootlegging liquor into the United States If we do not hold to that policy without any exception, and if you and the people of Canada generally do not support me in that stand, then we can never remedy the conditions that have been shown to exist in the customs service of Canada.

"We have been giving official clearance to cargoes of liquor to the United States. We wouldn't give clearance to cargoes of arms or narcotics, and so an all down the list until we come to liquor. Now what I say is that there is no inherent right in the handling of liquor that does not apply to any other article.

Expect 12 Out of 14

"In every branch of business the law as it stands shall be respected, no matter what line of business it may be. The same regulations shall be applicable to liquor as to other branches of trade, and no exception will be made of liquor.

"I have given some brief indication of the direction in which we are trying to conduct the affairs of Canada. We are looking to Toronto and to Ontario to give not only what you gave a few months ago, but even to increase that representation.

"In British Columbia, where last election we returned 10 out of 14 Conservatives, we are going to return at least 12 out of 14 this election. Word from your sister province of Quebec, whose economic interests and fiscal policy should be the same as yours, offers to us encouragement we haven't had for years from that source. We are going to the country with confidence, sure that our policy is sound, and that we will carry the government and the Conservative party to victory."

Ferguson Makes Promise

Premier Ferguson, in moving a vote of thanks to the speaker, put the seal of his approval on the ideal "of a clean, stable and honest government."

"There are some small Canadians who are trying to raise another issue," said the Ontario premier. "Mackenzie King, with the aid of that useful organ, The Toronto Star, is seeking to raise a constitutional issue. Then we have my old friend Mr. Raney, who would sever the two ties that bind us to the motherland. And Mr. W. D. Gregory, who permitted himself to be interviewed, a disciple of Goldwin Smith and an avowed annexationist."

These sallies of Mr. Ferguson were received with titters of tickled laughter and applause by the loyal Tories.

"Why do people forget," demanded Mr. Ferguson, taking a new tone, "that Lord Byng did more by his leadership of the Canadian army to shed glory on Canada than did any other man in the country?"

"The governor-general simply used his common sense," he went on. Then he proceeded to review the circumstances of the last election. Mackenzie King had said he needed a greater majority to carry on. He came back from the country with a smaller number of followers. He carried on as long as he could until defeat faced him and then he asked for another chance. "I would have my doubts as to the sanity of any governor-general who would accept such a plea as that," said Mr. Ferguson amidst applause. He could assure Mr. Stevens that he might promise Meighen a larger number of Tory members than he had in the last parliament.

ANOTHER TEST ON SATURDAY

England and Australia Start Third Game To-morrow at Leeds.

TEAMS UNCHOSEN.

LONDON, July 9.—The battle for the "ashes," mythical emblem of the world's cricket supremacy, will be resumed on Saturday, when no official action having yet been taken on the Australian proposal for an extension in playing time, the third test match will open at Leeds, and will conclude on Tuesday next..

Up to the present A. W. Carr, the England captain, has not yet decided how he will balance up his team. The inclusion among the possibilities of Charles Parker, the great left-arm bowler of Gloucester, who created a sensation last season by taking 17 of Essex wickets for 56 runs, suggests that Mr Carr feels that his second test match team was top-heavy on the batting side, and that a further relief to his bowlers would not be bad policy. Whether the youthful Larwood will again find a place is problematical, although his performance at Lord's was entirely to his credit. It was of Larwood that the cricket expert of The Times wrote:

Youngest Player Chosen

"Larwood is, I believe, the youngest professional bowler ever selected to play for England. He completely justified his selection, proving himself to be possessed of confidence, and when wisely used, sufficient stamina. He got an appreciable amount of life out of the true and easy-paced wicket, and for a fast bowler his length was commendably regular."

Since them, however, Larwood has again appeared again the Australians, and at Trent Bridge last week his three wickets for 88 runs were dubiously commented on. But it is not unlikely that Mr. Carr may decide to retain Larwood as a regular relief to Maurice Tate, Root, Roy Kilner and possibly Parker.

Thirteen men are down on the possible list, including Carr and A. P. F. Chapman, and out of that "baker's dozen" two will have to be omitted. The question is: Who are the unfortunates? The decision is up to England's skipper.

"Aussies" Roster Smaller

Australia's selection is limited for all practical purposes to fourteen, for with H. L. Collins, the captain, in hospital with anthritis, and H. L. Hnedry just recovering from an attack of scarlet fever, the "gallant sixteen" have been whittled down. It is unlikely that J. H. Ellis will play, the task of guarding the Antipodeans wicket going in all likelihood to W. A. Oldfield, while the inexperience of S. Everett in test matches may militate against his selection. Cricket followers expect that Clarence Grimmett will find a place in the Australians' bowling department in the third test match, and that he will be additional to A. Richardson, Arthur Mailey, Charles G. Macartney and J. S. Ryder. Warren Bardsley, J. M. Gregory and W. M. Woodfull are looked upon as certainties, so that the omission is likely to be taken from W. H. Ponsford, J. M. Taylor and T. J. E. Andrews most favored for inclusion.

Should the predictions of these close observers of the game correct, the Australians would then line up: Bardsley, Richardson, Macartney, Woodfull, Andrews, Gregory, Ryder, Oldfield, Mailey, Grimmett and Ponsford.

PRIVATE PEAT TO LECTURE HERE

Soldier-Author to Speak at Chautauqua.

"The Inexcusable Lie" Will Be Subject of Masterly Discussion of Questions of Moment.

Harold R. Peat, who as Private Peat won an international reputation in the telling of his experiences during the Great War, will deliver his noteworthy lecture, "The Inexcusable Lie," at the coming Dominion Chautauqua here. Both in his books, which have been exceptionally popular, and in the lecture platform, Private Peat presents his ideas with clear-cut directness and clarity, and with a vividness that is tremendously convincing. Private Peat in his lecture here discusses the problem of the proper education of the youth of the world, with the idea of producing later a better understanding among the nations. He asks for a more just appreciation of the real qualifications of greatness. A war hero, he tells vividly of the horrors of war.

HAROLD R. PEAT

As a speaker, Private Peat is essentially dynamic and sincere. He is an orator of great power, and wherever he speaks he makes a profound impression.

Appearing with the Dominion Chautauqua, Peterborough, afternoons and evenings, July 17, 19, 20, 21, 22.

TWO TEAMS TIED FOR FIRST PLACE

C. G. E. and Belmonts Play Off To-morrow—Winners Meet Firemen.

With the C.G.E. defeating the Knights of Columbus last night at the King Edward School Grounds, there are two teams tied for first place in "A" group of the Men's Softball League. The tie will be played off at Central Park on Saturday night at 6.30. The Belmonts have already suffered two defeats this season from the C.G.E. team, the score being 10-8 each time. This game ought to be a real battle between two old rivals. Nichols and Howell have been doing the hurling for the C.G.E. and Harrison and McLean for the Belmonts.

The four teams which will make up the post-season series to decide a winner to go on in the Ontario softball finals are Belmonts, C.G.E., Triple Link and Firemen. The schedule of these games will be started immediately after the Taylor Cup finals. In the post-season series there ought to be splendid softball played as all players are released who took part in the City League, and it is expected that the best players in the city will be on these four teams.

On Monday evening the first game for the Taylor Cup will be played in James Stevenson Park at 6.30 between the Firemen and the winners of the Saturday night game. The second game will be played on Wednesday night, and if a third is necessary on Saturday night.

SOCCER NOTES.

The Quaker soccer executive have chosen the following team for tomorrow's game: Curtis, goal; S. Maker and H. Curtis, backs; W. Logan, Carmichael and A Maker, half-backs; J. Mitchell, G. Logan, A. Mitchell, Wilson and Burgess, forwards; reserve, T. Williams.

HECKMAN WILL BE ON RUBBER AGAINST GOYER

Two Unbeaten Twirlers Face Each Other Here To-morrow.

MUCH AT STAKE.

Both Teams Need a Win and Rivalry Between Two Is Keen.

The only two unbeaten twirlers in the Central Ontario loop will battle it out to-morrow when Belleville and the Petes clash at Riverside Park at 3 o'clock.

From the Petes' camp comes the announcement that Al. Heckman will be sent to the firing line against Peeney Mills and Company, while Gilly Goyer, who has beaten the Petes in both his starts against them, will be detailed by Manager Gerow to work here to-morrow. There will only be one twirler in the League with a clean sheet after to-morrow's game and the battle between the two right-handers should be full of interest. On top of this pitchers' duel the fact that both teams want the win badly makes tomorrow's game loom up as one of the best of the season. The biggest local crowd of the year will be out in view of the Petes' fine performance in their last game with Kingston.

ATHLETICS MOVE TO HIGHER PLACE

Hold Early Lead Over Chicago Despite Visitors' Last Inning Rally.

TWO HOMERS

NEW YORK, July 9.—(Canadian Press).—Connie Mack's Philadelphia Athletics went into second place in the American League standing yesterday by nosing out the Chicago White Sox, 8 to 7, at Philadelphia. The Mackmen took a commanding lead early and held an 8 to 2 margin in the fifth innings. The visitors rallied in the ninth and scored five runs, but fell one short of tying up the contest. Simmons and Poole hit homers. The Yankees returned home from their western invasion and celebrated their home coming by accepting a 6 to 1 walloping at the hands of Tris Speaker's Indians. The only other American League game played resulted in Detroit's sixth straight loss, the Boston Red Sox pounding Wells and Holloway for 15 hits and a 7 to 3 victory.

NEW YORK WANTS DECISION QUICKLY

Seeks Development of St. Lawrence Power— Inspect Niagara.

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., July 9.—The New York State Water Power Commission yesterday passed a resolution authorizing State Engineer Roy G. Finch to arrive at a decision with the Ontario Provincial authorities as to whether a double or single stage power development should be undertaken along the St. Lawrence River.

Soon after the resolution was passed Mr. Finch and Deputy Attorney-General Randall J. Le Boeuf, Jr., the water power expert, returned to Toronto to pursue the matter with the officials there.

Lower River Development.

While here members of the Commission inspected the power developments on both sides of the Niagara River, and conducted a hearing on the application of Lower Niagara River Power and Water Company for a license to develop power in the Lower Gorge. Testimony as to this company's plans of development and financial stability was taken by the board. Members of the Commission were taken to the location of the proposed development, which calls for the construction of two gigantic tunnels for a distance of 15,000 feet.

Attorney-General Ottinger said after the meeting that the Commission desired that an agreement be entered into between Ontario and New York State relative to the St. Lawrence development at the earliest possible moment in order that the commission may go ahead and advertise for bids. Fifteen days must elapse then before a license can be granted.

Better Understanding.

Discussing the meeting with officials of the Province of Ontario at Toronto Mr. Ottinger said the New Yorkers were splendidly received by Premier Ferguson and others and asserted that such conferences should be held more often in order that Canada and the U.S. might know one another better.

At the hearing officers of the company, proposing to develop the Lower Gorge, asserted that the scenic beauty of the Whirlpool Rapids would not be imperilled by the proposed diversion of 19,725 cubic feet per second for the $40,000,000 hydro-electric development. They declared that taking such a limited volume of water would add to rather than detract from the rugged charm of the swift flowing currents. The estimated cost of the proposed development would be $40,000,000.

HELPFUL HINTS BY GOLFING STARS

BY SPECIAL ARRANGEMENT WITH GOLFERS MAGAZINE, CHICAGO

JOYCE WETHERED—MASTERY OF SWING.

It is the commonest thing to see the greatest players playing shots from the fairway up to the hole with monotonous precision and yet to find them at times strangely crooked from the tee. Probably two chief reasons exist for this rather perplexing fact. It is quite possible that the ball, when it is teed up, free from direct contact with the ground, is peculiarly sensitive to various spins which arise from any divergence from a perfectly true swing: and to support this theory, it is a noticeable fact that some players, when they find themselves hitting their drives amiss, discard the tee altogether and play the ball directly off the ground. The contact may have a steadying effect on the stroke.

Another reason may be that the harder a player hits the more he accentuates the slightest error in striking.

A woman, or a man with only moderate height, may be rarely in trouble simply because they do not get far enough to matter. But prolong the direction line of their shots, and they may soon find themselves in very serious difficulties.

SECRETS of STARS on INSIDE BASEBALL

as told to BILLY EVANS

BY EDDIE COLLINS.

COLLINS

For a second baseman to properly cover his position, play smart baseball, he must know the style of every bal that is to be pitched.

Therefore the brainy second baseman is always familiar with every sign in the catcher's category. This gives him a working knowledge of whether the pitch is to be a fast one, a curve, a slow ball, a knuckler, a spitter or a waste ball. Knowing these things is most essential to the proper play of the second baseman, for he can position himself accordingly.

When a second baseman covers on an attempted double steal he should always arrive in ample time to take the throw It is far easier handling a thrown ball from a stationary position than catching it on the run.

Incidentally, the second baseman who receives the ball while in a stationary position has a decided advantage in ouching a runner over the player who gets it on the run. Being set for the ball nd the runner makes it possible for the fielder to figure in what manner the player ill slide in an attempt to avoid the touch.

Too many second basemen wait until the ball is in the catcher's hands before starting for the bag. This is a grievous mistake. The player should leave his position as the runner starts.

It is possible to start too quickly. This enables the opposition to realize who is covering and gives the smart batter a chance to hit through the spot vacated

CRESSMAN PICNIC IS GREAT SUCCESS

Annual Outing Held This Year at Chemong Park.

The annual outing of the staff of the Cressman Company's store took the form yesterday of a picnic at Chemong Park. About forty-five of the members of the staff were present, and had a jolly time, enjoying an al fresco supper, a programme of races and ball games, a good deal of community singing, in which the voices of Messrs. I. Rattenbury and B. Hickey were said to be very prominent, and an evening of dancing later at the Pavilion. Miss B. Dawson acted as general convenor of arrangements, and Mr. C. H. Benson had charge of the program of sports, games and races, which included a baseball game, won by T. Maudsley's team, with a score of 9 to 7, over a team captained by B. Reid, a tug-of-war and a series of races, with plenty of fun afforded the spectators in the wheelbarrow, boot and shoe, egg and spoon, needle and slow walking race, the latter proving the outstanding event of the programme. Prizes for the events included watches, belts, cups and saucers, chocolates, cushions, and cigarettes, with all-day suckers as awards in the ladies' tug-of-war. Winners in the different classes included the Misses Levine, Comrie, Cameron, Murphy, Wheeler, Macdonald, Pogue and Morrison, and Messrs. Hickey, Rose, Maudsley, and Boone.

AT THE REGENT

MONTE BLUE AGAIN SPEEDS IT UP IN "RED HOT TIRES"

Follows Thrills of 'Limited Mail' With Laughs of 'Red Hot Tires."

In "Red Hot Tires," the Warner Bros. Classic of the screen which is opening to-day at the Regent Theatre for a two days' engagement, Monte Blue makes his second appearance this season in a speed production. Since the signing of his new contract with the Warners, he has appeared in "The Limited Mail," a melodrama of train wrecks, and now in this picturization of the Gregory Rogers automobile wrecking story.

Originally Monte won his film success in virile characterizations, for which his life as a cowboy, miner, carpenter and railroader fitted him. But with pictures like "The Marriage Circle," "The Lover of Camille" and "Kiss Me Again," he gradually became associated with more subtle roles He was becoming the great Continetal lover, when "The Limited Mail" brought him back to his American birthright

Patsy Ruth Miller plays the heroine of "Red Hot Tires"; Fred Esmelton, her father, and Charles Conklin, a colored coachman. Lincoln Stedman is the friend of the hero, and Tom McGuire and William Lowery the kidnappers. Jimmy Quinn is a gambler, and Malcolm Waite a crook.

More tourists visited Egypt this year than possibly in any other season since the war.

CITY SECURES NEW INDUSTRY; COUNCIL HELPS

Seabright Company To Operate in Part of Nashua Plant.

BIG BUSINESS.

Walter Byers and Hugh Niven Other City Men Engaged.

After negotiations lasting nearly two years, R. A. Brown, Manager of the Canadian Nashua Paper Company, has succeeded in inducing the Sealright Company of Fulton, New York, to establish their Canadian factory in this city.

The Sealright Company, who are the largest manufacturers in the world of bottle caps and liquid tight paper cans, were loath to come to the city, but finally agreed to establish a Canadian corporation with a Dominion charter if the officials of the Canadian Nashua Paper Company would take hold of the executive management and merchandising of their products in Canada.

A Corporation has been formed capitalized at $100,000, seven per cent preferred stock, and 1000 shares of no par common stock.

Machinery of special design has been purchased and is now being installed.

The new company will take a share of the Canadian Nashua Paper Company's factory plant, but its affairs will be handled entirely separate from those of the Canadian Nashua Paper Company.

The officers of the new company are:

Winthrop L. Carter, President.
Eugene W. Skinner, Vice-President.
Robt. A. Brown, Secretary-Treasurer.

Local Managers.

The new company has been fortunate in being able to recruit its Sales Manager and Plant Superintendent locally. Hugh M. Niven will be in charge of sales and Walter Byers will be plant superintendent.

The Sealright cans have been well known in Canada for several years, but the company has been at a great disadvantage in marketing them because of having no manufacturing plant in this country.

The use of these cans as containers for ice cream, oysters, preserves and fruit products in general would seem to ensure a very large market now that the question of home manufacture has been provided for.

Officials Helped.

R. A. Brown, Manager of the Canadian Nashua Paper Company, spoke particularly of the co-operation and assistance he had received from the city officials in bringing this new industry to the city. He stated that negotiations had been long drawn out and at times discouraging, but he felt sure this new industry would prove one of lasting benefit to the city.

The American Company, he said, manufactures over 50 per cent. of all the bottle caps used in the United States, in addition to having an output of half a million cans a day.

GERMANIC UNION TO BE DISCUSSED

Women's International Congress Will Consider German-Austria Combine.

DUBLIN, June 10 (Canadian Press)—International problems, including a possible union between Germany and Austria, were among the subjects discussed at the fifth biennial congress of the Women's International League for peace and freedom, which opened here on Friday.

Miss Edith Schwerg, the Austrian delegate, spoke on the problems facing Austria as a result of the war. She said a great many Austrians were in favor of a union with Germany for economic reasons and because of national sentiment.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT NARROWLY AVERTED

Truck Swerves in Gravel and Collides With Sedan Car.

What might have been a serious accident occurred yesterday afternoon on the Warsaw road about six miles from the city when a truck swerved in some loose gravel, and crashed broadside into a sedan car. None of the occupants of the truck or car were injured although the resulting crash was severe enough to hurl the radiator of the truck a distance of about 20 feet from the scene of the accident.

The damages to the truck consisted of one front wheel completely demolished, a broken windshield, the radiator smashed, and the fenders crushed beyond repair.

The other car had the windows broken and one door badly buckled, and a front fender badly damaged.

The car was able to proceed to Peterborough under its own power.

THOMAS GIVES MEN ULTIMATUM

Tells Extremists That Policy Won't Be Dictated To — His Union.

ADDRESSES UNION.

WEYMOUTH, England, July 10 (Canadian Press).—The Right Hon. J. H. Thomas, the Railwaymen's Secretary, who for weeks has been the subject of attacks from extremists in the Labor party for the part he played in calling off the general strike, to-day delivered what the press interprets as an ultimatum to the Communists.

Speaking at the conference of the National Union of Railwaymen here, the famous leader declared: "I don't propose to allow the policy of the National Union of Railwaymen to be dictated or influence by any outside bodies, whether they are called the 'minority government' of this country, or saviors of any other country."

Power Costs Rise From Year to Year

Peterborough City Council Can Find Food For Thought in Report of Eastern Association.

The report of the meeting of the Eastern Power Association, which appeared in Friday's issue, is well worthy of special attention by the City Council.

It plainly shows that the cost of electric power is increasing from year to year in many of the smaller cities and towns.

Dr. Anderson, the Mayor of Smith's Falls, said: "The power costs "which at first were reasonable enough had gradually been advanced until "in June they received notice that the charge would be $50.00 per horse-"power per annum. . . . The effect on industry was almost disastrous. "The Frost and Wood Co. of Smith's Falls as a matter of self preservation "sought relief by going back to steam power and later acquired a power "plant of its own. The Hawthorne Mills at Carleton Place went back to "steam. Other important users are being forced out and the result is "higher prices for those who remain."

HYDRO RATES INCREASING

In 1924, before the recent raise in wholesale cost of power was made by the Hydro Electric Power Commission the following wholesale cost of power was paid by the following municipalities: Perth, $47.50 per h.p; Picton, $48..00 per h.p; Prescott, $40.00 per h.p.; Williamsburg, $65.00 per h.p.; Carleton Place $46.50 per h.p., and lastly Smith's Falls, $40.00 per h.p. and it must be noted that Mayor Anderson says the cost has been recently raised to $50.00.

PETERBOROUGH RATES INCREASING

The hand-writing on the wall, showing increasing cost of power to Peterborough, can be plainly seen in part, but the most "disastrous" part to our industries has not yet been deciphered. During the last five or six years our wholesale power rates have been increased from $17.50 per h.p to $22.50 per h.p., and last year they were increased to $26.35, and yet there are further increases to follow. The reader must remember these are wholesale costs, and not retail costs to power consumers. The cost of distribution must be added and on the average that amounts to $10.00 per annum and it is submitted that investigation would show that the red tape imposed on the Local Commission by the Hydro Commission will account for much of this increased cost.

ORILLIA RATES COMING DOWN

Now let us turn for a moment to the Town of Orillia, which has not been bitten by the Hydro Electric Power Commission bug. That town has a power plant at Swift Rapids on the Severn River where 6,000 h.p. can be developed. It is further away from Orillia than Burleigh Falls. Power is sold in Orillia at only $12.00 per h.p. on the rated capacity of the motor. Their Commission now has a surplus of $303,096.81, and remember this is a safe surplus and is not liable to be plundered like ours to the tune of $35,000.00 in one fell sweep. In fact, this Orillia Commission has assets worth $780,000, and their total outstanding debenture debt is now only $316,506.14. Last year they reduced their debenture debt $18,798.64.

It is an old adage, that the wise man learns from the experience of others, and the simple one from his own. This city has surely had enough experience to see our power rates are bound to increase and that we should now seek the remedy. Orillia points the way. Develop our own powers to the North and at present rates this city can make even a better showing than Orillia in paying off debentures, with power rates always coming down, instead of always going up.

Audience Runs For Home As Bandsmen Ask Way

Rather an unfortunate choice was made by Lieut. W H Peryer when he drew up the program for last night's concert by the Band of the Peterborough Rangers. Little more than half way through the first half of the programe the band began to play an arrangement of the old chorus, "Show Me the Way to Go Home." Just at that moment the rain, which had been threatening all evening, began to fall quite heavily and the audience began to seek a way to go home so that the least possible exposure to the moisture would be incurred.

Some of those present found refuge on nearby verandahs or in cars and remained to hear the remainder of a well-balanced program, one of a series being given in Victoria Park this summer under the instructions of the City Council.

STABILIZING FRENCH FINANCES BY HELP OF LOANS FROM ABROAD CRITICIZED BY MODERATE LEADER

Caillaux Is Sole Defender of Government's Debt Liquidation Plans.

VIGOROUS ASSAULT.

First Thing Needed Is Restoration of Confidence of People.

PARIS, July 10. — (Canadian Press.)—Finance Minister Caillaux and the Briand Cabinet were under heavy fire on the financial question when the Chamber of Deputies adjourned at 7 o'clock last evening to get in a little rest before the scheduled night session.

During the four days of debate on the course of the government which is hoped to produce stabilization of the franc and ratification of the Washington debt agreement, the Cabinet's programe has been defended only by M. Caillaux. Yesterday former Minister of the Budget Georges Bonnet and Maurice Bokanowski, one of M. Caillaux's colleagues on the latter's unsuccessful Washington debt mission, pressed him closely on his programme.

The vigorous assault by M. Bokanowski, who is one of the leaders of the moderate groups which has been accustomed to help the various cabinets in distress during the past two years, made a greater impression on the governmental benches than all previous interpellations.

Belgium's Example.

M. Bokonowski objected particularly to any idea of a foreign loan as a feature of stabilization of French finances. He demanded that the government tell the chamber if it were disposed to repeat the experience of Belgium. He said that after the Belgian government had stabilized its currency and asked for loans from the United States, it found that it would be necessary to pledge the Belgian railroads and mines as security to obtain them.

He also wanted to know whether the Government proposed to use as security for foreign loans the gold in the Bank of France which, in reality, did not belong to the state.

Confidence as a prerequisite to obtaining credit is the keynote to financial salvation, he declared, but the first thing to do was to inspire confidence among the French people themselves. When that was done, France would be strong enough to work out her own salvation. The return of French money, exported because of fears for the future, would be more effective in supporting the franc than foreign loans or credits, he asserted.

Six Bottlies Of Strong Beer Found In Pram By Police

STARTING FAST TO RAISE FUNDS TO SAVE SCOTT

Russell Scott's Wife To Start Exhibtion in Detroit Theatre.

IN GOOD CONDITION.

Expects To Go Without Food For at Least 44 Days.

DETROIT, July 10.— (Canadian Press.)— Mrs. Cathleen Scott tomorrow will begin a public fast to raise funds for further efforts to save her husband, Russell Scott, from the Cook County, Illinois, gallows, and also to keep their three children from being sent to an orphanage.

The exhibition will be held in a large downtown theatre which will be open to the public for twenty-four hours each day. Mrs. Scott will be placed in a glass cage, with a nurse in constant attendance, and with the entire affair under the supervision of a physician.

Mrs. Scott was examined yesterday and reported in excellent physical condition for the fast. She was placed on a diet to prepare her for the forty-four days which she hopes togo through without food.

The Circuit Court held earlier this week that Mrs. Scott is within her legal rights in fasting publicly, the police being restrained from interfering with the affair.

Joyce Hawley In Jail For Speeding In Chicago

CHICAGO, July 10 (United Press)—Miss Joyce Hawley, the girl of bath-tub fame, was languishing in jail to-day, following a wild chase through Chicago streets early this morning.

Miss Hawley, who recently appeared in the bath tub scene at a party given by Earl Carroll, New York theatrical producer, drove her automobile past two stop lights, skidded into two taxi-cabs, and then instead of stopping, stepped on the gas.

Miss Hawley was held on charges of speeding and disorderly conduct. She had come here to fill a dancing engagement at a suburban road house and to visit her father and mother who live in an inexpensive west side apartment.

DURKIN GUILTY JURY VERDICT

Convicted in Chicago Court of Murder of Federal Agent.

MONTH LONG TRIAL.

CHICAGO, July 10 (Canadian Press)—Martin J. Durkin, debonair Chicago gunman and automobile thief, of 24, early to-day was found guilty by a jury of the murder here last October of Edin Shanahan, a Federal agent.

The jury took a trifle more than three hours to weigh the evidence in the month long trial and reach an agreement on conviction, holding that Durkin turned murderer when he shot and killed the Government man who sought to arrest him as an automombile thief.

Former Minister Of Agriculture Defends Way Liberals Handled Customs Problem; Battle Opens

Vancouver Liberals May Offer King Nomination

VANCOUVER, B.C., July 10. —(Canadian Press.)— Rt. Hon. Mackenzie King will be offered the unanimous nomination for Vancouver Centre at the Liberal executive meeting next Tuesday night if prominent local Liberals have their way, the Vancouver Sun said yesterday.

Hon. W. R. Motherwell Says Customs Difficulty Was Only One of Several Confronting King Administration on Taking Office.

EFFORTS DEALING WITH HIGH CHARGES OF ATLANTIC SHIPPING COMBINE

Boivin Set Investigations Afoot On Taking Over Department—Trained Officers Were Loaned To Merchants' Protective Association.

WINNIPEG, July 10 (Canadian Press). — Hon. W. R. Motherwell, Minister of Agriculture in the late Liberal Government, fired the first gun of the Federal election campaign in Manitoba here yesterday. The former minister made a vigorous defence of the King Government's actions in connection with the investigation of customs irregularities.

Mr. Motherwell said:

"As I understand it, the chief complaint that the average man has (who feels disposed to criticize the Government in connection with this customs matter) is, that the Government did not act sufficiently quickly after complaints first began to reach our ears. As to this attitude, it would seem at first blush as if there were some justification for it, particularly having regard to the press despatches from which the average man got his information.

"Let me recite the circumstances under which this customs investigation began; simultaneously with its commencement two other large combinations of wrong-doing were under attack by the Government; one, the Atlantic combine, which had been preying on the people of Canada for many years by heavy extortions on the Atlantic. The Government that preceded us inquired into this matter but did nothing to overcome the difficulty. The Government led by the Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, in the session of 1925, formulated plans to at least partially control these extortionate Leviathans of the deep, but, with no majority in the House, and Sir William Petersen (the man with whom we were entering into contract to break this combine) dying in the midst of the negotiations, this portion of our legislative programme was abandoned for the time being.

"The second combine that the Government attacked at the same time, and running concurrently, was the huge American Nash interests whose ramifications extended throughout Canada and whose illegal practices in connection with their business were dawning gradually upon an oppressed public.

Combines Investigation

"Like the customs scandal, this grew gradually in enormity and as gradually came under the suspicion of the public. Not, however, until after passing of the Combines Investigation Act in 1923 did the Hon. Mr. Murdock, under the provisions of that Act, take action against the Nash interest. A Mr. Duncan from Toronto, a young lawyer, presided over this Nash inquiry, and, after some months of investigation, brought a report to Hon. Mr. Murdock in 1925 which indicated abundantly that an actual combine existed that warranted subsequent judicial action on the part of the Government. This all took time and finally the necessary prosecutions were entered against the Nash interests before the courts of British Columbia, with the result that four companies and four private firms were

WHERE SEA BREEZES NOD THE PINE

Think of a playground so situated that all the advantages of a seashore holiday, a lake-shore holiday and a holiday amid the pines and hemlock of a beautiful woodland may be had all in one. Such is Wentworth Park Lodge, Bayview, N.S., four miles from Pictou—owned and operated by the Canadian National Railways.

A more ideal spot for a holiday resort could hardly be imagined. Deep-sea fishing and yachting, salt water bathing, broad, sandy, sun steeped seashore, a beautiful fresh water lagoon separated from the ocean by a narrow strip of land; fresh water bathing, boating, fishing and golf, and, overlooking it all, situated at the edge of a pine and hemlock woodland, Wentworth Park Lodge, offering splendid accommodation to vacationists.

The lodge consists of a group of rustic, log bungalows with four and six rooms, grouped around the main lodge, with central dining room, lounge room and spacious verandahs. The bungalows are furnished in excellent taste, electric light, running hot and cold water in every room—every convenience. Rates $6.00 a day or $35.00 a week, American plan, open July 1st.

Descriptive literature and complete information may be had from any agent of Canadian National Railways.

If it is not seemly, do it not; if it is not true, speak it not.
—Marcus Aurelius,

MUSINGS AT A MANSE WINDOW

WHAT a wonderful night that must have been when Jesus gathered with His disciples to observe for the last time the Feast of the Passover. What His thoughts and feelings were only the Father could understand. Jesus knew that for centuries this feast had borne eloquent testimony to Himself and to the work of redemption He had come into the world to accomplish. He could see the blindness of mind of those who were leaders of the blind. Into the innermost being of Judas He had looked again and again as He marvelled at the treachery of a heart that could play the traitor to its best friend. And I am persuaded that He must have prayed for Judas with all the earnestness of which His unique nature was capable. None knew better the weakness of those who were His followers, and what that weakness would lead to; and yet there never was a heart that held such love for the erring children of men.

THE SOUL'S NIGHT

Between the Passover and the Lord's Supper we are told that 'Judas went out, and it was night.' Yes, it was night in more sense than one. A darker night than the one that enshrouded the Syrian sky in blackness had fallen upon the soul of Judas. And, so far as the record shows, it was a night that would never have a morning. The darkness and despair of eternal doom had already settled down upon the soul of one who at one time had evidently given promise of better things. Surely Judas must have had certain gifts and graces else Christ would never have chosen him for the position he occupied in the apostolic group. It is not customary to choose either a fool or a knave to handle the finances of any society, large or small, and that was the position Judas was chosen to occupy.

A STARTLING PREDICTION.

Then said Jesus unto them, all ye shall be offended (made to stumble,) because of Me this night: for it is written, I will smite the shepherd, and the sheep of the flock shall be scattered abroad." Jesus is here quoting from the prophet Zechariah, and tells them that it was about to be fulfilled in their experience.

Can you imagine how they must have felt when the Son of God plainly predicted that they would all turn their backs upon Him and forsake Him? When He had told them that one of them would betray Him we are told that the all said "Lord, is it I? But on this occasion silence seems to have fallen upon them all except Peter. Perhaps they were looking into their hearts and asking themselves,—

What is there in my make-up that I have not detected which will descend to the depths outlined in this startling prediction? Can it be true that I am so destitute of courage and gratitude that I shall yet forsake Him Who is my God, my Saviour and my Friend? It must be true, since He has said it, although it seems incredible that we, who are the recipients of His favor should ever be so mean or so cowardly.

CONTRADICTING CHRIST.

"Peter answered and said unto Him, though all men shall be offended (made to stumble) because of Thee, yet will I never be offended," he may have spoken from the heart, and been quite sincere in so speaking, but he lost sight of two things.

The first was that it had been written, "The heart is deceitful above all things and desperately wicked." And the second was that Christ Who knew what was in man had said that he would not only forsake, but would also deny his Lord and Master.

These two things ought to have silenced him and made him look into his heart to see if it were not really so what the Word of God and the Son of God had said. Better far if he had as on another occasion said, "Lord this seems contrary to all my instincts, and I cannot see how it can ever be as Thou hast said it is going to be nevertheless at Thy word." Had he taken that attitude he would have cried even as he did upon the sea "Lord save us, we perish," and I know that the Son of God would have risen to his help.

Most of our trouble arises because self-will takes the place of dependence upon God. If in our weakness and ignorance we were to cast ourselves over upon Him we should discover that His strength would take the place of our weakness and His wisdom would make an end of our ignorance.

POWERLESS BECAUSE PRAYERLESS.

"And when they had sung an hymn they went out into the mount of Olives." Here He uttered those great words to be found in John 15, 16, and 17. What a privilege to go with Jesus from the upper room to the garden of Gethsemane. Just to be near when He is pouring out His heart to the Father in prayer. And yet Peter, in spite of his profession of superiority to the others, failed to profit by the privilege. He slept when he ought to have been supplicating. What he missed seeing because he failed to watch with Christ only God can tell. It was because he failed here that he failed elsewhere. If we can spell victory upon our knees we shall never know defeat elsewhere.

PREACHING AND PRACTISING.

Think of Christ's teaching about prayer. Some of the most wonderful words ever uttered were uttered by Jesus on the subject of prayer. And Peter had been present on practically every occasion. He had heard what Jesus had to say about prayer and yet see how little he profited by what he had heard.

Then remember the example He set by His own prayer life. Had Peter not heard and seen in vain he would have—when Jesus warned him of impending failure — prayed most earnestly and prevailed in prayer.

But he neglected prayer; followed afar off; and ended by denying his Lord when he ought to have defended His cause and ber what he said when within the warmth and purity of the communion chamber. Now he is about to be tested and we are anxious to see how he will come through the time of testing. Will he remain true to Christ, or will he like the others show that he is made of very ordinary clay? The atmosphere of the judgment hall is not the atmosphere of the upper room: and the feelings that surged through his soul then seem all to be frozen now. It is all so different and so difficult.

We cannot help thinking that if he had made more of the first he might have fared better in the second. To avoid our worst in the street we must be at our best in the sanctuary. If the devil is to get the least out of us during the week, God must get the most out of us—and I might add the most into us—within the borders of His house on the day set apart for praise prayer, preaching and worship.

Difficulties we can never escape. And if we were wiser than we often seem to be we would not seek to escape them. For it is still true that some men owe the very grandeur of their lives to the tremendous difficulties they have had to overcome. But whether we are to get the better of the difficulties with which we have to contend, or these same difficulties are to get the better of us, will largely depend upon the use we make of the means that God has placed at our disposal for the development of our character.

THE HUMAN WILL VERSUS THE WILL OF GOD.

When Peter said, "Though all shall be offended because of Thee, yet will I never be offended," he may have spoken from the heart, and been quite sincere in so speaking, but he lost sight of two things.

The first was that it had been written, "The heart is deceitful above all things and desperately wicked." And the second was that Christ Who knew what was in man had said that he would not only forsake, but would also deny his Lord and Master.

These two things ought to have silenced him and made him look into his heart to see if it were not really so what the Word of God and the Son of God had said. Better far if he had as on another occasion said, "Lord this seems contrary to all my instincts, and I cannot see how it can ever be as Thou hast said it is going to be nevertheless at Thy word." Had he taken that attitude he would have cried even as he did upon the sea "Lord save us, we perish," and I know that the Son of God would have risen to his help.

Most of our trouble arises because self-will takes the place of dependence upon God. If in our weakness and ignorance we were to cast ourselves over upon Him we should discover that His strength would take the place of our weakness and His wisdom would make an end of our ignorance.

POWERLESS BECAUSE PRAYERLESS.

"And when they had sung an hymn they went out into the mount of Olives." Here He uttered those great words to be found in John 15, 16, and 17. What a privilege to go with Jesus from the upper room to the garden of Gethsemane. Just to be near when He is pouring out His heart to the Father in prayer. And yet Peter, in spite of his profession of superiority to the others, failed to profit by the privilege. He slept when he ought to have been supplicating. What he missed seeing because he failed to watch with Christ only God can tell. It was because he failed here that he failed elsewhere. If we can spell victory upon our knees we shall never know defeat elsewhere.

PREACHING AND PRACTISING.

Think of Christ's teaching about prayer. Some of the most wonderful words ever uttered were uttered by Jesus on the subject of prayer. And Peter had been present on practically every occasion. He had heard what Jesus had to say about prayer and yet see how little he profited by what he had heard.

Then remember the example He set by His own prayer life. Had Peter not heard and seen in vain he would have—when Jesus warned him of impending failure — prayed most earnestly and prevailed in prayer.

But he neglected prayer; followed afar off; and ended by denying his Lord when he ought to have defended His cause and witnessed to His power to save and satisfy the deepest desires of the soul.

How often it is so with the professing Christian: and that in spite of the teaching of God's Word. We gather at the communion table with others and with the risen Christ. We partake of the bread and the wine. Then, out into a world, that is at the best unsympathetic, we go, to forsake Christ in the hour of trial: to deny Him when we ought to confess Him as our Lord and Master. Think of the history of the Church, and think of your own personal experience, and tell me if any of us can afford to find fault with Peter.

The reason why sin and the world prevails in our lives is just because we fail to make the most of the Lord's Supper and, despite the teaching and example of Jesus, we know practically nothing of what it means to 'watch with Him one little hour.' And we shall continue to have powerless churches and a dearth of conversions as long as these things are so.

May the holy rite partaking
Help us on our pilgrim way:
Sin in every shape forsaking
Be our vow afresh to-day.
—Allan Fairbairn.

Simple Or Ornate

THOMAS CARLYLE once wrote these words "That poor temple of my childhood, to me more sacred at this moment than perhaps the biggest cathedral then extant could have been: rude, rustic, bare,—no temple in the world was more so:—but there were sacred lambencies, tongues of authentic flame from heaven, which kindled what was best in one, and what has not yet gone out."

World Crisis Coming.

THE STORM which threatened Theosophical circles before Mrs. Besant, high priestess of the order, arrived in London with Krishnamurti, the so-called Great Teacher, who heads the Order of the Star in the East, has apparently been silenced. Mrs. Besant believes that the young Hindu teacher was chosen when he was a child to be the channel through which the Christ, or the Lord Maitreya of the Hindus is to make known His Will. In discussing Krishnamurti with a representative of the press, Mrs. Besant said

"Christ's ministry lasted but three years. His body was crucified but the Great Spirit lived and assuming a different form which was able to pass through doors and vanish at will He appeared to His disciples in various places. He told them He would come again."

In that statement we have the truth but not the whole truth: and what is with-held constitutes a danger to the unwary.

Whatever change was effected in the body of Christ between the cross and the resurrection, it was a body which could be touched, which bore the marks of the nails, the thorns, and the spear. And it was in that body that He ascended when the angels said "This same Jesus shall so come in like manner as ye have seen Him go."

Proceeding, Mrs. Besant says "This coming has been hastened slightly because of the present world crisis. That has been revealed to me. Again the Christ, the Lord Maitreya, or the Great World Teacher, as you will, has chosen to manifest Himself in one who, like the Man Jesus, is of a despised and downtrodden race. I was told this while Krishnamurti was still a child."

The Order of the Star of the East, in which Krishnamurti and Mrs. Besant figure prominently, holds that the world in its pain and sorrow is calling for a comforter, and that in every religion in every land there is growing expectation of the advent of a great Son of God.

The trouble with Mrs. Besant, and others like her, is that of being wise beyond what has been written in the Word of God. Their case is a tragic illustration of what the Bible calls 'strong delusions.' It is a great pity when so brilliant a woman as Mrs. Besant is afflicted with a mind 'blinded by the god of this world.'

The Perils of Propaganda.

A CERTAIN New York preacher has been pointing out the perils of propaganda as he sees them in the United States: and because the same peril is never far away in Canada, or in any other country, it might not be amiss to make some mention of it in this column. In part, he said:

"The World War focalized the attention of the people upon the limitless power of propaganda. Nations succeeded through propaganda in having people voluntarily and enthusiastically sacrifice and perform desirable acts. During the war the term became connected with indirect, subtle methods, biased materials and selfish in motive. Hitherto it usually meant direct and frank in method, comprehensive in materials and unselfish in purpose. The associations of wartime use of propaganda is another illustration of a respectable word gone wrong. Propaganda is not all lies: it is a greater menace, for it is only half-truths which are under the guise of truth.

"Special interests were quick to snatch propaganda for their personal use during peace-time. If it can accomplish marvellous results in war, it can be a most powerful weapon for any organized interests which are dependent upon public opinion. Within eight years propaganda is rampant. Special interests have marshalled it to their respective causes. Under the guise of news sent out from organized groups it infects the minds of the public like poison."

Traitors in Pulpits.

THE Rev. B. Allen Reed in the course of an address delivered at the National Bible Institute, New York, said

"There are more traitors found in Christian pulpits today than in armies in times of war. This is an age of science and a day of facts, then let us deal with historic facts and not follow after misty vagaries. God calls us to turn away from preachers with 'itching ears,' and to hearken unto Him. We must ever keep before us the absolute need of unshakable principles of faith and integrity to Christ and His inspired word in thought and deed.

"The church should be kept the source of spiritual life and power, instead of becoming the kindergarten and playground of Satan, a brooding place for sin preparing our young people for the follies of the world. Never before did the world so need emphasis upon the 'faith of our fathers living still.' Novelty and newness of doctrine is a sign of error. May Christian men and women of all denominations guard the deposit of faith which has been committed unto them."

What About a Vacation?

I HAVE been greatly interested in reading what Dr. S. Edward Young has been saying to his people about the matter of a vacation. This is part of what he said, and I set it down in the hope that it may be of interest to the readers of this paper.

"Vacation is the cure of frayed nerves, the new horizoning of life. When human nature's requirements in this direction are fully understood, the State may legislate certain lengths of vacation in some employments, as it has already limited the hours of a day's work. We all grow stale by sticking at the same thing incessantly, and our dispositions tend to become biased, self-centred and disagreeable. True enough, many vacationists misuse their vacations just as they misuse every other valuable possession or privilege, but that is not sufficient reason for denying to people generally the advantages of temporary relief from study or toil or responsibility.

In discussing it further he said: "Grand old Dr. Howard Crosby, pastor of Fourth Avenue Presbyterian Church, New York City, tried one year to maintain his preaching and pastoral work fifty-two weeks, and found those the leanest twelve months that his church ever experienced. Schools and colleges have the right of it in closing schoolrooms for so long a period.

"And business concerns would find it best for their own interests as well as for the interests of their employes to give the workers a chance to play by the seaside or breathe mountain air or sniff the fragrance of fields and woods, or cross the ocean. God in His great out-of-doors waits to touch the noblest in us."

A World Peace Mission.

MR. NORWOOD, minister of the City Temple, London, is to vacate his pulpit for six months, beginning in October, except for one Sunday each month, and is to visit all parts of Great Britain, conducting great meetings in the interest of world peace. He does this with the full concurrence of his church and the approval and co-operation of the Archbishop of Canterbury. In making the announcement Dr. Norwood said:

"I lived for two years among the ordinary men who suffered and even died in the Great War. I solemnly dedicated my life to the effort to aid in ridding the world of this direful curse. In season and out of season I have maintained that it is contrary to the will of God that it should continue, and that it is possible for it to be removed. Since 1918 I have watched with intense interest and concern the effort to achieve peace through diplomatic and semi-political means. The conviction has grown upon me that the only way is to appeal directly to the hearts of the common people who are only remotely responsible for war, but pay its bitter price in full. Consequently, when I was asked by the League of Nations Union to devote six intensive months to a campaign having this objective I felt it to be a divine call."

Some Pertinent Words.

THE pastor of the Old South Church, Worcester, Mass., Rev. Fred. A. McDonald, writes: "I have heard men say, "I am as good as some church members." If they are not any better than some church members I could name they are pretty poor sticks. It always amuses me to see a man go down the line and pick out the meanest, backslidden church member and then compare himself with him. It indicates the very poor opinion he holds of himself. Why doesn't he go and pick out one of the strong, stalwart, godly men of whom there are many in every church and compare himself with one of them? The comparison would be too much of a shock for his weak system to stand."

THE CHILDREN'S CORNER

AN AFFECTING story is told by Mrs. Child, in her entertaining "Letters from New York," of an old German bell-player, who fell a victim to his sense of duty, or the love of his art. Almost all the German and Belgian towns are provided with chiming bells, which play at noon and evening. There was such a set of musical bells in the church of St. Nicholas, at Hamburg. The bell-player was a grey-headed man, who had for many years rung forth the chimes that told the hours to the busy throng below. When the church caught fire, the old man remained at his post. In the terrible confusion of the conflagration no one thought of him, till the high steeple was seen wreathed in flame. As the throng gazed upward, the firm walls of the old church, which had stood for ages, began to shake. At that moment the bells sounded the well-known German chorale, which usually concludes the Protestant service "Nun danket alle Gott"—"Now all thank God." Another moment, and there was an awful crash. The bells which had spoken to the hearts of so many generations were silent for ever. They and the old musician sank together into a fiery grave: but the echo of their chimes goes sounding on through the far eternity. So the fame of those men whom death has found undaunted at their post, like the Roman sentinel, goes echoing through all time.

The Childhood and Education of Moses

Text: Exod. 2:1-10, Acts 7:22

And there went a man of the house of Levi, and took to wife a daughter of Levi.

And the woman conceived, and bare a son; and when she saw him that he was a goodly child, she hid him three months.

And when she could not longer hide him, she took for him an ark of bulrushes, and daubed it with slime and pitch, and put the child therein; and she laid it in the flags of the river's brink.

And his sister stood afar off, to wit what would be done to him.

And the daughter of Pharaoh came down to wash herself at the river; and her maidens walked along by the river's side; and when she saw the ark among the flags, she sent her maid to fetch it.

And when she had opened it, she saw the child; and, behold, the babe wept. And she had compassion on him, and said, This is one of the Hebrew's children.

Then said his sister to Pharaoh's daughter, Shall I go and call to thee a nurse of the Hebrew women, that she may nurse the child for thee?

And Pharaoh's daughter said to her, Go. And the maid went and called the child's mother.

And Pharaoh's daughter said unto her, Take this child away, and nurse it for me, and I will give thee wages. And the woman took the child and nursed it.

And the child grew, and she brought him until Pharaoh's daughter, and he became her son. And she called him Moses; and she said, Because I drew him out of the water.

Acts 7:22.

And Moses was learned in all the wisdom of the Egyptians, and was mighty in words and in deeds.

The International Uniform Sunday School Lesson for July 11. The Childhood and Education of Moses. —Exod. 2: 1-10; Acts 7: 22.

By WM. E. GILROY, D.D.
Editor of The Congregationalist

This lesson is otherwise entitled "The Blessing of a Religious Home." It gives us an insight into the parentage of Moses and into the heredity that lay back of the great liberator.

In recent years the tendency in scientific circles has been toward placing the supreme emphasis upon heredity rather than environment in the determination of character.

To take the view that heredity is the only factor would seem to imply a hopeless attitude toward life and a nullifying of much Christian teaching, which has been that through the power of Christ men may find redemption even though they have had an evil heredity and are in an unfavorable environment.

Moses' Lineage.

It might, however, be questioned whether any man is without elements of a good heredity for the strains that enter into the individual are manifold, and in the number and wide variety of ancestors, which are a few generations back of every life, surely there will be found many strains of good as well as of evil. Practically we do, however, see emphasized almost every day the value to a man of good forbears.

The lineage of Moses, both on his father's side and on his mother's, was in the house of Levi. This implied a consecrated relationship. Probably there were indifferent and careless people in the house of Levi despite the special privilege and holiness of that house.

But the mother of Moses was a good and resourceful woman not easily baffled even by the decrees of a Pharaoh. Mother-love did not destroy in her the capacity for action; she was willing to sacrifice her babe that she might save him, trusting to Providence after she had done her best.

Hence she took her three-months-old babe and placed him in an ark of bulrushes in the hope that his life might be spared. When we do our best and trust to Providence things usually turn out for the best. The placing of the little babe in the ark and sending him adrift was the first heroic act in a record of heroic destiny.

His Mother's Heritage.

The child found a foster parent and a place in the highest home in the land. Here he found the learning and training that were to stand him in good stead in days to come. But neither training nor environment could destroy in him the things that his mother had loved and prayed into his very being, and the passionate devotion of God and to his people that was the heritage of a Godly lineage.

The golden text, "Train up a child in the way he shall go and when he is old he will not depart from it," has far more truth than people often realize. There are exceptions that nullify the rule, for the children of good people are not always good.

Good people, however, do not always show courage and commonsense in the training of their children. Sometimes they allow the evil environment to nullify all the benefits of heredity. In the broad revelation of life it will be found that the writer in Proverbs was substantially correct.

At any rate, we see quite clearly that the courage, determination and willingness to sacrifice himself that were the deepest characteristics in Moses, were a very direct heritage from the mother who bore and nurtured him. It is a lesson that tells us as much concerning the privilege and glory of motherhood as concerning the greatness of distinguished sons.

ADVICE TO YOUNG MEN!

YOU can not retain your self respect if you are loose and foul of tongue.

A man who is to lead a clean and honorable life must inevitably suffer if his speech likewise is not clean and honorable. The future welfare of the nation depends upon the way in which we can combine in our young men—decency and strength. There is no good of your preaching to your boys to be brave if you run away: there is no good in your preaching to your boys to tell the truth if you do not, Unless there is a spirit of honesty in a man, unless there is a moral sense, his courage, his strength, his power but make him a dangerous creature in our life—a man, whether from the standpoint of our social or political systems, to be feared and to be hunted down. In civil life, the greater a man's ability, if it is not combined with the moral sense, the more dangerous that man as a citizen, the worse he is as a citizen.
—Theodore Roosevelt.

KEEPING UP WITH THE JONESES.

It is stated that there is one automobile in Hamilton for every eight people, and The Spectator wonders if the ratio of bank accounts to population is as high.

The query opens the way to some interesting speculation.

In Peterboro, for example, although there have been complaints of industrial depression and hard times in business, it must be admitted that there is no lack of motor cars.

What the exact ratio is is difficult to get at, but at any rate Peterboro people are not badly off in the matter of automobiles, telephones, radios, etc.

Is money being spent on these things that should be used to buy necessities?

Is the cash that would normally go to the butcher, the grocer and the clothing store proprietor being eaten up in the purchase of gas and motor supplies?

The Spectator believes that to be the case in Hamilton, and suggests that the desire of people to "keep up with the Joneses" is responsible for the condition.

That probably is right, but it is a situation that will apparently have to be accepted philosophically, even if bank accounts are not as numerous as motor cars.

CHAOS IN THE AIR.

Decisions rendered by the United States Department of Justice are not usually of more than passing interest to Canadians, but one handed down this week may affect a large number of people in this country—in fact, the whole army of radio owners and listeners-in.

The department has issued an opinion that radio in the United States is virtually unregulated.

It holds that the Commerce Department, which sought its advice on the subject after Congress failed to pass specific regulatory legislation, is without authority under existing laws to control broadcasting by the issuance of definite wave lengths.

Secretary of Commerce Hoover predicts chaos in the radio industry as a result, and the situation is undoubtedly fraught with disturbing possibilities.

If there is to be no control over wave lengths, if broadcasting stations can adopt any length they wish and use it whenever they see fit, if "pirating" is to take the place of a systematic regulation of broadcasting, the listener-in Canadian, as well as American, is going to suffer.

In fact, unless the broadcasters get together in their own interests the situation will be far from pleasant for everybody.

The decision of the Department of Justice is a blow to the whole radio world.

AN IMPORTANT STEP.

The announcement from Hon. George S. Henry, Minister of Highways, that the Ontario Government proposes to make all Provincial highways full-stop thoroughfares will be of great interest to the motoring fraternity.

It is understood that the regulation will not be put into effect until the necessary "stop" signs have been erected along the highways.

The action of the Government is prompted by the number of bad collisions at highway intersections caused by a confusion over the right-of-way.

When the new regulation is in force there will no longer be any cause for a misunderstanding on this point, as all cars entering upon a Provincial highway will be required to come to a stop.

The difficulty with this rule, as with most other traffic regulations, will lie in its enforcement.

The law at present says that highway intersections should not be approached at a rate of more than 12½ miles an hour—yet it is a common thing to see a car shoot across a highway at twice that speed, and as a matter of fact, most of the collisions at intersections have been the result of a violation of the present rule.

The new regulation, if generally complied with and carried out, would undoubtedly make conditions considerably safer along the highway.

A DOZEN TIMELY HINTS.

A safety first campaign that did not take into account the water hazard in this Province would be far from being complete.

Three hundred and seven people were drowned in Ontario last year—many because they took unnecessary chances or ignored the rules of common sense.

Here is a set of suggestions to swimmers and canoeists that are worth consideration.

The swimmer would be well advised to study these simple rules.

1.—Learn the prone pressure method of resuscitation.

2.—Bathe in protected areas only.

3.—If he has heart trouble to stay out of the water.

4.—Wait two hours after eating before going in swimming.

5.—When diving be sure the water is of sufficient depth to insure safety.

6.—Do not bathe or swim alone.

And here are six suggestions in regard to canoes.

1.—Stay out of a canoe (a) unless you can swim; (b) unless you can keep a cool head.

2.—Do not change seats after starting.

3.—If you have a passenger who wants to rock the boat put him ashore.

BRIGHT AUTUMN PROSPECTS.

Both the Canadian Pacific and the Canadian National Railways have issued Western crop bulletins of the most optimistic kind. The news is almost too good to be true. There is not an adverse report from any section of the prairie country. In Southern Alberta, where lack of rainfall seemed to be a menace not long ago, copious showers have worked a miracle. From the eastern edge of the prairies to the foothills of the Rockies, and from the international boundary to the northernmost fringe of cultivation, the land is bright with promise. There has been less moisture in the north than in the south, but no damage has yet been done. Wheat is heading out at many points, and never have the prospects been better for this crop at this time of the year.

It is too soon to crow, it must be confessed. The weather may yet play cruel tricks. But it will have to be exceptionally bad to prevent an exceptional harvest. The West is now sounder financially than in many years, and having wiped out a great part of its obligations it will be in a position this autumn to spend more of its income on commodities. The effect on trade and industry will be felt all over the country. Times are good and they will become better. There is no probability of a material reduction in grain values. Cash prices for wheat are about the same as a year ago, and October options a shade higher. The latest official bulletin from Washington shows a reduction of 9,000,000 bushels in the spring wheat estimates in the United States, where the weather has been less favorable than in Canada. Winter wheat has improved and the total United States wheat crop is estimated at 769,000,000 bushels, against 668,000,000 bushels in 1925, but the former figure is 103,000,000 bushels below the yield of 1924—lower in fact than in any year since 1917. There will be no great exportable surplus in the United States to bear prices, and the defeat of the Haugen Bill by Congress put an end to the project of dumping the surplus on foreign markets at any price it would bring. Furthermore, the permanent factors are all in favor of continued high price levels for Canadian grains. The United States has reached a stage described in this week's publication of the National City Bank of New York:

> "It (agriculture in the United States) is getting a constantly larger home market, while increased agricultural production now must come largely by more intensive farming, and the bringing into use of the less productive lands which were passed over at first—lands requiring large expenditures such as clearing, drainage, irrigation, etc., to fit them for cultivation."

This means, of course, that increasing crops to supply home needs can be obtained in the United States only at greater expense, and that there must be a higher price level to warrant the outlay. In Canada it will not be necessary for an unmeasured time to resort to the poorer lands. We have millions of acres of fertile soil yet untilled and the operation of the law of diminishing returns, already beginning across the border, can be indefinitely postponed here by railway extensions. Time is on the side of Canada. She is preparing to take the place of her neighbor as the greatest food-exporting country in the world.—London Advertiser.

ONTARIO COAL.

An exclusive news story in The Border Cities Star yesterday, quoted Prof. J. W. Russell as stating at London, Ont., that Ontario has a definite and important coal area on the James Bay slope, fifty miles north of the transcontinental line of the C. N. R. The coal is said to be similar to the high-class Alberta product which has already been used with success in Ontario.

If the find turns out to be commercially possible it is one of the greatest pieces of news the people of this Province and of Canada generally have had in many a long day. It will mean much more to Ontario, Prof. Russell points out, than a few rich gold mines in the Red Lake district, however alluring such mines may appear to the public. The professor, who is said to be an authority in such matters, arrived in London this week to attend the summer school of the University of Western Ontario. He has just returned from the North, full of enthusiasm for the project.

If coal in commercial quality and quantity is available in Northern Ontario the last obstacle to Canadian fuel independence will have been removed. For several years the supplying of Ontario from the Alberta fields has been under discussion and a number of trainloads have been brought East experimentally. The chief difficulty, however, has been the matter of hauling costs. The railroads have felt that it was necessary for them to get not less than a certain figure in order to make the haul feasible. On the other hand the rate asked made the laid-down price higher than most persons consider proper. The result was more or less of a deadlock, with perhaps a Government subsidy as the only way out of the difficulty.

So important, however, is the matter of using Canadian coal for Canadian consumption that many persons have freely advocated a Federal subsidy if such is necessary to make Alberta coal the common fuel of the people of Ontario. Every year, it is pointed out, many millions of dollars of good Canadian money are pouring over the border to buy American anthracite. This money is entirely lost to Canada. Practically none of it comes back. Instead it goes to pay American workmen, to enrich American mine owners and to be used in the industrial and social life of the United States. Those who advocate a real Canadian coal policy—and their number is growing—say this money should stay here and that the Federal and Provincial Governments should not hesitate to spend cash, if necessary, to keep this huge sum at home—for Canadian workmen, for Canadian purposes, for the development of our own country.

And now comes word, once more, that Ontario may have plenty of coal within her own borders. It is big news, important news. No effort should be spared in testing out the fields. No time should be lost in making the discovery available to the people if it is found that the coal is there in the quantity and in the quality now believed possible.

Every good Canadian is anxious to make Canada great. Development of the nation's natural resources to the highest possible degree is one of the most obvious ways of bringing about the national greatness for which we aim.—Border Cities Star.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

Will someone please invent a new way of saying, "Is it hot enough for you?"

Everybody is issuing statements on the political situation, which gives a lot of people an unusual chance to get front page publicity.

HOW DO YOU SAY IT?

(By C. N. Lurie.)

Common Errors in English and How To Avoid Them.

A PUZZLE IN GRAMMAR.

Writing to the New York Tribune, a correspondent asks a question which it is difficult to answer. He asks, "Should one say, 'They went at each other's throat' or 'They went at each other's throats'? Singular or plural? The first form is correct, in my opinion."

Diligent search in several standard books on grammar and the correct use of English fails to cast much light on this question. One authority tells us that the word "each" is never constructed with the plural of the pronoun or the verb, and this would seem to bear out the preference for the singular form, "They went at each other's throat." If we alter the possessive form and say, "They went at the throat of each other," it reads somewhat more smoothly.

One writer, commenting on this question, says: "'They went at each other's throat' is the correct form, as it is equivalent to 'each went at the other's throat.' Each did not go at two throats."

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY

THE NEXT HUNDRED YEARS.

H. G. Wells sees the coming century as a period of bitter conflict between the old idea of Nationalism and the new idea of a Single World System. Nationalism he regards as an expression of the group instinct inherent in human nature and readily acceptable to humanity at large. The Single World System, in his view, is foreign to all the elemental instincts of man but is necessarily and increasingly forced on a world in which the spread of knowledge and the growth of invention make every other system merely suicidal. The conflict between the two systems will end, he thinks, in favor of the deep-rooted nationalist idea, for this hundred years, at least.

Wells forsees this century also as the period of eclipse of the present great national constellations, Imperial Britain, Imperial France, and all the Western and Central European stars. In their place, three great communities will dominate the earth, the Anglo-Spanish (centred in the Americas, North and South); the Chino-Japanese; and the Slavo-Germanic (this last contingent upon Russia's success in evolving something other than hari-kiri from the present failure—which Wells admits—of her first communistic experiment; and so attaching a large German element to herself or to her idea).

The centre of civilization, the great English writer feels, is due for another great westward movement, this time away from Europe, similar to the movement which, in the early Christian era, brought it to Western Europe from Asia, Egypt and Greece.

—From an interview with H. G. Wells by Diana Bourbon published in the New York "Times" Magazine, June 6, 1926.

MONTREAL GRAIN AND PRODUCE

MONTREAL, Que., July 10 — A gain of 1 5-8 cents to 2 1-8 cents per bushel featured trading in the local wheat market today, but business generally was slack. The export trade was almost neglected due to the higher prices ruling at Winnipeg. Activity in transportation circles, however, bearing on the movement of Canadian grain from the St. Lawrence to Mediterranean ports was reported in cabled advices from London.

The market for oats was stronger with an advance of 1-2 cent per bushel. It is noted that the S. S. Collingham has arrived here with a cargo of 270,000 bushels of Argentine corn for Quebec and Montreal—the second cargo of this season to date.

A similar increase was the outstanding factor in trading on the local flour market, and a steady demand from exporters is reported. The domestic trade is inactive in all lines.

Local and country buyers have created a good demand for all lines of mill-feed. The movement of standard grades of rolled oats is light.

The market for baled hay was firm.

The egg market weakened yesterday with a reduction of 1 cents per dozen for firsts and from 1 to 2 cents for seconds. Supplies are liberal and the demand is limited. Receipts today were 1,948 cases.

Receipts of American crop potatoes today were 20 cars, which resulted in a general reduction with sales of car lots at $6 per barrel for No. 1 grade. Old crop potatoes (Canadian) were unchanged. Offerings were light and prices steady with New Brunswick Green Mountain white at $2.25 for bag 90 lbs. bulk; Prince Edward Island Green Mountain Reds at $1.75 and blues at $1.60.

Maple syrup was quoted at $2 to $2.10 a gallon, and No. 1 bright maple sugar at 20 cents per lb.; No. 2 grade at 18 cents and under-grades from 15 to 17 cents.

No improvement was shown in the demand for beans, with offerings small. Car lots of choice hand-picked white were quoted at $2.25 per bushel and broken lots at $2.35.

Large supplies and weakened demand contributed to the reduction in butter prices of 1-4 cents per lb. There were 4,898 packages received today.

Cheese receipts were 10,978 boxes. The export trade is disappointing with cancellation of some orders reported by cable. Trading was dull.

STERLING EXCHANGE

MONTREAL, Que., July 10 (Canadian Press) — Sterling exchange rates were quoted here yesterday as follows:

Sterling demand—$4.85 1-8.
Sterling cables—$4.85 5-8.

CHICAGO GRAINS

CHICAGO, July 10 (Canadian Press))—Wheat went strongly upward in price yesterday on speculative buying associated with black rust dangers northwest and with reports of severe crop damage otherwise. Gossip, too, was prevalent that the government crop report tomorrow will be construed as bullish. Closing quotations on wheat were firm 1 3-4 to 2 5-8 net higher. Corn finished unchanged to 1-2 off, oats at 1-8 decline to 1-8 gain and provisions varying from a setback of two cents to 12 cents advance.

Much of today's purchasing of wheat appeared to be based on predictions that serious additional injury to the spring crop would result if the weather northwest turned hot and muggy meanwhile the general run of crop comments from the northwest were unfavorable, and talk was current that recent estimates of yield would have to be reduced. In this connection special stress was put on reports that throughout important sections very little grain is found at present in the heads of either wheat or rye.

Threshing delays southwest together with active buying there on the part of millers gave further impetus to the upward swing of wheat, and so likewise did announcement that 2,000,000 bushel of Canadian wheat heretofor unreported had been takein this week for shipment to Europe. It was also stated that stocks of wheat are down to 4,240,000 bushels as against 8,840,000 bushels a year ago. Besides, there was an unexpected upturn in Liverpool quotations today.

Corn weakened on liberal country selling, acceptances of bids being the largest in some time. Oats were steadied by wheat strength. Packers buying rallied the provision market from declines due to a sharp downturn in hog values.

WORK AND PLAY.

The difference between work and play is that work is activity for future reward and play is activity for its own sake.

We lay bricks for the money we obtain: we play tennis for the fun we get out of it.

Professionalism is decried in the realm of athletics, not because individuals capitalize their skill, but because as soon as money is paid for playing games the money becomes the reward instead of the joy of playing.

Playing is no longer play: it has become work.

An interesting book on "Games and Recreational Methods for Clubs, Camps and Scouts," by Charles F. Smith, is a valuable contribution to the subject of play because it shows how to organize the inherent desire for play in children and gives practical information.

The best education and development has always come from play. When we are at work at what interests us our faculties grow best.

Food eaten with relish nourishes more than the same food taken under compulsion. The same principle holds true for tasks and responsibilities. If taken with distaste they never benefit as they do when taken with joy.

A game entered into with delight always is better for the health than a "daily dozen" if approached with distaste. Physical culture is most effective when taken as play.

The best education and development also come as play.

A game of authors or a cross-word puzzle contributes more lasting information than a history of literature read under compulsion or a certain number of prescribed hours of reading the dictionary.

Education in the past has largely ignored the play element.

Children have been made to study history and geography with the promise of rewards in grades when they have finished, not by the inducement of the fun of learning them. If they know how to play at history and geography there would be no need for rewards.

In childhood organized play does three very important things. It teaches leadership, co-operation, and the need of obeying rules.

If you don't keep up the rules you are out. You can't "make up the rules as you go." There are certain regulations that have to be obeyed or there is no game.

In life there are always rules that can't be ignored. If a person fails to get an appreciation of the importance of rules in youth the way of life will be hard for him.

All in all, play holds an important place in life.

As well as "Lord, teach us to pray," there is need for the supplication, "Lord, teach us to play."

SALE OF LINERS COMPLETE SOON

Details of Transfer of White Star Line Are Settled.

BRITISH BUYERS.

LIVERPOOL, Eng., July 10 (Canadian Press).—The sale of the White Star Line by the International Mercantile Marine to a British syndicate, headed by Furness, Withy and Company, is expected to be closed soon.

P. A. S. Franklin, president of the International Mercantile Marine Co., is expected to reach London next week, all details relative to mony payments and other questions concerning the transfer have been arranged, and the papers are now awaiting final signature by Mr. Franklin and the representatives of the Furness, Withy Company, acting for the British interests.

The announcement that the U. S. Shipping Board is planning another effort to dispose of the Leviathan and other vessels is attracting much attention in the British press. The story that the ships are for sale is prominently displayed by the newspapers, and there is much speculation in shipping circles as to the probable purchasers. Some shipping men say they would not be surprised to learn that Mr. Franklin has made an offer for the vessels, using the cash which the International Mercantile Marine receives for the White Star Line.

ISLAND DEVASTATED AND PEOPLE KILLED

Four Fatalities When Tornado Swept Over St. Jospeh River.

BUCHANAN, Mich., July 10. — (Canadian Press.) — Two persons were killed outright and two others died of injuries, when a tornado swept an island in the St. Joseph River, two miles north of here yesterday.

The island was devastated by the storm. Its five houses, only two of which were occupied, were demolished.

Bernard Powlel and his son, James, were in a critical condition to-night from injuries.

The storm struck at noon, and after levelling everything on the island, swept westward, cutting a wide path through a stand of timber on the river edge.

No other damage was reported in this section of the state.

BOOTLEGGING CHARGE AGAINST CAMPBELLFORD MAN DISMISSED

Fined $150 and Costs For Having Liquor—Nine Bottles Seized.

POTENT "HOOTCH."

Crown Asked For Heavier Fine—Raid By License Inspector.

(Examiner Staff Correspondence.)

CAMPBELLFORD, July 10. — Nine bottles of moonshine liquor of "colossal strength" were set up in a row before Magistrate Payne Friday morning to incriminate for bootlegging a local man on whose premises they were dug up last Saturday evening from beneath a manger. The bootlegging charge failed, but on the second count of having the hooteh in a place other than his dwelling the accused was fined $150 and $16.10 costs. The information was laid by License Inspector George Goodrich of Cobourg, who made the raid with Provincial Officer John H. Fewtrell. W. F. Kerr, K.C., also of Cobourg conducted the prosecution.

Analysis of the liquor showed an alcoholic content of 36.32 per cent. by volume of 70 per cent proof spirit. This indication of potency elicited Mr. Kerr's allusion of "colossal strength" "enough to set dozens of the men of Campbellford drunk.

Mr. Goodrich and Officer Fewtrell told of calling at the premises of the accused at 7.30 p.m. last Saturday. They told him complaints had been made about him and they intended to search the place. Constable Fewtrell removed hay from the manger, felt some loose boards on bottom, lifted them and noticed a quantity of chop underneath. Fingering through the chop he touched a bottle.

"I've got something here, George," he called to Inspector Goodrich, who was in the loft. The nine bottles were unearthed and confiscated. Two glasses were also found, one smelling of liquor.

For His Own Use

"I kept it for my own use," said the defendant, when asked to explain the presence of the liquor on his premises. Mr. Kerr had emphasized that the onus was on the defendant to prove that the liquor was not for sale.

"I had ten bottles, but I drank part of one. I had it in the house, but I didn't bring in the rest because my wife objected to me having it. I hid the nine bottles so no one could find them but myself. I had several men working for me."

The defendant paid $15 for nine bottles. "I never saw the man before. He was a short fellow about 35 years and weighed 135 pounds. He was rather dark, clean shaved and thin featured. He came in the yard late one evening and asked me if I'd take a little drink. It was getting dark. It was about ten days before the inspector came. I never saw the fellow before.

Mr. Kerr.—And I suppose you have no reason to hope you will ever see him again?

"I don't know that I have," replied the defendant.

"How did the Inspector get to know about this liquor unless others were going there?"

"I haven't any idea," was the answer.

Defendant said the liquor was de-

GIRLHOOD DANGERS

Come Through a Weakening of the Blood—A Tonic Is Needed.

In their early teens it is quite common for girls to outgrow their strength, and mothers should carefully watch the health of their daughters at this time. It is when the strength is sapped by rapid growth that anaemia develops. The first signs may be noticed by peevishness, langour and headaches. The face grows pale, breathlessness and palpitation becomes apparent, with low spirits and depression.

Neglected anaemia often leads to a decline, but if you see that your daughter's blood is enriched, there need be no cause for anxiety. The finest blood-builder ever discovered is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They will build up your girl's health and ensure for her healthy womanhood. In proof of this Mrs. George Justason, Black's Harbor, N.B., says:—"I think Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a wonderful medicine. My daughter, Margaret, was in such a badly run down condition that we feared she was going into a decline. Her face was pale, the least exertion would leave her breathless and she suffered from headaches. She had no appetite and lost a lot in weight. Up to the time we began giving her Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, no treatment had helped her. But thanks to the use of this wonderful medicine she is again well and strong, showing no signs of the trouble that had so weakened her."

In all troubles due to weak, watery blood, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will be found a reliable remedy. Sold by all medicine dealers or sent by mail at 50 cents a box by The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

GERMANS GET COAL ORDERS

British Fuel Disappears From Hamburg—Supplies From Domestic Mines.

EXPORT TRADE.

HAMBURG, July 10 (Canadian Press).—For the first time since the war, Hamburg is without British coal. The big stocks collected befor the strike of British miners are exhausted, and industrial and shipping firms of Northern Germany are ordering large supplies of German coal, which are continually coming in from the Ruhr and Upper Silesia.

Much of this German coal is being exported from Hamburg, not only to England but to other countries, particularly Scandinavia. The German exporters are hoping that they will be able to retain this foreign trade even after the British strike is ended.

TORNADO SWEEPS MICHIGAN ISLAND

Kills Four Persons and Demolishes Five Houses.

BUCHANAN, Mich., July 10. — Two persons were killed outright and two others died of injuries when a tornado swept an island in the St. Joseph River, two miles north of here yesterday. The dead are: Mrs. Bernard Powell, aged 35; Mrs. Mary English, aged 30, sister of Mrs. Powell; Florabell Powell, aged 5, and Grace English, aged 12. The island was devastated by the storm. Its five houses, only two of which were occupied, were demolished. Bernard Powell and his son, James, were in a critical condition last night from injuries.

Hootch, Hugging and Haste Causes Of Most Crashes

A great many persons have undertaken to discover just what are the main reasons for automobile accidents. Many official and unofficial surveys have been conducted. One of these investigations is that conducted by the public safety department of the Autombile Club of Maryland.

One man, with a penchant for alliteration, in a letter to the department sums up the matter tersely. He writes:

"The three H's cause 75 per cent of the motor accidents—hooch, hugging and haste."

MOTOR VICTIM DIES.

Was Being Placed on Stretcher in Train When He Succumbed.

MONTREAL, July 10—As he was being placed in a stretcher in a train at the Windsor Street Station here yesterday, Euclide Lanthier, aged 40, an employee of the Canadian Pacific Railway succumbed to injuries which he had suffered in a motor car crash near Cache Bay, 25 miles west of North Bay, last Saturday.

LASSWADE PICNIC

Interesting and Enjoyable Outing is Held by St. Paul's Congregation.

APSLEY, July 9.—St. Paul's church, Lasswada, held it annual picnic on the grounds at Methuen on Wednesday, and favored with fine weather it was a quite successful event, though the attendance could have been larger, but for the tragic death by drowning of Jud Daniels on Monday, his funeral being held at Lasswada on Wednesday afternoon. The picnic would have been postponed on account of this had it been possible, but in that case all the cooking and ice cream would have been utterly spoiled. In a speech at the close of the day, the Rev. C. Spence feelingly referred to the sad event, and a resolution of sympathy with the bereaved family was unanimously passed.

The day's programme of events resulted as follows:

High jump—Men, Leonard McCauley, 4 feet, 6 inches; Ivan Nesbitt, 4 feet, 4 inches. Boys, Allan Hall, Neil Whitmore.

Men's race, 100 yards—1. Ivan Nesbitt; 2, Edwin Davis and Leonard McCauley, tie.

Boys' race, age 8 to 12—Everett Whitmore, Neil Whitmore.

Under eight years—Kenneth Hall, Harry Carl.

Girls, under 10—Vivian Whitmore, Goldie Nesbitt.

A greasy pole proved too difficult a feat for the climbers but caused lots of fun, and the day's proceedings closed with an exciting tug-of-war between picked teams.

Nine-tenths of all the dried apples eaten in the United Kingdom in the last year were from America.

KEENE UNITED CHURCH

KEENE, July 9.—The United church, Keene, held its first congregational meeting June 30, when some 400 people were present.

This is one of the strong rural charges of Canada. The beautiful church which is splendidly equipped has a seating capacity of over seven hundred people.

Keene and Westwood, with a strong Scotch element were among the few rural communities (if not the only two) between Belleville and Peterboro that went Union, and the vote on the issue created a spirited feeling.

Rv. John Archibald, who by the way was the "father of the Union cause" in Morris, Manitoba and the first Union minister of Roblin, Manitoba, has become after nearly five years in Keene, the first minister of the United church in Keene.

Under his leadership Keene and Westwood have been formed into two compact charges, Rev. S. H. Moyer opening his ministry at Westwood on July 4.

At the first congregational meeting at Keene a splendid feeling prevailed, and supper was served by the ladies in the basement of the church. The salary of the minister was raised to two thousand dollars.

COLLINS

BY EDDIE COLLINS.

A majority of the double plays made in baseball have second base as the pivot position.

There is no more important factor in the success of a winning team than its ability to make double plays. Ido not believe I am exaggerating, when I say that I believe more ball games are lost through failure to complete double plays, that should be successfully executed, than in any other one way.

The secret of all double plays made around second base lies in speed. That goes for every feature of the play, the speed of the fielder getting to the bag, the manner in which the ball is given to him by the fielder starting the play and the celerity with which the ball is gotten away for the second out.

The final out of many a double play is the difference between a half step, a slight fraction of a second. The tossing of the ball by the fielder starting the play, rather than throwing it, is a common fault that is costly.

Slowness of the man covering the bag, thereby delaying the start of the play is another reason. Failure to get speed on the ball by the man finishing off the play is a third fault that often loses the decision.

The famous double play combinations in baseball have always been players willing to take a change. In making the play they work on the theory that the other member of the combination will be where he should be, thus a certain mechanical speed enters into the action, rather than making the play to suit the style of the fielder assisting.

Cut the ball loose, believing the other half of the combination will be covering and thereby be in a position to be at the bag for a force play and also be in a position to get the ball away quickly.

SECRETS of STARS on INSIDE BASEBALL

as told to BILLY EVANS

JOCK HUTCHISON—BALANCE HOOK AGAINST SLICE.

Slicing has caused a lot of timid beginners to give up the game in disgust. It is most aggravating to play a round of golf and slice nine out of 10 shots to the tall and uncut grass. Slicing is caused by the face of the club cutting across the ball and starting it to spin from left to right. There are two ways that this can be done. One is the intentional slice made by the expert player who slices for a purpose and he other is the slice of the duffer who sends the hands in ahead of the club.

This is caused by poor pivoting. The player attempts to hit with his body and his hands before the club-head is permitted to connect properly.

A great many duffers think they are helping matters by allowing for a slice. They will aim the shot far to the left, which permits the ball, unless sliced very badly, to swing into the middle of the course or at least hold some place on the fairway.

If one will put out his left foot more and aim to the right of the course and then hit the ball hard, a hook will result and the ball will swing in the other way. A half hour's practice once every day or two for a while will set one right on this matter.

NEW OVERLAND ON THE MARKET

Individual Chair Type Front Seats Add to Riding Comfort—Welcomed by Women Drivers as Safety Factor.

Another stride toward refinement of present-day motor cars has been taken by the Willys-Overland Company, it is evident, with the announcement of a new and improved seating arrangement for the Overland six coach.

Overland engineers are constantly working on the development of minor refinements in the company's product and the latest improvement is individual, chair type front compartment seats for the coach model.

Formerly, the front seat in the Overland coach was of the one-piece cushion type with close-fitting individual backs. The new seating system introduced by the Overland has many attractive and desirable features.

The new individual seating arrangement consists of two separate chairs. They are hinged by sturdy floor "swings" and tip forward completely out of the way of passengers entering or leaving from the rear compartment. They are installed far enough apart to eliminate disturbance to the driver by a companion passenger.

The folding feature of both front seats allows much more room in the rear compartment. It is an important safety factor, allowing free and unobstructed passage from the rear of the coach.

Women drivers especially favor this design of seating because of the ease of riding and entering the car. The seat hinges are so designed that all joints and protruding parts are concealed, eliminating any danger of catching clothing while entering or leaving the car.

The fact that the driver's seat also tips forward is a pleasant and improved feature. This allows free passage from either side of the car.

THEATRE

AT THE REGENT

SPEED DEMONS IN "RED HOT TIRES"

A Zippy Comedy With Monte Blue and Patsy Ruth Miller.

With an erstwhile speed-demon for a hero and a prettily-present speed-demon for a heroine, "Ree Hot Tires," a Warner Bros. Classic of the Screen, opened yesterday at the Regent Theatre.

Monte Blue is the hero, who has been in so many automobile accidents that he becomes afflicted with a fear complex, and prefers jogging along on his horse at a slow pace. Monte enjoys outdoor pictures more than the drawing room productions in which he has been starred recently, and is at his best in his characterizations of Al Jones, a young and charming idler.

Patsy Ruth Miller is the pretty heroine who just knows traffic rules were made to be broken, and depends upon her father, an honorary police chief, to keep her out of jail. But Fred Esmelton, who plays the father, decides she deserves punishment and lets her go to jail just like any other person, and here she and Monte have a delightful flirtation behind the bars. This is one of the funniest scenes in the picture, which also has narrow escapes for the hero exciting enough to satisfy any seeker of thrills.

Charles Conklin plays a darky coachman, and Tom McGuire, William Lowery and Malcolm Waite play the kidnappers of the heroine. Jimmie Quinn is a gambling house owner, and Lincoln Stedman the hero's best friend.

"Red Hot Tires" was adapted from the Gregory Rogers novel by Edward T. Lowe, Jr., and was directed by Erle C. Kenton.

It is first-rate entertainment.

NOTABLE CANADIAN IS COMING TO US

"Private" Peat Will Lecture on "The Inexcusable Lie"—He is an Interesting Figure.

The coming Dominion Redpath Chautauqua will bring to this community a notable Canadian in the person of Harold R. Peat, better known as "Private" Peat. This young man volunteered in August 1914 at Edmonton, Alta., with the Ninth Battalion of the original First Division. He trained at Valcartier, and in England was transferred to the Third Battalion. He fought in France with C. Company of that battalion under Captain Streight. His regimental number was 18535. Mr. Peat fought through the war as a private, and was severely wounded, having his right lung blown out and his right shoulder blown off.

It was through a letter to a young friend in Edmonton, Lyn Tipp, describing the second Battle of Ypres that Peat started as a writer and speaker. For upon his return to Canada after two years in the Army, he was immediately beseiged by the Red Cross and other societies to tell of his experiences. This he was able to do, and so efficiently was it done that offers began to pour in from such magazines as McClure's, McLean's, The American, The Red Cross, some of the syndicates, etc., asking for articles.

In less than one year after his return he was married to Louisa Small of the London Daily Chronicle staff, whom he had met overseas, and he made a successful lecture tour of the United States and Canada.

During this time the Bobbs Merrill Co. of Indianapolis and New York, published the book which made Peat famous internationally — "Private Peat." Mr. Peat then became correspondent for upwards of one hundred newspapers, his writings being syndicated under the Scripps-Booth and McClure syndicates

In early 1917 Peat joined in the organization of the G.W.V.A. and was sent as Chairman of the Northern Alberta delegation to the first convention of the G.W.V.A. at Winnipeg. He became one of the founders of this great veterans' body. It is interesting to know that the first week's salary that Peat earned in the United States, augumented by certain amounts, totaling $500.00 in all, he gave toward the Edmonton Memorial for the G.W.V.A., which made him the first donor to this memorial—the finest built in the Dominion since the war.

During the war, when appearing for the Red Cross and other patriotic organizations, Peat made it a principle not to accept one dollar for himself from a Canadian audience. Enormous meetings were held at Massey Hall in Toronto, Montreal, Winnipeg, Calgary, Vancouver and Edmonton. These meetings alone gained upwards of $10,000 for the various Service organizations.

In the United States Peat helped to organize the Speakers' Bureau under Doctor Garfield in the Fuel Administration, and personally raised over five millions of dollars for the Amercan Red Cross, selling upwards of twenty-five millions in Liberty Bonds.

Mr. Peat has spoken to over three thousand individual audiences in Canada, the United States, Australia, New Zealand, the West Indies and Europe in the past ten years—an approximate count of over a million and a half people. His writings have been read by probably more than fifty millions of people, and the dramatization of his books on the screen by the Famous Players and Paramount people have been seen by millions of movie fans.

And in all this time Peat has never failed to remember his Canadian citizenship, and his loyalty to his country, and constantly has boosted Canada all over the world.

In his present Chautauqua tour Peat is giving a lecture based on the same subject as his latest book, "The Inexcusable Lie." So logical and profound and new are the ideas here discussed that three years ago at San Francisco Peat was cheered by the delegates of forty-seven nations attending the first World Conference on Education. He was invited to give a lecture at the second Biennial Conference on World Education held in Edinburgh, Scotland, last year, before the delegates of sixty different nations.

Mr. Peat is secretary of the Association for Peace Education, which he had the honor of founding in 1922, with headquarters in Chicago. This is the first organization of its kind in the history of the world, and it has undertaken the task of the reading and analyzation of school textbooks in every nation and what children are taught about war in prose, poetry, music and history. Mr. Peat's work has been cited in the Canadian House of Commons and in New Zealand parliament, and also in the Australian Senate.

But with all his success, we are about to welcome a very modest young man and his family to our city.

Democracy is on trial in the world on a more colossal scale than ever before. —Dole.

Play the ball always. Never let it play you.

By that I mean study the course of the ball carefully and so position yourself that you receive it on the high bounce.

It is almost always a miscue when a shortstop or any other infielder tries to handle the ball between bounds, as we say in baseball.

This happens when a player comes in a trifle too fast on the ball and is forced to handle it just as it hits the ground. Likewise, if he backs up on the ball he gets a short, nasty bounce to handle.

Getting the ball on the high bounce is the proper and easy manner of handling a ground ball. Taking it on the short bounce, caused by letting the ball play you, is the hardest possible way to try to handle any ball that is hit on the ground.

It is also well to handle the ball in such manner that you are in a position to throw without any lost motion. This is very important if the batsman is a fast runner and a hurried throw is necessary to complete the play.

Equally important as the proper handling of the ball is the study of the batsman. Learn whether he is a right or left field hitter and shift accordingly.

A step or two in the proper direction often makes possible a play that otherwise couldn't be turned if the shortstop played his regular position.

Don't be a stationary shortstop by that I mean playing every batsman from the same position. In my next article I will tell why the successful shortstop should play every batter differently.

MOZART'S POVERTY.

Had To Dance To Keep Warm Because of Lack of Fuel.

Mozart, even after he had attained European fame, was always a poor man, how poor the following story suggests: The landlord of a certain inn was a friend of his who realized to some extent the poverty of Mozart. One day he thought he would give the composer a pleasant surprise and so went with two or three bottles of wine which he intended to leave at the composer's door and stealthily retire. When he got there, however, he was surprised to hear what seemed to be sounds of dancing, though there was no music. Looking in at the door, he was still more surprised to see Mozart and his wife dancing a vigorous dance over the kitchen floor. Mozart at once saw and greeted him. On his enquiring the reason of this impromptu gaiety, Mozart replied: "Oh, you see, we had no fire, so as both Constance and I were very cold we took this method of warming ourselves." It then turned out that not only had they no fire, but they had neither fuel nor the means to purchase it.

MOZART'S POVERTY.

Had To Dance To Keep Warm Because of Lack of Fuel.

Mozart, even after he had attained European fame, was always a poor man, how poor the following story suggests: The landlord of a certain inn was a friend of his who realized to some extent the poverty of Mozart. One day he thought he would give the composer a pleasant surprise and so went with two or three bottles of wine which he intended to leave at the composer's door and stealthily retire. When he got there, however, he was surprised to hear what seemed to be sounds of dancing, though there was no music. Looking in at the door, he was still more surprised to see Mozart and his wife dancing a vigorous dance over the kitchen floor. Mozart at once saw and greeted him. On his enquiring the reason of this impromptu gaiety, Mozart replied: "Oh, you see, we had no fire, so as both Constance and I were very cold we took this method of warming ourselves." It then turned out that not only had they no fire, but they had neither fuel nor the means to purchase it.

WESTWOOD UNITED CHURCH FESTIVAL

Second Lawn Social in Seventy-five Years of Church.

(Examiner Staff Correspondence.)

WESTWOOD, July 10. — "If anybody has the nerve to come back for the third helping of strawberries, they'll get it," said one of the ladies of Westwood United Church yesterday afternoon as they completed the preparations for the second garden party in the 75 years of the church.

The expression referred to the abundance of fruit which had been supplied with cakes, pies and other confections. Tables were set on the lawn with the following ladies supervising the details of the garden party: Mesdames Don. Cameron, Ed. Sargent, R. C. Brackenridge, Wm. Dixon and D. Drummond.

The social was well attended, in spite of the evening threats (to farmers a promise) of rain, and its feature was the music by Trinity Church orchestra, of Peterboro, assembling twenty-five pieces. Rev. S. H. Moir is pastor of this church and was present last evening.

The festival was held under the auspices of the choir following anniversary services last Sunday. The proceeds were intended for the improvement of the church.

ABUNDANT RAINS GOOD FOR CROPS THROUGH CANADA

Prairie Provinces Ahead of Last Year, But in Ontario Things Are Late.

FRUIT PROSPECTS.

Full Crop of Cherries, Plums and Pears, But Peaches And Apples Only 50 Per Cent.

MONTREAL, Que., July 10 (Canadian Press).—The monthly letter of the Royal Bank of Canada says: "The condition of the crops in the Prairie Provinces are two to three weeks ahead of last year. In many cases the statement is made that crops are in fine condition. A few districts reported need for rains in May and early June, but since then abundant rains have fallen throughout the West and crops are reported in excellent condition. Manitoba reports that wheat now shows a healthy stand and is about ten inches above ground. In Saskatchewan the season opened with an abundant supply of moisture in the ground and general rains and showers have fallen since maintaining an adequate supply of moisture. From Alberta we learn that conditions in the northern and central portion of the province are generally satisfactory but the portion of the Province south of Calgary was practically without any rainfall during May, with the result that while all the crops on summer fallow stood well, that on stubble and fall and spring ploughing suffered considerably; however, recent rains served to improve the situation and optimism concerning the present condition of the crop is general.

Ontario Winter Wheat.

"The Dominion Bureau of Statistics estimated that 13 per cent. of the Ontario fall wheat acreage has been winter killed. In other words, out of 801,577 acres sown to wheat in that province, 104,200 acres have been destroyed. This is the most severe winter injury reported in any year since 1918, when winter killing reached 56 per cent. Continued unseasonable spring weather prevented crops from reviving and also delayed seeding which was fully three weeks later than last year. For a time the outlook was discouraging, but subsequent rainfalls improved the situation materially and seeding was completed under favorable conditions. Oats, barley and mixed grain have shown excellent growing and hay and pastures have materially improved.

Fruits Promising.

"In the Niagara Peninsula a full crop of sweet cherries, plums and pears is anticipated but there are indications that the peach and apple crops will not be more than 50 per cent. of normal. Grapes and raspberries, while damaged to some extent by cane freezing, give promise of a fair crop. Strawberries showing up well, but will be unusually late. In Quebec the season has been very backward, seeding operations began late in May, and the farmers had to buy feed for stock because of the fact that they were unable to turn their stock out to pasture."

FORMER MINISTER OF AGRICULTURE

fined an aggregate amount of some $200,000.

Customs oNt Neglected

"While were were carrying on concurrently these two outstanding activities against wrong-doing we did not neglect the customs matter, for we had already partially delegated it to the representatives of the Merchants' Protective Association with the assistance of the Government's officer, another Mr. Duncan, and every facility at our command to assist in running down something specific from the multitude of more or less vague rumors that were being circulated with respect to bootlegging and smuggling in Canada.

"Mr. Sparks, President of this association, on behalf of his organization, indicated to the Prime Minister and his colleagues that, in addition to what we were already doing, it would be necessary to make some drastic amendment to the Customs Act and increase the numerical strength of the preventive service. Mr. King accordingly intimated to Mr. Sparks that, if he would draft the changes he desired in the Customs Act, the necessary legislation incorporating such changes would be made during that session (1925). This was done and the necessary estimate passed to increase and strengthen the preventive service. Later on Mr. Sparks indicated that, with all these corrective facilities available, 90 per cent of the illegal practices could be run down.

No Specific Charge

"From time to time Mr. Sparks reported to Mr. King the result of his research and investigational work in connection with smuggling and about April or May of last year he urged upon Mr. King to take some definite remedial action but, at the same time, he failed to lay any specific charges of wrong-doing against any particular individual that would warrant a judicial inquiry thereinto.

"This was the attitude taken by Mr. King who repeatedly told Mr. Sparks that he had loaned him the Government's officer—an experienced Scotland Yard man—to dig up information, and if he could get anything at all upon which he could hang his hat a Royal Commission would be immediately appointed to investigate and report thereon.

"Time drifted on and the House prorogued early in July, 1925, and in the early part of September, the House was dissolved and a general election was on. Mr. Boivin, then new Minister of Customs, was sworn in during the first week of September, but he did not take charge of his office definitely until immediately after October 29. Two or three days after this, according to the sworn testimony before the customs committee, Mr. Boivin asked Mr. Robb to let him have Mr. Duncan to see if he could not get at the bottom of these smuggling rumors that kept growing in intensity.

First Interview

"On November 15, Mr. Boivin had his first interview with Mr. Duncan who, however, could not undertake the new work until December 1, because it would take two weeks to complete the work he was doing then. Accordingly, on December 1, armed with the fullest authority and power, Mr. Duncan proceeded to Montreal, under Mr. Boivin's instructions, to get at the bottom of these horrible customs rumors, so that the Government might have something definite upon which to take judicial action."

Truth is the secret of eloquence and of virtue, the basis of moral authority; it is the highest summit of art and of life. —Amiel.

BOOTLEGGING CHARGE

livered in a jug. He emptied it into another jug and filled the bottles next day.

"The usual bootlegger's story," remarked Mr. Kerr at the conclusion of the evidence.

Magistrate Payne said that, although he was not impressed with the description of the man who sold and delivered the liquor, there was always some doubt in these cases. He dismissed the bootlegging charge and the accused pleaded guilty to the other charge of having liquor in a place other than his dwelling.

Mr. Payne suggested a fine of $100.

"Of course it is for Your Worship to decide," remarked Mr. Kerr, but we think that is a small sum. We feel the fine should be at least $200, considering the quantity and excessive strength of the liquor."

"I'll split the difference with you," Mr. Payne decided.

The fine of $150 and costs was the biggest he had ever imposed for "having" liquor, he said.

Husband Disappears

A local young woman, mother of a child of three or four years, has appealed to Chief Brown to try to locate her husband who is said to have withdrawn his money from a bank here and disappeared about ten days ago, leaving his wife without funds They came to Campbellford nine months ago, the husband obtaining work in a local factory.

Dan McMillan, C.N.R. superintendent at Belleville, interviewed John Hay on Thursday respecting the ownership of the old Rathburn siding rails on the property secured by M. Hay. The latter said that if the C.N.R. could show ownership they would of course get them, but that old leases produced by Mr. McMillan were invalid. The C.N.R. had begun to load the rails, but unloaded them after the interview between Mr. Hay and Mr. McMillan.

George Clark is attending the Summer school at Queen's University, Kingston.

Mr. and Mrs. Beecher Cryderman, of Toronto, were recent visitors with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Cryderman.

The crops in this section are looking fine. Mr. Munro Clarke a few days ago gathered some oat stalks that were three feet in length.

The strawberries are a poor crop this year, the season being much later than usual. The cherry trees are heavily laden with fruit.

Several people have cut early hay and the crop is much better than was expected on account of the cold backward spring.

ARRANGEMENTS TO PRESERVE TRACT OF VIRGIN FOREST

Unequalled Advertisement of B. C. Timber Wealth May Pass Into Federal Keeping.

UNIQUE ATTRACTION.

OTTAWA, Ont., July 10.—(Canadian Press.) — Efforts are being made to have the tract of original forest, known as the "Green Timbers," four miles southeast of New Westminster, pass into the hands of the Federal administration for preservation as a national possession.

Hon. H. H. Stevens, Acting Minister of the Interior, it was learned yesterday, is endeavouring, with the object in view, to arrange with the present berth holders for a transfer of this stand to the Federal government, in exchange for a timber area elsewhere.

Recently representatives from British Columbia interviewed the Government at Ottawa, and pointed out the importance of preserving this virgin forest both from the Provincial and National point of view.

This historic tract is situated not far from the International boundary, and is said to constitute an unequalled advertisement of British Columbia's forest wealth, drawing attention of outsiders to the resources of the province in this respect. The stand lies along the Pacific highway in full view of those who enter the province by this route, providing a unique tourist attraction, since in the whole 1,100 miles from San Diego, Cal., to Vancouver, they are the only remaining bit of original forest.

The large sum of money necessarily involved in the purchase of the stand has hitherto defeated efforts to save the tract. If the arrangement now proposed by Mr. Stevens can be carried through, it will solve the principal obstacle in the way of preserving the forest.

TEAR GAS SAVES TAXES.

LONG ISLAND CITY, L. I., July 10.—John H. Fox, Deputy Receiver of Taxes here, has installed four tear-gas guns and a big gong for an alarm. Cashiers can release the tear gas by stepping on knobs on the floor. Receipts of taxes at the office at times amount to $500,000 in a day.

PRESENTATION TO VETERAN WORKER

Officers of Keene United Sunday School Give Cane to Mr. Edwards.

KEENE, July 9.—On Monday evening last Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Taylor and daughter Eva entertained the executive of the Methodist United Sunday school and a most enjoyable time was had by all present. During the evening games and music were indulged in and during a lull in the pleasant time an address was read and a beautiful cane presented to W. D. Edwards, Sunday school superintendent. Mr. Edwards has the distinction of having missed only a very few Sunday school sessions in the last twenty-five years. For quite a number of years he did not miss at all, and only once then and that on account of illness to himself.

Mr. Edwards was the last superintendent of the former Methodist church before the former Presbyterian and Methodist churches amalgamating their congregations.

Mr. Edwards is also the first superintendent of the new United church in Keene.

The address:

Dear Mr. Edwards:

We, the teachers and officers of the Keene Methodist Sunday school, feel that we cannot allow the event of closing our school and uniting with the larger church, to pass without in some way acknowledging our appreciation of your labors among us as superintendent.

You have been faithful in the discharge of your duties, sacrificial in your service, giving your best to the work, genial and tactful in your dealings with us as your helpers in the work of the Sunday school.

Our association with you Sunday after Sunday have been not only pleasant but of the most helpful nature, especially in the review of the lesson, and we feel it a privilege to have the opportunity of working together with you in this, the greatest work of the church.

As a more tangible recognition of our appreciation we ask you to accept this cane and trust you may be long spared to use it in assisting you along the highway of life, also that your good works may continue to grow in unselfish service for the Master whom we one and all love to serve.

Yours in the Masters work:

Ida M. Kindred, assistant superintendent; Albert Stillman, secretary; Olive Shearer, treasurer; A. E. Fletcher, Librarian; D. Tucker, Home Class superintendent; Mrs. G. Taylor, Cradle Roll superintendent; Eva Taylor, organist; Minnie Edwards, assistant organist; teachers, Bertha Wilson, Wilfred T. Fletcher, Andrew Rennie, Mrs. A. Rennie, Mrs. A. McLachlan.

Mr. Edwards was taken completely by surprise but arose to the occasion with a very tactful speech.

When the wee sma' hours were creeping along the host and hostess served a delicious lunch to wind up the splendid evening.

BETHANY W.M.S.

Young Ladies' Mission Circle Provides Programme for Meeting.

BETHANY, July 9.—The regular monthly meeting of the Women's Missionary Society was held on Tuesday afternoon at the parsonage. Seven members were prsent. An unusually interesting program was given by the Young Ladies' Mission Club, nine girls being present. This was the first time for the Auxiliary and Circle to gather in one meeting, and those present enjoyed the treat. The programme was opened by Miss Priscilla Howden who announced the hymn, "I Need Thee Precious Jesus", which was sung heartily and was followed with prayer by Mrs. Jackson. Miss Howden then read a passage of scripture from St. Mark's gospel. A short intermission in the programm was allowed for the members of the Auxiliary to attend to several items of business regarding the Auxiliary and to appoint a committee for the regular quarterly tea to be held in August. Continuing with the programme Miss Thelma Patton read a story of how the call came to one young lady to be a missionary. Miss Verna Belle Lee sang as a solo "Brighten the corner where you are"; Miss Helen Patton gave an instrumental; Miss Priscilla Howden gave a short and interesting paper on "Our Work in Western Canada"; Miss Jean Thorndyke and Miss Hazel Jackson sang a duet entitled "I have a friend". Another interesting and impressive reading was given by Miss Winnie Dawe entitled, "A cross in the east." The closing hymn was sung followed by the Mizpah benediction. Then Mrs. (Rev.) Poulter served dainty refreshments. She was assisted by Miss Violet Jackon.

On Tuesday evening the members of the Young Ladies' Mission Club gathered in a body and visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bertrand Monk and presented Mrs. Monk with a pyrex pie plate set in pierced silver with ivory handles and an address which is as follows:

Bethany, July 6, 1926.

Dear Hazel:

As members of the Y.L.M.C. and friends we have gathered together to pay you a surprise visit, but more especially to pay you a tribute of appreciation for the services you have so cheerfully rendered and to tell you in what high esteem you are held in the minds of everyone present. We consider it an honor to have had in our midst one who has been so keen and energetic in the work of our Club as you, and one who has been so considerate in the welfare of others as well as your own, we trust and sincerely hope that our good friendship will still continue and that you will always remember your good friends of the Y.L.M.C. We would ask you to accept our gift, not for its intrinsic value, but with the sincere wish of the members of the Club and friends for wealth, health and prosperity to you and yours in your new life and home.

Signed on behalf of the Club girls —President, Priscilla Howden; Secretary, Hazel Jackson.

At the same time the young people of the village gave the young couple a miscellaneous shower of both useful and beautiful gifts.

Mr. Monk on behalf of himself and bride replied to the girls for their gifts and to the other young people for their generosity for so kindly remembering them at a time of starting out on a new untried life: also telling the young people that their home would ever be open to them and their friends.

The village was very quiet on Wednesday afternoon due to so many attending the Staples-McGill wedding at Centdeville and to a number of other attending Yelverton Garden party where the senior baseball team was billed to play.

STRAWBERRY PRICES

Ranged From 10 To 18 Cents Per Box According to Local Supply.

Strawberry prices throughout the district yesterday ranged from 10c to 18c a box, depending on the local supply. At Hastings the general quotation was two boxes for 35c; Campbellford and Warkworth consumers fared better at two boxes for 25c, with some producers unloading surplus supplies at 10c straight. The week's heat and drying wind reduced many of the gardeners' output but last night's rain should stimulate the crop again for the rest of the season's pickings.

NEW PASTOR IS INDUCTED

Rev. W. R. Archer Takes Charge of Havelock United Church.

IMPRESSIVE SERVICE.

HAVELOCK, July 10.—On Wednesday evening the Havelock United Church was the scene of a very impressive ceremony, when the Rev. W. Archer of Fenelon Falls was inducted as pastor of the Havelock-Trent River charge.

Rev. Mr. Stillman of Norwood inducted the minister and addressed the congregation and minister. Rev. Mr. Hinton of Hastings read the lesson from Romans, chapter 12, and led in prayer, and Rev. Mr. Archibald of Keene preached the sermon.

Mr. Archibald chose as his text, Galatians2-20, in which Paul gives the secret of what it means to be a Christian. "I am crucified with Christ; nevertheless I live; yet not I, but Christ liveth in me; and the life which I now live in the flesh, I live by the faith of the Son of God, who loved me and gave Himself for me.

It is disappointing, he said, to find among regular church-goers, how many are in doubt as to what it means to be a Christian, and it is necessary to clear away the misconception gathered around this subject. Many insist on things Christ does not insist on, and thus make Christian life confusing to themselves and others as well. Paul knew the secret. To be a Christian is to live by faith in personal communion with Jesus. To be a Christion does not mean to be merely a good man. One may be truthful, honest, and kind, yet cannot be said to be a Christian. The starting point of the Christian life is Christ.

Not enough is heard these days of confession and conversion. Conversion is only the blossom unfolding to a flower of beauty. In speaking of the theology, he said, it is man's knowledge of God systematized. There are questions that are not as clear as noonday to the old Christian let alone those starting out in the new life. When Christ called the twelve disciples He put them through no shorter catechism, but gave them the simple injunction "Follow Me," and later through fellowship with Him there followed love, devotion and service. Faith is trust and it is faith in Jesus that saves. What else can knit two souls? There is no other cement but love and trust. Faith is the outgoing of the whole soul to Jesus. Christ seeks love, but first gave His love. The question that comes to pulpit and pew is "Lovest thou Me"

At the conclusion of the sermon, the induction ceremony took place, after which the customary address to the minister, officers and congregation with reference to the new fellowship entered upon was given by Mr. Stillman, who expressed himself as being particularly pleased at having Mr. Archer for a near neighbor as they had been friends for a number of years and he had come to love him as a brother. He also congratulated the congregation in securing Mr. Archer as pastor, as he was one who had proven his merit in other fields.

In addressing the minister, Mr. Stillman said one of the main duties of a minister is to be a watchman. In the old days the cities had walls around and watchmen stationed to keep guard in case assault should come unexpectedly, and while they are busy with the cares of home and business people are likely not to be always on guard. Another duty of the minisied is to be a shepherd to care of the flock, ever ministering to them according to their need. A shepherd has to go out sometimes after sheep that have gone astray and bring them back to the fold. "I am learning more," he said, "as the years go by, that this is one part of the minister's life in which lies great possibilities. Not only to care for the sheep but to go after those who are in the highways and byways of sin, and this is not only the task of the minister, but also of the elders and members of the congregation. He expressed the hope that Mr. Archer would have men who would assist him in the carrying out of this part of the work.

Preaching the Gospel is the minister's paramount task and he enjoined the congregation not to feel that Sunday was an off day. "I like a man to feel that his biggest job is Sunday. The thing that will count for the most of the week's work is Sunday. As every day in the year enables a child to pass examinations at school, so regular attendance at the House of God on the Sabbath will mean the gradual growth of our spiritual lives.

"We may not be able to know how much we miss when we do not attend a service. Regular attendance is also a great encouragement to the minister. A crowd will get a crowd. This is true in business and it is also true regarding the church. I urge you be to in the House of God for the services, not only because you will be benefitted, but because of the service you will give."

In closing, Mr. Stillman said: "I hope the work of God will thrive and that hearts will be enriched in that service." At the conclusion of the service, refreshments were served in the Sunday School Room by the ladies of the church.

PLAY AND CONCERT GIVEN AT SCHOOL

Parts Are Well Taken by Amateur Actors—Good Programme.

DOURO, July 9.—The young people of S.S. No. 12 put on a very succesful play and concert in the school house one evening last week. The various parts were exceptionally well taken and many of the actors displayed great talent. The practice and memorizing mean a good deal of work in a busy season on the farm.

Synopsis—The story is woven about Eleanor Masserene who, because of her sunny disposition, is nicknamed Molly Bawn. She is an orphan, the daughter of an aristocratic mother, who eloped with a young Irishman. The romance of this situation, instead of appealing to her mother's father so angered and embittered him that he cut off his daughter and allowed her to die in poverty. After many years of loneliness Sir William Amherst takes it into his head to send for his granddaughter, Molly, whom he has never seen. Molly, resenting the treatment her mother has received, declares she will not go to Sir William's home. However, persuaded by her step-brother John Masserene, Sir William's messenger Marica and Captain Chadwell, she agrees to go. This arrangement is not at all pleasing to Molly's ardent admirer, Teddy Luttrell, but wilful Molly, despite a burst of jealousy on the part of the faithful Teddy, packs her trunk and departs for the home of her wealthy grandfather. How the coquettish heroine wins the hard old man over her sweet will, how she defeats her rival, Marica in a plot against the life of Sir William, incidentally driving her three admirers, Teddy, Captain Shadwell and the ridiculous Plantagenet Potts, nearly to distraction is shown.

Tomorrow's HOROSCOPE

"The stars incline, but do not compel."

SUNDAY JULY 11 1926.

Another quiet day is foreseen by astrologers who find the aspects not important.

This should be a particularly favorable rule for women who will find much to interest them in religious or philosophical studies, while this configuration prevails.

Warning is given that there may be many signs of an exchange in sex characteristics and for this reason women should cultivate the feminine graces.

Startling fashions for men may be introduced and these will have a trend toward the bizarre and colorful, to the seeing eye of symbol of deep import.

This should be a most auspicious rule for lovers of every age: old folk should be carefully chaperoned lest they become victims of foolish sentimentality.

Engagements to marry entered into today have a fairly good direction of the stars, although there is a sway making for mutual deception.

Farmers are to be disappointed regarding legislation, but they will profit in an unexpected manner.

Christianity comes under a planetary government now, which presages opposition and criticism. The clergy will be subject to many unfair accusations, it is forecast.

Attention is called to the prophecy that the conjunction of Mars and Uranus, June 13, foreshadowed many violent accidents such as explosions, automobile wrecks, and maritime disasters.

Great development of hydro-electric power is prognosticated by those who read the stars.

Women and children must safeguard the health all through the summer, for there is likely to be an epidemic, especially severe on them.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of a year of unusual freedom in which it is possible to follow the heart's desires. They should be careful about all legal documents and contracts.

Children born on this day should have great possibilities. These subjects of Cancer may be too reserved and sensitive to make the most of their talents and should be wisely aided.

HER OWN WAY by a Girl of Today

JUMPING AT CONCLUSIONS

"You know, Judy," exclaimed Mamie Riley, "I thought it was only poor girls like ourselves that have trouble getting along. But it looks as though every individual must have some trouble in this world, be he rich or poor. You say that Miss Meredith has to have fifty thousand dollars by ten o'clock tonight and that she won't be of age and have the handling of her own money until next week."

"That's right, and if she tells her stepfather what she wants it for, he will not only refuse her but she also stands a good chance of having him appointed her guardian and managing trustee for the rest of his life."

"What is she going to do, Judy?"

"She is not going to do anything, but I am." I opened a drawer in my dressing table and took out the bottle with its menacing red label. Mamie sprang forward.

"What are you going to do with that, Judy? Surely you are not going to poison anyone?"

"No, I'm not going to poison anyone, but I am going to tell Joan's stepfather that he poisoned Miss Cleaver just as truly as though he poured a part of the stuff in this bottle down her throat. I am going to, if necessary, put the fear of God into the heart of Mr. Robinson and Doctor Flint."

I almost laughed at Mamie's face. It expressed so many emotions. I knew that her brain was teeming with questions, yet she didn't dare to ask one of them.

"Mamie," I said solemnly, "Martha Cleaver drank some of the contents of this bottle to end her life."

"My God, Judy. How did you get hold of it?"

And then I told her the whole story. How I picked up the bottle beside the woman in the rest room the day before.

"Does anyone know you have it now?" Mamie inquired.

"They don't know what to think. You see Mr. Robinson let it fall behind the counter among the debris that always accumulates during business house. Evidently he was afraid I had picked it up, for he made Doctor Flint send me a premptory message to come to his office when the store closed. I more or less told him politely to go and fly his kite.

"In the meantime Joan had invited me out to dinner, and I broke an engagement with Jerry to keep it. He also saw the car as you did and also jumped at the conclusion that I could not resist old Robinson's money and power."

UNCLE WIGGILY Today's Bedtime Story

By Howard R. Garis

UNCLE WIGGILY MAILS A LETTER

Copyright, 1926, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

(By Howard R. Garis.)

"Well, how do you like it here in the big city?" asked Uncle Wiggily's cousin, Mr. Hare, of the bunny gentleman one day, when the country rabbit had been visiting him about a week.

"Oh, it is very lively and jolly," answered Mr. Longears with a faint twinkle of his pink nose. "I have had quite a number of adventures—different from those I have around my hollow stump bungalow—quite different."

"That is what you need—a change," said Mr. Hare with a laugh. "I am sorry I haven't time to go around with you more, but I am very busy these days. This afternoon, sure, we'll go to the ball game."

"That's all right," spoke Uncle Wiggily. "I can manage to keep busy. Yesterday I went shopping with my wife and I was popped up in a thing they called an elevator. I didn't much care for it."

"It's like eating Alligator pears—you have to get used to them," said Mr. Hare.

"Speaking of alligators, I haven't been chased by one in a long time—I've almost forgotten how it seems," said Uncle Wiggily, dreaming like. "But you hop along to your office, my dear cousin. If you get time to take us to the ball game this afternoon, all right. If you don't, I have some letters to mail, and I will take them to the box."

Mrs. Longears was kept busy in the city house that day making some changes in the dress she had bought at the big ten and eleven dollar store. And after Uncle Wiggily had written a letter to Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy, saying he would be home over Sunday, he went out to mail it.

The rabbit gentleman put a stamp on his letter and then he hopped down the front steps of his city cousin's stylish house and seeing the Police Traffic Dog standing down at the corner, the bunny uncle asked him:

"Where is the post-office?"

"It's about five miles down this street, along another street, around a corner, up over the bridge and across

"Come on! What are you waiting for?" the Police Dog barked.

the way from the railroad station," answered the Police Dog.

"Oh, dear! I never can find that," sighed Uncle Wiggily. "I guess I'll stand here and wait for the post dog to come along. He knows where the post-office is, and he'll take my letter."

Uncle Wiggily had been standing around the corner for half an hour when the Police Dog barked at him:

"What are you waiting for? I've held up traffic ten times already if you want to cross the street!"

"I don't want to cross the street," Uncle Wiggily wearily made answer. "I'm waiting for the post dog to come along to take my letter."

"Ho! Ho!" barkingly laughed the Police Dog. "You must be from the country. Just drop your letter in that box and it will go as well as if you gave it to the carrier, or took it to the post-office."

Uncle Wiggily saw two boxes on poles. One box was green and the other was red.

"He must mean for me to put my letter in the red box," said the rabbit gentleman, "for the stamp on it is red." So he hopped over to the red box, and read what was printed on it, which was this: 'Turn the handle, open the door and pull down the hook.'

So the rabbit gentleman did this, and then he heard a buzzing sound inside the box, and pretty soon there was a rattle, clanging, banging noise down the street and Uncle Wiggily said:

"I guess this must be the mail carrier coming after my letter. It is very polite of him. After all, a big city isn't so bad!" And then, all at once Uncle Wiggily saw the fire engines and hose carts and the hook and ladder trucks dashing up to him, and a big dog barked.

"Where's the fire?" And Uncle Wiggily said:

"Fire? There isn't any fire that I know of. But if you want to mail my letter, here it is!" And the bunny gentleman knew then, right away, he had made a mistake and pulled a fire box instead of dropping his letter in the mail box.

"Well, you must be from the country!" growled the fire dogs, and the bunny wondered how they could guess without even asking him. But it might have been worse, and if the ice pick doesn't take the cherry pie out of the oven and roll it like a hoop, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily going back home.

Cream Color Spots Itself with Crushed Berry Pink

The business double of the jabot, pockets and side plaits means most emphatically that one wants to be left in this particular Summer suite. With its fulness at yoke depth and excellent sleeve it is a frock that is particularly nice for silk and cotton crêpe, or cotton voile. Crêpe de Chine is a town and country material of well-tested merit, for it launders nicely, doesn't crush and is almost, if not quite, as cool as cotton. Checked taffeta is new and comes in charming Summer colors. Printed radium is thoroughly satisfactory and the latest designs show dots, small crowded patterns, small flowers, etc.

The Examiner does not sell these patterns.

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

(By Mildred Marshall.)

Facts about your name, its history; its meaning; whence it was derived; its significance; your lucky day, and lucky jewel.

NORA.

Nora, which has always seemed associated with beauty to the extent of frequently being synonomous, really comes under the class of military names and since it is derived from that which a soldier most esteems, it signifies honor.

Honor was a deity in ancient Rome, but Honorius first appears as a proper name in one of the appellations of the Spanish father of the great Theodosius. It was inherited by that imbecile being; his grandson, the last genuine Emperor and also by a niece called Justa Grata Honoria, who dishonored all three of her honorable names. But some lingering allegiance to the last rulers of the Empire perpetuated their names and finally we have Honorine, a Neustrian maiden slain in a Danish invasion and regarded as a martyr.

For that reason, Honorine is exceedingly popular in France and Germany. It penetrated England also, and in Ireland became a great favorite as Onora, Honor or Norah. Two Gallic bishops named Honoratus are said to be responsible for the derivation of the French Honore. Another elaboration in vogue is Honoria.

Perhaps it is the inherent pathos of Keltic legend which gives Nora the talismanic stone which to dream of denotes sorrow; jet. That fashionable glittering jewel should be worn constantly by the bearer of the name, since jet is said to become a part of the very body and soul of its wearer and to exercise jealous care in guarding her from evil. Sunday is appointed her lucky day and mystic seven her lucky number.

The most charming of all the poetic tributes to Nora is Thomas Moore's:

"Lesbia hath a beaming eye,
But no one knows for whom it beameth,
Right and left its arrows fly,
But what they aim at no one dreameth!
Sweeter lure gaze upon
My Nora's lid that seldom rises;
Few its looks but every one,
Like unexpected light, surprises!
O my Nora Creina, dear!
My gentle bashful Nora Creina!
Beauty lies
In many eyes,
But love in yours, my Nora Creina."

YOUR CHILD'S CAREER

By REV. J. N. PIERCE
(President Coolidge's Pastor.)

If you think, or your boys thinks, that he should be a minister, it is well that there should be a clear understanding of certain things.

It will mean hard work both day night. The world does not need ministers who have an over-developed root of laziness.

It will take uncommon ability, for people in a community need to have a minister who possesses brains and personality as well as goodness.

It will involve long and careful preparation. A short-cut to the ministry is to be avoided as truly as a short-cut to surgery.

The chances are good that it will mean comparative poverty rather than considerable wealth. No man deserves to succeed, or will succeed, in the ministry, who makes money-getting his object.

Depth of Purpose

If your boy has not enough brains to become a lawyer or ability enough to succeed in business, then in the name of religion, keep him out of the ministry.

But if he has enough robust manhood, enough depth of purpose, enough personality and power to succeed in a dozen other callings, then it is possible that he may become qualified to be a worthy minister of the gospel.

A boy who has not mischief enough ever to do wrong probably lacks life enough to do much good. Odolescent over-piety is no sign of a divine call to this profession. The normal rather than the abnormal is a favorable qualification.

A good healthy religious life on the part of your boy is in large degree produced by the example of his parents. At any rate, in the long run it will have its final influence.

You should strive to imbue him by precept and example with those fine qualities which are universally desired: absolute honesty, clearness of mind, consideration for others, a spirit of co-operation and willingness to sacrifice for the common good.

Education Required

Give him the best education he can get and use; a good preparatory course for college, a good college course, preferably in the liberal arts, and a three or four-year course of instruction in the best theological seminary you can find.

This involves about seven years of study beyond the high school period. If he is worth his salt, he probably can earn part of his way during this period and can command scholarship aid from various institutions.

In every denomination there is large opportunity for capable, earnest, well qualified men. A good living is to be had immediately at the close of their studies. "There is always room at the top."

Power to Help

The salaries of preachers, like those of teachers, are not large. It is true that not a few men in our country as a whole receive as high a salary as ten, twelve and fifteen thousand dollars a year.

These same men in certain other professions probably would earn several times these amounts.

Most ministers have been able to live with considerable comfort, to educate their children and to provide reasonably for old age.

Our greatest compensation, however, is not to be measured by financial returns, but in terms of personal satisfaction: there is a joy in the work, a thrill in the power to help people, a spiritual satisfaction in the ministry of religion, which money cannot measure. Happy the man whose life is a success in this high calling.

ONCE UPON A TIME — JESPER WHO HERDED THE HARES—VIII — by W.J. ENRIGHT.

ONCE UPON A TIME — JESPER WHO HERDED THE HARES—IX — by W.J. ENRIGHT.

Once in a great while we are shown a movie of bird life. I was at a theatre not long ago, when, to my great satisfaction, a close-up of some gulls was shown, and they were shown in flight at normal speed and then with the special slow motion camera, and all the motions of the wings were made so slowly that they could be analyzed.

For grace and beauty of motion, wings of birds can hardly be beaten. When we attempt to make some connection between these wings and our own arms it just about makes us ashamed of ourselves.

These birds were seen to be covering the distance rather fast even when slowed up by the camera. It makes one wonder just how fast birds can fly. I remember having a race with a robin once, and my auto was going fifty miles an hour, but the robin decided to cross ahead of me when he might just as well have fallen behind, for he was flying beside me. He deliberately forced speed and crossed in front of me! I thought I would run over him for sure, but he made it safely, although he was hard pressed and doing his very top speed, I should think, judging by the effort he seemed to be making.

Now, if you happen to be out in the woods near a lake, why not make an estimate of distances? Why not check up the distance between two points, and time a wild duck, or a shelldrake, or a loon?

Shelldrake are duck-like birds that have saw-tooth edges to their bills; they eat fish. They are called fishing ducks. The loons are diving birds, also eaters of small fish and destroyers of fish enemies.

If you cannot estimate the flying speed, why not follow a loon and estimate his swimming speed? I have been unable to catch up to a loon with a motor boat of considerable speed. A loon has big and webbed feet, set back at the stern end, and they are powerful. He has a sharp beak and a streamline body, and under water he uses both feet and wings.

Several times I have chased mother ducks and their young ones, and ordinary motor boats are not in it for getting over the water, when compared to wings and feet. These birds were too young to fly, but by half flying and half paddling, they really run on top of the water, and that is just what motor speed boats do, they literally fly over the water, for nothing but the tail end is touching.

TRAINING.

Sister gets up early, without even bein' told. Seldom makes a move that makes her mother have to scold. Chips right into morning work, and when she takes a hold, it's pretty hard to realize she's only eight years old.

Helps to get the breakfast: cleans the kitchen spic and span. Tinkers 'round the household, doing everything she can. All the work is finished by the middle of the day. Then she feels she has a right to run along and play.

Sonny runs the arrands to the meat-shop and the like. Does 'em in a hurry, making speed upon his bike. Burns the papers once a week, and after that is done, cleans the yard and cuts the grass and calls his labor fun.

Isn't any wonder that their mom and dad feel proud. They're the sort of youngsters who will stand out in a crowd. Just a bit unusual, but the answer sheds a light. Ask their parents—you'll be told they've just been brought up right.

SOLUTION OF YESTERDAY'S CROSSWORD PUZZLE.

Lyrics Of Life

(By Douglas Malloch.)

THE GREATNESS OF EXAMPLE.

I do not worry over youth
As much as some, and that's the truth,
For I remember I was young.
For youth would rather run than walk,
In things they do, in things they talk—
Oh, I remember that I sung
As loud a carold on life's wat
As any youngster does today.

I fooled with folly, even sinned,
And not the compass but the wind
My course controlled in younger years.
But time a teacher always brings,
A time that teaches better things
Than now a youngster heeds or hears.
Youth wades the ditches now and then,
But youth will find the path again.

I do not worry over these
If we, who know life's mysteries,
Will nobly counsel, nobly do.
Great wisdom children may forget,
But there is something greater yet,
The greatness of example, too.
I do not worry over youth
If we both speak and live the truth.

Daily Short Story

CHANGE OF HEART

By DOROTHY DOUGLAS

Lenora and her parents were beginning to get settled in the tiny cottage that lay on the fringe of the big Sutton estate. They had searched for many a month for just such an adorable small place, and having found it were extremely happy. Lenora could get in to her business in the city within the hour, and that was not bad.

"She certainly was some funny old crank, the former owner, wasn't she? Most of the neighbors seem to be delighted that she's moved away."

"I hope they won't feel the same about us," laughed Mrs. Tempest. "I shouldn't like to leave such a trail of unpleasant thoughts behind me."

The next afternoon came a letter, addressed to the occupier of the house, which read briefly:

"Having spoken to you on two occasions about using the Sutton estate as a part of your garden, and getting no satisfaction from you, I will take other means of enfrocing this order. If the flowers which you have established on the Sutton side of the fence are not removed in one week's time I will bring the law into the question."

The abominable letter was signed, A. Cockburn, Overseer of Sutton Estate.

Leonora was so enraged, since she had nothing whatever to do with the riot of flowers that most certainly were flaunting their glorious color on the other side of the fence, that she sat down and wrote back to "A. Cockburn" before her parents arrived to cool her wrath with gentle words.

Arthur Cockburn, when he opened the letter next morning and read it, whistled loud and long. He felt as if a stinging slap had struck his cheek.

Leonora had written, also briefly:

"Since the owner of the house in Meadow Lane knows nothing whatever about the Sutton property, he would be pleased if no more insulting letters are sent him. If he desired more land on which to plant flowers he most certainly would have bought it. Trusting this letter will end further communication, he remains—" The letter was signed L. Tempest.

Leonora had not even told her parents of the letter as she knew it would only worry them, and she was lucky a second time in that when Cockburn made his way round to find out what the trouble was she was alone in the house.

Having fully expected to be greeted by a very cantankerous old spinster with whom he had bandied words of a warring nature he was quite naturally startled when the lovely Leonora opened the door.

"I am Mr. Cockburn," he began, and was almost instantly frozen by the look that the fair one gave him. "There has been some awful mistake," he swiftly informed her.

"I quite agree," Leonora said, and did not in any way relax.

"I insist on your knowing," he went on stubbornly, "that a few weeks ago there was a spinster in this house that gave me more trouble than a bull terrier. She threw tins over the fence, put all her ashes and everything she couldn't dispose of over on the Sutton side of the line. She has been slowly pushing out that same fence until I fancy she's filched about ten feet of land she has no right to. Also—"

"Still—" Leonora's lips were trying not to smile, "you need not have written so—"

"If you had seen the lady in question," put in Cockburn, "you would have considered that a love letter as compared to the kind she deserved. I'm frightfully sorry this has happened. I hadn't the slightest idea the house had changed hands as I've been away for six weeks. Will you convey my apology to your husband, or shall I come again when he is here?"

"My husband," said Leonora, and a dimple jumped suddenly into view, "has not seen the letter. I did not want to trouble anyone with it."

Cockburn sighed and realized that not many women showed so much consideration for others. Also he sighed because some man had evidently found Leonora before he had.

"Besides," the lovely one was saying, "I have no husband. It is my parents who own the house and to whom you wrote that letter."

Cockburn smiled broadly.

"In that case," he said determinedly, "I must see them and make my apology."

"That is not necessary, either," she told him. "I did not let anyone see it."

"Great Scott! Then I have no excuse for coming back. He was so crestfallen that Leonora laughed straight into his eyes.

"That certainly is too bad," she commented.

"It's far worse than too bad," said Cockburn. "I don't see how I can sleep until I have found a perfectly speedy excuse for coming to meet your parents."

"As a matter of fact," said Leonora, "both my parents are very chummy—oh, here they are now. Perhaps it would be just as well if you were to come in and tell them all about that letter—it was really quite amusing, wasn't it?"

Cockburn lost no time.

DISCUSSES

THE WOMAN TO MARRY

"A man will ponder ten times as long over a carpet as he does over the lady who is to walk on it."

When a man resolves to buy a motor-car, unless he happens to be thoroughly versed in the subject of motor-cars, he takes advice—and any amount of trouble—before making his choice among the various admirable and lovely makes of cars. He does not decide immediately upon the one that by its external appearance takes his fancy. He inquires into the advantages and disadvantages of each type of car; he considers carefully such points as durability, original cost, cost of running and of upkeep, comfort, responsiveness of engine, and especially brake-power. At length he makes his purchase, but seldom without misgivings as to whether he has done the best for himself by the transaction or not.

Arnold Bennett

Yet when the same man resolves to marry he is usually much less careful—though the acquisition of a wife is probably at least as important to the success of his existence as the acquisition of a car. He sees a young woman who produces a favorable impression on him—either by looks, deportment, costume, glance, voice, turns of speech, subtle flatteries—and his thoughts immediately centralize themselves on espousing her.

And it is astonishing how slight a thing in a woman will suffice to attract a man. Before he has inquired seriously into her character, health, situation, temperament and tastes he begins to let himself go in love and quite soon he is so far gone that he neither wants to draw back nor decently could draw back even if such was his desire. The supreme question is put and answered, and—well, there he is and there she is!

Caution Returns.

But when the matter is finally settled and the business arises of selecting a home and furnishing it, all his prudence, and his carefulness in weighing pros against cons, come back to him and no trouble is too great for him. He will refuse house after house, or flat after flat, until he has convinced himself that if he goes further he will fare worse, and as for furniture he will ponder ten times as long over the color of a carpet or the shape of a chair as he did over the qualities and defects of the lady who is to walk on the carpet or sit on the chair.

Commonsense ought to remind the man who has got a lady in his head of several important factors in the delicate situation.

The first of these is that in all probability he is not seeing the lady in her normal state. Indeed, both she and himself are in a decidedly abnormal state. You ask why? The answer is that the moment she perceives that she has impressed him, be it ever so slightly, a deep human instinct causes her to begin to put her "best foot foremost," or, phrasing it otherwise, to "put all her goods in the window." The more she charms the more she wants to charm.

Commonsense will make allowance for these right and proper but very deceptive proceedings. Commonsense will be on the watch for the smallest signs of a temperamental fault. Commonsense will inform him that the chances of the particular creature being perfect in a world peopled by imperfect persons are exceedingly slender. Commonsense will help him to keep a cool head until he has reconnoitred and explored the ground upon which he is about to tread and which seems to him to be a landscape without a flaw.

Street Angel—House Devil.

The second factor is the demeanor and behavior of the lady in her own home. Of course, if he has first met her in her own home the tactics are simple. He can keep on seeing her in her own home, because the way thereto has been opened to him. But it may well happen that he has made her acquaintance at a party of some sort and then sees her again at another party, and so on. In which case he may count on it that appearances are delusive and conclusions will ultimately have to be corrected in a major or minor degree. A girl may be angelic at parties and satanic at home; but the attitude toward her of her relatives will give sure indication of the way in which she behaves when admirers are not present.

The third factor is the opinion of her friends and his friends concerning her—especially her friends. To arrive at the truth of these opinions may be somewhat difficult, for the friends will be anxious to be agreeable to him and loyal to her. If he begins his inquiries by a passionate exclamation: "I say, don't you think Miranda is splendid?" he is not likely to receive much truth in return; the instinct of anybody will be to reply in a tone of similar ecstasy: "Oh, I do!"

Seriousness Essential.

The inquirer should be more serpentine in his methods than that. He should assume an air of detachment, or even of hostility. He might say: "What kind of girl is Miranda? I can't make her out." Or: "How is it that Miranda seems to be such a favorite? I don't quite see myself that there's a tremendous lot in her." Conversation started in either of these keys will be more profitable and enlightening than the other kind.

The fourth factor is the young woman's real views about truly important questions. Men are apt to marry women about whose views they know nothing more important than that they prefer Chippendale furniture to Louis Quinze, and the tango to the waltz. Serious conversation between the pair is essential. And firm contradiction is essential, in order to reach anything that is worth knowing.

Finally, the fifth factor is the fundamental bent of the lady's mind. What does she want in life? Is she ambitious, or is she content with things as they are? Is her instinct to rise, or to rest in tranquility?

Ambition should always join ambition and placid contentment should join placid contentment. This, I think, is the maxim of all maxims in the choice of a mate; and to flout it is the surest method of inviting a catastrophe—whether hidden or disclosed.

I have offered no suggestions to the woman in her selection of the man, because this was not my subject; but broadly speaking, what applies to the man applies to the woman, though the tactics in her case would not and should not be quite the same.

How To Become A Highbrow

ONE can never tell the sociological possibility of some little thing that seems hardly worth the saying. Thus, if you say, He swears like a pirate, you are not sociological. But suppose you pull yourself together and say "Profanity in that it relaxes the inner tension by a sudden nervous discharge and offers a means of escape from social inhibitions, is, when phylogenetically considered, nature's method under the conditions of modern civilized life of providing an outlet for primitive emotions, which in an earlier period, were apt to take more socially injurious forms, such as piracy." You will then be taken for a sociologist. I do not say you will really be a sociologist, but you will look like one, especially if you add a bibliography.

Mix it Fresh for every meal

Mustard is like tea—it is at its best when freshly made. But where tea requires boiling water to develop its flavour, Keen's Mustard needs only cold water to liberate the essential oils which add such zest and flavour to food.

When you serve Mustard with bacon, ham or sausages for breakfast—with cold meats for lunch — with roast beef or pork for dinner, mix it fresh for every meal and mix it only with cold water.

Keen's Mustard is a real aid to digestion because it stimulates the salivary glands and promotes the flow of the gastric juice in the stomach.

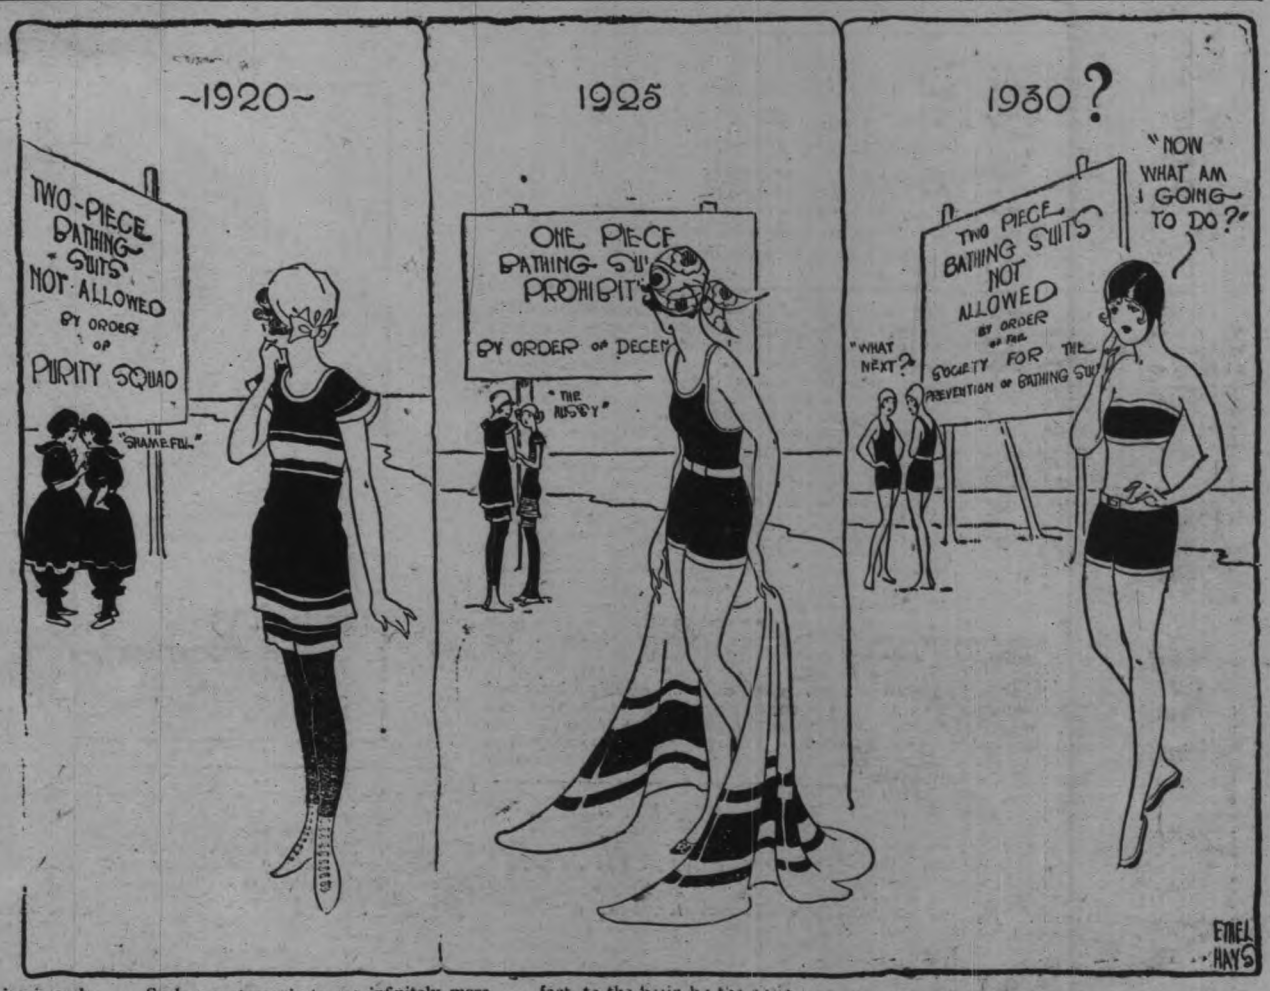
WHY BEACHES ARE POPULAR! BATHING TOGS HAVE SMARTNESS, INTRIGUE, FEMININITY!

By Henri Bendel, Noted New York Designer.



It is not surprising that swimming is such a popular sport for women, and that seashore resorts do such a rushing business in the summer, when you consider the bathing suit.

Outside of a musical comedy you cannot find a more captivating costume than the one for the bather. Many a woman has found she is infinitely more chic and appealing in her bathing togs than in her elaborate French frocks.

Art in Bathing Suit.

The smart bathing suit has as careful lines as the tailleur. It comes in all the fashionable colors and fabrics, with matching millinery and wraps and such an assortment of accessories that one is bewildered trying to make a selection.

This season, while there are ever so many of the sleeveless and low cut suits, some of the very smartest have sleeves and high collars and are as unrevealing as the most severe beach inspector could desire.

Such a model is the one of light grey silk crepe with a scarf and sash that are lined with a delightful blue—just the shade of the sea on a summer afternoon.

On the right the skirt comes to the knee, but it is cut with an irregular line so that on the left the knickers, with their wide band and shirred sides are intriguingly revealed.

Such a costume is to me infinitely more attractive than the usual model which reveals sunburned shoulders and arms.

The sleeveless model on the recumbent mermaid is an excellent combination of comfort and smartness. It is of green satin, with a straight chemise over-costume revealing very full bloomers with double ruffles.

After a dip in the surf, for a stroll along the sand, I consider the embroidered linen jumper suit from Chanel an interesting change of costume. The overblouse is of light linen embroidered with yellow violet and white silk in careless little sprays of flowers that follow no particular routine.

The skirt is of yellow crepe de chine as are the scarf, which forms the collar, and the wristbands. The hat is of perle straw, suggestive of a helmet, and is trimmed with a band and bow of pastel blue gros grain ribbon.

Yellow the Shade.

I cannot say too much of the importance of yellow in this season's mode—it is particularly effective in the country and at the lakeside, and it combines very well with greens and blues and lavenders.

The large yellow felt and straw hats are often lined with black or white, for the complexion that cannot appear to best advantage against a yellow background.

TEST YOUR KISSES

Eyes Reveal Whether Love Is.

Here's light on that moot old question—why does a woman close her eyes when she is being kissed?

It's merely another manifestation of her instinct—infallible before it becomes corrupted by knowledge.

She puts her eyes in defense, according to D. M. Staley, psychologist and founder of the College of the Spoken Word. She knows, without being told, that her eyes tell the truth, no matter how far from it her lips may get.

See for Yourself.

"Look squarely into the eyes of the person who is kissing you or whom you are kissing, and you know exactly where you stand," advises he.

"The expansion or contraction of the pupil will tell you whether your love is being reciprocated or whether father's money is being caressed.

"This is natural enough," he goes on, "because on account of the nearness of the eyes to the brain—they are closest of all the sensory organs, tied, i a fact, to the brain by the optic [illegible] —they get all the emotional news hot from the source with no chance to doctor it, or conceal it, as do the mouth and hands."

TRUE OR FALSE!

If love predominates, the eye enlarges and the iris tends to disappear. But stir up some ugly thought in the same individual and immediately you witness the phenomenon of the iris being enlarged, while the pupil shrinks to a mere pin point.

"When a person is in love, and the emotions are aroused by a kiss or a caress, the pupils of the eyes enlarge to a surprising extent.

"A person may protest affection in ish most fancy phrases, but unless the is accompanied by an expansion of the pupils, the emotion is not sincere."

And here follows the best test of your sweetheart's love—one that in the interests of science and investigation can scarcely be forbidden by stern censors. Dr. Stanley recommends a long, lingering kiss—the sort the movie boards always cut down to a mere few seconds. Try, until you are certain.

TESTS FOR KISSERS.

Kiss slowly with your eyes wide open. Search the other person's eyes.

If the pupils staring back into yours are expanded, your love is reciprocated.

If they contract you are being deceived.

Widely opened eyes indicate a state of mental terror.

A lifted lower lid shows the aggressive and parsimonious mind.

The eye that looks at you through a narrow slit formed by the drawing together of the eyelids tells of a vicious mind.

The drooping upper lid indicates a condition of mental and physical surrender.

Twitching eyelids reveal vacillation or a struggle for emotional control.

A quick lifting of the upper lid shows the mind is on guard.

Eyelids that open and close seductively reveal a flirtatious nature.

Have a Microscope.

"A hug and a few caresses may point the way," he advises, "but if you stick to these you can never be positively sure. Get right down to the facts of kissing—but don't forget your science. Keep your eyes right open, and if you can get the permission of your collaborator, have a microscope over the eyes.

"In this way, with the eyes magnified," he explains, "it is possible to perceive the expansion or contraction of the pupils in the most thoroughly scientific way."

Dr. Staley believes any lover shou'd be willing to stand the microscope test, but in case of shyness or coyness does not insist upon the instrument. "Look fixedly into his or her eyes, keeping the scientific nature of the op ration unexpressed"—in other words kiss as if you enjoyed it, not as if you were conducting an experiment, he says.

Keep Eyes Open.

There would be fewer unhappy marriages, Dr. Staley believes, if people kissed more with their eyes open.

"The woman who will make the best wife will look a man squarely in the eye," he concludes, "and meet his steady gaze without widening her iris If she bats, gets restive, or says yes with her mouth and no with her eyes, or vice versa—that is, if she doesn't pass the kissing test, you are wasting time—find another person on whom to experiment."

However, once having completed the tests, and having found your love reciprocated, the doctor does not insist that you keep kissing on the laboratory basis. You can go back to blind osculation at your discretion.

Steamer Empress Has Long Trip

(By F. D. C.)

If Captain Bill Copperthwaite and the crew of the Stoney Lake Navigation Company's steamer, Empress, have more than the usual nautical roll in their gait these days and are inclined to be patronizing in their attitude toward other boatmen, there's a reason.

Everybody who goes to Stoney Lake knows the Empress.

She's the trim steamer that skirts along the edge of a reef, sticks her nose alongside a rocky point, drops off two or three passengers and a consignment of baggage, turns in less space than the average paddler on the Otonabee needs to turn his canoe, with her propeller flirting with a shoal just astern and is off again to repeat the performance at another island while tourists hold their breath and wonder how she gets away with it.

The Empress has been doing that kind of thing for years and her crew take it all as a matter of course.

That routine stuff doesn't furnish the explanation of their present swagger.

You see the Empress has been adventuring.

Didn't she travel down the Otonabee and the Trent?

Didn't she bravely strike out into the Bay of Quinte?

Didn't she weather a fierce June blow on Lake Ontario?

Didn't she rescue the crew and passengers of a broken down launch?

Didn't she pick her way through the 1000 islands?

Didn't she run the Gallop rapids on the St. Lawrence and eventually reach Cornwall, safe and sound?

Her crew will say she did.

And here's how it all came about. The Robertson Construction had a scow at Bobcaygeon which they wanted towed down to Cornwall and the Empress was selected for the honour of making the longest voyage in the history of Peterborough district steamers.

With a crew consisting of Captain Bill Copperthwaite, Mate Harold Young, Engineer Al. Harris, Fireman George Peake, Deckhand O. S. Brooks and Cook Bill Heard she left Young's Point on her famous voyage at noon on June 14th. After making history by being the first steamer through the new lock.

On the 15th she ran into heavy weather on Rice Lake and made slow time, stopping at Healey's Falls that night.

The Empress reached Frankford on the 17th, arrived at Trenton at 2.10 p.m. the next day and was held up there until the 18th, waiting for a pilot.

When she steamed out into the Bay of Quinte at 9 o'clock that morning there was a strong wind blowing which steadily grew worse until after leaving Point Anne, ther pilot declared he had seldom seen a worse roll. The staunch Stoney Lake steamer, although not built for Lake Ontario navigation, made good weather of it. The sea was very high and several waves were shipped in through the engine room windows, but the Empress ploughed right along until she was able to reach shelter at Glenora.

She left early in the morning of June 19th for Kingston and nine miles from that port went to the rescue of a gasoline passenger craft which had developed engine trouble and was at the mercy of the heavy seas. There were ten passengers on board and their gratitude was great when the Empress went to the rescue and towed the disabled boat into Kingston.

On the 20th the Empress reached Prescott and next day continued her voyage down the St. Lawrence, running the Gallop rapids in the morning. On arrival at the Rapids de Plante it was found that the S.S. Clementi, of the Eastern Line was stranded at the canal entrance with a cable in her wheel, and the Empress had to run these rapids as well, going through at 20 miles an hour. Cornwall was reached the next day and the return trip was without incident except that on the 24th the Empress covered the long voyage from Kingston to Campbellford in one day. Young's Point, the home port was reached on June 26th, and the Empress had safely completed a 618 mile voyage in which the crew gained a rich store of reminiscences.

Hitherto the steamer Stoney Lake has been the wanderer of the Stoney Lake Navigation Company's fleet. She has travelled the full route of the canal and has had several voyages in the Bay of Quinte and, when boatmen got together, the Stoney Lake's crew were inclined to "swank" upon experiences being related. "Remember the big blow we had on Lake Simcoe," from Captain Bill Scollard of the Stoney Lake, was enough to crush the navigators who confined their sailing to Stoney Lake waters. But "them days is gone forever."—

The Empress has been down to Cornwall.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK?

(By Edson R. Waite, Shawnee, Oklahoma.)

That primitive man hunted alone. He broke his club from a tree and trailed the animal that was weak enough to succumb to a one-man attack. It was a dreary back-busting job.

Then, like electricity surging through a copper wire giving energy, light and heat, the savage brain caught the idea of United Effort and thus the Community Plan was born. That spark of intelligence, coming from we know not where, told early man to hunt in packs and so the term "Bigger and Better" was first coined. For the prehistoric gentleman discovered that he could get "Bigger and Better" meals through united effort against the stegosaurus and other "cattle" of that early day than he could by fighting alone.

Because it so successfully filled empty stomachs, the community idea became popular and thus was developed the early clan life, then the village, the town, and now the marvelously complex city of the present era.

All through the ages the Community Idea has been man's bright star in the march of progress. Get together and stick together was and is yet the slogan.

In prehistoric times the community booster "popped" the invader on the bean so that the village could not be sacked and the women carried away.

Nowadays we do not swat invaders from other communities. Instead we feed them elaborate luncheons and talk not only community progress but provincial and national growth as well. And our women meet their women and take them to teas and for auto drives to show 'em the real estate.

We hold meetings and conventions and other sorts of gatherings for every kind of general "Biggerment and Betterment." And it is good. For this is what has made great with its splendid cities, large and small, and all the fine things and people within them.

We need not build a monument to that first savage who "invented" the community idea, but we never should quit developing his plan for there is nothing better in life than that of getting together and making things better for the other fellow—and consequently—ourselves!

Failing to embrace an opportunity has kept many a man single.

A man must marry before he can possibly realize how many faults he has.

Success looks bigger while you are chasing it than after you catch up with it.

Some people wouldn't be interested in even the horn of plenty unless it played jazz.

It isn't a crime to be fat—if you are a man. But it's a tragedy if you are a woman.

CHICAGO MAN RETAINS LEAD IN U. S. OPEN

MEHLHORN SLIPS BUT STILL KEEPS LEAD IN TOURNEY

'Wild' Bill Shoots a 75 For a Total of 145.

TURNESA IS CLOSE.

Bobby Jones Plays the Worst Round He Ever Exhibited in Championship Contest.

COLUMBUS, O., July 10 (Canadian Press). — Bill Mehlhorn, of Chicago, had no trouble in maintaining his lead in the national open golf championship at Scioto Club yesterday, despite a falling off of seven strokes from his record round of 68 on Thursday. His 143 for thirty-six holes still left him two strokes in the van, and Bobby Jones who had trailed him by that margin in the first round, dropped back several places by virtue of the worst round he had ever played in the eight open championships he had contested. He scored 39, 40—79.

Jones' spill from an excellent 70 to a poor 79 was the most startling event of the second round and furnished a great display of errors to the large gallery that followed him through his tribulations. The best score of the day was a 73 by Jack Forrester, of New York, who thereby gained a tie with Jones at 149.

Hagen Inexact.

Much as Jones slumped, he still topped such stars as Walter Hagen and Chick Evans by a stroke. Hagen was almost as inexact as Jones, while Evans again failed to solve the second nine after playing the first well. John Junor, Portland, Oregon, fell off from 70 to 80 for 150. The defending champion, Willie MacFarlane, was one stroke back with 151, having taken a 79 yesterday with Jones.

There was some excuse for these delinquencies, for a hot wind swept the links, rising as the day wore on. The greens were very fast and any ball that sifted sideways in the breeze was tumbled by the sloping fairways into terrific rough.

The man who supplanted Jones in shadowing Mehlhorn was Joe Turness, of New York, who got a good 74 for a total of 146, just one stroke behind him was another Latin golfer, Dan Williams, also of New York, who added 74 to his par 72. Five strokes behind the leader were Leo Diegel and George McLean of New York, while tied with Hagen and Evans at 150 were Al Espinosa of Chicago and Willie Klein of New York.

Just what caused Jones to slip, even he could not say except that he was surfeited with competitive golf and had gone stale. The Scioto links will not tolerate slackness, and is an unhospitable place for golfers who need a rest.

Aside from Jones and Evans, the best amateur score was made by Densmore Shute of Huntington, W. Va., who got a 78 to total 153, tying with Al Watrous, of Grand Rapids, runner-up to Jones in the British open, who got a good 74 yesterday. Harrison Johnston, of St. Paul, was the next amateur with 76 for 155 total. Keefe Carter, of Oklahoma City, western amateur title holder, had a poor 82 yesterday.

None of the other amateurs remained in the tournament for the two rounds to-day, those with 160 or more strokes dropping out of the meet, while the low scorers fight it out for the title. Among the amateurs who failed were George Von Elm of Los Angeles, with 161, Clarence Wolff, St. Louis, 161; Eddie Held, Trans-Mississippi champion, 162; Roland Mackenzie, Washington, 168, and Watts Gunn, Atlanta, who became so disgusted at the thirteenth hole that he tore up his card and withdrew.

Among those eliminated yesterday were Jim Barnes and Fred McLeod, former champions, who took 160 each. Cyril Walker, titleholder in 1924, barely survived with 159. R. Cunningham, Kingston, Ont., the only Canadian entrant, withdrew.

TWO GOOD WINS FOR NEW YORK

Five Runs in Seventh Inning Give Victory Against Cincinnati.

PIRATES CLIMB UP

NEW YORK, July 10.—(Canadian Press).—The Giants opened their second invasion of the west in a blaze of glory, taking both ends of a double bill from the leading Cincinnati Reds. The visitors won the first encounter 7 to 4, and the nightcap 4 to 1. A big seventh inning in which they scored five runs brought the New Yorkers from behind to win the opener. In this game, each team used three twirlers. In the second, McQuillan held the opposition to four hits, the lone run scored by the Reds coming with a belated ninth inning rally.

Pittsburgh climbed a bit nearer the top by toppling the Phillies for a 9 to 6 verdict. Six runs in the fifth brought the Pirates from behind. The Phillies got to Songer in the early stages, but Meadows, who relieved him, held the opposition safe, while his mates went on a batting rampage.

Chicago Victory.

The Chicago Cubs were at home to Brooklyn and incidentally chalked up a 7 to 3 victory. Root held the visitors in check, while his batsmen pounded Jess Barnes off the mound in the third. McGraw, who relieved Barnes, held the Cubs in check.

St. Louis Wins.

St. Louis Cardinals opened at home with a 2 to 1 victory at the expense of the Braves. The victory, coupled with Brooklyn's loss, sent the Cards into third place. The Boston batters outhit their opponents 10 to 7, but they could not bunch their blows to advantage.

Diamond Disputes Decided

By Billy Evans

Bases are filled one is out runner on first collides with fielder about to field batted ball. Runners on second and third score on the play. What is proper ruling?

* * *

The fielder always has the right-of-way, the baserunner must avoid him to escape being penalized.

When runner collides with fielder about to make a play on a batted ball, the runner should immediately be called out.

Since runners cannot advance on an interference of this nature, the runners who scored on the play are sent back to their original bases, second and third.

The batsman who hit the ball is granted first base. So the situation remains the same, the bases are stil filled, except two are now out instead of one.

RUTH'S 27TH HOMER

NEW YORK, July 10.—(Canadian Press).—The Yankees kept apace of the fast coming Athletics yesterday by trouncing the Indians 8 to 2, while the Athletics took a 4 to 3 ten-inning verdict from Chicago, Pool's homer settling the issue. Homers by Babe Ruth and Paschal figured in the New York assault on a pair of Indian twirlers. Ruth's circuit blow was his twenty-seventh of the year.

The league champions, the Senators, bowed before the Browns by a 4-3 count, Washington using five pitchers in an effort to turn in a win. The Detroit Tigers broke a six-game losing streak by walloping the Red Sox 9-0. Collins held Boston to six scattered hits, no two of which came in the same inning. O'Rourke led the Cobbmen at bat with four safeties in five times at bat.

DELORO'S RECORD IS STILL UNBROKEN

Interesting Game With Alemites of Belleville on Circus Ground.

MARMORA, July 10. — A game with interesting features was seen on the Circus Grounds at Belleville on Wednesday evening when the city's intermediate team, known as the Alemite, endeavored to take away the unbeaten record of the Bay of Quinte League leaders, Deloro. The first notable feature was Ralph's first three innings of pitching — nine men to bat and seven strike-outs. Regan obtained a fine homer for the Blackcaps in the sixth and also obtained in another innings a three-bagger. Shea relieved Ralph in the eighth, and in the last half of the ninth cheered his supporters by striking out Gallagher with two men on bases. After an indifferent first innings, Gallagher pitched great ball for Belleville. Young of Belleville and Kerr of Deloro umpired the game.

Inside Sporting Dope

By A Wise Cracker

Mister Sporting Editor:

They ain't been a whole lot doing in local sporting circles since I last dropped you a line. The Petes ain't moved a wheel since they beat the Ponies on the holiday, so they ain't much to tell you about them, except, as you know, the fans is still talking about the battle with Kingston as 1 of the best games in years. They ought to be a few more of them before the season closes, because every fixture from now on will be fought out to the bitter end. That musta been a hectic fight what Belleville and Kingston had Wed. The Mills gang looked like winners until the 9th when Mister Daley's boys tied it up, and then, can you imagine a rookie catcher stepping up there in the tenth and crashing the old apple for a homer with the bases jammed to give the Ponies a 12-8 win?

By the way, The Kingston Whig announces that the Kingston ball club is in a serious financial condition, and intimates that unless other arrangements is made the Kingston fans may have to do without senior ball. Well, what do you know about that? Leading the parade and playing exhibition games by the bunch and yet the Ponies is hollering for help! The Petes ain't been drawing no record crowds, and their travelling expenses is heavy, but they ain't been broadcasting no distress signals, so how come the Ponies' S.O.S. call? 1st thing Mister Joe Daley knows, if the Kingston papers keep on talking about the Ponies' financial troubles, the fans'll begin to think the chief worry of the Kingston club is a heavy salary list. And that would be a terrible impression to get abroad that them lads of Mister Daley's play with 1 eye on the box office. Everybody knows they love the game, 'cause they play it so often. Wed.'s game was the 6th in a week for the Ponies, so that shows how fond they is of baseball. But if they keep on talking about hard times 1 of these days somebody is going to insinuate that the pay roll is the cause of the trouble. And that would never do.

By the way, Mac, I was among them present at the softball game between the Belmonts and the Quakers Wed., and I for 1 didn't think they was so many short-sighted folks in Peterboro. About ½ of them couldn't see a hat held a foot in front of them. The game itself lacked pep. Them Quakers ran bases as if they was afraid they'd get lost if they struck out off the bag they was holding, and it took about 3 hits to move them 2 bases. And with Mister Harrison pitching, you can't throw away no safe blows. But to my mind the feature was provided by the Quaker batter who played a perfect cross-corner shot off Mister Stuart's manly chest into the eagerly clutching lunch digits of Mister Stan. Lowe. The play killed off a porridge rally, but, believe me, the fellow that hit that 1 would be a mean guy with a pool cue.

Next Sat. we have Miseter Joe Daley and his troupe with us again, if the sheriff ain't seized their baggage in the meantime. The hard times cry down there just now is working so well that Mister Sullivan and Mister Nicholson umped the Ponies' last exhibition game for nothing. And Mister Tice of The Belleville Ontario will tell the world that the pair oughta to have paid $10 each for the privilege.

Well, how we ramble along—but no more now.

Sportfully yours,

A. WISE CRACKER.

BILLY EVANS Says

In perhaps no sport is a competitive spirit more essential to success than in golf.

There are so many things to upset the temperament in golf that unless the player possesses the instinct to fight back, it is an easy matter to find an excuse to curl up and quit cold.

It is doubtful if there is a golfer in all the world who has more of the competitive spirit in his make-up than Walter Hagen.

There you have the real reason for Hagen's greatness, although it must be admitted that his game is all it should be and then some.

Golf rivals will frankly admit that no matter how far Hagen is trailing the field there is always the fear that he will get going.

The Hagen menace that always exists in golf is based on fact.

Recently, in glancing over the various achievements of Hagen in tournament play, I unearthed some very interesting dope.

Hagen has to his credit the winning of every major championship to which he has been eligible. No other player can boast such a remarkable record.

However, no better proof could be offered of the competitive spirit possessed by Hagen than his uncanny success in winning the play-off in tournament matches in which he has finished in a tie with one or more players.

In such matches there is a tragic strain back of every shot that is played. But it seems that at such times Hagen is always at his best.

In 1916 Hagen finished in a triple-tie in the Metropolitan open championship. He beat Jim Barnes and Charles Hoffner in the play-off.

Three years later, I followed him around the Brae Burn course, just outside of Boston, to see him come from behind and tie Mike Brady in a nerve-racking match. The following day I watched him triumph over Mike in a nerve-racking match.

The next season he tied in the French open for first place and again won the play-off. In 1923 he trimmed Bill Mehlhorn in the Texas open, after the two had finished all-even for first honors.

To take the 1925 professional championship, Hagen was forced to go the limit to win, twice finishing all-even at the 36th hole. He went 39 holes to trim Al Watrous and 40 to conquer Leo Diegel.

Which simply explains why the Hagen threat in golf is as much feared as the Babe Ruth menace in baseball. American League pitchers have as much, if not more, respect for the Bambino.

Hagen's play in the various British open tourneys in which he has contested could also be offered as convincing proof of his fighting spirit.

In his first attempt to win the British title Hagen was off his game and finished nowhere in particular, about 57th, I believe. Touted as a possible winner, his showing was a distinct disappointment.

Did Hagen, after it was apparent that he was out of the running, pick up and quit? No, sir! He continued courageously on to the finish, playing each shot as carefully as if he had a chance.

Such conditions called for competitive spirit far more than if riding along on the crest of success. Any one can be a good winner, the test is to be a game loser.

In 1922 Hagen was rewarded for his efforts and persistency by winning the British open. The following year he lost by a single stroke to Arthur Havers. He came back to win again in 1924.

Two victories out of three consecutive attempts in the British open and a one-stroke defeat tell the story of Hagen's consistent golf plus the will to win.

Ty Cobb possesses the old competitive spirit to a superlative degree in baseball. That is why he is the game's greatest player.

Paul Berlenbach has it as a fighter; that is why he is achieving success even though others with seemingly more ability are just "also rans."

DELORO LOSES GAME AT HOME

Point Anne Defeats League Leaders 7-6—Four Eitchers Used.

CLOSE STRUGGLE.

DELORO, July 10.—The twice postponed game between Point Anne and Deloro looked likely for a third postponement Friday, but in a mysterious manner dark threatening clouds moved onwards in the eleventh hour and play was assured. In this venture Deloro, though using four pitchers, went to defeat by a 7 to 6 score. Bond opened the pitching for Deloro. In the first innings the visitors retired without scoring. "Sonny" Green took up the onslought against the Smelters. Bond reached first. Jack made first on an error, Bond advancing to second. Shultz grounded to shortstop who forced Jack out at second. Boudreau sacrificed, bringing in Bond. A. Quinn singled, bringing in Schultz, ending the score.

In the second innings Goyer tripled on a neat hit to centre field. Maracle doubled, bringing in Goyer. Bradshaw grounded out. Bennett's hit brought in Maracle A snappy double play ensuing closed the innings.

Deloro, went out in order. Point Anne took the lead in the next innings, scoring twice. The Smelters failed to respond. Ralph replaced Bond on the mound in the fourth and held the score down for two innings. In the fifth Deloro got a trio of runs, the innings being featured with a splendid triple by Jack. For the next two innings Leal was placed on the found for Deloro. In the sixth frame two of "Soup" Goyer's boys crossed the plate, making their team one run ahead.

Deloro vainly tried to equalize. In the seventh innings Goyer got a second triple which brought W. Green home. In their half Deloro got the last run which came their way. Hec. Boudreau made a neat double. A. Quinn hit, bringing in Boudreau. Shea was the home team's pitcher for the two final innings which were scoreless for both teams. Point Anne as a team played one of their best games, whereas the leaders seemed disinclined to take the game with their usual seriousness. There was a good crowd in attendance. Umpires, Woodley, Belleville, at plate; Kerr, Deloro on bases. Score by innings:

Jess Doyle Has Little Trouble in Checking Up Reading.

TORONTO, Ont., July 10. Canadian Press. — Showering hits all over the Maple Leaf Stadium, twenty-three altogether for a total of 35 bases, Toronto Leafs yesterday defeated Reading 19 to 2 in the second game of the series. Billy Mullen and Jess Doyle hit home runs for the Leafs while Keesey and Corn were the Reading round trip crashers.

Jess Doyle had little trouble holding the lowly Keys in check and three of the six hits he yielded were scratchy.

The league leading Orioles accepted an 11 to 3 trimming at the hands of Rochester. Buffalo climbed back to within half a game of third place, when they won from Jersey City 10 to 5, as Syracuse defeated Newark 8 to 4.

Ninety seven hits in all were registered by the International batters in yesterday's games. Toronto led with 22 against the hapless Reading crew, while Rochester sluggers registered 19 against 4 of Dunn's slabmen. Jersey City and Buffalo garnered 15 apiece in their game.

LIGHTNING KILLS FATHER AND SON

Strikes Chimney of Orange Hall During Meeting—Others Hurt.

SUFFER FROM SHOCK.

BELLEVILLE, Ont., July 10 (Canadian Press).—Two men, father and son, were killed and five men were shocked and more or less seriously injured at Rednersville, five miles from here, when a bolt of lightning struck the chimney of the Orange Hall there during the progress of a meeting of the Orange Lodge late last evening. The names of those killed are Wellington Bowers, 52, of Rossmore, Ontario, and Harold Bowers, 24, Rossmore, his son. Those suffering from shock and minor injuries are: Walter Ostrom, Rednersville, foot cut; Carl Williamson, of Carrying Place; Charles Brickman, Henry Lamb and Clarence McIlroy, all of Rednersville. There were upwards of thirty men in the lodge room. A terrific crash was followed by flames which ran along the stove pipe, apparently having come down the chimney. All the windows, six in number, had been opened from the top. Both men died instantly, and not a mark of any kind was to be found on them. They were on opposite sides of the room, perhaps 25 feet apart. The others injured were scattered about the room.

The Bowers were originally a Rawdon Township family, and the father of Wellington Bowers, aged 85, still resides in Rawdon.

His wife and two other children survive. Bowers and his son, who had just sat down after initiation had been completed, were at the windows at the opposite ends of the room. Walter Ostrom was standing next to Wellington Bowers, and sustained the most serious injuries. His foot was cut open, one boot being torn off by the bolt, and his left trouser leg torn to shreds. The lightning zig-zagged across the room, so it appeared, and had contact with men not near one another.

NEW POTATOES ON LOCAL MARKET

Sold at 70 Cents a Peck — Plenty of Flowers.

There were new potatoes on the farmers' market this morning, selling at 70 cents a peck. The old variety were priced at $1.75 a bushel and $2.50 a bag.

Strawberries sold from 15 to 18 cents a box; gooseberries were 15 cents a box.

A little boy with the stentorian voice of a circus barker yelled "Right over here," to attract attention to his crisp, fresh lettuce, at 5 and 10 cents a bunch.

On the open market an eloquent young man had the crowd handing him dollar bills for his book on "Health"—how to eat, what to eat and how to exercise. According to its vendor, "the second greatest book in the world—comes next to the Bible."

In the basket section, big rhubarb leaves as wrappers for the butter prints made their first appearance this morning, along with ice in the baskets. Butter was priced from 38 to 42 cents a pound, and eggs were 30 to 35 cents a dozen. Cream was 25 cents a pint. Spring chickens were 40 cents a pound.

There were plenty of lovely flowers selling this morning, both upstairs and on the open market. Large bouquets of sweet william, columbine and peonies were 15 and 25 cents, and there were sweet peas, pansies and orange lilies on view. "Jack in the pulpit" was a new arrival also this morning.

MUSIC IN GOLF.

Practicing Strokes to the Rhythm of a Slow Waltz.

Rhythm has a wide field of sympathetic relation. An expert advises that rhythm is an important factor in the game of golf. The latest idea in furthering this thought is practicing strokes to a phonograph and other music.

This interesting fact was told to a large gathering by Everett H. Seaver, president of the California State Golf Association, during a big get-together in Cleveland. Mr. Seaver demonstrated his contention by driving imaginary golf ball from an improved tee on the hotel rug, at the same time indicating how his movements in making the strokes correspond with the tempo of a slow waltz performed by a pianist. Phrasing a golf stroke is a unique development in this sport.

FINE CONCERT BY THE RANGERS BAND

Programme in Victoria Park Last Night Delighted Crowd.

The most enjoyable band concert of the season was given in Victoria Park last night by the band of the Peterboro Rangers, under the direction of Lieut. Peryer. The band was in fine form, and a varied programme was rendered in most acceptable fashion. The always popular selection from "Chu Chin Chow" was one of the big numbers of the evening, and was delightfully played, as was Godfrey's "Reminiscences of England," and a fantasia on favorite Anglo-American airs. A Peryer arrangement of "Show Me the Way to Go Home" scored a tremendous hit, and other popular numbers were the waltz "Too Many Parties and Too Many Pals," and the fox trot hit, "Let's Talk About My Sweetie." All in all the Rangers presented an unusually attractive programme.

MURDER TRIAL HELD IN NORTH

One Eskimo Acquitted and Another Sentenced For One Year.

FIGHT OVER WOMAN.

EDMONTON, July 10 (Canadian Press).—His Honor Judge Dubuc returned to the city yesterday after trying two Eskimos at Aklavk, in the Arctic.

Ikayna, a Coronation Gulf Eskimo, was given a jury trial on a charge of murder and was acquitted. He was alleged to have shot another Eskimo named Ulukeak and local considerations had a lot to do with the case, said His Honor, for though the quarrel was ostensibly over a husky, it was the old story of a woman being at the bottom of the whole business.

The other Eskimo had pleaded guilty to a charge of murder. He was given one year, which will be served at the R.C.M.P. detachment at Herschell Island.

LOVE LETTERS THAT MADE HISTORY

(By Joseph Kaye.)

THE DUKE OF MARLBOROUGH AND SARAH JENNINGS.

The terror of Europe, the Duke of Marlborough, was the tenderest of lovers and husbands. One of the greatest military heroes in British history, he wrote as he was leaving for his Holland campaign, the following line—not to his sweetheart, but his wife, after twenty-five years of married life

"I could have given my life to come back to you."

After the birth of his second child he wrote to the mother

"I am impatient to have you with me. do not lose a moment in coming to him who adores you above his own soul."

And when you compare the two notes above with this letter written to Sarah Jennings, the beautiful young lady-in-waiting to a Princess, you can gain an understanding of the remarkable constancy and devotion of a man who lived in a most dissolute period

"I do love and adore you with all my heart and soul, so much, that by all that is good I do, and will ever be, better pleased with your happiness than my own: but oh, my soul, if we might be both happy what inexpressible joy that would be! I do not dare to expect more favor than you shall think fit to give me, but could you love me I think the happiness would be so great that it would make me more than mortal."

$100,000,000 EXPLOSION IN NEW JERSEY

Lightning Strikes U.S. Naval Arsenal; Sixteen Known Dead and 200 Injured In Resulting Series of Terrific Blasts

Debris of Two Hundred Buildings Is Littered Around Towns and Hamlets Within Radius of Thirteen Miles From Principal Depot of American Navy at Lake Denmark.

THIRTY-THREE PERSONS REPORTED MISSING AND DAMAGE ESTIMATED AT $100,000,000

May Be Three or Four Days Before Fires and Explosions Permit Search of War-Like Ruins — 900 Refugees Sheltered in Neighboring Towns.

DOVER, N.J., July 12 (Canadian Press)—Fire and barrages of exploding shells today were preventing a complete toll of the warlike death and havoc wrought in peace time when lightning caused the U. S. Navy's largest ammunition depot, that at Lake Denmark, N.J., 35 miles west of Jersey City, to blow up on Saturday afternoon. Sixteen persons are reported dead, fourteen of whom have been recovered and identified. Thirty-three persons are listed as missing. Damage of $100,000,000 is estimated by army and navy officials on the scene. For a radius of thirteen miles, houses were shaken and automobiles overturned on the highways and barrages of shell, smoke and fire checked the entrance of investigators.

Lake Denmark depot was the navy's largest ammunition storage establishment, covering more than 500 acres.

T.N.T. Struck

The flames, started when lightning struck a T.N.T. magazine on Saturday afternoon, still smouldered among the debris of 200 buildings demolished within the reservation limits, and the danger from further bombardments as new ammunition storehouses were reached made it highly dangerous to enter the area.

The identified dead are Lieut. Gov. Botts, Richmond, Va.; Harry C. Brown, pharmacist, Poughkeepsie, N.Y.; and Mrs. Francis Feeney, of Brooklyn, a visitor at the plant. Seven other bodies were seen in the ruins by watchers from a nearby hillside.

No list of the enlisted men and civilians missing has yet been made public by the officers. Army and navy officers in charge of the rescue work said it might be three or four days before the flames would die down sufficiently to permit a careful inspection of the area.

T. R. Buchanan, assistant national director of disaster relief from Washington, estimated today that there are 900 refugees from the area surrounding the naval arsenal at Lake Denmark. Six hundred of these are being cared for at Morristown and 300 in and around Dover.

The injured, according to Mr. Buchanan, number about 200, of which 50 are severely, but not dangerously, hurt.

Sudden Blast

So sudden came the initial blast that precautions for safety could not be taken. One story told by a marine who made his escape by crawling along the shaking ground after being hurled forty feet into the air, was that following the flash of lightning the fire siren was sounded. While enlisted men on duty ran toward the T.N.T. magazine there was a flash which sent flames 400 feet into the air, he said, and the concussion crushed brick and stone houses like eggshells.

Like Western Front

"It's like a scene from the western front," General Hugh A. Drum explained after an inspection of the reservation from Picatinny Peak, nearby. All evidence of the green grass and shrubbery which has made the place a beauty spot had disappeared, he said, and instead, was brown earth-torn ghastly shell holes, some of them 100 feet across and thirty feet deep. The buildings still smouldered and as the flames creeping slowly along, rached new supplies, there would be a flash and a burst of flame as shells were hurled skyward. A few seconds later they would rain down, starting additional fires.

Davis On Scene

Secretary of War Dwight Davis came from New York yesterday to visit the scene of the disaster. He was advised of the danger of inspecting the shell-torn area which still flamed and smouldered. Naval men reported that 18 naval magazines were still intact and it was hoped that with the dying down of the fires that they would be saved.

Secretary Davis viewed the scene from just inside the reservation gates. Last night 200 marines were en route from Quantico, Va., to aid in guarding the devastated area which has been surrounded by army and navy pickets to keep away the throngs of curious who might be injured in some belated explosion.

THE WEATHER.

There was a sudden and startling drop in temperature on Saturday evening. In the early afternoon the thermometer was up to 87 degrees, and the heat was oppressive. By evening it was chilly, the temperature dropping over 25 degrees. "The glorious Twelfth" is usually a very warm day, with a passing thunderstorm to provide variety. To-day will prove an exception, at least so far as the heat is concerned.—W. P.

Taxpayers Should Demand Pledges From Candidates

Peterborough Has Opportunity To Release Itself From Bonds That Bind It To Stagnation and Decay.

The late Lord Avebury, the great English banker, better known as Sir John Lubbock, said in his work on municipal trading that "If your municipalities had been interested in the sale of tallow and wax candles, that would have caused considerable difficulty in the introduction of gas; and so I believe the existence of gas undertakings managed by municipalities has led to serious difficulties in the introduction of electric lighting."

His work was written twenty years ago, but the lack of enterprise under a government monopoly is as true today as it was then. It stifles private enterprise and whispers difficulties in the way of those who advocate progressive measures. These whisperers do not come out in the open, but they get in their deadly work by whispering: "It cannot be done." "Why, he has an axe to grind." "We cannot get the Hydro Commission to consent." "The Dominion Government would not build these new locks at Burleigh Falls and Dams 4 and 5." "What is the use of wasting time over it." And thus it goes, while grass grows in the middle of the highway.

A member of the House of Commons or of the Legislature who is really worthy of one single vote would not listen for one moment to any of this twaddle but would proceed and hold on the course, that is in the best interest of this city and county. Orillia points the way; so does Campbellford and so does Fenelon Falls. If any reader does not believe that this city would save $50,000 a year, let him impartially examine their records and he will find that firm footing, out of our quagmire, is not so difficult to find. But the trouble is that we sit idly down and say "the night has come; it is no longer day." We are tired—we do not care to work—we do not care to play, and let the public pay.

But why they ask does not some private enterprise take up this plan if there is so much money in it? What chance would any private company have to get from this monopoly—the Hydro Commission—the right to string wires on the public highway or across a public street? It would have none. The manufacturer of the modern match was not able to send his goods into the country where the old stinking sulphur match had a government monopoly. So in this province the rights of the private individual are banned and barred, and so it is that this city is tied down unless we can get members of parliament in Ottawa and Toronto to release this city from the bonds that bind it to stagnation and decay. The candidate who does not say that he will use his best endeavors to release this city from these bonds is no more worthy of support than a hydro-worshipper in Orillia. If this is not believed, go there and see.

This city has now the opportunity to release itself if its taxpayers will exact pledgss from the candidates who seek their votes. These pledges are simple. Will you use your honest efforts to build a new lock at dams 4 and 5 and a new lock at Burleigh Falls to dispense with Lovesick lock and get a favourable lease of the waterpowers at these points for this city? If he will not give these pledges it may be expected that he is a place hunter concentred all in self and he does in effect say to taxpayers of city of Peterborough and light users of Monaghan, Smith and Douro, the famous words of old Commodore Vanderbilt, "the public be damned."

MOTHER AND SON DROWN TOGETHER

Swept Away By Current and Wind at Weller's Bay.

BELLEVILLE, July 12 (Canadian Press).—Mrs. Robert Allard and her son, Alonzo, aged 13, were drowned on Saturday afternoon while bathing at Weller's Bay, near Carrying Place, it was learned here to-day.

The boy was swept beyond his depth by a strong current, driven by a high wind, and when his mother went to his assistance, she was swept away with him. Mrs. Allard's body has been recovered, but the boy's has not.

MONTREAL CONCERN TO DIVIDE SHARES

Light, Heat and Power Consolidated Will Adopt New By-laws.

MONTREAL, July 12 (Canadian Press).—The directors of the Montreal Light, Heat and Power Consolidated, at a meeting to-day, adopted by-laws subject to the approval of the shareholders, to divide the existing shares into one redeemable six per cent. preference share of $50 par value and three common shares without nominal or par value. The division implies an increase in the dividend of one per cent., and as usual in such cases, the directors have decided to reduce the service rates.

Burke Loses Shoot-Off; Exeter Man Is Winner

BISLEY CAMP, Eng., July 12 (Canadian Press). — Lieut. Desmond Burke of Ottawa lost out in the shoot-off with five others for the Donegal Challenge Cup this afternoon. Lt. Midland, Exeter, was the winner of the cup and prize money equal to £480.

ORANGEMEN MARK IMMORTAL TWELFTH

Ten Thousand Walk in Toronto—Many Women in Ranks.

TORONTO, July 12 (Canadian Press). — Ontario Orangemen observed the "Glorious Twelfth" today with many celebrations throughout the province, attended by thousands of members of the Order in commemoration of the 236th anniversary of the Battle of the Boyne. Demonstrations were held in all of the larger centres and a great many smaller ones, and the music of fife and drum was heard in every community where lodges of the Orange Order exist. Toronto Orangemen staged a huge celebration. Assembling in Queen's Park this morning, the parade moved off, 10,000 strong. Approximately 100 city lodges were represented, and the parade included 2,500 women members of the Loyal Orange Benevolent Association and hundreds of members of juvenile lodges. The usual ceremonies were held at Exhibition Park later in the day.

ROTARY HEARS OF MUSSOLINI AND NEW ITALY

Mrs. W. R. Morris Gives Her Impressions of Conditions Under Dictatorship.

A WONDERFUL CHANGE

Mussolini Has Aroused Latent Self Respect of Italian People.

A graphic picture of the new Italy as it exists under the benevolent distatorship of Mussolini was drawn for the benefit of the Peterborough Rotary Club to-day at the weekly luncheon by Mrs W. R. Morris, recently returned from a long visit to Europe. Her impressions of Italian conditions as eloquently set forth by her to-day were full of interest and the hearty vote of thanks extended to her afterward, on motion of Past President John H Seels, was no mere guesture, but a genuine evidence of appreciation.

Four new members, Dr. A. Moir, Douglas Loomis, Max Sauer and David Melton, were given a hearty welcome to Rotary by Rotarian Alex Mowat, who in an eloquent five-minutes address, stressed the ideals of Rotary, and pointed out to the new members that they should benefit by their association with fellow Rotarians and these in turn would benefit from them.

President C. H. Rogers announced that next week's meeting would be held on Thursday at the Rotary Camp.

Mrs. Morris, in her address, referred to the very changed conditions in Italy, where Musolini had succeeded in arousing the latent self-respect of the Italian people and has given them reason to hope that they will become a very great nation, at the same time driving the thought home that they must work to bring about that condition There was no idleness in Italy, plenty of work for everybody at better pay than they had been accustomed to and the desire for a new standard of living was evidenced by the feverish activity in which sewage systems and water systems were being reconstructed everywhere and by the extent of the building programme adopted. Mussolini, Mrs. Morris pointed out, has no prototype in history. He was, she declared, a man of courage and ability and vision, who was using the Fascism to rehabilitate and reconstruct the country of which he was so proud. His name was on every lip. Everywhere could be heard "Mussolini" or "The Leader," and even in the case of works authorized by the municipalities, it was always "Mussolini is doing this." The one thought was "After Mussolini—what?" The Italian leader, the speaker explained, was not strong and he was not taking that care of his health that his condition required. Yet she was of the opinion that if his regime on this account only continued three or more years the people of Italy would have so thoroughly absorbed the effect of his policies and teaching that the country would continue along the lines laid down by Mussolini

Mrs. Morris pointed out, how cheerfully the Italian people accepted the war debt settlement with the United States, and in conclusion contrasted that attitude with the resentment of the French people over the terms of their settlement. Everywhere in France were signs of prosperity and yet from the French people came nothing but grumbling that they should have to pay 50 per cent of their debt to America.

MEIGHEN MUM ON PERSONNEL OF MINISTRY

Says He Has No Announcement To Make on Cabinet To-day.

QUEBEC SETTLED.

J. H. Fortier Declares He Has No Intention of Entering Arena.

OTTAWA, July 12. Canadian Press. — At the conclusion of the Cabinet Council meeting this afternoon, Premier Meighen stated he had no announcement to make and that probably none would be made by him to-day.

Premier Arthur Meighen, and the acting ministers in his provisional government gathered to-day shortly before noon. This cabinet meeting may be the last of a series of conferences before the announcement of the personnel of the Prime Minister's Cabinet. There is every reason to believe that the situation with respect to representation from the Province of Quebec is being satisfactorily adjusted.

When Mr. Meighen announces his Cabinet it will probably include at least three ministers without portfolio: J. A. MacDonald, former Minister of Public Works and Highways in Prince Edward Island; Dr. Morand, former member for Essex East, and Donald Sutherland, former member for Oxford South.

NOT A CANDIDATE.

QUEBEC, July 12. — Canadian Manufacturers' Association, to-day denied the report from Ottawa that he would take a post in Premier Meighen's cabinet.

"I never had any intention of going into politics," he said. "I will not go into politics, as my extensive business interests take up all my time."

THREE KILLED IN COLD BLOOD

Young Man and Woman in Car Refused Demands of Gunmen.

ONE ARREST.

CHICAGO, July 12 (Canadian Press).—Cicero, turbulent west side suburb, was the scene of a triple slaying early to-day.

After mortally wounding a taxicab chauffeur, a number of men accosted a young man and woman in front of the latter's home, demanding their automobile. When the man remonstrated both were shot and killed as they sat in the car. The slayers fled

The chauffeur, Ludwig Rose, died in hospital. The other victims were Fred Heine, 25, and Miss Marie Blahg, 23.

Police arrested Thomas McWain, 24, and said they had obtained a statement implicating McWain and another man known only as "Curly." The authorities were convinced that the shootings were prompted by a desire to obtain automobiles to be used in marauding expeditions.

King Unable To Take Cattle To Royal Show

LONDON, July 12 (United Press). — King George, the Prince of Wales, several members of the English nobility and other exhibitors including J. P. Morgan are presented from moving cattle to the Royal Agricultural Show at Reading as the result of a seven day quarantine.

The order was issued by the Minister of Agriculture following the discovery of the prevalence of the foot and mouth disease in Worcestershire.

ORANGE PARADE TO ALL SAINTS'

Rev. J. D. Paterson Addresses 800 Members of the Order.

BRITISH FREEDOM.

The annual church parade of the Orange Association took place last night when over 800 members of the order paraded to All Saints' Church, where the Rev. J. D. Paterson delivered an inspiring message.

The following lodges were represented. Juvenile boys and girls; Orange Young Britons, Downer's Corners, Nassau L.O.L. No. 50, No. 1175, No. 80, No. 2540; and three Lodges of Ladies, Vimy Ridge, Eastern Star and Star of Bethlehem.

The procession was led by L.O.L. 50 brass band, which rendered suitable selections along the route and at the church.

Taking as his text the first verse of the 5th chapter of Galatians, Mr. Paterson said: "It is no light task or responsibility which you gave me when you have given the the honor of addressing the members of your organization." He welcomed the brethren in the name of All Saints' Church. "You and I are linked tight in one holy purpose," he said. "We are linked together in the cause of freedom. As citizens of the British Empire," he declared, "you are freer than any other people. It was a heritage not easily won or held. Many a time in the course of our history has there been war and bloodshed. Many a time has it seemed as if our cherished freedom would be taken from our grasp."

The British flag, he said, signifies freedom, and while the British flag flies in the heavens there will be no other nation trampled upon.

During the ages there have been times of great stress and difficulty. In 1314 at the Battle of Bannockburn Scotland claimed for ever the right to be a free nation. Only a few years later the two nations joined forces and their friendship has increased until there is none greater than it to-day. They have become so closely knit that none can tell the difference.

"We speak of freedom," said Mr. Paterson. To understand what it really means we have to look at its opposite—slavery. Think of the children of Israel under the bondage of Egypt, the dominati of a king over human beings—think of the slaves of the Southern States. Be it to the credit of the British Empire that it stands for freedom the world over, he declared. Only a few weeks go the British government provided the money to free the last known slaves in the rubber plantations of Borneo. There is a worse slavery than that—it is the slavery of the mind. The dawn of British history brightened when the Magna Charta was signed

VANCOUVER, July 12 (Canadian Press).—Capt. Linton Wells and C. S. Evans, who are attempting to encircle the globe in record time, arrived in Victoria aboard the "Empress of Asia" early this morning.

Within an hour they had boarded an air mail seaplane on their way to Seattle. They are well within their schedule.

AGREEMENT ON FUNDING DEBT REACHED TO-DAY

Caillaux and Churchill Discuss Plan, But Withhold Details.

PUBLIC WARY.

Britishers Expect Announcement of Important Concessions to France.

LONDON, July 12 (Canadian Press)—Finance, Minister Caillaux of France and Winston Churchill, Chancellor of the Exchequer, to-day reached a complete agreement on the terms for funding the French war debt to Great Britain. The terms will be published tomorrow.

Surprize Expected

Joseph Caillaux, Finance Minister of France, arrived by aeroplane from Paris this afternoon to confer with Winston Churchill, Chancellor of the Exchequer, regarding the funding of the French debt to England.

The British public expects some sort of a surprise package from the conference, and judging from Paris reports, it would seem that complete agreement had been reached with new and important concessions to France, leaving it only necessary for M. Caillaux to sign. British Treasury officials, however, refused to admit this, contending that the Franco-American debt funding agreement remained the basis of today's negotiations with Churchill adhering to his formula that none of Britain's war debtors shall pay more proportionately to the United States than to this country

France's debt to Great Britain originally totally £623,000,000.

EARLY SUNDAY MORNING FIRE AT MILLBROK

One Store Demolished, Two Completely Gutted in Bad Fire.

FIREMEN WORK HARD.

Blaze Thought To Have Started in Rear of Pool Room.

One of the worst fires in the history of the village of Millbrook broke out there early Sunday morning. One store is completely demolished and the Mirror-Reporter newspaper office and G. A. Duncan's barber shop completely gutted.

The fire is believed to have started in the rear of N. Gilmour and Son pool room and was first discovered at 1.30 Sunday morning. The firemen responded to the call immediately as most of the men had been working late Saturday night and had not retired. If it had broken out on any other night at the time it did other than Saturday night the results would have been much worse as it would have taken quite a little time to collect the firemen.

The men worked most of the night trying to keep the fire from spreading to any more of the stores in the main block and with their limited fire fighting equipment the task which they accomplished is a wonder.

It is thought that the buildings are pretty well covered with insurance but at present the total loss could not be ascertained.

MYSTERY SURROUNDS BORIS' DEPARTURE

Legation Says Bulgarian King's Reported Engagement Is Without Foundation.

GENEVA, July 12.—(Canadian Press.)—The mystery surrounding King Boris' departure from Bulgaria was deepened to-day when the Bulgarian Legation here said it was without any information of the King's reported intention of coming to Geneva or even taking a cvoyage.

A report from Vienna that Boris is contemplating abdication as well as another report that he is undertaking preliminary steps to his engagement with Princess Giovanna, of Italy, are dismissed here as without foundation.

ST. PETER'S CATHEDRAL.

"For the wages of sin is death," a text taken from the Epistle to the Romans, 6: 19-23, was the basis of a very eloquent sermon preached at the morning Masses at St. Peter's Cathedral yesterday, by Rev. P. Costello.

"Death is a universal law," said Father Costello, going on to speak of the inevitable decay of members of the vegetable and the animal kingdoms. 'It is inescapable. We do not know when or how we shall die, but we do know that it will come sometime. At home or on the street, at work or in the midst of social recreation, death may strike us down. We should keep constantly in our minds: How should I die? and its answer: 'Surely in the state of grace. If we have been devoted in life to God, our prayers, our frequent communions, our charitable acts and actions of honesty, our prayers of adoration in the church, will pave the way to a happy death, no matter when it may come. But if, on the other hand, if we have failed to pay heed to the admonitions of God's Church, if we have been blasphemers and intemperate and uncharitable, then we will have written with our own fingers in the Book of Life our own sentence and condemnation. Not a cent of money, not a vestige of fame or success, can we take with us into the other world. All that can go with us is the good or the wrong we have done in this life.

"How many of us care little for the uttering of the ordinary lie or for the retailing of the bit of scandale about our neighbor? If we are honest in our dealings with others, if we are pure in body and soul, if we refuse to be led away by the illegitimate pleasures of the world that are leading the feet of so many of our young people along the ways of eternal damnation, then we need not fear death.

"Faith alone will not save us. St. Paul said: 'If I have not charity then I am as sounding brass and a tinkling cymbal.' 'Charity' in this sense means good works, a pure, sincere life, lived according to God's commands with regard to ourselves and our neighbors.

"In striving for virtue, the great means of success are in prayer and the Blessed Sacrament. St. Alphonsus says: 'Either sin or pray.' If you do not pray, you will sin. Frequent reception of the Blessed Sacrament is another means towards grace and final perseverance. And we must be careful of the sin of scandal, particularly in our own homes, where children are sometimes led to the sin of intemperance in later life by the actions of their parents in their formative years."

FATAL SHOOTING STILL A MYSTERY

Investigations Into Death of Fogarty Family Shed No Light.

MAN EXAMINED.

TORONTO, July 12 (Canadian Press).—Six memers of the Fogarty family, which was wiped out, it is believed, when the head of the family, Patrick Fogarty, shot his wife and four children in a fit of insanity and then turned the revolver on himself, were laid to rest in Mount Hope Cemetery this morning, in a plot of land consecrated by the Roman Catholic Church.

The funeral service was conducted at the Holy Name Church by Fathers Lillis and Fullerton, who were assisted at the Mass by Father Corrigan, cousin of the Fogartys. Three sets of pall bearers, including both adults and children, acted at the funeral to-day.

Hundreds of men, women and children viewed the remains of the Fogarty family at the undertaking parlors yesterday.

No Clue Found.

Investigations carried on during the past forty-eight hours by detectives and Coroner M. M. Crawford, it was reported Sunday night, have failed to shed any light on any mysterious circumstances in the shooting and slaying of Mrs. Dora Fogarty and her four children by her husband, Patrick, who also shot and killed himself in their home, 65 Cavell Avenue, on Friday.

On Saturday, police said, they investigated the story of Arthur Hindle and his wife, of 98 Strathcona Avenue, that they had seen a man crouched against the side of the fence in the rear of Fogarty's greenhouse. At the time, they said they could see Fogarty in the greenhouse. Mrs. Hindle was very suspicious of the way in which the man was leaning against the fence. This man, it was learned Sunday, has been interviewed by the police.

SERIOUSLY INJURED WHEN CARS COLLIDE

Petrolea Resident Had Ribs Broken—Seven Others Are Injured.

CHATHAM, July 12.—As a result of an automobile accident which occurred on the pavement about a mile and a half from Dresden, in Chatham Township, yesterday afternoon, Basil Vanderburg of Petrolea is in a serious condition and only slight hopes are entertained for his recovery.

Vanderburg, accompanied by Frances Demille, also of Petrolea, was driving to Dresden, and attempted to pass a car in which Harvey Hanser, a well known farmer of Chatham Township, his wife and four children were riding. Vanderburg, it is believed, turned too sharply after he passed the other car, and a collision occurred, both cars turning over in a small ditch at the side of the road.

All the occupants of both cars were injured, but Vanderburg is the only one in a serious condition. Several of his ribs were broken and he is apparently suffering from serious internal injuries. Both cars were completely wrecked. The police of Dresden are investigating the accident.

IN POLICE COURT.

Cases at the police court this morning included charges against two young men who work on the Nassau dam, and who have the habit of riding their bicycles on the sidewalks. They were each fines $2 and costs of $3.25, with a warning that further offences would mean a fine of $5 with costs. "Some young men get so used to doing this that they will ring their bells for pedestrians to get out of their way," said the magistrate. "They have no consideration for old ladies and people with babies."

"The sixteen year old son of a farmer living in Asphodel Township pleaded guilty to the charge of stealing a bicycle, valued at $10, and was let off on suspended sentence, the father of the boy paying the sum of $10 to the complainant, with court costs of $15.25, and going on the bond of the boy for two years in the sum of $200.

Addressing himself to the youth in the box, Magistrate Langley said: "I want to warn you, and this is the fruit of many years' experience in police court work, that the boys who go straight do the best. You may some time go to work for another farmer, and pick up something around the house. But the owner will notice it, and you will be discharged shortly. It is the same thing with stealing your employer's time. You may think you are being clever about it, but the man who pays your wages will not fail to make a note of it. The straight course is the best and I advise you to take it."

The sum of $10 and costs was imposed as a penalty on another man charged with reckless driving under the Highway Traffic Act.

WAR SECRETARY JOHN W. WEEKS DIED AT HOME

Served With Distinction Under Presidents Harding and Coolidge.

BUILT ARMY.

Was Political Adviser to the White House Besides Running Department.

LANCASTER, N.H., July 12. — (Canadian Press).—John W. Weeks, War Secretary under Presidents Harding and Coolidge, died here at his summer home, Mount Prospect, early this morning. Death came from angina pectoris, and followed a long fight for health.

(By United Press).

John Wingate Weeks, though a banker and broker by profession, devoted most of his life to politics. As friend and lieutenant to Murray Crane, he early obtained a position of power in the Republican party of New England. Beginning in 1899 as an alderman in his home town of Newton, Mass., he became successively mayor, congressman, U. S. senator and secretary of war.

The high point of his political career was the Republican National convention of 1916, when he ran second to Charles Evans Hughes for the presidential nomination.

In the House of Representatives and the Senate he allied himself with the Conservative wing of his party. Most of his legislative activities were devoted to banking and military affairs committees. He helped frame the Aldrich-Vreeland Currency law and the Federal Reserve Act.

He was born at Lancaster, N.H., on April 11, 1860. At the age of 17, he was teaching in the district school there and fitting himself for study as a naval officer. After appointment to the U.S. Naval Academy at Annapolis, he graduated in 1881 and served in the navy for two years. Then for six years he was land commissioner of the Florida Southern Railroad.

Meanwhile in 1885 he had married Miss Martha A. Sinclair. Two children were born: Charles, and a daughter Katherine, now Mrs. John W. Davidge.

Returning from Florida to Boston in 1889, he and Henry Hornblower organized the banking and brokerage firm of Hornblower and Weeks. The firm soon became one of the best known in New England. Weeks retained active management of the organization until his resignation in 1913, when he was elected U.S. senator.

In the same year that he returned from Florida and became a banker, he entered politics. For three successive terms he was alderman of Newton, and then mayor for two terms.

Besides his business and political activities, he found time to put his naval training to use. From 1890-92 he commanded a division of the Massachusetts Naval Bridge with rank of captain. During the Spanish-American war he commanded the 2nd division auxiliary U.S. Naval force.

By 1905 he had attained a position of leadership in his party in Mass. He was made chairman of the Republican state convention in that year, and elected to Congress. He remained in Congress from 1905 until 1913, when on the death of Murray Crane he was elected to finish his friend's senatorial term.

In the national convention of 1916 he received 105 votes from 25 states for the Republican presidential nomination, second only to that of the nominee.

When his Senate term expired in 1919 he became Republican national committeeman from Massachusetts.

He was President Harding's original choice for secretary of war, and throughout the Harding administration not only ran the War Department but acted as close political adviser to the White House. President Coolidge retained him in the Cabinet.

Under Weeks' regime at the War Department, first General Pershing and later General Hines as chief of staff were able to build up the largest and best equipped peacetime army in the nation's history.

PILES DISAPPEAR

No Cutting or Salves Needed

No Cutting or Salves Needed

External treatments seldom cure Piles.

Nor do surgical operations.

The cause is inside—bad circulation.

The blood is stagnant, the veins flabby.

The bowel walls are weak, the parts almost dead.

To quickly and safely rid yourself of piles you must free the circulation — send a fresh current through stagnant pools. Internal treatment is the one safe method. Ointments and cutting won't do it.

J. S. Leondhardt, M.D., a specialist, set at work some years ago to find a real internal remedy for piles. He succeeded. He named his prescription HEM-ROID, and tried it in 1000 cases before he was satisfied. Now HEM-ROID is sold by druggists everywhere under guarantee. It is a harmless tablet, easy to take, and can always be found at McDermid & Jury, who will gladly refund the purchase price to any dissatisfied customer.

ORANGE PARADE

—when education extended. "We are all united on one platform—education for all men and for all men the widest access to the sources of truth" he declared.

We have a great task in our work in the churches. The work of religion must be as free as the work of other things. Every man has his own relationship to his God. "Rather a thousand times would I be the friend of a man who differed from me, and yet respected my opinion than I would be the friend of a man who did not know his side of the question," he said.

There are those who differ from us—let us learn all we can from them—let your opinions sometimes be shaken. Take this message with you: Stand fast therefore in the Liberty. There are many enemies. The first one is ignorance. We can never differ with a person until we know as much about them as they do themselves. We should attempt to understand the other person's viewpoint. The other enemy, he said, was weakness. There has been some hesitancy about standing up for your rights. There is plenty of room for two people who differ but no room for the man who cannot stand on his own feet, he declared.

Some men, the speaker declared, have not a backbone, but simply a wishbone. "I don't despise any man who is a stronger man on his side than I am on mine—I admire him." Practice self discipline, he counselled, for when it comes from within we are men and women who know the truest freedom. "Remember your greatest strength is in your knowledge. With self control on the one side and knowledge on the other we are free men because we stand for the faith of the Lord Jesus Christ."

More than 48,000 passengers were carried by German air lines within the past year.

CROP OUTLOOK BELOW AVERAGE

CANADIAN CROP GOOD.

WASHINGTON, July 12—Basing its forecast on conditions on July 1, the Department of Agriculture estimated the prospective harvest of important farm crops, declaring "the composite condition of all crops was 6.4 per cent. below the average July condition during the last ten years." The forecast included, in bushels, corn, 2,660,780,000; winter wheat, 567,762,000; spring wheat, 199,595,000, and oats, 1,334,260,000.

Still Time for Improvement

"There is still time for substantial improvement," the Federal Crop Reporting Board said, "but considering all yields per acre will equal those usually secured. The chef reason for the present unfavorable outlook has been deficient rainfall in portions of the North, Central and Eastern States."

The corn crop, the board said, is "generally uneven and backward" throughout the entire country, due to the late, cool season and deficient moisture over wide areas. With 101,074,000 acres set to the crop the board placed the net decrease in the 12 corn-belt States at 582,000 acres.

A severe drought in South Dakota in the heavy spring wheat producing counties has brought a marked decline in that crop there, the board said, with condition dropping from 64 per cent. on June 1 to 35 per cent. The indicated oats production was found to be nearly 11 per cent. less than last year, which harvested 1,511,888 bushels, "though slightly in excess of the five-year average production."

Wheat Heading Out

WINNIPEG, July 12—The Manitoba Free Press, in its third general crop report of the year, summarizes the condition of the crops in the three Prairie Provinces as follows:

"The outstanding conditions of the past twenty-one days appear to be that there was little growth during the last part of June owing to the coo weather that prevailed, so that the wheat crop in the Prairie Provinces is heading out on a straw averaging from eighteen to twenty-four inches in height. The heat wave during the first week of July, which ended on the seventh, with copious rains, that were almost general, appears to have taken some toll of the crop, and several points especially in Saskatchewan, report damage from heat. While the rains were fairly general, seven points in Manitoba, forty-nine points in Saskatchewan, and eighteen in Alberta are still calling for more moisture, with a few points reporting no rain during the past three weeks.

There has been very little damage reported from either cutworms or wireworms, frost, or hail, in any of the three Provinces. The coarse grains appear to show some improvement since the last report; oats, barley, flax and rye running generally from fair to good. Some eighty-three points show a little loss due to grain being choked by weeds. Out of the 304 reports received, 54 report the wheat crop condition to be unfavorable. This is due mainly to heat and early drought. On the whole, the recent rains have benefited the crop.

DO THIS AFTER SEVERE ILLNESS

How To Speedily Gain Strength and Put on Needed Weight.

Nothing like the wonderful vitalizing vitamines extracted from the livers of the common codfish to help convalescing people to quickly get strong and well—everybody knows that.

So nowadays, medical men who keep up with times are ordering a tablet containing the vitamines that give to frail folks vigor, strength and weight—a tablet that is known as McCoy's Cod Liver Extract Tablet — and it surely has proved a blessing to thousands of people who have been sapped of their natural strength after any severe illness.

Skinny men and women take them to speedily put on plenty of good healthy solid flesh and for this purpose they are so extremely good that thin men and women often take on five pounds in 30 days. As a matter of fact, your druggist will return your money if you don't take on 5 pounds in 30 days.

Great for weak, skinny, backward, run-down children, too, and gives them a hearty appetite.

Be sure and ask for McCoy's, the original and genuine Cod Liver Extract Tablet. McDermid & Jury, and Bond's Drug Store have a big demand for them and millions are sold monthly all over North and South America. They are sugar coated and as easy to take as candy. 60 Tablets—60 cents.

NEWS PHOTOGRAPHER OBLIGED

In London recently at a smart wedding the bridegroom kissed the bride just before entering the bridal carriage, for the accommodation of the newspaper photographers. One disconsolate newspaper man missed the "shot" and explaining his dilemma to the bridegroom, the latter readily assented to repeat the kiss so that the photographer would not be called on the carpet by his editor for missing the picture.

Daily Short Story

CATCHING A LARK

By MARTHA McCULLOCH-WILLIAMS.

"Lord! Lord!" Priscilla May burst out. "Why don't something happen? I feel like I'd been dead a week—and had no hope of any resurrection."

"How d'ye know, Prissy? Canst recall former existences and passings?" Sister Helen mocked—her mission was to take Prissy's moods.

"Tell you that after I'm revivified—as you never will be," Prissy chaffed. She was tall and twenty, rich, a beauty, and very, very badly spoiled. Inevitably, with nothing masculine nearer than second cousin to offset a phalanx of adoring aunts, a brace of grandmothers to both of whom she summed perfection, to say nothing of swarming beaux.

She didn't dream it, but it was her great charm that halted a happiness she had a sultry thirst to grasp. George Lee-Vernon would have loved her for the looking at her, if he had let himself. Rather he was held from doing it by the scar upon his heart. An old story now—it ought never to throb and sting him. But it did—and it was there in token that another woman with the same charm, had earlier won him—and played him false. Since then his chief concern had been not to forget her, but to armor himself against all such attacks. He would marry of course—after awhile. There must be Lee Vernons to follow him—but they should be scientifically bred, carefully born and trained. Their mother a lady—that went without saying—handsome, healthy, with neither too much not too little brain. Helen was, to speak truth, much nearer the specification he had set forth—yet to him was merely an adjunct of Priscilla. Damn the luck that had brought him home for the quail-shooting first time in five years, to find the sisters resting at little old Maywold, the original family seat, from the wear and tear of a hectic social year. He had known them at second hand long and long—this was his first encounter in the flesh. Brief but romantic—he had all but run them down defying speed limits at the edge of dusk. Safety for them had meant a wrecked car, a potential fatality. Helen had screamed, all but fainted—it was Priscilla who had sworn at him, a good mouth-filling oath ordering him out of sight with a stamp of the foot, and eyes that shot sparks. Yet when he made due apologies next day, she had smiled at him indulgently, saying with a shrug: "You got heap the worst of it—but we shan't insult you offering you a new car." Which might have eased the tense situation if Helen had not pleaded plaintively: "Please forget? Have pity on weary pilgrims seeking real rest. For our souls, not bodies—we walk and ride roads—and swim in the creek. If you meet us—just go the other way, not looking even. Then—we shan't interfere with each other."

Muttering a pledge, bowing as became his name, he had gone away. He'd tried to obey—but somehow vagrant eyes had more than once feasted upon Priscilla's face—and read there that she was deadly sick of solitude. Being no hermit, he got quickly, through kindly gossip, the low-down on the sisters—they had run away from worrying elders to Maywold, for a freedom cure—self appointed. Sent on big dogs and saddle-stock ahead, fetched along Tobe and his wife Maria, as faithful as they were black.

When at last by Fate's decree, he got sight of them, it was to find the half had not been told him. Sight came to pass upon the third day of shooting—in this wise—else it might never have come at all. Maywold was open ground—anyone who would might shoot there. Besides the untilled land overgrown with thickets, briars and sedge, provided the best of cover which upon a mild October morning was vocal with calling Bob Whites. Lee-Vernon would have stopped ears to the calling—there was no stopping the dogs, nor the other men. For an hour the blurry boom of shotguns filled all the sunlit world—sport often dreamed of, rarely met with, made the sportsmen careless of everything else. Of the orchard just beyond, the shallow rain-pool whence their dogs lapped thirstily the crashing surge through an overgrown hedge of sleek sinuous bodies—an Airedale, a mastiff, a greyhound, which fell upon the other dogs with sportive barks, overset them, tumbled them about, pretending to growl. Bemis, a visitor, loved his dog, a champion, a bit better than himself—instantly he fired both barrels above the squirming mass, crying wildly: "Stop that! Stop I say!"

"Stop something yourself," a gay voice cried, just as a ripe red apple took him full between the eyes. The rest looking up saw Priscilla, bareheaded, flushed and laughing perched perilously in an apple-crotch, and clinging with one hand to a slender high bough. She nodded to Lee-Vernon, saying: "Introduce your friends. Helen's so sick of seeing only me you'll look like manna from heaven. See her smiling—over in that tree yonder—follow her to the house—you're thirsty I know—and we've cider on tap."

"You're coming too," Lee-Vernon interrupted.

She smiled saucily: "I have to swing down," she said. "Can't do that before an audience." Fate said she could—for as she spoke the tall bough, bent, broke—yeld her up a bare second—but that sufficed to land her in Lee-Vernon's safe hold, where, he said in her ear: "When the skies fall we catch larks."

FATHER AND SON STRICKEN DEAD BY LIGHTNING

Belleville Man Watching Son's Initiation in Orange Lodge.

FIVE INJURED.

Bolt Entered Room By Stove-Pipe—Confusion in Dark.

BELLEVILLE, July 12—During an electric storm which swept Prince Edward County, Rednersville Orange Lodge room, on the second storey of a stone building at the foot of a range of hills, was struck late Friday night by lightning while the lodge was at work, and two men, Wellington Bowers, aged 55 years, and his son, Harold, aged 24 years, were struck dead instantly. The Master of the Lodge, Walter Olstrom, Mountainview, and four other members also were injured or shocked.

The initiation of Harold Bowers was just concluding, the young man standing about 15 feet from where the father was seated when the bolt struck the building, entering by the chimney and following the stove-pipes, which had been left up with the elbow pointing downard after the stove had been removed. It is believed the current grounded in an unused acetylene pipe which ran under the flooring of the Orange Hall. Although the room was lighted with coal oil lamps, the bolt plunged the room into intense darkness.

Confusion Follows.

What with the uproar of the storm and the cries of the men and the shouts that followed, none of the 18 men in the room could at first realize what had occurred. Those who had matches struck them, and the havoc was before them. The injured men had, most of them, been hurled to the floor, while the bodies of the two Bowerses were stretched out. No sign of the exit of the bolt was seen at the time.

Sensing something serious had happened, but not knowing that the two men were dead, one of the members rushed out to telephone for aid, but found the service disrupted. He jumped in Wellington Bowers's motor car, which he drove to this city, five miles away, and sought aid of police and doctors. An ambulance was taken to the scene by police, and doctors arrived to find Bowers and his son dead, and the injured men recovering. Search of the room revealed a small piece of flooring which had been slivered as the bolt left the building.

Walter Olstrom, the master of the lodge, was sitting beside Wellington Bowers, the father, when the bolt struck. Olstrom's left boot was torn off his foot, his heel bruised, and his trousers ripped by the lightning

Carl Williamson of Carrying Place, at the west end of the Bay of Quinte, was shocked; the others injured being Charles Brickman, Henry Lamb and Clarence McIlroy of Rednersville.

Wellington Bowers is survived by his widow, one son, Arnold, aged 26, and a daughter, Verna, aged 20. The funeral will be a double one on Tuesday to Bethel Church and Cemetery.

CADET SERVICE FORMED IN 1866

First Corps Was Organized at Time of Fenian Raid.

REFORMED IN 1911

The cadet services of Canada are administered by the Department of National Defence in close co-operation with the Departments of Education in the various Provinces. They are under the charge of a district cadet officer in each military district, who is responsible to the director of physical training and cadet services, defence headquarters, Ottawa.

The first cadet corps was organized in 1866, about the time of the Fenian Raid, and until 1911 they were unofficially organized at various residential schools, such as Upper Canada College, Ridley College and Catholic schools in the Province of Quebec, as a means of increasing the discipline and obedience of the pupils.

In 1911 the late Baron Strathcona and Mount Royal presented the Dominion Government with sums of money, totalling $500,000, which were to be placed in a trust fund and the interest of same used as prizes to increase the interest of Canadian boys in military drill, rifle shooting and physical training.

This fund is administered by the Strathcona Trust, defence headquarters, Ottawa, who are assisted by a local executive committee in each Province. The interest amounts to about $20,000 per annum and is divided pro rata according to the report of the district cadet officer, which is sent following the annual inspection. In this report each corps is graded in the above subjects, "A" being the highest and "C" being the lowest.

When this donation was received, the Dominion Government felt that they should supplement it with a more active interest, and accordingly arranged the appointment of district cadet officers and undertook to train cadet instructors, and to furnish an allowance to cover the cost and upkeep of suitable uniforms, etc.

The time to be devoted to cadet training varies. Two periods per week of about three-quarters to one hour is suggested, but it has been found that many schools cannot devote this amount without interfering with other school work, and the matter is therefore been left to the inspector and principals of the schools in each locality to arrange the time suitable, and the average corps carries out squad drill for one-half hour per week for about six weeks in the fall. Target practices held during the winter with B.S.A. "22" miniature (usually the corps' own instructor) and in the spring as soon as weather permits outdoor drill is again taken up in half-hour weekly periods with possibly a few extra periods towards and in preparation for inspection. During the winter those whose turn it is not to take up target practice are expected to take physical training, etc. Collegiate and High Schools are expected to have somewhat more than the above.

Friendly competition has been found to create great interest with the boys, especially in rifle shooting, this latter bringing out a true desire in every boy to shoot and play the game straight, and many opportunities are given the boys to carry on this fine sport.

POSTAL HISTORY

Twenty-three Post Offices in New Brunswick in 1840.

Though by 1840 the population of New Brunswick was more than twice what it had been in 1825, there had not been a proportionate extension of postal service in the meantime. There were not more than twenty-three post offices in the province, and in some cases long stretches of well settled country were without one, even though couriers travelled through the district regularly once or twice a week to more distant points.

On the main post road from Halifax to St. John, running north of the Bay of Fundy, there was a twice-weekly service; mails were carried daily between St. John and Fredericton, St. John and St. Andrews, and Fredericton and Woodstock; while Chatham, with a twice-weekly service from Fredericton, was a distributing point for the settlements along the shore both north towards Campbellton and south towards Dorchester. As in Upper and Lower Canada and Nova Scotia however the public used private means of conveyance for their letters when possible, to evade the high postage rates.

St. John and Fredericton were the only towns in New Brunswick where any delivery of correspondence by letter carrier was made. In St. John there were two carriers, one of whom delivered letters and the other newspapers, receiving payment of a penny for each letter or paper delivered. In Fredericton there was only one courier, and he was employed by the postmaster, who retained the sums collected for himself. In Nova Scotia Halifax and Yarmouth with two carriers each, had a similar delivery of letters, the carriers receiving a fee of a penny a letter.

"PROSPERITY SHOULD EXIST."

The monthly commercial letter of the Canadian Bank of Commerce for June makes good reading.

That bank finds that, despite a continuation of unseasonable weather in many sections, particularly in the East, business conditions during the month were generally satisfactory, while the statement adds, "Improved crop prospects have developed a spirit of confidence in the future trend of trade."

While it is recognized that there are still some unfavourable features which should be kept in mind, notably that industry in Great Britain is severely handicapped with the effects reacting upon business in nearly every part of the globe, and that one of the largest concerns in Canada, claiming that it is unable to operate profitably under existing conditions, has appealed for aid by way of tariff concessions on coal and steel products, yet the favourable influences are predominant.

"If these are in evidence during the next three months," sums up the monthly letter, "a state of prosperity should exist throughout the greater part of the country."

A NEW INDUSTRY.

The announcement that the Sealright Company of Fulton, N. Y., the largest manufacturers in the world of bottle caps and liquid-tight paper cans, are to establish their Canadian business in Peterboro, has been received with satisfaction.

The decision of this company to commence manufacturing here strengthens the favourable verdict given Peterboro as an industrial centre by the location in this city of branches of such well-known American firms as the Quaker Oats Company, the Nashua Paper Company, the Raybestos Company, the Westclox Company, and others.

The parent Sealright Company, it is stated, makes over half of the bottle tops used in the United States, while its output of paper containers is very large.

It is felt that the Canadian business should develop into one of large proportions, and the establishment of the branch here will be of much benefit to Peterboro.

Mr. R. A. Brown, manager of the Canadian Nashua Paper Company, has had much to do with the company's decision to manufacture in Peterboro, and he and the city officials who co-operated with him are to be congratulated on the result.

COMPLY WITH THE LAW.

The suggestion has been made to The Examiner in connection with efforts that we have made to bring about a public awakening to the necessity of thinking along safety first lines that a column should be run each night containing the license numbers of cars whose drivers have been noticed breaking one or other of the traffic laws.

While this plan, for reasons that readily suggest themselves, would not be feasible, the fact that it has been suggested indicates that infractions of many of the regulations are all too common, and by observation most of us have undoubtedly confirmed that belief.

Citizens who are law-abiding on most occasions have no hesitation apparently in violating traffic rules, and so they are not as careful as they might be in swinging round corners, cross street intersections at a greater speed than the law sanctions, are not as zealous in making signals as they should be, and in short, treat the regulations with scant respect.

The Kiwanis Club, in promoting safe driving, should emphasize compliance with the traffic laws as one of the most essential contributions to better conditions.

Compliance with the present traffic code on the part of all drivers would very materially reduce the number of automobile accidents.

CAMPAIGN ISSUES.

The various political parties are busily engaged in preparing their plan of campaign for the coming Federal election and are spending a lot of time in deciding what the issues are to be.

In the Liberal camp the constitutional issue will be stressed; the Conservatives, on the other hand, can be expected to dwell at length upon the administration of the customs department.

As for the Progressives, they may be so busy trying to account for all their votes in the last session that they will have little time left to discuss questions of general policy.

Politicians of all parties should not be dismayed if they find a tendency among the voters to decide for themselves what are the issues rather than a willingness to accept those outlined by their party chieftains.

Just at present there is abroad among many Canadians a feeling of disgust over the action of the rival political camps, and such a feeling may make it unusually difficult for the party spell-binders to find fertile ground for their propaganda.

The last session of Parliament has left with many voters the impression that the two old parties have been much more greatly concerned over which should hold the reins of power than they have been about the welfare of Canada.

Greed for office rather than zeal in the public service has been the paramount note, and frankly, there is a strong current of condemnation for both parties among many electors.

KEEP THEM IN THE BACKGROUND.

There are other kinds of extremity, says The Border Cities Star discussing the recent disturbances in the British Parliament. We have seen them in this country. The United States has seen them. Nearly every country has seen them at one time or another. Sometimes they lead to civil war. Usually they leave no greater apparent effect than hard feelings and wounded hearts. In addition, though, there is always the bad effect on the national interest. It is difficult to make progress where one set of politicians is going to extremes in slandering the other set. Britain knows this to be true.

In Canada many of our political extremes have centred around racial questions. These extremes are to be deplored. They must be deplored by every citizen who has the best interests of his country at heart and who appreciates the value of national unity and co-operation. We have also had our extremists in connection with the problems of East and West and of the Maritimes. In the election campaign that will open shortly it is to be feared that extremists on all sides are likely to figure a great deal more prominently than sober-minded citizens would like. There are public questions that offer the extremists an opportunity. They may be depended upon to seize it. For the country's sake, for the sake of good feeling and national progress, it is to be hoped that their efforts meet with the cold reception they undoubtedly deserve. No good purpose can be served by encouraging extremity of thought, speech or action. Party leaders who encourage it are not faithful to their trusts. Citizens who encourage it are not acting in the country's best interests. For Canada's sake, The Border Cities Star repeats its hope that the extremists will be kept very much in the background from now until election day.

THE LONDON "BOBBY."

Among the "sights" of London, one of the most interesting and impressive is the stalwart figure in blue who stands impassively at every street intersection, directs and controls, with what seems a sort of magic, the traffic of the busy thoroughfares, and dominates the life that rushes and roars around him. The London "Bobby" is, indeed, an institution of the great metropolis as distinctive as Westminster, St. Paul's or Buckingham Palace, and one that attracts even more attention on the part of visitors than many of the historic landmarks.

While the Londoners themselves take him pretty much for granted, and regard him with a familiarity that breeds respect and a pride that is only partially concealed, he is to foreigners, and especially to Americans, a source of wonder, admiration and awe. No description of a trip to London is complete without a tribute to the policemen who make it so easy and pleasant for the stranger to find his way about. They constitute a force that is universally acknowledged to be a model of its kind, everywhere imitated but never surpassed.

It is not only as a guardian of the peace, or as a regulator of traffic, that the London "Bobby" challenges interest and invites study. He is more than a type of policeman moulded by intensive training and preparation for point duty or an ordinary beat. Nor is his appeal entirely based on methods stamped by the highest efficiency, or on standards governed by the strictest discipline. The secret of his power and popularity is, indeed, somewhat elusive, as chiefs of police and criminal authorities from far and near have discovered; but probably it lies closer to the human touch that marks his work than to anything else.

It was this element—the combination of inbred courtesy, unobtrusive kindness and consideration shown to all and sundry, uniform geniality and sense of public service manifested in countless civilities and amenities—far more than his discipline and authoritative efficiency that chiefly impressed the head of the Parisian police on a recent visit to London; and when all his other qualities are summed up, it is that which makes him the hero that he is to observers from abroad. In the words of a correspondent of a leading New York daily: "There is nothing more popular in London than the policeman. His training does not make him belong to a definite caste. He has the mentality of the man in the street. Hence, he is in the best sense of the term the people's friend."

Not so well known as his characteristics is the history of the London "Bobby," who, it is of interest to note, celebrates this year the centenary of his creation. Though it was not until 1829 that the Metropolitan police were organized as a unit of the force which Sir Robert Peel brought into being, and which at first excited popular derision in terms suggested by his name. It is exactly one hundred years since that eminent statesman drew up the plan that provided for a police establishment in London and led to a complete revolution of the system of maintaining law and order.

Like other great reforms, the creation of the "peeler" or "Bobby" arose out of circumstances that demanded a change. The Watchmen and "Bow Etreet Runners" or "Robin Redbreasts," as they were popularly designated because of their scarlet waistcoats, had lamentably failed in the prevention and detection of crime and in the maintenance of public peace and security. Lawlessness was rampant. Murders, highway robberies, burglaries and other forms of crime were epidemic. Like in England, and particularly in London, was a series of alarms, disturbances and breaches of law that for the most part went unpunished.

But with the advent of the policeman, the butt of popular ridicule though he was for a time, conditions gradually changed. Respect increased not only for the law but for its uniformed guardian. Derision gave place to a good-natured raillery that concealed no little pride in and admiration of a force carefully recruited, splendidly disciplined and equal to any emergency; and from an ever increasing organization formed and equipped to protect and control the great metropolis there eventually emerged the perfection of police efficiency, that wonder of the world—the London "Bobby."—Ottawa Journal.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

The Glorious Twelfth!

Like most other things, the Orange celebration has been changed by the advent of the motor car.

HOW DO YOU SAY IT?

(By C. N. Lurie.)

Common Errors in English and How To Avoid Them.

"MILITATE" NO "MITIGATE."

(The McClure Syndicate, Inc.)

A rather curious error, one that involved the use of two words that are not in very common use, was noted in a newspaper article the other day. A policeman was relating his troubles with motorists who broke the speed laws. "We try to be pretty fair with a motorist," he sid, "but sometimes the looks of his car rather mitigate against him."

Now, the policeman may have said "mitigate against him." The writer of the article may have put the world in the officer's mouth. Or the officer may have said and the author may have written the correct word, "militate," and the typesetter may have got it wrong. At any rate, the correct word is "militate," not "mitigate." The latter word means "to make less harsh, to moderate," etc., while the former means "to have weight or influence for or against."

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY

BEFORE IT IS TOO LATE

Recently I noticed a very striking cartoon by Wortman entitled, "A Personal Question." In the foreground a little, bent, poverty-stricken old lady was painfully pushing a wheel chair in which was seated a hopeless old man, every bit of usefulness gone. In the background was the window of a bank in which could be seen a poster, reading, "Who is going to take care of you in your old age?"

Did you happen to see this picture? If not, can you see it now with me? Can you see that little wife thirty years or so from now trying faithfully to give the last little bit of sunshine to you after it has all gone for her? There is only one way to have sunshine at that time of life, and that is by beginning to store it up now, little by little.

The cartoon was not a bank advertisement, neither is this article, but I hope that through either one or both, someone sees the goal before it is too late.

ACCORD EXPECTED.

M. Caillaux Leaving For London To Arrange Debt Payments.

PARIS, July 10 (Canadian Press) M. Caillaux, new finance minister, expects to leave for London on Monday morning to sign an accord in connection with some of France's debt to Britain.

FLORIAN LEDUC,

Newly-appointed General Sales Manager for Canada of Willys-Overland.

Effective July 1st, Mr. Florian Leduc becomes General Sales Manager in Canada of the Willys-Overland Sales Co., Ltd., with headquarters in Toronto. Mr. Leduc, prior to his new appointment, was branch manager in Montreal, in charge of all dealer operations and retail operations for the Willys-Overland organization in the Province of Quebec.

Mr. Leduc has been engaged in the automobile business a great many years and is thoroughly conversant with the many problems associated with the industry. While in Montreal he was made President of the Montreal Automotive Trade Association.

Mr. Leduc enters upon his new duties at a time when prospects for the organization never looked brighter. The Willys-Overland line of fine motor cars has been modernized to the last degree and the dealer organization which is under his jurisdiction in Canada has proven itself to be of the highest calibre.

During the past 90 days Willys-Overland sales have shown a 500% increase over the same period one year ago, and for the year to date an increase of well over 50%, even though since April they have not had a four-cylinder automobile to offer to the public.

It is rumored, however, that Willys-Overland are to be the first manufacturers in America to introduce a new, low type, 4-cylinder car capable of speed between 55 and 60 miles an hour, giving over 30 miles to the gallon of gas and over 1000 miles to a gallon of oil.

It is stated that this car will be equipped with 4-wheel brakes and will bespeak quality to a much greater degree than any other four-cylinder automobile on the market today.

What is more, it will equal the quality and construction of many Sixes now on the market that are selling as high as $1,500.

MONTREAL GRAIN AND PRODUCE

MONTREAL, Que., July 12 (Canadian Press) — The export trade in grain on the Montreal market on Saturday was generally quiet. There was little demand from foreign buyers at the advanced prices asked overnight with the result that exporters showed little interest in the local market for cash grain. Trading in car lots for local and country accounts was also slow, but the tone of the market was steady. Prices were unchanged.

There were no new developments in the local flour situation on Saturday but the tone of the market for spring wheat grades was steady.

A moderate amount of business continued to be done in millfeed. The demand for standard grades of rolled oats was limited at $3.10 per bag of 90 lbs., delivered to the trade.

The receipts of eggs on Saturday were 1,486 cases, while the arrivals for the week ending July 10, 1926, were 10,695 cases. The feature of the domestic market last week was the weakness in first and second grade eggs and jobbing prices for the former were reduced 1c to 2c per dozen, and for the latter 2c to 3c per dozen. This was attributed to increased offerings of these grades and the insufficient demand to take care of them. The volume of business in a jobbing way has only been fair for this season of the year.

Butter receipts: 6,486. Arrivals for the week ending July 10 22,887 packages. A weaker feeling generally prevailed in butter for the week.

Cheese receipts: 13,257; for the week, 73,173. A fair amount of business was done for export account last week, but stocks are steadily piling up which factor coupled with the unfavorable reports from English sources have had a depressing influence on the market. Prices closed easier.

CHICAGO GRAINS

CHICAGO, July 12 (Canadian Press)—Wheat went lower in price here on Saturday influenced by rains and cooler temperatures northwest and by laggard action of the Liverpool market. The government crop report received after dealings were at an end proved to be about as generally had been looked for regarding wheat but decidedly bullish as to corn. Chicago closing quotations on wheat were easy at 3-8 to 1 cent net decline, with corn 1-4 to 1-2 cent off, oats 1-4 to 3-4 cents down, and provisions varying from 15 cents drop to a rise of five cents.

Notwithstanding better weather conditions in the spring wheat states, crop reports from there were pessimistic as a rule, with a tendency shown to reduce estimates of yield. However, export demand appeared slow, re-sellers figures being under the asking level for first hand offers.

Prospects for a good wheat crop in Canada received particular attention on account of word that the Canadian outlook is given as a reason for British unresponsiveness toward price upturns on this side of the Atlantic.

Corn and oats were easier, owing to good rains, especially over Illinois.

Lard reflected an upturn in hog values, but meats were inclined to sag.

STERLING EXCHANGE

MONTREAL, Que., July 12 (Canadian Press)—Sterling prices were quoted here Saturday as follows:

Sterling demand—$4.85 1-8.

Sterling cables—$4.85 5-8.

CROP REPORT

"The best growing weather of the season" is the verdict of crop conditions for the week just closed. Warmer weather is reported from all parts of the province but there has been nothing exceptional and still warmer weather with occasional substantial showers is required.

As a consequence harvesting operations have begun. Haying has started in many part of the province, especially the cutting of alfalfa. This is ten days to two weeks later than usual and at that it is not yet general but will likely become general this week. In Eastern Ontario the crop is not up to the bumper standard of last year but in Western Ontario it is better than last year. Alfalfa especially seems to be giving satisfactory results. Much of the crop will be short but on the whole the results will be an improvement over a year ago. Other crops are showing the benefit of the better weather. Corn is very backward but is getting a start.

Livestock conditions are uniformly good. Beef cattle are in some sections reaching the stage when they will be ready to forward to the market in a week or two. Milk production has now passed the peak but there is still a heavy flow. Market conditions remain firm with butter around 33c and cheese 17 1-4c to 18 1-4c. Wool marketing is about completed and reports indicate that a larger quantity than usual has gone to the co-operative company.

Fruit is now going to the market. The first strawberries are being all the way from 12c to 25c per box. Winter killing, insect attacks and backwardness of season combined to reduce the fruit crop and it is not expected that there will be a particularly heavy yield of strawberries and raspberries. From Lincoln County the report is received that there has been a heavy June drop in peaches and in pears. Some of the growers who had a nice setting report that there has been almost a 100 per cent drop and many of their trees will bear nothing at all. This applies particularly to the western end of the county, while in the eastend it will be necessary for some of the growers to do some thinning. Grapes are similarly irregular, some vineyards showing up well and others having no crop at all. Norfolk reports good prospects for apples with the exception of Spies and McIntosh which are not now confirming the promise which blossom time indicated.

As an indication of improvement in rural sections the following from Lambton County should be interesting:

"In driving over the county at the present time one cannot help but notice the amount of building and improvement that is being done on our farms. A large number of new homes and barns are being erected as well as many new roofs are being placed on barns. One local firm in the county has disposed of nearly two tons of shingle nails alone."

DR. FRANK CRANE'S DAILY EDITORIAL.

GETTING ALONG WITH HEROES.

By Dr. Frank Crane.

Dispatches from Paris, printed in various papers, state that the sheriff descended upon the house of one Georges Clemenceau and seized one of the fiery old "Tiger's" chairs for failure to pay taxes.

Parisian editorial writers ask in varying degrees of asperity if this is the way to treat heroes.

The answer seems to be that it is.

At least it is the way they are generally treated.

Nations are notably lax in their expression of appreciation to their saviors, while those saviors live.

All along the line in the days of peace after the nation has been saved the hero spends much of his time in petty squabbling.

The truth is that a hero is an uncomfortable sort of a person to have around in ordinary times.

In Shaw's play, "Saint Joan," the author points out that both the captain she had made and the king she had crowned were not far away when Joan was kept prisoner by the British. They could have rescued her if they had tried.

But, the author indicates, they were a little glad to get rid of her.

A person who hears voices is all right for a crisis, but rather uncomfortable to have around in normal times.

Often the qualities demanded by a crisis are entirely different from the ones of value in times of uneventful peace. Thus the hero has a chance to demonstrate his heroism only under certain conditions and his appreciation depends upon the conditions of the time as well as the character of the man.

Although Patrick Henry was the man of the hour when he stirred his countrymen to action with his "Give me liberty or give me death" speech, he would not have made a good president after the conflict was over.

The two places demanded different characteristics.

Patrick Henry struck the spark at the right moment and was a hero in his place. In another place he might not have been a success at all.

The reason heroes are apparently not appreciated while they live is often because they are placed under conditions where the qualities which made them heroes in the crisis are not as much in demand as other qualities which they may lack.

After they are dead they are remembered only in connection with a background where their characteristics fitted in.

The Turtle.

By SHIRLEY RODMAN WILLIAMS.

WHEN the children surprise a row of mud turtles sunning on a log in their marshy environment, or meet one trundling slowly along the road, add these scraps of information to their interest in turtles. The turtle they see has more than 200 near relatives, varying in size from the tiny fellows to those eight feet in length and weighing as many hundred pounds. Some are known to live 250 years. Turtles are vegetable-eating, flesh-eating, or both, in habit. Their beaklike mouth is toothless, so the food is snapped off in hunks and swallowed whole. Some varieties are delicious eating, especially the green turtle, and all turtle eggs are edible. The eggs are buried in a sandy bank or beach where the female digs a hole with her spade like tail lays the eggs, sometimes as many as 250, and then carefully covers them up again. This done, her family duties are finished, for the little turtles are left entirely to their own devices, and to the mercy of crabs and birds.

PROPOSED CHANGE AROUSES PROTEST

White Men May Replace Colored Crews on C.N.R. International.

OTTAWA, Ont., July 12 (Canadian Press).—The intimation of the management of the Canadian National Railways that colored crews on the International Limited, operating between Montreal and Chicago are to be replaced with white crews, has aroused vigorous protests from other railway workers. A delegation, headed by A. R. Mosher, president of the Canadian Brotherhood of Railroad Employees, will seek an interview with Sir Henry Thornton upon the return of the C.N.R. president from his holidays, asking that this proposed action be rescinded.

While the superintendent of the sleeping, dining, parlor car and railway restaurant department, E. W. Smith, has informed the employees that the change is being made because the colored employees have not given satisfaction, the C.B.R.E. officers express skepticism. They say that a short time ago a request was made for a new schedule of wage rates covering employees in this service and by which equalization of rates for both colored and white employees was sought. M. M. McLean, secretary of Grand Division of the C.B.R.E., stated yesterday that there had been no complaint prior to placing the proposed schedule before the management

YOUNG ORANGEMEN BATTLE WITH POLICE

Become incensed as Street Car Tries To Pass Church Parade.

TORONTO, July 12.—In front of St. Paul's Church, Bloor Street, during the Orange church parade yesterday, some members of the Orange Young Britons engaged in a battle with police. Mounted men charged the crowd, which was augmented by groups of angered women, who clung to the coats of policemen as they attempted to quell the disturbance. Reserves were called, but officers of the Orange Order took the initiative, and pesuasively quelled the storm before the police reserves arrived.

The trouble started when an attempt was made to drive an eastbound Bloor Street car past the parade lines as the final group of the procession were wending their way to the church steps. A police officer had signalled the motorman of the car to drive on.

DISABLED WAR VETERANS LEAD PARADE PROTESTING AGAINST WASHINGTON DEBT SETTLEMENT

Crippled Wheel Themselves in Invalid Chairs—Blind Are Led.

Wreaths and Plaque Placed on American Monuments in Paris.

PARIS, July 12 (Canadian Press).—War veterans propelling themselves in invalid chairs, the blind with hands on the shoulders of their wives or children, for guidance, others with the wounds of battle showing plainly, led the protest parade of 12,000 men yesterday against the Washington debt settlement.

The procession moved up the Champs Elysees, around the Arc de Triomphe and down the Avenue D'Iena. A wreath was deposited at the Alan Seeger Monument.

Wreaths were placed in the Place des Etats Unis, another at the Equestrian Statue of George Washington, inscribed: "To Washington, with hope." Here also was placed a stone plaque expressing the wish that the Franco-American debt settlement be revised.

BALD HEADED EAGLE MAROONED AT FALLS

Large Bird is Below Lower Bridge With Wings Injured.

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., July 12.—Many people are interested in a great bald-headed eagle which is apparently marooned below the lower bridge with its wings injured. The bird is a magnificent specimen, with a wing spread of six feet. Customs officials believe it may have escaped from a zoo, as it is very tame, and does not move much, even when stones are thrown at it. The wings are ruffled, and appear to be damaged. It make its home on the limb of a dead tree below the lower bridge.

Former Head of Portuguese Government Sent To Azores.

ABOARD WARSHIP.

LISBON, Portugal, July 2.—(Canadian Press.)—Gen. Gomez Da Costa, who held the role of dictator for a short time, but was ousted on July 9 by the new government, set up by Gen. Carmona, was sent out of Portugal yetserday aboard a warship. He is bound for the Azores, where he will be set at liberty.

OLD MARKSMAN WINS AT BISLEY

Sergeant Lawrence, 72, Hard Pressed By 2 Canadians in Shooting Contest.

WINNER IN 1882.

BISLEY CAMP, July 12 (Canadian Press Cable).—The Stock Exchange match, one of the features of Saturday's programme at Bisley Rifle Ranges, was won by a veteran, aged 72, Sergt. A. Lawrence, formerly of the Argyll Regiment. His score of 132 was equalled by two Canadians, Lieut. F. Goodhouse of Ottawa and Major F. Richardson of Victoria, B.C., but the aged marksman had placed his shots best and was awarded the first prize of £10. Sergt. Lawrence won the Queen's prize at Bisley as far back as 1882. Lieut. Goodhouse secured second prize of £8 and Major Richardson third prize of £7.

The winnings of other Canadians in this match were:

Sergt. McGregor (11th) and Lieut. J. T. Steels, Guelph (16th), 60 shillings each; Sergt. G. M. Elmslie, Toronto (29th), forty shillings; Sergt. J. Borland, Mount Dennis (70th), twenty shillings.

Yesterday every person at the camp, with the exception of statisticians, telegraphers and newspapermen took a rest, enjoying genial sunshine and Sabbath quietness. Bishop Jarvis, the Chaplain General to the competing forces, held church service in a mammoth umbrella tent and in his sermon instanced the feeling of high duty which had prompted Cadet Allen of Marlborough College to carry on in the Ashburton match although suffering acutely from a sudden attack of appendicitis. Cadet Allen was rushed to the hospital direct from the firing line when smitten last week, and he is now reported progressing favorably.

"I am quite sure that to him there was nothing exceptional in that he remained in the competition although suffering intense pain," the Bishop said, in reference to the young cadet. "He was an English boy and was at Bisley to do his best for Marlborough College and he did it."

WEEKLY PAPERS COMMENT ON CONTROVERSY

London Reviews "The Nation and "The Spectator" Give Opinions.

ON BYNG'S REFUSAL..

Campaign Issue Will Be Status of Canada, One Prophesies.

(Canadian Press Cable)

LONDON, July 12.—The controversy over Lord Byng's refusal to accept Right Hon. Mackenzie King's advice and dissolve the Canadian Parliament is the subject of the principal editorials of both the great weekly reviews. The National and The Spectator, in their current issues.

The Nation prophesies that the general election will involve vigorous affirmation of Canadian nationhood and wide-ranging debate on the nature and limits of Dominion status. "The Conservative line," it says "will be to attack Mackenzie King and the Progressives indiscriminately as beinb separatists, but we may perhaps anticipate that the more responsible of Premier Meighen's followers will exhibit some restraint in using this weapon, for they are aware that it is decidedly double-edged.

Constitutional Issues

"The opinion and sentiments of Canadian Imperialists are profoundly at variance with the views held by our own Tory Imperialists." The Nation continues, "and Premier Meighen, knowing the value of the Conservative gains in the Prairie Provinces in the last election, needs no one to remind him that his sure hold upon Ontario and the Maritime Provinces is a relatively small matter when disruptive constitutional issues have been evoked or revided."

Referring to Lord Byng's action, The National alludes the expression of another English journal that the Governor-General has made history. "If so, it will be Canadian history alone," says The Nation, f"or it is surely wide of the mark to suggest that what a retiring Governor-General does under special circumstances at Ottawa can have any direct bearing on the policy of the Cabinet of the Government of Great Britain.

"We cannot see how Lord Byng could judge it to be probable that Arthur Meighen would be able to form a Government and get his Ministers elected, but doubtless Lord Byng thought it worth while to give to the leader of the largest party this rather desperate chance.

Issue Now in Politics.

"For a good many years past nationalistic feeling in Canada has been growing around the office of the Governor-General. Lord Byng, we may be quite certain, had not the smallest desire or intention to throw the issue right into the midst of Dominion politics at the close of a successful term in office, but that is precisely what he has done."

The Spectator discusses the constitutional aspect of the matter in general terms. It says: "No doubt it may be alleged that, as Lord Byng had refused dissolution to Mackenzie King, he ought to have warned Meighen that he would not give it to him. Possibly he may have done so. Afterward, perhaps, the force of circumstances proved too strong and he discovered in the end that dissolution was inevitable.

"In that case it might perhaps have been better if Lord Byng had tried—he may have done so and failed—to get some group of neutral politicians to carry on government, thus avoiding even the appearance of giving to one party what he had refused to another."

The Spectator concludes with the opinion that the actions of the Sovereign must be, as far as possible, "automatic," in obedience to certain fundamental rules.

Mr. King's Campaign.

The Saturday Review says that what Mackenzie King is challenging is not any erratic or improper action by Lord Byng, but the constitutional principles governing the relations of Canada to the Imperial overnment. "Unless he imposes a check on himself, Mr. King will be carried further than even he would wish to go, into a downright campaign for separation," The Review declares.

The New Statesman says that Liberals and Progressives in Canada will now fight for full rights of Parliament and constitutional freedom, but "the particular danger of this position needs no emphasizing."

"Already the Conservative press is accusing Mackenzie King of unfurling the flag of separation, thus displaying his true colors after a long course of evasions in reference to the British connection," The New Statesman says.

"Should King be made to appear as the leader of the secessionists, the Liberal party may look for virtual extinction in several Provinces, and the obscuring of its prospects in Quebec."

Another former monarch of Europe, ex-King Manuel and Queen of Portugal at the Chelsea flower show, the great society event recently held in London.

On the left is six-year-old Gloria Caruso, daughter of Enrico Caruso, who, with his widow, the former Dorothy Park Benjamin, has entered protest through Gloria's guardian against approval of her mother's accounting of the estate. The present controversy is over earned royalties of about a million dollars, an attempt having been made, so it is said, to prevent Enrico and Rudolfo, sons, and Giovanni, brother of the dead singer, from sharing in the royalties. Right, Giovanni and Rudolfo Caruso, of Florence, Italy.

For years the story of a lost gold mine has lured men into the highlands of Haliburton. Nuggets are said to have been found there nearly fifty years ago by a man who later died in penitentiary, leaving a map to give the location of his discovery. Above are shown the principals in the recent adventure in which two prospectors, Wetherhed and Solomon, on the gold trail were lost for 20 days. On the right, left to right, are seen Jeff Winger and W. J. Wetherhead and E. D. Solomon. Winger accompanied the latter two into the bush, but later became separated. Left, W. J. Austin, who 35 years ago found the spot where nuggets were suppose to have been found in 1878.

Miss Betts, the London girl who was struck by the King's automobile a few days ago, suffering slight injuries. His Majesty, on seeing what had happened, got out of the car and helped the girl up, and offered to take her home. Miss Betts, more surprised on coming in contact with the King than the result of being hit, refused His Majesty's offer to assist her, and saying she was all right departed for her home. The following day she received flowers from His Majesty.

Seeking Eskimo relics and rare specimens of northern birds and animals, John D. Rockefeller's nephew and two other prominent New Yorkers headed for James Bay recently. The launching of the big Peterborough canoe on the waters of the Missanable River is shown, and the Indian chief, Sidney Animekee, of the Cue tribe, who leads the Indians as far as Moose Factory, on the south shore of James Bay. The third picture shows, left to right: William A. Rockefeller, leader of the expedition and son of William G. Rockefeller; John T. Rowland, friend of Rockefeller, who will act as historian and guide; Raymond B. Potter, ornithologist of the American Museum of Natural History, New York.

The present record is 35 days 21 hours 25 minutes and 4-5 second, set by John Henry Mears in 1923, and the present contestants hope to clip several days off that time. John Goldstrom failed to break the record some two weeks ago.

The Cape Frock An Established Vogue

The cape has become a part of every phase of the mode, and is nowhere more smart than when used on the street frock, as pictured in this model of navy, trimmed with polka-dotted silk. The cape is separate, but so flattering you will never want to take it off. It has a long tie collar of its own to be tied at the neck, or the ends crossed, one at the back and one at the front. The frock underneath is straight, with a tailored collar ending in long revers, and a set-in panel. The tight sleeves are set-in at the armhole, and a wide belt is crushed into a big buckle. NO. 1299 is for the miss and small woman, and is in sizes 16, 18 and 20 years. Size 18 years (36 bust) requires 3⅛ yards 54-inch plain material, and 1⅛ yards 54-inch figured. Price 20 cents.

The secret of distinctive dress lies in good taste rather than a lavish expenditure of money. Every woman should want to make her own clothes, and the home dressmaker will find the designs illustrated in our new Fashion Book to be practical and simple, yet maintaining the spirit of the mode of the moment. Price of the book 10 cents the copy.

YOUR JEWEL COLOR FLOWER

By Mildred Marshall

Today, the lapis-lazuli is the talismanic gem. As a talisman it is best used as a cure for intermittent fever. According to the great physicians of ancient times malarial patients were made free of the disease by wearing lapis-lazuli on their left arms.

The lapis-lazuli promises happy and carefree lives for those whose birth anniversary this is. It is believed that melancholy or morbid thoughts are driven out by the presence of this stone. Those who wear the gem will never be distressed by groundless worries or vain regrets.

Pink is today's color. For an older women it is said to bring social triumphs.

The pink rose is to-day's flower. It should bring the heart's desire to those who wear it.

IN YOUTH.

Say, lissen here, son, you should have heaps of fun, and be a real boy while you're small. There's plenty of pleasure for you in full measure, an' why need you worry at all?

You only live once and your youthful time stunts will last in your mind when you're grown. Get all that you can ere they call you a man, for then you are put on your own.

Right now life seems free, and just take it from me, you are wise if you run around wild through the fresh open air, without thought of a care, really livin' the life of a child.

As young days wear out—well, it all turns about, and the carefreeness switches to strife. Make the best of your youth. If you do, son, in truth, it will last you the rest of your life.

A Fashion Model's Diary

By Grace Thorncliffe

SHE DESCRIBES A LOVELY FLOWERED CHIFFON FROCK.

Gaby and I have spent many of our lunch periods lately strolling about the shops.

"I have to look about a lot and get my bearings before I can decide about a frock I am contemplating," she confided to me today.

I knew this must be true, for Gaby has been talking about a flowered chiffon for days, and none of those the obliging shop people have showed us have seemed to appeal to her fancy.

"But I have gotten my bearings sufficiently to decide that none of the ready-made frocks in reach of my purse can compare with one I could make myself for the same money, or less," she concluded.

"That is true," I replied. "The ninety-five-dollar one you liked is by far the most distinctive, and that is a lot for you to pay for a simple Summer dress."

The one I referred to was a delightful model with tiny colored balloons printed all over it, and the design and workmanship were all that could be desired.

"But I have my idea, and I can't wait to get back to Madame's and sketch it for you to pass your opinion on," Gaby informed me.

"How about the material?" I asked.

"We may as well stop and buy it on the way," she replied.

The material she had seen and which we went to purchase was lovely, silky chiffon which had a design of flowers in deep blue and rose scattered over an ecru background.

"I saw this a week ago, and have had it in my eye ever since," Gaby explained. "Perhaps that's why I didn't like the inexpensive ready-made frocks we saw."

I agreed with her that this lovely chiffon was worth two dress lengths of inferior chiffon, and we walked back to Madame's.

The design Gaby drew and showed to me was so lovely that I am showing a copy of it here.

Rose and Blue Flowered Chiffon Is Trimmed with Black Lace.

The dress is simple, but just the right kind for general Summer wear, as it will serve admirably for afternoon and informal evenings. Black silk lace adds lots of dash to flowered chiffon, and the pretty scarf is removable.

HER OWN WAY by a Girl of Today

JUDY LOVES POWER.

"Forgive me, Judy," pleaded Mamie, "I am awfully ashamed of myself. I should have believed in you through thick and thin. Will you forgive me, dear?"

"I'll forgive you on one condition, and that is that you will listen carefully to what I am going to tell you and help me to put the plan that is in my mind over—then whatever happens to me or anyone else, forget that you know anything about it."

"Judy, Judy. Surely you are not going to get yourself into this Cleaver-Robinson mess?"

"I am in it, dear."

Mamie groaned.

"Don't worry, Mamie. Getting into "messes" is my second name. I thrive on it.

"The real reason why I didn't stay at home and finally settle down like mother was that I wanted to get myself into all sorts of life's 'messes'. What is the use of living, Mamie, if you must live a humdrum sort of a life with three meals a day in which to feed babies and then going to bed and sleeping at night.

"I couldn't see myself staying where nothing more thrilling could happen to me than a row with Dad or walking home from an automobile ride.

"By the way, I had to smile yesterday evening. I got out of Jerry's car and walked away, but it was not because I objected to his petting: it was because I would not sit still under his criticism and jealous suspicion.

"I expect at the present moment that Jerry is perfectly furious at me. But some way I am so worked up over the 'mess' I am in that I do not feel as badly about it as I ought, Mamie, since I have known you and realized what a great love you have for Buddy Tremaine, I am not sure that I love Jerry with the one undying love that the novel writers talk about.

"Sometimes, dear, I think I have something inside of me which makes for badness instead of goodness, if there is such a thing. I like to be with Jerry, I like his arms about me, but I am not longing for him all the time when I am away from him. Honestly, Mamie, I was almost thrilled about what Robinson said to me, and I don't like Robinson at all, and I know his proposals mean anything but good for me.

"I think I love power, dear, more than I do romance. Don't look so horrified, I don't think I am wicked—yet, but I presume no girl starts out to be really wicked, but I find it very interesting to look forward and speculate upon just how my life is going to turn out."

HOROSCOPE

"The Stars Incline, but do not Compel"

"The stars incline, but do not compel."

MONDAY JULY 12 1926.

Astrologers read this as a fortunate day for many lines of effort and especially for scientific or highly specialized work.

There is a promising sign for persons wielding power.

This should be a lucky sway for those who make long journeys on business or pleasure. Railways will benefit.

Again the planetary government appears to foreshadow discontent in certain lines of industry and farmers will murmur in a manner that may be heard in the Autumn.

Astrologers forecast considerable speculation and a tendency toward a fluctuating market, owing to weather adverse to crops and unfavorable foreign reports.

Good luck is indicated for stocks having connection with transportation on land or in the air.

Naval matters now will come much to the front in newspaper headlines and there will be severe censure for persons in certain important places, the seers prophesy.

There is a sign real as foreshadowing many deaths from drowning and numerous accidents on the water.

Women may look forward to significant changes in the fashions which will reflect new ideals of beauty.

Bright colors are to continue popular, for they have a symbolism that is encouraging.

London astrologers foretell expansion of steel and armament trades in the early Autumn. The British military is to be active in distant parts of the empire.

Increase of cigarette-smoking and the use of stimulants among women in all parts of the world is prognosticated. The wise will avoid the possibility of forming habits of any sort.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of a year of important events. Good news and many social enjoyments appear to be promised.

Children born on this day probably will possess unusual and extraordinary characters. Many of these subjects of Cancer are very fond of outdoor vocations.

Tiers Crossing the Palm of Fashion Predict a Change

PARIS has begun talking tiers. It is just one more way of giving width and softness to the straight silhouette without sacrificing the slender lines women find so becoming. A frock seen recently at tea at the Pré Catalan restaurant in the Bois was made with circular ruffles forming tiers across the side. It was made of ash-pink satin crêpe with the dull side in the dress, the shiny side in the trimming. The same style is most attractive in a china-blue-and-white printed silk crêpe, with the plain china blue in the bands. Paris is using short sleeves for Summer frocks of the more formal type.

The Examiner does not sell these patterns.

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

(By Mildred Marshall.)

Facts about your name, its history; its meaning; whence it was derived; its significance; your lucky day, and lucky jewel.

ETHEL

Ethel is in itself a name, but it has so many suffixes as to seem almost a syllable itself It is another of the Teutonic names which signify noble, and is derived from Aethel, the same prefix, which in High German, is Adal, from which come Adlaide The early feminite form of this simple little name was Aethelthryth. Another, less complex, was Ediltrud.

Teutonic and Norse tradition seem to merge somewhere along the course of Tethel's history, for the splendor of the Valkyr lingers in the name. It was popular among the women of those early times because it signified the ideal woman of the period when " a resolute will and a strong hand were woman's best title to respect," as one writer puts it. Nowadays, Ethel, shorn of her complexities, suggests a fluffily feminine name rather than an Amazonian ideal.

Saint Aethelthryth was a queen of the Amazon type who must have been a very uncomfortable sort of wife and who finally retired to a monastery. She was canonized as Saint Ethelreda. Her saintly name has come down to us with a small degree of popularity, but Ethelberta and Ethelfreda are much the favorites. Ethel is the most prevalent of all and stands alone as an independent name. It is not only pleasing, but possesses welcome brevity in contrast to other forms of the name.

Alberta and Albertine are regarded as other offsprings of Ethel

Ethel should wear an agate if she wishes happiness and success According to its promise, it will bring her the desire of her heart, give her courage and a dauntless will. Thursday is her lucky day and 4 her lucky number. The wild rose is her flower.

Cushions in the shapes of cats, puppies and other animals are a raging fad for gardens in England this season.

SAVE YOUR TEETH

Prepared by the Oral Hygiene Committee of Canada, with which the Peterborough Dental Society is Collaborating.

THE TOOTH BRUSH.

You would not so much as think of eating from unwashed dishes, in which food remnants from a former meal still remained. Yet, many will go from meal to meal without brushing the teeth, permitting pastry particles of food to adhere to the tooth surfaces.

Wherein lies the difference?

We have at our convenience, an inexpensive and indispensable artificial hygienic device—the tooth brush—made up of a handle, usually of bone or celluloid, and of a cluster of animal bristles so arranged as to exert a most beneficial cleansing action on the teeth without injury to the adjacent soft tissues.

But just as you are particular in your choice of a dentifrice, so "not any old brush will do," but you should select one with discrimination, realizing that there is such a thing as one brush being better than another.

Above all, the brush should not be too large, thus precluding free movement within the vestibule of the mouth. The clusters should be well spaced for more ready access to the interproximal spaces, and, too, that the bristles may be more readily cleansed after using.

A newly obtained brush should be immersed in boiling water for at least fifteen minutes for purposes of sanitation. It is well, too, to run the bristles under hot water before and after each using.

When not in use, the brush should be hung in a clean dry place or kept in a closed but well-ventilated container The bristles of one brush should no touch those of another, nor should th brush be permitted to lie about in an indiscriminate and untidy fashion where it is liable to be contaminated with filth.

Now, as to brushing the teeth!

Many persons are in the habit of brushing energetically the facial aspects of the teeth, with due regard to the esthetics of tooth cleansing, but permitting the surfaces not likely to be seen to receive but scant attention or to go totally neglected. Such laxity cannot be too severely condemned.

Each tooth should be gone overr singly, with the brush made to pass over all surfaces, paying particular regard to the more inaccessible places in which food deposits are more likely to find lodgment.

Avoid the back to forward and side to side movement, which habits, if persisted in might deeply erode the tooth surfaces.

Be very certain in your brushing, to commence fairly high up on the gum tissue, so that the latter will receive the benefits of the massaging influences as the bristles move towards the tooth crowns.

In this connection, a mouth wash consisting of a salt solution in the proportion of half a teaspoonful of salt to a glass of warm water, may be beneficially employed. Following the brushing, this may be used with very pleasing results to rinse the teeth and mouth. Try it.

LOVE LETTERS THAT MADE HISTORY

(By Joseph Kaye.)

GEORGE SAND, ALFRED DE MUSSET AND PAGELLO.

George Sand, like George Elliot, adopted a masculine pen name, her full name was Amandine Lucille Aurore Dudevant. She was the greatest woman novelist in France in her time and one of the most celebrated "love children" of Europe.

Mme. Dudevant traced her ancestry through a highly colored family tree and probabiy, in consequence, possessed a headstrong, passionate and shelfish character.

George Sand's lovers could be listed in catalogue form and the listing would include the most celebrated names in the history of the fine arts. Prominent among the geniuses who fell at ehr feet were Chopin, the musician, and lared de Musset, the poet, and the ardor with which they worshipped this older woman with two children, who was not beautiful and who consumed cigars with the voracity of a travelling salesman, is a cause for wonderment to all save those who have been privileged to feel the force of her character and personality.

Meeting de Musset at the studio of a mutual friend she felt attracted to the young and youthful poet, and had him introduced to her. Before long he was her slave and was about to join her in a trip to Venice, when his mother, although she was accustomed to the Parisian intellectual standards of love, strenuously objected to Mme. Sand. Thereupon George Sand lived up to her masculine tendencies by going to the mother and personally convincing her that she was a fit partner for an alliance with her son.

The lovers went to Venice and lived happily for some time when there happened to pass by the balcony of their hotel a handsome young man who gazed with interest at George Sand as she sat on the balcony smoking, and with a strikingly colored scarf wound around her head. The young man was a physician named Pagello. Mme. Sand cast an appreciative look at him and he was lost. She discovered his name, summoned him to her in a professional capacity for an imagined headache, and later, taking advantage of de Musset's illness, developed her acquaintance into a ripe love affair. Poor de Musset was shown plainly what an unnecessary part of the triangle he was and was packed of home, leaving madame at liberty with Pagello.

Pagello, however, was minus the divine spark of genius which de Musset could offer to a woman of George Sand's artistic appetite, and he survived his predecessor by only a short time. And it is related that he had to spend his last penny in escorting his late love back to Paris.

The following letter is one of the first addressed to George Sand by de Musset:

"Pity me, but do not dispise me. If my name is written in a corner of your heart do not efface the impression, however faint and feeble it may be....."

"There are days when I could kill myself. I weep instead, or laugh—but I do not laugh, to-day. Good-bye, then. I love you with the love of a little child."

This letter was written by George Sand to Pagello in the first flush of her passion for him:

"This is the first time I have loved without suffering agonies at the end of three days.....Oh, when shall I be alone with you? You shall lock me up in your room and take the key when you go out, so that I may see and hear nothing—no one—but you.

"To be happy for a year, and then to die! That is all I ask from God and you. Good night, dearest Pietro. My troubles cease to trouble me when I am with you....."

ONCE UPON A TIME — JESPER WHO HERDED THE HARES—X — by W.J.ENRIGHT.

ONCE UPON A TIME — JESPER WHO HERDED THE HARES—XI — by W.J.ENRIGHT.

We had set up a blind in a meadow and not far from the grass-hidden nest of a meadowlark. This blind was a sort of jute tent: it was no good against weather, but we could hide in it and could see through it and tell when the wild life was near. They could not see us.

The Movie Director told me to remain in there while he went on a hunt for a black duck nest and other treasures for us to photograph. I was to remain hidden and do two things. I was to turn the crank of the camera if anything happened, provided it was interesting and we had set up an ordinary camera close to the nest and all ready to take a close-up of the mother feeding the young.

There I was in the blind with the movie machine, and over near the nest was the "still" camera. There was a string running from the "still" camera to the blind. I was to pull that string and set off the exposure in the camera when the old girl landed at the nest with the food and fed the young. From all this, you see, we expected to get a regular movie, plus a single close-up of the birds.

Well, I had been waiting in there for perfect ages, it seemed, and suddenly there was a bellowing of a calf at my elbow, "Mooooooo" and the calf tried to eat the blind. It then brushed the string and nearly set it off: I did not know whether it had done so or not. Then it became frolicsome in a clownish way, cavorting towards the nest. I almost expired when one hoof landed within two inches of the nest. Had it landed on it, nest and young birds would have been destroyed.

At last the calf went to seek a new career, and all seemed well, when a songsparrow tried to walk the tight-rope on my camera string and would have set the thing off had he been heavier. Then a house cat came over and had me on pins and needles while he went snooping here and there. He did not find the nest because I had stood all this in silence and he was the last straw: all my silent anxiety suddenly burst in the fear that he would find and kill those dear little birds. I came out into the open and chased him as through I were full of fifty-seven different kinds of devils and he knew it.

I finally turned the crank as Mrs. Meadowlark came and fed the young ones, but I was thrilled enough before she came.

FAMOUS FORTUNES

By Barbara Bayne

HENRY CLEWS — THE DEAN OF WALL STREET.

"Don't take any stock in the remarks you sometimes hear to the effect that the man who begins at the lowest rung of the ladder has less chance of rising to the top than he had formerly. It isn't so. Not a bit of it! The millionaires of today are not the last of the class, and they have no monopoly of money or success."

That is the advice given to young men who seek success, by Henry Clews, eminent banker, before he died in 1923. Although he, himself, did not come of a poverty-stricken family, he felt that he could have overthrown financial barriers which might have impeded his progress—if it had been necessary.

The Clewses were one of the first families of England, and they planned to have their young son enter the ministry. First, they decided he should be a curate. And then he should be a rector and grow old gracefully in the affection of his congregation. But young Henry had other plans.

He Entered Mercantile Life.

His father left Staffordshire, where Henry was born, for a trip to America. With him went the ambitious curate-to-be, full of fanciful ideas of the Land of the Free. And when he grew to know the United States he decided to establish himself here and give up his religious studies. Accordingly, he entered mercantile life and made such a success of it that he devoted all his time and energies to it.

Some years after the panic of 1857 he helped to organize the banking firm of Stout, Clews & Mason, which later became Livermore, Clews & Co. Then, in 1877, the firm became Henry Clews & Co., which it has since remained.

While he was building up his financial associations he made many influential connections. He was always interested in politics and declined offers of the portfolio of Secretary of the Treasury and the nomination for Mayor of New York. Those who knew him realized that he was a powerful ally of unselfish aims and worth-while causes, and that he would use the money he made to good purpose.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK?

By Edson R. Waite Shawnee Okla.

M. Bradley Norton, advertising manager of The Niagara Falls (New York) Gazette, says:

THAT through volume production, nationally advertised products can be sold at lower prices, quality considered, than products which have only a limited sale.

THAT the storekeeper can hand you a nationally advertised product at once, without having to waste ten to twenty minutes of his time trying to convince you that you can use a "just as good" unadvertised product,

THAT the influence of national advertising has made this possible because you, as a consumer, have read this national advertising and know the merits of the product.

THAT you buy most of your staple groceries, drugs, tobaccos, rugs, men's clothing, hats, etc., by name because you have come to recognize the superior quality of the nationally advertised product over some brand of untested and unknown manufacture.

THAT every time you accept a "just as good" substitute you are increasing the prices of your every-day needs by forcing the retailers to carry many brands instead of those that he knows are the best.

THAT every time a "just as good" is handed you, the retailer makes a greater profit than he would on the article you have called for by its nationally advertised name.

THAT some retailers—not all, by any means—endeavor to substitute "just as good" items every time they make a sale.

THAT if you wish to protect yourself by calling for nationally advertised products, the dealer will be pleased to supply you even though he has not the article in stock—because he KNOWS that if everyone would use only nationally advertised lines, he could reduce his inventory by one-third and thus increase his turnover and profits!

ADVERTISING has kept prices down and quality up, because a poor article that might exist in a limited area could not stand the acid test of nation-wide trial!

GOOD NIGHT STORIES

DOTTY TRIES TO HELP A POOR WORM

"Oh, dear, oh, dear!" Dotty cried as she saw the queer little worm fastened to the weblike pink silken threads on the leaf. "That was a horrid old spider to build his web house on that leaf where you'd get your feet tangled in it."

The creature stopped struggling and glanced up at Dotty with a queer look on its face. Dotty's expression was so funny, the creature began to laugh.

"Well, it's mighty fine to be able to laugh when one's in terrible trouble," said Dotty softly. "I admire your nerve all right. Can I help you get your hind feet untangled?"

"No, I believe not," laughingly replied the creature. "You see in the first place I don't mind one bit having my hind legs tangled as you call it. So you are accusing Mrs. Spider of trying to catch me? Heigh-ho, what a good one to tell Mother Violet-tip when I see her next time."

"Now what kind of a worm is a Violet-tip?" asked Dotty all excitement. "I'm quite sure I don't know your mother at all."

"Not if you call her a worm," laughed the creature. "She's a lovely butterfly—why, here she is right now. Mother, this is a nice little girl who wanted to help me untangle my feet from this web," and the worm-like creature laughed merrily.

"Why, my dear Dotty," chuckled the beautiful butterfly, "he is a caterpillar, not a worm. And that lovely pink silken web he has tangled around his hind legs, is of his own spinning. No spider on earth could make a web like that. Go right on with your spinning, we'll just watch you," and Mrs. Violet-tip settled on a leaf right near Dotty's head.

"Can I Help You?"

The little caterpillar finished his pink silken web and when he had his hind feet tangled just the way he wanted them to be, he pulled himself together and covered himself with a beautiful silken cover.

"But does he always hang head down like that?" questioned Dotty. "I should think he'd soon grow dizzy."

"No, indeed," replied Mrs. Violet-tip. "My caterpillars always tangle their hind feet in their webs and hang head downward like that. Now he'll have to stay that way about two weeks. Sometimes it takes less time, but very seldom longer than that before they hatch out into butterflies just like I am." She spread out her beautiful violet-colored wings, and Dotty saw a lovely brilliant blue on her lower wings, as she darted away.

"My, who ever would think that ugly caterpillar could spin such a lovely pink silk web?" she mused to herself. "And who ever would think that out of it would come a lovely violet-colored butterfly?"

Dotty stayed and watched the queer little cradle and its owner until it became quiet. Then she ran home to tell her Mama what she had found in the garden.

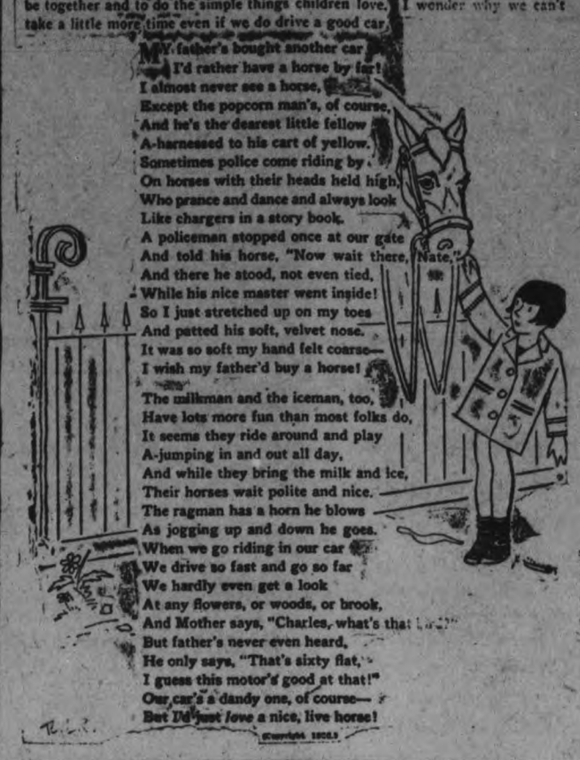
About a Horse

By SHIRLEY RODMAN WILLIAMS

CHILD'S sense of values is oftentimes so different from what grown-ups would dictate. It is perhaps, because they're so much more natural and honest. We grown-ups really have and do a lot of things rather from social pressure than from inherent liking. Some children would rather have a horse than a car, and why so. Something in the living response and the lack of hurry appeals to them. We laugh at their whim. I wonder if it isn't more than that. I am not one who would advocate going back to the good old times of the horse and carriage, but I do pause to think that some way it seemed families had more time to be together and to do the simple things children love. I wonder why we can't take a little more time even if we do drive a good car.



My father's bought another car,
I'd rather have a horse by far!
I almost never see a horse,
Except the popcorn man's, of course,
And he's the dearest little fellow
A-harnessed to his cart of yellow.
Sometimes police come riding by
On horses with their heads held high,
Who prance and dance and always look
Like chargers in a story book.
A policeman stopped once at our gate
And told his horse, "Now wait there, Nate."
And there he stood, not even tied,
While his nice master went inside!
So I just stretched up on my toes
And patted his soft, velvet nose.
It was so soft my hand felt coarse—
I wish my father'd buy a horse!
The milkman and the iceman, too,
Have lots more fun than most folks do,
It seems they ride around and play
A-jumping in and out all day,
And while they bring the milk and ice,
Their horses wait polite and nice.
The ragman has a horn he blows
As jogging up and down he goes.
When we go riding in our car
We drive so fast and go so far
We hardly even get a look
At any flowers, or woods, or brook,
And Mother says, "Charles, what's that [illegible]"
But father's never even heard,
He only says, "That's sixty flat,
I guess this motor's good at that!"
Our car's a dandy one, of course—
But I'd just love a nice, live horse!

UNCLE WIGGILY

Today's Bedtime Story

By Howard R. Garis

UNCLE WIGGILY GOES HOME

Copyright, 1926, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.
(By Howard R. Garis.)

Uncle Wiggily and his wife, the two country rabbits who had been visiting their city cousin, Mr. Hare, had decided to hop back home.

"This city life is too exciting for me," said the country rabbit lady, speaking to Mrs. Hare. "Why, when Wig went out to post a letter, the other day, they sent a fire engine to get it."

"That's because he pulled the fire alarm box by mistake!" said Mr. Hare with a laugh.

"Well, I think myself, that we had better go home," said Mr. Longears. "I have had a very good time here, but not what I could really call an adventure. I haven't once been chased by a fox."

"Do you call that fun?" asked Mrs. Hare.

"Not exactly fun, perhaps," replied Uncle Wiggily with a twinkle of his pink nose, "but it gives me something to think about, and to get away from a Fox or Bob Cat I must hop fast, which is good for my health."

"Well, come again and visit us," invited Mrs. Hare as Uncle Wiggily and his wife started back home to their hollow stump bungalow in Woodland near the Orange Ice Mountains.

"I do hope we find the children all right," said Mrs. Longears as they hopped toward the forest.

"Oh, Nurse Jane will be sure to take good care of them," answered Uncle Wiggily, as he looked at the bundles in his paws, for of course each one of the forty 'leven little bunny boys and girls had to have a present from the city. Uncle Wiggily was bringing as many as he could carry.

All of a sudden, as the two bunny rabbits were hopping along beneath some evergreen trees, there was a queer, woofing, whiffing sound and Mrs. Longears exclaimed:

"What's that?"

"A trolley car, perhaps," answered Uncle Wiggily.

"We aren't in the city now; we're in the woods where they don't have trolley cars," went on the lady rabbit. "That sounded to me like a Fox sniffing," and, surely enough, it was. The next moment the Fuzzy Fox popped out of the bushes and raced after the two rabbits.

"Hop fast! Hop fast!" cried Uncle Wiggily to his wife.

"I am hopping as fast as I can go," she answered. "But living in the city for a week has made me lazy, I guess. I can't run half as fast as I could before we left home."

Still Uncle Wiggily and his wife did very well, but so did the Fox and he came on and after them, howling:

"Wait for me! Where have you been? I have missed seeing you the last week! Tell me all about it!"

"He wants us to stop and tell him about our city visit," said Uncle Wiggily to his wife.

"Don't you dare stop!" warned the rabbit lady. "All he wants to do is to catch you so he can nibble your ears!"

He began howling: "Ouch! Ouch!"

"Ha! Well do I know that!" said Uncle Wiggily, and he hopped on faster and faster. But still on came the Fox and he was now so close to Mr. [illegible] Mrs. Longears that they could feel his hot breath on the backs of their necks.

"It was a sorry day we came home!" sighed Mrs. Longears. "I shall never see my little rabbits again! The Fox will eat me!"

But just then, all of a sudden, the Fox stopped chasing the rabbit people. He began dancing around on one leg and howling: "Ouch! Ouch! Ouch!"

"What happened the Fox?" asked Mrs. Longears as she and her husband hurried on toward their bungalow, which they safely reached.

"Oh, I guess he must have stepped on the sharp, pointed jackstones I dropped," said Uncle Wiggily with a laugh.

"Ha! Ha!" chuckled Mrs. Longears. "Jackstones—how come?"

"I bought a lot of jackstones for our little rabbit girls to play with," said Mr. Longears, looking back to where the Fox was still dancing about and howling. "And I just let some of them fall, for I had more than enough. The fox stepped on them and they hurt his feet."

And that's just what happened. And because the Fox had such sore paws he couldn't chase the bunny gentleman and his wife any more and they got safely home to their little rabbits. So this teaches us that after you have been visiting it is good to come back. And if the tack puller doesn't push the lemon pie in the ice box where it catches cold, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily's seashore.

VIOLENT RAIN STORM HITS BORDER CITIES

Many Thousands of Dollars' Damage Done in Peninsula.

WINDSOR, July 12. — Damage totalling many thousands of dollars resulted from a violent wind and rain storm which struck the Border Cities shortly after noon Friday. Telephone lines in various parts of the cities are out of commission, no fewer than 982 trouble calls having been received. The Sandwich Hydro-Electric System sustained considerable damage to wires and other equipment, while the Bell Telephone Company was also a heavy sufferer. Crews will work continuously until the repairs have all been made, officials stated.

Other damage caused by the storm included felled trees, flooded basements and town-down signs and awnings. Not even a vague estimate of the total damage could be obtained.

Sawmill Destroyed

LINDSAY, July 12.—Two fierce electrical storms passed over this section Friday, accompanied by torrents of rain. In the afternoon the residence of License Inspector D. Porter was struck by lightning and the roof badly shattered. In the evening the barn of Wilton Rich, near Oakwood, was hit and several pigs and hens were killed and the pig pen burned.

The sawmill of J. Titus, Maple Lake, Haliburton County, was destroyed by fire when struck by lightning.

JEWELRY FOUND UNDER HER PILLOW

Woman Finds Jewelry She Thought Stolen Where She Hid It.

WINDSOR, July 12. — Windsors latest jewelry robbery was solved in quick time on Saturday. At 10 a.m., Mrs. Mary Gillies, who owns a hotel in Buffalo and who is stopping at the home of Mrs. Nicholas Ballard, 324 Goyeau street, reported to the police that robbers had stolen $8000 worth of jewelry which she placed on the dresser before retiring on Friday night.

Detectives McNab and Maxwell were assigned to the case and began wiring a description of the jewelry far and wi[illegible]. At 11 o.m. the jewelry was found under Mrs. Gillies' pillow and she remembered then she had placed it there the night previous instead of on the dresser.

The jewelry consisted of a pair of diamond earrings, valued at $2500; a solitaire diamond ring, -1000; a diamond cluster dinner ring $1500; another dinner ring, -500; a ring set with diamonds and sapphires, $300, a diamond ring, $760, and a bar pin, $1500.

FEARS GARROTTE SO HANGS HIMSELF

Cuban Takes His Life Fearing Method of Executing.

HAVANA, July 12 (United Press) —Faced with death in the terrible garrotte, Secundio Rosales, convicted with Abelardo Noa of kidnapping a wealthy Cuban, hanged himself late Saturday night in his cell at Ciega De Avila, in the Province of Santa Clara, where he was held, awaiting sentence.

On June 30th last his fellow-kidnapper, Noa, also committed suicide in the same way and for the same reason—fear of the garrotte.

Since the death of the assassin, Salvador Aguiler, executed in the garrotte at Sandiago on July 8th, Rosales had been reading of the execution—the first in Cuba in twenty years.

According to the guards, he had been hysterical and "green with fear" for several days.

"Never shall they kill me in the garrotte," he said to the guards. An active campaign is being waged in Cuba to abolish the garrotte as a method of executing.

Lyrics Of Life

(By Douglas Malloch.)

LIFTING ANCHOR.

You lift your anchors one by one,
Like ships that sail away to sea.
The years of preparation done,
You leave the school beneath the tree,
The college yonder on the hill,
And seek for oceans wider still.

We cannot keep you harbored here
Though hearts, like cables, feel the strain.
Into the mists you disappear,
While we upon the shore remain,
Like sailors' folks whose candles burn
Until the wanderers return.

The ties of school, the ties of home,
You lift your anchors one by one,
Across life's larger sea to roam
And get some greater duty done;
And yet we hope forever more
That these will tie you to the shore:

Your mother's love, your father's God,
And all the friends of childhood days,
The place you dwelt, the paths you trod,
A hundred things a hundred ways.
For, if life's seas should treat you ill,
Remember these await you still.

A major league manager is in many ways a victim of circumstances.

If he has a good ball club and it fails to win, he is usually held to blame. If it lives up to the dope and wins consistently, it is regarded as simply doing what it should and no particular credit is handed the manager.

In other words a manager has more chance to bask in the spotlight leading an ordinary club that gets somewhere, than directing a strong aggregation that proves a pennant winner.

The case of Miller Huggins is a shining example of the above expressed truth. When Miller Huggins won three pennants with his powerful Yankee machine of 1921-22-23, he was

HECKMAN'S RECORD IS STILL UNBROKEN

PLAYING ERRORLESS BALL FOR SECOND GAME IN SUCCESSION PETES BEAT BELLEVILLE BY 6 TO 3

Al. Heckman Hangs Up His Third Successive Victory and Petes Tighten Grip on Second Place.

BLAKELY A STAR

Belleville Shortstop's Hitting and Fielding Feature Central Ontario League Fixture.

The Petes tightened their grip on second place in the Central Ontario League race on Saturday by beating Belleville at Riverside Park, 6 runs to 3. In annexing this much appreciated victory Manager Johnston's talent played their second errorless game in succession and with the team's defense air tight behind effective pitching by Al. Heckman who won his third successive victory and is the only League twirler to escape defeat this season, there was only one answer.

The threatening weather kept the crowd down and the diamond was greasy but despite the conditions the teams turned in some sparkling fielding, the Petes having a clean sheet and the visitors but two miscues, only one of which had any effect.

Heckman pitching steady ball throughout had little trouble with any of the Belleville crew except the first three, Weir, Blakely and Harry Mills, who were responsible for all the visitors' runs. Blakely went on a real batting spree with a triple, two doubles and a single in four trips to the plate and his hits figured in both Belleville's scoring innings, while Harry Mills drove in all three runs, his single in the third scoring two and a sacrifice fly in the eighth sending in the last. Heckman allowed only seven hits, struck out six and went the route nicely.

Gilly Goyer, who had beaten the Petes twice before, only lasted until the third inning Saturday. He had nothing and his control was terrible, with the result that after he had dead balled in a run in the third and had the bases all loaded, Walter Gerow applied the hook and sent in "Hoot" Gibson. The former Cobourg boy turned in a fairly effective performance after the third but the damage had been done.

As already mentioned there was plenty of nice fielding with Blakely, Belleville's batting hero a headliner in this department as well. He handled eleven out of twelve chances at short stop, having no fewer than ten assists and some of his stops and throws were big league. Peeney Mills also shone with a great running catch of a foul fly, with the bases full. Tommy Holyman contributed the Petes' feature play in the ninth when he ran out toward the left field foul line and stabbed Gibson's near hit in great style. Herb. Wolfe and Jimmy Hall made some nice catches in the outfield, in fact the Petes' defensive work throughout was a treat, following on their fine display against Kingston.

Heckman threw Weir out on the first ball pitched. Blakely's slow tap down the third base line went for a hit. Harry Mills drove a fly to Jimmy Hall. W. Mills singled through short. Goyer bounded to Heckman.

A gorgeous catch by Peeney Mills pulled Goyer out of a deep hole in the Petes' half. Wolfe singled past third. Rose was hit and Swanston sacrificed neatly. A pass to Heckman filled the bases with one out, but Ash's weak tap to Goyer extinguished Wolfe at the plate and Mills went back to the Petes' dugout to make a diving grab of Jimmy Hall's foul.

In the second Gibson was thrown out by Heckman and Wolfe took good care of flies from Hagerman and Young.

For the Petes Harrison rolled to Gibson and Helson lined into Blakely's hands. Holyman walked and Wolfe was safe on Gibson's fumble Blakely tossed out Rose.

Jimmy Hall singled on the ground into right but Harrison's roller was deflected by Weir to Blakely, whose speedy shot to Mills retired the Petes' first baseman.

Heckman showed his stuff in the fifth when he whiffed Palmer and Weir and after Blakely had poled a beautiful triple to left centre struck out the dangerous Harry Mills.

The Petes got a run in their half. Helson reached second on Blakely's high throw and went to third on Holyman's out, Gibson to H. Mills. Wolfe's hot one to the box bounced off Gibson's glove to Blakely who threw him out but Helson slid safely into the plate on the play. Rose grounded to Young.

In the sixth W. Mills was thrown out by Rose, Goyer cracked a long fly to Wolfe and Hall made a nice catch of Gibson's smash to left.

Hagerman was behind the bat for Belleville when the Petes started their sixth, W. Mills going to right field and Goyer taking left. Swanston and Heckman were thrown out by Blakely and Ash struck out.

Hagerman, first up in the seventh, rolled to Helson, and Young and Palmer struck out.

Jim Hall gave the Petes a good start by doubling down right field foul line. Harrison flied to Palmer. Helson walked but was forced at second by Holyman, Blakely to Young. Wolfe singled over third to score Hall and Rose struck out.

The Gerowmen got the last run of the game in the eighth. Weir drew a pass and went to third on Blakely's double to right, his fourth hit in succession. Harry Mills' long sacrifice fly to Wolfe scored Weir. Blakely holding second on the play. Heckman deflected W. Mills' hard smash to Rose who completed the play, and Goyer popped to Helson.

For the Petes Swanston rolled to Gibson and Blakely made two sparkling plays on rollers near second to retire Heckman and Ash.

Holyman went back of third and made a beautiful running catch of Gibson's tap. Hagerman drew a pass but was forced at second by Young, Holyman to Rose. Palmer wafted a fly to Wolfe who made his fifth put out of the day, to end the game.

BRILLIANT SENIOR LACROSSE PLAYERS

St. Simons' senior lacrosse club took the champion Weston team into camp at Hampden Park, Toronto, recently, winning by 6 to 2. The Saints had both speed and staying power, and gave a very spectacular exhibition of up-to-date lacrosse. The victory gave them quite a lead in the O.A.L.A. race. SOFTBALL TEAM CONTINUES TO WIN

Petherick's Corners Team Wins Second Game From Wellman's Corners.

PETHERICK'S CORNERS, July 12.—The Petherick's Corners softball team continued its winning streak when a visit was paid to the Wellman's Corners United Church lawn social on Wednesday evening, and a seven-inning game played with the team there. Wellman's visited Petherick's some three weeks before and were beaten 36 to 21, but had hoped to secure revenge on their home grounds. With the score 7 to 2 in their favor at the end of the second game, the Wellman's boys looked like winners, but Petherick's staged their usual come-back in the dying moments of the game, to win by 17 runs to 11. For Welman's, McGee, Nix and Dracup played wonderful games in the field, robbing the Northern boys of many a well-intended blow. Rev. Daniel pitched a good, steady game for Petherick's and was accorded good support after the second inning, when the team began to work together. Kerr and Petherick played splendid games in the field, but all the positions were well handled. In the third, fourth and sixth innings only one Wellman's man reached first. William T. Tilden, Jr., Wins Sixth Clay Court Tennis Title Through Default Of Opponent In Final Round Of Tourney

DETROIT, July 12. Canadian Press. — William T. Tilden, Jr., won his sixth national clay court tennis title through the fault yesterday of Bryan Norton, his opponent in the finale. Norton was forced to default because of a knee injury.

Norton's default caused the withdrawal of his double's partner in the finale of that event, L. N. White and L. Thalheimer, of Austin, Texas, thus becoming champions.

THIRD TEST MATCH DISCLOSES PERFECT AUSTRALIAN BATTING

Visitors Make Runs Easily Against Bowling of Tate, Macauly, Kilner and Geary—366 for Three Wickets at End of First Days' Play.

BARDSLEY DISMISSED BY FIRST BALL

LEEDS, England, July 12 (Canadian Press)—The third test match got away to a good start here on Saturday, and, despite the rain which began to fall just at the tea-hour, an excellent exhibition of cricket was given by the visiting Australians When play ceased for the day, the score stood at 366 for three wickets, with every indication of the tourists ringing up the half thousand before they are dismissed. The English bowlers, Macaulay, Roy Kilmer and Maurice Tate were given a bad handling by both W. H. Woodfull and Charles Macartney, with A. Richardson also making the home bowlers look feeble. The only misfortune for the Australians was the loss of Warren Bardsley with the first ball of the game when he fell to an easy catch by Sutcliffe off Tate. Leg-before-wicket, which caused the downfall of T. J. E. Andrews off Kilner at 4, was also a mischance, but with the other batsmen running in their best form, little was lost.

Change of Bowlers

For some reason best known to himself, A. W. Carr, the English captain, decided to dispense with the services of Root, Larwood and Parker at the bowling end, relying on Tate, Macaulay, Kilner and Geary. The result of this decision may be questioned by observers, for it is recalled that at Lord's in the second test match, the bowling of Root and Larwood was faultless and that in the Australians first innings the entire side was out for only 17 runs more than they accumulated yesterday at the cost of three wickets.

England's stumbling blocks were Woodfull and Macartney. It will be recalled that in the second test it was Bardsley who had presented the greatest obstacle to England. Both these players were in great form, with Woodfull careful and Macartney aggressive. Macartney's runs came rapidly, while his partner contented himself with keeping his end up and snicking in the odd run here and there. This went on until Macartney was finally dismissed with a catch by Hendren off Macaulay, and then it was Woodfull's turn to open up while, Andrews having been retired early, Richardson held the fort.

To the spectators who numbered close to 30,000. The day was devoted entirely to watching a demonstration of almost flawless batting, in which every art known to cricket was brought into play with a success that was disconcerting. In spite of a well-placed held and some clever fieldsmen, the Australian hits found their way past with apparent lack of difficulty, and apart from Bardsley and Andrews, the batsmen seemed to find things pretty much their own way.

WINNING OPEN CHAMPIONSHIP BOBBY JONES ADDS ONE MORE TO LONG LIST OF GOLF TROPHIES

Record Crowd Sees Him Turn Ahead of Turnesa.

DIEGEL THIRD

Bill Mehlhorn Loses Out After Setting Up Record Score.

COLUMBUS, O., July 12.—(Canadian Press).—Bobby Jones of Atlanta, is possessor of every supreme golf title in the world, an honor never before mantled on any golfer, by winning the National Open Championship.

At Scioto Club with a score of 293, he annexed his latest title before a record crowd of 6,500, most of whom followed the sturdy Southerner through his final 36 holes on Saturday.

Good as Jones score was for the gruelling Scioto links, he was only one stroke ahead of Joe Turnesa, of New York, who had finished ahead of Jones with 294. To overcome this score, Jones shot one under par on the last nine, finished amidst a din of applause with a birdie four on the 480-yard home hole.

After Jones had topped Turnesa while all the other likely contenders were still afield, the final stages of the tourney resolved itself into a thrilling contest to determine whether any one of these stars could overhaul the man, who, as it proved, had the title already tucked away with the other trophies he has garnered since he first sprang into the limelight of golfdom by qualifying in the National Amateur at Philadelphia in 1916 when only 14 years old.

Chick Fails.

Among those who tried to beat Bobby on the last round was an amateur, Chick Evans, who in that year, 1916, won the unique distinction of capturing the National Open and amateur titles in the same year, and set a record score of 286 for the open. But Chick failed by several strokes, for he took a 79 for the last round and totalled 302.

Mehlhorn Falls Off

Another who was a possible winner during this race was bill Mehlhorn of Chicago, who led the field the first day with a record of 68 to Jones 70, and again led the second day with 143, while Bobby had 150, by virtue of a 79 on the second round. But Mehlhorn fell off Saturday, taking 76 in the morning and 79 in the afternoon for a total of 297, which tied him for third place. Mehlhorn lost on the last nine as he was even with Jones up to the home stretch.

Mehlhorn tried valliantly, but took seven on the long twelfth, where he got stuck in the terrific rough. His when he got two 3's in a row only to fail by going one over par on the sixteenth and getting no better than par on the last two holes.

Another pursuer of the world's champion was Willie Hunter, of Los Angeles, who once was British amateur champion, the only big title Jones has failed to win thus far. Hunter, by virtue of a splendid 69 in the morning needed only a par 72 to tie Jones, but the best he could do was 79 for a total of 300, which landed him in eighth place.

Hagen Seventh

Still more redoubtable was Walter Hagen, but the former champion needed a 69 to turn the trick as the birdies would not enter his net,, so he took 74 for a 298 to win seventh place. Leo Diegel, Canadian open champion, needed only a 71 on his last round to tie Bobby, and took 74 to tie with Mehlhorn for third position.

John Farrell also needed a 69, but got 73 to ti for third. Gene Sarazen while he had not chance to overnaul Jones, got a sweet 70 to share third place.

"Thank You."

And all the time these stars were struggling over the links, Bobby, almost surfeited with honors, calmly sat in the club house, awaiting the verdict. It was only when President Fownes, of the United States Golf Association presented the championship that the genial champion stepped into a massed circle of admirers amid the plaudits lue a hero. His speech of acceptance was "thank you."

MASSEYS' TEN MEN HELD QUAKERS' ELEVEN IN GORDON SOCCER CUP

Quakers' Left Wing Prominent — Mitchell Scored — Blowers' Great Drive.

ONE GOAL EACH

Hotston Equalized From Foster's Centre—Penalty Not Awarded.

After two days of sweltering heat, Saturday afternoon came along with ideal weather for the first round of the G. N. Gordon soccer trophy between the Quakers and Masseys, at the Oval, when these two old rivals failed to come to a decision after ninety minutes hard play. The Masseys ten men held the Quakers eleven to one goal each.

First Half.

The opening stages were minus nay thrills, except for the brilliant display given by the Massey nine against the Quakers full eleven. Time and again the Quakers forced the issue around Montgomery's charge, in which Mann and Grant demonstrated their ability as defence strategists. It was a battle of attack and defence until Clark broke away in mid-field to test Curtis with a rising shot.

Quaker's' Left Wing Prominent.

From a throw-in, the Quakers left wing pair buzzed around inside the goal area to gain a fruitless flag-kick. They came back again to be more successful through Burgess who rapped a first-timer for goal, but the opposing goal-keeper was right on the alert to prevent a tally. The Masseys replied with many raids that never made a mark on the Quaker's defence. It was from one of these attacks that Carmichael gained advantage to let Burgess gain possesion down in the corner. Blowers claimed an offsides decision but the referee let the play progress as Mitchell banged the ball into the net, from a perfect pass.

Massey Ten Men.

At this period Hotston took up the right inside position for the Masseys. He made his presence known by a visit to the Quaker's goal that was punted clear by S. Maker. Carmichael trapped the ball in mid-field, beat two men in tackling and lifted the sphere to A. Mitchell who beat the defence cleverly as he made tracks for goal, but his part shot rolled past the far post.

Blowers Old-Time Drive.

Play was on an even basis for awhile until W. Logan conceeded a foul-kick. Blowers sent lightning low ground drive for goal that had W. Curtis in difficulties at the moment, then he snatched the ball to kick clear. With the aid of the wind the Quakers tried hard to increase their score but the Massey's defence never let up under the added pressure. A break-away by Foster, at the end of the first half, resulted in Curtis making a splendid save from Hotston's well-planned drive. Half time: Quakers 1, Masseys 0.

Half Time.

After the usual respite the both teams altered their style of play to the long swinging pass, instead of the close-passing. Foster and Laidler raised a bombardment upon their opponents' goal that had the full-backs up-set, thereby giving Foster the chance to hit the upright from close range and ball re-bounce back into play. The same player repeated the same performance but Hotston made sure with the necessary tap into goal, with the equalizer.

Hard and Robust Tactics.

Still aided with the wind that was blowing down the field, the Massey's laid down a seige of long distance shots upon goal and H. Curtis gave away a corner-kick as the result of Blowers' peculiar mid-air drive from half-way line. A few minutes later Clark dribbled past H. Curtis inside the penalty box and from the resulting tussle a Quaker man hit the ball with his hand, to divert the sphere over the goal-line. Massey's players appealed the decision to the referee who awarded a fruitless corner-kick. They accepted the verdict sportsmanlike and answered with a raid upon Curtis' citadel with all kinds of efforts. Good fortune smiled upon the Quakers when J. Montgomery hit the upright with a rocket drive.

Mitchell Worked Hard.

After this attack, the Masseys fell away and Quakers dominated in every department. Alf Maker was prominent in defence as well as in attack. He repeatedly made his way to goal and tested the custodian. Then he passed across to Burgess who sent an accurate centre in front of goal, George Logan meeting it with a right foot drive that Montgomery handled very easily. During this visit Mitchell at centre-forward was working like a trojan to gain the winning goal. He dribbled his way through repeatedly to find that the Massey custodian was the obstacle in the way. He gave a brilliant account of himself between the posts and on one occasion he was handled very roughly which terminated in him receiving the trainers' attention. As time rolled on the Quakers increased in attack, while the Massey did likewise in defence, to make the game value a draw of one goal each. Quakers 1, Masseys 1.

NEW YORK, July 12.—(Canadian Press).—The old war horse, Walter Johnson, worked on the mound in his home town yesterday and his team mates bunched their hits effectively to defeat St. Louis 8-3. St. Louis worked a triple steal in the third inning, Manager getting home far ahead of Walter's pitch.

WHITEHOUSE IS SETTING FINE TWIRLING MARK

Peterboro Boy Wins Three Fine Games for Grand Rapids.

A SPLENDID RECORD

Beats Flint, Saginaw and Kalamazoo on Road Trip.

Frank Whitehouse, the Peterboro southpaw is going great guns with the Grand Rapids team of the Central League. On the recent road trip of the Grand Rapids outfit, when they only won five games out of fourteen, Whitehouse captured three straight games, beating Flint 4 to 1, Saginaw 7 to 2 and Kalamazoo 8 to 1. On the Saginaw line up was Les Nunamaker, former Cleveland catcher who comes to Rice Lake every fall and Calbert the former manager of the Hamilton M. and O. team.

Frankie has won 9 games in 11 starts since making his "pro" debut and if he keeps up his present gait will undoubtedly be recalled by the Rochester International League Club.

CANADIANS SEEK TO RECAPTURE TITLES AT THIS YEAR'S REGATTA

Canadian Henley at St. Catharines To Be Bigger Than Ever

MANY OARSMEN.

Canucks Will Seek To Repell Invaders From United States.

ST. CATHARINES, Ont., July 10.—(Canadian Press).—One new event is to be added to the regular card of events for the Forty-Fourth Regatta of the Canadian Association of Amateur Oarsmen which will be held on July 29, 30 and 31. It is to be a four-oared contest with cockswain for 150-pound oarsmen, and will further develop a programme that has been continuously expanding since the post-war establishment.

The Association was urgently pressed to hold the 1926 regatta in Philadelphia in connection with the Quaker City's Sesqui-Centennial celebration, but decided that the Canadian championships would be held here as usual. The winners at the Canadian Henley will be sent to the National Regatta at Philadelphia during the following week.

As last year all events, except the quarter-mile dash, the High School and naval gig events will be rowed straight-away over the full Henley distance of one mile 550 yards. The High School Fours will be reduced from one mile to three-quarters of a mile, the High School Eights from the full Henley distance to one mile and the gig contest from one mile to one-half mile.

An alteration is being made in the judges box which will enable the three officials to sit one above the other, all viewing the finish line at precisely the same angle, thus obviating differences of opinion in close finishes, of which there were several examples last year.

Trophies In United States.

Since last year's regatta a greater percentage of the Canadian championship trophies have vested in the United States than ever previously, and Canadian clubs are making special training efforts to recapture some of the honors carried away by the invaders. Special efforts are being made to have entries in the senior four and senior singles events from Vancouver and an eight crew from Winnipeg will probaby compete.

It is 23 years since the first C.A.A.O. championships were rowed off here, the regattas previous to 1903 having been held over courses in various parts of the country, with the first meet held in Toronto in 1880. For several years the events were held at Hamilton, Lachine, Ottawa and Toronto, rotating up to 1892, when Hamilton for three successive years was chosen. During the period of 1895-1902 the Regattas were held in Brockville for four years, in Ottawa once, and in Toronto twice. St. Catharines was adopted as the permanent course in 1903, and the regatta has been held there annually since then, with the exception of the war years.

The course previously to 1903 was over a distance of one and one-half miles. When the local course was adopted the distance was made equal to that of the English Henley course—one mile 550 yards. In 1907 this was changed, with the exception of the eight-oared event to a mile-and-a-half with a turn. A return has since been made to the original distance, one mile, 550 yards.

The Challenge Cup for Senior Singles Sculls, for Junior Single Sculls, the Challenge Cup for Senior Doubles Sculls, the Challenge Cup for Senior Four Oars and the Junior Four Oars are the older events on the programme. With the exception of the war years they have been competed for annually since 1880. The challenge cup for pair oars was instituted in 1880, but was dropped in 1906. Crews from the United States won the latter race on 11 occasions, while Toronto crews were the winners in all other years.

To Joseph Laing of the Grand Trunk Rowing Club, Montreal, a start of the early eighties, and Robert Dibble of the Toronto Dons, goes the honor of having won the Senior Singles the greatest number of times. Laing scored his string of victories from 1880 to 1884 inclusive, winning at Hamilton, Lachine, Ottawa and twice at Toronto, while Dibble's victories were all won over the local course, from 1912 to 1915, inclusive, before his war services, and again in 1920 upon his return. Laing holds the record for a mile-and-a-half straightaway — 7 minutes 56 seconds made at Ottawa in 1883. The best time for a mile-and-a-half with a turn was made by Dibble in 1920 on the St. Catharines course 8.28. Lou Scholes in 1903 won over the straightaway Henley distance here of one mile 550 yards in 8:3 1-5. W. E. G. Gilmore of Philadelphia made the same distance in last year's regatta in 8:6 2-5.

The Senior Eight Oars, established in 1898, was won by the Argonauts over a mile-and-a-half course at Toronto in 8:1. Until 1903 the event was not contested. For five years Argonauts swept this event on the local course at the longer distance from all comers. Winnipeg won in 1908, Detroit in 1909 and Ottawa in 1910. Argonauts recovered the trophy in 1911 and repeated. In 1913 it returned to Winnipeg, and was recovered by Argonauts in 1914 and successfully defended in 1915. In 1920 a crew from the Toronto University, but rowing under the colors of the Argonauts, were successful. In 1921 the University of Toronto Rowing Club made up of graduates and undergraduates captured the event and held it until last year when a crew from the Pennsylvania Athletic Club, Philadelphia, coached by Joe Wright, a former Argonaut stroke, carried off the Hanlan Memorial Trophy, emblematic of the championship. The fastest time on the course, 6.19 3-5, was made by Argonauts in 1914.

Umpire declares infield fly on ball that comes down at about the pitcher's box. Catcher makes a play on ball and muffs it. Does that make any difference in the play?

* * *

No doubt the wording of the rule, which says an infield fly is a fair fly ball other than a line drive that can be handled by an infielder, is what raises the question as to whether the handling of the ball by the catcher affects the play.

It does not. It matters not who makes the play, provided the umpire is of the opinion that said ball could be handled by an infielder.

The fact that the catcher dropped the ball near the pitcher's box is evidence that anybody on the infield could have probably played the ball better than he did.

No first baseman can consider himself a finished product unless he becomes an expert in the handling of bunts.

Proper handling of bunts is in no sense a gift. Perfection in this department of play is the result of constant practice and much effort. A first baseman must not overlook the importance of properly playing bunted balls.

If a ball is bunted down the first base line the fielder must come in at top speed if desirous of making a play at second or third in an effort to prevent the advancement of a preceding runner.

Although speed in the handling of the ball is very necessary to the successful completion of the above play, the first baseman must not dash in blindly, so to speak. The batter, if he is wise, may cross you up by hitting.

In most cases it is possible to discern the intent of the batsman by watching his hands. The grip of the batsman will usually reveal what he intends doing. Most batters have a certain style they always use when intending to take a swing. They have a set stance and there is a tenseness to their movements.

With a bunt as the play they usually relax, shift their grip entirely and have an entirely different stance. This is of great help to the fielder in trying to break up the bunt strategy.

C.G.E. CARRY OFF 'A' CHAMPIONSHIP

Beat Belmont and Qualify to Meet Firemen for Taylor Cup.

The men's softball games are full of pep and interesting. This was fully demonstrated Saturday night at Central Park when the C.G.E. defeated the Belmonts for the championship of "A" Group and the right to meet the Firemen in the play-offs for the Taylor Cup.

The Belmonts used three pitchers to try and pull the game out of the fire, but they were getting in deeper all the time, for in the last innings the C.G.E. scored five runs. But it was by no means one-sided, for the Belmonts secured three runs in the last innings, making the score 9 to 8.

There seems to be some jinx on the number eight for the Belmonts, for in three starts with the C.G.E. they have suffered three defeats and have scored eight runs each time.

The C.G.E. tied the game up in the seventh innings, making it four all. The Belmonts shut the winners out until the fifth, when one run was scored and in the sixth with two on bases McLean, who had been pitching a wonderful game, walking one man and allowing five hits, was pulled completely out of the game. Harrison, who had been playing second base, was put in the box and Stuart sent in from the bench to second. This change proved the undoing of the team, for Harrison had had too much hard ball in the after noon. The C.G.E. scored twice in the sixth, twice in the seventh, as two men were walked, and five in the eighth, when Holyman took the box, walked the first man and the fielders disposed of the other two.

The C.G.E. were very fast on the bases and their catcher played a wonderful game, getting eight put-outs.

Nichols was rather wild, walking six men, three of these being in the second, when three runs were scored. He walked McLean in the fourth, who scored making the score 4 to 0. The Belmonts were shut out in the fifth, sixth and seventh, but came back with one in the eighth, and the first two men up in the ninth got safe hits, the next two popped out when Fanning came to bat, getting a home run. Stewart popped to Williams, which ended the game.

HELPFUL HINTS BY GOLFING STARS

By Special Arrangement With Colliers' Magazine.

JOHN DUNCAN DUNN—PRACTICE SHORT SHOTS.

I am glad to note that all really great golfers like Barnes and Hutchison are unanimous in that the short game is the thing that counts most in golf.

All the great masters when preparing for a championship put in most of their time practicing approaching and putting. All the dubs who come into golf schools for free practice immediately make for a wooden club and swat the ball for all they are worth and the champion dub was one whose proudest achievement was that he burst two targets.

Get that out of your mind and instead fill your mind full of the greatest "secret in golf," namely, that perfection in the short game is the principal thing that counts and furthermore, that in perfecting the short game you are perfecting the full swing, because the half-swing is half of the full swing, and if you achieve accuracy in the short game, you are bound to achieve accuracy in the long game.

"Accuracy first" should be the golfer's motto. Don't be in a hurry to speed up.

NEW YORK.—The "old-fashioned girl" is passing from the screen, as well as from life.

Lois Wilson, who didn't smoke and didn't drink and had long hair, has been "bobbed." It was a case of "part for art's sake.

If she wished to play the leading role in "The Great Gatsby," then off with her "crowning glory!" Herbert Brenon, the director, demanded it.

Off With the Old.

And with the clip-clip of the shears Lois kissed goodby the good, old fashioned roles for which she is famed and which have won for her a great following. She was, perhaps, the one star who had never been a "flapper" on the screen: nor had she been the sophisticated young woman. Now she becomes a mixture of both. Her roles henceforth will be in keeping with her new bob.

In life, as on the screen, Lois was a home girl.

"When I first began to fight my way up, I lived at home," she recalls. "I don't know just how things might have turned out had it been otherwise. For those were difficult days.

Doesn't Like Taste.

"I don't smoke. But 'I don't disapprove of smoking. I just don't like the taste of cigarets. The same is true of drinking. It has seemed to me that the endless round of parties would be very monotonous."

Until the present opportunity in "Gatsby" came along, Lois was cast in parts that demanded old fashioned clothes and old fashioned ways. The "vamp" gowns were unknown to her and seldom has she appeared in even a nifty evening dress.

She was continually advertised as the "good girl" of the screen. But Lois has little use for prudishness.

Her new role presents her as one of the gay girlies of the Long Island younger set. And the first demand for such a role was a fashionable bob.

Consent to this required no little courage. How would it look? How would she photograph with bobbed hair? Perhaps it wouldn't meet requirements.

But the barber did his stuff. And they all say she is quite charming. And that's that.

FOURTH CONTEST FOR CITY TITLE

Raybestos and Crescents Play at Exhibition Park Tomorrow Evening.

Raybestos have called in reinforcements in an effort to win to-morrow evening's game with Crescents, the fourth contest of the City Intermediate series. The count stands two and one in favor of Crescents.

Maudsley for Raybestos and Masterson for Crescents are the likely pitching choices. Umpires LeBarr and Kay will handle the game.

SOCCER NOTES

A special practice game of the Thistle F. C. will be held on Tuesday (to-morrow) evening on King Edward Park. All players please attend, because of very important business. Geo. Nimmons, Secy.

On Tuesday evening the Masseys will hold a practice game on King Edward Park at 6 o'clock prompt. All members and executive attend.

CRICKET NEWS

Despite the inclement weather a good number of the Peterboro Cricket Club members turned out Saturday afternoon for a practice game. A good wicket was prepared, and each member had 15 minutes' batting practice. Runs were made the same as if in a regular match; all the bowlers also had a good workout, and some real snappy fielding was witnessed. Members of the team who did not turn out certainly missed one of the season's best practice games. Practices this week as usual Tuesday and Friday evenings at 6 o'clock.

Members please keep in mind the match on Saturday, July 24, with the C.G.E. team at Toronto.

THEATRE AT THE REGENT

The Regent is pleased to present to its patrons, the first appearance in Canada of the first and only screen version of Harriet Beecher Stowe's famous masterpiece of fiction, "Uncle Tom's Cabin." Baby Marie Osborne will be shown in her favorite role of Little Eva.

On the programme are also two fine comedies, the famous Buster Brown and Tighe in Educating Buster, and "Too Many Relations," from the series of Helen and Warren stories as well as the Fox News Reel in the World in Pictures; in fact a specially good programme for either children or grown-ups.

Reserve Strength.

"A team is no stronger than its substitutes," has long been an accepted sport truth.

No major league manager can hope to get anywhere, unless he has the proper reserve strength to meet the situations that are constantly arising on the ball field.

During the first week of the American League race the Chicago White Sox were minus the services of Outfielders Johnny Mostil and Bill Barrett because of injuries and illness.

Mostil and Barrett are right-handed hitters who just dote on southpaw pitching. Their absence from the game made it necessary for Manager Collins to employ an outfield made up entirely of left-handed hitters.

In one series, Cleveland shot three southpaws at the White Sox and came away with as many games. The lineup of the Chicago team was too heavy with lefthanders, but Manager Collinso had no alternative.

A week later, with Mostil and Barrett back in the game, the White Sox routed the Cleveland southpaws who had made them look foolish earlier in the season.

In these days of intensive baseball, reserve strength is a most important asset.

Baseball Booming.

Had a chat recently with my old friend George Little, famous football coach, also director of athletics at the University of Wisconsin.

Met Little at Comiskey park in Chicago. He was chaperoning a dozen or more youngsters to the ball game. The boys were winners in a baseball contest, that carried with it a trip to Chicago to see Detroit and the White Sox in action as part of the program.

While Little, who had such a big first year in football at Wisconsin, is rather reticent about his program for stirring up athletics at the Madison institution, he lets you know in a modest way those in charge of sport are looking for big things.

* * *

Praises Schalk.

This spring, in an effort to "pep" up baseball at Wisconsin, Little had Ray Schalk, famous catcher of the Chicago White Sox, coach the varsity candidates for about five weeks.

"In words I cannot tell you how much the presence of Schalk at Wisconsin benefitted the varsity players, but in addition it created enthusiasm among the boys all over the state. Schalk is a fine character and just the type of man needed to direct the destinies of the college athletes," says Little.

anagerial Woe.

If he has a good ball club and it fails to win, he is usually held to blame. If it lives up to the dope and wins consistently, it is regarded as simply doing what it should and no particular credit is handed the manager.

In other words a manager has more chance to bask in the spotlight leading an ordinary club that gets somewhere, than directing a strong aggregation that proves a pennant winner.

The case of Miller Huggins is a shining example of the above expressed truth. When Miller Huggins won three pennants with his powerful Yankee machine of 1921-22-23, he was in the background, with the stars getting all the glory.

In spring training this year the Yankees were regarded in the light of jokes by many of the experts, it was called a "sap" ball club.

Yet the close of the first month of play finds the Yanks out in front by a fairly comfortable margin.

Seems as if in proportioning the credit, the manager of a winning club should come in for his share.

OARSMAN'S WEDDING

Roy Cumber Nurse, padding champion of the world, weds his racing partner, Miss Gretchen Fox, in Toronto. Both are paddling champions. The groom has for three years been champion of the world, having won his title at the Olympic games in Paris. With his brother he also holds the all-Canadian tandem championship and with his bride as a paddling partner has never suffered defeat in the mixed tamdem. Mixed tandem paddling, however, is not an Olympic event. The photos show the bride and groom leaving the church beneath an arch of paddles held by the war crew of the Balmy Beach Club. The young man being tossed in the air is Reginald V. Nurse, a younger brother of the groom who acted as an usher.

AN ABNORMAL FLOWER

Mrs. R. R. Hall brought into The Examiner this morning, a most unusual spike of Foxglove (Digitalis). As a rule the Foxglove sends up a single spike of bloom, but this stem has divided itself into no less than seven distinct spikes, each equal to the ordinary attempt of this class of plant and when combined on one stem it makes a good sized boquet in itself.

W.M.S. MEETING

Centreville Women Hold Pleasant Outing at Bensford Home.

CENTREVILLE, July 12. — The Centreville Presbyterian W. M. S. enjoyed a very pleasant outing when they motored down to Mrs. D. Dodds' home at Bensfort on Wednesday, July 7th, to hold their missionary meeting. This meeting was one of the most largely attended of the year, with over forty ladies being present.

The president, Mrs. H. Tate, took charge. After the opening devotional exercises the minutes of the last meeting were read by the secretary, Mrs. Isbister, and the treasurer's report was given by Mrs. Hall. The general business was then discussed. The ladies in charge of the buying of the clothing were requested to make their purchases soon. It was decided that the next meeting in August should be held in the Sunday School Hall for the purpose of packing the bale of clothing, after which the members of the Mission Band will serve afternoon tea.

It was also decded that the thankoffering meeting be held in September this year, and to have a special speaker for the occasion. It was also suggested that we invite the Millbrook Presbyterian W.M.S. to join them.

Miss F. McIndoo then sang a solo in her usual good style.

A very interesting chapter of the study book was given by Mrs. R. O. Larmer.

Miss Vera Bradshaw then rendered a fine solo, after which Miss Edna Huggins gave a short reading from the "Glad Tidings," showing how the societies have prospered during the last year.
